banned. Mass killings began in October 1965, in the weeks following the coup attempt, and reached their peak over the remainder of the year before subsiding in the early months of 1966. They started in the capital, Jakarta, and spread to Central and East Java, and later Bali. Thousands of local vigilantes and Army units killed actual and alleged PKI members. Killings occurred across the country, with the most intense in the PKI strongholds of Central Java, East Java, Bali, and northern Sumatra.

It is possible that over one million suspected PKI members and alleged communist sympathizers were imprisoned at one time or another. Sukarno's balancing act of "Nasakom" (nationalism, religion, and communism) unravelled. His most significant pillar of support, the PKI, was effectively eliminated by the other two pillars-the Army and political Islam; and the Army was on the way to gaining unchallenged power. In March 1967, Sukarno was stripped of his remaining authority by Indonesia's provisional parliament, and Suharto was named Acting President. In March 1968, Suharto was formally elected president.

PRESIDEN
REPUBLIK INDONESIA

DJAKARTA, February 28 , 1961.

Dear Mr. President,

I thank you very much for your letter of February 21, 1961. It is very kind of you to invite me to have an informal stopover in Washington.

I fully agree with you that it will be most helpful for both of us to have a chance to discuss matters affecting both our countries and also the problems of our present day world. In this transitional period of world-wide changes in all fields towards a new social and economic equilibrium, I think we cannot put enough emphasis upon all leaders of the world doing all efforts to acquaint themselves with problems faced by different peoples in different regions.

I have already conveyed to Ambassador Jones my acceptance of your invitation and the exact date of my arrival in Washington will be discussed through diplomatic channel.

With personal esteem and best wishes.

Sincerely,

Soekarno.

STATEMENT BY ROBERT F. KENNEDY ATTORNEY GENERAL IN INDONESIA FEBRUARY 15, 1962

Both of our nations must deal in great distances since our respective coastlines extend for some 3,000 miles - ours the Atlantic Ocean to the Pacific and yours from the Pacific to the Indian Ocean.

Our peoples are the gong of forefathers from many different lands and of different languages, yet each hag united Into a common cause, a single tongue, and each lives under one flag. My country as 13 states (whose counting these days?) ; yours as 13 provinces.

Your national symbol Is the Garuda; ours is the Eagle; your motto is (Been-Eekah Toongaul Eeka) Unity Through Diversity; ours Is E Pluribus Unim, Out of Many, One.

Both our nations were born In revolution. Both to break the chains of colonialism.

We In America, and even in modern times there are many limitations since the days of Franklin Roosevelt, have enumciated our aim the establishment of four basic freedoms: freedom of speech and expression; freedom of every person to worship God In hig own way; freedom from want; freedom from fear.

Your President Sukarno has sougt to establish in Indonesia your Pahntah Seelah or Five Pillars: belief In God, Nationalism, Inter-nationalism, Democracy and Social Justice.

HIDEYUKI MIHASHI / ©STARS AND STRIPES |

TOKYO - Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy Saturday resumed talks with Indonesian President Sukarno over the Malaysia crisis after a 90-minute meeting Friday gained somewhat of a cease-fire agreement from the Indonesian president.

Spokesmen for both Kennedy and Sukarno said Friday's talks produced an agreement that "the problem should be solved by consultation between parties concerned" and that a "favorable climate must created for the consultations."

Saturday morning however, an Indonesian spokesman said Sukarno would not join in talks with Malaysia and the Philippines until the 10 British battalions are withdrawn from the Borneo border.

Kennedy, in a last-minute change of plans, was to leave Japan

Saturday for an overnight trip to Korea to visit with some of the 50,000 U.S. soldiers there.

A source said the attorney general may make a social call on Korean President Chung Hee Park, but the trip has no political significance.

A source said the meeting at Sukarno's Imperial Hotel suite was "very cordial," "went very well indeed," and that progress was made.

He said Kennedy is not attempting to offer solutions to settling the Malaysia-Indonesia dispute but just wants to "see that the countries involved sit down and talk and not shoot at each other."

The crisis grew out of Sukarno's opposition to the formation of the Malaysian Federation last September. The Indonesian President calls the British-sponsored federation "colonialism and imperialism in disguise" and has openly vowed to "crush" Malaysia.

Bloody skirmishes between Sukarno-backed guerrillas and British-backed Malaysian soldiers have occurred in recent weeks along the Borneo-Malaysia border. Britain has some 7,000 troops deployed to North Borneo.

The source said the "escalating situation" there has caused considerable concern in the National Security Council, of which Kennedy is a member. He said Sukarno's "confrontation" of Malaysia "could escalate into a major conflict within the next two months if steps were not taken immediately."

The source said that U.S. involvement is only that "we have an interest in peace and have a friendship bond with each of the countries concerned. This automatically involves us."

He said if the situation developed into a major conflict, U.S. involvement would hinge on interpretation of the Anzus Treaty signed in 1951. The treaty, between Australia, New Zealand and the U.S., allows any member to call on others to bolster their defense.

Also, the source said, Congress has been concerned about foreign aid. Congressmen want the President to decide right now whether to continue aid to Indonesia.

He pointed out that the rules of U.S. foreign aid provide that no aid should be given to any country that is preparing for or involved in hostilities against any country.

"However," the source said, "the present amount of aid to Indonesia (which amounts to some $12 million, exclusive of surplus commodity assistance) would not be an overwhelming factor. Its withdrawal certainly wouldn't topple Indonesia."

The source said the subject of foreign aid was not discussed at Friday's talk. He said Kennedy did not spell out what the U.S. would do under any given set of circumstances if the crisis was not settled peacefully.

He said Sukarno told Kennedy what his objections were toward Malaysia. The objections were the same as made in public and event beyond, he said.

Before seeing Sukarno Friday, Kennedy conferred briefly with Japanese Foreign Minister Masayoshi Ohira. During the talk, Ohira became ill and was forced to conclude the meeting.

He is to meet in Manila Sunday with Philippines president Diosdado Macapagal to continue talks on Malaysia.

November 2, 1962

Dear Mr. President:

I have recently had a long talk with Ambassador Jones, in the course of which he told me of your invitation for me to visit Indonesia. Having heard so much of your country from my brother, Bobby, and from many others who have visited or lived there, I want very much to visit Indonesia.

Although I cannot accept your kind invitation at this time, I have not given up hope of eventually visiting your country when my duties permit. In the meantime, you have my warmest thanks for your invitation.

I am encouraged by the course of developments in Cuba since my letter to you on October 22, although, of course, much still remains to be done before we can consider the episode closed. In this connection, I am aware of the restraint exercised by your government throughout the Cuban crisis. It unquestionably contributed to the atmosphere which made a peaceful settlement attainable. Let us hope that we can now turn the perilous events of the past weeks into a real advance toward the free and peaceful society for which we both strive.

From all reports, the transfer of administration in West Irian is proceeding smoothly within the terms of the August 15 agreement. It took mature and imaginative statesmanship both on the part of your Government and that of the Netherlands in reaching agreement for the peaceful settlement of this longstanding dispute, and I am glad to see a conciliatory atmosphere at the start of its implementation. As you know, I have instructed United States authorities to cooperate closely with the United Nations in providing logistic support for the United Nations Temporary Executive Authority in West Irian.

As you know, Secretary Rusk and Assistant Secretary Harriman discussed economic problems briefly with Foreign Minister Subandrio in New York in September, and conversations between other Indonesian and American officials are continuing. I am sure that from these and other contacts an effective program will emerge.

You certainly face a challenging and exciting task in this great endeavor. There was a time, of course, when economic matters appeared less dramatic to many than political affairs, but this is certainly not true today. I can think of few better measures of the greatness of a nation and its leaders than their success in developing its resources for the benefit of all its citizens. I know that Indonesia, under your leadership, is well embarked on this adventure.

I was delighted to hear from Sargent Shriver of your long talk with him last month and the enthusiastic reception you gave him. I understand that preparations for establishment of a Peace Corps program are well under way. I am convinced both that the Peace Corps can make a real contribution to the continued development of Indonesia and that my country, in turn, will be much the richer from the knowledge of Indonesian life and culture which returning Peace Corps volunteers will bring. They will also be able to learn much in the way of new, practical techniques from your people.

Aside from the matter of economic development, there are a number of other major issues in which our two countries share a deep interest. The various forces shaping events in Southeast Asia, for example, have long been a source of considerable preoccupation to both of us. In this particular field, it seems to me that it would be most useful if those officials of our two countries who are most directly concerned with Southeast Asia could periodically exchange views on the general problems of the region and our mutual interests there. If this idea appeals to you, you might wish to discuss it with Ambassador Jones.

I am asking Ambassador Jones to carry this letter to you on his return to Djakarta, and to give you the warm personal regards of myself and my family.

Sincerely,

/s/ John Kennedy

His Excellency,

Dr. Sukarno,

President of the Republic of Indonesia

Djakarta.

THE INVESTIGATION OF THE ASSASSINATION OF PRESIDENT JOHN F. KENNEDY: PERFORMANCE OF THE INTELLIGENCE AGENCIES BOOK V FINAL REPORT OF THE SELECT COMMITTEE TO STUDY GOVERNMENTAL OPERATIONS WITH RESPECT TO INTELLIGENCE ACTIVITIES UNITED STATES

SENATE

In the course of this investigation, more than 50 witnesses were either interviewed or deposed. Literally tens of thousands of pages of documentary evidence were reviewed at the agencies and more than 5,000 pages were acquired. In addition, the Committee relied a great deal on testimony taken during the course -of its investigation of alleged plots to assassinate foreign leaders, especially testimony relating to knowledge of those plots.

The Committee has been impressed with the ability and dedication of most of those in the intelligence community. Most officials of the FBI, the CIA, and other agencies performed their assigned tasks thoroughly, competently, and professionally. Supervisors at 'agency headquarters similarly met their responsibilities and are deserving of the highest praise. Yet, as this Report documents, these individuals did not have access to -all of the information held by the most senior officials in their own agencies. Nor did they control, or even influence, many of the decisions made by those senior officials, decisions which shaped the investigation and the process by which information was provided to the Warren Commission. Thus, it cannot be too strongly emphasized that this Report examines the performance of the senior agency officials in light of the information available to them.

Throughout this (1960's) period, the CIA had been plotting the assassination of Castro -as another method of achieving a change in the Cuban government. Between 1960 -and early 1963 the CIA attempted to use underworld figures for this assassination. By May 1962, the FBI knew of such plots, and in June 1963 learned of their termination.

Following a June 1963 decision by a "Special Group" of the National Security Council to increase covert operations against Cuba, the CIA renewed contact with a high-level Cuban government official, code-named AMLASH. At his first meeting with the CIA in over a year, AMLASH proposed Castro's overthrow through an "inside job," with U.S. support. AMLASH considered the assassination of Castro a necessary part of this "inside job." Shortly after this meeting with AMLASH, Castro issued a public warning reported prominently in the U.S. press about the United States' meeting with terrorists who wished to eliminate Cuban leaders. He threatened that Cuba would answer in kind.

Five days after Castro issued this threat, the Coordinating Committee for Cuban affairs, an interagency planning committee subordinate to the National Security Council's Special Group, met to endorse or modify then existing contingency plans for possible retaliation by the Cuban Government. Representatives of the CIA, and of the State, Defense and Justice Departments were on this Committee. The CIA representatives on this Committee were from its Special Affairs Staff (SAS), the staff responsible for Cuban matters generally and the AMLASH operation. Those attending the meeting on September 12 agreed unanimously that there was a strong likelihood Castro would retaliate in some way against the rash of covert activity in Cuba.

Was the issue still Cuba, or still Indonesia also long underway?

By Edward Curtin Review of Greg Poulgrain's book "The Incubus of Intervention: Conflicting Indonesian Strategies of John F. Kennedy and Allen Dulles"

This is the central question addressed by Greg Poulgrain in his extraordinarily important book, The Incubus of Intervention: Conflicting Indonesian Strategies of John F. Kennedy and Allen Dulles.

Two days before President John Kennedy's assassination on November 22, 1963, he had accepted an invitation from Indonesian President Sukarno to visit that country the following spring. The aim of the visit was to end the conflict (Konfrontasi) between Indonesia and Malaysia and to continue Kennedy's efforts to support post-colonial Indonesia with economic and developmental aid, not military. It was part of his larger strategy of ending conflict throughout Southeast Asia and assisting the growth of democracy in newly liberated post-colonial countries worldwide.

He had forecast his position in a dramatic speech in 1957 when, as a Massachusetts Senator, he told the Senate that he supported the Algerian liberation movement and opposed colonial imperialism worldwide. The speech caused an international uproar and Kennedy was harshly attacked by Eisenhower, Nixon, John Foster Dulles, and even liberals such as Adlai Stevenson. But he was praised throughout the third world.

Of course JFK never went to Indonesia in 1964, and his peaceful strategy to bring Indonesia to America's side and to ease tensions in the Cold War was never realized, thanks to Allen Dulles. And Kennedy's proposed withdrawal from Vietnam, which was premised on success in Indonesia, was quickly reversed by Lyndon Johnson after JFK's murder. Soon both countries would experience mass slaughter engineered by Kennedy's opponents in the CIA and Pentagon. Millions would die. Subsequently, starting in December 1975, American installed Indonesian dictator, Suharto, would slaughter hundreds of thousands East-Timorese with American weapons after meeting with Henry Kissinger and President Ford and receiving their approval.

Dulles's Secret

What JFK didn't know was that his plans were threatening a covert long-standing conspiracy engineered by Allen Dulles to effect regime change in Indonesia through bloody means. The primary goal behind this plan was to gain unimpeded access to the vast load of natural resources that Dulles had kept secret from Kennedy, who thought Indonesia was lacking in natural resources. But Dulles knew that if Kennedy, who was very popular in Indonesia, visited Sukarno, it would deal a death blow to his plan to oust Sukarno, install a CIA replacement (Suharto), exterminate alleged communists, and secure the archipelago for Rockefeller controlled oil and mining interests, for whom he had fronted since the 1920s.

Dr. Poulgrain, who teaches Indonesian History, Politics and Society at the University of Sunshine Coast in Australia, explores in very great detail historical issues that have critical significance for today. Based on almost three decades of interviews and research around the world, he has produced a very densely argued book that reads like a detective novel with fascinating sub-plots.

The Importance of Indonesia

Most Americans have little awareness of the strategic and economic importance of Indonesia. It is the world's 4th most populous country, is situated in a vital shipping lane adjacent to the South China Sea, has the world's largest Muslim population, has vast mineral and oil deposits, and is home to Grasberg, the world's largest copper and gold mine, owned by Freeport McMoRan of Phoenix, Arizona. Long a battleground in the Cold War, it remains vitally important in the New Cold War launched by the Obama administration against Russia and China, the same antagonists Allen Dulles strove to defeat through guile and violence. Just recently the Indonesian government, under pressure from the army that has stymied democratic reforms for 18 years, signed a defense agreement with Russia for the sharing of intelligence, the sale of Russian military equipment, including fighter jets, and the manufacturing of weapons in Indonesia. While not front page news in the U.S., these facts make Indonesia of great importance today and add to the gravity of Poulgrain's history.

While not front page news in the U.S., these facts make Indonesia of great importance today and add to the gravity of Poulgrain's history.

The Devil in Paradise

His use of the word "incubus" (an evil spirit that has sexual intercourse with sleeping women) in the title is appropriate since the sinister character that snakes his way through this historical analysis is Allen Dulles, the longest serving Director of the CIA and Kennedy's arch-enemy. While contextually different from David Talbot's portrayal of Dulles in The Devil's Chessboard, Poulgrain's portrait of Dulles within the frame of Indonesian history is equally condemnatory and nightmarish. Both describe an evil genius ready to do anything to advance his agenda.

Reading Poulgrain's masterful analysis, one can clearly see how much of modern history is a struggle for control of the underworld where lies the fuel that runs the megamachine - oil, minerals, gold, etc. Manifest ideological conflicts, while garnering headlines, often bury the secret of this subterranean devil's game.

His story begins with a discovery that is then kept secret for many decades: "In the alpine region of Netherlands New Guinea (so named under Dutch colonial rule - today, West Papua) in 1936, three Dutchmen discovered a mountainous outcrop of ore with high copper content and very high concentrations of gold. When later analyzed in the Netherlands, the gold (in gram/ton) proved to be twice that of Witwatersrand in South Africa, then the world's richest gold mine, but this information was not made public."

The geologist among the trio, Jean Jacques Dozy, worked for the Netherlands New Guinea Petroleum Company (NNGPM), ostensibly a Dutch-controlled company based in The Hague, but whose controlling interest actually lay in the hands of the Rockefeller family, as did the mining company, Freeport Indonesia (now Freeport McMoRan, one of whose Directors from 1988-95 was Henry Kissinger, Dulles's and the Rockefeller's close associate) that began mining operations there in 1966. It was Allen Dulles, Paris-based lawyer in the employ of Rockefeller's Standard Oil, who in 1935 arranged the controlling interest in NNGPN for the Rockefellers. And it was Dulles, among a select few others, who, because of various intervening events, including WW II, that made its exploitation impossible, kept the secret of the gold mine for almost three decades, even from President Kennedy. JFK "was never informed of the 'El Dorado' he had unwittingly taken out of Dutch hands with the result that (once the remaining political hurdles in Indonesia were overcome) Freeport would have unimpeded access to its mining concession." Those "political hurdles" - i.e. regime change - would take a while to effect.

The Indonesia-Cuba Connection

But first JFK would have to be eliminated, for he had brokered Indonesian sovereignty over West Papua/West Irian for Sukarno from the Dutch who had ties to Freeport Sulphur. Freeport was aghast at the potential loss of "El Dorado," especially since they had recently had their world's most advanced nickel refinery expropriated by Fidel Castro, who had named Che Guevara its new manager. Freeport's losses in Cuba made access to Indonesia even more important. Cuba and Indonesia thus were joined in the deadly game of chess between Dulles and Kennedy, and someone would have to lose.

While much has been written about Cuba, Kennedy, and Dulles, the Indonesian side of the story has been slighted. Poulgrain remedies this with an exhaustive and deeply researched exploration of these matters. He details the deviousness of the covert operation Dulles ran in Indonesia during the 1950s and 1960s. He makes it clear that Kennedy was shocked by Dulles' actions, yet never fully grasped the treacherous genius of it all. Dulles was always "working two or three stages ahead of the present." Having armed and promoted a rebellion against Sukarno's central government in 1958, Dulles made sure it would fail (shades of the Bay of Pigs to come).

> Yet the end result of CIA interference in Indonesian internal affairs via the 1958 Rebellion was depicted as a failure at the time, and has consistently been depicted as a failure since that time. This holds true only if the stated goal of the CIA was the same as the actual goal. Even more than five decades later, media analysis of the goal of The Outer Island rebels is still portrayed as a secession, as covert US support for 'rebels in the Outer Islands that wished to secede from the central government in Jakarta'. The actual goal of Allen Dulles had more to do with achieving a centralized army command in such a way as to appear that the CIA backing for the rebels failed.

The Need for Assassinations

Dulles betrayed the rebels he armed and encouraged, just as he betrayed friend and foe alike during his long career. The rebellion that he instigated and planned to fail was the first stage of a larger intelligence strategy that would come to fruition in 1965-6 with the ouster of Sukarno (after multiple unsuccessful assassination attempts) and the institution of a reign of terror that followed. It was also when - 1966 - Freeport McMoRan began their massive mining in West Papua at Grasberg at an elevation of 14,000 feet in the Alpine region. Dulles was nothing if not patient; he had been at this game since WW I. Even after Kennedy fired him following the Bay of Pigs, his plans were executed, just as those who got in his way were. Poulgrain makes a powerful case that these included JFK, U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold (working with Kennedy for a peaceful solution in Indonesia and other places), and Congolese President Patrice Lumumba.

His focus is on why they needed to be assassinated (similar in this regard to James Douglass's JFK and the Unspeakable), though with the exception of Kennedy (since the how is well-known and obvious), he also presents compelling evidence as to the how. Hammarskjold, in many ways Kennedy's spiritual brother, was a particularly powerful obstacle to Dulles's plans for Indonesia and countries throughout the Third World. Like JFK, he was committed to independence for indigenous and colonial peoples everywhere, and was trying to implement "his Swedish-style 'third way' proposing a form of 'muscular pacifism'."

> Had the UN Secretary General succeeded in bringing even half these countries to > independence, he would have transformed the UN into a significant world power and created a body of nations so large as to be a counter-weight to those embroiled in the Cold War.

Poulgrain draws on documents from the South African Truth and Reconciliation Commission (TRC) and Chairman Archbishop Desmond Tutu to show the connection between South Africa's "Operation Celest" and Dulles's involvement in Hammarskjold's murder in September 1961. While it was reported at the time as an accidental plane crash, he quotes former President Harry Truman saying, "Dag Hammarskjold was on the point of getting something done when they killed him. Notice that I said, 'When they killed him'."

Dulles sold his overt Indonesian strategy as being necessary to thwart a communist takeover in Indonesian. Cold War rhetoric, like "the war on terrorism" today, served as his cover. In this he had the Joint Chiefs of Staff on his side; they considered Kennedy soft on communism, in Indonesia and Cuba and everywhere else. Dulles's covert agenda was to serve the interests of his power elite patrons.

Dulles and George de Mohrenschildt

Poulgrain adds significantly to our understanding of JFK's assassination and its aftermath by presenting new information about George de Mohrenschildt, Lee Harvey Oswald's handler in Dallas. Dulles had a long association with the de Mohrenschildt family, going back to 1920-21 when in Constantinople he negotiated with Baron Sergius Alexander von Mohrenschildt on behalf of Rockefeller's Standard Oil. The Baron's brother and business partner was George's father. Dulles's law firm, Sullivan & Cromwell, "was virtually the front desk for Standard Oil." These negotiations on behalf of elite capitalist interests, in the shadow of the Russian Revolution, became the template for Dulles's career: economic exploitation was inseparable from military concerns, the former concealed behind the anti-communist rhetoric of the latter. An anti-red thread ran through Dulles's career, except when the red was the blood of all those whom he considered expendable. And the numbers are legion.

"It was through Standard Oil that a link existed between Dulles [who controlled the Warren Commission] and de Mohrenschildt, and this should have been brought to the attention of the Warren Commission but was not made public when Dulles had so prominent a role." Poulgrain argues convincingly that De Mohrenschildt worked in "oil intelligence" before his CIA involvement, and that oil intelligence was not only Dulles's work when he first met George's father, Sergius, in Baku, but that that "oil intelligence" is a redundancy. The CIA, after all, is a creation of Wall Street and their interests have always been joined. The Agency was not formed to provide intelligence to US Presidents; that was a convenient myth used to cover its real purpose which was to serve the interests of investment bankers and the power elite.

While working in 1941 for Humble Oil (Prescott Bush was a major shareholder, Dulles was his lawyer, and Standard Oil had secretly bought Humble Oil sixteen years before), de Mohrenschildt was caught up in a scandal that involved Vichy (pro-Nazi) French intelligence in selling oil to Germany. This was similar to the Dulles's brothers and Standard Oil's notorious business dealings with Germany.

It was an intricate web of the high cabal with Allen Dulles at the center.

In the midst of the scandal, de Mohrenschildt, suspected of being a Vichy French intelligence agent, “disappeared” for a while. He later told the Warren Commission that he decided to take up oil drilling, without mentioning the name of Humble Oil that employed him again, this time as a roustabout.

“Just when George needed to ‘disappear’, Humble Oil was providing an oil exploration team to be subcontracted to NNGPM - the company Allen Dulles had set up five years earlier to work in Netherlands New Guinea.” Poulgrain makes a powerful circumstantial evidence case (certain documents are still unavailable) that de Mohrenschildt, in order to avoid appearing in court, went in communicado in Netherlands New Guinea’s in mid-1941 where he made a record oil discovery and received a $10,000 bonus from Humble Oil.

“Avoiding adverse publicity about his role in selling oil to Vichy France was the main priority; for George, a brief drilling adventure in remote Netherlands New Guinea would have been a timely and strategic exit.” And who best to help him in this escape than Allen Dulles - indirectly, of course; for Dulles’s modus operandi was to maintain his “distance” from his contacts, often over many decades.

In other words, Dulles and de Mohrenschildt were intimately involved for a long time prior to JFK’s assassination. Poulgrain rightly claims that “the entire focus of the Kennedy investigation would have shifted had the [Warren] Commission become aware of the 40-year link between Allen Dulles and de Mohrenschildt.” Their relationship involved oil, spying, Indonesia, Nazi Germany, the Rockefellers, Cuba, Haiti, etc. It was an international web of intrigue that involved a cast of characters stranger than fiction, a high cabal of the usual and unusual operatives.

Two unusual ones are worth mentioning: Michael Fomenko and Michael Rockefeller. The eccentric Fomenko - aka “Tarzan” - is the Russian-Australian nephew of de Mohrenschildt’s wife, Jean Fomenko. His arrest and deportation from Netherlands New Guinea in 1959, where he had travelled from Australia in a canoe, and his subsequent life, are fascinating and sad. It’s the stuff of a bizarre film. It seems he was one of those victims who had to be silenced because he knew a secret about George’s 1941 oil discovery that was not his to share. “In April 1964, at the same time George de Mohrenschildt was facing the Warren Commission - a time when any publicity regarding Sele 40 [George’s record oil discovery] could have changed history - it was decided that electro-convulsive therapy would be used on Michael Fomenko.” He was then imprisoned at the Ipswich Special Mental Hospital.

Equally interesting is the media myth surrounding the disappearance of Michael Rockefeller, Nelson’s son and heir to the Standard Oil fortune, who was allegedly eaten by cannibals in New Guinea in 1961. His tale became front-page news, “a media event closed off to any other explanation and the political implications of his disappearance became an ongoing tragedy for the Papuan people.” To this very day, the West Papuan people, whose land was described by Standard Oil official Richard Archbold in 1938 as “Shangri-la,” are fighting for their independence.

Poulgrain offers most interesting takes on these two characters and shows how their stories are connected to the larger tale of intrigue.

This is a very important and compelling book. Difficult and dense at times, more expansive at others, it greatly adds to our understanding of why JFK was murdered. With its Indonesian focus, it shows us how Allen Dulles’s sinister purview was wide-spread and long-standing; how it included so much more than Cuba, Guatemala, Iran, etc.; specifically, how important far-distant Indonesia was in his thinking, and how that thinking clashed with President Kennedy's on a crucial issue. It forces us to consider how different the world would be if JFK had lived.

The Incubus of Intervention sheds new light on Indonesian history and America's complicity in its tragedy. It is essential reading today when Barack Obama is executing his pivot to Asia and promoting conflict with China and Russia. Although not explored in Poulgrain's book, it's interesting to note that Obama's Indonesian step-father, Lolo Soetero, left Obama and his mother in Hawaii in that crucial year of 1966 when mass killings were underway to return to Indonesia to map Western New Guinea (West Papua) for the Indonesian government. After Dulles's regime change was accomplished and Suharto had replaced Sukarno, he went to work for Unocal, the first oil company to sign a production sharing agreement with Suharto. Strange coincidences, bitter fruit.

Is Poulgrain correct? Did Allen Dulles direct the assassination of President Kennedy to ensure his, rather the Kennedy's, Indonesian strategy would succeed?

We know the CIA coordinated the assassination of President Kennedy. We know that Allen Dulles was involved. We know that Indonesia was one reason why.

Was it "the reason"?

Read this wonderful book and decide.

He is a person using my identity who will be the loser I am staged to be. His confessions in my identity have the support of "pavement artists" acting out in public the appearance of me he actually is (looking through clothes as if a young boy watching "picasso porn" scrambled R and X rated cable TV as it morphed on the screen.

Playboy Entertainment Group v. United States, 30 F. Supp. 2d 702 (D. Del. 1998), prob.juris. noted, 119 S. Ct. 2365 (June 21, 1999) (No. 98-1682). "Signal bleed" describes the partial reception of sexually explicit premium cable-television programming in the homes of non-subscribers to that programming.

A colloquial term for the often grotesquely distorted images and "assorted orgiastic moans and groans" 2 that are transmitted as a result of inadequate scrambling technology is "Picasso porn."3 Some have viewed the phenomenon more skeptically as a deliberate "tease." ' Three years ago, in an effort to protect American children from exposure to indecent signal bleed, Congress enacted section 505 of the Communications Decency Act of 1996 (CDA).5 Entitled "Scrambling of Sexually Explicit Adult Video Service Programming," section 505 requires cable-system operators either (i) to scramble fully the transmission to non-subscribers of "sexually explicit" or otherwise "indecent" programming on any channels that are "primarily dedicated to sexually-oriented programming," 6 or (ii) to time-channel the transmission of such programming to a "safe harbor" period between 10 p.m. and 6 a.m.7 .a.m. https://openyls.law.yale.edu/bitstream/handle/20.500.13051/9235/27_109YaleLJ627_1999_.pdf

The abusive acts of fraud and predicates of extortion are placing distorted underage and other females near me asserting my presence is going the be charged for on the basis of what I am not inolved in, distorted appearing teens and others who theatricly try to tie my presence to looking at them.

To comply with section 505, most cable operators have resorted to time-channeling rather than bear the greater cost The Yale Law Journal of overhauling their scrambling technology.' Since February of 1996, Playboy Entertainment Group has sought a declaratory judgment that the provisions of section 505 violate the First Amendment and injunctive relief preventing their enforcement. In the process, Playboy has been granted a temporary restraining order,9 denied a preliminary injunction,"° and granted a permanent injunction." Now, for the second time, 2 United States v. Playboy Entertainment Group13 is before the Supreme Court. This case deserves more attention than it has received. Signal bleed represents what may become an all-too-familiar phenomenon: diffusive indecent speech and a technology designed to filter that speech that is only partially effective, that allows traces of indecency to "bleed" through.

The scheme using "street theater" making it seem I need to look at clothes hoping to see a woman's anatomy (allegedly for the first time) includes the Extortion platitude as a developmentally retarded bottom feeder I prefer underage girls. It is a Color of Law illegal program staging all of this and the events include nights with adult entertainers who coach Disabled In-sophisticate on glamm world wide metro-sexuality of the type I spent my San Francisco life know members of well. But Law Enforcement is getting now a chance to party with those international glamms through their Midnight Climax style party nights with themselves and Disabled In sophisticate.

The affects on this have been several fold. My assertions the teens around are part of not only labeling me but defrauding me by making me appear the dirty old man who used a hidden camera, etc., get me kicked out of places as the teens and others assert I have the issue, not them, and why was I even looking? But the appearance I am following them and not the reverse they are following me gets a warning out about me (pushed by the police of COINTELPRO) to keep me out of housing or park or gym usage where i "might do it again."

Demands have been made to me I owe for sperm bank rights because a teen was placed near me and I took the bait. If I don't meet sperm bank demands I would have been arrested. It is the dopple of me who decides to pay out sperm bank rather than be arrested.

Much of the photo section is drawn from gigabytes of evidence on the means, motives, and opportunities of defrauding me. How and why and how this ties into MK-ULTRA history and PsyOps using its dirty tricks. The Aggressor and the Target of Aggression is part of subversion and overthrow. The protocol starts with an Information Dopple of the Target of Aggression (Jen says Targated Victims of dirty tricks.)

The police of Texas (at least and add California and other states too) have mocked me as a loser who needs call-girl therapy to learn worldliness and glam metro sexuality. It is the police who want the lessons and they use a retarded version of me to take those lessons in the covert operations they run. I have one part of this book Tales of The Talloid (this may or may not be accepted as a Zoological term) a black tall thin and scuzzy neighbor who as me wanted a white girl to show him "her white parts" because he not seen "white parts" before.

Politico But in 2016, Nueces also elected Gonzalez, a 38-year-old Democrat and self-described “Mexican biker lawyer covered in tattoos.” Before being elected, Gonzalez had never prosecuted a single case: For his entire 10-year career, Gonzales had specialized in getting accused criminals off the hook-working most closely with low-income, mostly minority offenders, fighting low-level charges for marijuana and other substances. His pride in his work is expressed in a spectacular tattoo that he had inked across his chest a few years ago, reading, in colorful gothic type, “Not Guilty.”

Gonzalez’s résumé puts him in a small but striking new wave of U.S. prosecutors, politically liberal and in some cases even civil-rights advocates, who’ve been elected to roll back the excesses of the past 20 years' worth of tough-on-crime laws. But what might make him the single unlikeliest DA in the United States isn't his legal philosophy or his politics, but what's stamped on the immense red belt buckle he's wearing: the insignia of the Calaveras, the motorcycle club Gonzalez belongs to, which describes itself as a charity group but which the state of Texas officially considers a gang. With that comes a unique situation faced by no other elected official nationwide: Gonzalez, the county's district attorney and regarded as a potential rising star in Texas politics, is considered by local police to be a registered gang member.

The intricate red-and-gold belt buckle of the Calaveras motorcycle club A belt buckle with the insignia of the Calaveras Motorcycle Club, of which Gonzalez is a member-one of many belt buckles he regularly wears. | Tamir Kalifa for Politico Magazine

He connected with the Calaveras 10 years ago after they asked him to be their defense attorney for occasional DUI- or marijuana-related cases, soon joining them as a full-on member. It's a partnership that has brought him a lot of joy and a lot of business, but it also ensures he can never quite relax about how the public sees him. At least once last year he had to explain to a police officer who pulled him over for speeding that he would come up in his system as a known gang member-and, full disclosure, that he was also the county's district attorney. - Politico

I believe he went from defending south texas gangs from accusations which true before be a DA to after being the DA bringing claims from his gang members against a person being framed, me.

Mark Gonazles and the police used an apartment in Casa Linda Santa Fe and likely a loser imitating me for the call girl to come to. That lead to I think murder and arson. After that the call girls went to Omina, later Stay and Play. Throwing money at buttucks is what the imiterator me does. It was not party of Subjecting me to teen girls as a Nazi racist theorist obsessed with Teens giggle giggle undermines my beliefs of 15 years and 30 years before that.

From the very earliest versions of The Great Treason its introductory pages are (like the Electro web site I wrote) dedicated to stopping WWIII by clearing the corruption inside the USA and asking for Russia's help in that. Attempts to name the Aggressors as participating in fraud will often be retaliated against successfully because the Aggressors often have occupied positions of power such that they can conduct the covert operations and maintain the alibis the cover actors use rather than cease and desist from the frauds being perpetrated.

Marie (born Princess Marie Alexandra Victoria of Edinburgh; 29 October 1875 – 18 July 1938)

Coronation 15 October 1922. Tenure 10 October 1914 – 20 July 1927

October 1875 – 18 July 1938) was the last queen of Romania as the wife of King Ferdinand I.

Marie was born into the British royal family. Her parents were Prince Alfred, Duke of Edinburgh (later Duke of Saxe-Coburg and Gotha), and Grand Duchess Maria Alexandrovna of Russia. Marie's early years were spent in Kent, Malta and Coburg. After refusing a proposal from her cousin, the future King George V, she was chosen as the future wife of Ferdinand, then crown prince of Romania, in 1892. Marie was crown princess between 1893 and 1914, and became immediately popular with the Romanian people.

King George V in 1923

King George V will marry Mary of Teck a Central European and who had earlier ties to Romania. It is like Mary of Teck who introduces FOXP2 into King George VI. Prince Albert of York and Prince Edward of Wales are the children of King George V. Edward of Wales will take the thrown briefly but abdicated and Prince Albert of York will be coronated King George VI and lead the Great Britain war effort with the allies,

It is probable this is how FDR, Joseph Kennedy Sr., The Vatican, and others began an underground railraod into the USA as the Nazis grew in power in Ausatria in 1926.

Some speculate the Office of Naval Intelligence was part of the reason 9/11 occurred and this tied to at least the Kennedy assassination and maybe even more.

Free Traders

As the Steam Engine powers travel and locates and transports raw materials and people around the world Free Trade advocates see a new opportunity for far reaching empires. Holding the lands of this empire as an economic matter overlay with military objectives of expanding projecting power.

Two devastating world wars and their aftermath made the Belle Époque appear to be a time of joie de vivre (joy of living) in contrast to 19th century hardships.

Mary of Teck (born May 26, 1867, Kensington Palace, London-died March 24, 1953, London) was the queen consort of King George V of Great Britain and the mother of kings Edward VIII (afterward duke of Windsor) and George VI. (of Austrio-Hungarian ancestry. Her father was father was Prince Francis, Duke of Teck, the son of Duke Alexander of Württemberg and may have had the same genes Maria Kutschera and Franz Kutschera had. Württemberg and Salzburg are connected by the border between Baden-Württemberg, Germany and Austria, which begins at Lake Constance:

Ed Donegan asserts this secret Salzberg history as Maria Kutschera returned to Austria and for 10 years went along with singing Nazi propoganda was the secret that was an attempted secret for generations and is tied to what was an assasination of General Patton and he and others discovered the Austria German nazi atrocities in that region.

Mar of Teck (as consort of King George V) Tenure 6 May 1910 – 20 January 1936

Marie of Romania is easily confused but going the other way (England into Central Europe) Marie of Romania (born Princess Marie Alexandra Victoria of Edinburgh and English royal family); 29 October 1875 18 July 1938)[note 1] was the last queen of Romania as the wife of King Ferdinand I.

Following the death of King George V in 1936 Mary of Teck and her husband George V's child Prince Edward of Wales was crowned King Edward VIII. After a quick abdication her other son who showed a speech and language defect tied also into emotions Prince Albert of York was crowned King George VI. Following his death in early 1952 his daughter Princess Elizabeth became QEII.

Elizabeth II (Elizabeth Alexandra Mary; 21 April 1926 – 8 September 2022) was Queen of the United Kingdom and other Commonwealth realms from 6 February 1952 until her death in 2022. She was queen regnant of 32 sovereign states over the course of her lifetime and remained the monarch of 15 realms by the time of her death. Her reign of 70 years and 214 days is the longest of any British monarch or female monarch, and the second-longest verified reign of any monarch of a sovereign state in history.

In 1926 who else was born to Prince Albert or Prince Edward? The gene Mary of Teck had seemed to be studied by child development experts in orphanages of children of hidden identities. I think and some autobiographies of the era suggest Maria Kutschera left the convent pregnant with at least one female and perhaps two female babies to be born in the USA. One seemed to be Glorian Donegan at Norch Carolina near Davidson College and Dean Rusk the other Marilyn Monroe that Joseph Kennedy Sr. along with FDR working for Mary of Teck, King Georve V, and the Vatican and CIA OSS helped when Maria Kutschera left the convent in Salzburg pregnant and not eligible to return.

In the 1951 to 1952 planning years the CIA and Great Britain formed plans carrying out Allies decisions of 1949. These plans were to recover lost world assets of the globe following the end of WWII.

The Belle Époque (French pronunciation: [bɛlepɔk]) or La Belle Époque (French for 'The Beautiful Era') was a period of French and European history that began after the end of the Franco-Prussian War in 1871 and continued until the outbreak of World War I in 1914. Occurring during the era of the French Third Republic, it was a period characterized by optimism, enlightenment, regional peace, economic prosperity, nationalism, colonial expansion, and technological, scientific, and cultural innovations. In this era of France's cultural and artistic climate (particularly in Paris of that time), the arts markedly flourished, and numerous masterpieces of literature, music, theatre and visual art gained extensive recognition.

In the United States Mark Twain viewed this as robber-barron rationalizations and termed Gilded Age, from war to gold gilded wealth excesses. In United States history, the Gilded Age is described as the period from about the late 1870's to the late 1890's, which occurred between the Reconstruction Era and the Progressive Era. It was named by 1920's historians after an 1873 Mark Twain novel. Historians saw late 19th-century economic expansion as a time of materialistic excesses marked by widespread political corruption.

The term Gilded Age was applied to the era by 1920's historians who took the term from one of Mark Twain's lesser-known novels, The Gilded Age: A Tale of Today (1873). The book (co-written with Charles Dudley Warner) satirized the promised "golden age" after the Civil War, portrayed as an era of serious social problems masked by a thin gold gilding of economic expansion.

The Belle Époque was so named in retrospect, when it began to be considered a continental European "Golden Age" in contrast to the horrors of the Napoleonic Wars and World War I. The Belle Époque was a period in which, according to historian R. R. Palmer, "European civilisation achieved its greatest power in global politics, and also exerted its maximum influence upon peoples outside Europe."

Heinz has several interesting links regarding JFK assassination. He was a right wing plotter with Nixon and the CIA and also in Manchurian Candidate 1962 Heinz is referred to. He is also tied up with the War Industries Board type activities that have been well documented by others.

https://coat.ncf.ca/our_magazine/links/53/heinz.html

Henry John Heinz (October 11, 1844 - May 14, 1919) was an American entrepreneur who co-founded the H. J. Heinz Company of Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania.

By Richard Sanders, Editor, Press for Conversion!

Heinz is known to have donated at least $2,500 to American Liberty League and $5,876 to one of its fascist front groups, the Crusaders.

Howard Heinz was the son of Bavaria immigrant, John Henry Heinz, who founded the Heinz company in 1869. After attending the small, private Shady Side Academy, Howard entered Yale University in 1900. He joined Delta Kappa Epsilon, an exclusive fraternity whose members have included Presidents George Bush, Jr. and Sr., Vice-President Dan Quayle, banker J.P. Morgan, newspaper magnate William R. Hearst, chewing-gum millionaire William Wrigley and motel man, Howard Johnson. When Heinz left Yale, he worked his way up through the family business from advertising and sales to president. He led the company for 22 years (1919-1941).

His directorships included Pennsylvania Railroad, the Mellon Bank, the Carnegie Institute and the National Industrial Conference Board (NICB). Founded in 1916, the NICB is the oldest of the "policy discussion groups" for big business leaders and is similar to the Council on Foreign Relations. William Dumhoff described these > "policy-planning and consensus-seeking organizations of the power elite…. [as] training grounds in which new leaders for government service are informally selected…. During the 1930's and 1940's [the NICB] drifted to an extreme right-wing stance" (The Powers that Be,1978). In 1942, it "began mapping plans…[to make America] the dominant force in Asia and exploit the colonies of former Dutch and French imperialists, from Indonesia to Indo-China, with all their cheap labor, oil, rubber and other valuable resources."

When Howard died in 1941, his son H.J. Heinz II, took over the company and some of his father's political concerns. H.J. Heinz II was on the "all-star board of directors" of the National Committee for a Free Europe (NCFE), which formed in 1948 as Radio Free Europe and Radio Liberty. U.S. intelligence funded this propaganda to support "the anti-Communist work of numerous [Eastern European] emigré organizations," using captured Nazi funds left over from the CIA's campaign to stop a communist victory in Italy's 1948 elections. The NCFE board provided a "thinly veiled 'private-sector'… cover to explain where all the money was coming from" (Christopher Simpson, Blowback: America's Recruitment of Nazis, 1988).

Howard Heinz left much of his wealth to the Howard Heinz Endowment. The "Chairman" of this $1.6 billion foundation is Teresa Heinz. She inherited $500 million when her first husband, Republican Senator John Heinz III, died in a 1991 plane crash. Her new husband, Senator John Forbes Kerry, is the Democratic candidate for president. (Kerry, a Vietnam War veteran, is a Yale grad who was inducted into its Skull and Bones secret society in 1965, just two years before George W. Bush.) Teresa Heinz and Kerry both belonged to the Council on Foreign Relations. She is a former co-chair of Congressional Wives for Soviet Jewry and board member of the Carnegie Corp., the Brookings Institution and vice-chair of the Environmental Defense Fund (EDF). The EDF is derided for "corporate environmentalism" by activists who dislike its > "long history of compromising on issues…. back-door meetings with polluters…. [its funding] from some of the most anti-environmental corporations [and] foundations like Pew and Heinz, which are notorious for attaching dubious strings to the money they give out,... strings which usually push [it] into a position of playing footsie with the corporations that grassroots activists are fighting."

H.J. Heinz company describes itself as a "$2.5 billion global icon" and "the most global, U.S.-based food company, with…powerful brands holding number-one and number-two market positions in more than 50 countries” (Enviro-sellouts).

Patty Hearst is going to be part of the MK-Ultra story and her visits to Folsom Prison and later Leo Ryan investigating that. And in a complex story SlA was one of several internationally linked domestic terror operations in the USA. The one I have been sujected to is much more cover and one Jen Moroe and I have been whistle-blowers of. It starts in my mind when I came to Texas first deciding on Corpus Christi looking at a map in Balston Mall in Arlington VA and thinking it was far to far away but I wanted to get away from Alrington County Virginia services. At 175 pounds I had lost weight and overcome diabetes and posted every goth, hardcore, frenchcore, industrial dance, summer of love hippy, oldies of 1940's to 1960's music with gym check ins and talking it all up with a new lease on life and sharing my sports health diet. In the gym though as my A1c dropped from 13.3 to 4.7 in six months the I was made a mockery of in the gym as peopel walked in front of me, etc., They were claiming I had faked my reason to be in the gym where they were listening to their cool music even though I did not belong there.

I began circulting an MSWORD document showing I was in fear of my life from diabetes but I was harrassed and cut off financially from gym dues etc, and I findally decided to try Texas to get from Arlington County Texas services who seemed to coopt and roadbloack me. All phases of my life were harrassed and worst the same corruption I had experienced in mental hospitals - adult entertainers used to "service" polic and their dopple of me continued around the clock in open spaces. I documented this as fraud and little did I know Jen Moore was doing the same. It seems that while my fantiseis were not illegal (nor untried by me) there were a turn on for the FBI and Sherrifs and psych workers who wish to "explore" too using a gullible loser using my identity to take lessons. I believe today my brother and Mark Weirness wanted to learn of my world, infiltrate it, and keep it of the type of Bob Creamer and Robert Fovall politics he and Mark shared.

What I had known is that my family had a secret history and I found out my brother Tom Donegan knew too and he was trying to hide who are family is. Researching that has taken me ten years as KOMPROMAT designed to harrass my gym, apartment, parks usage continues. I went through my Arlington VA photos on facebook a few momets ago and they are all the public jogging trails of Arligton VA. I came to Texas to do the same thing by a smear campaing galled GangStalking continues and I continue to document it. As I first arrived in Texas I sensed this was the family history issue that was found out or already known by others and the issue of mtNDA and sperm were coming up as some long con Shills and gullible racketeering activities.

This timeline refelcts me and Jen Moore showing the con jobs and evidenc plants, etc.,

The security camera of the Sunset District branch of Hibernia Bank in San Francisco showed Patricia Hearst holding an assault rifle as members of the Symbionese Liberation Army carried out the midday robbery. Was the rich heiress, kidnapped two months earlier, acting in fear of her life? Was she brainwashed? Or did she participate in the robbery as a loyal soldier in "the revolution"? That was the issue a California jury had to decide in the 1976 trial of Patty Hearst. https://famous-trials.com/pattyhearst/2217-home

The SLA released a communique in which it called the kidnapping the "serving of an arrest warrant on Patricia Campbell Hearst." The communique warned that any attempt to rescue Hearst would result in the prisoner being "executed." The statement ended with the capital letters: "DEATH TO THE FASCIST INSECT THAT PREYS UPON THE LIFE OF THE PEOPLE."

In response to the SLA demands, Randolph Hearst created the People in Need program and donated about $2 million. The food giveaway program was fraught with problems. In some distribution locations, rioting and fraud hampered efforts, On February 22 at a distribution site in West Oakland, rioting led to dozens of injuries and arrests. In a March audiotape released by the SLA, Patty criticized her father's food distribution efforts: "So far it sounds like you and your advisers managed to turn it into a real disaster."

The public heard the most shocking audiotape from the SLA in April, fifty-nine days after Patty's kidnapping. On the tape, Hearst says: "I have been given the choice of being released...or joining the forces of the Symbionese Liberation Army and fighting for my freedom and the freedom of all oppressed people. I have chosen to stay and fight." Hearst further announced that she had accepted the name "Tania," after a "comrade who fought alongside Che in Bolivia."

Patty Hearst might well have been more focuse of the robbed the University Bank of Fullerton, BCCI, or BBRDW. Or the SLA might have been more on target if they had kidnapped someone from any of Allen Dulles's connected law firms. What they got in Patty Hears though was a well informed doubter of the USA and its policies, and the corruption network of banks and misdeeds the USA was exporting into other nations. Cover operators like George H.W. Bush or Phllip Twombly or David ATlee Phillips or the Octopus itself United Fruit Company or maybe International Trade Mart and Clay Shaw.

John Lennon, the Beatle, has returned the MBE he was awarded - as were the other three Beatles - in the Birthday Honours of 1965.

A spokesman for Apple, the Beatle company, said yesterday that Lennon had sent identical letters addressed to the Queen, the Prime Minister, and the Central Chancery saying his action was “in protest against Britain’s involvement in the Nigeria-Biafra thing, against our support of America in Vietnam, and against Cold Turkey slipping down the charts.” The letter was signed “With love, John Lennon,” in his handwriting.

The spokesman added: “Typed underneath the signature is ‘John Lennon of Bag.’ The letters are written on notepaper headed Bag Production, 3 Savile Row, London W1.’ Bag is the company set up by Lennon and his wife, Yoko Ono, to handle the film Peace Events, records and other merchandise.”

Sir Derek Taylor, the Beatles' spokesman, said that the other three Beatles did not know John was intending to return his MBE until after the letters had been sent. “They are not intending to return theirs as well.”

Che was the Castro backing and Latin America opposition to MK-Ultra, the Thousand Year colonial rule keeping the empire intact through control over satelite nations often obtained by interference (cover or overt) in the affairs of those nations and often those nations were ruled by despotic "Banana Republic" strong-men who opposed union and labor efforts the Soviet Block and China were pushing.

Murder and a Bondage and Discipline Dungeon run by politically connected homicide connected gang that is also money laundering

It was where I was living when a criminal network of racketeering was harrassing me and cheating me out of leases with a smear campaign, staged apearance,, breakins, and ongoing threat to kill me (and threat to kill Jen Moore) from skid row felons corrupt policing used to kill whistle-blowers.

I had requested from my trust fund ARC of Nova four wheel drive to use in parks and recreation in Pacfic Crest Trail in the Sierra Nevadas my father and I used to hike and bike ride as for the health and relaxation effects (Texas was too hot and too much sun) and also to get to my former friends and life I was told my trust fund could not afford to pay for a car for me. I did have a motorcycle and lect with it.

I moved first to Capitola and Santa Cruz area and was cheated out of me first lease. As I documented the smear campaing I moved to Stau and Play Monterey California with the same objectives. The frauds continued there and Jen Moore died as she and I were posting the evidence of the frauds run by police in these locations. It is had to descibe exactly becaus the police make different excuses for what they do but the overall police theory are all variations on this. If a police officer who respects women is "taught to eat pussy" by a high priced domina that police officer being there at the crotch of a woman he had never seen before is no longer photographing children buttocks. This advances the adult "child: into adulthood.

The Legen created as that I had never "seen one before" and depended on ill fitting gym clothes to have gotten my first peek and "camel toe" or buttocks handing from daisy fukdes especially if the buttocks were realy huge. Many women may not have beleived any of that about me, perhaps some did after seeign staged photos, others may not care since a Nazi (alleged Nazi) was going toi be outed as a child pervert.

I have just moved into an apartment in Corpus Christi Texas and while dollar story (the new five and dime stores) I find The Sound of Music in the movie bin.

Facebook May 26, 2016 Ed Donegan Corpus Christi · Shared with Public Kickin' it at home with $1 DVD of the Carrie Underwood Sound Of Music musical. BTW Curtis Manning you now own a copy too. If it's not to your tastes you can regift. Thanks for you have done and do for NA.

Comments Kim Wilson Sound of music...my favorite musical 8 years ago from 2024

Reply (Curtis Manning) Thank you Ed..I love Carrie Underwood.

I am spending a huge amount of time taking apart the story-line and researching including discussing at at NA meetings and with Curtis. I point out some of the themes about one door closing (leaving the convent) and another opening up and various elements of the story line including research on Germany and Nazis and forms of the Serenty Prayer from Soicism, all I have long researched and prefered in my my classical antiquity views. Even earlier than 2016 I had been pursuing that and was my book title The Athiest Papers going back decades.

Threats on my life knife and other attacks are a constant and work through landlords and police who in tandem stop my writing locations availability

Mental Health Services working together have defrauded my trust fund and me with a hate based cooption of my far right views on minimalist government, not Leviathan governments of arbitrary power or of joined Church and State or totalitarian trespass into the lives of free people. Much of my belief was peace-nick, Summer of Love and later alternative lifestyle music, liberalism, art, and Natural Law Philosophy I spend 45 years prior to coming to Texas in deep study of rejecting Enlightenment arguments a Christian God granted rights, instead believe by virtue of Humankind's ability to reason we were free to do so. Like John Stewart Mill I believed control over a person is only warranted when that person can not care for themselves or others. The far left wanted this from me, and the optimistic and fun love of art and music they wanted for the Anti Trump movement, the ARC being extreme leftist and deeply openly on the job anti-trump. Rather than genetic superiority I asserted I had mental health problems and cited John Stewart Mill or someone like that the affected cab be great contributors to society. As direct or indirect consequence of complex abnormalities benefits can often exist and do with Borderline Personality Disorder, one of which being on disability and free to read while others are stuck going to work.

My gym use was roadblocked like all else was when I could not afford gym clothes laundry, lean meats, or even gym dues all denied me.

Both the music and much else was used by others after I was disrupted. The destruction of my life was after I had already been radiology attacked by my brother and Mark Weirness, or at least with their complicity (I don't know too much baout the source of the radiation or who placed it) and at the same time they worked to have the full hysterectomy and ovectamy of my mother lied about in various suspicious ways. I believe Tom and Mark and their allies have always tried to suppress and finaly extinguish the genetics of my mother and I except for select usage in a system they had wanted to control.

Conflict engagement (Bird-Dogging) have happened at times up to 600-800 times a day in custody in elsewhere as intensive fights with me are initiated by mental health patients and others programmed in methods of conflict with me.

In Arlington the attacks where at Northern Virginia Mental Health Institute and Arlington Coutny Sheriffs Detention where at least 60 dopple gangers between them very obvioulsy pschotic versions of me both attacked me and imitated me as observers took notes of that person who had my idenity and I could only watch.

GangStalks are illegal covert opp teams in illegal sabotage working in tandem to sabotage, discredit, or destroy whistle-blowers

Those who can provide information on the Kennedy assassination are at risk from a government officials covertly abusing power to silence whistle-blowers. I will talk extensively about the surviving first had accounts of Jen Moore who said she would talk about the Donegan (my) family and how it tied into the Kennedy assassination even if those power figures ordered he assassination winch they been threatening to do.

When one person lies it is a lie. When a group of covert operators lie in tandem with enough reinforcing of each other and clout from State resources the dis-truth is a accepted as truth. Roadblocks that undermine performance in services to Targeted Individuals. Frabicrations of reasons to disrupt or deny services like home leases, health care, financial services, access to public locations or public transportation because those services are undermined by the various providers of those services as the behest of powerful figures.

Providers of the services to go into non-performance, making, finding, or pretending to have found a basis to terminate rights to services the Targeted Individual is being illegally denied. Often the system use a double discreditation interfering with the use of public accommodation or resources while at the same time cooptiong the efforts of the Targeted Individual taking up the "oxygen in the room" for what the TI had initiated. Hostile environments can range from distractions, sudden closures of otherwise open services, detours, delays, fights from those the government denies as government assets, denial of services by flooding available services with other services recipients, even denying the safety of environments by recruiting the mentally ill from health care to initiate fights with the Targeted Individual. Discrediation as to the allegations of a Targeted Individual are often called paranoid of terrorist ideology.

A methodology bullies will often be recruited who are told the Targeted Individual poses a threat but for various reasons can not be prosecuted or need to be preempted before a terror strike can be carried out or legal proceeding and be finished. Office mobs use heavily coordinated office cliques as magnifying system of smears tied to a person in the office, apartment complex, etc., in the hopes a lynch mob of unjust hostility to a whistle-blower can be formed.

Defrauding is common as the teams self-enrich while blocking and coopting that which belongs to the Targeted Individual.

In my case necessary access to writing environments has been especially conspired against as have been my health and financial resources and transportation.

Is the police ties to mafia and mafia attacks on me I am writing about.

I do not have the time or interest in each photograph in the directory of this folder but I can summarize. The buildings are made unihabitalbe over and over again. Disgusting violent neighors are moved in and normal ones moved out. Very overweight black women (on in particular) would gather outside my windows making obscene and other gestures. One ofr instance stopped at the other-side of the window the computer monitor is against, in tights, held her buttocks to the window while bent over making pancakes in the window saying she is my pornography now. Others have called me white toliet paper to take the "shit" off buttocks.

As I attempted to use my fourth floor apartement at 1001 North Water Stree that A/C was cut and I had to install a partially effective one room portabe A/C and water to the building and elevator availablity was turned off.

This is tied to a buttocks fetishist who ties their actions to me while impersonating me or planting evidence that fakes a case against me. Backed by police and fire these criminals operate protection racket asserting I owe into the community for in fact what really are their deeds - throwing "money" at the sight of buttocks or hiked up gym clothes.

I have filmed st public beaches usually making a point to ask for permission of anyone prominent in the photo, once or twice a pool without permission, and in alt.net down-loaders with 30 or more groups selects for auto download including shower cams and some teen. Most was 30 years ago or more but IF that were true today this protection racket could run flim flam around the clock. That is what it is doing in a smear campaign of me.

computers near the windows. Neigbors like who I called the Talloid a tall black male would put their face, knives or tattoed shirtless bodies against the outside of the window as I worked. The police would not arrest them even where they were making death threats as they did so. Water poured down from above flooding two inchess of standing water all through the apartment. This included when I had my computer on the balcony where one was also destroyed by that. I had to move the PC from the plaster of paris areas into a cement walls broom clost I put a lock on and left mamangemt a key for. It was boiling hot as I dripped with sweat I kept refigerated water near me.

Mostly I liked some cool tales of the undead for some off time relaxation. I did want to see They Kings Speech as I was researchign this part of history but when I rented these from the library neigbors openly staked out and cased my apartment and planned a break in stealing my TV and laptop and I had no way to watch them. The first police were aware Deandra Travino accross the hall stole the commputer but later cops covered it up and lied to events and lied as to my statements. ARC of NOVA helped with the cover-up.

After they shut down the lease and turned the first apartment building into a public squators building (all door open at all times, vagrats sleeping in halways and broom and utility closets using wiring to light half-cigareets found on the streets I moved into the next apartment and wouldn't you know it the same neighbors from the old building me, some of them, to the next.

Spittle

Saliva, also known as spit, is a watery liquid produced by salivary glands under the tongue that plays an important role in digestion. Saliva begins the digestive process as soon as food enters the mouth, and it contains enzymes that help break down food into simpler forms that are easier for the body to absorb Covering a person in spit is part of decomposing them. What it does (being hostile to a person, harassing them, treating them like a pedophile or people, lying about a person, and even do so in covert way causes them (the person or person being spit on) emotional pain or even risk if the spit includes an inflammatory or legally damaging allegation being acted out. Spittle will decompose a person emotionally and in society. This timeline shows covert harassment of me and discrediting of me and fights cause by others but blamed on me as I write about corrupt officials.

I assert cover operations of illegal mafia activities are law enforcement backed and the criminals (though sometimes concealing it but revealing if they are challenged and threatened) are doing dirty work for high ranking officials whose selfish need is to preempt and destroy potential witness to the Kennedy Assassination having been an inside job or aligned US figures working with British Imperialism and trying to keep that motive from the public.

Fabricated staged appearances created by espionage agencies s has destroyed my life illegally but effectively and has done so in large part to undermining my books and the locations and peace and quite I need to write the books. Treating me as though I a harm to the community including including faking what the nature of my activities is not mere innuendo it is the use of smear for money laundering rackets, conspiracy against rights including inciting fights and violence by use of community trained lynch mobs that use street people.

Democratic strategist Robert Creamer who has been campaigning for Hilary Clinton has resigned after secretly recorded video appeared to show operatives admitting they hired provocateurs to infiltrate Donald Trump rallies and incite violence using a tactic called 'bird-dogging'.

In the video, Democratic operatives appear to outline the training and paying of agents to stage fake grassroots protests and create a sense of 'anarchy' at Donald Trump events.

I Edward Donegan assert the practice is illegal and using the filthiest people that can be found to spit on you (even in the abstract like treating you as despicable person) will most likely get a person to fight back, and possible be arrested for fighting back having thrown the first punch.

I and others will show that mafia operatives are allowed to shake down my trust fund with frivolous character based claims against me, the dual affect of that the destruction of my life and credibility and the impeachment of me and limitations of my becoming an effective statement maker on the events of November 22, 1963 and what led up to that. In short I flunked pre-school in 1962. As the summer of 1963 closed Lee Harvey Oswald will learn of how that will affect CIA plans and CIA connected families and sleeper agents and plans are reshuffled to John F. Kennedy's objections to fit plans sleepers chosen shortly after birth.

It was report card time at the end of 1963 and in San Francisco in a storage locker I had I read mine (on yellowed out paper) of my very early childhood psychiatric results. IQ 125 (I don't know how the find that for a child and there was some technobabble about age adjustments) and Minimal Brain Dysfunction. As my father had told me my IQ was bigh but I had some irrqularities and was undergoing tests I remember included EEGs. I believe my mother had this gene too, it is FOXP2, and runs in both bastard children of Windsors, Kutschera's, some Kennedy family, and many others, more common than thought. Jen Moore says the same thing.

It is my assertion I am another case of the attempts on Lee Bowers Jr's life mine under threat too though I am still alive. Lee Bowers Jr. from his train-yard observatory could see the souped-up greens station wagon arriving from Grace Ranch driven by Chauncey Holt (who left the vehicle and a hide a key with it) as Murder Inc., assassinated JFK. My father a RECON Pilot on the ground in his life saw much of the trail of human activity surrounding his RECON flights out of ATSUGI working for the CIA. While I Edward Paul Donegan and not from the CIA my families link to these events is drawing covert retaliation against me.

How my family ties into the British and CIA plan for post WWII planning and creating deep sleepers to be awoken much later (like I assert Barrack Obaam Jr was planned and groomed to be) is a story of orphanage usage and faked identity papers in word wide espionage still being hidden and covered up today.

There is no real fight the USA and its agencies have with me. Though right wing in my beliefs including about race and immigration issues I believe in the law and fair treatment of people. That said unfair abuse of me by illegal operations continues to land me in trouble including apartment evictions as teams of operatives simultaneously start fights with and blame me for them leaving me homeless and with a bad reputation.

Called "Targeting" or "GangStalking" the illegal (black-ops) system uses "Cause stalkers" for acts of revenge against the person being smeared, in this case I am reporting, that person being me or at times those I have known (Tom Dunham, Veronica Hoffman, Jimmy, Bobby Courtney, and others.) Ooperatives for the police use "COINTELPRO" illegal conduct to destroy a target's life.

Stalkers create such abusive situations (while denying have done so) fights and arguments break out and a person reporting being stalked or harassed is treated as a paranoid or schizophrenic trouble maker.

In addition to harassing actions Stalker also physically assault Targeted people and sometimes even use death threats, poisons, or other illegal actions. This photo timeline is intended as the motive, means, and opportunities the Stalkers have in a smear campaign disrupting and times nearly ending my life.

In this photo: Both me and those I know are being framed by a string of toxic allegations linked to our identities by dirty tricks but in fact are a trail of toxicity left by a dopple who has stolen at various times out identities to act in ways out of character to either of us thus defaming us and making us the subject of rumors, harassment, and black-listings. The operation is very sophisticated, well connected, and coming from highly placed political elites who direct covert operations.

The Motive is the key piece. I assert their is a conspiracy to cover-up CIA misconduct by today's elites and covert harassment of whistle-blowers facilitates the cover-up of the real truth of the Kennedy Assassination and the power grab in its wake the brought today's Western leaders into power.

In Edward Paul Donegan's (my) telling with Jen Moore contributing missing peieces it began in WWI

The USA and Engalnd fought tother in WWI Dates: Jul 28, 1914 - Nov 11, 1918 and in that time frame The Special Relationship With Great Britain was intact or formed. Navy Undersecratary Franklin Delanour Rosevelt and Jospeh Kennedy Sr. worked closelty together with Great Britain and the naval war. By 1925 the British were having trouble with a gene in the family and either accidental or planned bastard children were moved into the USA. Perhaps even in large scale at various orphanages. In this ere the Special Relationship was in part a Marital Relationship between (deceased) Agatha Whitehead's husband Barron Von Trapp. As Nazism rose mostly accepted by the world the marriage between Maria Kutschera (niece of Franz Kutschera) was not questioned much in 1927. As stept mother the the Barron Von Tapp family for ten years they sang Nazi songs for Hitler youth. But the 1926 children were improperly tainted by Maria Kutschera's later activities with Franz Kutschera. While the Barron Von Trapp family coming to the USA later in 1936 redeemed them publicly somewhat the British connection to out-of-wedlock Kutschera children from Marian Kutschera in 1926 remained a scandal that from 1936 on the British and Americans hoped to conceal.

To the victor goes the glory and historical accounts of he war and at the end of WWII the race was on to disavow connections to Nazi atrocities. Public Nazim existed into the 1970' and 1980' world-wide even after the war and that is something I am wrongly tied to though loosely aware of and connected to.

Historians believe the Duke of Windsor actively collaborated with the Nazis during the Second World War

https://www.cbc.ca/documentaries/the-passionate-eye/historians-believe-the-duke-of-windsor-actively-collaborated-with-the-nazis-during-the-second-world-war-1.6635225

Edward and Adolph together again. A less popular section of his scrapbook

Prince Edward of Wales was older than Albert of York. He as the oldest becaome King Edward VIII but the ties he had to Nazis for ten years earlier prompted his forced abdication as the world prepared for war against Germany. Prince Albert of York his younger brother despite a minor disability became a crowd pleaser against Nazis and the Master Race plans. George VI (Prince Albert of York) was King of the United Kingdom and the Dominions of the British Commonwealth from 11 December 1936 until his death in 1952.His wife Queen Elizabeth born August 4 has known (Queen Elizabeth II) and unkown relatives by him or her, nobody knows whom any or who. Her birthday remains a Rallying Cry for British Nationalism.

The best available evidence is that (and this is based on a variety of public and private integrated sources) the real collaboration began in 1926 when Prince Edward of Wales had a child or children with Franz Kutschera's niece Maria Kutschera. Maria Kutschera (an orphan) was taken care o by her uncle and she as a young adult left the convent she had joined in 1926 pregnant. With help from the Naval Attache in Salzburg who was later an admiral (Halsey) and Joseph Kennedy Sr and FDR then undersecretary of the US Navy the children were born to Maria Kutschera in the US or in Austria and transferred as infants to the USA. One was Marilyn Monroe and another was Glorian Gainey. As 1936 Berlin Olympics, the Anschluss (annexation of Austria by by Germany) and race hygiene laws began the liabilities of a King Edward were too great and he abdicated. He still operated as a Royal Peer at miltary base in Bermuda after the war working with the CIA in the Carribean and before that during WWII as a Royal Peer in France until it fell to the Germans.

Between 1936 and 1926 Maria Kutschera was placed with Barron Von Trap and became stepmother to those children and sang Nazi Youth indoctrination songs before leaving for the USA with Great Britain's helpl and singing propaganda for the Allies.

I invite you. I will try to entice you to this non-fiction story of great importance in history of the world and now finally contains the missing pieces to the JFK, RFK, Marilyn Monroe, MLK, and Dr King assassinations as well.

There have been attempts to silence and sabotage and death threats are still made to me and death threats were made to her before she was found dead. That system she called Silencing and was the ultimate betrayal (in her words) of the elites using CIA and other resources to conceal their criminality going back into those events from their lives or the lives of their families and presidents, CIA, FBI, and other families like Mueller, Barr, the Bush Family, now the Obama family, and many others tie into world business politics that JKF and RFK differed with.

I am not a government official.

I can can not compel by means of law. I can not summon you to a trial or inquiry or subpoena you to a hearing by Congress or a commission. This is an appeal to History for justice and I am not alone in seeking it.

Jen Moore was a former Tracy California police officer and after leaving the force disabled a Master's Degree holder in Psychology. She was asked to participate in and gained access to file she held on the late 1950's Masters and Johnson and CIA connections of Freud and Jung, of MKULTRA and Midnight Climax, CIA history, MKULTRA, the Cold War, WWI and WWII history. And in that strange history is the assassination of JFK that was led under Allen Dulles. Sh was whistle-blowing some of the darkest secrets the world has ever known that were held by people connected two world wars and the cold war and have controlled our history since and during. Eugenics travels from generation to generation as do family ties to the cold war and now emerging truth about the war between JFK and MKULTRA.

Before her death she was my evidence and advocate. After her August 13, 2018 death I am her evidence in her and our Conspiracy Theory and I am now her advocate. Her death was in the context of threats to kill if she spoke and earlier attempts on her life and my telling the same truths has met violent opposition as well from thug attacks, etc.,

Jen Moore was a whistle-blower and had the real story perhaps as Micheal Hasting had either in full or in part at the time he died.. She Jen Moore knew of the insidious, corrupt, and lavish treachery of our officials and the fruits of their criminal activities that break the laws and reward themselves.

John F. Kennedy was not assassinated by some party remote to the USA who hoped for a policy shift or revenge against him. He was assassinated by terrorist faction inside the USA with connections outside the USA who believed neither in the United States way of life nor its goals in the world. Rather than remote to the USA this terrorist faction shared and shares with the Kennedy family the titles of US Senator, President, Vice President, Attorney General, FBI Director, and esteemed positions.

Many if not most gained those titles only because of and in some cases through the act of assassinating JKF and witnesses who could have in a more timely way proved the existence of the international interwoven fabric milieu whose power in covert actions were too great and too well connected for JFK to stop and whose apologism or support for Great Britain's system of oppressive colonialism was too repugnant for JFK to permit as US foreign policy.

We now know in spite of her death who Jen Moore was. Who I am is Edward Paul Donegan. What I do is write books. My autobiography and family of origin and the world we traveled in very similarly to St John Hunt and his family of Dorothy Hunt and E. Howard Hunt and ATSUGI Japan in the Cold War with the CIA operations underway their with Lovett Jr., Richard Bissle Jr.,, General Landsdale, Prouty, and others The books are about my life and my family story traveling the word in the 1970s and 1980s with a WWII pilot based (then commercial TWA pilot) middle class family with a secret background for secret reasons.

In include in my books and here (in a much lessor amount) the evidence of that smear campaign that got me blacklisted from houses, into fights that I seemed in the wrong, angry and out of character, and even the victim of financial frauds and scams because the Abominable Mr. Rumph creating a pervert legend of me and leading others to revenge stalk me, and who is nearby me gets into all those things and creates turbulent disputes, hostile fights, etc., by having stolen my idenity and tied himself and his foolish actions to me.

James Angleton has been heavily fingered in the story of Lee Harvey Oswald. Angleton had a per-assassination file on Oswald that was opened-officially, although dates on documents in Oswald's file suggest otherwise-only after the State Department queried CIA about American "defectors" to the Soviet Union. Oswald never actually defected, and after decades of file releases, it now seems Oswald was likely sent to the Soviet Union by the CIA as a false defector as part of a hunt for a mole in the U-2 program. Oswald had intimate knowledge of the U-2, having been a U-2 radar operator. - Lisa Pease writing in A Lie Too Big to Fail and that book is of why RFK was shot, and why the CIA covered that up. She goes on the book this entire spook ecosystem including planning for Indonesia. I think that planning included my birth and a realted birth in Los Angeles County, and that was a CIA plan for Obama Jr. or at least papwerork to that effect it such was ever needed or wanted for the future, a possible SSN of 022-46-3234.

There were Nazis in North Carolina. But who could they be? Maria Kutschera neice of Franz Kutschera and out of wedlock from 1926 where Dean Rusk was and the underground railroad (later) Admiral Halsey helped run for the Vatican and British from the rise of Nazis 1926.

Just hours before his death, Lee Harvey Oswald tried to call Raleigh, North Carolina from the Dallas jail on the evening of Nov. 23, 1963. For years, this significant information was ignored by assassination investigators and concealed from the public. Surprise guest speaker and JFK Assassination expert the late Jim Marrs joins Dr. Proctor on stage at 58:00.

In the early 1980s, independent researcher Dr. Grover Proctor broke new ground on Oswald's attempted call. Because of Dr. Proctor's work, Oswald's attempt to reach former U.S. Intelligence officer John Hurt has become known as "The Raleigh Call."

A little bio on this Jim Mars was a member of the press at the time JFK was shot. Initially no prints were found on the Marcano rifle Oswald was said to have used. Jim Mars with with the body of Lee Harvey Oswald and reports he saw a person who identified himself as an FBI Special Agent place the rifle into the hand of Oswald's body. Jim Mars was among the first and longest activist Truthers. He recounts that episode on stage in this video.

The Raleigh Call (attempted) in detial in PDF JFK Assassination The Raleigh Call and the Fingerprints of Intelligence.pdf

The best available info including the 2014 data available in Chauncey Marvin Holt's tell all book with scans of documents and photos is that Oswald was part of the Overthrows group. In the works was an overthrow of Indonesia coming up. What Oswald was going along with was making Cuban Nationalist a danger to the USA because its sympathizers would engage in acts of terror against the USA and thus Castro sympathizers should be shunned.

Jim Garrison on Lee Harvey Oswald Summer 1963. Jim Garrison speaks with investigators from the House Select Committee on Assassinations (HSCA). This took place in either late July or early August of 1977. "he [Oswald] seemed bright enough that he wouldn't be fired from something unless he wanted to be. That's worth keeping in mind he's not the intellectual he thinks he is but he's bright enough the hold any small ... I'll just take a look at that summer for one moment summer Summer 1963? yeah just sits around the subject won't take long let me get away from there you don't mind if i skip over the nazis he discovered."

From Jim Garrison speaks with investigators from the House Select Committee on Assassinations. This took place in either late July or early August of 1977. https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=6dUjFQCQczk

We do know already there there WERE Nazi's in North Carolina. Maria Kutschera neice of Franz Kutchera was there. As were her step daughters (Agatha Whitehead children being raised by Barron Von Trapp alone) who she had sin Nazi Youth songs from 1926 unitl 1936. Then it was off to that dustbowl poor on the farms.

What few know and I am adding in is that (and while I am in part guessing on the summation of infomration I have from my family) and what others say of my family is that Glorian Gainey of North Carolina originaly was along with Norma Jean recsuees of a pregnant Maria Von Trapp in 1926. Norma Jean went to Hollywood and RKO, Glorian Gainey to South Carolina to the Dew family and later Harold Gainey's farmhouse.

I assert based on a summation of information I had (including information I had wrong about my grandfather having been an abdicated King of County Donegal in Ireland at one time but who had abcidated and was my paternal grandfather) it was in fake Prince Edward of Wales who had impregnated Maria Kutschera possibly testing his "issue" (heir making) or studying the family genetics out of wedlock.

There is an ATSUGI reason Lee Harvey Oswald may have found out about these Nazi's in North Carolina and attempted a phone call to John Hurt army intelligence in North Carolina. Asia (Indochina) Tokyo (under threat) Soviet Union and Indonesia were all CIA hotshots. In 1963 this story of the Kutschera children were being turned into an Indonesia plan that would use this family line to create Barrack Obama Jr. for Indonesia and Barrack Obama Jr. was coming up on two years old and doing well. In McMartin School Manhattan Beach Los Angeles County I was going crazy in my high chair and I was being tested for reactions to stress, etc.,

It was this plot that the CIA was covering up and killing JFK and blocking the last phone call of Lee Harvey Oswald was this story line.

Jen Moore confirms this as well as does Ted Gunderson.

Image 89.jpg here is of Jen Moore videos telling of the Donegan family story home of Glorian Donegan and Ed Donegan and Nazis in the USA. 1926 and the Kutschera's family members once part of Hitler Youth Indoctrination, the Von Trapp Singers who came to North Carolina from Salzburg Austria to switch sides to back England rather than Nazis.

It is also the story of Chauncey Marvin Holt (the Artist) and the team run by William King Harvey code named Operation Mongoose and by 1951 had moved from the 1949 regular military to a surplus aircraft military for disguised in in Latin America and the Caribbean. Says Holt in his book about the secret CIA airbase at Licavoli ranch with the horses sold off in 1951 :

Stacks of Republic F-84F Thunderstreaks at Davis-Monthan AFB awaiting scrapping in November, 1958

Davis-Monthan & AMARG's Role as the Largest Military Aircraft Boneyard

The geology of the desert allows aircraft to be moved around without having to pave the storage areas.

By May of 1946, more than 600 B-29 Superfortresses and 200 C-47 Skytrains had been moved to Davis-Monthan.

In addition, about 30 other aircraft were stored at Davis-Monthan that were destined for museums, including the "Enola Gay" and "Bockscar".

So I (Holt) got a license in Ralston's name and later upgraded the license to commercial multi-engine with instrument rating.

The real Robert Ralston, of course, never knew that someone was flying all over the world, using his name and "his" license. I used this technique often; sometimes I would vary my procedure and simply apply for the license of someone, who held a current license.

Some of the names were used by other contract agents as well as myself. These were "floating " identities and often were used by different agents at the same time.

One of those names that I used was Charles Hormley and I was almost buried under that name. By the summer of 1958, I had made over a score of flights into Cuba, supplying arms to Castro. On one of these flights I developed engine trouble and was headed for the naval base at Guantanamo, when I was forced to ditch. I was pulled out of the water by naval personnel, who took me to the American Embassy, after caring for my injuries.

I used the tourist card of a reporter, who was one of the company's assets to exit the country. I was queried at the airport as to why my arm was bandaged and I told the officers that I was injured in a car accident in Havana. The officers just nodded, knowingly, because, with the drivers in Havana, who were among the world's worst, the accident rate was very high.

I used Ralston's name and license when I was working for Intermountain Aviation in the late 1950s, when Tibetans were training in the U. S. for guerrilla forays into China.

I also used his name and license for flights into Cuba, and one can still see the B26s, with armor plate, bomb bays and gun ports, at Davis-Monthan Air Base in Tucson.

Guatemala is a beautiful land of vivid contrast; lofty mountains and fertile valleys with abundant crops of bananas and coffee and has a very moderate climate. It is a depressing country as well when one considers the poor and homeless descendants of the ancient Mayas. [Consider El Mirador the overlook of those lands and the name of the revamped former US Army Air Corp hospital in Palm Springs close to Tuscon Arizona and Grace Ranch of Peter Licavoli.]

We end this account with an image of were Guatamala is and the needs to control submarine bases and land bases for missles the Dr. Edward Teller predicts can be launched from both and we see on the map how close to Dallas the Gulf of Mexico and the Carribean (incuding Cuba) are as threat if they were Soviet satelite nations.

In the era of Duck and Cover drills how important was this issue for Texas?

It was that secret airbase at Grace Ranch serviced by Ernie Dunlevie, Ray Rayn, and the Vegas Mob (sans Bugsy Segal who Holt helped hit when Segal was caught skimming by an unnamed accountant) that Holt and the CIA team worked out of with Robert Mahue and Howard Hughes building advanced aircraft to spec inside WWII surplus planes to be piloted by CIA contractor and USAF Pilots hiding as Latin Amrican air force personell. That according to C-Span book notes on Richard Bissle Jr. and Allen Dulles.

Vigilantism - the CIA and FBI destroying the lives of those who are a risk to the Deep State is what I and Jen Moore and others have experienced. You will see some complex COINTELPRO smear campaign in a deep state slush fund and money laundering racket, a protection rackets that builds its existence on phony allegations about me that it 1) profits from and 2) uses to warn people away from me be they lawyers, the press, landords, libraries, or potential social connections. The smear campaign operates behind a person's back in this case behind my back but uses a Dopple often near enough to me to be recognized by me.

If it is done right (a person's death) no one will know who did it. -Colby

My (John DeCamp's) point is simple. Bill Colby was the single most meticulously careful, programmed, organized individual 1 have ever encountered, especially when it came to matters of safety, security, and personal activities. Therefore, the description given in the media, surrounding his death, does not cohere with Bill Colby's personality, his character, his modus operandi, and my personal experiences with him over many years. Bill Colby was not the kind of person who would take off on an evening boating expedition, leaving his computer still turned on at his desk, his half-finished dinner still sitting on the table, and most of the lights on in the cottage. That was not Bill.

Furthermore, Bill had been the victim of a "robbery" in Washington, D.C., not too long before his death, in which he had been badly beaten, and easily could have died.

This "robbery" and his actual death were both mysterious incidents, in a relatively short span of time. I have a hard time believing in coincidences, when it comes to people like Bill Colby.

His mysterious death has also brought to my mind, his own explanations of how people end up dead, in the course of our discussing the death of Franklin case investigator Gary Caradori-a death Colby himself had investigated. His exact statement on this was: it's done right, you'll never know how it was done, or who did it for sure. That's what professionalism is all about."

Colby described both professional assassinations, as well as some bungles. The case of Fidel Castro, he said, was one of the biggest fiascos that Bill had ever run across. Colby told the story how in one, now known, memorable sequence of screw-ups, the CIA tried to get Fidel's mistress to plant a tube of super toxic toothpaste onto Castro's bath stand. The ploy ultimately resulted in the girlfriend becoming a dead, ex¬ girlfriend. The blunders and screw-ups and lack of professional¬ ism, in the efforts to get Castro, drove Bill to insist that the CIA should simply quit trying to assassinate him.

I Edward Paul Donegan am being exposed to incapacitating and life threating system of a program that matches the description of Mocking Bird. An abusive extortion scheme is used to harass my use of places I need such as home and library and gym. It is faked by HUMINT actors I have some injury (retardation, pedophilia, terrorist violence pronations) and that these injuries I have should create a blacklisting of in apartments, libraries, etc., and further it is acted out I am agreeing to paying out claims my own injuries are causing others because I am a danger to others. These EXTORTION racketeers use the appearance they create of my harm to others as harassing impediment. Some times called a Noise Campaign generic distractions or abusive actions towards me that treat me as a "bad" person are meant to become fights or arguments also called provocations. If confronted the person asserts they are not in a racket or being abusive to me (they have a cover story) but I assert the calculated so called revenge stalk is using me as a mark to stage abusive allegations against, and the illegal "black" operation real hope is that in arguing with harassers I will become the cause (not them) of my eviction from a house or library or gym. Since their provocation of me is denied and my intolerance of them is obvious I am the trouble-maker and cause of my own removal.

In other words any problems I have like being evicted from an apartment complex (after neighbors were moved in to harass me) are problems I brought upon myself. You would never know an undercover operation setup the series of events that led to the conflict and without those provocations all would have been well.

According To LBJ Castro got to Kennedy First. According to Edward Paul Donegan and Jen Moore Castro was a Pasty for LBJ, Cord Meyer, Prescott and George H.W. Bush, Allen Dulles, and others

Tim Fattig's X (Twitter) feed is one the best document review feedsa available. I am going to comment on one his factual tweet by putting a theory on top of it that coming from E. Howrard Hunt, Jen Moore, Ted Gunderson, and others.

LBJ served in WWII in Indonesia and likely is whole post WWII life was planning to insure Indonesia nor any other country fell to Communism as the USSR and China had so the Pacif Theater War would never happen again.

The obvious question that is on all of our minds. "How does Lee Harvey Oswald finding out about Nazis in North Carolina make him a patsy?" Well, it made Cuba a patsy. The real reason JFK was assasinated was over Indonesia. But getting someone tied to Cuba (Cuban sympathizer) involved in the plot turned the attention to Cuba.

In 1962 at McMartin School in Los Angeles County I flunked pre-school. But someone was coming along just fine born at the same time. I assert that was Barrack Obama Jr. and I think he even at least for a while was in my same testing class. 1962.

According to most sources LBJ was involved in the Senate and with other US Senators and the CIA creating the East-West-Center and other CIA front groups (or groups that would cooperate with the CIA) who would plan to overthrow Indonesia and other nations using Murder Inc., and other covert means. When JFK put an end to this LBJ was in the plot part of DIA plan with Fort Bragg participating the with Edward Lansdale and others got rid of JFK. Then LBJ threw the blame to Castro. Castro and the Russians knew JFK was seeking peace talks on concerns between the nations not covert aggression as new hotspots.

I will not be using images of Veronica Hoffman (deceased) here out of respect for the solemnity of her death

In the full set of books and information I have sent to coroners and others I have assserted that she and others (Bobby Courtney, a person named Jimmy, and perhaps more) were tied to the operation Jen Moore was whistle-blowing, that operation using fakes of me are street-theater of implicating me in wrongdoing as Veronica Hoffman was asked to do. I approached her at the same time I had a fairly bigoted web site up suggesting immigration was leading to crime and homegrown terrorism and dissafected lower social classes grew resentful at the society they now made home.

At the same time I was approaching Tal S., not known to me to be in AA but an oversight on their part. Tal I had approached along with a few others on MySpace and I think Veronica Hoffman there about using SciFi as a basis for a clothing line. That I had kept as an idea for many years afterward and based in 1970's Nicholas and Alexandra that had come out as I was travelling to Russia and was fascinated with Russian fashion. That movie won an Academy Award for costume and I had screen clipped many possible ideas from it for dresses etc., She started a clothing line and plaved public information I was only interested in bikinis' pool peeping, etc, Like Jen Moore those I knew to have been recruited into a lynch mob and used as pawns often later are found dead. That occured to them and I think she was discredited and harassed into suicide or harrassed and discredited into a psych-ward where she encountered homocidal oriented people.

The photos were erotic and lurid but it fits the patter of a Nueces District Attorney (former) who was using identity theft in a way that someone claiming to be me confessed to adult entertainers (him watching through one way glass) to miscondut against Hispanic children. Jen Moore knew this was money laundering and fraud tied to my identity and racketeering and that high level elites were behind the complex black-opps activities here on US grounds where the CIA and FBI and US DOD do operate illegal programs.

In fact my true identity

I am a positive person with a positive lifestyle and interest in adult women and am revulsed by under development including but in no way limited to moral and intellectual underdevelopment who has suffered egregious physical and other injuries from ongoing illegal assaults and undercover activities that create hostile and abusive, hostile and contentious, hostile and insufferable conditions staged to make life impossible and even defraud me. While shouting NAZI at me (I am an ALT-RIGHT that is to say non-religious right winger) often called a Conservatarian facing race baiting, gender assaults, etc,.

What Jen Moore and I assert is that the reaason I was chosen to be the basis of faked allegations smearing me and defrauding me utilizing lynch mobs is that had the affect of blocking my access to others including legal, housing, and other critical needs as providers fo those services are asked to black-list me while child abuse allegations, etc, take priority secretly in an ongoing matter. This is common Modus Operandi of created alleged conflicting types of actions needed under the law, one need trumping the other subversion the latter need.

Some of the people connected to the illegal act facilitated to operators of my turst fund and those faking information have died violently or seemingly by suicide and I have always considered the deaths as suspicious because if they talked the racketeering would be proven and exposed to the public.

It is said that race in the genetic sense is an artificial construct. The clines theory has some truth to it, it is hard to draw to formal a line between any commonly used racial terms. Europeans might be British or Irish and allele like hair color differ.

That is not to say we don't have archetypes, stereotypes, images, cultural figures who often are a compedium of their collective historical, cultural, religious, and other influences. It is those that are attacking me. The Hispanic mother of little cultural sophistication mostly a home cook in low income family. Some obese black women from low income Goodwill store shopping living from 3 liter Cola to the next, or the criminal skid row black male. Or the white evangelical or social ministry religious group figure. I have become a target of an alliance of some figures who have been skitting fake allegations in a racketeering long con of illegal trafficking dirty law enforcement sometimes run as "code reds" or other names, using community figures to do some dirty work for police in a COINTELPRO program. I am made to look like I am buying the imagery of underage females, etc., There was movie Betty Page some time back in recent years, Betty Page would go to bondage fans and pose in bondage for photographers. I am being sent in a harassing way "exploited" females as though I am part of a threat to the community for how I treat and view females, me the predator. It is a false flag and one that was really opportunistic as people asked my conservancy to pay out for an impersonator of me who did want to "through a fried of theirs not themselves" get some adult model "because that friend of theirs" really needed some and was unsophisticated. Using a double of me to and that friend is a Long Con run as a code red. The public treatment of me as a predator, the labeling of me as such by these groups has constituted a shake-down in a money laundering operation. I think it was launched for political reasons and is what is called a GangStalk, and the GangStalk is often an illegal FBI or CIA operation that may include illegal activity.

Because low income people have made claims my being a predator requires a labor racket to remediate my trust fund was willing to go along with it while I continue to contest it. This photo timeline shows the Dopple of me being the offender and those who knew me and others can see it is all a fraud as anyone who looks at this timeline can tell.

The Pillory of me utilizes an Aspiration Aproach Protection Racket (Labor Racket)

A Protection Racket is an organized crime form of Labor Racket. The labor provided - security - is for a threat that the protection service fabricated. In its less successful form (it would only survive with high level police support) a security force breaksa window and charges the storefront owner a protetion fee to prevent future damages. Often the fee is exhorbant and the business ownwer understands that fail to pay the extortion for for protection would result in greater damages.

In an Aspiration Protection Racket just the type of activity PsyOps likes to use forms the extortion and protection theory. A threat is fabricated by smearing a person, a third party, not the second party (security force) or first party (the person who will be protected.) The smeared person will be percieved as the threat that the security company and the person or persons being protected will together black-list and perhaps even shake-down. It it were merely political some allowability might exist but not here. The forcing of my normal actions into being the purchase of illegally exploited minors or others is extortion of me. The bosltering of that with financial transations based on forgeires and identity theft, etc., are racketeering and money laundering, and silencing Jen Moore who knew why this machine was targetign me with smears and destruction and abuse was homocide in furtherance of the goal of Pillory of me, throwing abusive context at me.

I don't want to dwell on Veronica Hoffman too much I appreciate Jewish awareness of ethnic crime and she was a Jewish activist as smear tricked into trying on Nazi gear, but she did act in a way some of the con artists are. She went into a fashion business I had also always wanted to start based on Gothic Europe, Russian 1920's fashion, Greek sailing clothes, Sci Fi, etc., She launched a clothing line that is not unusual enough to call out. Most in the scene fabric custom gear - floggers, furniture, clothing, other toys, etc., but it does also call to mind Eric Throubexadux something. I sometimes pass on tips to others like use QR codes of offer Web advise based on my experience and not as a consultant. Others do want to be that consultant and model their offerings base on my own skills and aesthetics.

The use of (and receiving Criminal Justice based) proceedings against false allegation against me are a double wrong. The damage done is a profit motive mafia attack on me and doing it covers up the real story of the assassination of Robert F. Kennedy who wanted to end the FBI and Organized Crime working together as they are agaisnt me.

Other ideas I passed on that were used by others (mostly in fact what I had intended thus I had offered the ideas) were scene ideas or that those who knew the adult entertainment scene of a city like say Austin could be Concierges to it, helping travelers know the different cabarets, domnas, etc, and the protection racket seemed not only to seize on that but build the playgrounds in upscale way they would become concierges to.

18 U.S. Code § 1512 Victims, Secretive Attacks

A fictional journey of Senator in Exile Robert Francis Kennedy in Russia following his escape after surviving an assasination attempt

- by Edward Paul Donegan

Title 18 Chapter 73 is on the cover of this book. I assert the FBI norm of trying do destroy people with phony allegations of being a pedophile are damage to me (and damage to whistle-blower Jen Moore in 2018) that are attempts to muzzle with smear campaign and harassment what we have to reveal of the Donegan family at 850 N. Randolph and that connection to Peter Lawford and elites planning for overthrows with sleeper agents.

Section 1512 of Title 18 [Silencing of Witness] constitutes a broad prohibition against tampering with a witness, victim or informant. It proscribes conduct intended to illegitimately affect the presentation of evidence in Federal proceedings or the communication of information to Federal law enforcement officers. It applies to proceedings before Congress, executive departments, and administrative agencies, and to civil and criminal judicial proceedings, including grand jury proceedings. See 18 U.S.C. § 1515(a)(1). In addition, the section provides extraterritorial Federal jurisdiction over the offenses created therein. See 18 U.S.C. § 1512(g); 128 Cong. Rec. H8469 (daily ed. Oct. 1, 1980); H. R. Rep. No. 1369, 96th Cong., 2d Sess. 20-22 (1980).

Jen Moore before she died and she had death threats before that was explaining a blackmail scheme run under Color of Law though as illegal as any activity the CIA ever engaged in was part of a Gang Stalk, a money laundering, identity theft, and that used vigilantist terror attacks on whistle-blowers and vicitms of the dark history of the CIA abd FBI when JKF was shot and shot because of the history of the Donegan family about to be disclosed and thus the British connections to work history about to be disclosed. https://www.justice.gov/archives/jm/criminal-resource-manual-1729-protection-government-processes-tampering-victims-witnesses-or

Yet I Edward Paul Donegan, Jen Moore, and others like Gene "Chip" Tatum see much more. To us this is Racketeering at its worst, and worst than in Al Copone times. Title 18 Chapter 73 larely deal with single events toward single personages in single questions (cases) before the law. What we whistle-blowers Conspiracy Theorists asserts is a scope much wider than and Title 18 Chapter 73 though the Great Treason includes crimes listed under Chapter 73 Obstruction of Justice. INcluded are "Black Money" (counterfit money some valuatoin traded as currency in illegal activies such as amounts of fluids or weights of metals or forged dollars of currency) and identity theft and wider in scope than that Treason and Subversion by comfort, aide, and allegiance with international actors whose criminal subversion of the USA includes assassinations. First of JFK (other non-governmental before him) then Marilyn Monroe secretly an asset of the CIA and RFK and JKF, then Malcom X and Dr King, similar, then RFK then those like Jen Moore and Ed Donegan who could explain these other treasonous assassinations and acts of war against commercial planes like UAL 553 and TWO 800.

The Racketeering laws came in under pressure started by RFK to get these mobsters out of the top floor of FBI buildings with top FBI officials and out of labor union offices and into prison. Yet oil money and guns for hire seemed to be a powerful combination and corrupt influences in US government let them have their way to get the outcomes those forces in the world could provide the US DOD at far less cost and risk to open war.

Spooks, Hoods, and Hidden Elites that Jen Moore and Micheal Thomas Paine more traced through bank accounts, money laundering and murdered witnesses all tied into Epstien and many others, the new BCCI.

Much of it started with heroism inside the Kennedy Family from Joseph Kennedy Sr. in WWI and WWII he got the USA industrial might to work. Peter Lawford look good as an RAF pilot and British propaganda was at a high point. But the role in Salzburg and the Kings Speech and Windsor genetics was kept secret and researched secretly in hidden identities children around the world, and explosive and detectable truth today. As the scandal breaks the Cabal rushes to cover up unknown history with unsolved murders it comitts. Eventually if you look deep enough into it you see a chalk outline of a Roman Catholic democrat or perhpas a Roman Catholic republican dead from an accident a day before a hearing is to be held.

Jen Moore is not the only one who knew of these actions of the CIA. Tom Duhan did and I Ed Donegan do. Both Tom Dunham a freind of mine from San Francisco California and I have been subject to frauds that suggest we have a teen fetish and teen network. My argument against that if great and undeniable in full context of my life and ineffective when a few moments are taken out of contexts. One was when I did not want to leave the house for an extended period of time while on amphetamines I downloaded all the porn I could of bikini beach contest and all related to that including Teens at the Beach of which i tried to get rid of anything that looked illegal. Mostly though my other fetishes for leather and clearly older woman more my preference were far more represented. Still, that and a quip here or too eel-belitling because i have nothing to hide thinking Kelly Bundy was hot etc., for me nothing but behind my back presented as serious.

What Jen Moore was talking about was the use of a derogatory image that is faked about me (by amplifying things like that) as an enabler of a series of gains the Elites had wanted. The first was my bad reputation its primary goal. But how it went about that was creative. It used a Dopple of me and I will show a picture of him next to me as I am trying to get out of the USA for long enough that while temporarily in Canada I could show my proof of being framed in the USA. That Dopple of me had a similar backpack, the only backpack I could buy on a thrift store shelf emphy of all but one left and that one was for a Santa Cruz high school. Like me he had torn the high school label of of his. He said he was trying to find the electrci fountain of youth he could drink from. What he in and others like him are doing is confessing to be socially developmentally and intellectually inept loser. What he hoped for is that adult models could let him drink from their fountain of youth so he could become Hipster instead of a loser. He is always being caught being a loser but really wants to become revitalized in the new way of life.

What he is doing is pushing me to the rear giving me a bad reputation and hoping by study of me and my lifestyle he can get all the oxygen in the room and have so so so many followers on Twiter, Instagram, and maybe even get elected to Congress. In short I am being discredited to limit my reach of voice. I was never positioning myself to run for office anyway but I would like to be able to rent an apartment without being blacklisted behind the scenes. Not able to do that I live homelessly.

He does not know anything about smart phones and uses a wig. He has the same Costco jacket type with velcro wrist tighter.

In the six months following my Diabetes diagnosis in 2013 I lost 60 pounds. Being overweight has a causal relationship with Type II Diabetes though it is often not the only cause. I was able to off my meds. Just after this six months my life fell out from under me, not ALL my fault but I have my life back today, am clean, and am blessed with the freedom and resources to it under control again. I am seeing others do it an the tools are back in place for me to do it again too.

Linking by incorrect association any clothing, motorcycle, or phone usage of my actions and time in the gym has been part of the smear of my gym usage.

Tom Dunham and others have spotted those like him and Tom Dubnham has had impersonations of himself by similar characters too. The short answer is roadbloacking me as an older man who is happy to listen to Led Zeplin as any other band is clearly not the new cool, that the dopple of me wants to use a trust fund to help him develop into. I have accused Mark Gonalzes and Social Services Nueces County and other in Texas and ARC of Northern Virginia as supporting the identity theft and racketeering fraud that is paying bills (of all kinds of banks including sperm banks) that the imposters of me not me have to pay because of phony charges seem to be true of me. It is a smear campaign with the additional element the smear reachers my bankers so the bankers can pay out what the smear allegation is.

It is obstruction of Justice to fake illegal acts in the jsutice system but doing so is a sophisticated way the get me Ed Donegan blacklisted by the smear campaing working so effeticely.

One might imagine that a person who is a pedophille or like under 18 make get help to advance his interest to 18 and older. Yet that is a labor racket IF the person already does like 18 and older and the interest in under 18 is faked so the treatment will be required. This is the black mail ring that generates records about Ed Donegan using an impersonator of Ed Donegan to letitimzie - to confess to - phony allegations when confronted by the FBI.

Tom Dunham has noted while in California the FBI confronted a person in Ed Donegan's idenity at a massage parlor caught for underage woman interests. Often that happens when Fake Ed Donegan goes to a dominatrix. That Ed Donegan who is the impersonator will give into the cops as the cops watch on. Using a often olive skinned dopple Ed Donegan I have seen perhaps 400 times in a group of cops and adult entertariners working together.

When I approach lawyers for being harrassed the lawyers are aproached in advance they handle the Mann Act the seekign of underagge woman on line and the laywer is asked to stay out of the way of FBI operations.

Clandestine operations officer William King Harvey works the grill at a pool party in the CIA's Berlin station in 1955. (Credit: Bayard Stockton) and then via https://jfkfacts.substack.com/p/trail-of-destruction-cia-orders-incineration

Among the CIA's original top-ranking officers, probably none generates more suspicion of involvement in - or foreknowledge of - President John F. Kennedy's murder than William King Harvey. The Assassination Records Review Board (ARRB), established to declassify JFK files in the 1990s, looked for records of Harvey's operations but could not find any.

In the appendix of Chauncy Marvin Holt's book of his work as a Hobo and with the CIA overthrow team of Guatamala in 1954 with Leroy Young, Jack Youngblood, and others Holt goes into meetings he had in Palm Springs with Sam Gold (Giacanca) William King Harvey, and the Grace Ranch group running the secret CIA airbase the squad of assasins drove the station wagon from to Dallas and William King Harvey doing much of the organizing. Pictured here Harvey is in Berlin during the COld War as the Berlin wall is raised from the ground and Berlin is split into two.

William King Harvey retrieved from Wikipedia and copied or modified to here

William King "Bill" Harvey (September 13, 1915 - June 9, 1976) was an American Central Intelligence Agency (CIA) officer, best known for his role in the terrorism and sabotage campaign known as Operation Mongoose. He was known as "America's James Bond", a tag given to him by Edward Lansdale.

Career

Federal Bureau of Investigation

Harvey joined the Federal Bureau of Investigation in December 1940, where he specialized in German and Soviet counterintelligence) throughout World War II and its immediate aftermath.

In July 1947, he broke a regulation on being available on two-hour call after sleeping late after heavy drinking at a party the night before. He refused the resulting demotion and reassignment to Indianapolis, preferring to resign. He joined the Central Intelligence Agency shortly thereafter.

Central Intelligence Agency

As he plotted to reduce the FBI's overseas powers, Harvey's knowledge of the FBI proved valuable. Along with James Angleton, he became one of the foremost operatives in the secret war against the KGB during the Cold War. According to journalist David Martin, Harvey swiftly gained a reputation for consuming more alcohol than any other person in the United States government; however, no one ever saw him drunk during this period.

Harvey's CIA career began with his founding of Staff D, the electronic surveillance branch of the Clandestine Service Division. In 1951 Harvey's investigation of the career history of Kim Philby, noting suspicious coincidences that suggested he had long been a Soviet agent, saw the CIA demand that Philby be kept out of his position as MI6 liaison; Philby was fired. Six months earlier, Harvey had got into a fight with Guy Burgess at a party after Burgess had drunkenly drawn a lewd cartoon of Harvey's wife.

From 1952 to 1960, Harvey was posted to West Berlin as chief of base, where he led the operation that built a tunnel to the Soviet sector to spy on their communication channels. This operation was called PBJOINTLY. On his return to CIA headquarters, Harvey was tasked with a project to organize "executive actions" (a euphemism for the assassination of foreign political leaders) under the codename ZR/RIFLE. To vanquish Fidel Castro, Harvey decided he needed to employ the resources of the American Mafia. He drew on the connections of businessman and CIA asset Robert Maheu, who had cultivated relationships with Sam Giancana, Santo Trafficante Jr., Johnny Roselli and other figures. Finding Maheu's operation chaotic, Harvey cut everyone but Roselli out, and ran the operations against Castro himself.

Harvey was also involved in Operation Mongoose, a CIA operation run from Miami that ran various attempts to undermine or overthrow the Cuban Revolution. At the height of the Cuban Missile Crisis in October 1962, Harvey sent ten intelligence operatives into Cuba to gather intelligence and prepare for an invasion Harvey thought inevitable.

The unauthorized operation tarnished Harvey's reputation. Although he was eventually assigned to Rome as station chief in 1963 following a punitive administrative post at CIA headquarters, he failed to acclimate to the milieu and was denied a high-profile assignment in the Laotian Civil War by Richard Helms. Notably, Harvey recommended Colonel Renzo Rocca, chief of the Italian military intelligence Division R, as liaison for building up the Italian component of Operation Gladio in 1964. However, his drinking and health deteriorated, and he was ultimately relieved.

Although Harvey briefly headed a CIA headquarters unit on possible countermeasures to electronic surveillance, he took an extended leave of absence (largely precipitated by his alcoholism and the concurrent fallout from his relationship with Roselli, who had been convicted in an elaborate card-cheating case) throughout much of 1967. He formally retired from the CIA in January 1968. Following a brief law practice in Washington, D.C., Harvey and his family relocated to Indianapolis amid fears of ongoing surveillance in 1969. During this period, he curtailed his alcohol use and edited legal decisions for the Bobbs-Merrill Company.

In 1975, he testified before the Church Committee on some of the CIA's past operations.

After the death of former CIA officer and Watergate figure E. Howard Hunt in 2007, Saint John Hunt and David Hunt revealed that their father had recorded several claims about himself and others being involved in a conspiracy to assassinate John F. Kennedy.

In the April 5, 2007, issue of Rolling Stone, Saint John Hunt detailed a number of individuals implicated by his father, including Harvey, Lyndon B. Johnson, Cord Meyer, David Sánchez Morales, David Atlee Phillips, Frank Sturgis, and an assassin he termed "French gunman grassy knoll", who many presume was Lucien Sarti.

The two sons alleged that their father excised the information from his memoirs, "American Spy: My Secret History in the CIA, Watergate and Beyond", to avoid possible perjury charges. Hunt's widow and other children told the Los Angeles Times that the two sons took advantage of Hunt's loss of lucidity by coaching and exploiting him for financial gain. The newspaper said it examined the materials offered by the sons to support the story and found them to be "inconclusive." In a podcast with Soledad O'Brien, "Who Killed JFK", Rob Reiner described Harvey and General Charles A. Willoughby as the master planners and tacticians of the Kennedy assassination.

During the 1980s Barr bounced between government service and a prestigious Washington law firm that would later represent one of the key defendants in the BCCI affair. Barr assured Congress in 1991 that he was long gone from Shaw, Pittman, Potts & Trowbridge by the time it took on its dubious BCCI client. Still, the appearance of compromised interests would dog Barr at Justice, particularly as its own investigation of BCCI stalled.

"Like your typical Wall Street lawyer… not a table pounder" was how one of Barr's legal sparring partners remembered him during his days at Shaw, Pittman. Indeed, "corporate" was written all over him. Though he never tried a case in court, he took on the causes of some of the firm's starchiest clients, including a nuclear utility in a whistleblower case.

The Nuclear Utility case was that of Karen Silkwood who I think was tied to the FOXP2 gene.

Was Allied General George S. Patton murdered? New details are shedding more light on what has become a 60-year mystery. by Peter Cross. When one thinks about the major conspiracy theories of the post-World War II era, one is drawn to the assassinations of President John F. Kennedy, Reverend Martin Luther King, Jr., and Senator Robert F. Kennedy. However, there is one incident that happened at the end of World War II that has been given little or no notice by historians since it occurred more than 60 years ago: Was General Patton murdered?

In 2008, author Robert Wilcox wrote a sensational book on the circumstances surrounding the accident and later death of Patton called Target Patton: The Plot to Assassinate General George S. Patton. The book, which caused a huge controversy, said that Patton had been assassinated on orders from high-ranking American military leaders.

In the second installment which was called, “I Was Paid to Kill Patton,” he said that he was asked by none other than William Donovan, the head of the wartime Office of Strategic Services (OSS) to kill Patton. Bazata said that he did not take part in the Patton assassination because he knew Patton and liked him. He further said that the accident, which took place on December 9, 1945, had been arranged by someone he knew and would not name him. Bazata said that since the general had not died in the accident he was told, “A refined form of cyanide that can cause embolisms, heart failure, and things like that had been used to kill him later in the hospital. It had been made in Czechoslovakia, and, in small amounts, could be timed to kill over a period of 18 to 48 hours.”

Bazata proceeded to lay out his participation in the Patton assassination. In 1945, he was told by Donovan that he had orders from up the chain of command that Patton was considered a threat to the war effort and his actions could no longer be tolerated. Bazata told Patton of the internal threats against him, but the general brushed them aside. For his part, Bazata reluctantly went along with the plot. Bazata went on to say that he met an unidentified man whom he knew only as a “Pole” (Polish extraction), who was also ordered to kill Patton. Both men then began planning the general’s murder.

Babalas made an official investigation of the circumstances surrounding the accident and found that Patton’s driver, Private Horace Woodring and the driver of the truck that struck Patton, Robert Thompson, were directly responsible for the accident. Almost immediately after the accident, the Army’s Criminal Investigative Division spirited Thompson out of Germany and brought him to England where he stayed for a few days. The reason for his sudden trip to England ostensibly was for his own protection. https://warfarehistorynetwork.com/article/was-

In Salzburg Austria in the Barron Von Trapp villa including the bunker Himmler died in was Franz Kutschera's neice history Maria Kutschera, the history of Franz Kutschere and in 1926 the birth of Albert or Edward's bastard children from Agatha Whitehead who for a favor sang for he Nazis for a while, history of the British wished to cover-up. Those death camps AND the insertion of Windsor children into the USA as bastard children with the FOXP2 gene the British wished to hide was something the Roman Catholic Patton may not have wished to keep out of his reports but seems verified by the Donegan family history.

With General Patton was the OSS and CIA agent James Jesus Angleton who was with Patton going to all the German High Command Villas in the Eagle's Nest of Central Europe to find pictures the Nazi command left of themselves so they could be found by facial recognition and hunted. Did the Singing Von Trapp family have pictures on the mantle at Von Trapp Villa Himmler and Kutschera's niece singing Nazi songs until 1938 embraced by both? Did Patton and Angleton have them in their possession?

https://encyclopedia.ushmm.org/content/en/article/heinrich-himmler It was Himmler whom Hitler entrusted with the planning and implementation of the "Final Solution." In his most quoted speech, that of October 4, 1943, in Poznan to a gathering of SS generals, Himmler explicitly justified the mass murder of the European Jews in the following words:

During the rise of Nazim Villa VonTrapp held for years Maria Kutschera niece of SS General Franz Kutchera (assasinated during the war by the Polish secret service), frequent villavisitor Henriech Himmler whose identity is changed in Sound of Music, the Agatha Whitehead children their father Captain Von Trapp is raising on his own, and neice Maria Kutchera hekpting them learn to sing Nazi songs for Kutschera and Himmler supporting Hitler, and perhaps the children even sung for Hitler in these villas at one time or another.

Hitler took up residence in the Führerbunker on 16 January 1945, and it became the centre of the Nazi regime until the last week of World War II in Europe. Hitler married Eva Braun there on 29 April 1945, less than 40 hours before they committed suicide.

After the war, both the old and new Chancellery buildings were levelled by the Soviets. The underground complex remained largely undisturbed until 1988-89, despite some attempts at demolition. The excavated sections of the old bunker complex were mostly destroyed during reconstruction of that area of Berlin.

The Nuremberg trials were held by the Allies against representatives of the defeated Nazi Germany for plotting and carrying out invasions of other countries and atrocities against their citizens in World War II.

The final battles of the European theatre of World War II continued after the definitive surrender of Nazi Germany to the Allies, signed by Field marshal Wilhelm Keitel on 8 May 1945 in Karlshorst, Berlin. After German dictator Adolf Hitler's suicide and handing over of power to grand admiral Karl Dönitz in May 1945, Soviet troops conquered Berlin and accepted surrender of the Dönitz-led government. The last battles were fought on the Eastern Front which ended in the total surrender of all of Nazi Germany's remaining armed forces such as in the Courland Pocket in western Latvia from Army Group Courland in the Baltics surrendering on 10 May 1945 and in Czechoslovakia during the Prague offensive on 11 May 1945.

Between 1933 and 1945, Nazi Germany invaded many countries across Europe, inflicting 27 million deaths in the Soviet Union alone. Proposals for how to punish the defeated Nazi leaders ranged from a show trial (the Soviet Union) to summary executions (the United Kingdom). In mid-1945, France, the Soviet Union, the United Kingdom, and the United States agreed to convene a joint tribunal in Nuremberg, occupied Germany, with the Nuremberg Charter as its legal instrument. Between 20 November 1945 and 1 October 1946, the International Military Tribunal (IMT) tried 21 of the most important surviving leaders of Nazi Germany in the political, military, and economic spheres, as well as six German organizations. The purpose of the trial was not just to convict the defendants but also to assemble irrefutable evidence of Nazi crimes, offer a history lesson to the defeated Germans, and delegitimize the traditional German elite

Richard Bruce Cheney (/ˈtʃeɪni/ CHAY-nee;[a] born January 30, 1941) is an American retired politician and businessman who served as the 46th vice president of the United States from 2001 to 2009 under President George W. Bush. Often cited as the most powerful vice president in American history,[4][5] Cheney previously served as White House Chief of Staff for President Gerald Ford, the U.S. representative for Wyoming's at-large congressional district from 1979 to 1989, and as the 17th United States secretary of defense in the administration of President George H. W. Bush. He is the oldest living former U.S. vice president, following the death of Walter Mondale in 2021.

Born in Lincoln, Nebraska, Cheney grew up there and in Casper, Wyoming.[6] He attended Yale University before earning a Bachelor of Arts and Master of Arts in political science from the University of Wyoming. He began his political career as an intern for Congressman William A. Steiger, eventually working his way into the White House during the Nixon and Ford administrations. He served as White House chief of staff from 1975 to 1977. In 1978, he was elected to the U.S. House of Representatives, and represented Wyoming's at-large congressional district from 1979 to 1989, briefly serving as House minority whip in 1989. He was appointed Secretary of Defense during the presidency of George H. W. Bush, and held the position for most of Bush's term from 1989 to 1993.[7] As secretary, he oversaw Operation Just Cause in 1989 and Operation Desert Storm in 1991. While out of office during the Clinton administration, he was the chairman and CEO of Halliburton from 1995 to 2000.

In July 2000, Cheney was chosen by presumptive Republican presidential nominee George W. Bush as his running mate in the 2000 presidential election. They defeated their Democratic opponents, incumbent vice president Al Gore and senator Joe Lieberman. In 2004, Cheney was reelected to his second term as vice president with Bush as president, defeating their Democratic opponents Senators John Kerry and John Edwards. During Cheney's tenure as vice president, he played a leading behind-the-scenes role in the George W. Bush administration's response to the September 11 attacks

Was General Patton Murdered? New Light on an Old Conspiracy

In 2008, author Robert Wilcox wrote a sensational book on the circumstances surrounding the accident and later death of Patton called Target Patton: The Plot to Assassinate General George S. Patton. The book, which caused a huge controversy, said that Patton had been assassinated on orders from high-ranking American military leaders.

One person whom author Wilcox interviewed for his book was a distinguished World War II veteran and assassin, Douglas Bazata. In 1979, Bazatta gave a two-part interview to the publication Spotlight, in which he made a sensational claim that Patton had been assassinated. In the first interview, he said that the Russians had the motive to kill Patton because he wanted the United States to go to war with them right after the end of World War II.

In the second installment which was called, “I Was Paid to Kill Patton,” he said that he was asked by none other than William Donovan, the head of the wartime Office of Strategic Services (OSS) [Of London loyalist James Jesus Angleton MI6] to kill Patton. Bazata said that he did not take part in the Patton assassination because he knew Patton and liked him. He further said that the accident, which took place on December 9, 1945, had been arranged by someone he knew and would not name him. So Eisenhower was, practically, a disciple of Bernard Baruch, something not very well known. That is where Eisenhower got his irrational hatred of the Germans. It led him to annihilate, through food deprivation, disease, and confinement in cramped roofless camps, over half a million German soldiers who had surrendered. Eisenhower had to do the bidding of his masters - the Zionist agents of the High Cabal, i.e. Baruch and FDR, and that was why he handed over half of Europe, including half of Germany, to Stalin.

Finally, we come to General Donovan, the head of the OSS, and to the OSS itself. Donovan studied at Columbia and his results have been described as "atrocious" by Eustace Mullins. He was picked up by two professors with deep connections to the banking elite for his advancement. He had an affair with the wife of August Belmont who was the official Rothschild representative in the U.S. During the war he was selected for the notorious Belgian Relief Commission, a scam of the bankers for providing food to the German army, under the name of relief to Belgians, to prolong the war. J.P. Morgan reportedly paid $200,000 to Donovan for intelligence work in Europe pertaining to $2 billion bonds floated by J.P. Morgan in postwar Europe. Thus Donovan was deeply tied to the international banking families.

William Stephenson, the British envoy to the U.S. during WWII, was an intelligence operative with a codename "Intrepid". In May 1940 he handed over a proposal to Donovan for setting up an American intelligence agency. Roosevelt, who knew Donovan from Columbia, appointed him Coordinator of Information for the White House. Since he had no experience in propaganda work, the office was split in June 1942, into Office of War Information and the Office of Strategic Services (OSS). Donovan was made head of the OSS.

Eustace Mullins writes: "The 'new' agency was from the outset, merely an outpost of British intelligence. On September 18, 1941, Col. E. I. Jacob, Churchill's military secretary, was informed by Maj. Desmond Church, Churchill's liaison with the British Secret Service: 'Another most secret fact of which the Prime Minister is aware is that to all intents and purposes U.S. security is being run for them at the President's request by the British. A British officer sits in Washington with Mr. Edgar Hoover and General Bill Donovan for this purpose. It is of course essential that this fact should not be known.'"

William Stephenson reported to his head Stewart Menzies in the British intelligence (MI6): "You can imagine how relieved I am after three months of battle and jockeying for position that our man [Donovan] is in a position of such importance to our efforts." Not only that, FDR told William Stephenson, "I am your biggest undercover agent." One must note that Britain was the real den of the international banking families, the core of the High Cabal, ever since the Bank of England was set up in 1696. And FDR admitted to being an agent of the High Cabal by calling himself an undercover agent of the British. The same was true of Bill Donovan.

Now it was in the year 1972 that Douglas Bazata told the journalist Joy Billington, who was doing a story on his art, on the condition that she would not publish it, that he was involved in the assassination of General Patton. Then, on September 25, 1979, Bazata stood up at a gathering of ex-intelligence officers at the Hilton Hotel in Washington D.C., and in response to a managed question by Joy Billington, stated the following: "For diverse political reasons, many extremely high ranking persons hated Patton. I know who killed him for I was the one who was hired to do it. Ten thousand dollars. General William Donovan, Director of OSS, entrusted me with the mission. I set up the accident. Since he didn't die in the accident, he was kept in isolation in the hospital where he was killed by an injection."

The story was a bombshell but the mainstream media completely ignored it! When Bazata died in 1999 the New York Times published an obituary stating that he was former OSS officer of Czech roots, and the son of a Catholic clergyman. But the New York Times story failed to mention the involvement of Bazata in the Patton assassination. This is an example of how the public is kept in dark by the mainstream media, and of how "standard" history is written or fabricated. Why was it so important to maintain the myth that Patton died in an accident and was not assassinated?

However, in October 1979, a magazine titled Spotlight published two front page articles based on an interview of Douglas Bazata. Bazata had passed the lie detector test for his Spotlight interview. In the first interview he pointed out that WWII could have ended much earlier but was badly managed and thus prolonged. Although he did not say so, we know that it was deliberately prolonged - it had to last six years, which it did. In the second article titled “I was Paid to Kill Patton: Exclusive interview with OSS ‘Hitman’” he claimed that he had been ordered by General Donovan to kill General Patton. The accident was staged by someone he knew but whom he would not name. He then revealed that since General Patton did not die in the accident as planned he was killed by a “refined form cyanide that can cause embolism, heart failures and things like that.” It was made in Czechoslovakia and, in small amounts, could be “timed to kill” over a period of 18 to 48 hours.

Bazata had planned to write his biography and eventually gave his secret notes or diaries to Wilcox. There were forty such “ledgers”, as Wilcox calls them. Wilcox was able to check that the facts mentioned in Bazata’s ledgers were indeed correct. Wilcox was able to interview another intelligence operative named Stephen J. Skubik. Skubik had had a terrible experience with Donovan. When he repeatedly told Donovan that there was a threat to Patton’s life, Donovan got extremely angry! Why? Skubik did not, at the time, know that it was Donovan who had ordered the assassination of Patton. In the beginning Donovan ignored Skubik’s information and then had him jailed! Skubik told Wilcox that when Patton was killed he went underground and stayed underground for five years! Skubik did not work for the OSS but for the CIC, the counter-intelligence corps. And that protected him somewhat from Donovan’s wrath.

Skubik wrote a book on the Patton murder. It was titled: Death: The Murder of General Patton. It has been posted on a website set up by his family (www.skubik.com). Skubik’s daughter says that her father always referred to Donovan as “that son of a bitch” for his role in the assassination of General Patton. Skubik writes that initially Gen. Eisenhower had ordered Patton to take over Czechoslovakia. Patton would have done so but the Soviet Chief of Staff called Eisenhower and warned him that if Patton's forces were not stopped there would be full scale war between the Soviet Union and the U.S. Patton was ordered to stop and he "angrily and reluctantly halted the troops." Skubik writes: "Marshall Joseph Stalin was furious when he learned that Patton tried to take all of Czechoslovakia and how he wanted Soviet armies to withdraw from all of Europe, including giving up German territory." Additionally, Patton had established contact with dissident Russian, Polish, and Ukrainian generals as well as guerilla fighters. So Stalin knew that Patton wanted to go to war against the Soviets and therefore wanted Patton dead. Skubik writes that Stalin ordered Patton's murder.

There was a very deep connection between the Soviet regime and the international bankers who controlled Britain and the U.S. Trotsky came to Russia after staying in New York as a Rockefeller guest who also gave him $10,000 in cash. Trotsky had been issued an American passport on the orders of President Wilson! When Stalin nationalized foreign companies he did not touch Rockefeller companies. FDR had provided aid to USSR before and during the war on a scale that defies imagination. Eustace Mullins has pointed out that "Harriman and other Western financiers linked to the terrorist activities of Dzerzhinsky [Chief of Cheka i.e. KGB] became known as the Trust. As members of the Trust, the owners of these firms served as a colonial government of the Soviet Union, as illustrated by the fact that Averell Harriman spent most of the Second World War at Stalin's side in Moscow, directing the Russian war effort." It was the deep design of the High Cabal to divide mankind into capitalist and communist blocs after WWII. This has been pointed out by Col. L. Fletcher Prouty, who also points out that Harriman is an example of someone who was, most likely, a member of the High Cabal.

An important fact of the deep connection between the Soviet NKVD, British intelligence, and the OSS, has been mentioned by William Stephenson in his book Intrepid's Last Case. Mullins quotes from the book: "For 38 years there was an official NKVD mission in London whose agents were assisted by both British Special Operations and the American OSS. Only now it is clear that Moscow received hundreds of OSS research studies; and that the British had supplied guerilla warfare to the chief of NKVD's subversive operations, Col. A.P. Ossikov." This relationship is to be borne in mind with regard to Patton's assassination. It is also important to bear in mind that the OSS was being practically run by the British, as previously pointed out.

Finally, one must quote Eustace Mullins: "International intelligence, or, as it was formerly known, espionage, was not founded by either Donovan or Dulles [Director CIA], who were merely employees of the World Order. The Order founded international espionage to protect their far reaching investments and dealings in slaves, drugs and gold, the commodities on which theor wealth was built." This shows the subservience of the British and American intelligence agencies to those who control the World Order viz., the High Cabal.

Patton was an outstanding general who led his forces to rapid advances against the enemy. It is astonishing that the British and American military leadership tried to retard or obstruct his advance! Bazata had told the Spotlight that the Allied authorities tried to stop Patton "militarily". In his diaries he had noted that Patton's truckers were encouraged to sell off "gasoline, clothing and food" on the black market. Patton's trucks were deliberately sent with black marketers as drivers! Bazata noted that the British wished to prolong the war. For instance, as Bazata put it, the "British refused to take the surrender of large number of Germans he captured during the war."

Wilcox points out that Patton was militarily stopped when Eisenhower allocated scarce gasoline resources to

Gen. Montgomery. What Eisenhower was doing was put more emphatically by Eustace Mullins: “As a result of Patton’s bold advances in France, Filed Marshal Montgomery persuaded Eisenhower to issue one of the most amazing military orders in history. All Allied armies must advance exactly abreast so that no one (meaning Patton) would receive ‘undue credit’.”

There were several reasons that had angered Roosevelt, Eisenhower and others. Firstly, under Zionist pressure, Washington wanted complete destruction of the German nation. The Morgenthau Plan, and Morgenthau was a Jew, was to destroy all German industry and reducing it to a mere agricultural society. The argument was to prevent Germany from going to war again, but behind it lay absolute and unadulterated Zionist malevolence towards the German nation. Patton opposed this inhuman plan publicly and privately but Roosevelt, himself of Jewish roots, supported the Morgenthau Plan and it was implemented, and continued even after Roosevelt’s death in April 1945. Further, Patton opposed giving government confiscated German homes exclusively to Jews. “If for Jews, why not Catholics, Mormons, etc.” he said. And there were millions of others besides Jews in the camps. For this he was branded anti-Semitic, and therefore, the Zionists wanted him out.

The situation took a serious turn at a press conference on September 22, 1945. His staff had warned him that a reporter’s question as to why he was hiring Nazis in Bavaria was a trap. Wilcox points out that Patton “offhandedly likened the controversy over such things as a typical ‘Democrat and Republican election fight’. The remark had been fleeting and secondary to more serious and thoughtful answers given on the subject. But the press made it sound like it had been the main point and outrage ensued.” It is quite clear that the Zionists had trapped him with the intent of getting rid of him. He was branded pro-Nazi and hence anti-Semitic! He was the general who had probably killed more Nazi soldiers than any other Allied general.

In his diary he had noted: “There is a very apparent Semitic influence in the press. They are trying to do two things: first, implement communism, and second, see that all business of German ancestry and non-Jewish antecedents are thrown out of their jobs. They have utterly lost the Anglo-Saxon conception of justice and feel that a man can be kicked out because somebody else says he is a Nazi. They were quite shocked when I told them I would kick nobody out without the successful proof of guilt before a court of law.”

Wilcox quotes historian Victor David Hanson: “Patton’s bombast supposedly proves that he was anti-Semitic, but a prominent trusted military aide, the intelligence officer Col. Oscar Koch was Jewish and beloved by Patton - as was his official biographer Martin Blumenson. Patton …. Many Jews served with him and won his loyalty - as he did theirs.” Wilcox writes: “Under pressure he had apologized for the press conference remark but Eisenhower had summoned him to occupation headquarters in Frankfurt and fired him …. A few remarks taken out of context? It was a setup, he believed. He was angry about it, But the arguments fell on deaf ears. He was deposed as commander of his beloved Third Army and reassigned by Eisenhower as head of the Fifteenth at Bad Nauheim.” Eisenhower owed all his important positions to Bernard Baruch, and therefore he was hostile to Patton.

Patton was a great general, a brilliant strategist and fighter. But now his fighting days were over it appeared to him. He made a very serious error when he wrote to Maj. Gen. James G. Harbord that he will not retire but will instead resign. “I shall resign, not retire because if I retire I will still have a gag in my mouth …. I should not start a limited counter attack, which would contrary to my military theories, but should wait until can start an all-out offensive." Harbord was a Freemason and his various appointments indicate his clear ties to the international banking elite. He was director of the Bankers Trust Co, and held many other similar positions. So the High Cabal knew exactly what Patton was going to do. His wife was rich and he did not need a pension. Patton was a grave potential threat to the control of the U.S. by the Zionist bankers and their allies because he was so popular that had he contested for the office of President of the U.S., he would have been elected. That was a very strong reason to stop him - he would, if elected, have taken the U.S. out of the destructive Zionist grip.

On December 9, 1945 he was in a car going on a hunting trip with Lt. Gen. Hobart Gay in a 1938 Cadillac. The car was hit on the side of Patton by a truck. Wilcox points out that "Patton's driver, who couldn't avoid the crash would later privately tell his son that the truck was waiting for them on the side of the road as they 'd started up from a railroad track stop." Two mysterious things happened. Firstly, the truck driver Robert L. Thompson was whisked away to England for four days before being brought back to Germany! Why? The only possible answer is that the British intelligence was also involved in the assassination and they wanted to effectively debrief Thompson. The argument that he had been whisked away to England to protect him from angry solders does not hold water. Why then was he brought back in a mere four days?

A former naval intelligence officer Ladislas Farago had found out that "Thompson was in violation of the rules of his own routine. He had no orders to go anywhere." Secondly although the accident took place at an isolated spot on a Sunday a number of apparently military personnel appeared out of nowhere. A set of medical officers also appeared with an ambulance "whose officer in charge opted for the lengthier trip to Heidelberg than to nearby Mannheim." Thompson died in 1994. According to a relative who was present: "It was a short illness. For some reasons the doctors could not determine what was wrong with him. He had a lot of pain in the stomach … The day he died he suffered terribly."

Not only did Thompson die a strange death, the driver of the car which was to lead Gen. Patton and Gen. Gay to the hunting destination also died mysteriously. He was behind their car, but just before the accident he moved ahead, and, despite the accident never returned to the scene of the accident. This in itself is very strange. His name was Joe Scruce. He was a very fit man and could run miles without panting. In his entire service record he only took one day off. In 1952 his wife wished to hold his 51st birthday party. He became deeply perturbed and said: No party. I won't live to see it." And in the same year 1952 he died a strange death. He told his wife that he could not feel anything on the left side of his body and then began bleeding profusely.

The ambulance took 45 minutes to arrive! He died the same day and there was no autopsy! Scruce's daughter told Wilcox that her father may have become involved in the plot to kill Patton, if only peripherally. She was so scared that she asked Wilcox not to use her name in the book.

Bazata had told Wilcox that he used a special projectile and a special rifle to break Gen. Patton's neck at the spot at which the accident took place. The rifle was driven by air and a spring and was thus silent. The damage it did would not appear to come from a bullet because the projectile would just become debris. Bazata was hiding inside, or beside an abandoned vehicle that had been positioned at the spot at which the accident took place. Gen. Patton was in vigorous health and did not die despite the head and neck injuries. One day before he was taken to the U.S., he was killed by an injection as described by Bazata. What treachery! To kill your most brilliant general because the Army was headed by inferior people who were carrying out the agenda of the Zionist High Cabal. But strangely no autopsy of Patton's death was carried out.

Wilcox uncovered certain intriguing facts. He found out that at least five crucial documents have been removed from the files pertaining to Patton's accident. He writes: "All such primary, close-to-the-crash documents have vanished. One or two being lost or misplaced is understandable. But five? That's a cover up. They 've been removed - except for quoted bits and pieces that have survived as parts of other documents." Another fact that Wilcox uncovered pertained to the car at display at Fort Knox. It is said to be the car Patton was travelling in at the time of the accident. But Patton was in a 1938 Cadillac. By hiring a Detroit Cadillac expert Wilcox found out that it was not the car in which Gen Patton had the accident! Wilcox writes: "After his examination he told me the Cadillac at Fort Knox was not a 1938, but a doctored 1939." Not just that. "Among other incriminating details he showed me where the car's hard to find vehicle identification number (VIN) had been filed off the metal chassis." So files have disappeared the car on display is a fake! Why?

On one occasion Patton's private plane was attacked by an RAF Spitfire in an attempt to shoot down his plane. Fortunately, the spitfire missed and crashed. That an RAF plane was involved in the attack on Patton's plane meant that Britain was involved. Why?

No investigation was ever conducted by the Army. We know of the incident from Patton's diaries. On another occasion a tractor with a huge scythe like object charged at his vehicle. Patton was saved from being decapitated by "inches". No investigation again! In July 1945 Patton visited his family in the U.S. after a gap of three years.

He told his daughters that they will never see him again. When they protested he said" "My luck has run out. I 've used it all up like money in the bank …I 've had increasingly narrow escapes. It is too damned bad I wasn't killed before the fighting stopped, but I wasn't. So be it."

Charpter - I - The House of Bush: Born in a Bank

Who is George Bush? How did he become the 41st U.S. President?

He is said to be a man of the "old establishment," who "chose to seek his fortune as an independent oilman...."

In fact, Bush was never "independent." Every career step in his upward climb relied on his family's powerful associations. The Bush family joined the Eastern Establishment comparatively recently, and only as servitors. Their wealth and influence resulted from their loyalty to another, more powerful family, and their willingness to do anything to get ahead.

For what they did, Bush's forebears should have become very famous, or infamous. They remained obscure figures, managers from behind the scenes. But their actions--including his father's role as banker for Adolf Hitler--had tragic effects for the whole planet.

It was these services to his family's benefactors, which propelled George Bush to the top.

Prescott Goes to War

President George Herbert Walker Bush was born in 1924, the son of Prescott S. Bush and Dorothy Walker Bush. We will begin the George Bush story about a decade before his birth, on the eve of World War I. We will follow the career of his father, Prescott Bush, through his marriage with Dorothy Walker, on the path to fortune, elegance and power.

Prescott Bush entered Yale University in 1913. A native of Columbus, Ohio, Prescott had spent the last five years before college in St. George's Episcopal preparatory school in Newport, Rhode Island.

Prescott Bush's first college year, 1913, was also the freshman year at Yale for E. Roland ("Bunny") Harriman, whose older brother (Wm.) Averell Harriman had just graduated from Yale. This is the Averell Harriman who went on to fame as the U.S. ambassador to the Soviet Union during World War II, as a governor of New York State, and as a presidential advisor who was greatly responsible for starting the Vietnam War.

The Harrimans would become the sponsors of the Bushes, to lift them onto the stage of world history.

In the spring of 1916, Prescott Bush and "Bunny" Harriman were chosen for membership in an elite Yale senior-year secret society known as Skull and Bones. This unusually morbid, death-celebrating group helped Wall Street financiers find active young men of "good birth" to form a kind of imitation British aristocracy in America.

World War I was then raging in Europe. With the prospect that the U.S.A. would soon join the war, two Skull and Bones "Patriarchs" , Averell Harriman (class of 1913) and Percy A. Rockefeller (class of 1900), paid special attention to Prescott's class of 1917. They wanted reliable cadres to help them play the Great Game, in the lucrative new imperial era that the war was opening up for London and New York moneycrats. Prescott Bush, by then a close friend of "Bunny" Harriman, and several other Bonesmen from their class of 1917 would later comprise the core partners in Brown Brothers Harriman, the world's largest private investment bank.

World War I did make an immense amount of money for the clan of stock speculators and British bankers who had just taken over U.S. industry. The Harrimans were stars of this new Anglo-American elite.

Averell's father, stock broker E.H. Harriman, had gained control of the Union Pacific Railroad in 1898 with credit arranged by William Rockefeller, Percy's father, and by Kuhn Loeb & Co.'s British-affiliated private bankers, Otto Kahn, Jacob Schiff and Felix Warburg.

William Rockefeller, treasurer of Standard Oil and brother of Standard founder John D. Rockefeller, owned National City Bank (later "Citibank") together with Texas-based James Stillman. In return for their backing, E.H. Harriman deposited in City Bank the vast receipts from his railroad lines. When he issued tens of millions of dollars of "watered" (fraudulent) railroad stock, Harriman sold most of the shares through the Kuhn Loeb company.

The First World War elevated Prescott Bush and his father, Samuel P. Bush, into the lower ranks of the Eastern Establishment.

As war loomed in 1914, National City Bank began reorganizing the U.S. arms industry. Percy A. Rockefeller took direct control of the Remington Arms company, appointing his own man, Samuel F. Pryor, as the new chief executive of Remington.

The U.S entered World War I in 1917. In the spring of 1918, Prescott's father, Samuel P. Bush, became chief of the Ordnance, Small Arms and Ammunition Section of the War Industries Board. The senior Bush took national responsibility for government assistance to and relations with Remington and other weapons companies.

This was an unusual appointment, as Prescott's father seemed to have no background in munitions. Samuel Bush had been president of the Buckeye Steel Castings Co. in Columbus, Ohio, makers of railcar parts. His entire career had been in the railroad business-- supplying equipment to the Wall Street-owned railroad systems.

The War Industries Board was run by Bernard Baruch, a Wall Street speculator with close personal and business ties to old E.H. Harriman. Baruch's brokerage firm had handled Harriman speculations of all kinds.©s3

In 1918, Samuel Bush became director of the Facilities Division of the War Industries Board. Prescott's father reported to the Board's Chairman, Bernard Baruch, and to Baruch's assistant, Wall Street private banker Clarence Dillon.

Robert S. Lovett, President of Union Pacific Railroad, chief counsel to E.H. Harriman and executor of his will, was in charge of national production and purchase "priorities" for Baruch's board.

With the war mobilization conducted under the supervision of the War Industries Board, U.S. consumers and taxpayers showered unprecedented fortunes on war producers and certain holders of raw materials and patents. Hearings in 1934 by the committee of U.S. Senator Gerald Nye attacked the "Merchants of Death" -- war profiteers such as Remington Arms and the British Vickers company --whose salesmen had manipulated many nations into wars, and then supplied all sides with the weapons to fight them.

Percy Rockefeller and Samuel Pryor's Remington Arms supplied machine guns and Colt automatic pistols; millions of rifles to Czarist Russia; over half of the small-arms ammunition used by the Anglo-American allies in World War I; and 69 percent of the rifles used by the United States in that conflict.©s4

Samuel Bush's wartime relationship to these businessmen would continue after the war, and would especially aid his son Prescott's career of service to the Harrimans.

Most of the records and correspondence of Samuel Bush's arms- related section of the government have been burned, "to save space" in the National Archives. This matter of destroyed or misplaced records should be of concern to citizens of a constitutional republic. Unfortunately, it is a rather constant impediment with regard to researching George Bush's background: He is certainly the most "covert" American chief executive.

Now, arms production in wartime is by necessity carried on with great security precautions. The public need not know details of the private lives of the government or industry executives involved, and a broad interrelationship between government and private-sector personnel is normal and useful.

But during the period preceding World War I, and in the war years 1914-1917 when the U.S. was still neutral, interlocking Wall Street financiers subservient to British strategy lobbied heavily, and twisted U.S. government and domestic police functions. Led by the J.P. Morgan concern, Britain's overall purchasing agent in America, these financiers wanted a world war and they wanted the United States in it as Britain's ally. The U.S. and British arms companies, owned by these international financiers, poured out weapons abroad in deals not subject to the scrutiny of any electorate back home. The same gentlemen, as we shall see, later supplied weapons and money to Hitler's Nazis.

That this problem persists today, is in some respect due to the "control" over the documentation and the history of the arms traffickers.

The Nazi officials were proud of their Italian conquest and often took photographs of themselves and their fellow officers to send to their families at home. Jim compiled a huge mugbook of Nazi faces and names. His team then broke into every building they could to get data on Nazi intelligence headquarters in Italy. They built a massive book of military intelligence buildings complete with floor plans and personnel lists.

This told them where, in each building, critical documents might be located so they could be seized before they were destroyed. Jim searched for postcards of villas throughout Italy and learned which villas were used as quarters for top military officials. Now the troops knew which villas to capture. Angleton amassed this data in area-specific notebooks which were given to each Allied unit as they advanced on a town. BOISE, Idaho, March 6-James Hugh Angleton, a soldier and former executive of the National Cash Register Company, died Sunday at St. Luke's Hospital. He was 84 years old.

He leaves his wife, the former Carmen Mercedes; two daughters, Carmen of Rome and Mrs. Luciano Guarniere of Florence, Italy; two sons, James and Hugh, and six grandchildren.

Long Association With Italy

Mr. Angleton served in both World Wars and spent many years in Italy as a soldier and as a businessman.

His military career began on the Mexican border where he met his wife and went on to service in World War I, in which he won a commission as a second lieutenant.

After the war he joined the National Cash Register Company as head of its agency in Boise. Mr. Angleton soon became sales manager for the entire country and then vice president in charge of foreign operations, a job he held until 1933.

In that year he formed an agency for N.C.R. sales in Italy of which he was head, working closely with the United States Embassy.

With the outbreak of World War II he rejoined the Army, becoming a major in military government. He joined the Office of Strategic Services that his son would also serve in and in 1943 was on transfer from the School of Military Government. He was promoted to lieutenant colonel and took part in the planning of the Italian invasion that General Patton lead with his son James Jesus Angleton along with him on the frontlines capturing data on Nazis from the captured villas and other relevant findable intel.

As liaison officer between the O.S.S. and the Fifth Army he assisted the military-government mission in Italy and captured codes, card files and documents important to American security.

After the war he returned to Italy and worked for the restoration of Italian business and industry and for a stable, democratic government.

He was for many years president of the American Chamber of Commerce in Italy.

After the repurchase of the N.C.R. Italian agency by the company in the nineteen-sixties, Mr. Angleton retired with his family to Boise.

The man in the photograph above is James Jesus Angleton, the head of Counterintelligence in the CIA from 1954 until 1974. In 1967, he set up a secret organization inside the CIA called “Operation Chaos.” Its purpose was to shut down left-wing groups such as the anti-war movement and Students for a Democratic Society (“SDS”). I was in the anti-war movement and SDS at Columbia University. Jim Angleton was my uncle.

I knew Jim was involved in the operations against us but I did not know the specifics. I do now. Very few people on the left understand Operation Chaos and how brilliant that operation and fellow operations by the FBI and the local police were in the 1960s. We on the left always believed that the intelligence groups were dumb, that they had no idea what we were doing, that they did not influence our activities at all. We were dead wrong. I believe that the CIA, the FBI and the Red Squad (NYPD) were so skilled at their intelligence-gathering they were able to infiltrate key left-wing groups, exacerbate conflicts and shut the student left down, in particular, SDS.

In this piece, I tell that story. I also tell the story of my uncle, Jim Angleton, because his story is the story of the CIA. And I will add that I was in SDS and the anti-war movement until they became violent. Then, I was gone.

[To continue with "The CIA and Operation Chaos," please click on "Uncle Jim."]

This is a photograph of Jim Angleton's extraordinary mother, Carmen Mercedes Moreno. She gave Jim his middle name, "Jesus," a name he tried to hide for decades because he wanted people to think he was British and that did not allow for a Mexican mother.

Jim's father was Hugh Angleton, an old-fashioned swash-buckling kind of guy who chased Pancho Villa in Mexico as a member of the cavalry under General John Pershing. Hugh set his eyes on the young Carmen and fell in love. She was from a poor family, she was uneducated and she did not speak English. Hugh married her, took her to his home in Idaho where they had four children and then to Europe, where Angleton became the head of National Cash Register and the American Chamber of Commerce in Italy. To the enormous credit of beautiful Carmen Moreno, she moved from the dirt streets of Nogales to the gilded palaces of European high society with great ease.

Jim was sent to school in England where he learned to speak with a British accent and wear black homburgs. His faux-Anglo act didn't fool my Aunt Cicely, Jim's wife, for a moment. She used to call Jim, “my Chicano.” She loved to tell the story of their first meeting. A date took her to his room at Harvard - Angleton had gotten into Harvard Law despite his gentleman’s Ds and Fs at Yale - and she walked into a room that was bare except for a poster on the wall. It was El Greco’s “View of Toledo,” the painting of the city of Toledo beneath an apocalyptic storm and right in front of that storm stood one James Jesus Angleton. Cicely said she was struck with love as though it were lightning straight from that Toledo sky.

Symbolism The city of Toledo is at the very top of the hill in View of Toledo. Art historian, Walter Liedtke, speculates that El Greco wanted to emphasize the greatness of Toledo. Due to Toledo sitting at the top, it symbolized the city’s position being near heaven, yet still at the top of hill making it of earthly possession. Using medieval tradition, El Greco incorporated landmarks such as the cathedral and the Alcázar which were positioned in a manner where he could create his version of Toledo, “a city of the spirit”.[8] Toledo is the highest point it could be without being unnatural or in the sky, almost as if El Greco used the hills to work as a pedestal. It is thought that this painting’s enigmatic symbolism could be related to the mysticism that infused the city during the period.

Jim Angleton was the handsomest man I have ever seen. I met him when I was a kid in Duluth. Here I am in northern Minnesota, the land of the blond and the bland, and in walks my glamorous Aunt Cicely with a man who looked like a young Tyrone Power. He was tall and thin with dancing dark eyes and a shock of black hair, he wore beautifully tailored Savile Row suits and a perfect trench coat, he was straight out of Rick’s in Casablanca. He loved the attention his looks brought and he played it to the hilt. Jim was an outrageous flirt.

Cicely d’Autremont was my mother’s first cousin. She was dazzling. Cicely was our Katherine Hepburn, the family bohemian who got her Ph.D. in medieval French history and was known for attending a Washington soiree wearing a Balenciaga gown and tennis shoes. Cicely was hugely wealthy. She and Jim had three children. I've never understood how or why the marriage held together. Jim's job meant that, when the job demanded it, he would simply disappear. Cicely did not know where he was or when he would return. The only reason I can think of that they remained married was because each was the most brilliant person the other knew. And probably, no one else would have put up with either of them.

Jim was drafted in 1943, quickly married Cicely and departed for London. Cicely didn't see him for about four years. Everyone in the family gossiped about divorce. Cicely did send Jim divorce papers but he refused to sign. Or perhaps he forgot.

Jim was chosen for the OSS, the Office of Strategic Services, the American intelligence unit in World War II. He spoke Italian fluently and the Allies were about to invade Italy so Jim was sent to England to learn counter-intelligence. The photo (not here) is Jim in London when he was in training with MI6, in the very group we all came to know and love in John le Carre's Tinker, Tailor, Soldier, Spy. Jim was brilliant and so in love with war-time intelligence work my Aunt Cicely and their marriage didn't stand a chance as long as the war continued.

Jim was sent to Italy as head of the Italian OSS. His job was to capture Nazis. The Mafia helped the Allies land in Sicily and move onto the Italian mainland through the toe of the Italian boot. In return, the Mafia regained control of Sicily, which the Mussolini forces had taken. Once on the mainland, the Allies fought the Nazis all the way up to Rome in a very bloody battle.

Angleton's job was to move with the line of fighting as it fought its way towards Rome and capture Nazi officers before they could escape. [presumbly working directly with General Patton as he led the Army along that path to Central Europe Austria on that mission.] His team was also told to grab every piece of information about the Nazis they could find. … Angleton's unit captured over 1,000 Axis intelligence agents and overturned an entire Nazi network. Jim was a brilliant Nazi hunter.

The problem was that no one knew who all the Nazi officers were, what they looked like, where they lived in Italy or where they were headquartered. As Allied troops advanced, the Nazi officers shed their uniforms, donned the clothing of civilians and fled with the crowds.

Here's what Jim did so that his troops could capture them. First, he had his team visit every photographer in Rome. The Nazi officials were proud of their Italian conquest and often took photographs of themselves and their fellow officers to send to their families at home. Jim compiled a huge mugbook of Nazi faces and names. His team then broke into every building they could to get data on Nazi intelligence headquarters in Italy. They built a massive book of military intelligence buildings complete with floor plans and personnel lists.

This told them where, in each building, critical documents might be located so they could be seized before they were destroyed. Jim searched for postcards of villas throughout Italy and learned which villas were used as quarters for top military officials. Now the troops knew which villas to capture. Angleton amassed this data in area-specific notebooks which were given to each Allied unit as they advanced on a town. The Allied troops knew which buildings to seize first, which villas to search for officers and what the officers looked like.

It was at MI6 training in London Angelton was in that Jim became close, too close, to his counterintelligence teacher, Kim Philby. Philby was probably the single most treacherous spy in all of espionage history. What Kim Philby got away with is remarkable. He was vicious. He had been recruited into the Communist Party at Cambridge with four other students. They became the infamous Cambridge Five, upper-class Brits who were such hard-core Marxists they took positions in the British government in order to spy for the Soviet Union.

What Jen Moore was telling of Glorian Donegan (Glorian Gainey) was recreated on stage in Central Europe and can be seen from photographs of Von Trapp family being acted out.

Jen Moore says she has the secret paperwork on this family from the 850 N. Randolph St Arlington VA home of Glorian and Ed Donegan and the elites will silence aka assassinate anyone who reveals that history including of personalty research and behavioral line across generations by studying child development in preschool like McMartin and Franklin Nebraska. She is later found dead but it was the Donegan family she was talking about and had the records on and yes as she said openly this did go to Allen Dulles of the CIA versus JFK and led to the Kennedy assassination. IT was of the Von Trapp family and Nazi proganda indoctrinate the youth through Nazi family singing. This is all tied together, tied to that history and those elites who today are trying to cover it up with plausibly deniable black budget criminal espionage operations.

When the Von Trapps, the famous musical family depicted in The Sound of Music, escaped the Nazis, the story of their Austrian home was far from over.

"After they left, Heinrich Himmler moved in here," our host and building manager Christopher Unterkofler explains.

"He even built an underground bunker."

> “In front of you here, I want to refer explicitly to a very serious matter….I mean here…the annihilation of the Jewish people …. Most of you will know what it means when 100 corpses lie side by side, or 500 or 1,000…. This page of glory in our history has never been written and will never be written….We had the moral right, we were obligated to our people to kill this people which wanted to kill us.”

We're shown to a small brick building in the grounds just behind the manor and take a flight of stairs down into the darkness. Himmler's bunker - a series of dank concrete rooms - is being used as a storage space. It seems most visitors to Villa Trapp are much more interested in the stars of the musical than war history. While he lived there, Himmler used the home as his summer residence, converting one of the children's rooms to his office and installing a barracks for SS officers in the grounds. https://www.smh.com.au/traveller/inspiration/bunkered-down-in-the-von-trapp-family-home-20151002-gjzkr6.html

Just what James Jesus Angleton and British inteligence were looking for. Except in this case where the evidence led back to them and the Windsor family.

According to my deceased brother who like me spent many days on Cape Cod beaches and homes with out Donegan family relatives and cousins my family or rather some cousins were part of the Irish Mafia tied to liquor and other activities. Though Catholics they church tolerated their activities and they donated regularly with some kind of common understanding or agreement. My father would leave the church (it appears that exact same church) when his friend was betrayed for political reasons. Though who have read Paul L. Williams book on Catholic Gladio - the Unholy Alliance Between the Vatian and the Mafia will understand Murder Inc., Meyers Lanksy, Chauncey Marvin Holt, drug dealing, prohibition, and more. And thus the death of JFK, Lee Harvey Oswald, Jacky Ruby, and others.

According to Thomas Neil Donegan as we sat around the adults (the nannas and grandmother and grandfathers in the dining room or living room as we played in another area the adults were against drugs but trading their prescriptions with each other and drinking cough syrup for its healing properties and laughing it up.

I remember my grandmother in California as we had later in my life moved jus east of the Oakland Hills and from there we toured Lawrence Livermore Labs museum and heard many of his history lectures on developing the atomic bomb, the bombing of Japan, etc., flight missions he was part of like the atomic test of the first bomb an witnessing that blast.

We spent our children reading aerospace magazines and hearing its history. Thomas Neil Young was of the namesake of Thomas Jefferson and Neil Armstrong. I was named Edward Paul Donegan getting Edward from my father's father and one of my father's friends I believe now was Paul Schrade.

St Aidans - John Kennedy was baptized here in June of 1917

More than 80 years ago, a young John F. Kennedy used to ride up to St. Aidan’s church on roller skates to perform his alter boy duties. St. Aidan’s is now a housing development, but hints of its past life remain-a steeple, the Tudor-style wood beams on the siding are reminiscent of the village parish it once was.

St. Aidan’s served as the Kennedy family’s parish church. It was where the Kennedy children, including JFK and Robert Kennedy were baptized, according to the warrant article.

“It was a significant part of the Kennedy’s daily life,” said Myra Harrison, superintendent of the national historic sites. “Mrs. Kennedy left us with a recording of daily life. She said she visited St. Aidan’s every day with the children. She wanted her children to know that church was for everyday and not just for Sundays.” https://www.wickedlocal.com/story/brookline-tab/2016/04/24/recognition-for-st-aidan-x2019/31233487007/

Presidential Candidate Robert F. Kennedy sits with Mark Lane his State of New York presidential run campaign manager. Mark Lane will spend the rest of his life as a Super Conspiracy Theorist connecting many world events to a Deep State.

Robert Kennedy was born in Brookline on November 20, 1925 and was baptized at Saint Aidan's Church. Robert was influential in JFK's campaigns for public office, became attorney general to his brother, was his closest confidant, became a New York senator, and ran for president in 1968. Saint Aidan's Catholic Church site will feature a backyard exhibit and two Neighborhood tours, at 11:15 a.m. and 3:15 p.m. Please join us for this special day of remembrance.

I Edward Donegan have some confusion about this and no help from anyone in the USA. I remember living in Marshfield Massachusetts on Pleasant Lane and this building being across the street from us. The gatherings may have come from there. This part of Boston has undergone some name changes but this Gingerbread House style was common too I suppose. I also remember that at that time the phone number of ours I memorized was 837-2723.

Col Fletcher Prouty who I knew as a child also believes this tale of the CIA and the CIA plans that JFK got in the way of. Now, here, it all comes out.

After having lived and been born in Boston my father joined the US Army Air Force as a Warrant Officer (not a college graduate but qualified for a need for an officer in the Air Force and thus became a P-51 pilot and later jets flying in WWII and the Korean War before becoming a TWA pilot.

My birth in 1961 was while we were still living near the Inglewood Los Angeles home of the P-51 and I was born in an Inglewood Catholic Hospital St Joseph's right near Manhattan Beach City of also of Los Angeles County near Santa Monica City and Venice Beach City.

My birth certificate shows that I was not born in Massachusetts. Though my father had already left the military to become a TWA pilot we still lived in Manhattan Beach City Los Angeles County California and in fact I was born where the P-51 my father flew was made. Inglewood. The key time for the P-51 that would helkp win the Battle of Brittain was it getting a Rolls Royce turboprop engine rather than the earlier Packard Motors Liberty V12 engine without a turbocharger. The two speed turbocharger Rolls Royce engine also built by Packard Motors for the P-51 made it a winning plane fighting alongside the British Spitfire with the same engine and equal results war winning results.

The mechanical structure of an aircraft is known as the airframe. This structure is typically considered to include the fuselage, undercarriage, empennage and wings, and excludes the propulsion system. -wikipedia

Peter Lawford not able to serve in WWII because of an arm injury would play a pilot. He lived in Santa Monica as a rich british leading man and married John F Kennedy's sister Patricia. I Ed Donegan assert this was similar to Captain Von Trapp marrying Agatha Whitehead of the Whitehead Torpedoes company. They meet on business as Von Trapp commanded submarines were paired with the Whitehead torpedoes. I assert this was all setup (the USA in something similar to Lend Lease) the officially neutral USA would help build fighter aircraft to defend England from the Luftwaffe with the larger US auto plants than England had. Paul Schrade would be a part of this as United Autoworkers Union rep at Packard Motors who built that engine.

During World War II, military needs again dominated airframe designs. Among the best known were the US C-47 Skytrain, B-17 Flying Fortress, B-25 Mitchell and P-38 Lightning, and British Vickers Wellington that used a geodesic construction method, and Avro Lancaster, all revamps of original designs from the 1930s. The first jets were produced during the war but not made in large quantity.

Why JFK was assassinated, how every presidential family since inducing the Obama family but in no way limited to the Obama family, are tied to this and tied to the Warren Commission and why the Warren Commission evaded its real responsibilities to national security plans in the Cold War of MK-ULTRA would not be publicly exposed.

It also has to do with the Cold War plan of secretive subversion and dirt wars fought covertly through front groups in places like Indonesia or openly in countries like Vietnam often with European or Vatican or other NGOs connected to those plans.

Jen Moore was the lifeblood of the Republic as before her Ted Gunderson, Gene Chip Tatum, and John DeCamp were. Truth tellers. Chauncey Marvin Holt knew the history of the USA belongs to the people of the USA and wanted to tell that history before he died. Like Holt and unlike Jen Moore and unlike Ted Gunderson I am not law enforcement I am a witness. But as a rare witness rarified by the deaths of my family member and all heirlooms lost during my family or origins life and after their deaths only the oral history I can provide is left. For the importance of that is not me but the connection my story makes between very important victims and very important criminals. That is in a way lifeblood of the Republic and I am trying to insure it is not lost. When we are gone the last hope of the truth coming out is gone, or rather when our works are lost to a cover of dust or deletion the last hope of truth is gone.

The British and Patricia Kennedy (Peter Lawford's wife and JFK's sister) like Joseph Kennedy SR were very connected to the Great Britain in WWI and WWI and Joseph Kennedy Sr is who worked with rather than against the British was helping out of wedlock hidden identities - bastard children of famous families - be researched under phone names. (Julian Assange is one of them and an Ecuadorian court studied it and found it to be a forgery.)

My mother had a hidden identity too and this is how Jen Moore and Ed Donegan and Ted Gunderson bring this story to the Lawford Kennedy Compound.

Los Angeles County and Manhattan Beach City, Santa Monica, and celebrities from that area will make up the Why of JFK and RFK being assassinated, The Manchurian Candidate 1962 story explained as reality underlying it, and how my family was used and abused as part of that.

In this evidence-backed essay I will exposit my belief that the current US Government officials according to me and other sources are tied to Deep State and the Deep State of NWO proportions pesters rather than hounds those who could contribute to whistle-blowing on the corruption in Government.

Many police view themselves as hounds on the trail of the truth but I will show here they instead use pests to attack Conspiracy Theorist journalists and other of us victims who are trying to bring the truth to light about these politicians dn their ties to history. The pests attacking me are part of that story and a distraction from the JFK story but a part of that fabric of events and cover-up and attacked Ted Gunderon and others with death tbreats, break-ins, and harassment.

The "silencing" these few journalists, witnesses, or others is what Jen Moore called "the ultimate betrayal." These inter-related crimes are what I and many others are writing about and I face an ongoing threat to my own life posing not only a threat to me but also to the truth over coming out once and for all.

After now having gone down the Ted Gunderson branch of suspicious deaths from these child development facilities I now with Jen Moore go down the same story but from Jen Moore and I and Veronica Hoffman and others (Jimmy, Bobby Courtney, and others) who also were gang-stalked and died under I say suspicious circumstances.

We will see (willing listeners) that I have bee thrown in pscyh wards alleging a conspiracy against me and attacks on my homes and my home offices and smear campaigns, fights that I did not proke, break-ins, forgeries etc., ruining my life. Once was in 2004 or so when I said that I heard some covert operative type people talking who were stalking me that if I got on plane towards D.C. it would be shot down similar to what now is said to happen to Dorothy Hunt's flight UAL Flight 533. But I was put in a pscyward after that when I reported radiation burns on my body and had already reported poisoned foods, etc., I did not know who Ted Gunderson was nor who St John Hunt was but I was telling the same story of attacks on me AND my father did work with Col Fletcher Prouty and likely after retirement from the military Lee Harvey Oswald who recreated as a refresher course the events of the cold war and radar ATSUGI as depicted in the movie Jet Pilot and Col Shannon.

Jen Moore confirms all these Stalking activities Ted Gunderson and I asserted and like me says it goes back to my childhood, special-ed, and early developmental programs and the short bus the first few years.

Jen Moore was killed as she was about to name names of the elites who were criminals and tied to the JFK assassination and about to formally name the names of Edward Paul Donegan (me) and my mother Glorian Donegan born under the name Glorian Gainey in North Carolina 1926 and who is now deceased.

Writing these books has not been and is not easy. Today I have several advanced and terminal illnesses that were not only preventable but had been brought into remission before a series of events, a smear campaign of the type the FBI runs, made me seem an undesirable and forced out of housing into homelessness as a whisper campaign asked my lease applications be turned down. Included in my books are excerpts of Brian Glick's work The War At Home about FBI illegal operations targeting activists and those and many specific FBI and CIA officials are at the center of my books about the cold war and engage in retaliation against me and harassment of me through thugs, ex-con skid ow thugs, and others.

Used as assailant these Pscychiatric Shock Troops of homeless people spitting all over me, making abusive comments, striking me, being drug addict neighbors pulling knives on me, etc., are the hostile environments that Agents in Place (assets of the FBI, CIA, and local police and fire) position to initiate conflicts, break into homes, etc.,

"One sure window into a person's soul is his reading list" - Mary Tabor. And from Ed Donegan extending the quote "One possible look into a politician's soul is the writings of a dissident. One sure look into a Government's soul is how that dissident is treated under the law."

Here is the reason attackers and unavoidable conflicts have afflicted me and my home office that I write from and live in for safety. There have been many fictions in our public mind; that Lee Harvey Oswald acted alone and was a communist sympathizer (rather than a patsy the CIA, FBI, and others setup and placed at the scene,) that the McMartin Pres-school or Boystown Franklin Nebraska child abuse scandals have been resolved and were not CIA activities, and that the Bush family from Prescott Bush, the Walker family, and other CIA and DOD figures are not Cabal connected.

This single tale told by Jen Moore, Ed Donegan, and Ted Gunderson now unites and resolves all these frauds on a coherent and complete way.

The difficulty is that I, Jen Moore, and others have been discredited by smear campaigns and the abuse treatment of me and smear campaign against me, bullying me with false allegations going to part of this story and fit into this story as to what motivates the smear campaign against me and others and the written and oral witness accounts of me and others.

Our journey through the evidence will show Jen Moore identified slush funds rooted in the US DOD and CIA and FBI who use identity theft and trafficking in an underground money laundering world that includes “silencing” and hits on witness to the deep underbelly of the Cabal. That cabal, that world-wide fabric of covert activities that now via subversion, criminal rackets, and black-opps have targeted with smear campaigns and ripoffs and robberies and assaults openly on whistle-blower to discredit them and thus are protecting today’s officials. The Conspiracy Theorist may "smear" a public official but then they themselves are smeared, intimidated, harassed, mocked, sometimes assaulted and sometimes killed - If they name too many name about the Deep State.

Some of it you might not believe. IN the early pages start this book the tile is txtstart.html or Textual Start is this about the setting of this story of treason.

In the case of plane research the Bomber aircraft especially before RADAR the fighter/pursuit plane could fly within a circumference of bombers and intercept inbound hostile fighters before they reached the home team bomber.

Some kind of Parasite Bomber which drops from other airplanes is being built and that experimental plane in the movie is played by the Bell X-1. The couple Jim and Anna (or Olga which name when) try to fly to Vienna.

Originally designated Bell-XS-1. Like the P-51 Mustangs he flew during World War 2, Yeager named this X-1 Glamorous Glennis, in honor of his wife.

On 5 January 1949, Yeager used 46-062 to perform the only conventional (runway) launch of the X-1 program, attaining 23,000 ft (7,000 m) in 90 seconds.

The aircraft made her last flight, with Chuck Yeager at the controls, for the movie Jet Pilot, on May 12th, 1950.[1]

The aircraft was transported to Washington, D.C., beneath a B-29 and

According to Chauncey Marvin Holt an injustice was done to Lee Harvey Oswald and to history and to others when the hit on JFK and the hit on LHO silenced the possible emergence of the truth. Like E. Howard Hunt before he died Holt felt (like historians of Dorothy Kilgallen and others like Lee Bowers Jr.) wanted to out hidden evil residing in our politics and politicians and call-out before the world who the assassins were and who their victims were and still are.

Listen to and look at some of her video titles as she pointed her camera at my former home.

My use of images (Now we find out it is a pictograph that helps imagine the information contained or invoked by it.) in this story-line will name the photos and what they represent. Here is what we learn from Vocabulary.com about images (a few of the meanings of the word.) : a visual representation of something: such as (1) : a likeness of an object produced on a photographic material (2): a picture produced on an electronic display (such as a television or computer screen)a : to create a representation of also : to form an image of imaged Jupiter's rings image the bone using X-rays b : to represent symbolically 2: to call up a mental picture of : IMAGINE 3 : to describe or portray in language especially in a vivid manner 4 a : REFLECT, MIRROR b : to make appear : PROJECT

Olga in the movie Jet Pilot may come from a WWII split political family. The competing system of Aristocratic England and Socialist Nazi Germany (on the mother's side) A movie representation I Ed Donegan believe is analogous to Glorian Donegan.

Imagine now Glorian And Donegan lived in the apartment shown in 89.jpg and that Jen Moore was telling and I am confirming my family history.

What could all that refer to? Let me show you a Google query as to who the Von Trapp Family singers were. Is The Trapp Family Singers a true story? The play is based the actual Maria Augusta Trapp's 1949 memoir, The Story of the Trapp Family Singers, which chronicles the family's beginnings in Salzburg, Austria, through its escape from Nazi-occupied Europe, to the family's eventual relocation to America.

Maria Augusta von Trapp DHS (née Kutschera; 26 January 1905 - 28 March 1987), often styled as “Baroness”[1][2][3], was the stepmother and matriarch of the Trapp Family Singers. She was the Nazist Niece of Franz Kutschere and early on when Fascism was popular all around the world use Capt Von Trapp children she was overseeing for Nasi propaganda in theaters thought the decided to flee in 1926.

Maria Kutschera at a young age became an orphan after her parents died at least one from a flu. Her Uncle Franz Kutschera became her guardian. He had some control of her but she ran away and for a while entered a Catholic Convent for traing but seems to have left it pregnant was assigned to Help Capt Von Trapp with his children now that his wife was gone. During a window of time she the Singing Nun was asked to coach the Von Trapp children in Nazi songs as Hitler Youth. Both Maria and Capt von Trapp objected and as Nazi power grew they fled Austria.

Is Glorian Donegan of North Carolina is secretly tied to an underground railroad that ran in the mid 1920's? Yes and she was born in 1926 to one of those relocated people probably arranged by Dean Rusk and the Rockefeller family along with Joseph Kennedy Sr. and others for a variety of reasons we will see later including some nice pictures with FDR in them to home Joseph Kennedy Sr was closely associated as a fellow prominent Democrat Party member and US Navy connected..

Other images will show a high power espionage operation tied to the elites in the USA has illegally "targeted" me with a smear campaign, allowed break-ins to my home office live work space, undercover operations falsifying rental data in the building management got me evicted and the COINTELRPO system now has me homeless with the public believing the smears and black-listing me from rentals, car buying, etc,

I will speak admiringly of Ted Gunderson and his works as he believed (and he was correct) that CIA front groups operating as Satanists, Drug Dealers, or Motorcycle Gangs were really CIA backed wrong-doers who even after killing children would escape prosecution and be protected by people like The George H. W. Bush administration that he Gunderson hated so badly and suspected so much of. He also believes (as I do) that these groups murdered Jeffrey R. MacDonald's family and then left Jeffrey R. MacDonald the blame.

In a distant future Guy Montag is a fireman employed to burn outlawed books, along with the houses they are hidden in. - Wikipedia plot line Fahrenheit 451. "The instruction we find in books is like fire. We fetch it from our neighbours, kindle it at home, communicate it to others, and it becomes the property of all." — Voltaire

When I have signed leases at Ballpark West in Austin, hunted for new leases or signed leases elsewhere for my live work book writing space an undercover operation using shills has fakes enough events and picked enough fights for me to be evicted and blacklisted as a trouble maker.

I have ostracized and smeared and this their is a nexus between the history of my family being told and the retaliatory acts of abuse against Jen Moore, myself, Tom Dunham, Veronica Hoffman, and others including the Kennedy family and investigators of the assassination.

I will show a few things about lots and how properties in the USA work. I lived on lot 1513 on Ocean Drive Corpus Christi. Lot 1511 was next to it and next to Ocean Drive. There may have been Lots 1510 and 1512 on the other side of Ocean Dr but the ocean was there instead. You can see the logic in all of this.

One developer bought lots 1511 and the adjoining lot 1513 and and treated them together as one lot. One giant two story building was there and on Lot 1511 were units 1-4 and on lot 1513 the apartent building spanned into were unites 5-8. Moving in was extremely complicated because 1511 NOR 1513 were on the outside of eitehr building and unless you knew the story and had been inside the units and talked to the residents you migth think Unit 5 was on the 1511 lot. Complex tricksters were using a smear campaign that was based on discrediting by the actiosn of people wrongly identified by me and I and Jen Moore that was a "black" (plausibly deniable) covert operations scheme making me seem an abomibale person who should be black-listed, was retarded, a schoziprhonic not to be listened to, wel, except for high price sex workers who might help him grow up a few years with some lessoins given to him by those sex workers.

The police use this as a system of studying me since many of those sophisticated sex workers were part of Goth or other non Red State underground communities the Bible Belt rejected as an evil and knew nothing about.

While a COINTELPRO program has harrased her and me and even killed her and cost me my health and home and reputation the larger story (not the smear campaign) is that today's "Sooks, Hoods, and Hidden Elites" have old money connection into the Kennedy assasion and long term operatives from both parties including John Podesta, Victoria Nooland, Rod Rosentein, the Bush Family, Obama Family, and many others are tied to widespread corruption of all forms going back to Allen Dulles days and the JFK assasination an in today across the ocean into the Ukraine, contemporary wars and foreign policy, and long term CIA and MKULTRA ativities that are not yet known to history.

If it were as simple as one corrupt landlord or one corrupt trust fund administrator at ARC of Northern Virginia or elsewhere the situation would be more easily remediable but the use of smear campaign and politically motivated fake excuses for all sorts of request of private entities for police cooperation (after a smear campaign has begun that the police are acting under then the police harassment situation has to be won at the level of outing the elite ad corrupt government officials that have such power to order covert illegal programs that have ruined my life and associans and left me homeless as an undesirable. It has been a decades long fight to research my books and write them safely while being harassed and attacked.

Mocking a person as a pedophile or bullying them in any other of a number of ways to get the person blacklisted should be obvious a naked act of retaliation if a person like myself writing books like The United States v. EPD about FBI and DOJ misconduct in an earler arrest of me and in the federal system the case is The People of The Unites States v. the defendent.

While the bullying, blacklisting, and smear campaign needs no more analysis the fabric it exists in here is even more obvious. I like other JFK witnesses find the story we are telling to be a threat to the United States Government and its official both of them complicit in the JKF assassinations. Those who have been attacked by me by illegal programs bullying me are from all parties, genders, and walks of life.

This timeline using supporting witnesses and surviving evidence shows my connection to these events and witness who have been assassinated covertly and attempts on my life and book writing through thug who deny being operatives of the police. This chapter is one chapter of my book The Great Treason and writing that book and some other ones is one chapter of my life. I am a biographer of Ted Gunderson who was assigned to investigation the deaths of JKF and Marilyn Monroe and worked in the field office of Los Angeles as Special Agent In Charge and where RRK was assassinated and he was in the Kennedy administration working under Robert F. Kennedy as an anti-racketeering chief today would be called an Assistant Attorney General if he were DOJ instead of FBI. He (like Jean Hill the last dissenting JKF witness) held now confirmed conspiracy theories through their lives and like myself feared for their lives.

Much of my writing and fitting my life story into the JFK assassination ties to 1958 and Secret War to be conducted under Vice President Nixon through the CIA against Indonesia that Col Fletcher Prouty and Wayne Madsen have written about. Frank Gardiner Wisner (June 23, 1909 - October 29, 1965) was one of the founding officers of the Central Intelligence Agency (CIA) and played a major role in CIA operations throughout the 1950s.

Some of my writing in not only as an observer but as a commentator. Some might suggest de-funding the CIA as Ted Gunderson suggested. But black budget operations are designed to insulate against that. Auditors can not see where money goes to or where it came from. Thus money from the oil companies and other sources can effectively fund CIA operations. I am one who believes a "sin tax" might work on the CIA. The CIA's black budget operations often include drug dealing, arms trafficking with hostile nations merely for the pallets of untraceable cash such deals may produce, infiltration of the media hoping to qualify for Hollywood parties and of course just to feel welcome at them running high priced modeling agencies and funding or being funded by people like Jeffery Epstein and Victoria's Secret models in slush fund illegal operations.

Now more about the CIA.

Wisner began his intelligence career in the Office of Strategic Services in World War II. After the war, he headed the Office of Policy Coordination (OPC), one of the OSS successor organizations, from 1948 to 1950. In 1950, the OPC was placed under the Central Intelligence Agency and renamed the Directorate of Plans. First headed by Allen Dulles, Wisner succeeded Dulles in 1951 when Dulles was named Director of Central Intelligence.

Wisner remained as Deputy Director of Plans (DDP) until September 1958, playing an important role in the early history of the CIA. He suffered a breakdown in 1958, and retired from the Agency in 1962. He committed suicide in 1965.

In July 1947, Bissell was recruited by W. Averell Harriman to run a committee to lobby for an economic recovery plan for Europe. The following year he was appointed as an administrator of the Marshall Plan in Germany and eventually became head of the Economic Cooperation Administration (ECA). Bissell worked with the Office of Policy Coordination (OPC) in diverting counterpart funds of the ECA to OPC operations in Europe.[7] Work with CIA - Bissell worked for the Ford Foundation for a while but Frank Wisner persuaded him to join the Central Intelligence Agency (CIA).

Vision for the CIA- Bissell delivered an address at the CIA entitled "The Stimulation of Innovation" in 1957 that called for funding the research and development of groundbreaking new technologies for intelligence gathering and surveillance. He acknowledged that such surveillance may entail "gray activities" by the CIA, surveillance that the CIA may not have the legal right to undertake. But he urged that the dubious legal status of such activities should not preclude the CIA from pursuing them. He also advocated that the CIA implement covert political actions in target countries. [That document recomeds scientific TSS methods.

Did he forsee coming DNA research and the ability to see genes and genetics in X-Rays?

[Awared the Nobel Prize in 1962, and] the most important work in modern biology was published in the journal Nature - on the structure of DNA. Three articles finally proved that DNA was the genetic material by showing its structure. One was by Dr. Maurice Wilkins and his team, another by Dr. Rosalind Franklin and a doctoral student named Ray Gosling. The third was by Drs. James Watson and Francis Crick. The result was the birth of molecular biology, but it was controversial.

Dr. Rosalind Franklin was the X-ray crystallographer who produced much of the key data that captured the structure of DNA. She was a colleague of Dr. Wilkins at King's College and their relationship was so strained she abandoned her work.

But her photo was the single key piece of evidence to solving the DNA structure. She supervised her doctoral student, Ray Gosling on Photo 51, an X-ray image of the DNA that all high school students have probably seen. She presented critical measurements of DNA at a talk that was passed on to Drs. Watson and Crick without her consultation. This strengthened the thought that DNA was doubled stranded with each strand running in opposite directions.

Drs. Watson and Crick used this data to propose a detailed physical model that explained DNA structure and sealed the argument. The pair were awarded the Nobel. Some claim her work was stolen which might be an over-reach. But the pair did not give her the credit she deserved. The Nobel can't be given posthumously, but her work on DNA was certainly deserving of it.

Consider in 1962 the Nobel Prize goes to the Double Helix and the secret of life itself.

Affirmatively, what is proposed ig that two of the moot important function of the SA/PD should be (a) to achieve a really effective relationghip between dovelopers operators, and (When intelligence collection is involved) consumers, and b) to see to it that there unity of command over a particular project when this is needed to drive through inter-related chznges in tools, operational concepts, personell, and or organization. The reagon for omphagizing these functiono is, as REDACTED pointed out (in hig memorandum entitled Organization for the Exploitation of Advanced Technology) is that the secret of success of more than one recent project has been "the unity and freedom of the command end the very close coupling between three major areas--research and development, operations, and the consumer's requironents with the most candid interchange between the three." https://www.cia.gov/readingroom/docs/CIA-RDP80B01676R002600130061-5.pdf

CIA Deputy Director for Plans- After Frank Wisner suffered a mental breakdown in September 1958, Bissell replaced him as the CIA's Deputy Director for Plans (DDP). Bissell officially assumed the office on 1 January 1959. Richard Helms stayed on as Bissell's deputy. The Directorate for Plans reportedly controlled over half the CIA's budget and was responsible for covert operations. (DDP oversaw plans to overthrow Jacobo Arbenz Guzmán, Patrice Lumumba, Rafael Leonidas Trujillo, Ngo Dinh Diem, and others. Bissell's main target was Fidel Castro.)

Jen Moore in talking about Freud, Jung, and others working for the CIA and the study of rat lines from generation to generation and ties to the JFK assassination is much like those treating Borderline Personality Disorder and ADHD and related minimal brain dysfunction.

What do Elvis, President John F. Kennedy (and Jackie), Alfred Hitchcock, Truman Capote, Marlene Dietrich and Marilyn Monroe all have in common? Apart from the obvious cultural and historical significance, they all shared a special relationship with Dr. Max Jacobson or as he would later become known, ‘Dr. Feelgood’. Private physician to the rich and powerful, Dr. Jacobson would administer his own brand of alternative medicine with an efficacious bedside manner, a questionable ethical morality, and a surgical bag full of illicit concoctions known as “vitamin shots”. Jacobson would insert himself into the lives of the American glitterati and practice his own unique style of personal medicine with grave consequences to their careers and wellbeing, but also by extension, to the American people. It’s an unnerving and little-known truth that when JFK was president, he was pretty much high throughout most of the Cold War. https://www.messynessychic.com/2023/11/24/everybody-who-was-anybody-had-dr-feelgood-and-his-speed-shots-on-speed-dial/ Dr Greeson found Marilyn Monroe dead but couldn't tell the whole story of the research Ralph Greenson, broke into her bedroom by smashing a window to find the actress dead in her bed, with an empty bottle of sleeping pills on her

DNA and XRAY and Sonic Studies of oscillations of proteins is important. The Symptom might or not be visible and decoupled from the cause. A clinical tendncy of disorder might be overcome by behavioral intervention and training or other interventions such as being more rested, nutrition deficiencies or complications or co-factors remediated, etc.,

If a genetic disorder does exist then it might be highly distinct in clinical expression or vary from patient to patient. Being able to track genes reliable by the cause of the disorder and not the symptom was part of the promise of DNA technology.

During his lifetime and after his death, Feynman became one of the most publicly known scientists in the world.

He assisted in the development of the atomic bomb and was a member of the panel that investigated the Space Shuttle Challenger disaster. In addition to his work in theoretical physics, Feynman has been credited with pioneering the field of quantum computing, and introducing the concept of nanotechnology (creation of devices at the molecular scale). Ford Foundation (CIA)

The Joseph P. Kennedy Jr. Foundation is a non-profit foundation founded by Ambassador Joseph P. Kennedy Sr. in 1946 in memory of his son Joseph P. Kennedy Jr. The foundation was led by his youngest brother, U.S. Senator Edward M. Kennedy, until his death in 2009. Wikipedia

The Ford Foundation is one of the most important “private foundations” collaborating with the CIA over a significant span of time in major projects in the cultural Cold War.

“At times it seemed as if the Ford Foundation was simply an extension of government in the area of international cultural propaganda. The foundation had a record of close involvement in covert actions in Europe, working closely with Marshall Plan and CIA officials on specific projects”

Frances Stonor Saunders, a noted scholar of the Cold War writes: “At times it seemed as if the Ford Foundation was simply an extension of government in the area of international cultural propaganda. The foundation had a record of close involvement in covert actions in Europe, working closely with Marshall Plan and CIA officials on specific projects”.

The leaders of the Foundation were in total agreement with Washington’s post-WWII projection of world domination, and they had over 3 billion in assets, a lot of money in 1950.

This is graphically illustrated by the naming of Richard Bissell as President of the Foundation in 1952. In his two years in office Bissell met often with the head of the CIA, Allen Dulles, and other CIA officials in a “mutual search” for new ideas. In 1954 Bissell left Ford to become a special assistant to Allen Dulles in January 1954. https://wikispooks.com/wiki/The_Ford_Foundation and https://www.voltairenet.org/article166741.html

Ted Gunderson is among those the FBI and CIA killed as they did Jen Moore for telling the truth of what I will now name the "Albert Conspiracy" that involved child abuse, child murders, murders of investigators and murders of witnesses. Jon Decam and William Colby of the CIA (both of them) died suspiciously and I assert (and Ted Gunderson) assert Colby was murdered by the CIA and I assert after Gunderson died John Decamp's death should be viewed as a suspicious car accident that disabled him mentally first. Jen More also telling the "Albert Conspiracy" was also found dead as was the family of Jeffery MacDonald and Marilyn Monroe and Sonny Bono I assert all these and more had connections to the CIA activities in Guatemala, Bermuda Dunes Airport, New Orleans, weapons trafficking and CIA overthrows. The Albert Conspiracy is out of wedlock connections to Prince Albert York had a genetic minimal brain disorder that can be diagnoses as ADHD, Dyslexia, Borderline Personality Disorder, and other complex diseases of the brain that amphetamines that psychiatrists were testing had a positive affect on.

The Ted Gunderon Investigates Scientific Report of McMartin School did find CIA tunnels and excavated them and recovered artifacts while the Government did not look below the floors for the tunnels the abused children described. It may relate to Birther and test births being tested psychologically rigt about the first year of my own life.

The McMartin Preschool was 2 miles away from where

I Ed Doneanlived when I was born and new building was planned when I turned one year old and I did go to preschool and I think that was mine and Tom Donegan's (my brother's preschool. I also remember being at a table there with a black child at that time and there being something going on with our nutrition they were talking about for us. https://maps.app.goo.gl/3GWs4LM441oX5Zkt7

"In 1956, at age 49, Virginia McMartin opened her preschool in downtown Manhattan Beach, and it quickly became popular within the local community. Following reports of sexual abuse at the school, McMartin was arrested in March 1984 on child molestation charges. The charges were dropped after the district attorney determined there was insufficient evidence to prove her guilty beyond a reasonable doubt, according to the Los Angeles Times. She and her granddaughter successfully sued the parent of one child for slander in 1991, but the plaintiffs were only awarded $1 each, according to the Los Angeles Times. McMartin died in 1995 at 88 after suffering a series of strokes, according to The New York Times. https://www-oxygen-com.cdn.ampproject.org/v/s/www.oxygen.com/uncovered-the-mcmartin-family-trials/crime-time/mcmartin-preschool-trial-where-are-they-now?

The first construction on the preschool lot (i.e. 931 Manhattan Beach Blvd.) was the "Virginia McMartin Preschool" itself. for which the initial application for a permit was registered in December, 1962 (Permit, 1962). The building was built by C.R. Anderson and Co.. Contractors, who submitted architectural plans which were approved on February 15. 1966

Now more about the CIA. Wisner began his intelligence career in the Office of Strategic Services in World War II. After the war, he headed the Office of POSS olicy Coordination (OPC), one of the successor organizations, from 1948 to 1950. In 1950, the OPC was placed under the Central Intelligence Agency and renamed the Directorate of Plans. First headed by Allen Dulles, Wisner succeeded Dulles in 1951 when Dulles was named Director of Central Intelligence. Wisner remained as Deputy Director of Plans (DDP) until September 1958, playing an important role in the early history of the CIA. He suffered a breakdown in 1958, and retired from the Agency in 1962. He committed suicide in 1965. [According to Col Fletcher Prouty many at the time questioned the firing of Frank Wisner.]

Col Fletcher Prouy's first paragraph following his reprint to the letter to Ford from Mrs. Sukarno of Indonesia. "What is not generally known about the complex Indonesian struggle is the role that was played by the then Vice President of the United States, Richard M. Nixon, and the bitter aftermath that involved the sudden ouster of Allen Dulles' protege, Frank Wisner, who at that time was the head of the clandestine arm of the CIA. After Watergate, when Anthony Lukas wrote in his book Nightmare, about the growing mistrust between Nixon and the Director of Central Intelligence, Richard Helms, he could have added that since the 1958 Indonesian rebellion there were many in the CIA who made a career of hating Nixon because of what he had done to Frank Wisner, among others." Indonesia 1958: Nixon, the CIA, and the Secret War By L. Fletcher Prouty

I believe as Ted Gunderson that the CIA had plans at McMartin preschool just as they did at Boys Town Franklin Nebraska that William Colby, Ted Gunderson, Jen Moore, and John DeCamp (also CIA) investigated.

TED L. GUNDERSON & ASSOCIATES,
Santa Monica, California.

Private investigator firm included case files forensic trail work for F. Lee Bailey, esq., ina way comparable to Perry Mason and Paul Drake television duo.

Background of the Project 1.2 - The preschool site was located in the greater Los Angeles area of Southern California in the City of Manhattan Beach. Specifically it was located at 931 Manhattan Beach Blvd. Across the street is lot 922 Manhattan Beach Blvd and you can this is these photos there is a patent for a device in question patent number 3233922. 3233 are the last 4 of my SSN.

It was built on a rectangular parcel near the northeast corner of the intersection of Manhattan Beach Blvd, and Walnut Ave. (Figure I). The rectangular lot measured some 35.4 m.(116') N(S by 11.1 m.(36') EAV. In addition we explored the neighboring lot (927 Manhattan Beach Blvd.) which bordered the preschool lot. extending west of it to the intersection of Walnut Avenue and Manhattan Beach Blvd. (see Figure I). This property, referred to herein as the "side lot", measured about 35.4 m.(ca. 116') N/S and 12.3 m.(ca.20') E/W (Langenwalter, ct al, 1985). ftus the combined two lots measured 35.4 m.(116t) N/S bv 23.4 m.(76') E/W. with a combined total area of 828.4 square meters (S. 747 sq. ft.). This area is hereafter referred to as the "site."

The first construction on the preschool lot (i.e. 931 Manhattan Beach Blvd.) was the "Virginia McMartin Preschool" itself. for which the initial application for a permit was registered in December, 1962 (Permit, 1962). The building was built by C.R. Anderson and Co.. Contractors, who submitted architectural plans which were approved on February 15. 1966 (Blueprint, 1966). The actual construction of the school conformed to those architectural plans (see Figure 1. which is taken directly from the architectural plans) for a singie story• wood-frame and stuccoed wall structure with a fiat. gravel-covered roof. The school was L-shaped and built on a N/S. E,'W basis. Tne long axis of the "L" was perpendicular to Manhattan Beach Blvd. and the short axis of the L. on the north.

As stated in section 1.1 above. the objectives of this archaeological project were to independently and objectively resolve whether or not actual corroborative evidence of the reports cf the children regarding features and data at the preschool could be located and recovered. This was necessitated bv the fact that despite seven years of official investigation, from September, 1983 to July 27. 1990 (USA Today, 1985: Wiley, 1991, p. 88) the tunnel reports of the children and the attendant concerns of the parents were never adequately addressed. The lack of tangible corroborative evidence of the children's reports of subterranean openings was used in court to cast doubt on the credibility of the children's testimony regarding the case in general. Obviously if such corroborative data were to have een discovered and entered into evidence at the appropriate time in the case, they may have been important factors in the jury's final verdicts. However, as the series of events occurred. as described below. no such corroborative evidence was to be forthcoming until our work. Even when it was recovered. it was given no role in the court cases.

The Donegan home 1962 as I start McMartin Preschool in Manhattan Beach City is 584 35th Street Manhattan Beach City, Los Angeles County, California. Bayway was a lifegaurd show about Los Angeles Bay. The dog we had with a Russian name (I was told it was Russian The name “Timisha” is believed to be of modern American origin, often considered a combination of the names “Timothy” and “Aisha.” The name “Timisha” is believed to be of modern American origin, often considered a combination of the names “Timothy” and “Aisha.” “Timothy” is of Greek origin, meaning “honoring God,” and “Aisha” is of Arabic origin, meaning “alive” or “living.” As a result, the fusion creates a unique name that blends traditional and contemporary elements. “Timisha” signifies a vivacious spirit coupled with a sense of reverence, embodying a blend of cultural influences. https://venere.it/en/the-meaning-and-history-of-the-name-timisha/

At about the time of the death of Jen Moore who was revealing the Donegan family story I was documenting and writing law suits of Unwanted Learing Oppotunity, a full video from my motorcyle GoPro cam and screen captures. Timisha the dog I was told kept me from the sharp cliff drops near the ocean where the beach was far below the homes. As I approached a similar scene in my adulthood I was rembering my costal chilhood, playing with sand buckets in coastal tide-pools, etc.,

As I approached an area similar to this a team of fraudsters created a stalked teenage girl and looked at me in rage calling the police (or someone) an "escaped mental health patient" was in the area and thus they the team of fraudsters reported being in a panic. While I have at various times downloaded some teens biking porn or things like it at all those times (and there was never any other times)it was incidental to and included with other downloads like bikin beach bikini bull bikini contests.

Those who stalk and know of me know that though the public does not. The fraud visible in public to panic the public is a supporting creation of faked cirumstances that will bolster the confession of an idenity theft, that identity theft pretendign to be me, will conceed to the wrongdoing I in public seemed to be involved with.

Part of this is simple. South Texas has an culturally, financially, and intelectually austere environment. It is Texas that has been study the Bible and breakin the law while I have studied the law and how the law should be followed. Those in this fraud will ask the very most beuatiful models to come help the poor fake-ed to learn the real beaty of adult women. I was watching Legally Blonde recently in a library. How those white elites wanted other white elite partners! What makes a person desirable. Corpoorate world prepatories that is to say four year educational institutions prep people for the go-getter fast-lane lifestyle. But for some the fast lane is too slow. Gates and Zuckerberg had to drop out of school to get on their life tracks. Those looking for new way to get around an area of the US still in the dark ages was wanting lessons in being Ed Donegan. But Jen Moore and Ted Moore will show that those who allowed or setup a con job smearing me with faked allegations had other deeper motives, and my already unpopular white identitarian beliefs made me an easy target for those with a political grudge against me to rationalize a smear campaign against me and my presence.

Ed Donegan proposes secert tunnels were in a "T" shape spaning Manhattan Beach Blvd and not just an "L" shape on one side of the street as earlier thought. I Ed Donegan also suggest this has to do with pre-school for SSN last four 3233 and that is me.

By use of ground examining equipment used under the floor area a 45 foot tunnel and a 7 foot tunnel were found. They had artifacts dating from about 1960 patented equipment to 1983 Disney toy bags. I Ed Donegan am from one of those families and my mother was one of those relatives under a hidden-identity in North Carolina.

Jen Moore was again saying what Ted Gunderson and John Decamp were saying. In the photos you will see Ted Gunderson believes a CIA operation led by then President George H.W. Bush was in 1988 tied to the same scandal a McMartin in 1987 and it was all some kind of CIA elaborate hoax of children moved around the world in abusive ways from orphanages after being terrorized. State Department passports and secret identities were made up. Villains were completely made up (as Jen Moore notes too) that Alister Crowley to Micheal Aquino were running cult groups encouraged to violence including against children but the police always let them go.

What was the CIA really doing? Per a memo written in 1966 and with some restored readability of its available text the DIA want a group to located talented children for use by the DIA who would disappear in seeming kidnappings and reverse psychology would make anyone identifying the kidnappers as Satanic Cults (that Gunderson and Moore saw through) would be dismissed as lunatics.

The Abominable Mr Rumph has a bad reputation he ears all the time and the information about him gets linked to me when it should not be. His actions while he is in disguise as me will be rumors about, information about me. His character based on his actions will reflect on me because he is disguise as me and often uses my name if not just dressed to look like me. A rather devious system called an Information Doppleganger and you will see Mr Rumphn next to me as he puts on wigs and things so (in a retarded way) he figures he won't get caught. Everything about him is retarded.

I could not even get into Canada. Mr Rumph as always was along with me and beingn confused with me. He had a bad wig, was schizoprhenic, and had like me the only backpack he could find left on the used clothes rack, a high school backpack that he like I tore the emblem off. The baggage of the bus to Canada was search (away from me) and my baggage was damaged. I believe it was made to look like I was in flight from clever police who had outsmarted me again and I was "allowed to leave Canada" according to Canadian officials. In fact the police constantly outsmart Mr Rumpm who has pictures of little girls buttocks and when confronted pays up into a Protection Racket restitution and then with those very smart police go to high end "only the 10s's" very hottest models to see what an adult person should want to see. It is these sex ex course the police take Mr Rumph to.

I am not the only person who know of this loser the the FBI and others are talking down about to others (like they did Candidan officials) He was in apartment buildings i was evicted from each and every time I rented an apartment. I am not the only person who has seen him. Tom Dunham and others have noting a smart friend he once had (me) was being imitated by a loser who seems to discourage protecting children.

The USA. Can't live with it. Can't live without it. These are the typical dirty tricks CONTELPRO has used against activists like myself and are documented in the Brain Glick work The War At Home and the FBI dirty tricks against activists.

FBI and CIA COINTELPRO "black" programs often involve violent group associations, crimes, murders, etc., and Nueces County Texas and its Bible Belt skid row missionary fabric are the type of place CIA and FBI associations with the needed criminal networks form for covert opps.

But it in fact it is the other way around. I am important to them and even a risk to them. I think my family story, my writing it, and my stories threat to them makes me a journalist risk to them and the protection racket use of falsifying smears of who I am exists primarily to damage me. That is not to say that people have not gone along with the Protection Racket because they believe the smear of me OR they get something out of it. Since many white adult sex workers want nothing to do with the right wing they are happy to teach non-white police officers and a local disabled person about goth culture and style. And for the FBI or others they want to learn how to be appealing and fit into and infiltrate that culture. Much of that is actually based on trying to act like me minus the white identitarian politics.

Arc Norther Virginia is part of the Protection Racket and it or ARC of Central Texas or other firms allow their disabled people to substitute for me and that substitute for me agress to payout to poor families and also gets access to cultural coaching.

But if you look beyond the more narrow interest of seeking a sex-worker with a stolen checkbook you find that the abusive allegations that are abusively part of the public treatment of me you find that the hostile environments that brook those allegations and treatment of me have a political interest in stopping my library usage, my computer to write books on, etc., It has been the experience of former FBI Special Agent Geral Sosbee, Ted Gunderson, and others including Jen Moore abusive hostile environments are the manufactured alternatives to safe spaced and part of CIA FBI harassment and are retaliation for attempts to write about government officials.

Using Thug networks for break-ins, illegal acts, gang attacks, and other acts of violence the police won't protect a victim from are the dirty work of dirty policing.

First of all I will show I have been "preempted" a system the FBI and others use a two part system of. First my work and positive aspects like good gym community and politics (most of mine not all of mine are good politics) are cooped by others thus preempting those positive parts of what I do as being valued in me.

Often preempting a person is not just copying from them it is also smearing them and in a certain way such that it seems unlikely that what was was co-opted from a person would have originated from the person it was coopted from.

In short the system is discrediting people. Surveillance of a person then and copying them and smearing them and trying to take over from the person they are copying from and smearing.

I intend to show in this outlay of evidence others than Jen Moore were assassinated by what they said was an FBI CIA scheme covering up the role of global elites in our government and that includes Ted Gunderson and others.

AT the same time I will show that attacks on my books that I am writing are attempts to silence my and deprive me of office equipment, etc., and have been (in the FBI tradition Brain Glick documents in his book The war AT Home) and that all these deaths those connected to me that are unknown as to the public accepting there was a reason behind them and the deaths already known such as the Kennedy Curse and the curse of witness to the investigations of the Kennedy deaths are an integrated fabric the story of my life weaves together. All of this is exist evidence based often with recordings pictures videos public records etc., to be presented in this chapter.

In my case it is pretty easy since I am vary open about sharing ideas and care little about being identified with any "glory" or "worth" that the idea came from me. Mostly I just pick chose things in life and recommend those things I like For instance in music I often say I am a fan without being a musician. Many have copied my many YouTube playlists and I don't blame them and often encouraged it.

That had been part of my gym success and extensive reading on metabolic syndrome and sports fitness was another strength of mine. Many observations I was making such as breathing and drinking habits, nutrition, metabolic cycles in 24 and 72 hours periods following workouts, lean meats, paleo diets etc., I was a constant source of leading trends in recovery and started a few of my own.

I dislike turning to metaphors but I can not complete the picture of this without one easily. What comes most easlity to me is infiormation circuits and lights going from illuminated to dark based on the truth-circuit. If such a chain of things link together the bulb lights up of there is a break in the chain it does not.

In the JFK assassination story tied Allen Dulles and the Donegan's that Jen Moore was telling (while facing death threats) really had two components I will call JMComponent1 and JMComponent2.

JM Component1 is a life saver (lets say made of metal) in a roll of lifesavers that involve other metal disks (JFK, RFK, MLK, Dr. King, and Birther and Free Masonry of old European money) and with the Donegan metal disks in there JMCcomponent1 and JMCompoent2 the entire story lights itself up and for the first time and all the connected events are taken from darkness to light.

JMComponent1 is this is tied to JFK and the Elites need to kill JFK to complete the plans of Allen Dulles in Battleground Indonesia (see Gregg Poulgrain. Some if not most is drawn from other sources including the diary of Maria (Kutschera) that have been increasingly partially fictionalized from early to later versions. One early foreign language film version had her likely pregnant in the Austrian convent. Another possibility is she became pregnant in London passing through on her way to North Carolina USA. Other material is drawn from my family's oral and recorded history, Jen Moroe, presidential libraries, etc.,

Another key source of JFK assassination information about the CIA (and Fort Bragg North Carolina assassinations unit we learn from Robert Groden) is Col Fletcher Prouty a Donegan friend and tied to the JFK assassination conspiracy plot he helped detect and publicize.

I was told by bullies in the area that white people did not belong in that area (though the bully pretended he was talking to his dog - a dog that was not white). Immigrants and others in cooperation with church groups were placing teen and younger females near me and acting out that I should be happy my interests were being fed and bullied as such. I find while some may think this has a real basis in me no more so that the guy who once mistook a male biker with long to be a woman was gay or a person who accepted a few teens here or their had good adult bodies was interest in the less developed. So you can if you look hard enough find a little of that here or there but those few exceptions clearly are overwhelming overshadows by the real rule of my instincts for adult women including when I was underage myself and hoarding adult magazines.

Acting like I am exploitive of underage women by either cover acts or age-of-consent disqualified consent is just plain wrong but good smear campaign material and even profitable false allegations. Only an impersonator me would say otherwise and that is just what this illegal racket employs to fabricate allegations.

It was and is a racket or organized crime to predicate false claims asking for payouts into victims fund run by those who say they were victimized by that old white guy from the far white wing who had moved into the area.

The plan was to get me blacklisted including after hoax events including nooses left around areas I have been. I don't know if that ever happened in Corpus Christi Texas but it has happened around other areas I have been and it is rumored or believed I place them there.

This is intended to be an evidentiary exposition of surviving evidence. Witness statements on the record before and after witness deaths, existing documents of historical events that involve the Kennedy family deaths as part of this tory of Allen Dulles and the CIA, and existing known and unknown espionage and black-budge (covert mafia activities in some cases such as here a Protection Racket pilfering on false predicates) and the deep secrets of US history the most powerful lf US leaders are trying to hid their connections with.

My evidence presented to you is the same evidence she presented to you but I will name names. She did not tell you about the person living on 850 N. Randolph St Arlington Virginia USA but I will.

My mother? Let me tell you about my mother. She was born under the name Glorian Gainey in North Carolina 1926. It appears her story (and her and my disease) part of the FOXP2 gene and The Kings Speech. That was a movie of King George V in his suitor Mary Bowles-Lyon working to overcome FOXP2 symptoms, of mind and speech.

There are “out of wedlock” births of famous, rich, or “noble” families those families have denied for reasons of preserving the reputation and character and marriages of very powerful figures who in the glamorous spotlight did philander.

The story my mother of North Carolina though is the story of my father born in Dorchester Massachusetts to a once prosperous father who had lost all. Him in the same church as the Kennedy’s got a lucky break with WWII as service assignments go the prestigious (and in any service job dangerous) role of P-51 Mustang pilot flying recon over Europe to guide bombers, most likely to strafe Japan before the atomic bombing, and be part of the reconnaissance role of the first and second bombing wings.

He certainly knew Col Fletcher Prouty later (as I did) in Massachusetts and likely knew him in the post bombing of Japan work Prouty took up shortly after the surrender of Japan. My father was still flying in the Cold War and Korean War likely using ASTUGI Japan that is the frontwards “home” airstation of non-contested Allied space.

We can start with who Jen Moore was, how she started her life, what she did during her life and how it came to an end the way it did.

Jen Moore began her work (germane to this story) in the city of Tracy in an agricultural area of California. That itself is perhaps one thing she and I had in common and it brings to mind something (a bookshelf piece) I want you to keep in mind. When I introduce several pieces of visual evidence it may be the most important evidence I will ask you to consider.

It involves sex crimes and among the most important work Jen Moore did was as a sex crimes investigator. Perhaps at one time or another she became involved in the facts of one of my dumber actions. I close friend of mine a fellow Cal State Hayward student and also a friend was a true life friend of mine at that time sharing drinks, laughs, good times, and good music. During that time and while she was engaged and not particularly have any sort of crush on her but because she was so lovely I peeped on her from an opportunity related to construction (allowing for a camera) in the bathroom. She caught me and treated it nicely even throwing me a few "shots" of frivolous flirt and there was some heavy petting at times with us during her off and on relationship with her real partner and soon husband to be.

That was back in the 1980's and much later for me and for her she became involve in other issues thought that reputation would not leave me.

She was fighting as a police officer rapists, violent offenders of all types and the ruggedest mentally, physically, and for her especially spiritually some of the most difficult to endure sagas of suffering.

Jen Moore eventually left Tracy Police Department disabled from physical and emotionally traumatic battery and went to pursue and receive a Master's Degree in Psychology and there we meet again.

One of her specialty was Borderline Personality and the secret

OSS CIA history of psychiatry going back to Vienna Austria, Frued, Jung, and many others who had CIA code names they worked under during MKULTRA in research that want far back even to WWI and its history.

Glorian Donegan (born Glorian Gainey) and I have FOXP2 gene most likely. A combination (co-morbid that means coexisting in a person) ADHD Dyslexia and some or fewer other symptoms perhaps. IT is not that uncommon even occurring in very "elite" families. Vice President Nelson Rockefeller and what he said about it … we'll let us just hear from him on this.

“DON’T ACCEPT ANYONE’S VERDICT THAT YOU ARE LAZY, STUPID, OR RETATDED”

(The author stands as proof that youngsters can overcome learning disabilities.)

By former Vice President Nelson A. Rockefeller

Those watching the Public Broadcasting Service program on “The Puzzle Children” Will include a very interesting Vice-President of the United States.

For I was one of the “puzzle children” myself - a dyslexic, or “reverse reader” - and I still have a hard time reading today.

But after coping with this problem for more than 60 years, I have a message of encouragement for children with learning disabilities - and their parents.

Based on my own experience, my message to dyslexic children is this:

Don't accept anyone's verdict that you are lazy, stupid, or retarded. You may very well be smarter that most other children your age.

- Just remember Woodrow Wilson, Albert Einstein, and Leonardo da Vinci also had tough problems with their reading.

- You can learn to cope with your problem and turn your so called disability into a positive advantage.

Dyslexia forced me to develop powers of concentration that have been invaluable throughout my career in business, philanthropy, and public life.

And I've done an enormous amount of reading and public speaking, especially in political campaigns for Governor of New York and President of the United States.

No one had ever heard of dyslexia when I discovered as a boy, along about the third grade, that reading was such a difficult chore that I was in the bottom one-third of my class.

None of the educational, medical and psychological help available today for dyslexics was available in those days.

We had no special teachers or tutors, no special classes or courses, no special methods of teaching - because nobody understood our problem.

Along with an estimated three million other children, I just struggled to understand words that seemed to garble before my eyes, numbers that came our backwards, sentences that were hard to grasp.

And so I accepted the verdict of the IQ tests that I wasn't as bright as most of the rest of my class at the Lincoln School in New York City.

Fortunately for me, the school (though it never taught me to spell) was an experimental, progressive institution with the flexibility to let you develop your own interests and follow them.

More to the point, I had a wise and understanding counselor in Dr. Otis W. Caldwell, the headmaster.

"Don't worry," he said, "just because you're in the lower third of the class. You've got the intelligence. If you just work harder and concentrate more, you can make it."

So I learned, through self-discipline, to concentrate, which in my opinion is essential for a dyslexic.

While I could speak better French than the teacher, because I'd learned it as a child, I couldn't conjugate the verbs; I did flunk Spanish - but now can speak it fluently because I learned it by ear, later, at the Berlitz School.

My best subject was mathematics: I understood concepts well beyond my grade level. But it took only one reversed number in a column of figures to cause havoc.

When I came close to flunking out in the ninth grade - because I didn't work very hard that year - I decided that I had better follow Dr. Caldwell's advice if I wanted to go to college.

I even told my high school girl friend that we would have to stop dating so I could spend the time studying in order to get into Dartmouth.

And I made it by the skin of my teeth.

I made it simply by working harder and longer that the rest - eventually learning to concentrate sufficiently to compensate for my dyslexia in reading.

I adopted a regimen of getting up at 5 a.m. to study, and studying without fail. And thanks to my concentration and the very competitive nature I was born with, I found my academic performance gradually improving.

In my freshman year at Dartmouth, I was even admitted to a third-year physics course. And in the middle of my sophomore year, I received two A's and three B's for the first semester. My father's letters were filled with joy and astonishment.

I owe a great debt to my professors and to President Ernest M. Hopkins. I had met Dr. Hopkins earlier and was so impresses that I made Dartmouth my goal. Most of all, however, I think I owe my academic improvement to my roommate, Johnny French.

Johnny and I were exact opposites. He was reticent, and had the highest IQ in the class. To me, he was that maddening type who got straight A's with only occasional reference to books or classes. He was absolutely disgusted by my study habits - anybody who got up at 5 in the morning to hit the books was, well, peculiar.

Inevitably, Johnny made Phi Beta Kappa in our junior year, but my competitive instincts kept me going. We were both elected to senior fellowships and I made Phi Beta Kappa in my senior year.

Johnny, of course, had the last word. He announced that he would never ware his PBK key again - that it had lost all meaning.

Looking back over the years, I remember vividly the pain and mortification I felt as a boy of 8, when I was assigned to read a short passage of Scripture at a community vesper service during summer vacation in Main - and did a thoroughly miserable job of it.

I know what a dyslexic child goes through - the frustration of not being able to do what other children co easily, the humiliation of being thought not too bright when such is not the case at all.

My personal discoveries as to what is required to cope with dyslexia could be summarized in these admonitions to the individual dyslexic:

► Accept the fact that you have a problem - don't just try to hide it.

► Refuse to feel sorry for yourself.

► Realize that you don't have an excuse - you have a challenge.

► Face the challenge.

► Work harder and learn mental discipline - the capacity for total concentration - and ► Never Quit.

If it helps a dyslexic to know I went through the same thing …

► But can conduct press conferences today in three languages …

► And can read a speech on television

► (Though I may have to rehearse it six times …

► (With my script in large type …

► (And my sentences broken into segments like these …

► (And long words broken into syllables) …

► And to win Congressional confirmation as Vice President of the United States …

Then I hope the telling of my story as a dyslexic child could be an inspiration to the “puzzle children” - for that’s what I really care about.

By Vice President Nelson A. Rockefeller (“The Puzzle Children” was a special on learning disabilities (Attention Deficit Disorder, Hyperactivity, Dyslexia. These do differ from retardation or bipolar disorder by can be clinically mistaken for those pathologies) telecast on most PBS stations. It was hosted by Julie Andrews and Bill Bixby.)

My (Edward Paul Donegan's) parents nor I could understand why I couldn't focus on my school work either and I was certainly very passionate about many things I was motivated but grades were always a problem and there were other problems to like being a good kid that could be wonderful but also become a terribly out of control child that could not be reasoned with. I was carried aswy by unstable emotions that were even a suprise to my rational mind that wondered why they were there doubting why things got to me that much (that internal argument between competing brain voices is a symptom of the emotions and intellect competing and a diagnostic criteria.)

Of course Julie Andrews was a quite famous "mom" to children. In the Sound of Music she played Maria Kutschera who in Austria leaves the convent (I think while pregnant) to live with Captain Von Trapp and his children. His first wife and mother of the chidlren Agatah Whitehead had died and a woman around the house was needed and in fact the soon married and moved to North Carolina.

Julie Andrews who played the ex-novitiate singing coach the the children later visited the Salzburg Austria home and spoke of the horrors the Marias' uncle Franz Kutchera and Himmler had fro early visits to the estate in 1926 and after the Von Trapp departure in 1926 had taken over the villa in Hitler's Eagle Nest mountains of Austia as the command post. That was right there in the area of Bavaria the classic Austria-Germanic hills people in the Eagle's Nest of Nazi High Command inside the villas right at Hitler's feet (per Jen Moore talking about the history of Maria Kutchera and Glorian Donegan) in Hidden Identities and Nazi Infiltrators into US politics.

Julie Andrews trained since birth as a vocalsit sang for the Queen of England at very young age, never knew who her father was but was born in Walton-on-Thames a town also known as Walton just 15 miles from Central London. Here is what is said Julia Elizabeth Wells[8] was born on 1 October 1935 in Walton-on-Thames, Surrey, England.[9][10] Her mother, Barbara Ward Wells (née Morris; 25 July 1910[11]-1984) was born in Chertsey[12] and married Edward Charles "Ted" Wells (1908-1990), a teacher of metalwork and woodwork, in 1932.[13] Andrews was conceived as a result of an affair her mother had with a family friend. Andrews learned of her true parentage from her mother in 1950,[14][15] although it was not publicly disclosed until her 2008 autobiography.[16]

Julie Andrews is quoted as " J IS FOR JOHN "My brother, John Wells, two years younger than I, is a jet pilot in the Royal Air Force, just married and stationed in Nigeria. John is dark and handsome, droll and funny. He's my full brother. Actually, my true name is Julia Wells, but that didn't have the right ring for the music hall. Andrews is my stepfather's surname. I have two half-brothers, too-Donald Andrews, 23, a member of the Rhodesian police, and 19-year-old Chris Andrews, who's coming to America soon to study photography-and a half-sister, Celia Wells, 20.

"I've seen John only three times in the past ten years, and I long to hear his giggle, which is the most wonderful throaty chuckle in the world, completely infectious. When I hear him giggling, I giggle too, and we're helpless. He laughs so hard he has to lean against a wall, and very often he'll sink on his knees in a heap.

"Years pass, yet when John and I see each other it seems as though we were together only yesterday."

The only reason I introduce that tidbit here as that later I am going to talk about Cecil Rhodes and the effort to colonize around the world that was part of British pride of that super-power nation.

Now back to more immediate timeline focus of research Jen Moore was doing on generational studies of this form of developmental issue that did realte to British and other royal families.

To understand the Submarine hero and Captain Von Trapp and his former wife Agatha Whitehead and Great Britain connections a recognition of naval battles and naval intelligence is necessary.

Much has been made of a former FBI agent Guy Bannister and his anti-communist work. But Jim Garrison went even further into Bannister's background and I introduce some that through the Garrison book On the Trail of the Assasins.

… About a week after Oswald's Canal Street arrest, I recalled, someone arranged for him to participate in a radio debate on station WDSU. The subject was, essentially, capitalism versus communism. Oswald represented the left-wing position and duly portrayed himself on the taped program as a Marxist. After Kennedy's assassination, and less than a week after Oswald in turn was murdered, copies of the tape were sent to members of Congress as proof positive that a communist had killed the President.

Could it have been Banister or one of his associates, I wondered, who had arranged for the debate and taped it? Could it have been Banister who sent it to Congress? If Oswald was working under Banister's direction that summer, it was clear that neither his pamphleting nor his radio debating were intended to convert anyone to the cause of Marxism. Rather, they were designed to accomplish only one thing: to create a highly visible public profile for Lee Harvey Oswald as a communist.

I turned away from Banister's old office and looked across Lafayette Street, where the U.S. Post Office Building loomed. Occupying an entire city block, it was majestic and timeless in contrast to its decayed, weatherbeaten surroundings. The building housed the New Orleans Secret Service operation. And, I now recalled, upstairs was the New Orleans headquarters of the Offce of Naval Intelligencet - the organization I had been musing about the night before in relation to Oswald's Marine intelligence training. Was it just coincidence, I asked myself, that Guy Banister, who had begun his career in World War II with the O.N.I., had chosen an offce right across the street from his old employers? Just as much a coincidence, I supposed, as the location of his previous private detective offce - directly across the street from the New Orleans offces of the C.I.A. and the F.B.I.

I walked down Lafayette Street, toward the Mississippi River, to look at two other addresses on the 600 block of Magazine Street that I had noted from my reading about Lee Oswald's movements. One was the Reily Coffee Company, where Oswald had been listed as an employee in 1963, shortly before his famous emergence on the city streets handing out circulars calling for fair play for Fidel Castro. You would have to be practically a stranger to the city not to know that William Reily, the coffee company's president, had actively supported the anti-Castro movement for years.

As I walked around the small coffee company building, I wondered whether Lee Oswald actually had labored there as a "second oiler" as company records had indicated, or whether the firm simply had been his nesting place until it was time for him to fulfill his ill-fated assignment as an agent provocateur for Guy Banister. …

What few knew but she did is that distant relatives being secretly watched by powerful families had a lot to do with orphanages scandals like McMartin School the CIA is said to have been involved in, Boys Town in Franklin Nebraska, and other locations the powerful elite have been able to impose a Conspiracy of Silence. Ted Gunderson asserts his partner in the investigation William Colby of the CIA Family Jewels program was killed by the CIA FBI because he was whistle-blowing the scandals and lending his names to questioning the many deaths of children and Franklin Nebraska officials and investigators.

A veteran journalist who was investigating possible [politically connected and politically] sex crimes from former President Bill Clinton is said to have been found dead in Washington D.C.

Prince George's County Police Department released a statement to One American News (AONN) regarding Jenny Moore's death investigation saying officers found a woman unresponsive at a Washington DC hotel after a welfare check.

The department claims the woman was pronounced dead at the scene. One America's Neil W McCabe breaks down the case.

FBI whistle blower Robyn grits told one American News her friend Jen Moore told her that if the wrong people found out about the documents, she had just obtained they would kill her.

Gritz did not know what those documents (the were the story of Edward Donegan and Glorian Donegan) were but she does know that the FBI called her August 13th to tell her that her friend was dead this is the Capitol Heights Maryland hotel where Moore was found unresponsive by housekeeping.

Grit said that she never knew Moore's last name but that the police called her because she had listed the veteran FBI agent as the next of kin.

"On Monday I was sitting towards the end of the day no sitting at my desk at work and I looked down and a lot of messages were coming in myself up and so I looked at on Twitter someone had messaged me you do know task force is that task force was the nickname for Moore and grits said that she used it instead of her name to protect her craite said that she thought it was all a sick joke but after calling around she confirmed that task force had passed and then the phone rang it was a detective from Prince George's County Police Department and really really nice guy and he said I got your name and number to get her next-of-kin and he he just said you know this poor woman he goes suicide is it's pretty much ruled out nothing to indicate suicide nothing to indicate a forced entry nothing to indicate of any kind of physical confrontation.

the initial call was that Moore had suffered a seizure she said Robin Gretz was not just any FBI veteran for 16 years she was a top agent assigned to high-profile cases such as the Boston Marathon bombing and posted as the FBI's liaison officer to the Defense Intelligence Agency six years ago. She filed a gender discrimination complaint but instead of addressing her concerns the FBI put her on unpaid leave and has slow walked her case.

Using her skills she used Moore's phone number to find three of the reporters relatives and passed on their details to the detective it was this personal history that formed the bond between the two women as more herself was a former California police officer who was targeted by her leadership.

Truepundit.com reported that Moore had come to them about the child molestation ring she was investigating with the help of a 26 year-old who said he was passed around the ring in the 1990s .

I said you know you need to kind of focus on what you have here that is the most needed and and I thought you talked to someone ..

Brett McCabe said she never knew what Moore was working on but she did know it was getting serious in the middle of doing all this research she realized she was possibly getting into some pretty dark places so she and she had documentation for everything so she texted me and said I got to find out who I can give this paperwork to and if it gets into the wrong hands someone will kill me and that was just I could say that was only about to speak before her her death was when she said if it gets in the wrong hands at one point she offered to take in more at her place in the Midwest but more never followed up on it she said now she is mourning a friend and fellow traveler I would describe and I actually just picked it up a little thing for her kind heart fierce minded brave spirit that's exactly how I would describe Jenny.

Nelson Rockefeller seemed like a nice person and acted nice toards children. He lost a son in Indonesia in 1961 and JFK who was president of the usa then assured him all that could be done would be done.

Here is some background on that because we are going to be hearing from the works of Greg Poulgrain and others the Presidency and the CIA in Indonesia and Col Prouty (who we the Donegan's knew) also have information we will introduce for consideration here.

Michael Rockefeller retrieved from Wikipedia and copied or modified to here

Michael Rockefeller (May 18, 1938; disappeared November 19, 1961) was a member of the Rockefeller family. He was the son of New York Governor and later

U.S. Vice President Nelson Rockefeller, a grandson of American financier John D. Rockefeller Jr. and a great-grandson of Standard Oil co-founder John D. Rockefeller Sr.

What is Good? Or Evil? A military commander may make a command decision costing lives. Wars may be prevented by the assasination of a aggressively minded dictator. In the Cold War following WWII was it Good to ally with the combinatioo of forces and methods that defeated the Nazi War Machine and later use its scientists in the USA to defeat the USSR?

We don't know that becase these are largely unsolvable questions of philsophy and politics and morality. What we do know is that very powerful people act under a variety of reasons. The Rockefellers including the son lost in Indonesia felt world cultural bonding and influences could prevent WWIII and many were more connected to the history of WWII adn even WWI than the American War for Independence from Great Brittian.

Those who shot JFK thought they were doing Good or perhaps a necessary evil if the Cold War was going to be won.

Indonesia and the war the US covertly fought within its borders is going to be a central part of the Donegan and Jen Moore dark secrets. Col Fletcher Prouty who worte the books about the assassination of JFI and the desire of the CIA to control the world also wrote numerous articles one being "Indonesia 1958: Nixon, the CIA, and the Secret War" By L. Fletcher Prouty.

* 1) Could Micheal Rockefeller been killed by Indonesian Nationalists and 2) if not might he have held me when I was a newborn on Los Angeles County California at in the Santomica Beach City area (Inglewood district of Manhattan Beach City Los Angeles County)? **

BirthCertZ is zoom photo on the key area of my birth certificate November 19, 1961 in Los Angeles County California, Inglewood neighborhood area of Manhattan Beach City that is next to Santa Monica Beach City that JFK was staying at and Patricia Kennedy and her husband English actor Peter Lawford lived at. In JFK JFK, Dave Powers and others were there with JFK escorting him as he was in town for at least one thing the Democrat Party Fundraiser dinner.

Here is a little on Peter Lawford rich son of Lt. General (second in command reporting to the Captain General on the same battlefied) Sydney Turing Barlow Lawford. Peter Lawford was his only son. Sydney Turing Barlow Lawford served in the Second Boer War in South Africa, commanding the 19th battalion of Mounted Infantry, and was promoted to major on 21 November 1900. Following the end of the war he received the brevet rank of lieutenant-colonel on 22 August 1902, before he returned home on the SS Briton the following month. He received his colonelcy in 1912 and became the commandant of the School of Mounted Infantry at Longmoor. His military nickname was 'Swanky Syd', apparently derived from his habit of donning full dress regalia, including all of his medal entitlement, regularly.[6] He was knighted in the field.[7] Field Marshal Earl Douglas Haig noted in his personal diary in early 1915 the following assessment of Lawford as a General: "I was at Sandhurst with Lawford, ... although endowed with no great ability, he is hard fighting and plucky."

After the war Lawford received promotion to the rank of Lieutenant-General, and was posted to the British India Army. He retired in 1926.

This was a period of independence versus colonialism struggle. Assuming leadership of the Indian National Congress in 1921, Gandhi led nationwide campaigns for easing poverty, expanding women's rights, building religious and ethnic amity, ending untouchability, and, above all, achieving swaraj or self-rule.

While serving in India in the early 1920s, and while still married to Muriel, he fell in love with the wife of one of his officers, May Somerville Aylen (4 November 1883 - 23 January 1972), and she became pregnant with his child. Colonel Ernest Aylen, May's husband, upon hearing this news, divorced her over the scandal.[10] General Lawford and Muriel divorced. He then married May Aylen, and their child, the actor Peter Lawford, was born in 1923, when his father was 58 years of age. The Lawfords returned to England but the scandal eventually drove the family to settle in France, and they then moved to the United States in the late 1930s.

Was Peter Lawford some kind of Rich Weirdo? He was unusual even by Hollywood standards. "Famous for being Famous." Like his father General Lawford always well and even over-dressed. A British actor with a reputation of a leading man that was married to Patricia Kennedy sister of Senator and President JFK their father former Ambassador to Great Britain. JFK was there at the Lawford estatge for fundraising and he could assemble donors to the JFK LBJ headed Democrat Party as the 1962 elections loomed.

When Peter Lawford was child he fell through a French door and cut his right arm very badly; consequently, he never regained full use of his right arm and hand. Thus, he was turned down as unfit for military duty and did not serve during World War II. In the gay rich weirdo house it is said some would give their right arm for the privildge of being in the lab where I think JFK as Frankenfer and LBJ as Riff Raff and Betty Donegan and James Paul Donegan and others are mixed up with making a new life form artificially.

In some cases art mirrors life such as in The Manchurian Candidate 1962 and Jet Pilot and the Rocky Horror Picture Show that is set in the years between 1961 and 1963 at Peter Lawford's Santa Monica home in the shadow of Joseph Kennedy Sr's business RKO Theaters and the events I assert were a Strong Man for Indonesia being prepped by the CIA for a Banana Republic.

The scene is set as rich donors gather for a back tie Democrat Party fundraiser in Santa Monica the conventioneers and the party at the home the attendees are staying at.

This does not rely on how movies like Manchurian Candidate and Rocky Horror are in retrospect erie story lines. The data her is in the files that exist from the Donegan's, Kennedy's, public and Whithouse records, and in Organized Crime ties to blatantly illegal government programs and the hiddden identity of James, Glorian, and Ed Donegan from WWI, WWII, and the Cold War.

Another file here is a picture of my mother Glo as she was known Glorian Donegan born Glorian Gainey North Carolina (just as Dean Rusk was there in North Carolina at Davidson College in 1926) and that image file is Glo.

Inglewood is part of GLo Donegan and my story but part of my father's (biological and sole father) story as well. He was a P-51 Pilot and later F-86. The Pursuit Planes (P series in the old days) could pursue other fighters to identify other plans (recon) or engage them (fighters.) The small fast planes were nimble and dangerous. https://youtu.be/qdiIFkPzm9E?si=yyRwL9b1q6aM2dX2 Joseph Albert Walker (February 20, 1921 - June 8, 1966) (Capt, USAF) was an American World War II pilot, experimental physicist, NASA test pilot, and astronaut who was the first person to fly an airplane to space. He was one of twelve pilots who flew the North American X-15, an experimental spaceplane jointly operated by the Air Force and NASA. In 1961, Walker became the first human in the mesosphere when piloting Flight 35, and in 1963, Walker made three flights above 50 miles, thereby qualifying as an astronaut according to the United States definition of the boundary of space. During World War II, Walker flew the Lockheed P-38 Lightning fighter and F-5A Lightning photo aircraft (a modified P-38) on weather reconnaissance flights. Walker earned the Distinguished Flying Cross once, awarded by General Nathan Twining in July 1944, and the Air Medal with seven oak leaf clusters.

Test pilot career Walker (L) with his fellow test pilots Butchart (C) and Jones (R), 1952 Joe Walker and the X-1A

After World War II, Walker separated from the Army Air Forces and joined the National Advisory Committee for Aeronautics (NACA) Aircraft Engine Research Laboratory in Cleveland, Ohio, as an experimental physicist. While in Cleveland, Walker became a test pilot, and he conducted icing research in flight, as well as in the NACA icing wind tunnel. He transferred to the High-Speed Flight Research Station in Edwards, California, in 1951.[citation needed] The NASA Neil A. Armstrong Flight Research Center (AFRC) is an aeronautical research center operated by NASA. Its primary campus is located inside Edwards Air Force Base in California and is considered NASA's premier site for aeronautical research.[1] AFRC operates some of the most advanced aircraft in the world and is known for many aviation firsts, including supporting the first crewed airplane to exceed the speed of sound in level flight (Bell X-1),[2] highest speed by a crewed, powered aircraft (North American X-15),[3][4] the first pure digital fly-by-wire aircraft (F-8 DFBW),[5] and many others. AFRC operates a second site next to Air Force Plant 42 in Palmdale, California, known as Building 703, once the former Rockwell International/North American Aviation production facility.[6] There, AFRC houses and operates several of NASA's Science Mission Directorate aircraft including SOFIA (Stratospheric Observatory For Infrared Astronomy), a DC-8 Flying Laboratory, a Gulfstream C-20A UAVSAR and ER-2 High Altitude Platform.[1] As of 2023, Bradley Flick is the center's director.[7]

Established as the National Advisory Committee for Aeronautics Muroc Flight Test Unit (1946), the center was subsequently known as the NACA High-Speed Flight Research Station (1949), the NACA High-Speed Flight Station (1954), the NASA High-Speed Flight Station (1958) and the NASA Flight

Research Center (1959). On 26 March 1976, the center was renamed the NASA Ames-Dryden Flight Research Center (DFRC)[8] after Hugh L. Dryden, a prominent aeronautical engineer who died in office as NASA's deputy administrator in 1965 and Joseph Sweetman Ames, who was an eminent physicist, and served as president of Johns Hopkins University. The facility took its current name on 1 March 2014, honoring Neil Armstrong, a former test pilot at the center and the first human being to walk on the Moon. Thomas Neil Donegan T.N. Donegan was named for Thomas Jefferson and Neil Armstrong.

Walker served for 15 years at the Edwards Flight Research Facility - now called the Neil A. Armstrong Flight Research Center. By the mid-1950s, he was a Chief Research Pilot. Walker worked on several pioneering research projects. He flew in three versions of the Bell X-1: the X-1#2 (two flights, first on August 27, 1951), X-1A (one flight), X-1E (21 flights). When Walker attempted a second flight in the X-1A on August 8, 1955, the rocket aircraft was damaged in an explosion just before being launched from the JTB-29A mothership. Walker was unhurt, though, and he climbed back into the mothership with the X-1A subsequently jettisoned.[citation needed]

My (Edward Paul Donegan's) books go into extesive detail on the partnership of Great Brittain who licensed the Rolls-Royce Spitfire 16 cylinder engine to the Packard Motors for use in North American Aviation P-51 air-frame to produce this war winning plane that repelled German aircraft from England and led the fight back over Nazi Occupied Europe in the battle for air supremacy and protecting bombers. That information can be found online.

Interestingly enough there was a meeting between Thorkil Kristen and JFK and George Ball of the State Department February 20, 1961 about economic development of lesser developed countries and they intended to meet again in about 9 months that would be about November 19, 1961 the day of my birth certificate.

Thorkil Kristensenwas Secretary General of the OECD from 1960-1969. The Organisation for Economic Co-operation and Development (OECD; French: Organisation de coopération et de développement économiques, OCDE) is an intergovernmental organisation with 38 member countries,[1][4] founded in 1961 to stimulate economic progress and world trade. It is a forum whose member countries describe themselves as committed to democracy and the market economy, providing a platform to compare policy experiences, seek answers to common problems, identify good practices, and coordinate domestic and international policies of its members.

TwoNine (Two months and Nine months after that and 11 (November is the eleventh month) are the two image files of public records I show here to connect a planned birth I think for the economic development of Indonesia. I am progressing slowly in the out-lay of facts here and I will not at this time and probably not in this chapter speak of President Barrack Obama Jr's success in the economic recovery program or growth of the Stock Market under him. It leave it his detractors to do that instead.

I am going to assert in this book a plan was underway for Indonesia the CIA was backing and Barrack Obama Jr. was someone they wanted to place as child there so he could become an Agent of Influence there.

Donald Barr of the OSS and CIA (and father of William Barr) was headmaster of the Dalton School from 1964 to 1974.[9] During his time as Dalton's headmaster, Barr is alleged to have had a role in hiring future financier and convicted sex offender Jeffrey Epstein as a math teacher despite the fact that Epstein (who graduated from high school at the age of 16 and secured a full scholarship to Cooper Union) had failed to complete his degree and was only 21 years old at the time. In 1973, Barr published Space Relations, a science fiction novel about a planet ruled by oligarchs who engage in child sex slavery. It has been noted that the plot of the novel anticipates the crimes of Epstein and his convicted and prosecuted accomplice (the list of politicians and celebrities involved in sex crimes remains hidden), Ghislaine Maxwell. -Wikipeda

Did Donald Barr and Chauncey Holt through Joseph Kennedy Sr have a WWII OSS CIA relationship? Hot while in Balitmore Maryland during the war did illustratoins for medical works. At Hopkins, Lashley minored in psychology under John B. Watson, whom he continued to work closely with him after receiving his PhD. It was during this time that Lashley worked with Shepherd Ivory Franz and was introduced to his training/ablation method. Watson had a great deal of influence on Lashley. Together the two conducted field experiments and studied the effects of different drugs on maze learning of rats.[4] Watson helped Lashley to focus on specific problems in learning and experimental investigation, followed by locating the area of the cerebrum involved in learning and discrimination.

After obtaining his Bachelor of Arts at West Virginia University, Lashley was awarded a teaching fellowship at the University of Pittsburgh, where he taught biology along with biological laboratories. While there he also carried out research which he used for his master's thesis.[4] Once Lashley completed his master's degree, he studied at Johns Hopkins University, where he received his PhD in genetics in June 1911. He became a professor at University of Minnesota, University of Chicago, and Harvard University.

mechanisms and how they were related to sense receptors. He also conducted work on instinct as well as color vision. He studied many animals and primates, which had been an interest since his freshman year at college.

John Broadus Watson (January 9, 1878 - September 25, 1958) was an American psychologist who popularized the scientific theory of behaviorism, establishing it as a psychological school.[2] Watson advanced this change in the psychological discipline through his 1913 address at Columbia University, titled Psychology as the Behaviorist Views It.[3] Through his behaviorist approach, Watson conducted research on animal behavior, child rearing, and advertising, as well as conducting the controversial "Little Albert" experiment and the Kerplunk experiment. He was also the editor of Psychological Review from 1910 to 1915.[4] A Review of General Psychology survey, published in 2002, ranked Watson as the 17th most cited psychologist of the 20th century.

The Little Albert experiment was a study that mid-20th century psychologists interpret as evidence of classical conditioning in humans. The study is also claimed to be an example of stimulus generalization although reading the research report shows that fear did not generalize by color or tactile qualities.[1] It was carried out by John B. Watson and his graduate student, Rosalie Rayner, at Johns Hopkins University. The results were first published in the February 1920 issue of the Journal of Experimental Psychology.

After observing children in the field, Watson hypothesized that the fearful response of children to loud noises [environmental traumatic stressors] is an innate (inherited genetic trait) unconditioned (non skinnerian) response. He wanted to test the notion that by following the principles of the procedure now known as "classical conditioning", he could use this unconditioned response to condition a child to fear a distinctive stimulus that normally would not be feared by a child (in this case, furry objects).[2] However, he admitted in his research article that the fear he generated was neither strong nor lasting.

The aim of Watson and Rayner was to condition a phobia in an emotionally stable child.[3] For this study, they chose a nine-month-old infant from a hospital. The child was referred to as "Albert" for the experiment.[4] Watson followed the procedures which Ivan Pavlov had used in his experiments with dogs. - Wikipedia

I Edward Donegan do assert there was a test birth underway (testing remote biological relatives of Price Albert George VI and that if successful might groom Barrack Obama Jr. for Indonesia. There is a picture that is rather laughable and meant to be of someone who looks like Donald Barr holding and experimental monkey and there is something interesting in the background of that photo taken at the White House of a man in a labcoat. The OSS and CIA teams were working on under-cover hidden identities genetic experiments.

My Brother? Let me tell you about my brother

He did not have volatile emotions. I did and my mother did. We were sort of a Twins study in our own right shaing parents but half the offspring had FOXP2 and have did not. Him, his side of the offspring. I assert there was a third birth and that was Barrack Obama Jr who in a flip of the coin did not have FOXP2. I can describe my brother Tom Donegan's untimely death by an allegory.

The allegory of the Vulture and the Harpie. All Tom Donegan hated in his life was the CIA, JP Morgan, and other of the families that funded the overthrow of Chile and comitted other international acts of terror. American Field Service exchange candidates used at Head-Royce high school was an eye-opener for him.

Those were the Vultures. JP Morgan, Cecil Rhodes, and others. They created Harpies they acted through, smaller birds that did the deeds JP Morgan needed but JP Morgan wanted to hide himself from. JP Morgan, Rockefeller, and others created interbreeding studies that allowed covert-indirect rule of births to people like Barrack Obama Jr. to maybe Obama Sr of Kenya or Malcom X Agent of Influence in Saudi Arabia or other families Obama Jr might be born into or raised in like Indonesia and be accepted in that country.

These were the Harpies that really attacked independent nations. The Vulture also being a Bird may also defend the Harpie at the Harpie's request if publicliy asked for. The Vulture may also kill some of the Harpies if they are a threat.

Tom Donegan was a threat. Harpies have been used on me too and are run by Vultures. The feed on false allegations me etc., by Harpies attacking me. If I attack back at the Harpie the most honorable Vulture will defend its own kind. I think Tom Donegan was asked into an Agent of Influence role back in the post Head-Royce High school days and became a part of MKULTRA but knew too much about the program for him to be left alive, he died of canver a few years ago.

Much of my book detail FBI, CIA, local police, local fire, and street thug coordinated Gang Stalks that are a system of Zersetzung. How do you cripple, arrest, defame, politically smear a person whom you (as a government official) fear but have not case against?

The blacklisting and frauds and identity theft using my identity for wrongful acts is all hoaxes and staged appearances and this preemption team was creating the hoaxes. In my case my unpopular politics helped.

Several tied to Mark Gonzales and Nueces Social Services were found dead who were part of imitating me as being mentally retarded or the acts of a retard seeking children of his own developmental level. Bobby Courtney was asked to talk to little girls around the Corpus Christi Harbor and Sea Wall and he did. He was also taken to strip clubs in Corpus Christi Nueces County Texas and shown what women's "boobies" were and asked to feel them

Jimmy had a part time job at a florist shop but was chronically homeless and at bus stop engaged in conversation with me suggesting I had planted video equipment inside a child's doll and wasn't just like Barrack Obama a little monkey doll?

Both Jimmy and Bobby died in violent street beatings i beliew were conducted by a street thugh calling himself Casper the Ghost. A skid row thug I did not know frequently he threated me with a gun and suggested he was a war hero.

Before Bobby died he pointed to the Nueces building this DA and adjoining police building were working out of and said it was the Mexican Mafia running these events from those buildings. I did hear Mexican Mafi as from that town and fro San Antonia as the various barrio crew were bragging about the connections including to DHS and the FBI.

Veronica Hoffman was a Los Angeles Dominatrix who died in a pschyward and I assert before I came to Texas and from San Francisco days had been part of an earlier operation that was very similar to this. I met the Jewish rising star Cyber-Goth model at parties of that type my own associations SF Goth were also at and overlapped with the swingers community.

I and a few of the older SF Goths had fairly hardened older male cynicism that was not at all shared by all and in most ways I did not try to act as Goth scene member and really didn't care taht much but to the (inadvertent on my behalf) alarm of sociologists I did show groups like VNV Nation Victory Not Vengeance were seeking not criminal post racial entrancement of German culture without any repercussions and like me welcomed and considered non white membership both original and welcome.

My view is the COINTELPRO targeting my white identitariansim is both exaggerated and insincere. The deeper issues behind the smear campaign is the Kennedy ties but for blacklisting my white identity has been a good start with Mexican gangs given freedom to operate.

This was (and is true) of a racketeering and money laundering "Russian Dolls" black budget operation she and others (including myself) were outing as CIA activity, but its deeper roots into the CIA, the OSS before it, Gladio in the Catholic Church (likely under Cardinal Spellman as well as several connected Pontiffs) and big business and big money dating all the way back into the Gilded age and Free Mason influences on world politics and history.

And I Edward Paul Donegan who has lost his lifespan and half the learning and associations he might have had if not falsely imprisoned as COINTELRPO victims are (or they are outright murdered by car accidents, cancer, heart attack guns or other means) and I will describe the way I am kicked out of apartment buildings, thrown in jail, arrested, and banned from locations is a smear campaign of abuse of me by double entendres that lead to fights because of the untrue and dangerous stalker treatment of me often including pointing knives or guns and death threats. Conduct as Double Entendre expert stalkers lie about who a harassing comment was intended for (the person they are with or the person right next to them they are harassing) or will pretend one meaning rather than another if confronted.

I list here some of the elements abusive provocateurs use to instigate fights with abuse so carefully concealed only the raging anger of a victim might ever find and address those injustices

To irritate is to cause an unsettling reaction, whether it's of the body or the nerves. You can irritate someone by talking too loudly on your cellphone in public. You can also irritate your skin, causing a rash or redness.

To irritate is to disturb - either physically or psychologically. When you have an allergic reaction to something, you irritate or disturb the body. When you have an allergic reaction to your kid brother, he is probably irritating you with his annoying habits. And what is the result of something irritating? An irritation of course.

1. verb cause annoyance in; disturb, especially by minor irritations feel extreme irritation or anger. "It irritates me that she never closes the door after she leaves" synonyms:annoy, bother, chafe, devil, get at, get to, gravel, nark, nettle, rag, rile, chafe

2. verb excite to an abnormal condition, or chafe or inflame. "Aspirin irritates my stomach"

3. verb excite to some characteristic action or condition, such as motion, contraction, or nervous impulse, by the application of a stimulus "irritate the glands of a leaf"

Aggravate means to make something worse, and irritate is to annoy. - Vocabulary .com. Ed Donegan suggests using irritants to undermine the calm emotions of a Borderline by irritation of him aggravates the emotional condition he has.

A pollutant or novel entity[1] is a substance or energy introduced into the environment that has undesired effects, or adversely affects the usefulness of a resource. These can be both naturally forming (i.e. minerals or extracted compounds like oil) or anthropogenic in origin (i.e. manufactured materials or byproducts). Pollutants result in environmental pollution or become public health concerns when they reach a concentration high enough to have significant negative impacts.

A pollutant may cause long- or short-term damage by changing the growth rate of plant or animal species, or by interfering with resources used by humans, human health or wellbeing, or property values.- Wikipedia

Definitions of inflammatory

In medical terms, something that is inflammatory causes a local reaction that shows up by swelling, heat, pain, and redness. If you are stung by a bee, you may have an acute inflammatory reaction to the sting.

The adjective inflammatory also refers to something that excites anger, violence, rebellion, or similar strong emotions, in many cases referring to speech or writing. If you are a politician, inflammatory speeches may be one tool you use to incite your constituents to vote against the corruption of your opponent. After all, a stirring speech about rights people may lose if an election goes a certain way is more likely to get out the vote than a more understated discussion.

1. adjective arousing to action or rebellion serving or tending to provoke, excite, or stimulate; stimulating discussion or exciting controversy synonyms:incendiary, incitive, instigative, rabble-rousing, seditious provocative

Definitions of Vitriol

Definitions of Vitriol is harsh, nasty criticism. You may have deserved some blame when the cake didn't rise, but the head chef's stream of vitriol was unnecessary.

Back in the day, vitriol was the name for sulfuric acid, which burns through just about anything. So think of vitriol as language so mean-spirited and bitter that it could eat through metal: "As a divorce lawyer, you were familiar with vitriol, but nothing prepared you for the time you wore a Red Sox cap at Yankee Stadium."

1. n. abusive or venomous language used to express blame or censure or bitter deep-seated ill will

2. v. subject to bitter verbal abuse

3. n. (H_2SO_4) a highly corrosive acid made from sulfur dioxide; widely used in the chemical industry

4. expose to the effects of vitriol or injure with vitriol

Definitions of Unjust

Something or someone that is unjust is just not fair. An unjust boss might fire you the very first time you're late for work.

You might think of the word justice in order to remember the meaning of the word just, which means "fairness or righteousness." An unjust judge does not play by the rules; he might send a person to jail even though there isn't enough evidence that a crime was committed. Unjust behavior is improper or dishonest: "The professor acted in an unjust manner when he gave everyone an F just because there was a rumor that his students didn’t like him."

1. adjective. not fair; marked by injustice or partiality or deception synonyms:unfair, below the belt, disregarding the rules (from the notion of an illegal low blow in boxing,) cheating, dirty, foul, unsporting, unsportsmanlike, violating accepted standards or rules, raw, brutally unfair or harsh, partial, showing favoritism

2. adjective. violating principles of justice. “unjust punishment”, “an unjust judge”, “an unjust accusation”, synonyms: unfair, not fair; marked by injustice or partiality or deception, dishonorable, dishonourable, lacking honor or integrity; deserving dishonor, actionable, affording grounds for legal action, wrongful, not just or fair, wrong, contrary to conscience or morality or law, unrighteous, not righteous

3. adjective. not equitable or fair

Words. Words. Words. What is an example of reprehensible? There were reprehensible actions on both sides. He said the attack on the school house was reprehensible. The poor advice has combined with reprehensible behavior by bank employees. Any attack on innocent people is reprehensible and inexcusable. If the attack on an innocent person is only comprehensible to the attacked person is it still reprehensible? Yes. And while a reprehensible attack my not be excusable it may be denied and the fight blamed on the wrong person.

What Jen Moore said about being stalked herself as I was is that a person tries to injure you in some disgusting way disgusting to you and then just keep pouring salt on and re-injuring with more disgusting treatment of the wound so it is trauma producing or as Sosbee said will bring about suicide or as I say contentious fights. Also called Rough Noise the stimuli is meant to be psychologically too disruptive to surive in and maintain a normal function. It is also called Terror Stalking meant to bring about fear and mental states what will cause mental health commitments in panicked states.

I Edward Paul Donegan think and Jen Moore thought and Ted Gunderson thought the the officials of the CIA and FBI are part of a group of elite connected individuals (most of whom have III, a bird reference, or August 4 or other royals tied birthdays) whom from generation to generation have been involved in using genome information on themselves and their family lines as NWO Deep State elites with a word global agenda and the mechanisms of subversion by quiet (deniable subversion) warefare.

Jen Moore knew these people knew us. Tourette (too-RET) syndrome is a disorder that involves repetitive movements or unwanted sounds (tics) that can't be easily controlled. For instance, you might repeatedly blink your eyes, shrug your shoulders or blurt out unusual sounds or offensive words - Mayo Clinic.

Here is something similar. What is borderline personality disorder? Borderline personality disorder is a mental illness that severely impacts a person's ability to manage their emotions. This loss of emotional control can increase impulsivity, affect how a person feels about themselves, and negatively impact their relationships with others.

Borderline Personality Disorder is characterized by: Intense difficulties in interpersonal relationships ,Impulsivity, disinhibition, and risk-taking behaviors, Difficulty managing painful emotions.

Attacks that are humiliating, unjust, abusive and deeply personal may enslave the Borderline to emotional the more rational mind votes against. GangSTalkers know the history of this disease and its ties to elite families and in orphanages Borderline Personality Disorder is tested for and in adulthood it can be preyed upon to trip up a perons and bring about a conflict the person will be blamed for. Like with Tourets and like with knee jerk response to the rubber hammer the Borderine will eventually be driven to fight the bullies.

The Task Force she was on (most likely Anti White Hate or something like it) wanted to abusively degrade me and after learning from adult entertainers about sex work in elite circles to then infiltrate those circles but using the negatie legend of me to 1) Justify my exclusion from elite circles and 2) Fund lessons in elite metro-sexuality on the premies that I neeed them to socially succeed when in fact it was the Mafia who wanted to learn how to socially succeed and by replacing me replacing my politics.

Jen More I was being abused and defrauded by the system of paying out claims I had harmed others but the Protection Racket assertign I had done wrong to others was operated by criminals who killed her to keep the phony allegaions and phony appearances and use of phony Ed Donegan in operation so the phony Ed Donegan could learn to be the best partymeister Austin college town has ever seen.

So while that damaged me for some obvious reaons Jen Moore and I think a campaign to damage me has deeper origins than just my right wing views.

This protetion racket operated by a Slush Fund is connected to a string of deaths and illegal ativities and this time-line traces them back to what they were and their origins actually are.

Many like myself writing books about the CIA or FBI or there operations or their official or public officials undergo Gang STalks. Thus far the media will not give sufficient attention to the situation probably in part because the editorial control the super-rich have as influence in the media, the issue does not affect enough people, and people have claimed to be stalked are flooding lawsuits and may be mentally ill or fraudsters looking to be a part of class action suits they may be elligble for.

Another reason Gang Stalk victims have had difficulty seeking remediation is at least in my case I have been asked to prove why I would be stalked by people unfairly smearing and assaulting me and starting tense situations and I had to research into the Kennedy assasination to find out why I (or Jen Moore or Ted Gunderson or Geral Sosbee) would be "targeted" by the CIA and its suborndiate agencies and personell it conducts out of what it seems is CIA Denver Colorado.

I have included a picture of Vernoica Hoffman who after first being recruited into a Stalk later died long before her time and I believe she herself was silenced after she had too much knowledge of the operation and was only used for a while then later abused by the underover intelligence operation. Makign it seem like she was bipolar when she was just terrified discounted anything she might have said about what it was that she did know about the situation with me.

Other books by Donald Barr have a them of Free Mason inspired world rule that can bring about peace. A Planet in Arms is a novel in which Rohan's Planet has just won its independence from the Terran Empire of Earth and established a new government and also The wonders of prehistoric life.

One of his books suggests a person who acted like a Knight would be perceived as one by others and seems to suggest (although knights are not hereditary) a basis for heridatary leadership if not cover heridtary rule.

Photo 51 is an X-ray based fiber diffraction image of a paracrystalline gel composed of DNA fiber[1] taken by Raymond Gosling,[2][3] a graduate student working under the supervision of Rosalind Franklin in May 1952 at King's College London, while working in Sir John Randall's group.[4][5][6][7][8] The image was tagged "photo 51" because it was the 51st diffraction photograph that Franklin had taken.[9] It was critical evidence[10] in identifying the structure of DNA.[11]. It is referenced at 33 Minutes in Rocky Horror that by the Arnold Schwarzenegger references may have been set at Venice Beach City's Muscle Beach in Los Angeles a mile or two from Santa Monica in Rocky Horror. The events unfolding at what seems to be the Patricia Kennedy and Peter Lawford and LBJ (Riff Raff) series of events are a brain split between two births one is Eddie. Experiments in life and Sargent Schriver of the Peace Corps and USAID that is said to be tied to Barrack OBama Jr. origins. Hints at it allegorically, nothing more, but there is a real paper trail of real public records release by the CIA and others that would confirm in reality the allegory in cinema.

In 1954, Peter Lawford married Patricia Kennedy, sister of Senator John F. Kennedy. Lawford would become an enthusiastic fundraiser for the Senator. - wikipedia

I have red the declassified details and analyis regarding the CIA and Obama story including the death of Barrack Obama Sr in Indonesia that some attrrbitute to the CIA to conceal the CIA role in his story. I have also read The Story of Obama: All in The Company (Part I https://www.voltairenet.org/article166741.html) and The Story of Obama: All in the Company (Part II https://www.voltairenet.org/article166759.html) by Wayne Madsen. "In the second part of his investigation Wayne Madsen focuses on Barack Obama's mother and stepfather. He follows their footsteps as CIA assets from the University of Hawaii, home to some of the CIA's blackest projects, to their activities in Indonesia where a vast US-sponsored anti-communist massacre was unfolding. It marked the start of globalisation in Asia and in the rest of the world. Unlike the Bush dynasty, Barack Obama has smartly concealed his own connections with the Agency and, in particular, those of his ancestors ... until now."

Though not on the front pages of US media outlets there has been quiet and improving research by narrow slice of media that shows there was a CIA role in the origins of Barrack Obama Jr. and Wayne Madsen is one such well informed writer.

"In 1983-84, Barack Obama worked as Editor at Business Internation Corporation, a Business International Corporation, a known CIA front company." "President Obama's own work in 1983 for Business International Corporation, a CIA front that conducted seminars with the world's most powerful leaders and used journalists as agents abroad, dovetails with CIA espionage activities conducted by his mother, Stanley Ann Dunham in 1960s post-coup Indonesia on behalf of a number of CIA front operations, including the East-West Center at the University of Hawaii, the U.S. Agency for International Development (USAID), and the Ford Foundation. Dunham met and married Lolo Soetoro, Obama's stepfather, at the East-West Center in 1965. Soetoro was recalled to Indonesia in 1965 to serve as a senior army officer and assist General Suharto and the CIA in the bloody overthrow of President Sukarno."

Ted Gunderson is another Conspiracy Theorist I have read and researched and like other Dissidents who doubt the offical narratives believes McMartin Preschool and Boystown Franklin Nebraska scandals and other abuse of and murder of children were tied to CIA activities.

FOr this we need to continue along the beach front of Los Angeles County.

in Los Angeles County the beaches along the bay next to each other. The distance from Santa Monica [beac city to Venice Beach is approximately 3 miles. Can you walk from Venice Beach to Santa Monica Pier? Walking from Venice Beach to Santa Monica is possible - in fact, it's quite a nice walk. Manhattan BEach is right there too. They are all grouped right together along the boardwalk.

Ted Gunderson believed at the Mcmartin School children were being frightened and abused by CIA researchers in secret facilities and I believe he (and the experts he used in the Scientific Report had had generated) that a secret CIA lab existed. It was excavated and found to have odd tubing and lab equipment and on patent he emphasized was patent number with 3233 in it and that is my Social Security number of my birth in Manhattan Beach City 022-46-3233. The 022 references Massachusetts or family from Dorchester were the Kennedy's were from. There should be from when SSNs were sequential an 022-46-3234 SSN in my family but no record of such a sibling exists. My brother was 3235 and I even think at one point that became swapped with 3233.

ABSTRACT: The McMartin Preschool child abuse case began in 1983 in Manhattan Beach, California, and was one of the most visible cases in history. Although two trials were conducted and no convictions were obtained, some individuals continue to believe that dozens of children were sexually abused at the preschool. In 1990 an archaeologist was hired to determine whether tunnels had existed under the school because some of the children had alleged that some of their abuse took place in tunnels under the building. The archaeologist's report was issued in 1993.

It concluded that evidence of back-filled tunnels had been found. This critical analysis of the archaeologist's report concludes otherwise, that what the archaeologist found was actually the filled-in remains of a rural family’s trash pit that predated construction of the school.

Regarding artifacts discovered in soil under the preschool, alternative interpretations to those of the archaeologist are given. A theoretical functional analysis of the variables that may have accounted for the archaeologist's evident misinterpretation is presented.

A common chimpanzee (Pan troglodytes) is sitting atop a pile of books and manuscripts. What my photos show is that as JFK returned to the Whitehouse just after November 19,1961 there was a birthday party I say for an inter-racial gentics experiment grooming a mixed race sleeper agent for Indonesia. That was sarcastically emphasized for the sake of secrecy.

What I can tell you is that was on my shelf in Moraga California and I think it was part of the story of my birth too as there may have been more than one born there and perhaps to a single surrogate mother with two fertilizations of different male parents using IVF.

Michael Clark Rockefeller (May 18, 1938; disappeared November 19, 1961) was a member of the Rockefeller family. He was the son of New York Governor and later U.S. Vice President Nelson Rockefeller, a grandson of American financier John D. Rockefeller Jr. and a great-grandson of Standard Oil co-founder John D. Rockefeller Sr.

Rockefeller disappeared during an expedition in the Asmat region of southwestern Netherlands New Guinea, which is now a part of the Indonesian province of South Papua. In 2014, Carl Hoffman published a book that went into detail about the inquest into the disappearance, in which villagers and tribal elders admit to Rockefeller being killed after swimming to shore in 1961. No remains or physical proof of him dying have been discovered.

Early life

Michael Rockefeller was born on May 18, 1938, the fifth and last child of Nelson and Mary Todhunter Rockefeller. He was the third son of seven children fathered by Nelson, and he had a twin sister named Mary. Michael attended the Buckley School in New York City and graduated from the Phillips Exeter Academy in New Hampshire, where he was a student senator and exceptional varsity wrestler. He then graduated cum laude from Harvard University with an A.B. in history and economics. He also served for six months in 1960 as a private in the United States Army.

Following his military service, Rockefeller went on an expedition for Harvard's Peabody Museum of Archaeology and Ethnology to study the Dani tribe of western Netherlands New Guinea. The expedition filmed Dead Birds, an ethnographic documentary film produced by Robert Gardner, for which Rockefeller was the sound recordist. Rockefeller and a friend briefly left the expedition to study the Asmat tribe of southern Netherlands New Guinea. After the expedition ended, Rockefeller returned to New Guinea to study the Asmat and collect their distinctive woodwork art.

> "It's the desire to do something adventurous," he explained, "at a time when frontiers, in the real sense of the word, are disappearing."

Rockefeller spent his time in New Guinea actively engaged with the culture and the art while recording ethnographic data. In one of his letters back home, he wrote:

> I am having a thoroughly exhausting but most exciting time here ... The Asmat is like a huge puzzle with the variations in ceremony and art style forming the pieces. My trips are enabling me to comprehend (if only in a superficial, rudimentary manner) the nature of this puzzle ...

Disappearance

On November 17, 1961, Rockefeller and Dutch anthropologist René Wassing were in a 40-foot (12 m) dugout canoe about 3 nautical miles (6 km; 3 mi) from shore when their double pontoon boat was swamped and overturned. Their two local guides swam for help, but it was slow in coming. After drifting for some time, early on November 19, 1961, Rockefeller said to Wassing: "I think I can make it." He then swam for shore. The boat was an estimated 12 nmi (22 km; 14 mi) from the shore when he made the attempt to swim to safety, supporting the theory that he died from exposure, exhaustion or drowning.

Wassing was rescued the next day, but Rockefeller was never seen again despite an intensive and lengthy search effort. At the time, his disappearance was a major world news item. His body was never found, and he was declared legally dead in 1964.

Speculation

It was originally reported that Rockefeller either drowned or was attacked by a shark or saltwater crocodile. However, because headhunting and cannibalism were still present in some areas of Asmat in 1961, there has also been speculation that Rockefeller may have been killed and eaten by tribespeople from the Asmat village of Otsjanep.

In 1969, journalist Milt Machlin traveled to the island to investigate Rockefeller's disappearance. He dismissed reports of Rockefeller living as a captive or as a Kurtz-like figure in the jungle, but concluded that circumstantial evidence supported the idea that he had been killed. Several leaders of the village, where Rockefeller likely would have arrived had he made it to shore, had been killed by a Dutch patrol in 1958, thus providing some rationale for revenge by the tribe against someone from the "white tribe". Neither cannibalism nor headhunting in Asmat were indiscriminate, but rather were part of an eye-for-an-eye revenge cycle, so it is possible that Rockefeller found himself the victim of such a cycle.

Author Paul Toohey, in his book Rocky Goes West, claims that Rockefeller's mother hired a private investigator in 1979 to go to New Guinea and try to solve his disappearance. The reliability of the story has been questioned, but Toohey claims that the private investigator swapped a boat engine for the skulls of the three men that a tribe claimed were the only white men they had ever killed. The investigator returned to New York and handed these skulls to the family, convinced that one of them was the skull of Rockefeller. If this event did actually occur, the family has never commented on it. However, the History Channel program Vanishings reported that Rockefeller's mother did pay a $250,000 reward to the investigator which was offered for final proof whether or not Rockefeller was alive or dead.

In the documentary film Keep the River on Your Right, Tobias Schneebaum states that he spoke with some Asmat villagers at Otsjanep, who described finding Rockefeller on the riverside and eating him.

Richard Nixon was a Congressman in 1949 leaving the US Navy as a Commander and in Southern California fran for US Representative for a southern California district. He began anti-communist activities and traveled the post-war European continent largely helped create the CIA and the Mashall plan as the OSS and the plan to defeat Nazi Germany passed into history and the plan to fight and win against Communism began.

In 1953 as Vice President (sworn in on the Republican Party ticket with Eisenhower as the President of the USA) Nixon and the National Security Council and apparatus to oversee the security of the USA and free world and when JFK was sworn in January 20 1961 the plans in Indonesia were already underway just as the plans for overthrowing Cuba, Guatemala, and Iran were.

As this activity was underway and Micheal Rockefeller was already doing cultural work in Indonesia where was JFK the new President of the USA that day?

On November 19, 1961 John F. Kennedy, David Powers, and others were in Santa Monica City of Los Angeles County California staying with Patricia Kennedy at that time married to the British actor Peter Lawford and they the Kennedy party were straying at the La=wford estate.

Now Vice President Nixon 1953-1960 who was trying to overthrew Indonesia and JFI were from seperare parties. JFK was what some Irish Republican Army types might called "Occupied Ireland" the Emerald State and especially the Roman Catholic majority Republic of Ireland fighting for independence from England and William of Orange occupying Ireland and this was part o Boston Massachusetts history.

Nixon and his Vice Present Ford (When Nixon was elected in 1968 Spiro Agnew was briefly VP but upon scandal of VP Spiro Agnew Gerald Ford become his VP. When Nixon resigned Geral Ford became President and asked Rockefeller to be Vice President.

Many think and Jen Moore and Ed Donegan with the secrets they hold believe Nixon (who JFK defeated for office of the President) had secret plans in Indonesia, Cuba, and elsewhere that JFK inherited and rejected and JFK being in the Lawford Kennedy Schriver estate on November 19, 1961 may have bee part of it. Micheal Rockefeller may have even been trying toi depart for California.

Conspiracy Theorists today question Gerald Ford on the Warren Commission, the break-in to the DNC Headquarters by Nixon operatives by the CIA and other events, cover-ups, and scandals involve the Averell Harriman laid plans of old money wanting a plan for the world that JFK was trying to reject.

The Rockefeller's, Bush family, Walker Family, and many oil connected families were part of the Robber Barron tradition of old money families that really covertly ruled the world including using hired assassins, Greg Poulgrain whose theories I will introduce later wrote "JFK Vs. Allen Dulles: Battleground Indonesia" and it was the classic old world money and power the the Dulles Brothers (John Foster Dulles and Allen Dulles) that included Dean Rusk and the Rockefeller oil money based world benevolency operations that had one view of expansion of US and British influence on independent governments and JFK who by Boston history was resentful of the British and old money and colonialism.

Before the photos and other existing forensic evidence in introduced more fully let us touch one more time on cultural exploration and outreach in Papua New Guinea Indonesia and that area just off the cost of Australia.

A journey to the heart of New Guinea's Asmat tribal homeland sheds new light on the mystery of the heir's disappearance there in 1961

Carl Hoffman in March 2014 writes I'd been fascinated with the story ever since I first saw a photo of Michael on his first trip to what was then called Netherlands New Guinea. In it he is kneeling, holding his 35-millimeter camera under the close eyes of natives. He was working on a documentary film in the highlands of the Great Baliem Valley. That film, Dead Birds, was a groundbreaking ethnographic examination of a barely contacted, stone-age culture that engaged in constant ritual warfare. The mountains, the mist, the naked men yelling and screaming and attacking one another with spears and bow and arrow, had fascinated and entranced me, as had the whole idea of contact between people from dramatically different worlds.

The official cause of Michael's death was drowning, but there had long been a multitude of rumors. He'd been kidnapped and kept prisoner. He'd gone native and was hiding out in the jungle. He'd been consumed by sharks. He'd made it to shore, only to be killed and eaten by the local Asmat headhunters. The story had grown, become mythical. There had been an off-Broadway play about him, a novel, a rock song, even a television show in the 1980s hosted by Leonard Nimoy.

I spent hours looking at that photo, wondering what Michael had seen and felt, wondering what had really happened to him, wondering if I might be able to solve the mystery. That he had been kidnapped or had run away didn't make sense. If he had drowned, well, that was that. Except he'd been attached to flotation aids. As for sharks, they rarely attacked men in these waters and no trace of him had been found. Which meant that if he hadn't perished during his swim, there had to be more.

There had to have been some collision, some colossal misunderstanding. The Asmat people were warriors drenched in blood, but Dutch colonial authorities and missionaries had already been in the area for almost a decade by the time Michael disappeared, and the Asmat had never killed a white. If he had been murdered, it struck to the heart of a clash between Westerners and Others that had been ongoing ever since Columbus first sailed to the New World. I found it compelling that in this remote corner of the world the Rockefeller's and their power and money had been impotent, had come up with nothing.

How was that even possible?

This Super Conspiracy tale of subplots and sub conspiracies from a range of people like Mark Lane,l Ed Donegan, Jen Moore, Ted Gunderson, Gregg Poulgrain, Penn Jones Jr., Col Fletcher Prouty, Jim Garrison, Joan Mellon, and others will involve statements made by CIA Director William Colby and others in recently or more widely available information and yet though believable en toto each element you have been told not to believe.

Jen Moore was pointing her camera at a second floor apartment 850 North Randolph I Edward Paul Donegan and my mother Glorian Donegan used to live in. The Arlington Virginia home is in walking distance to may DC area places including the Capital Complex and National Mall of Washington D.C.

This is where information from Col Prouty, Ed Donegan myself, Jen Moore, and public records about my birth and MKULTRA will come into play.

She did not want to be silenced by Stalkers trying to silence her and though she feared it she kept reporting on the elites and their power and how the live and the secrets they have kept about how they rose to power infiltrating the Republic with Free Mason type old-money robber barron tactics.

Treason by Elites and what she allegeed of that using existing documentaton she and others have still online

The Union, Sets, and Subsets of bullying a witness.

Simple harassment (subset H) contains elements. Lew acts of forwardness or displays etc., In some cases it may be a subset of elements to larger conspiracy and that is what Jen Moore alleged. They also coud be a stand alone set of elements that not are part of something larger. (a total set.)

What Ed Donegan and Jen Moore assert is that Subset H (Ed Donegan being stalked by harassers staging toxicity of Ed) is part of Set C (Character assassination and subversion by bullying (Subset H).

The full Set that contains Harassment elements (the subset elements) may include motives and agendas not part of usual harassment-bullying.

In more common events the bully may feel “kicks” the harassing person may derive from simple acts of bullying. That is probably part of the subset of acts.

The set rather than the subset of acts might include incitement attempts of the harasser hoping the bullied person might fight back (feeling wronged) or the Bully has a motive create the appearance the harassed person is in some way a deserving of being treated in a way the victim is being bullied and wishes to make a public showing the bullied person is in the wrong and treated that way.

I call this Set C. Harassment (the subsect of activities) is more laregely Character Assassination motives or incitements element that use the subset elements as a mere tool of the larger plot. The larger plot includes the subset of harassment in public places elements of a vicitm but also includes elements not always associate with simple harassment.

A Union of sets C and W (Witness silencing) are the unknown piece Jen Moore was trying to tell, the backstory of covering up the JFK assassination details (Set W witness silencing) union with Set C Character Assassination by smear campaign (bullying a person as a loser).

W ∪ C Where C ⊇ H is the logic of why a Toxic Smear Campaign of harassment would be launched against a JFK assassination whiste-blower.

If fact for those who set the smear campaign up the high ranking elites Jen Moore asserts the subset H that is harrassing a person with bullying is also in truth a subset of W witness silencing as much as it is a Subet H itself or a part of set C itself Character Assasination.

Several difficulties as the sex-pots and honey-pots are part of the adult entertainer based Midnight Climax operation that attracts willing participants and other profit-motive as the elites in power are defend by the smear campaign KOMPROMAT circles of staged events they set-up to silence critics of the Cabal and their subordinates follow chain of command orders sometimes as dupes.

Subset DM is also a subset of C (Character assassination. Drooling morons working from the character assassination of

Ed Donegan pretend to be Ed Donegan and ask for high priced models to help them overcome those attributes subset H created the appearance of, the bullying Ed as as exploiter of others needing sex modeling services to remediate his seeming troubles.

Ed And Jen Moore assert in Set W that elites rose to power in a world-domination conspiracy stood-up by Richard Nixon upon Nixon leaving the Navy in 1946 that along with other influences turned into the Marshall Plan, forming the CIA and recruiting Jimmy Hoffa and others as allies to fight the Left that the Grand Old Party could deny having a role in doing so. Set W contains the Subset that today's elites including Barrack Obama Jr and Willilam Burns are part of the plot as was the Bush and other families.

This looks like a CIA operation. Money Laundering, etc., whose operation are part of funding a smear campaign whose byproduct includes high end escorts and other slush fund operations including a protection racket.

That Slush Fund parasitically feeds of toxifying me by staged appearances and accomplishes the goal of creating organized criminal workings in social control of human trafficking circles and networks.

Ed Donegan and Jen Moore assert Treason is composed of set W (Witness suppression) and set C Character assassination by Organized Crime running a racket fo identity theft and human trafficking laundering fraudulent payout claims based on fabricated facts.

In the operation of Union of C and W the bullies both profit from toxic allegations and profit from the damage to JFK witness the toxic allegations do to the harassed person.

The Protection Racket that is funded and operates by fabricated evidence has enough force-of-arms and elite politician backing to make patsys of people linked to false allegations use force of arms to intimate or fight the patsies.

Another possibel mental health services location and one a Secret Service womn was at I think.

Turning the table on illegal covert CIA and FBI operations that include organ or stem cell tissue black markets, extortion, blackmail and other CIA black-budget operations.

The programs date back to MKULTRA days and continue in eugenics and genealogy research, surrogate parenting, 3rd party parents, and black markets that people have become addicted to in the underworld.

Many of my books deal with what is now common knowledge about CIA activities including drug running, gun running, midnight climax, assassinations, secret bank accounts and money laundering, large amounts of cash flown around the world in surplus us military cargo planes, brief cases of money chaning hands, call-girl operations tied to elite figures, etc.,

Chauncy Marvin Holt has written on this as have Gene Chip Tatum, Phillip Marshall, and others.

The Nazi Youth Indoctrination was (for a while and not too long into the more serious threats Nazism posed) was the 19-1925 period of Austria where Franz Kutschera (SS General) niece Maria Kutchera became singing coach to (the widowed)Captain Von Trapp children. Maria Kutchera would soon marry Capt Von Trapp formerly of the Austrian U-Boat command and all (who were Great Britain connected) would arrive in North Carolina in a area Dean Rusk (after Rusk left the Rockefeller Fund he managed during the VP Nixon era then Secretary of State under JFK) was in and Glorian Donegan was raised as a child in and adopted from into a DuPont Camden South Carolina home at 9 years old.

Captain VOn TRapp was an Austrian Navy hero and Barron in Aristocracy. His wife was a British decended heir to the Whitehead Torpedo builder and Capt Von Trapp became a navy hero of Austria using those torpedoes in the Uboat he sailed destroying record tonage of enemy shipping. Agatha Whitehead died and Austria had lost its seaports leaving Captain Von Trapp in his villa with children he could not handle alone. The local Convent sent Nazi Noviate who was having troubles and likely pregnant to assist him. Maria Kutschera a singer for a while encouraged Capt Von Trapp and his family to sing as a group and helped meet the challenges but the pressures to sing propaganda at the behest of Franz Kutschera the nun novitiates uncle and caretaker grew to unwelcome. Mary Kutschera the Austrian married Capt Von Trap and they moved to North Carolina eventualy reaching it in 1926 traveling through London and Ed Donegan asserts she gave there to Glorian Donegan and British aristocracy possibly Prince ALbert (King George VI) or Prince Edward (King Edward VIII) impregnated her and FDR and Admiral Halsey the nabal attache along with Joseph Kennedy Sr. helped pull string for them to hide their identities in North Carolina and that is part of the Dondegan story and part of the Kennedy assassination.

The Hidden Identities and Conspiracy Theories around this involved plans for world overthrows and ultimately led into thedeath of JFK though likely at the orders of Allen Dulles.

The story is even darker than that. It was Aristocracy and the Windsor family in particular that was hoping it could regain imperial power (with many backers for that inside the USA) via repairing or managing a biological defect inherited to some offspring in their family with a mix of symptoms I believe originally called Minimal Brain Dysfunction, now FOXP2 and it looks like moodiness and ADHD and Dyslexia components with some other type of symptoms too like handwriting problems. It is not part of retardation but is part of executive control of the brain and amphetamines or Bupropion manage it effectively. Among its effects are creating a sense of well-being and is marketed under a brand name of Wellbutron. It is tied to dopamine chemical reactions within the bran.

The plot to study this defect in bastard children led to Franklin Nebraska Conspiracy of Silence Scandal and many others. What is little known is that during Eugenics testing and studies many DOD Military Families studied by the CIA have August 4th birthdays, November 18, or other dog-whistle free mason connected special days.

Perfecting the image and legacy of Royal lineage was important to the theory of generation aristocracy rather than leaders chosen from among the population and alteration of power.

It sounds like a Conspiracy Theory and it is but she said she was a Truth Teller. As it was noted by the Great Dissenters Holmes and Brandeis in law (and William Colby noted as well) speech is not generally perceived to be threat even when it is wrong unless it does pose a threat and does touch a note of fear in the officials the speech is directed at.

Jen Moore knew telling the truth of these hidden identities including the Donegan's and how that is part of human trafficking was the story now being completed by me Edward Paul Doengan.

On August 12 Pizzagate (abuse of teen females allegedly trafficked at point-of-sale food shops as food in double entendre fraud).It is fraud. "In law, fraud is intentional deception to secure unfair or unlawful gain, or to deprive a victim of a legal right." Wikipedia. But the person (myself) making a food order is undergoing a false allegation that I intended other meanings and that becomes the pretext used by others for fraudulent acts beyond the treating me as though I had second meaning.

First some of the initial reporting on Jen Moore who did not have the DOnegan history nor the details of the Jen Moore story about the Donegan she was about to release nor those trying to suppress the story.

One should be cautious in initial and other reports. People are often connected to things without being linked to them. That is both part of truth and falsity. Connected the often adjoining dots can be a correct or incorrect act. Much of the Clinton talk refers to inner circle DNC operatives however some of them are connected to multiple administrations both DNC and RNC and often involve Clinton less than others.

I Ed Donegan has all the Jen Moore docs or most of them and knows the Defense Intelligence Agency and Mike Flynn and Flynn Jr were about the rumor epicenter once called Pizzagate and that Gritz may without herself knowing it or only knowing part of it may have been a threat to the Deep State I assert is connected to the Defense Intelligence Agency, the #WETDIVISION protecting elite figures like CIA and FBI and DHS figures who themselves are appointed by a succession of Presidents and others connected to Cold War assassination of JFK.

I twas that CIA OSS history including the Barr, Mueller, Bush, Obamam, Rockefeller, Bush and Nixon Ford connections that covered up the JFK assassination and have done so ever since I and I and Jen Moore have the secrets of the hidden identities tied to it and through that tied to the assassination of JFK, RFK, Sunny Bono and others.

One of Donald Trump's aides has lost his job after fanning a conspiracy theory that climaxed at the weekend in gunfire at a pizzeria.

Michael Flynn, 33, left the US president-elect's transition team on Tuesday following his tweets about the so-called Pizzagate fake news story. His father, Michael Flynn Snr (Former Defense Inteligence Agency general and fired by Barrack Obama JR) , Mr Trump's pick to be US national security adviser, has also shared viral hoaxes. -BBC

Vice President Pence is who targeted Flynn Jr. for the tweets.

Until #Pizzagate proven to be false, it'll remain a story. The left seems to forget #PodestaEmails and the many "coincidences" tied to it.- Michael G Flynn ©mflynnJR

The alleged Pizza-gate scandal began in Arlington Virginia near the Pentagon and with at least one Methodist church who built a "Legend" by parading actors some event was happening when in fact it was onoy being acted-out by Shills, people recurred to do so. The reason for the program are several layers deep but are a form of black-opps COINTELPRO.

Other deaths are connected to it other than Jen Moore and I will work backward in time for what Flynn Jr called coincidences and explaining them but before I do that I anm going to explain what Jen Moore was saying and why this is the Donegan story.

In 2014 the book Self-Portrait of a Scoundrel came out with extensive documents in the last chapter showing the validity of Chauncey Holt' claim he was one of the Hobos at Operation Mongoose that killed JFK without his foreknowledge. He and Oswald probably thought a fake Cuban sympathizer trying to kill a popular US President with an unworkable rifle only a Communist could afford would make communists look bad to the public.

St. John Hunt has released his books (like other books about the Bush family) largely unnoticed and more journalists like Jen Moore and Phillip Marshall (the Big Bamboozle) are being silenced.

FOr now let me say my father and the CIA were flying together at ATSUGI and fairly obviously Kennedy connected and I myself met COl Prouty as a Donegan family friend.

This story is dynamite to public officials. if the truth comes out I think people like Bush, Obama, William Burns, Mueller, and others could die for treason in accordance with and through US legal procedures.

What Ed Donegan, Jen Moore, and Tom Dunham Gathered Evidence Jen Moore was assassinated over

Before I left for California and first Capitola then Stay and Play nearby the Protection Racket was already usign high priced adult entertainers in a sluch fund money laundering racket. But I was completing my documentation on it and it would soon (with Jen Moore coorborating the evidence and my Edward Paul Donegan's story) the protection racket might have come crashing down but the lure of running this in Stay and Play further motivated the criminal ambitions of the Protection Racket and they silenced Jen Moore at that time.

The Praetorian Guard was a fixture of the imperial era, but their origins date back to groups of elite soldiers that protected generals during the Roman Republic. https://www.history.com/news/8-things-you-may-not-know-about-the-praetorian-guard

Jim Garrison (and without using the term Lisa Pease long-time writer with James DiEugenio and sometimes forward by Oliver Stone) speak of this deep-date gaurd or Cabal that operates even inside the US media and can control both information and disinformation and uses covert acts including Secret Police forces. (see the linked article about about the Praetorian Gaurd.)

Jim Garrison who uses the term in his book On The Trail of The Assassins likely got the term (like most information he had) from Col Fletcher Prouty who specialized in assassinations and regime changes and creating Coup d'états that utilized strong-man generals as was done in Banana Republic the USA setup through the CIA and Pentagon in conjunction with front companies like United Fruit Company.

Clarence Crane saw a machine pharmacies used to make pills that were round and wafer-shaped, and thought he'd use those to make mints, which at the time were made square (because they were pressed in sheets and then sliced into squares). The machinery could also punch a hole in the center, and Crane named the candy after its resulting life preserver shape. The poolside mint was didn't melt like chocolates did.

Let's assume now the mints are the same shape but metal and this is how our chain of facts will link together and when done with the component ring in place and in historical order will show truth and light the bulb. At the earliest part of history will be the "minus" sign for going back furthest into history and the "plus" sign the cloest into the future the chain of events is progressing towards. In fact it work well (the analogy) a a battery that his stages in it like stages of a rocket.

All of these events will occur with the British and old money power as the Praetorian Guard that gets the Kennedy's out of the way and uses old money like Averell Harriman, JP Morgan, Rockefeller, the Walker family (George Herbert Walk Bsuh), the Bush family, and others as the including the Burns family, Mueller family, Barr family, the Wray family, and others did.

- In 1926 Maria Kutschera the Nazi Nun Novitiate niece of Franz Kutschera is pregnant and leaves the Convent for the Capt. Barron Von Trapp who briefly sang for Nazis under Maria Kutchera but the left Austria in 1926 shortly after doing so. She is played by Julie Andrews an English actress is a very friendly way.

- In 1926 in England Princess Elizibeth George V (the Albert of York is recovering from the 1925 public speech disaster. Also born are (in the USA with Jospeh Kennedy Sr and Admiral Halsey and FDR help) Norma Jean and Glorian Gainey.

- In 1949 Post WWII planning Great Brittian and Old Money under Averall Hariman in Paris put together world domination plans. Fights for Indonesia, Guatamala, and other nations are expected after colonialism lost those states to independence. The CIA is formed to replace the OSS of WWII and Democrat Party Harry S. Truman is hesitant and lukewarm as to cover operations and wants mostly intel information.

- 1951 10 1961 Plans under Vice President Nixon and the NSC for overthrowing countries inlcuding Indonesia and Cuba. Kennedy begins to reject the plans but is assasinated as his brother RFK is later.

- Maclcom X is assassinated in 1965 and the birth of Barrack Obama Jr with Stanely Ann Dunham holding Obama Jr is of interest to him (Malcom X) who pusblishes photos in his magazine. Some speculate he or Marilyn Monroe or both were asked to help provide a cover-identity for Barrack Obama Jr. should the CIA wish to give him "celebrity" family legend. public figure Barrack Obama Sr. is said to be the father but the CIA may not have been certain what story-line it wanted early on nor could it rely on how much continuing coooperation they could get from celebrities they were asking for help.

- In 1968 Dr Martin Luther King is assassinated by a loyalist to Great Britians imperialism. He is caught in England he had fled to and is tried and convicted in the USA. Robert F. Kennedy is assasinated that year and likely was in the White House when Obama Jr was taken from the plane coming back from Santa Monicy and brought by the USAF person in the photo. Who was that in real life?

- 1972 and on. Committees try to piece together the facts. George H.W. Bush follows LBJ into power but it seems both were tied to assassination JFK.

- Barrack Obama Jr and others planned by the CIA move into power supported by big business that planned for their rise to power.

- I Ed Donegan assert DNA from the Donegans were used in the genetic testig that produced Barrack Obama Jr. and that Barrack Obama Jr. was born without real parents in the marriage sense and was then moved to just then staring Trinity Baptist Church in Chicago where overthrows had been planned from.

- Jen Moore and Ed Donegan assert the hidden identity of Glorian Donegan is of interest to high ranking officials and that the DNA is still black-marketed after claims to the rights to the DNA is by fabricated evidence rather than the truth.

The Franklin coverup/child abuse ring demands Congressional investigation and appointment of a Special Federal Investigator. Nothing less will lay to rest these shocking and apparently valid charges.

Evidence Links Bush To The Omaha Child Abuse Ring

There is extraordinary evidence linking President George Bush to the Omaha child abuse ring. We balanced this evidence against the possibility of fabrication in an election year. If true the evidence will finish Bush as a political figure for all time. If not true it is an injustice of the gravest nature.

What we decided to do is present part of the evidence that links Mr. Bush in some manner, incidental or significant to the scandal and allow you, the reader, to make conclusions.

The naive will suggest that surely Democratic participants in the on going Presidential election would use this evidence against Mr. Bush. Unfortunately Democratic nominee Bill Clinton (also a Yale graduate) has skeletons in the closet, not the least being the Mena affair in which Clinton, as governor of Arkansas, reportedly covered up Bush/CIA misdeeds in Arkansas.

In any event we have copies and partial copies of documents originating within the State of Nebraska. Some documents came from Australia. They could be forged. We do not have notarized copies. That is why a Federal Special Investigator is necessary. We believe them to be authentic.

We hold no brief for Mr. Bush. We have a decade long record of criticizing Bush and his links to the Yale secret society Skull and Bones with satanic features.

However we always criticize on the basis of accurate and verifiable evidence and we have no intention of changing this policy.

There follows documents linking President Bush to the satanic-pedophilic ring. We then reproduce an assessment made 15 years ago on the satanic aspects of Skull and Bones. This last information is apparently not known to the Nebraska accusers but is circumstantial support for their charges. You be the judge.

Caradori's Airplane 'Broke Up in Flight'

By Robert Dorr and Gabriella Stern
World-Herald Staff Writers

The small plane that carried Lincoln private detective Gary Caradori and his 8-year-old son to their deaths in Illinois early Wednesday apparently broke up in flight, two investigators said Wednesday.

"It was a scattered wreckage pattern," said Bill Bruce, an investigator with the National Transportation Safety Board. "It certainly demonstrates that it did break up in flight. The exact mechanism of the breakup is unknown."

Sheriff Tim Bivins of Lee County, Ill., who spent 12 hours at the crash site, said he didn't think an explosion occurred while the plane was in the air. He said he thought the plane "came apart in the air" and exploded on impact. Bivins said plane debris was scattered over an area three-quarters of a mile long.

Caradori was the private investigator looking into allegations of child sexual abuse for the Legislature's Franklin Credit Union committee. The committee is investigating matters related to the 1988 failure of Omaha's Franklin Community Federal Credit Union. Caradori worked for the committee.

Caradori, 41, and his son, Andrew, died on their way back to Lincoln after Nebraska and other Deep State conspiracies link together through an international child trafficking network the CIA and FBI will cover-up at all costs are always run from the Whitehouse. Ted Gunderson wrote the Intro to the Nebraska document Jen Moore and also note in that some of the children were not multiple personalities but had emotions that carried them away from their norms at time though still rational. My mother would constantly tell psych workers the same thing. He is rational but off his rocker still. Borderline personalities are volatile.

In this photo: In 1988, state and federal authorities began looking into allegations that prominent citizens of Nebraska, as well as high-level U.S. politicians, were involved in a child prostitution ring.[3] Alleged abuse victims were interviewed, who claimed that children in foster care were flown to the East Coast of the United States to be sexually abused.

The accusations primarily centered on Lawrence E. King Jr., who ran the recently defunct Franklin Community Federal Credit Union in Omaha, Nebraska, and alleged that King hosted “lavish parties at which minors were sexually abused”. King was a rising figure in the Republican Party before the investigation, and owned multiple houses in Nebraska along with a house in Washington D.C. which he rented.[5] The Franklin Credit Union was raided by authorities investigating the embezzlement of tens of millions in November 1988.

The Nebraska Legislature organized a committee to look into both the credit union embezzlement and the child prostitution allegations named the Franklin Committee,[5] led by state Senator Loran Schmit and Ernie Chambers acting as vice chair. Numerous conspiracy theories spread after the committee was announced, claiming that the alleged abuse was part of a widespread series of crimes including devil worship, cannibalism, drug trafficking, and CIA arms dealing.

In July 1990, private investigator Gary Caradori, hired by the Franklin Committee to investigate the allegations, died along with his 8-year-old son when his plane disintegrated mid-air near Chicago. Foul play was suspected by Caradori's brother and state Senator Loran Schmit, but was not proven by investigators.[7][8][9] No definitive cause for the crash has been established.

Obituary: Eva Ban, the bikini woman in photo with John F. Kennedy. Eva Ban (right) laughs with JFK Today, the image would have gone viral - the president of the United States, dripping wet in trunks, laughing with a pretty woman in a polka-dot bikini. But well before the internet, the 1962 photo of president John F. Kennedy at the beach in Santa Monica, California, made quite a splash. And for a Los Angeles woman named Eva Ban, its effect lasted a lifetime.

Ban was the woman in the two-piece swimsuit, which was modest by today's standards.

Transylvania is best known as the mysterious land of bloodthirsty vampires and howling wolves. Some may think it's fictional, but this central Romanian region is a real place. And it's pretty special, too. It's like stepping back in time. While it's hard to avoid the creepy count, you'll also find hardwood forests, lush pastures and wildflower meadows. Travelling around Transylvania, described as 'the last truly medieval landscape in Europe', feels like you've gone back 100 years. Horse-drawn carts rumble along dirt roads, while shepherds tend their flocks and villagers make hay in the sunshine. The Germans of Romania (German: Rumäniendeutsche; Romanian: Germanii din România or germani-români; Hungarian: romániai németek) represent one of the most significant historical ethnic minorities of Romania since the late modern period onwards. [It was probably Mary of Teck the Romanian-German who introduced the FOXP2 gene into what was later called the Windsor royal family bloodline.]

The Germans of Romania (or Romanian-Germans) are not a single, unitary, homogeneous group, but rather a series of various regional sub-groups, each with their different culture, traditions, folklore, dialect or dialects, and history.

This claim stems from the fact that various German-speaking populations had previously arrived in the territory of present-day Romania in different waves or stages of settlement, initially starting with the High Middle Ages, firstly to southern and northeastern Transylvania, Kingdom of Hungary (some of them even crossing the outer Carpathians to neighbouring Moldavia and Wallachia), then subsequently during the Modern Age in other Habsburg-ruled lands (such as Bukovina, at the time part of Cisleithania, or the Banat).

Subsequently, the Romanian Old Kingdom (Romanian: Vechiul Regat, German: Altreich) was also colonized by Germans, firstly in Dobruja and then gradually in other areas of Moldavia and Wallachia.

Detailed map depicting the traditional settlement areas of the Romanian-Germans in Transylvania and Banat, two historical regions situated in central, respectively southwestern present-day Romania. Therefore, given their rather complex geographic background and the fact that major border changes took place in the region throughout history (after World War I, Romania expanded its territory from the pre-war 137,000 km2 (53,000 sq mi) to 295,049 km2 (113,919 sq mi)), the Germans of Romania are generally divided into the following independent sub-groups in an attempt to better understand their language, culture, customs, and history:

Transylvanian Saxons - the largest and oldest German community in the territory of modern-day Romania (often simply equated with all Romanian-Germans)

The writing on the wall in this compressed story-line from 1961 to 1963 is that likely planned in the 1950's and Indonesian sleeper agent will be groomed. A test birth from that Atomic bomb era will be used and Tom Glorian and Ed are on the wall showing invitro fertilization and surrogacy. The fertilization occurred on Feb 20 1961. November 18 was the real births and birth certificate November 19, 1961 and by 1963 Eddie the baby was stuck in deep freeze (or Ed Donegan in special ed preschool for years) missing part of his brain and unstable but Rocky is fine. This leads to a dispute JFK is assassinated over as sympathy existed for Eddie. How in Manchurian Candidate 1962 Dr Lo asks can one tell who will be successful and not" What tests so early on will work?. Little Albert tests

I this photo AreYouWillingToBankOnIt.png is Eddie emerging from a Sperm Bank from where he and Rocky were conceived but the brain split between them?

In this photo: Eddie comes out of the sperm bank on motorcycle without a prefrontal cortex (his brain was spit between the Rocky and him) as is assassinated. Is the Rich Wierdo based on the real life story of Peter Lawford by John Frankenhiemer? Did Marylin Monroe know too much about the CIA plans and MKULTRA? Did RFFK find out too much?

Edward Paul Donegan was rarely (unless he focused and worked very hard) at risk for knowing too much. As an amphetamine addict I was diagnosed with ADHD in Summit Merrit Peralta Rehab. The clinical workers notices I show more rather than less AHDH behavior as the days of being clean went by during the 30 days. Wellbutrion worked fine. Amphetamines increase the activity in the prefrontal cortex allowing the brain to better regulate itself and stick to tasks.

During this treatment I did learn enormous amounts I did not learn in AA. Among those things was the term professionals use for 12 step and other types of peer meetings. "Community Recovery." What I have learned of Gang Stalks is they are community based hostility. Under some guidance like an FBI agent or US Marshall or magistrate under-cover operations involve those in the vicinity of the person being stalked. Often they are told the stalked person is a terrorist, etc.,

This 1961 to 1963 timeline of Brad an Janet is too close to home for me with my family names as writing on the wall. Another one too close to home for me is Jet Pilot and Col. Shannon and his defector wife Olga and the history of RADAR and radar approaches to inbounds

Jet Pilot the 1957 American Cold War romance story of Col. Shannon USAF pilot and his new defector wife Olga. It was directed by Josef von Sternberg and starring John Wayne and Janet Leigh. It was written and produced by Jules Furthman, and presented by Howard Hughes. Filming lasted more than eighteen months, beginning in 1949.[1] The last day of shooting was in May 1953, but the Technicolor film was kept out of release by Hughes due to his tinkering until October 1957, by which time Hughes had sold RKO to Joseph Kennedy Sr. Universal-International ended up distributing Jet Pilot. Although Jet Pilot was publicized as showcasing the U.S. Air Force's latest jets, by the time it was finally shown, most of the aircraft in the film were obsolescent or obsolete,- Wikipedia

Evidence Links Bush To The Omaha Child Abuse Ring

There is extraordinary evidence linking President George Bush to the Omaha child abuse ring. We balanced this evidence against the possibility of fabrication in an election year. If true the evidence will finish Bush as a political figure for all time. If not true it is an injustice of the gravest nature.

What we decided to do is present part of the evidence that links Mr. Bush in some manner, incidental or significant to the scandal and allow you, the reader, to make conclusions.

The naive will suggest that surely Democratic participants in the on going Presidential election would use this evidence against Mr. Bush. Unfortunately Democratic nominee Bill Clinton (also a Yale graduate) has skeletons in the closet, not the least being the Mena affair in which Clinton, as governor of Arkansas, reportedly covered up Bush/CIA misdeeds in Arkansas.

In any event we have copies and partial copies of documents originating within the State of Nebraska. Some documents came from Australia. They could be forged. We do not have notarized copies. That is why a Federal Special Investigator is necessary. We believe them to be authentic.

We hold no brief for Mr. Bush. We have a decade long record of criticizing Bush and his links to the Yale secret society Skull and Bones with satanic features.

However we always criticize on the basis of accurate and verifiable evidence and we have no intention of changing this policy.

There follows documents linking President Bush to the satanic-pedophilic ring. We then reproduce an assessment made 15 years ago on the satanic aspects of Skull and Bones. This last information is apparently not known to the Nebraska accusers but is circumstantial support for their charges. You be the judge.

Nebraska Documents Linking Mr. Bush to Omaha Child Abuse

Document #1 is a report to the Franklin Committee of the Nebraska State Legislature by Gunderson and every major news outlet. The events in Franklin Nebraska investigated by the Nebraska Legislature Leadership Conference was tied to the CIA and George H.W. Bush whitehosue also connected to and McMartin with private plane traffic between them. Large sums of money in timing and people were part of Iran Contra.

Ted Gundeson despite the sound of it knows that Satanists are a hoax Micheal Aquino of the Defense Intelligence Agency and others in PsyOps overthrow groups hide behind, just as the CIA hides behind drug dealers inside and outside military and veterans groups. These groups are criminals, in Eugenics studies, using fake names for children, the killing them OR moving the oversees for reasons he sometimes misunderstood but he was correct the US Government and CIA did assassinate investigators and children and it was tied to George H.W. Bush and his ring of operatives. Jen Moore and Ed Donegan say the same thing and name the same groups and history of this. John DeCamp and William Colby both joined Ted Gunderson in these assertions and warned they might be assassinated for making them.

Ted Gunderson (when his name was still admired) first became aware of this strange ring of CIA front groups and their bizzare cover identities when he was asked to help defend Green Berret Jeffery Mc Donald and found (as Ed Donegan believes) the CIA had killed McDonald;s family and Ed Donegan believe because his wife and child came from secret backgrounds that needed to be covered up.

In this photo. As wrote about the violent gangs of South Texas that controlled the City, County, and police force endless knife and other attacks were conducted against me. My computer was destroyed or stolen by neighbors as the police watched and helped. I kept the computer in a locked closet and finally the building was simply destroyed and turned in a squatters abondoned building. Tenants were told in Equator heat wave building there would no longer be air conditioning (or working elavoators the poos was drained and used for a trash dump) and water service was irregluar.) The neigbors were violent drug deals from the Mexican mafia with knives always out always a laugh at the gringo as they grabbed their crotches, etc., The FBI was clearly running it and I came back bloody from attacks on the Sea Wall trying to use it for jogging.

Veronica Hoffman, better known in the scene as Mistress Veronica, died earlier this week in Los Angeles. Her close friend Tony Mitchell has written more on his site, and will publish an online remembrance later.

In this photo: I believe that Veronica Hoffman lost most of her lifespan to what I did and others have - Covert Noise Campaign of harassment of a Targeted Individual. People ask me where I am from. I most often do not tell them. I am from the Targeted Individuals community, those who believe or say the believe they are targeted by covert surveillance and harassment. We are usually placed in institutions for our beliefs OR placed under arrest for acting on our beliefs. I need another movie reference here. In the movie Dune "thumpers" could call the beast out. Lewd, threatening, harassing, disgusting, unfair, obstructing contextual noise can call any beast out of any person and especially a borderline, a passionate and volatile person. As process we learn not to like Stalkers and as substance fear the actions of Stalkers. The advantage the Stalker has is an alibi that is couched along with the harassing act making their actions both actionable by the Targeted Individual but defensible in that the harassment had an alibi.

I myself have inadvertently retaliated against a Stalked person. A woman I dated briefly and liked but was just truly not in place to date someone was stalked and landed in an ER reporting odd people wer following her. I told her to comply with the emergency room who wanted her on meds, etc., but I also had doubts about what I was saying since I was being stalked too and just figured rely on the professionals.

That was NOT Veronica Hoffman and we never dated thought I had met her but I think they were both being stalked by a noise campaign she could not escape from adn like me disassembled electronics, went to Do Not Disturb and in my case would remove SIMM chips in the gym to stop harassment. Once I lost the SIMM chip on the treadmill track after having to remove it and on the way to TMOBILE I took the Amber Look Out photos and people staged victims near me along my predicable walk along the Santa Monica board walk.

In this photo. A small model boat costing 25 dollars from Amazon.com sits on a fireplace mantel. A sail can capture a gust of wind and be pulled by it. But something instead foul and disgusting may turn the boat away of its course unless it can bring itself to cope with the disgusting oderous wind at its head.

Highlander Motel in Arlington VA on my way to Texas to free myself of ARC of NOVA that was in long con racket and harassing me and sabotaging my health club deals, etc., I could not get a lease to stick or be initiated because of the smear campaign attacking me. Ia m made to look like a Gym and Apartment Complex predator by staged activities identity theft and forgeries.

Discreditation of people and the result affects Discrediting a person may 1) Create a vacuum that person may otherwise have filled thus opening up an opportunity for a competitor, 2) May provide a gain in compensation if a false claim of harm is used to discredit a person including a possible funding of a protection racket that protects against the discredited person, 3) Self gains of that which is discredited in a person a worth belongs to is credited to someone else, 4) Racial or political satiation of hatred or political animosity, 5) Achieve affects on the standing of belief systems before the public such as that which flows from religiosity versus atheism, 5) Conflicts and distractions achieved as a discredited person battles against being discredited, and 6) while I Edward Paul Donegan assert I have been attacked by false allegation motivated by the above I consider myself in a class of people who have in common that only with the destruction of the whole of us and that testimony that comes from us also be destroyed for the testimony on key matters if offered is a threat to whom the offered information is a threat.

"Patriotic" CIA Drug Smuggling

Ambiguous? Ask CIA operative Oliver North, aka John Cathey. He could lie to Congress with a straight face.

When veteran FBI Special Agent Richard M. Taus uncovered and reported evidence of CIA drug trafficking by a group called the "K-Team," he was set-up and sent to prison on phony charges.

"The K-Team had a front operation with the patriotic sounding name National Freedom Institute and called its operation the 'Enterprise,' the same that repeatedly surfaced in the Iran Contra congressional hearings," writes Rodney Stich in his ground-breaking book Defrauding America.

Taus discovered that that K-Team was a CIA operation, engaged in drug trafficking, the looting of savings and loans, and other activities related to what later became known as Irangate and Iraqgate.

Another of Rodenh Stich's sources, Gene "Chip" Tatum confirmed these allegations. He was the helicopter pilot who actually ferried CIA operatives Oliver North, Felix Rodriguez, aka Max Gomez, and William Barr -- CIA's Southern Air Transport attorney and later US President George Bush's Attorney General -- in Central America.

Tatum describes one meeting to "determine where over $100 million in drug money disappeared on the three routes from Panama to Colorado, Ohio and Arkansas. This theft was financially draining the operation known as the 'Enterprise'... The first call was made by Fernandez to Oliver North, informing North that 'the money loss was occurring on the Panama to Arkansas route, and that means either Seal, Clinton or Noriega.'"

Imagine -- the late CIA drug transport pilot Barry Seal, former Arkansas Governor Bill Clinton, as well as Panama's General Noriega were all suspected of skimming George Bush's cocaine profits.

"Fifteen minutes later the portable phone rang and Vice President George Bush was on the line talking to William Barr," writes Stich. "Barr said at one point, referring to the missing funds, 'I would propose that no one source would be bold enough to siphon out that much money, but it is more plausible that each are siphoning a portion causing a drastic loss.'"

Gene Tatum on Black Opps radio exposed all of this but shortly thereafter, after appearing with Ted Gunderon on that program four times, dissapeared and later washed up on the shore off Panama.

Quroa Randy Carter

Why do people not believe the stories of Ted Gunderson, former head of the LA FBI? In general, extraordinary claims require extraordinary proof.

If you want to prove that stuff in a court of law, it ain't easy. And everyone is going to try to close their eyes to it. And the court would rather not deal with it. Any number of people in the chain might be compromised. The press is long since compromised.

So it's not easy to get the message out in a way that is provable to your average person. https://www.quora.com/What-happened-to-ex-FBI-agent-Ted-Gunderson-after-he-denounced-the-occupation-of-the-Illuminati-in-key-positions-in-all-levels-of-the-US-government-and-across-the-world

It is the story of the fight between Leakers verus Plumbers. Plumbers stop the leaks leakers are making.

Ted Gunderon is one of those people I Edward Paul Donegan am indirectly but closely linked to and closely linked to in perhaps five or six ways. I haven't counted the all up.

Gunderson said the CIA was active in secet tunnels and secret research at the preschool I went to in 1962 in Los Angeles County California, McMartin Preschool in Manhatta Beachy City. Gunderson was also tied to the assasination of JFK and RFK (both of whom he worked for and investigated in an offical capacity and late as a private detected and meda figure) as I am too. He asserted he was poisoned at the same time I made that assertion. He and Gene "Chip" Tatum outed the NWO Deep State figures like Robert Mueller III operating for the CIA while in the DOJ, Richard Nixon, and many more. Often Gunderson in particular sounded crazy because he described the crazy sounding cover stories the CIA hid under - those being Satanists, drug dealers, and other undeground groups whose members confessed to and by government documents actually US DOD and CIA operatives working undercover.

Both Gene Chi Tatum a Special Activities pilot running cash and contraband around the world incuding accross the US and Canadian border were (like special activities pilot Philip Marshall) writing tell-alls about the CIA and the CIA assasination of JFK RFK and others.

My own story that is within the fabric of thier (and Jen Moore's accounts) confirm the truth of the revelations.

Chip Tatum - Ex CIA agent spilled the beans, subsequently murdered

"Chip Tatum was an ex CIA agent who gave an infamous interview in which he made a number of extraordinary claims regarding government drug smuggling, plans for the new world order, dirty war tactics, etc. In the video he names and shames ex-world leaders who were directly involved and backs up dates and his location & cargo with flight plans and other documents. The full interview can be found here: http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=LxZqaxlOuac For people who understandably don't have a spare hour + to watch the video, a shorter one is found here: http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=1IgsRHM6esw Chip went missing in the late 90's & his tortured, faceless body was found washed up on a Panama beach almost a decade later. The video below is an ex-government insider with a much more to the point & chilling explanation of future plans. http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=ec_b5W-xsQM I thought I'd post these here to discuss in the hope that they can be argued with or debunked because they are quite frankly horrifying. My personal view on the NWO is that there is a lot of evidence to suggest there are few people who actually rule the world and there is more evidence that a one world government is in the making and total control that comes with it. What lays in doubt in my mind is what a one world government will actually mean. Please don't just dismiss my post without watching the videos first. If you disagree, then please state why, after all I don't want this to be true, I just fear that it might be."

Ted Gunderson, Gene "Chip" Tatum, William Colby, John DeCamp all worked together, knew of and warned of WETDIVION assassinations by the CIA and warned of them and inormed us about them. I too was radiolgicaly attacked, had food poisoned, etc., as Gunderson and others allege. DeCamp and Gunderson believe Colby was murdered Gunderson asserted a deep state that does to leakers about the Coruption Network. That networkd Mueller, Esptein, Barr that is William and Donald, the Bush family, and many others.

Ted Gunderson was assigned to and also during his private practice investigated the deaths from a slew of connected crimes connected the assassination of JFK. Gunderson had all files declassified or not available at that time.

"Vigilantism" is the act of preventing, investigating and punishing perceived offenses and crimes without legal authority. A vigilante is a person who practices or partakes in vigilantism, or undertakes public safety and retributive justice without commission. - Wikipedia

Public officials now in Organized Crime use vigilantes operating under Color Of Law for a variety of crimes they deny including poisonings, break-ins, smear campaigns, beatings and assassinations, false imprisonments, over and covert death threats against writers and authors, destruction of government and other documents, assassination of oversight officials like Sonny Bono and even CIA assassination of their own workers and allies to protect themselves (the elites) from being held accountable for NWO Crimes against the United States of America.

Many books have been written including my own Edward Paul Donegan's New William Cooper Press books about "silenced" (dead) witness and dead investigators who knew too much about official corruption in the USA.

"Psychosis is a break with reality where the thoughts and perceptions of a person become disrupted. These changes happen gradually, typically in three phases: early, acute, and recovery." The Criminologist - An Expert: [reading from dictionary] "Emotion: Agitation or disturbance of mind; vehement or excited mental state." It is also a powerful and irrational master. And from what Magenta and Columbia eagerly viewed on their television monitor, there seemed little doubt that Janet was indeed... its slave." is in one popular movie.

What Ed Donegan and Jen Moore know from the Donegan story that includes Manhattan Beach and Ted Gunderson might have had knowledge of is the child development issue of co-morbid Attention Deficit Disorder, Hyperactivity Disorder, and Borderline Personality flow from the FOXP2 gene a rare gene Justina Pelletier likely carries and there are far ranging and diverse symptoms of volatile relationship that Marilyn Monroe also had and her CIA connected death relates to the CIA secret research into these CIA based family lines and MKULTRA.

Ted Gunderson saw these cases connected and described them in retrospect only quiet well but not well enough to make a believer out of someone that did not have other information. He said high ranking elites who for various reasons he was never quite to sure of (Jen Moore and Ed Donegan telling that same story can tell you about that) show Borderline Personality Disorder is a volatile emotions pathology and the CIA was testing children by abusing them. Some, who were secretly part of secret family lines would be groomed as sleeper agents around the world by being placed from orphanages into families of influence in order to grow up themselves as Agents of Influence in Deep Cover in other countries or the USA.

One of the things Gunderson wrote about used on children and adults by the CIA and FBI are "ritualistic Satanic abuse" disgusting or revolting imagery thought intolerable to a person in a ceaseless way. Ed Donegan, Gunderson, Jen Moore and others understand Zertsung as based on the principles the Psyist stated when dealing with foreign enemies. Causing them mistakes with disinformation or playing to their minds in strategic was is part of leading them into the traps they walk into. According to him the goal is to get the person subjected to abuse to torture themselves with painful emotions they experience upon simuli. I Ed Donegan believe bullies hope if they can abuse him (myself) with Take-This-Bitch gender flashing type games, trying to be racailly and gender hostile to a person in a religious or civil rights way will provoke a conflict. It is ok to dress most ways in most places including Yoga pants in public. In combination with actions like stepping in front of people and what is called in-your-face about it, drawing attention to genetilai in a way to be abusive to a person in some way both racially and gender motivated is part of many forms of toxic and hostile abuses I have experienced and others have too. The hope is a fight from me, a punch, angry comment, or other act, will bring about cause for an arrest of me as either paranoid about others or abusive to others thus they finaly can act against when no excuse existed before.

Ted Gunderson is the former FBI official in the headline below other other FBI, CIA, NSA, and MI5 officials confirm the exact same story including poisonings, etc., that I Edward Paul Donegan have experienced. later in this chapter I will describe US Government agencies mechanisms in these activities.

Ted Gunderson that former FBI official was Robert F. Kennedy's anti-rackets right hand man Ted Gunderson who was in a meeting with RFK when JFK was shot and killed. Ted Gunderson pursued on behalf of the US Government People of the United States of America conspiracy theories since that time until his own death.

Two Deaths Dorothy Kilgallen and Ted Gunderson and like William Colby appear to wet-division silencing of espionage agents who knew too much about what is thought to be Boston Brahmin world imperialist deep state that assassinated JFK.

The Boston Brahmins or Boston elite are members of Boston's traditional upper class.

U.S. GOVERNMENT RUNS 'GANG STALKING' VIGILANTISM, SAYS EX-FBI OFFICIAL

http://www.nowpublic.com/world/u-s-govt-runs-gang-stalking-vigilantism-says-ex-fbi-official Official confirms what thousands of victims have long known: an evil U.S. shadow government is conducting a covert, taxpayer-funded genocidal purge of American society - while Congress and an apparently entrained Obama administration sleep.

Author's note: Former FBI official Ted Gunderson died of cancer on July 31, 2011. Was his illness induced by silent electromagnetic assault or by other nefarious means? We will never know - and that's just the way certain entities want it.

A former senior official of the Federal Bureau of Investigation says "rogue" military intelligence and law enforcement units of the federal government oversee a nationwide network of community-based “gang stalking” harassment, intimidation and domestic terrorism directed at thousands of U.S. citizens who have been extrajudicially targeted as “dissidents” or undesirables.

Ted Gunderson, 82, who has served as the special agent in charge of the FBI’s Los Angeles, Memphis and Dallas field offices, has stated in a series of public speaking appearances that he is now targeted by these same elements, and fears for his life and for the safety of his family. He reports that the windows of his home have been shot out, and he believes he has been poisoned and physically sickened by those seeking to silence him.

Since his retirement from the FBI in the 1979, Gunderson has been a Southern California- based private investigator. He is most noted for his defense work on the murder case involving former Army physician Dr. Jeffrey MacDonald.

The ex-FBI official’s comments represent the most compelling testimony to date indicating that “black operations” of the federal government are dedicated to waging a covert war of terror and persecution targeting American citizens.

“Based on my thirty years’ experience and research, I have determined there are thousands of victims who have been targeted by an illegal U.S. government rogue criminal enterprise - military intelligence, probably, tied into CIA and FBI and so forth - that is active 24 hours a day throughout the United States,” Gunderson stated in an October 2008 speech posted last fall on YouTube.

NOTE: It appears that the link to the Ted Gunderson

YouTube video has been sabotaged. Please search "Ted Gunderson" and "YouTube" and look for the link to his speech at the Gulf Symposium.. I believe this is more blatantly illegal and malicious interference with telecommunications by operatives of Lockheed Martin, under contract to U.S. Homeland-mil-intel, or another entity representing the agencies, commands and corporations of the U.S. fusion center network.

"It is far too extensive to be controlled by private enterprise," Gunderson said. "I believe this well organized and sophisticated operation has a central command located somewhere in the United States, with multiple satellite offices scattered throughout the country."

Said Gunderson:

> "It appears those who administer the program can call any location in the United States for surveillance, a telephone tap, or … harassment directed at a victim, and immediately dispense manpower to the source … This well-greased, covert operation makes the old FBI counterintelligence program (code-named "Cointelpro") look like a Sunday school class."

Gunderson also maintains that federal security and law enforcement agencies and commands have been infiltrated by members of secret societies such as the Illuminati, which he has described as a satanic criminal cult.

This correspondent (Rudy Andria or someone beign quoted) has reported that Lockheed Martin, the world's largest defense contractor and the prime cyber-security and information technology supplier to the federal government, coordinates the communications and trains the “team leaders” of a nationwide Gestapo-like apparatus, which has tentacles into every security and law enforcement agency in the nation, including state and local police and 72 regional “fusion centers” administered by the U.S. Department of Homeland Security. According to company literature, Lockheed Martin has operations in 46 of the 50 states.

Bamboozles cover up overthrows

> From the moment the hijackers arrived on U.S. soil, it is well documented that Saudi Intelligence agents, and employees of the Saudi Civil Aviation authority, provided housing, obtained drivers licenses and harbored them. After lying low as a sleeper cell throughout the year 2000, they would be led to intensive flight training in the Arizona desert in December of 2000, which leads to the first plausible explanation of the incredible flying performance demonstrated on 9/11. After submitting an 800-page report to the American public, moderate U.S. Senator Bob Graham of Florida, the co-chairman of the Inquiry, said, "There was a 'direct line' between the terrorists and the government of Saudi Arabia. The Saudi government had provided logistical and financial support to at least two of the 9 / 11 hijackers while they lived in Southern California." - Philip Marshall Big Bamboozle I

As the Obama Sr family prepared for power in Kenya backed by the CIA supporting British colonization ongoing since 1902 Indonesian plans were underway too and they CIA and Madelyn Payne Dunham grandmother of Barrack Obama Jr war CIA operatives part of that planning. Her daughter had with Stanley Armour Dunham (Caught by the CIA for selling Boeing Bomber plans to the Nazis) Stanley Armour Dunham is recorded on the birth certificate in use today as the mother of Barrack Obama Jr. There were more than one birth certificate and the fact that fakes do exist and were planted by British and Australian intelligence agencies do not prove that the conspiracy theory along with the birth certificates are fake, it proves the conspiracy does exist and involved fake birth certificates.

Malcom X under his FBI and CIA backed recruitment planned a Mecca (Saudi Arabia future for himself before he was assassinated. That was yet another possible location for Barrack Husein Obama Jr. to grow up in Malcom X lived and did not talk. Some say the 9/11 attacks were the chickens coming home to roost for the CIA plans with Rockefeller Standard Oil and Nixon plans for Saudi Arabia.

At the center of this planning was Donald Barr and international banks and law firms. BCCI and its ties to international mafia cocaine cartels as use in dirty wars was at the center of what Phillip Marhsall and others like Gene Chip Tatum were writing about.

From Big Bamboozle I Chapter 19 BCCI - The Special Bank

To get a glimpse of the world-wide roots of black operations and their ties of the administrations of the elder Bush and his son to Saudi Arabia and international terrorism, it is helpful to look at the case of the Bank of Credit & Commerce International, or BCC [the operation mechanism of Donald Barr and Ililam Barr also connected to geneticist Epstein, OSS CIA overthrows the same Donald Barr who held an experimental monkey in the White house just flown in from Los Angeles.]. Time magazine ran a cover story on June 29, 1991, that was so sensational and so profoundly disturbing that no one seemed able to put their arms around it. It, was too bad to be true. Perhaps the mind set was, if we ignored it, it would simply go away. It couldn't be as bad as all that. Could it?

Judging from the mild reaction to Time's revelations, Americans could not believe that there was a new criminal thread within the upper floors of the U.S. government actually cooperating with crooks, terrorists, political con artists and foreign dictators.

Time's cover story of June 29, 1991, was titled: "The Dirtiest Bank of All." The entire article is available at Time's website but for now, here are some excerpts from the article. With the benefit of twenty years of research and fact checks, we can plainly see the footprints of our gang: Bush", Bandar, Mueller" and the Intelligence Community" as they transport gold, cash and illicit drugs. > "I could tell you what you want to know, but I must worry about my wife and family - they could be killed." [Just as Philliip Marhshal and his family was in fact assassinated] - a former top BCCI officer. "We better not talk about this over the phone. We've found some bugs in offices that haven't been put there by law enforcement." - a Manhattan investigator probing BCCI

-Nothing in the history of modern financial scandals rivals the unfolding saga of the Bank of Credit & Commerce International, the $20 billion rogue empire that regulators in 62 countries shut down early this month in a stunning global sweep.

-Never has a single scandal involved so much money, so many nations or so many prominent people. Superlatives are quickly exhausted: it is the largest corporate criminal enterprise ever, the biggest Ponzi scheme, the most pervasive money-laundering operation and financial supermarket ever created for the likes of Manuel Noriega, Ferdinand Marcos, Saddam Hussein and the Colombian drug barons. BCCI even accomplished a stealth-like invasion of the U.S. banking industry by secretly buying First American Bankshares, a Washington- based holding company, whose chairman is a former U.S. Defense Secretary.

-But BCCI is more than just a criminal bank. Time has pieced together a portrait of a clandestine division of the bank called the "black network," which functions as a global intelligence operation and a Mafia-like enforcement squad ... (which) has used sophisticated spy equipment and techniques, along with bribery, extortion, kidnapping and even, by some accounts, murder. The black network - so named by its own members - stops at almost nothing tofurther the bank's aims the world over.

-The more conventional departments of BCCI handled such services as laundering money for the drug trade and helping dictators loot their national treasuries. The black network, which is still functioning, operates a lucrative arms-trade business and transports drugs and gold. -According to investigators and participants in those operations, it often works with Western and Middle Eastern intelligence agencies. The strange and still murky ties between BCCI and the intelligence agencies of several countries are so pervasive that even the White House has become entangled.

-The National Security Council used BCCI to funnel money for the Iran-Contra deals, and the CIA maintained accounts in BCCI for covert operations. Moreover, investigators have told Time that the Defense Intelligence Agency has maintained a slush-fund account with BCCI, apparently to pay for clandestine activities."

-But the CIA may have used BCCI as more than an undercover banker: U.S. agents collaborated with the black network in several operations, according to a BCCI black-network "oficer," who is now a secret U.S. government witness. Sources have told investigators that BCCI worked closely with Israel's spy agencies and other Western intelligence groups as well, especially in arms deals. The bank also maintained cozy relationships with international terrorists, say investigators.

-In the U.S. investigators now say openly that the Justice Department has not only reined in its own probe of the bank, but is also part of a concerted campaign to derail any full investigation. Says Robert Morgenthau, the Manhattan district attorney who first launched his investigations into BCCI two years ago: "We have had no cooperation from the Justice Department since we first asked for records in March 1990. Infact, they are impeding our investigation, and Justice Department representatives are asking witnesses not to cooperate with us.

RED FLAG (raised by Phillip Marshall]- The chief of the Justice Department's white collar crime criminal division under former President Bush was our friend Robert Mueller, who was appointed by President George W. Bush as the director of the FBI on September 4, 2001, one week before 9/11.

PEGASUS - ASSASSINATION & NEUTRALIZATION

Gene “Chip” Tatum a native of St.Petersburg Florida, was a Vietnam Special Forces Air Combat Controller, Defense Intelligence Asset, and US Army special operations pilot flying classified missions during the US invasion of Grenada, Tatum was also involved in the Nixon Administrations relations with China, NASA’s Apollo Program, the Iran-Contra Affair, and several other classified intelligence operations dating through through 1992 . Working directly for the sitting Presidents. From sensitive and highly secret - and hitherto largely unknown - Special Forces covert operations in Cambodia, to wandering CIA asset, through to “black ops” activities in Grenada and Oliver North’s Iran-Contra “Enterprise.” Tatum knows where the skeletons are buried. - Gene “Chip” Tatum author profile amazon.com

Vietnam Special Forces Air Combat Controller, 25-year CIA deep-cover agent, US Army pilot flying classified missions during the US invasion of Grenada, Iran-Contra pilot flying cocaine shipments labeled as medical supplies, member of the ultra-secret, international #NWO G7-run Pegasus “hit team”, Tatum has gone into considerable additional detail regarding the role of Pegasus as he knew it.

Tatum believes Pegasus was established during the Eisenhower years as a secret group inside the CIA to spy on that agency on behalf of the President. At some point - believed to be after the assassination of President Kennedy - Pegasus went AWOL from direct US Government control and came under the direction of an international Board of Directors which Tatum alleges now includes George Bush and Henry Kissinger

The directors of Pegasus meet once a year in secret conclave following G7 meetings.

The group has “representation” from a number of intelligence agencies throughout the world. Included are the US Drug Enforcement Administration (DEA), the Central Intelligence Agency (CIA), the Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms (ATF) as well as agents from British, Israeli, Turkish and Danish Intelligence plus “others who performed various functions for Pegasus”.

Tatum [tried for Treason] declares he will not,

> “participate in assassinations of any sort, character assassinations or anything, of American citizens”.

Tatum goes on to explain that back in 1994, in a telephone conference call involving Oliver North, Felix Rodríguez and the late William Colby of the CIA, he was warned to turn over incriminating documents and tapes he had accumulated for his “retirement”.

]William Colby who died alone along the Patomic was going to out the Family Jewels program of the CIA run by his CIA predacessor, George H.W. Bush.]

He wryly observes that had he done so, he would probably have been quickly “terminated” in an “extreme” way - a specialty of the Pegasus team of which he was once a member.

Joining the Air Force in February 1970, he went through Army jump school, escape and evasion training, jungle training, sea survival school and diving school and was assigned along with six others as “Combat Controllers” (the USAF equivalent of Special Forces), receiving his distinctive Special Forces burgundy-colored beret.

From there he was assigned to Tinker Air Force Base, Oklahoma, and then on to Fort Bragg, North Carolina - home of the “Green Berets” - for training in C4 plastic explosives, mines, nuclear, biological and chemical warfare, plus indoctrination in electronic and psychological operations.

Posted to South-East Asia as Airman First Class (A1C) in December 1970, he was assigned as a radio operator on a Forward Air Control (FAC) aircraft attached to Task Force Alpha at Nakhon Phanom, Thailand. In short order he was recruited (an involuntary “volunteer”) to “Team Red Rock”. The team was composed of eight US Army Green Berets, three US Navy SEALs and two “cowboys” - a euphemism for CIA paramilitary specialists.

During February 1985, Tatum was piloting “Dustoff” (Medevac) flights for the US Army’s 3/498th Medical Company, stationed at Fort Stewart, Georgia. Two flight crews, including Tatum’s, were transferred to Palmerola Air Base, Honduras. Each flight consisted of a pilot, copilot, medic and crew chief.

Once familiarized, they assumed the Medevac mission for Joint Task Force Bravo. Previously, in 1984, Tatum infiltrated the 3/498th on the instructions of Lt Col. Oliver North who had established contact under the code-name “Jake” (North had “control” of the 160th air wing and was also deeply involved with the tactical planning of “black ops” missions in the Grenada invasion).

On 15 February 1985, during a flight to La Ceiba, Honduras, he was instructed to contact his local “handler”, Major Felix Rodríguez - later to prove a major figure in the Iran-Contra investigation. Rodríguez informed Tatum that in addition to his Army “Medevac” duties he was to support covert “Pegasus” missions.

NSDD-138 was the formation of the Operations Sub-Group (OSG). The Sub-Group was a select NSC-DoD-CIA-FBI-foreign intelligence agency which operated so as to bypass the regular operations of intelligence/military/law-enforcement agencies. OSG was formed in February 1986.

Using the private sector clause, Don Gregg, VP Bush's National Security Advisor, included a representative from British Intelligence and Israeli Intelligence. To date I have called this group 'Pegasus' in an attempt not to divulge its true identity until I was on safe ground. Although most of the missions performed by OSG-2 are classified, the existence of the organization is now declassified."

In fact, Tatum has now revealed the existence of three OSGs.

OSG-1 was headed by Ted Shackley and was "our anti-narcotics group".4 OSG-2 was the anti-terrorism group and OSG-3 was "our 'alignment' group". Tatum was originally posted to OSG-2 which was commanded by Col. Oliver North. The third group, OSG-3, was commanded by Richard Secord.

Following the exposure of Oliver North's role in Contragate in 1987, North resigned as head of OSG-2 and his spot was taken over by Secord. Tatum moved up to command OSG-3 at the same time.

All three OSGs answered to those individuals who sat on the TIWG.

Behold the Pale Horse Pegasuas and the assaintions overthrow world control William Cooper and Gene "Chip" Tatusm and Phillip Marshall wrote about.

During the most violent years of the war in Nicaragua, a retired CIA agent - a man of many talents and pseudonyms whose given name is Felix Rodriguez - was the logistics officer for airlifts of weapons and supplies from the Ilopango air base, in El Salvador, to the jungle hide-outs of the Nicaraguan rebels known as contras. On October 5th, 1986, one of Rodriguez's cargo planes, a Southern Air Transport C-123K, loaded with 10,000 pounds of ammunition, failed to return from a scheduled drop in Nicaragua. Fearing the worst, Rodriguez made a series of phone calls to Washington that evening. What was unusual was that Rodriguez did not notify anyone at the Defense Department or the CIA but rather attempted to get word about the missing plane to Donald Gregg, the national-security adviser for Vice President George Bush.

The purpose of the engineered viral crisis is to collapse the world’s economies, normalize authoritarianism, and advance the elites’ goal of a global government. Participating individuals and companies were assigned tasks following the pronouncement of what has been described as a deadly novel coronavirus.

and highly infectious, COVID-19, the corporate media has created a state of panic. There has been enormous pressure on governments to “act.” Scientists’ protests that the danger is exaggerated resulted in the disappearance or death of these scientists and doctors. Economies have come to their knees Riots have broken out in prisons Protests are raging around the world Most citizens are so afraid of catching a cold that they don’t even think to question the dangers or draconian measures. If the population is so compliant now, will they notice if rights and freedoms are not fully restored, or will they oppose it if lockdowns become common practice? Perhaps the most worrying and smartest aspect of the epidemic is that it provides an excuse to close important avenues of dissent. The corporate media are, of course, anyway, but parliaments have been extended, public meetings are forbidden, leaflets are unlikely to be tolerated. Anyone who tries to organize a public protest is likely to be arrested. Economies have suffered greatly. The small business model is practically destroyed. The companies will declare bankruptcy. Protests will break out across the world. Riots will end in deaths in prisons. The “Think Tanks” will make the decision that viruses are here to stay and the human susceptibility factor will have a great weight in the decisions made for the future reconstruction of economies and companies. As in other crises, the use of automation will experience exponential growth that will replace the vulnerable human factor. Citizens will become more dependent on the government. Wanted: Gen-X Chumps, I Mean, Spooks

Including a Review of Rodney Stich's Disavow

by Uri Dowbenko

In case you missed it, the CIA is trolling for fresh blood.

Yes, the US Central Intelligence Agency -- that fun-loving, drug-dealing, government-subverting dinosaur of a bureaucracy -- is running ads for new recruits.

The ad, in the employment section of the Wall Street Journal (September 7, 1999), features a photo of a smug-looking thirty-something woman with her chin in hand, and the preposterous headline -- "Do you have what it takes? Integrity. Intellect. Common Sense. Patriotism. Courage."

Sadly there was no mention of the applicant's ability to actively participate in, or at least look the other way, when confronted with state-sanctioned terrorism,like illegal drug smuggling or money laundering.

Sponsored by the CIA Directorate of Operations, Clandestine Service, the ad says you can't be older than 35 to enter the trainee program. In other words, the ad copy is aimed directly at people who may be unaware of the Agency's bloody and treacherous history.

"For the extraordinary individual who wants more than just a job, this is a unique career, a way of life that will challenge the deepest resources of your intelligence, self-reliance and responsibility," the pitch continues.

"It demands an adventurous spirit, a forceful personality, superior intellectual ability, toughness of mind, and a high degree of personal integrity, courage and love of country."

Give that copywriter a raise. With outrageous lies like these, Gen-Xers could sign up for the Gambino family with a clear conscience.

Then there's the close -- "You will need to deal with fast-moving, ambiguous and unstructured situations that will test your resourcefulness to the utmost."

"Patriotic" CIA Drug Smuggling

Ambiguous? Ask CIA operative Oliver North, aka John Cathey. He could lie to Congress with a straight face.

When veteran FBI Special Agent Richard M. Taus uncovered and reported evidence of CIA drug trafficking by a group called the "K-Team," he was set-up and sent to prison on phony charges.

"The K-Team had a front operation with the patriotic sounding name National Freedom Institute and called its operation the 'Enterprise,' the same that repeatedly surfaced in the Iran Contra congressional hearings," writes Rodney Stich in his ground-breaking book Defrauding America.

Taus discovered that that K-Team was a CIA operation, engaged in drug trafficking, the looting of savings and loans, and other activities related to what later became known as Irangate and Iraqgate.

Another of Stich's sources, Gene "Chip" Tatum confirmed these allegations. He was the helicopter pilot who actually ferried CIA operatives Oliver North, Felix Rodriguez, aka Max Gomez, and William Barr -- CIA's Southern Air Transport attorney and later US President George Bush's Attorney General -- in Central America.

Tatum describes one meeting to "determine where over $100 million in drug money disappeared on the three routes from Panama to Colorado, Ohio and Arkansas. This theft was financially draining the operation known as the 'Enterprise'... The first call was made by Fernandez to Oliver North, informing North that 'the money loss was occurring on the Panama to Arkansas route, and that means either Seal, Clinton or Noriega.'"

Imagine -- the late CIA drug transport pilot Barry Seal, former Arkansas Governor Bill Clinton, as well as Panama's General Noriega were all suspected of skimming George Bush's cocaine profits.

"Fifteen minutes later the portable phone rang and Vice President George Bush was on the line talking to William Barr," writes Stich. "Barr said at one point, referring to the missing funds, 'I would propose that no one source would be bold enough to siphon out that much money, but it is more plausible that each are siphoning a portion causing a drastic loss.'"

Tatum said that Barr then dialed another number immediately reaching Governor Clinton. Barr explained the missing money problem to Clinton, explaining that over $100 million of the Enterprise monies had disappeared, and warning that the matter must be resolved or "it could lead to big problems."

The problems were evidently ironed out. Bill Clinton became president, one of the CIA's "few groomed men," who was promised his position on the "short list" for the job, according to Terry Reed and John Cummings, authors of Compromised.

In another instance, Tatum described "flying the group to Santa Ana, Honduras meeting with Enrique Bermudez and other Contra leaders and visiting a cocaine processing facility. Tatum described the strong smell of jet fuel and acetone and the large fuel pods that had the tops stripped off them and in which were fuel and leaves," writes Stich.

"Tatum repeated what Oliver North said, 'One more year of this and we'll all retire.'"

The hubris of these criminals is unbelievable. And Oliver North, of course has still not retired.

"North added, 'If we can keep those Arkansas hicks in line, that is," referring to Barry Seal and Governor Clinton... As Tatum listened to these conversations he remembered the army officer's remarks, 'Tell no one. There's no one big enough in your chain of command.'"

No kidding. Hearing Oliver North talk about the involvement of George Bush and Bill Clinton in drug smuggling, Tatum wisely followed the advice.

"Courageous" CIA Money Laundering

Or you could ask Ronald Rewald, an international wheeler-dealer who thought he had it made. Hobnobbing with the world's movers and shakers, Rewald was living the lifestyle of the rich and famous. He had a $2 million estate in Hawaii, a chauffeured limo took him to work everyday, and he even played polo with the Sultan of Brunei, the richest man in the world.

The subject of another book by Rodney Stich called Disavow, Rewald had a dark secret. He was just a front man for the CIA, an informant since college when he began spying on "subversive" organizations like the SDS (Students for a Democratic Society) during the late 1960's and 70's.

Later as chairman of BBRDW -- Bishop, Baldwin, Rewald Dillingham and Wong -- a Hawaii-based CIA front masquerading as a worldwide investment company, Rewald thought he had nothing to fear. But then came the setup and the fall. Today after spending ten years in prison as the fall guy for the CIA, Rewald is reportedly still in denial.

According to Stich, BBRDW was a CIA proprietary, a company wholly owned by CIA operatives, started, operated and funded by the CIA in 1979 using many of the same high level people that had staffed Nugan Hand Bank.

Nugan Hand was the infamous Australia-based money laundry used by CIA to disburse Southeast Asian drug revenues.

In a chapter of Defrauding America, Stich writes that "the CIA used BBRDW as an international investment company cover with 120 employees staffing offices in 16 countries including Hong Kong, India, Indonesia, Taiwan, New Zealand, Singapore, London, Paris, Stockholm, Brazil and Chile. CIA personnel opened and operated these far flung offices."

When his cover was blown by a Honolulu reporter, Rewald never saw it coming. Since he'd been working for the CIA since his college days, he just naturally assumed that the CIA takes care of its own. Rewald was wrong.

"Disavowed" by the way, means "once your cover is blown, pal, you're on your own."

The book Disavow by Rodney Stich and T. Conan Russell should be required reading for anyone who's even thinking about working for the so-called "intelligence" agencies -- CIA, DIA, NSA, FBI, ONI, etc.

Just as there is no honor among thieves, there is even less among "spooks" -- the double-dealing spies of the world.

Disavow deals with global realpolitik and the important business of state -- making drug deals, laundering money, buying elections -- the professional expertise for which the CIA is absolutely unparalleled anywhere on earth.

Ronald Rewald found out the hard way. If he ever writes his autobiography, he should call it, "I Was a Chump for the CIA."

In this context, the brazen affront of the CIA's Wall Street Journal ad is absolutely astounding.

"The CIA is an equal opportunity employer and a drug-free work force," the ad continues lying. "We represent America and we want to be representative of America."

By the way, whistleblower and former FBI agent Richard M.

Taus is still incarcerated, a political prisoner of the CIA's treachery and phony war on drugs.

Roadblocking Is One System of Illegal CIA and FBI Misconduct

When you here the most angry descriptions of who Gang Stalkers are (Gang Stalkers are recruited to perfrom hostile acts aginast a Targeted peson while denying harrasssing of offending acts directed at the Targeted person) the description run to the base base and profane.

When you hear Gang Stalking experts like Cathy Meadows talk about the same thing she will describe the psychology of the matter in an abstract way that I will put in a metaphor of the operation of Zersetzung.

Zersetzug is the method a political corrupt State makes against a dissident fraudulently. Not wanting to bear the blame of miscarriages of justice in the legal system publicly more secretive acts are used such as smear campaing in Grand Juries the targeted person is not present at, smear campaigns in Office Mobs the targeted person is not present at, and other dirty tricks behind a person's backs that might prevent them from getting a job as a newspaper reporter, and if they have a job as a newspaper reporter might get them fired for secret reasons the Boss does not disclose, or the newspaper reporter may die in a car accident or poisoning.

There is something even more likely for a person like Ed Donegan myself, a hothead. I may attempt to clear feces left in my path, and I assert that the people introduced to my environment in the gym, library, and other locations often are intentionally menacing, distracting, often assault me or threaten me, and refuse to remediate that conduct they use excuses to commit such as sending children not adults to trip me at my feet when jogging or trying to humiliate me an an abusive way as following women in gym close around and laughing at me as though I am dysfunctional and doing the same thing if underage females are near me trying to label me and laugh at me in staged appearances framing me by being "set pieces" (KOMPROMAT placed near me thus is linked to me.)

The idea that feces is in your way and you must clear it directly confronting it will get you arrested for doing it. The feces says it can be on the sidewalk in your path, thus you have to change your direction or fight the feces stepping into it and become the source of your own arrest.

I have so much of my story in differing prespectives available through that finding peices of it is difficult to do. One of the things hostile to me and hostile to others has been cultural appropriation of the Goth scene that I viewed as appropriation rather than expansion. In my day there was a level of pride of "High" culture, high fashion high intellect, cultural sophistication, etc., and we had a level of awareness without pride that it was sometimes easier for us to find venues because there were not three shootings per night in our clubs as was true with some the gang run clubs. Blondie Walk Like Me the colors are red maroon https://youtu.be/uk0QDIRFniM?si=XUmI8oiMXkw79gLD I think both in a simultaneous target of me the BDSM Scene and Goth itself a larger movement came in as criminals with all the values wrong. As with computer programming groups or anything connected to me I have welcomed all. That said while I recognized the Moorish in Goth I found mostly European pagan per-crhistian starting deep in The Cradle of Civilization that was destroyed by Christianity. A particular Black Lives Matter was wanted control of the scne and achieved learning how to walk like Goth I think without being it.

Dorothy Kilgallen took an interest in the assassination of John F. Kennedy. In September 1964 she reported in the New York Journal American that Jack Ruby, J. D. Tippet (a police officer killed along with JFK) and Bernard Weismann had a two hour meeting at the Carousel Club on 14th November, 1963 (8 days in advance of JFK and others being shot.)

Forty years after Kilgallen's death, Pataky penned two poems that, Shaw believes, suggest his involvement as a plant. "A fantastic book, one of the very finest accounts of wartime spookery" (The Wall Street Journal)-a spellbinding adventure story of four secret OSS agents who would all later lead the CIA and their daring espionage and sabotage in wartime Europe from the author of the bestselling Wild Bill Donavan.

They are the most famous and controversial directors the CIA has ever had-Allen Dulles, Richard Helms, William Colby, and William Casey. Before each of these four men became their country's top spymaster, they fought in World War II as secret warriors for Wild Bill Donovan's Office of Strategic Services.

Allen Dulles ran the OSS's most successful spy operation against the Axis. Bill Casey organized dangerous missions to penetrate Nazi Germany. Bill Colby led OSS commando raids behind the lines in occupied France and Norway. Richard Helms mounted risky intelligence programs against the Russians in the ruins of Berlin.

Later, they were the most controversial directors the CIA has ever had. Dulles launched the calamitous operation at Cuba's Bay of Pigs. Helms was convicted of lying to Congress over the CIA's role in the ousting of President Salvador Allende in Chile.

Colby would become a pariah for releasing a report on CIA misdeeds during the 1950s, sixties and early seventies.

Casey would nearly bring down the CIA-and Ronald Reagan's presidency-from a scheme that secretly supplied Nicaragua's contras with money raked off from the sale of arms to Iran for American hostages in Beirut. [in The October Suprise for the Reagan Bush ticket 1980]

Mining thousands of once-secret World War II documents and interviewing scores, Waller has written a worthy successor to Wild Bill Donovan. “Entertaining and richly detailed” (The Washington Post), Disciples is the story of these four dynamic agents and their daring espionage and sabotage in wartime Europe.

William Colby Born: January 4, 1920, Saint Paul, MN Died: April 27, 1996, Rock Point, MD wrote the introduction to The Franklin Cover-up and he and Susan Ford wrote high power interests would assassinate to cover up the secrets of what was likely a Family Jewels child abuse CIA research facility. William Colby was of course CIA, DeCamp was said to be, and DeCamp has an MKULTRA /like birthday, July 6 1941.

That certainly was taken seriously by Ted Guderson who allong with Susan Ford was warned by Colby the CIA would kill over this matter just as Colby had asserted before he died.

Ted Gunderson - On April 3, 2003, I found an intruder (biker type- wearing a head bandanna, leather Jacket, and chains attached to his belt) in the basement of the apartment complex where I am presently staying in Los Angeles. After seeing me, he bolted through the front door of the building and disappeared. I filed a police report. [am making this incident a matter of record with a number of government agencies and the news media because this appears to be yet another surveillance of me.

If anything happens to me, my family, or my close associates- including my attorney (former Nebraska State Senator, John DeCamp), Susan Ford, or other individuals within my informational network, the names of the leaders of the cult/drug network and additional information concerning their activities will be released to the public.

Regarding Mr. Colby, he did not drown and he did not commit suicide- he was murdered, shot in the head.

HONORABLE MEN My Life in the CIA by William Colby

Ordinarily, on being summoned to see the President, I would ask what for, so I could bone up on whatever topic was to be the subject of discussion. But this time, I didn't. Marsh, obviously, was eager to get back to sleep and I was tired too, anxious to get home and to bed myself. And be- sides I could make a pretty fair guess as to what it was prob- ably about. The previous day, Saturday, the press had bro- ken a story revealing that the CIA had covertly been funneling aid to Kurdish rebels in Iraq. We had talked of these leaks at the usual meeting in the White House base- ment all that morning. So it was more than likely that the President was assembling a group of aides to discuss how leaks of sensitive material like this could be prevented. All the usual people would be there, I figured-Scowcroft;

Buchen;, someone from the Pentagon, possibly Schlesinger himself; Mike Duval; probably Don Rumsfeld; and Marsh and I.

But they weren't. Aside from the Secret Service on duty at the side door, the West Wing of the White House at seven forty-five that Sunday morning was deserted. The anteroom to the Oval Office was empty, until Marsh came in a couple of moments after I arrived. Apparently my guess at what this was all about was wrong. Still, I took a crack at it. 'Boy, that Kurdish story, that's some fine mess, isn't it, Jack?" I said. Marsh nodded absently. "I'd bet anything that it came from the House Committee," I went on. Nlarsh shrugged and looked away, clearly uninterested in pursuing the subject. I made a few more desultory remarks and then, puzzled, let it drop. We stood around in a rather awkward silence.

Promptly at eight President Ford showed up. He came from the White House residence along the enclosed porch, passed the Rose Garden and went directly into the Oval Office without seeing us. He was accompanied by two Secret Service men. After a few moments, one of then invited us in.

Ford was seated behind the huge, handsome Presidential desk, looking a bit grim and, as he was to fly to Florida to meet with Sadat later in the morning, he had a thick black briefing book on the Middle East situation in front of him. He set it aside as soon as Nlarsh and I walked in. I had seen the President regularly in the past year, but ours could not in any way be characterized as a personal relationship. Ford, while always cordial, dealt with me in a fairly formal manner. He did not stand up now; we didn't shake hands. I said "Good morning, Mr. President. Jack said you wanted to see me.”

"Yes," he replied, indicating that I should take a seat in the straight armchair in front of the desk. ' 'We are going to do some reorganizing of the national-security structure. He need not have said another word. From that sentence I realized immediately why I had been summoned: I was about to be fired as the Director of Central Intelligence. Ford did not put it quite so bluntly.

In the time honored political tradition with sticky things of this sort, he said he wanted me to take a new job, as Ambassador to NATO. He then sketched the reorganization-which is to say, the sweeping personnel changes-he had in mind. It was what later was to be dubbed the Halloween Massacre, and it in- eluded the sacking of Jim Schlesinger as Secretary of De- fense and Nelson Rockefeller's withdrawal as Ford's run- the straight armchair in front of the desk. "We are going to do some reorganizing of the national-security structure.'

It was what later was to be dubbed the Halloween Massacre, and it included the sacking of Jim Schlesinger as Secretary of Defense and Nelson Rockefeller's withdrawal as Ford's running mate on the 1976 GOP ticket. At the time, however, Ford didn't mention to me what was in store for Schlesinger, for the perfectly good reason that he hadn't yet mentioned it to him. But he did tell me that, under his re-organizational scheme, Henry Kissinger would give up his post as National Security Assistant to the President and move over exclusively to the State Department; that Brent Scowcroft would take over Kissinger's role as Presidential Assistant. And he told me that George Bush was coming back from China to replace me as the new CIA chief. I said he was a good choice, and I meant it. Ford was quick to try to reassure me. I needn't be concerned.

[Colby wonders with Ford about a CIA director being accepted by the UN]

[T] the appointment [to NATO] would be as the President's personal representative and thus didn't need the approval of the NATO countries.

"l realize that, Mr. President," I said; "nevertheless, I really need to think about it and talk to my wife about it." "All right," Ford said. "Let us know your decision as soon as possible." "Yes, sir, I will. I'll get in touch with Jack later in the morning," I said.

He said the changes would be formally announced on Monday and asked me to keep them to myself until then. I agreed.

There was nothing further to say. I stood up. The meeting was over. It had lasted about fifteen minutes. And in those fifteen minutes my thirty-year career as an intelligence officer had been brought abruptly to an end.

I should have been shattered, but my old discipline of thinking of the next step ahead took over. I wanted to catch Barbara, who would be leaving home in time to make a nine o'clock Mass across town. We were going to have to figure out what we should do about the NATO job offer. Marsh, at my elbow as we left the Oval Office, anxiously asked, "You are going to take it, aren't you?" revealing just how important it was that the "reorganization" go without a hitch, that all the players in it be happily in place before it was officially announced to the press. But I suspected even then that I wasn't going to oblige. (Neither was Schlesinger, I later discovered; he turned down Ford's offer to be Chairman of the Export-Import Bank on the spot, and rather angrily.)

The United States House of Representatives Select Committee on Assassinations (HSCA) was established in 1976 to investigate the assassinations of John F. Kennedy and Martin Luther King Jr. in 1963 and 1968, respectively. The HSCA completed its investigation in 1978 and issued its final report the following year, which concluded that Kennedy was probably assassinated as a result of a conspiracy. In addition to now-discredited acoustic analysis of a police channel dictabelt recording,[1] the HSCA also commissioned numerous other scientific studies of assassination-related evidence that corroborate the Warren Commission's findings.

Gerald Rudolph Ford Jr. was an American politician who served as the 38th president of the United States from 1974 to 1977. He previously served as the leader of the Republican Party in the U.S. House of Representatives from 1965 to 1973, and as the 40th vice president under President Richard Nixon from 1973 to 1974.

Starting November 4, 1975, which was the Tuesday after the Halloween weekend, and which was timed to fit in the congressional confirmation window, Ford terminated several Nixon holdovers, and announced the names of the successors and new Cabinet nominees. Colby would be fired and the Grand Old Party was in trouble reeling from Watergate and revaluations about the CIA and Organized Crime.

Jimmy Carter would be sworn in as a Democrat Party candidate winning the Presidency in 1977 but it seems Ford was interested in bracing the internal CIA staff with friendly

CIA parties as the investigations calle for by the public were getting under way.

Halloween Massacre (Ford administration) retrieved from Wikipedia and copied or modified to here

Cabinet shake-up

The shake-up had its roots at the beginning of Ford's presidency in August 1974. As was the case when Lyndon B. Johnson and Harry S. Truman succeeded to the presidency intra-term, in 1963 and in 1945 respectively, under similarly strained sets of circumstances, Ford inherited President Richard Nixon's cabinet and staff of presidential advisers. The Nixon and new Ford appointees often clashed, and the resulting acrimony often got in the way of policy making.

On October 25, 1975, Donald Rumsfeld and Dick Cheney submitted their resignations to the president. Attached to the resignation letters was a memo with their detailed analysis of the perceived problems, and possible future strategies for the Ford administration. The analysis blamed the majority of the problems on Robert T. Hartmann, Henry Kissinger, and Vice President Nelson Rockefeller.

Starting November 4, 1975, which was the Tuesday after the Halloween weekend, and which was timed to fit in the congressional confirmation window, Ford terminated several Nixon holdovers, and announced the names of the successors and new Cabinet nominees.

The changes were:

- Henry Kissinger was replaced by Brent Scowcroft as National Security Advisor, while retaining his post as Secretary of State.

- William Colby was replaced by Ambassador (and future President) George H. W. Bush as Director of Central Intelligence. Colby was offered the post of US Permanent Representative to NATO, but declined.

- James R. Schlesinger was replaced by Chief of Staff Donald Rumsfeld [thought by Conspiracy Theorists to be a hack] as Secretary of Defense. Rumsfeld's deputy and protégé, future Vice President Dick Cheney [also thought to be a Hack and tied to George H.W. and George W. Bush], moved up to be the Chief of Staff.

- Under pressure from Republican Party conservatives, Nelson Rockefeller announced that he would not run for election as Ford's running mate in 1976.[citation needed]

Subsequent to these events, Rogers Morton was also replaced by Elliot Richardson as Secretary of Commerce.

Impact and legacy

Various newspaper and magazine articles at the time identified Rumsfeld as having orchestrated these events. At the time, Ford said he alone was responsible for firings. Later, he expressed regret: "I was angry at myself for showing cowardice in not saying to the ultraconservatives, 'It's going to be Ford and Rockefeller, whatever the consequences.'"

Gerald Ford in Ed Donegan's asseetn is i the Deep State and in the minds of many a conspirator who served on the Warren Commisioi and changed the evidene about the bullet that entered JFK's body.

f all the congressional members on the Warren Commission, Ford was the least known to President Johnson. He had been first elected to the House in 1948, the same year Johnson won his Senate seat. Ford's first and only intensive encournter with Lyndon Johnson had occurred in 1957, when both men served on a bipartisan House-Senate committee formed to draft the legislation creating NASA. - Some of this Miller Center

In an evening televised address on August 8, 1974 and after habign been sworn in again this time to a second term stating in 1973 President Richard M. Nixon announces his intention to become the first president in American history to resign as President of the United States. Before departing with his family in a helicopter from the White House lawn, he smiled farewell and enigmatically raised his arms in a victory or peace salute. The helicopter door was then closed, and the Nixon family began their journey home to San Clemente, California. Minutes later, Vice President Gerald R. Ford was sworn in as the 38th president of the United States in the East Room of the White House.

After taking the oath of office, President Ford spoke to the nation in a television address, declaring, “My fellow Americans, our long national nightmare is over.” He later pardoned Nixon for any crimes he may have committed while in office, explaining that he wanted to end the national divisions created by the Watergate scandal.

On June 17, 1972, five men, including a salaried security coordinator for President Nixon’s reelection committee, were arrested for breaking into and illegally wiretapping the Democratic National Committee headquarters in the Washington, D.C., Watergate complex. Soon after, two other former White House aides were implicated in the break-in, but the Nixon administration denied any involvement.

When Ford was appointed by Nixon un-elected V.P. he indicated he would not run for President in the upcoming lection but did so and after pardon Richard Nixon under the pardon powers Ford obtained as US President. Proclamation 4311 was a presidential proclamation issued by President of the United States Gerald Ford on September 8, 1974, granting a full and unconditional pardon to Richard Nixon, his predecessor, for any crimes that he might have committed against the United States as president.,

The Ford-Nixon and Rockefeller based Presidency of Rockefeller Republicans at the end of its viable political life did move out Colby and George H.W. Bush into the CIA position in a critical time of the waning p ower of the GOP as the investigations grew more aggressive and detailed and the Vietnam War more controversial.

Ed Donegan is in the movement of historical writers that Nixon having been V.P. under Eisenhower and George H.W. Bush at that time all following Cold War policy were tied to the assassination of JFK and abuse of power by the GOP along with abuse of power by FBI officials and others continued the cover-up that lasts to this day but is starting to unravel.

Dorothy Kilgallen was publicly skeptical of the conclusions of the Warren Commission's report about the assassination of President Kennedy and Jack Ruby's shooting of Lee Oswald, and she wrote several newspaper articles on the subject.[28][29][30] On February 23, 1964, she published an article in the New York Journal-American about a conversation she had with Jack Ruby, when he was at his defense table during a recess in his murder trial.

She also obtained a copy of Ruby's June 7, 1964, testimony to the Warren Commission, which she published in August 1964 in three installments[32] on the front pages of the New York Journal-American, The Philadelphia Inquirer, the Seattle Post-Intelligencer,and other newspapers.

Dorothy Kilgallen In 1936 Kilgallen competed with two other New York newspaper reporters in a race around the world using only means of transportation available to the general public. She was the only woman to compete in the contest and came in second. She described the event in her book Girl Around The World, which is credited as the story idea for the 1937 movie Fly-Away Baby starring Glenda Farrell as a character partly inspired by Kilgallen. These were in addtion to touring with The Sound Of Music publicity tour. https://www.instagram.com/reel/C4kK914NZYd/?utm_source=ig_web_copy_link Dorothy Kilgallen was like Sunny Bono and the Kennedy family strict Roman Catholics with strong pro-life and anit-mafi beliefs who during the transition between the Eisenhower Nixon John Foster Dulles Alan Dulles James Jesus Angleton mafia embracing 1946 to 1961 national security structure into the Kennedy administration plan increasingly moving away from that system following the Bay of Pigs.

Part of Dorothy Kilgallen’s work on “What’s My Line [of work]” was the Von Trapp Family Singers story-line that she went on tour with.

What’s My Line? - Trapp family choir; Tony Randall [panel] (Jul 3, 1960)

On 8th November, 1965, Dorothy Kilgallen, was found dead in her New York apartment. She was fully dressed and sitting upright in her bed. The police reported that she had died from taking a cocktail of alcohol and barbiturates. The notes of her interview with Jack Ruby and the article she was writing on the case had disappeared. Florence Smith, died two days later of a cerebral hemorrhage.

Florence Pritchett

In 1943 Florence divorced Canning. The following year she met John F. Kennedy. The couple spent a lot of time together. Betty Spalding said that for Kennedy, “Over a long period of time, it was probably the closest relationship with a woman I know of.” However, because Kennedy was a Roman Catholic, marriage was out of the question.

In 1947 Florence married Earl E. T. Smith, member of the New York Stock Exchange. The couple had three children. In June, 1957, President Dwight Eisenhower appointed Smith as Ambassador Extraordinary and Plenipotentiary to Cuba. FBI files reveal that over the next two years John F. Kennedy made more than a dozen visits to Cuba in order to meet Florence. Florence also met Kennedy in Miami and Palm Beach, where their homes were conveniently adjoined.

According to one account: “JFK would elude the Secret Service on occasion in order to have trysts with women. He did this in Palm Beach when he hopped a fence to swim with Flo Smith. The Secret Service agents couldn’t find him and called in the FBI. They finally turned to Palm Beach Police Chief Homer Large, a trusted Kennedy family associate. The Police Chief knew exactly where to find Jack - next door in Earl E. T. Smith’s swimming pool. Jack and Flo were alone, and as Homer put it, “They weren’t doing the Australian crawl.”

John Kennedy and Florence Pritchett at the Stork Club (Feburary 1944) Earl E. T. Smith remained Ambassador to Cuba until 20th January, 1959. Afterwards he wrote about his experiences in his book, The Fourth Floor (1962). This included an account of the Fidel Castro revolution in Cuba.

Florence continued working as a journalist. She also became a television personality and appeared on programmes such as What's My Line? It was during this time she became friendly with the journalist Dorothy Kilgallen.

In 1965 Dorothy Kilgallen managed to obtain a private interview with Jack Ruby. She told friends that she had information that would "break the case wide open". Aware of what had happened to Bill Hunter and Jim Koethe, Kilgallen handed her interview notes to Florence Smith. She told friends that she had obtained information that Ruby and J. D. Tippit were friends and that David Ferrie was involved in the assassination of John F. Kennedy.

The FBI could not get Dorothy to talk in regards to who leaked to her Warren Commission files before their public release.

I Ed Donegan suspect the reason Killgallen would not talk to the fbi is it was about RFK an RFK views she wanted to relate those peoples pieces she had access to while also leaving J. Edgar Hoover out of the loop because Kilgallen did not trust J. Edgar Hoover.

This book deals extensively with the #Mafia murder of Kilgallen. Of unprecedented fame nearly, few today or me 6 months ago knew her name. George H.W. Bush, Dick Cheney, Liz Cheney, Rockefellers, others (Obama Jr, Biden, Harris, Robert Mueller, William Barr) famous.

The Shadow Government including its Gang Stalk hit teams keep the powerful in power and the victims silenced.

Japanese occupation of the Dutch East Indies retrieved from Wikipedia and copied or modified to here https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Japanese_occupation_of_the_Dutch_East_Indies The Japanese Empire occupied the Dutch East Indies (now Indonesia) during World War II from March 1942 until after the end of the war in September 1945.

In May 1940, Germany occupied the Netherlands, and martial law was declared in the Dutch East Indies. Following the failure of negotiations between the Dutch authorities and the Japanese, Japanese assets in the archipelago were frozen. The Dutch declared war on Japan following the 7 December 1941 attack on Pearl Harbor. The Japanese invasion of the Dutch East Indies began on 10 January 1942, and the Imperial Japanese Army overran the entire colony in less than three months. The Dutch surrendered on 8 March. [1] Initially, most Indonesians welcomed the Japanese as liberators from their Dutch colonial masters. The sentiment changed, however, as between 4 and 10 million Indonesians were recruited as forced labourers (romusha) on economic development and defense projects in Java. Between 200,000 and 500,000 were sent away from Java to the outer islands, and as far as Burma and Siam. Of those taken off Java, not more than 70,000 survived the war.[2] Four million people died in the Dutch East Indies as a result of famine and forced labour during the Japanese occupation, including 30,000 European civilian internee deaths.

In 1944-1945, Allied troops largely bypassed the Dutch East Indies and did not fight their way into the most populous parts such as Java and Sumatra. As such, most of the Dutch East Indies was still under occupation at the time of Japan's surrender in August 1945.

The invasion and occupation was the first serious challenge to Dutch colonial rule and brought about changes so extensive the subsequent Indonesian National Revolution became possible.[4] Unlike the Dutch, the Japanese facilitated the politicisation of Indonesians down to the village level.[citation needed] The Japanese educated, trained and armed many young Indonesians and gave their nationalist leaders a political voice.[citation needed] Thus, through both the destruction of the Dutch colonial regime and the facilitation of Indonesian nationalism, the Japanese occupation created the conditions for the proclamation of Indonesian independence within days of the Japanese surrender in the Pacific.[citation needed] However, the Netherlands sought to reclaim the Indies, and a bitter five-year diplomatic, military and social struggle ensued, resulting in the Netherlands recognising Indonesian sovereignty in December 1949.

The United States of America has been reluctant to recognize the international laws of war in part because the USA had form an official strategy of breaking them. A bridge, military institution, or perhaps a hospital or school explode with a large fiery blast. No uniformed military took part in the attack. The civilian attired saboteur may or may not know the person he is taking instructions from and getting arms from is secretly connected to the USA or getting funding from the USA. That bomb blast may be in the Ukraine or elsewhere, and the USA will disavow any connection to it.

Its the Cold War, the USA is not at war, and denies any aggression towards other nations or its own population the FBI, NSA, CIA and other Fire, EMS, and recruited assets work covertly against while undercover.

Its the same old story. Thugs break into my home, plant evidence, steal or damage my home office equipment or use homeless people or street people threaten to kill me. And the police stand down for it.

Col Fletcher Prouty who funneled US Pentagon supplies to these types of covert groups (he thinks for George H.W. Bush and the CIA backed Zapata Patrolmen) the CIA was using was the same Secert Team that assassinated JFK. Col Fletcher Prouty was a Donegan family (my family) friend and the history I am writing is of that ear and the CIA inluding the Burns Family of the CIA and DOD at FOrt Bragg who likely participated in the assassination, the Mueller family, and many others who swept in to power a long slew of CIA backed candidate in the USA and around the world who are part of a globalist regime engaging in aggression and crimes against individuals, group, and nations that are made difficult to trace back to the Dirty Warriors (Quite Warfare) CIA, FBI, NSA, and others because the use of intermediaries like Myers Lansky, Charles Harrelson, Ryan Ryan, Ernie Dunlevie, San Giacanca and other CIA backed contractors working for the FBI like J. Edger Hoover and most FBI directors since Hoover are never arrested, never prosecuted, and the FBI itself refuses even the assassin's own confessions that include documents and other photographic evidence.

It was easy wen I was living on disability in a border town in Corpus Christ Nuees Texas to have Mexican Mafia take over the running of the building lived in, faked leasing data, faked me being a criminal and conducted a street fight campaign against me leaving me mutilated without police support to stop the attack or treat the injuries.

My books make cleat these gangs are police assets and the police have asked them to attack me, frame me, and create violent and abusive threats against me.

The best I can now living helplessly behind dumpster and being attacked by lych mobs the police stoke based on a smear campaign to to get me message out past the US Borders to anyone who there will recognize what threat is and why I need out of the USA. I have included a book by Brian Glick called the War at Home that describes policing in the USA and those dirty tricks continue to be used against me.

When I was in San Francisco I was reporting (not knowing then and my family not knowng then that these tactics by the CIA and FBI known as Shock Troops) that police were pointing sniper rifles sometimes dot visible, were gather as if to attack but staying a hairs trigger away and sometimes acting as if it were a mock execution moving the rifles with dramatic rush at me if I made a single move. These people known as Terror Stalkers are tying to create fear and vollitile emotions in a person being stalked. I was too afraid for my families safety to communicate with them fearing they would be killed. I have a copy of something I got from my father.

1. Infiltration:

   Agents and informers did not merely spy on political activists. Their main purpose was to discredit and disrupt. Their very presence served to undermine trust and scare off potential supporters. The FBI and police exploited this fear to smear genuine activists as agents.

2. Psychological Warfare From the Outside:

   The FBI and police used myriad other "dirty tricks" to undermine progressive movements. They planted false media stories and published bogus leaflets and other publications in the name of targeted groups. They forged correspondence, sent anonymous letters, and made anonymous telephone calls. They spread misinformation about meetings and events, set up pseudo movement groups run by government agents, and manipulated or strong-armed parents, employers, landlords, school officials and others to cause trouble for activists.

3. Harassment Through the Legal System:

The FBI and police abused the legal system to harass dissidents and make them appear to be criminals. Officers of the law gave perjured testimony and presented fabricated evidence as a pretext for false arrests and wrongful imprisonment. They discriminatorily enforced tax laws and other government regulations and used conspicuous surveillance, ‘investigative’ interviews, and grand jury subpoenas in an effort to intimidate activists and silence their supporters.

4. Extralegal Force and Violence:

The FBI and police threatened, instigated, and themselves conducted break-ins, vandalism, assaults, and beatings. The object was to frighten dissidents and disrupt their movements. In the case of radical Black and Puerto Rican activists (and later Native Americans), these attacks-including political assassinations-were so extensive, vicious, and calculated that they can accurately be termed a form of official ‘terrorism.’”.The FBI also conducted "black bag jobs", warrantless surreptitious entries, against the targeted groups and their members.

> From its inception, the FBI has operated on the doctrine that the "preliminary stages of organization and preparation" must be frustrated, well before there is any clear and present danger of "revolutionary radicalism."

> At its most extreme dimension, political dissidents have been eliminated outright or sent to prison for the rest of their lives. There are quite a number of individuals who have been handled in that fashion. Many more, however, were "neutralized" by intimidation, harassment, discrediting, snitch jacketing, a whole assortment of authoritarian and illegal tactics.

I may have lost this in a version edit during a computer crash but here is a chart from that I even have improved from my version I lost

In more recent years I wrote this about the FBI and a dispute I was having with the FOIA office of the NIH regarding a New York (I think Southern Division) Field office both stalking and coopting me with these tactics in play I said was an urgent matter because I feared my life was danger from FBI activities as I accuse them of fraud. I had discussed this and given docuements to Veronica Hoffam in web form some of the documents I was using showing the FBI was a fraud. (as was some of their sociology.

"Those last few calls I did make to the FIOA office. Now it is time a court heard why, and why I was stranded at the time. This has terrorized and split my family apart long enough. The fake accusations against me.

The intimidation, the lies, the false police reports filed against me, the violations of all the FIOA laws, all this fucking goddanm bullshit will end.

If government officials want to be spoken to nicely after the crap they have pulled on me, we have the wrong people in government.

I have included the Brian Glick booklet The War At Home of FBI tactics the I, Ted Gunderson, and others experienced tied into my genealogy, Mc Martin School, Franklin Nebraska and the Conspiracy of Silence and other CIA an FBI activities. Within a few years of this (less than five) Vernoica Hoffman had been disredited, terrorized from an Organized Stalk and died in mental ward where I frequenly have landed and so far have surved though I did back then assert a radiological attack in me in that pscyward as I was then transported to yet another both in North Carolina.

My claims and claims of others who are accused of mental illness are consistent with other reports and in the totality of my books I hope I have shown the misconduct of the USA and the USA using COINTELPRO against law abiding citizens to impeach the credibility and suppress witnesses to government misconduct.

As is common with COINTELPRO my lifespan has been destroyed by these attack running nearly or about 50 years. I think and Ted Gunderson thinks this traces back to Los Angeles County and the CIA activiies there related to the Kennedy Assassination and I offer new data in support of that.

The core form of the attack is vigilantism. Fights are instigated and the polarized situation resultant from that is exploited to encourage and promote lynch mobs acting outside of full courts although Grand Juries may be exposed to smear campaign information. The theory of Organized Stalking is that if a person is smeared then asking members of the public to (covertly) retaliate or harass a person becomes very easy. If the harassed person fights back against the perhaps local gang members of a community the police use as snitches, the gangs are left free to assault and batter the person the lynch mob ha been aimed at. It is conceivable even the police do not know in some situations they are harassing a person based on sophisticated smears an forgeries, not the real truth.

The PDF form of the Brian Glick work contains entries made by its formers that added extra reading material on supplmenting the work

I list the additional bibliography I have cut and pasted from the file I have named COINTELPRO S and I have been lucky enough to obtain a good condition original book The War At Home paperback. I am saving with hopes to give it to Russian academics and historians to preserve in one of their libraries.

Jen Moore Homicide Details

An organized stalk is an illegal undercover program run by spy or police agencies in a conspiracy against rights by sabotage. It is government vigiliantis and often theft from a gangstalk victim by predators. It is a matter of Crime and Punishment. To the public the police are hunting a suspect. In truth the suspect is a victim who has had evidence planted, forgies lie about who the suspect is as do stage appearances of street theater. The real issue is corrupt government officials need some person's credibility and even job and housing sabotaged. THe Conspiracy Against Rights uses smear camapaigns to encourage blacklisting and lynch mobs against a smear victim who could defend him or hersefl in court if given the chance to test the evidence the smear is made up of. In my case these body-blows of attacks of smears are both in time and substance of done harrassing my OSS CIA family history story telling as Jen Moore was also trying to do before she was silened by stalkers.

Shane O'Sullivan is an Irish writer and filmmaker based in London. He is best known for his work on the assassination of Robert Kennedy. His feature documentary RFK Must Die is the first theatrical documentary on the case since Ted Charach's The Second Gun, which was released in October 1973. Wikipedia Born: 1969 (age 55 years), Ireland. Shane O'Sullivan was born in 1969 in Ireland. He is a director and producer, known for Second Generation (2000), RFK Must Die: The Assassination of Bobby Kennedy (2007) and Lemon Crush (2002).

Mr. O'Sullivan notes while talking to experts on "hypnotizing" people to "automatic" (programmed into the person "behavior" the public misunderstands much of it. There might be three perspectives in generality. Creating pliancy to external suggestion is the most common perception is that by lulling the psychic defenses of a person to sleep programming the vulnerable mind (now in a passive state) to learn to act on a signal such as a bell ringing can be accomplished. But the CIA and others know Complext PTSD is another way and more powerful way to create automatic behaviors. Trauma can result from deeply upsetting emotional events and are easily generalized into two for this purpose; fear and anger. If a person associates a condition existing with something they fear they may automatically have deep needs to eliminate conditions that are feared. Anger at injustice is another driving ad perhaps traumatic emotional experience. I assert Psychiatric Shock Troops are trying by creating injustices (though denying the injustices) are trying to get me to fight against what I perceive as injustice.

AN AYALYSIS OF REPUGNANT TRANSACTION AND BLACKMARKETS

RESEARCH REPORT THE ECONOMICS SOCIETY, SRCC

2.THE EMERGENCE OF BLACK MARKETS

The black market or the shadow economy is defined as a platform, either physical or virtual, where people come about to exchange goods and services that are prohibited by the governments. What makes these markets "black" can either be the illegal nature of the goods and services, the illegal nature of transactions or both.

[Racketeering using identity theft and fraudulent acts to defraud a person of reproductive tissue rights and trade rights illegal are both the illegal goods and services transactions under racketeering laws and the illegal nature of the transactions that use faked "currency rights" of virtualized or symbolic money transfers are also racketeering use of money laundering by "black money" money of transactions in black markets.

The underground economy can genuinely impact entire nations around the globe. Not only do the black market activities come with a significant human cost but the economic forces involved can easily make the difference between a successful economy, and a struggling economy.

4. EXTERNALITIES IN REPUGNANT TRANSACTIONS

Externalities in macroeconomics refer to consequences of actions that may either be beneficial or harmful for certain stakeholders. The interplay between repugnance and externalities was explored in Nobel Prize winner Alvin Roth's 2007 paper[lll where he concluded that externalities don't necessarily have a bearing on repugnance.

Roth takes the example of how repugnance for pornography and prostitution stems from repulsion to the idea Of commercialising sex- The idea hinges on the belief that the public believes that certain activities which ordinarily exist in domestic spheres shouldn't enter the marketplace. From a policy standpoint, the incorporation Of prostitution and pornography into formal markets entails two major negative externalities: the impact of the trade on the quality Of life in the neighborhoods where the marketplace for these activities is located and the fact that consent of both the parties may not be willing in all cases.

Police use of these activities is illegal and in some cases admittedly so as those using the dirty tricks fraud will admint to the fraudulent and illegality of the program while also participating in it. Jen Moore called it Pizzagate the shop keepers acting like if I order a Pizza I covertly mean a teenage girld (and I do not.) Jen more and I assert this is a fraud to damage my reputation, not a sting of person who was asking for a teen girl. It is stages smear campaign of me under COINTELPRO.

This discourages the government from including trade into the formal economy and creates a parallel market.

Forcing Ed Donegan from the Bondage A GoGo, Bound, Citadel, Power Exchange and social BDSM environment he wanted at Stay and Play and converting that and other environments into sexualized minors as underage porn is disusting to Ed Donegan and replaced the sexuality that would have existed there. The fraudulent act of making my look like the pursuer of teens results in me being defrauded and abused as the allegations cause reporcussions in my life.

Typecasting

A man labels a woman in some slightly (or not so slightly) critical way, hoping she'll feel compelled to prove that his opinion is not accurate. ("You are too racist to talk/dance/ whatever with me,"- is one way this has played out on South Caicos). The typecaster doesn't even believe what he says is true. He just believes that it will work. https://isdsi.org/wp-content/uploads/2016/04/The-7-Things-Predators-Do-to-Turn-People-Into-Prey.pdf

Typecasting me as a peeper of underage girls sets up the con artists will need to start hiring adult models to solver the problem. https://isdsi.org/wp-content/uploads/2016/04/ The-7-Things-Predators-Do-to-Turn-People-Into-Prey.pdf

The Unsolicited Promise (or thank you)

Promises are used to convince us of an intention. The reason a person promises you something is that he can see that you are unconvinced. When someone promises you something, it tells you that you are doubtful. Then you need to listen to your doubts and ask where they are coming from, and then decide to suppress them or to listen to them. https://isdsi.org/wp-content/uploads/2016/04/The-7-Things-Predators-Do-to-Turn-People-Into-Prey.pdf

Jen Moore was a whistle-blower to Disrupt, a system that uses vigilantism to stop a writers work. In some cases of Targeting by the FBI the real reason for a smear campaign is that campaign creates the basis to sabotage the writer with unfair appearances add into the public spaces I Ed Donegan am using for book writing. As I use public spaces to write FBI CIA Vigilantism creates the sexual abuse and racketeering leave my normal place usage.

https://capitalresearch.org/article/two-creamer-and-foval/ Where did Bob Creamer and Scott Foval fit into the Clinton campaign?

The goal of their schemes was to create negative media coverage for Republican candidates – casting Trump supporters as violent. They framed the incidents as spontaneous protests gone awry, especially on those rare occasions when Trump supporters assaulted demonstrators. To further this effort, they sent activists to provoke fights with supporters at Trump rallies, such as the cancelled event in Chicago in March 2016. Foval said, “We know that Trump’s people will [tend to] freak the f out… It is not hard to get some of these assholes to ‘pop off.’”

We’re here to cause “conflict engagement in the lines at Trump rallies,” Foval continues. “We’re starting anarchy here.” But that only works if the media can pick it up – which is why Foval makes it clear that their efforts are aimed at creating chaos outside rallies, where television crews can capture footage of brawls involving red cap-wearing conservatives.

This technique is called “birddogging.” In birddogging, you pre-plant people in the front of a line leading into a rally, next to camera-wielding reporters. These activists then berate Trump as he walks past the line with aggressive questions designed to cast his campaign in a negative light. You do this in front of the journalists who you can count on to report it as a spontaneous anti-Trump demonstration.

One example of Creamer's handiwork is Shirley Teeter, a 69-year-old woman and lifelong protester with chronic obstructive pulmonary disease. In September 2016, Teeter was punched by a Trump supporter at a North Carolina rally she was protesting. The media soon picked up the story, and many on the Left lambasted Trump's followers as savages who attack demonstrators without provocation. "She was one of our activists," Foval said bluntly, and had been trained to birddog. https://capitalresearch.org/article/two-creamer-and-foval/

It was under Barrack Obama Jr. this really gained strength. Did Obama Jr. have a reason to sabotuge me and my book writing? Yes.

Some of the mix of things that was formed into a criminal covert operation at a secret redevouz. In the gym I used Hardstyle and Cybergoth vidoes. Also Symphonic Goth. That had been fine on YouTube but in the gym gained notice as workout music. Also in my playlist were eclecting things likek christmas much not at christmas and one video Hardstyle v. Shuffle, Shuffle being (like with goth) girls perhaps 15 in Los Angeles Barrio and the editor made it a dance-off with Harstyle. For the FBI and its snitches that made a good claim I was an exploiter of Hispanics in the gym.

What made that claim usefull to the FBI was their interest in Domina Liason. Well of course we all know her. I have met many. I was going through the Domina Guides trying to find Dominas I knew or who might like to travel to Corpus Christ. PVC or Latex or Leather Leotard, thigh high boots, gloves, and a whip. Nearly every Domina advertisement had it. The FBI decided Domina Intervention could make house calls to FBI sting operations and while doing so back an FBI presence and cultural operation. I was too far right wing, my atheism, but the FBI could spend time with Domina Liason from trust fund payouts. The Payout basis was the FBI had caught Ed near those Hispanic shuffle dancers. Seeiming Ed had to photograph them from one side since he has a scar in his head he has to keep hidden.

Among those Jen Moore cited in the smear campaign was Rod Rosenstein and his prosecution of me. Many have died or been stalked to cover that arrest and detention up. What went into framing me were the efforts of Eric Holder and likely Cali Cartel usage of role-players, Kamala Harris, FBI Director Mueeller with many cover-ups we was involved during the NIH stalk of me.

An example was Iron Bear. I was in need of a place to write and have used it. Iron Bear has some free power sockets near some steel furniture. When I went to that area a teen in gym shorts that exposed her hips was spreading her legs towards the area I would have been working in if I stayed. Sexually abusive scenarios are role played in places I use to write my books. Often I am blacklisted or attacked for the altered appearance of my work.

Felon Stalking is an intensive abusive role-play street theater that is intended to traumatize the stalk victim. Use of schizophrenics and other that are social pests to surround a stalk victim are central to the crime of Psychiatric Shock Troops, the FBI and CIA system creating hostile abusive environments. In my case race baiting is clear element as non-whites allege they are my pimps from the barrio they protect and control and I am portrayed as the looser who pays them for imagery they provide to me. The dopple of my has the characteristics of the barrio and needs the sight of buttocks to throw the money shot towards. My non buttocks fantasies are by dirty tricks made to be a buttocks fetishism but that is only because dominas I already followed and were traditional hard core SM changed their Instagram or other social media feed to a feed about buttocks, teeen girl, birthdays for teen girls, etc. and I have gigs of evidence on this.

Jen Moore Homocide in More General Specification

One of the way witnesses (one of the many ways) witnesses are silenced is Complex Traumatic Stress Disorder cases. Like Cancer it can be caused without "touching a person." (Does not light touch the eyes and noise the ears? A traumatized brain (or a fearful one) can not function or will not focus on witness statements, etc.,

The dual benefit of hostile parties inflicting disruptive trauma states on the victim is the distraction of documenting the occurrences as a matter of use of time, and retaliation for complaints about being stalked, and in extreme cases the victim may comit an act of violence against the stalker and thus "self" destruct and die or be sentenced to a prison with limmited opportunities to read or write.

There are several forms of guilt understood by the Law. One is Guilt By Association, the premise that being near guilt or a guilty acts links a person to that act. Another form of guilt is Guilt Under The Law. It is a confusion between these two that to conceal the real killers of JFK and RFK are being played to.

In a mockery of me police claim I am pervert interest in disgusting use of minors as erotica. THe police also take a mockery of me (a mock-up of me made to that specification) to a domina and ask (with the police watching) the mock-up of me be punished while tied up by the domina, and the domina explain the BDSM scene. Also along with the police payments are arranged to various charity funds, victim funds, and payments into policing protection patrolling fees. These patrols will also keep dominas safe from retalitaion from the pedophile nazi or infiltration of the party scene from the nazi pedophile.

The latter form of guilt, guilt under the law, is that this mockery of me and money laundering and identity theft pays out false "pillory" claims of me and is abusive to me and gets me driven from locations I need to work on my books, live in housing, etc.,

The false flags I am mocked over often utilize homeless people as role-players in sham cases of hunting for the pedophile or religious groups who help stage that I am one.

Part of this I belive Louis Marcono, Tom Donegan, and Mark Weirness were a part of all of whom were tied to Sequoia Plaza and set much of this up.

The Section 1 of Le Femme Nikkita is Section 8 housing resources mental health patients and the lice of Mexican Mafia, liquor runners, drug runners, gambling syndicates, and other criminal sources the CIA and FBI use for targeted killings, break-ins, and other attacks on whistle-blowers like Jen Moore, Ted Gunderson, Geral Sobeen, and others.

The CIA was running with the Donegan's, Kennedy's, Lawford's, and others a slepers program that was part of MK-ULTRA using USAID for CIA overthrows. Grooming and creatinga family for Barrack Obama Jr. was part of the CIA plot that involved early testing at Mc Martin School of that area 1962 I and he was in.

Chauncey Holt's book is full of Los Angeles as a CIA operatoins area with Los Angeles Stationary and Stamp Company 5th floor CIA work, University Bank of Fullerton, and many other details. Here is an example or two of many.

A month or so after the Kennedy assassination, I was at my apartment at Horace Heidt Estates in Sherman Oaks, California, sharing some quality moonshine from my Kentucky relatives, with Adrian Cole, another contract agent and Bud Belcher, when I received a telephone call from my father-in-law, who lived Beverly Hills. He told me that two mean looking individuals had come to their residence inquiring about my whereabouts. My mother-in-law had innocently told them that I lived in Sherman Oaks but didn't provide them with an address. The gentlemen didn't identify themselves but they seemed to be aware of the fact that I was driving a new Cadillac with Arizona plates that was registered at their address.

I had no idea who these gentlemen were but I theorized that it probably had something to do with the assassination. I realized that it would be easy to spot a new Cadillac convertible with Arizona plates. A car like that would stand out like a sore thumb. Bud and I immediately took the car over to his father's place and put it in his garage. Frank Belcher (Belcher Oil and pictured with John Wayne in Holt’s book) lived on a huge estate on Plymouth, one of the older, posher sections of Los Angeles. He had a six car garage so there was no doubt he had room for my vehicle.

I had no idea who these gentlemen were but I theorized that it probably had something to do with the assassination. I realized that it would be easy to spot a new Cadillac convertible with Arizona [Grace Ranch Peter Licavoli Ray Ryan Ernie Dunlevie holt let for Dallas from) plates. A car like that would stand out like a sore thumb. Bud and I immediately took the car over to his father's place and put it in his garage. Frank Belcher lived on a huge estate on Plymouth, one of the older, posher sections of Los Angeles. He had a six car garage so there was no doubt he had room for my vehicle.

Bud and I then contacted his cousin, George Henzie, who was a member of Frank Belcher's powerful law firm and more or less pressured him into buying the car. I called up Frank Belcher and discussed the matter with him. He suggested that I call Joe Ball, who was a senior counsel for the newly formed Warren Commission. Joe assured me that nothing had come up that would indicate that any of the authorities were looking for me. He said a lone nut shot Kennedy and the authorities were not interested in anyone else. This was not terribly reassuring to me because I theorized that I might be on someone's hit list.

That was the last I heard of that but it certainly caused me to have some sleepless nights. One reason for worry was the fact that Licavoli had grown very careless in his declining years. The FBI, which had ignored him for over half a century, as they did all organized crime, never gave up trying to entrap him, and they finally did.

And

Holt will also discuss some of the CIA covert operations such as the assassination of Rafael Leonida Trujillo, one of the most vicious butchers ever to operate in the Caribbean. Aspects of the Kennedy assassination are discussed. At the time of the murder, Holt was working for KG & Co. The "K" stood f or former California Governor Goodwin Knight. The "G" stood for Alfred Gitelson, a sitting Los Angeles County Superior Court Judge.

Among the many partners in the company were Frank Belcher, Joe Ball, and Doc Stacher. The combination of political clout from the named partners, and the money of the organized crime relatively silent partners, led to tremendous profits, often at the expense of the taxpayers. The conduit for all CIA operations in California and Arizona was Phillip Twombly, former executive vice president of Coca Cola, the eyes and ears of the CIA in the Caribbean, who owned the University Bank of Fullerton, California.

And

Holt, discussing the violent end of the Kennedy administration, which will be covered in the book states: "In early 1963, our Los Angeles documentation mill was the Los Angeles Stamp and Stationery Company (LASSCO). Tony Materna, a MIT graduate (for real) and formerly a close associate of Howard Hughes, was the general manager who supervised the day to day operation of the legal side of the business. I was in charge of the covert section, supervising the graphic artists responsible for turning out some of the best documents in the country for the CIA and organized crime.

"It was in April of 1963 that we were informed that a major project was contemplated for the fall of that year. Later we were instructed that an incident would be created during visits by President Kennedy to either Chicago, Miami, or some other large city.

And

Ray Ryan and Ernie Dunlevie were the owners of record of Bermuda Dunes Aircraft Company and Bermuda Dunes Airport, both proprietary interests of the CIA. They were both involved in certain covert operations i. e. Operation Mongoose. Ray Ryan, who won his first oil well in a poker game and Ernie Dunlevie, an oldtime pilot, owned many other interests in the Palm Springs area, including several real estate development companies, the El Mirador Hotel.

A close friend of mine, who was also a friend of Ernie Dunlevie, Ryan's Palm Springs partner, by the name of Kermit L. (Bud) King, who had flown for Air America, Civil Air Transport, Southern Airways, Intermountain Aviation and Paragon Air Services, all proprietary interests of the CIA, moved to Australia and was involved in this project. King was also involved in flying narcotics from Southeast Asia, an area he knew like the back of his hand, to other parts of the world.

King had a Thai housekeeper, who was involved in an accident and had the audacity to sue King, who was incensed over the lawsuit. The housekeeper went to a solicitor, by the name of Ivan Judd, and apparently "snitched" on King, who was certainly in possession of some dangerous facts, where the narcotics trade in and out of Southeast Asia was concerned. Before Russ Kenny, the Aussie narcotics investigator, assigned to the case, could interrogate King, the ex-CIA pilot fell or, more likely, was pushed from the tenth floor of his luxurious Sydney apartment. The case of Bud King, who, like "Shower Shoes" Wilson, another Air America pilot, was a legend in Southeast Asia, was never solved. The Christian revivalist, Pat Boone, with the toothpaste ad smile and the white buckskin shoes, was, however unwittingly, the employer of a major narcotics trafficker, when went off his apartment balcony. - Self Potrait by Chauncey Holt

The [real estate scam was Kermit L King, CIA pilot in SE Asia. The board of directors on Ocean Shores had 4 Washington state businessmen, Charles Eugene (Pat) Boone, and Pat Swan of Sydney. Pat Swan, we mentioned eariler, was the 'secretary' of Frank Nugan.

Another thread, continuing our look into Nugan Hand Bank. We've explored who the players are, how Australia and their underworld, including Rupert Murdoch, were all working during Vietnam setting up mafia style networks using the Gladio style players of Phoenix program - Another thread, continuing our look into Nugan Hand Bank https://threadreaderapp.com/thread/1832058782374883590.html#google_vignette

The Phoenix Program (Vietnamese: Chiến dịch Phụng Hoàng) was designed and initially coordinated by the United States Central Intelligence Agency (CIA) during the Vietnam War, involving the American, South Vietnamese militaries, and a small amount of Special forces operatives from the Australian Army Training Team Vietnam. In 1970, CIA responsibility was phased out, and the program was put under the authority of the Civil Operations and Revolutionary Development Support (CORDS).

The program, which lasted from 1967 to 1972, was designed to identify and destroy the Viet Cong (VC) via infiltration, assassination, torture, capture, counter-terrorism, and interrogation. The CIA described it as "a set of programs that sought to attack and destroy the political infrastructure of the Viet Cong." The Phoenix Program was premised on the idea that North Vietnamese infiltration had required local support within noncombat civilian populations, which were referred to as the "VC infrastructure" and "political branch" that had purportedly coordinated the insurgency.

Throughout the program, Phoenix "neutralized" 81,740 people suspected of VC membership, of whom 26,369 were killed, and the rest surrendered or were captured. Of those killed 87% were attributed to conventional military operations by South Vietnamese and American forces, while the remaining 13% were attributed to Phoenix Program operatives.

The Phoenix Program was heavily criticized on various grounds, including the number of neutral civilians killed, the nature of the program (which critics have labelled as a "civilian assassination program,") the use of torture and other coercive methods, and the program being exploited for personal politics. Nevertheless, the program was very successful at suppressing Viet Cong political and revolutionary activities. Public disclosure of the program led to significant criticism, including hearings by the US Congress, and the CIA was pressured into shutting it down. A similar program, Plan F-6, continued under the government of South Vietnam. - Wikipedia

Who Killed Bobby? The unsolved murder of Robert F. Kennedy

> But this last part, about the CIA operatives, seemed undeveloped. Pena and Hernandez, with their CIA connections, could supervise the cover-up, but there was no evidence of a CIA presence at the hotel on the night of the shooting. If you’re researching one Kennedy assassination, you’ve got to research the other. If there was a conspiracy in Los Angeles and the CIA was involved, I reasoned, the same team was probably involved in Dallas as well. Yet the existing > books on the Robert Kennedy case were very light on connections between the two assassinations. So, this was my starting point-to look at CIA operatives suspected of involvement in Dallas in 1963 who might also have been in Los Angeles five years later. One of the first people I looked at was David Sanchez Morales., -O'Sullivan, Shane. Who Killed Bobby? : The Unsolved Murder of Robert F. Kennedy . Kindle Edition.

Shane O'Sullivan (born 1969) is an Irish writer and filmmaker based in London. He is best known for his work on the assassination of Robert Kennedy. His feature documentary RFK Must Die is the first theatrical documentary on the case since Ted Charach's The Second Gun, which was released in October 1973. His book on the case, Who Killed Bobby? The Unsolved Murder of Robert F. Kennedy was published by Union Square Press to coincide with the fortieth anniversary of the assassination on 5 June 2008.

His second feature documentary, Children of the Revolution, tells the stories of Ulrike Meinhof and Fusako Shigenobu, leaders of the German Red Army Faction and the Japanese Red Army, and premiered at IDFA in 2010. It was released in thirty cinemas across Japan in 2014. His third feature, Killing Oswald, was released in 2013, on the fiftieth anniversary of the JFK assassination.[citation needed]

His most recent book, Dirty Tricks: Nixon, Watergate and the CIA, was published in 2018 by Skyhorse Publishing.[citation needed]

THe JFK and RFK assasinations are tied to Los Angeles where Patricia Kennedy and Peter Lawford lives and the Donegans were part of that was was WWII history and Polka Dot File Anna Chennault, also known as Anna Chan and Anna Chen, was born (Chen Xiangmei) in Beijing, China, on June 23, 1925. She married Gen. Claire Chennault, the legendary founder of the famed Flying Tigers during the Sino-Japanese war, on Dec. 21, 1947. The Flying Tigers were a group of American mercenary pilots flying for the Chinese during that war.

Their storybook love story and years of marriage is well documented and the subject of several TV productions in Taiwan.

Claire Chennault was a daring pilot who attained the rank of general before he died. He had an avocation for intrigue and intelligence work. He was also a close friend and confidant of Gen. Chiang Kai-shek, who ruled China and fought the communists under Mao Tse Tung, until Mao's forces overwhelmed him and forced him to retreat to Taiwan.

Among Gen. Chennault's many accomplishments and cloak-and-dagger work for the United States during the clandestine war for China against Japan, before Japan attacked Pearl Harbor, was the organizing of the Flying Tigers, and founding Flying Tiger Airlines and Civil Air Transport (CAT), which later morphed into Air America - both of them CIA proprietaries. By the time he died, in 1958, he had a long list of intelligence associations with the U.S. government.

CAT operated until June of 1968, the same month Senator Kennedy died - coincidentally?

Anna Chennault, a very rich and enterprising woman became a powerhouse in Republican politics in Washington, D.C., and a member of the Republican National Committee after her husband's death. Being very wealthy and seeking influence, she became known as "Washington's hostess."

Her detractors called her "The Dragon Lady."

A woman of many talents and unending energy, she was, at various times, the publicist for CAT airlines, vice president for Flying Tigers Airline, correspondent for Central News Agency, and a broadcaster for the Voice of America, another CIA front.

Her status and influence was such that she accompanied Richard Nixon on one of his trips to the Far East. She also played a crucial role on behalf of the Nixon campaign during the war in Vietnam.

Allegedly she arranged a contact between South Vietnamese Ambassador Bui Diem and Richard Nixon. Diem and Nixon met secretly in New York.

Republicans at the time were secretly urging Diem to refuse participation in the Paris Peace Talks and it was Anna Chennault who arranged the contacts with him.

All this was going on while Senator Kennedy was within sight of the White House in his campaign. He was a clear threat to Nixon's manipulations because of his declared opposition to the Vietnam War. He was the only real obstacle between Richard Nixon and the White House. Had he won the election, Nixon and his cohorts might have been charged with treason.

The National Security Agency intercepted a cable from the South Vietnamese Embassy to Saigon explicitly urging South Vietnamese President Nguyen Van Thieu to stand fast against an agreement until after the elections. President Johnson learned of this and ordered phone wiretaps on the embassy and the FBI to place Anna Chennault under surveillance.

Pena left the police and went to work for the State Department's Agency for International Development, a CIA front.

Pena had quietly returned to the LAPD a few weeks before the assassination and was literally in charge of the Senator's death investigation.

Faura's complimentary piece on Pena on his retirement to go work for the "State Department" had saved the day for him.

Pena was in charge of the "day watch" of the investigation. He determined which leads to follow and which would be discarded. Why an AID/CIA agent was in that position was never explained. Chapter SIXTEEN Who Killed Bobby?

The CIA at the Hotel Four years ago, the story you've just read inspired me to write a screenplay on the case. It would be a challenge to distill the complexities and conundrums into a two-hour film, but the biggest problem was that I still didn't know "who did it." I didn't believe the official version of events. I didn't believe Sirhan acted alone, so I went in search of an ending and became, to use a very seventies term, an "assassinologist."

I read all the books on the case and was particularly affected by Robert Blair Kaiser's sublime portrayal of the struggles to unlock Sirhan's mind. The more I listened to Sirhan speak, in custody, with Kaiser, or under hypnosis, the more credible I found his memory block and the possibility that he was a "Manchurian candidate." In subsequent books on the case, author Phillip Melanson presented the most convincing scenario to me: Sirhan as a hypnotically controlled "patsy" with a programmed memory block; two guns-the second wielded by Cesar or someone else; Pena and Hernandez covering up within the LAPD; and unnamed doctors and CIA operatives filling out the conspiracy.

In subsequent books on the case, author Phillip Melanson presented the most convincing scenario to me: Sirhan as a hypnotically controlled "patsy" with a programmed memory block; two guns-the second wielded by Cesar or someone else; Intelligence Connections

It's tempting to write off the LAPD's bullying, incompetence, omission, and destruction and manipulation of evidence as simply the cover-up of a botched investigation-the avoidance of another Dallas, by any means necessary-until you see the connections fanning out from the department to other government agencies, specifically the CIA.

The two men who had effective day-to-day control of the RFK investigation also had CIA connections. As day watch supervisor, Lieutenant Manuel Pena had to sign off and approve every report and decide who to reinterview and who to dismiss as the case was prepared for trial. This was the same Manny Pena who scrawled across several blank interview summaries relating to Sandra Serrano, "Polka-dot story of Serrano phony," "Polka dot story Serrano N.G."

Sergeant Enrique "Hank" Hernandez was Pena's chief interrogator, called on to administer polygraph tests to troublesome witnesses to determine if they were telling the truth. Without fail, whenever claims of conspiracy were sent to Hernandez, he bullied witnesses into retractions. Luckily, many of these tapes survive, so we can still hear the mockery Hernandez's bullying tactics make of this supposedly objective discipline. Hernandez also led the investigation probing possible conspiracy and oversaw the background checks on Sirhan and his family.

Manuel Pena joined the LAPD in 1941 and served in the Pacific with the Naval Air Corps during World War II. He spent two years in Verdun, France, as a criminal investigator for the U.S. Army during the Korean War, and spoke fluent French and Spanish. He went on to spend sixteen years of his police career working in Robbery-Homicide, reaching the rank of lieutenant. Robert Kaiser recalls his nickname at LAPD was "Shoot 'em up Manny Pena"-"he killed several people in the line of duty, which wasn't very normal."

In November 1967, Pena retired from the department with a surprise testimonial dinner at the Sportsman's Club attended by Chief Reddin and top department brass. He was to accept a position with the Agency for International Development (AID), a State Department aid agency that among other roles served as a regular cover identity for CIA operatives abroad. He would serve as a "public safety adviser" and train the police forces of friendly dictatorships in sophisticated interrogation techniques to use on leftist insurgents and political dissidents.

FBI agent Roger LaJeunesse had known Pena for years and was the FBI liaison to the LAPD during the RFK case. LaJeunesse said Pena left the LAPD for a "special training unit" at CIA's Camp Peary base in Virginia. After nine weeks' training, he would be posted to Latin America, where he could use his Spanish. Pena had been doing special assignments for the CIA for a decade, mostly under AID cover. On some of these, he worked with CIA operative Dan Mitrione, a "US police adviser" who taught interrogation and torture techniques to the ruling junta in Uruguay and was killed by the Tupamaro guerrillas in 1970 as a result.

Pena's new career didn't last long. Robert Kennedy announced that he would run for president on March 16, 1968 and Pena was back in Los Angeles by April. Investigative reporter Fernando Faura was walking along a corridor in Parker Center one day when he noticed a familiar figure behind heavy horn-rim glasses and a black handlebar mustache.

"Hey, Manny, I damn near didn't recognize you with that disguise!" Pena stopped and explained the [US] AID job wasn't what he expected, so he quit and came back to Los Angeles.

When the LAPD subsequently unveiled Special Unit Senator (SUS), a special task force to investigate the assassination, the man put in charge of preparing the case for trial and supervising the day watch investigators was Manny Pena.

Pena's brother, a school principal, was interviewed for a local television show by host Stan Bohrman. During the commercial break, he mentioned how proud he was of his brother's service with the CIA. "Nobody's supposed to know about that. It's supposed to be secret."

In 1977, researcher Betsy Langman interviewed Pena-then retired from the LAPD, presumably for good-and asked about his intelligence ties. "I worked with the AID program out of the Offce of Public Safety," said Pena. (The AID program had been unmasked in the mid- 1970s as one of the CIA's main covers for clandestine activity abroad.)

"Is AID not CIA?" asked Langman. "Ah, not to my knowledge," said Pena. "Was your work away from LAPD in 1967 going to be for AID?" "Yeah." "What type of work was it?" "Ah, that I can't ah ... I don't think that's anybody's business."

Like Pena, Enrique Hernandez had served with the army in Korea and spoke fluent Spanish. He was thirty-seven years old and had been with the LAPD for fifteen years at the time of Bobby Kennedy's assassination. He was the sole polygraph examiner for SUS, and he talked up his credentials to Sandra Serrano before her test began: "I have been called to South America, to Vietnam and Europe and I have administered tests. The last test that I administered was to the dictator in Caracas, Venezuela. He was a big man, a dictator. Pérez Jiménez was the last name. And this is when there was a transition in the government of Venezuela and President Betancourt came in ... there was a great thing involved over there and I tested the gentleman." So what had an LAPD polygraph offcer been doing in South America?

In 1934, after a destructive Texas hurricane, he founded the Howard E. Butt Community Investment Program whereby H-E-B would contribute 5% of its pretax earnings to various nonprofit organizations throughout Texas. Also in 1934, he established the H.E. Butt Foundation, one of the first charitable organizations in Texas. The foundation focused on funding public school programs, establishing libraries and constructing recreational facilities.

Butt deferred much of his philanthropic activities to his wife, stating: "I make the money, and Mary spends it (on worthy causes). And I am glad she does." His wife started the State Crippled Children's Program, served as chairwoman of the Cameron County Child Welfare Board, started the first tuberculosis diagnosis and treatment program in the region, and purchased the first equipment used to test the hearing and vision of schoolchildren. In 1949, she co-organized and hosted the first Conference of Texas Foundations and Trusts which coordinated philanthropic giving so as to avoid duplication and promoted the exchange ideas and strategies. In 1955, she was appointed by Texas Governor Allan Shivers to the governing board of Texas State Hospitals and Special Schools (later the Texas Department of Mental Health and Mental Retardation). She served as the only woman member of the board for 18 years being appointed by six different governors.

In 1961, President John F. Kennedy appointed Butt to the President's Committee on Equal Employment Opportunity. Butt also helped establish the University of Corpus Christi, now part of the Texas A&M University System.

William Herbert Crook (April 18, 1925 – October 29, 1997) was an American preacher turned politician, national director of the Volunteers in Service to America (VISTA) program and US Ambassador to Australia.

William Herbert Crook was born in Momence, Illinois on April 18, 1925. In 1954, Crook married Eleanor Butt, daughter of Howard Edward Butt Sr., the founder of the H-E-B grocery store chain. They had three children, William Crook Jr., Elizabeth Crook, and Noel Moore. He died on October 29, 1997, at the age of 72.

In 1957, talking to students at Occidental College in California, he shared his vision of young people who would engage in experiences with counterparts. The students said, We're ready to go. Operation Crossroads Africa was established in 1958. Volunteers went to Ghana and Liberia. [Obama Jr. spent time at Occidental College]

I have shown that Jen Moore was talking about highly connected people even connected to white house POTUS use corrupt family court systems that then having control begin to be abusers, even trafficked. False claims result from staged pedophilia that does not exist and black market and organ trafficking and sexual abuse and reproductive rights abuse occurs against those caught in Mc Martin school, Franklin Nebraska or systems like it since. And I Ed Donegan got "slammed" into corrupt services into wanted, not needed, and not serving me. Those courts bilk the conservancy in black market racketeering.

December 2007: A tightening contest

By early December 2007, the Democrat Party race between Hillary Clinton and Obama had tightened up, especially in the early caucus and primary states of Iowa, New Hampshire, and South Carolina. With real voting less than a month away, Clinton brought into Iowa her daughter Chelsea and a very rare campaign appearance from her 88-year-old mother Dorothy Rodham. Veteran political observers such as Bloomberg

News' Al Hunt reported that "things are tense in Hillaryland these days," that the camps of Clinton and her husband were at odds, and that the campaign's "plan A" of being the dominating, inevitable, establishment candidate was at risk of failing.

On June 7, 2008, in a speech before her gathered supporters at the National Building Museum in Washington, D.C., Clinton officially announced that she was suspending her campaign and was fully endorsing Barack Obama. Clinton said:

> The way to continue our fight now to accomplish the goals for which we stand is to take our energy, our passion, our strength and do all we can to help elect Barack Obama the next President of the United States. Today, as I suspend my campaign, I congratulate him on the victory he has won and the extraordinary race he has run. I endorse him, and throw my full support behind him. And I ask all of you to join me in working as hard for Barack Obama as you have for me.

I Edward Paul Donegan was in Federal Medical Center (FMC Butner) where I later asserted I was radiolgically attacked very close to the day Barrack Obama Jr was took the oath in early 2009 and Scully and the crew of a commercial flight performed the Miracle on the Hudson landing on a flight from North Carolina to NYC. With the 2008 general election going to Barracks Obama Jr. and his CIA connected family or origin (and that does remain only partially known about) the contest for 2012 general election and an early 2013 inauguration was beginning. The first inauguration of Barack Obama as the 44th president of the United States took place on Tuesday, January 20, 2009, at the West Front of the United States Capitol in Washington, D.C. The second inauguration of Barack Obama as the 44th president of the United States was the 57th inauguration, marking the commencement of his second and final term, with Joe Biden as vice president. A private swearing-in ceremony took place on Sunday, January 20, 2013,

In the November 2012 general election Obama defeated Romney, winning a majority of both the Electoral College and the popular vote. Obama won 332 electoral votes and 51.1% of the popular vote compared to Romney's 206 electoral votes and 47.2%. It was in this time 2011 my mother had just died, Seal Team Six went down, and as far as I can tell what Jen Moore called Pizzagate began in Arlington Virginia, and new information is the Kamala Harris's sister along with Podesta and others were part of the planning. Barrack Obama Jr. and Kamala Harris have been close over the years on each other's radar in DNC politics.

John David Podesta Jr. (born January 8, 1949) is an American political consultant who has been serving as Senior Advisor to the President for International Climate Policy since 2024, having previously served as the Senior Advisor to the President for Clean Energy Innovation and Implementation from 2022 to 2024. Podesta previously served as White House chief of staff to President Bill Clinton from 1998 to 2001 and counselor to President Barack Obama from 2014 to 2015. Before that, he served in the Clinton administration as White House staff secretary from 1993 to 1995 and White House deputy chief of staff for operations from 1997 to 1998.

He is the former president, and now chair and counselor, of the Center for American Progress (CAP), a think tank in Washington, D.C., as well as a visiting professor of law at the Georgetown University Law Center and was chairman of Hillary Clinton’s 2016 presidential campaign. Additionally, he was a co-chairman of the Obama-Biden transition team.

For-profit Democracy Partners (DP)

Democracy Partners (DP) is a political consulting firm founded in 2011 by Robert Creamer, a longtime liberal campaign operative married to U.S. Rep. Jan Schakowsky (D-IL) who was convicted in 2005 of bank fraud; and Mike Lux, a former Clinton White House aide.

The firm lists 28 other partners who boast backgrounds in Democratic Party politics and liberal activism. DP partners include feminist activist Heather Booth, former USAction president Khalid Pitts, Obama administration State Department official Joel Rubin, Democratic Party operative A'shanti Gholar, and labor union political strategist Ken Grossinger.

In 2016, a sting video by the center-right investigative journalist group Project Veritas caught Creamer and Scott Foval, a contractor for Democracy Partners, detailing political dirty tricks they organized including attempting to incite violence at rallies for Republican presidential nominee Donald Trump. - https://www.influencewatch.org/for-profit/democracy-partners/

The DNC operatives Jen Moore referred to are most commonly associated with Hillary Clinton, Foval and Creamer. Jen Moore was keeping most history of the assassination of JFK secret and the names tied to that (Dunham, Obama, Donegan) that were pawns operated by Bush, Nixon, Johnson, and other families that on the "Devil's Chessboard" assassinated JFK for CIA plans to control the Presidency inside the USA and elsewhere. Backed by world financial resources the "kinder gentler" approach to the third world and world strife was to gain control of world leadership.

Jen Moore knew what has been lost to history about Allen Dulles, the Donegan family, the Bush family, and more. She alleged far reaching criminal and treason allegations at the highest levels of government including covert drug trafficking, genome and stem cell racketeering, money-laundering, and fraud in black budget activities, activities of the CIA that are often blatantly illegal but covered up including by "silencing" (assassinating, blackmailing, or threatening) whistle-blowers.

Hillary Clinton's support of child traffickers

- 2009: Hillary Clinton was sent an email from her lawyer, Cheryl Mills, discussing the Washington Post's article on DynCorp's child trafficking incident in in the Kunduz region of Afghanistan. The particular email found on WikiLeaks describes the creation of a new story which left out significant details and emphasized, "No sex took place."[3]

Washington Post with many significant differences in the story, including that the boy was clothed in a t-shirt and jeans[4]

- The original details submitted to Hillary Clinton were, quote, "Some 15 or so DynCorp employees in attendance pulled out a single chair and had the boy do mock lap dances. This was captured on video. The video shows DynCorp employees putting dollar bills in the boy's waistband, just as they would a stripper's garter. The revelry lasted about 45 minutes."[5]

- In a WikiLeaks diplomatic cable dated June 24, 2009, MoI Minister Hanif Atmar tells journalists that releasing certain details of the event could "endanger lives", including that DynCorp contractors also involved in purchasing drugs in addition to their connection to "purchasing a service from a child."[6]

Wikileaks sees a child trafficking ring Ed Donegan and Jen Moore describe. Operatives from deep inside the government use their own child to be "sold" to an alleged pedophile. The sale is in exchange for black-market DNA human trafficking and organ trafficking, stem cell lines, etc., tied back to the history of WwI and FDR and going into the Cold War. This story goes into Allen Dulles, the CIA, and Vatican, the assassination of JFK and with new genetic tools of the 1980's and beyond (PCR, RFLP, Family Databases) panic about sleep agents and hidden identities. Roman Catholics with memories of the Troubles in Ireland are the greatest threat to the Family Jewels Program and the Special (sometimes classified) ties to Great Britain and MK-ULTRA and the robber barron families in the world.

Criminal Conduct towards her and me (Edward Paul Donegan) has been Conspiracy Against Rights including her life itself and my own, our rights to be whistle-blowers in the press and not become targets of deep-state criminal sabotage.

Bullying (covert) of people can lead to fights, and that way the blow-back against the harassed victim (the Targeted Victim is the term she used) seems to serve a public need or a public good against a person crying wolf and upsetting the town.

Her allegation (and mine) is that a protection racket based on fraud is running. Protection rackets are run by criminals in some case highly place who can order some type of damage, that damage becomes the theory of the labor racket to protect against more of that damage. The protection racket isn't a real protection services since it created the damage it protects against and then charges to fix that same problem in an involuntary charge to the person extorted.

Why I would be forced from my home, the library, and places I write my book or she would be murdered are what my and her story are about and tryign to get the truth out as these smears by criminals continue.

This was true in the gym too. I had a terrible case of morbid obesity and diabetes and a doctors prescription for exercise as I recall, yes it was in writing. For me the Golden Oldies were the 1960's and 1970's. Since I was a liberal and espoused liberalism and free speech (including on race) it as a great fit for me including the fact I was high tech and since the days of the iPod I would use my own videos in the gym and I was very high tech. Jen Moore asserts that many of the stalkers wanted a fountain of youth and to become a bunch of Woodstock wannabees, Goth and Cybergoth, and leather and music types. As many took on that use of the gym (where I minimized racial politics) others used it racially in an anti-white supremacism gym movement. Copying my playlists wasn't to big a deal but harassing my gym access, laundry money, diet money, and other harassment was and is a big deal. I did not make gym access or Honor Flight DCA or WordPress dev racially charged or harrassing in anyway every, but often while I was being coopted racially it was made a hostile environment for me. IT is like the office space or other public spaces. Some behavior belongs there, other behavior does not.

Forcing me into a dialectic of poorly dressed teens and others is disgusting to me. Synthesizing this experience for me or others is disgusting and it is also part of not only disgusting me but picking fights with me and defrauding me as the theory is created I am a child abuser and that is not true.

Though Jen Moore mentions Podesta and others as Hillary Campaign they went on to be highly influential in the Obama administration as well. My brother I think was part of Whitehouse level political activity and also through him involved Arlington County Mental Health Services I was enrolled in at times to study me and at times to sabotage me.

Elites with much to hide use sham investigations and sham operations often with "trained monkey acts" engaged in "flinging it" at targets who are NOT fans and thus are covered in it. Supposedly setting a trap for someone "known" or "suspected for" misconduct is placed in the context of that misconduct by Shills, actors who stage themselves to dramatizing the target as a perpetrator of the misconduct.

It is reality taunting. Taunting for something that is true about a target is conditionally permissible (a therapist; for instance, dramatizing the harm done theatrically) and for something untrue (but designed to cause injury to the life and associations of the target of the smear, or injury to the feelings of the smear) is never permissible.

Unnerving, unwelcome, unpleasant, unfriendly, unhelpful activities of Gang Stalkers are a menace and distraction the Stalkers are hoping their conduct (disguised as normal background context of a Target) will bring about a fight. The CIA and FBI Psychiatric Shock Troops in fact "accidents" like the one that killed my father might arise from the disturbing set of near landmines that have been set in an environment.

I have noticed (as Tom Dunham has) from evidence trails the shaking down an impostor of me in Pay-Up-Or-Be-Arrested has occurred in locations I have not been to at all and in cities I have not been in for at least in some cases 30 years. So why should the scam be used near me? The clear frauds invite conflicts as people in close proximity to the back of my head or body annoy me with "Thank you" as what is intoned as my having agreed to a request of theirs. If I turn and I fight the person denies an intonation and I spun towards them hostilely. Who is at fault? What I do know is it happens when I am writing my book or doing important things and creates distractions.

In my case and per Eric T. Karlson and others the supposed wrong a Target of a smear campaign is embroiled into by be politically, financially, or otherwise beneficial to those faking in injury to the USA or themselves, and resultant fight about "suspicious acting persons [police in misconduct or the shills and shills is a term for a grifter type that can be recruited by police to assist in police misconduct] often will draw a counter complaint of paranoia, intolerance, or other defect from the person being harassed by staged taunting. Because the police deny misconduct or deny using shills (intermediaries) the person asserting police misconduct is "a terrorist delusional, a conspiracy theorist, a schizophrenic, bipolar, etc," The police in conjunction with their misconduct concurrently start those smears as well as to the credibility of the police abuse victim.

Failing to draw the Target fo the smear into a fight or failing to damage the reputation of the Target sufficiently to silence to the Target can lead to even more covert abuse including poisoning, violent attacks led by the homeless, or other acts the organizers of the COINTELPRO program will deny involvement in. I have said this is witness sabotagae of me and that through my family history this story of mine and my birth and life explains the Kennedy assassination by the CIA and its high ranking generation to generation allies inside the USA grooming CIA candiates that represent a Western Hemisphere NWO run by financial powers, often funded by the military industrial complex but asl often profitable on their own or comring from Rockelleer Oil or J.P. Morgan backers.

Vitriolic Embellishments: The system of Gang Stalk (like most frauds or frame jobs) uses team of fraudsters and creates vitriolic embellishments trying to add negativity into (add it to) the positive and normal life such that once toxicity linked improperly as embellishment to the original activity and person is poisoned by the added in toxicity. That embellishment that expresses a negative about a person at library, park, or elsewhere destroys the life of a targeted person, can result in fights with the stalkers, and fights against the stalked person on the basis of the smear. Poison is an important word. Cases against a person can be poisoned too. Gang Stalkers bullies fabricating abusive and phony crime scene with evidence plants and false-witnesses, tampering with evidence (by planting evidence and victims, taking phony and impersonated statements, refusing exculpating statements, and misrepresenting events is in law enforcement power and they do so including fraud on the courts including using tampered evidence before magistrates, grand juries, court personnel,, etc., The actions are blatantly illegal, obstruction of justice, conspiracy against rights, motivated by the need of political elites with much to hide, and often formed with the cooperation of racketeering influence officials from small towns or institutions that are either duped or wish to be part of ends-justify-the-means fraud. Another term for it might be COINTELPRO that turns a profit for the racketeering influence criminal organizations operating under color-of=law (a police operations) that is blatantly illegal and continues through the assassination of whistle-blowers and break-ins to home or official offices, or larger acts of terror or fraud.

I quote Brian Glick often and The War At Home as well as many others sources about long running long known police misconduct that is escalating as the truth of the Kennedy assassination and top officials or the USA then and now continuing the cover-up.

British psychiatry: from eugenics to assassination by Anton Chaitkin -

A behavior control research project was begun in the 1950s , coordinated by the British psychological warfare unit called the Tavistock Institute Institute, with the Scottish Rite Masons , the Central Intelligence Agency, and dther British, U. S., Canadian, and United Nations agencies.

The project became famous in the 1970s under a CIA code name, "MK-Ultra." Its notoriety for brainwashing by drugs, hypnosis, electroshock, and other tortures caused many books tb be written about the project, and the U. S. Senate conducted hearings which exposed many of its abusive features. President Gerald Ford appointed a commission headed by Vice President Nelson Rockefeller, to correct the CIA's misconduct. There was a widespread anti-establishment view at the time, that here was te fox appointed to guard the hen house.

The intelligence agencies offered a public rationale for the project: the need to counteract and compete with the mind-control capabilities of the communists. This was largely based on the fact that U.S. personnel held prisoner by the enemy in the Korean War had signed false confessions of crimes, and some had defected to North Korea, the apparent result of brainwashing

The Manchurian Candidate, a 1959 book which was made into a popular movie in 1962, reflected this rationale. It told the story of a communist plot to use a U. S. soldier brainwashed in Manchuria as a zombie-assassin, to kill the leading U. S. presidential candidate. A central theme of MK - lt was to attempt to control the human mind in a similar way. Threatened and accomplished assassination of political leaders has become increasingly frequent in public life since the 196Os;
- British psychiatry: from eugenics to assassination by Anton Chaitkin

Tracking the rare FOXP2 gene that was visible in Glorian Donegan, Ed Donegan, Andy Warhol, Marilyn Monroe, and others including Prince Albert of Wales aka King George VI who died in 1951 after fighting Nazis is what Jen Moore was reporign on, generations to generations of bastard children in orphanges, same story Ted Gunderson was telling.

Guilt as a concept in US Law and how it is faked.

Criminal Intent often talked about in the philosophical term Mens Rea is equivalent to guilt. I means that (whether you knew what a law stated or not) you decided to (even if in just a flash of a moment) to do something illegal and then committed the illegal act. You had the intent to do it and then did it. A person insane and does not understand what they are doing such as a schizophrenic not knowing the person or thing they are acting against does not have the intent to attack the person or thing they are failing to even recognize and being there and that would be illegal to attack.

Entrapment is a defense to criminal conduct relate to criminal intent. A person not of a mind to commit a crime my by police actions be incited to commit a crime by persuasion towards a defect the defendant has like pedophilia that is not controlling the defendant until some police act played to that in a person and imbued an intent that had not been there prior to it being imbued into the defendant. Entrapment can include a person who was tricked into an act they were not or never inclined to. The intention for the act was placed by deceits or trickery into a person who then acted.

One step worse than Entrapment is fraudulent inculpation (framing a person for an act the person is not responsible for or not the cause of the result alleged). The Defendant did not do anything illegal (and in my case would not have) but is linked to something illegal fraudulently using actors and impersonations to allege criminal activity that does not exist, and allege criminal activity that wants pay-off to those pretending to be victims that are not.

The fraudulent inculpation of me Edward Paul Donegan is achieved by a dopple of me. What is not arguable in the arena of truth is the dopple of me is completely inconsistent with me and by design. The gullible I have sighted and others have is retarded, wants to harm children, never met a Dominatrix before, his only sighting of women's "parts" or hopes gym clothes of children don't fit correctly, etc., Whatever my life has been like in pscyh wards and elsewhere, few is skid row Texas ever met or knew as many dominatrixes or other scene players than I had over thirty to forty years in the scene. The dopple Ed Donegan at the secret rendezvous run by FBI and others is usefull in that the sex-ed rendevouz will use the needs of the gullible to learn from, be taught by, and learn about dominatrixes personally through long running interviews with them, the gullible with the FBI finding out they are real people after all.

prima facie. : (pry-mah fay-shah) adj. Latin for "at first look," or "on its face," referring to a lawsuit or criminal prosecution in which the evidence before trial is sufficient to prove the case unless there is substantial contradictory evidence presented at trial. This is crimial impersonations used to bilk desired payouts not due. The allegations regarding Ed Donegan were staged not true and payout for those allegations are not due.

The secret rendevouz is a source of financial fraud too a the police make the gullible pay out for what types of things a bottom feeding loser would do, though that is not me.

Mark Gonzales "warrior on behalf of little immigrant children harassed by the white supremacists (alleged to be) who moved into the neighborhood was a politically powerful cause yet it was a fraud. ARC of Northern Virginia who manages trust fund payments it appears was a willing racketeering partner to him and the organizations participating in the covert smear campaign operation. They provide victims as well as financial fraud layers to pay out to victims.

This latter category is what Jen Moore and I have bee reporting as the racketeering money laundering criminal racket used to falsity and pay out life destroying allegations that are the operation ordered by the elites of government as smear campaign.

Although the RICO laws may cover drug trafficking crimes in addition to other more traditional RICO predicate acts such as extortion, blackmail, and racketeering, large-scale and organized drug networks are now commonly prosecuted under the Continuing Criminal Enterprise Statute, also known as the "Kingpin Statute". The CCE laws target only traffickers who are responsible for long-term and elaborate conspiracies, whereas the RICO law covers a variety of organized criminal behaviors. [Ed Donegan has asserted a CCE has been attacking him since before 2010]

Sexual assault can be harassing exposure or reference of one's own's genitals made to another (such as flashing or explicit comments) or viewing of another or harassing reference or interference with the sexual organs or sexual activities of another. These sexual assaults a harassment are common as bullying and abuse during GangStalks including cyber bullying, spying, and "joi" Jack Off Interruption. Other forms of sexual violence are documented in the allegations and lawsuits I have written and asked racketeering laws be applied as the statues directly reference these criminal sexual assaults and trafficking.

There are facially obvious (and even necessary to the architecture of the CCE and its motivates and selected factual system portrayed that show another of my assertions is correct: The intended damage is NOT to a white supremacism cause nor to Ed Donegan as a single victim, rather an array of diverse victims ranging from crashed commercial airline flights to Dealy Plaz witnesses and to US Government and law enforcement officials (the Kennedy's and Donegan's in particular) have been by common denominator targets of the conspirators who gained power through the Kennedy deaths. Among the many reasons to believe this is true is Jen Moore and I (and Ted Gunderson) have received death threats at the approach of these subjects as well as death threats, break-ins to our homes and offices, and other acts of conspirators showing a fear of witness to the events of the Kennedy assasination. Jean Hill and others have reported these experiences as well.

https://www.quora.com/profile/Bob-oezbob of Quora writes "My favorite MIG chaser turned airliner - of which I have a real and darned spiffy type rating … uhh, hidden in my golden stash somewhere - is the marvelous LearJet 23." I had found that looking for famous planes designed as military but either made in runs for civilian and military or used in both roles or sold as surplus from the military into civilian roles and outfitted accordingly. Recognizing the potential of the Swiss-designed single-engine ground-attack FFA P-16 fighter jet, William (Bill) Powell Lear, Sr. established Swiss American Aviation Corporation (SAAC) to produce a two-engined passenger version: the SAAC-23 Execujet. The company moved to Wichita, Kansas and was renamed Lear Jet Corporation. Production began on the first Model 23 Lear Jet on 7 February 1962. The first flight took place on 7 October 1963 with test pilots Hank Beaird and Bob Hagen. - Wikipeda

My book series show in the Cold War the force the CIA built up on often new weapons (avionics and ordinance) in old clothes (refurbished bombers pulled from scrap yards) were flown by the CIA and CIA contractor pilots like Chauncey Holt or Leroy Young and the CIA did have the ability to down US commercial or military flights or any other around the world, and the far reaching cover-ups to the illegal CIA activities continue with covert technologies perhaps few even in the USA could ever gain control of.

The deaths of witness to the JFK assassination include poisonings, cancer, unusual deaths from car crashes, violent criminal attacks, suicides that sound very suspicious, being discredited or misquoted, and other trails of odd misfortune to those who can testify to parts of the cold war history of 1949 to 1963.

My family history is part of that and I a the last living member of that family, and my story and I myself am under attack. I will add my research to support conspiracy theories about UAL 553 and TWA 800 that cover operators attacking those flights may have been at work.

I had started a law suite in 2017 that I was being smeared and harassed over things that were not true and I (and others) knew not to be true. Homeless people and Mexican nationals threw feces and fast food items (soda cups packaging, food waste) at me shouting Nazi scum and other slurs, meth pipes and "abused females" were everywhere asserting I was visually or by camera exploiting them. Many references were made that "pests" like me had to be drive from the neighborhood. Since the allegations were untrue and uncharacteristic of me (to anyone who knows the truth about me rather than quips in humor of 40 year old misrepresented story-lines or lies) it made no sense. During this time of housing and other sabotage and with Austin home leasing again destroyed I attempted court filings in Nueces County Texas I had moved back to but I also began exploring what the real reason I was a threat to people I should be no threat to, what was their motive. At this time Jen Moore was found dead (2018) who was following and participating in the events and her story with mine shows this relates to Allen Dulles, the Kennedy assassination, and elites in government trying to silence witness like her and I to history.

> Ballpark West Apartments in Austin and Edward Donegan agree that the rental rate structure below reflects any written or verbal agreement myself and Ballpark West to sign a lease starting 08/24/2017 and ending 07/31/2018 as of 07/17/2017.

That deal was done but undone through a loophole in the rental contract for "pest control" if pests need to be moved out. It appears my own rehab system for Diabetes and health was being used by others (Arlington County Virginia mental health services) and they were preempting my mind-body holistic health system while preempting my own. Their motives were complex and the real motivation was to obstruct my life, keep me homeless, and in a state of reputation damage that limited my housing and use of public spaces. Writing my books went on hold for a long time and when I bought a notebook computer to continue again writing while homeless more attacks came. The headquarters for this operation is Sequoia Plaza that Jen Moore will film from.

Many layers of the onion go back so far into history and have had some many Castle Intrigue subplots it is hard to follow but one is not. Silenced the Ultimate Betrayal" https://youtu.be/Dy-1IBdHhg4?si=wijwX4VxCvOoSPpl that those working on monster crimes like the Kennedy Assassination, Sexually abusive GangStalks, sexual and reproductive human trafficking, and other abuses of power that are illegal Targeting programs run by the criminals in elite positions are hard to stand against since they covertly assassinate whistle-blowers like Jen Moore stopping a dangerous and abusive trust fund and child courts based conspiracy working out of Fairfax Virginia, home of the trust fund Glorian Donegan left for Ed Donegan, with Elder Law Partners of Arlington Virginia having done the legal work before my mother's 2011 death.

The ties into Virginia mental health services and later into Texas are a key time. ARC of Northern Virginia was making study of me with a concomitant abusive smear of me. I thought then it was politically motivated the abusive allegations contrary to what the real truth was and had discredited me leaving me homeless and in custody as I fought a system of stalkers. Jen Moore had likely been withing that group having been disabled from her former police work, but still held her badge and resented the illegal COINTELRPO program. After fleeing Virginia and the ARC of NOVA (who worked with the Arlington County Services as allies) Nueces County joined in the stalk. AFter release from custody in Texas after vagrancy charges that included rudely verbally assaulting officers and refusing to cooperate with them I was able to rent and apartment and buy a car (and when it became unrepairable a motorcycle) that were on South Staples Street, Corpus Christi Texas. Per the allegations I surfed industrial dance, industrial music like that I had gone to industrial clubs in San Francisco (Meat by John Adams, Die Maschina by Shatter, other events and clubs) this was in fact Nazi porn to me. Die Assunder of a sweaty goth girl with a collar exhausted on the ground and other high energy futuristic I listened to was researched as "pornography."

FUCK was a group of swingers in Texas and from the that apartment I went to and later stopped going to events as they were full of a group of criminlas clearly impersonating me and running a mafia operation. I reported this on FETLIFE and to the F.U.C.K group but the area flooded with Chicago and other area influxes and I had litle social power to stop it. by 2018 I had decided to leave and move to California and deeply hoped would be more credible than the gangs of Corpus Chrsiti, but I did not find that. Now the newfangled porn surfers of my gym music were going to become lifestylers as they learned about the types of places I was trying to (and did) move into but was moved out of after the smear campaign.

Sutton when asked why he robbed banks simply replied, "Because that's where the money is." Sutton was arrested a number of times during his career as a robber and escaped from prison a total of six times.

If you are a profiteering criminal of the Deep State US Government (one of its CIA tied officials) why not rob places on earth where the loot is? And why not go to Social Services thugs who specialize in bank roberies? That is how the CIA operates and who it uses to silence whistle-blowers and dissidents.

The video appears to be shot at 2100 Washington Blvd, Arlington, VA 22204 at the intersection of Walter Reed Blvd and the Arlington County DHS Services offices of mental health services board and other executive offices. I fought with them over administration of SSDI benefits and seeking Trust Fund lawyer related to finances and my mother's will and trust.

In the Prouty Bio section is All the MK-ULTRA Presidents, Their Men (and Women,) Their CIA Stations and Airbases and Missions Undertaken. From ATUSGI where the frontier developed between Communist China and Communist USSR as we gained control of Japan with its unconditional surrender to JM/WAVE the augmented oversight run by RFK in a disguised university building to Fort Bragg N.C. where Special Forces were trained in assassinations and overthrow to Palm Springs and Las Vegas were and Miami where Murder Inc, supplied manpower to the CIA missions and Houston Texas home of Zapata Oil.

It will also show others and myself a victim of a type of covert organized crime. Organized crime by Racketeering Influenced Criminal Organizations really as intended is non-criminal organizations at their outset or stated missions are accepted as law abiding but then fall under the sway of racketeering. There is no cover identity a RICO influence organization like an accounting firm might hide under. GangStalks are teams of operatives whose methods are also organized crime but operate under cover-identities possibly as public institutions or other times under cover as ordinary passers-bye or innocent bystanders giving their own accounts of events as if independent.

People are not only accusing me of wrong-doing they are funding themselves by doing so. I am a mark to elite high ranking illegal but state sanctioned criminal conduct. Racketeering as law has a lot of meanings and definitions as do terms in con artist langauges and also there are series of equivelnt meanings in financial terms or art.

The best though as simple and abstract information space is Symmetry. Think of me and my life and context as one space, a square space, a normal day for example being on a motorcycle along the coast line and adult normal male with adult normal tastes and a conservancy just for me. In another square box space are other people who share a public area and their own lives.

That is a situation of no fraud and disinformation. The Disinformation occurs when the trespass into my space. It is not always seen but as a pattern females who are allowed to be visualized as erotica act like such near me and with handlers. They intentionally distort the spaces by eye contact with me, comments made to me etc., thus getting into my space. So now there is still symmetry by its meaning of symmetry by its meaning if we look that up. "In agreements in its dimensions" (as along a line that separates two forms) still exists. Their space has invaded mine but the size of the space has not changed. There has been a geometrical transformation of the line between the spaces but the extra space used by the aggressors pushed into my space in transformed geometry with symmetry remaining.

Why did they the trespass into my space? To involve me in another symmetry yet another tresspass though. The crime that originaited in their space with utilzed part of my space (that when occupied as such was not my space but their intrusion into it) is now going to be counter-balanced with a solution to that crime. Now that a crime exists that team of criminals will again use my space (rather than me in it) to resolve the crime by hiring high end models and that is not same as prostitution to develop cultural acceptable and sophisticated model choices that a sophisticated man should prefer and learn from it not already sophisticated. Again while this is the team of grifters who utilize an impersonator of me that have with them part of their space there is again a symmetry in they now claim to be solving the crime at a rendezvous of adult entertainers by educating the retard utilizing the space fo Ed Donegan to get non-retarded motivations in women seeking.

It is a bullying into my space in both cases but in both cases the crime and the resolution of the crime stage the appearance Ed Donegan is not the normal person on a normal motorcycle trip, he is instead a caught and confessed abuser of young females. It is this suppression of Ed Donegan that is effective in cutting access to apartment, libraries, or social circles and in all of those places Ed Donegan telling his story would be information from his box, his space, his soap box, getting heard by other people in nearby spaces.

The term of art in law per minas translates to through threats. Its is applied as a defense, when illegal acts were performed under duress.

Duress is a rarely-used defense that applies in situations in which someone commits a crime only because of an immediate threat to life posed by another. The typical example is committing a criminal act only because there is literally “a gun to your head. ” https://www.losangelescriminallawyer.pro/legal-defense-duress.html

Menace is a person or thing (a slander campaign including staged appearances parade) that is likely to cause harm; a threat or danger. In my case Edward Paul Donegan the harm is that others will attack me in the streets as a pedophile, Nazi, etc., and I will be placed (again) in Pschwards for asserting I am being harassed and stalked.

Here is a group of stalkers forcing their presence surrounding me and the asserting I am a stalker of them.

I have video these screen shots were taken from and hundreds of similar stalking proof. These people will surround my normal acts following me costal California where our german shepard on Manhattan Beach cliffs area would keep toddler Tom and Ed from falling off the cliff. We would be taken down the they beach and play in the tidepools etc., Now I am visiting again as an adult. Some non-white guy (I don't know why that is but that is the pattern) gets in place and after that he is both learign at and photographing a teen girls shapley buttocks. Several women (adults) are calling the police saying he is doing it again he wants her buttcakes and at the same time the teen (who was positioned there by someone) is glaring and me and bitter I am looking at those yoga pants tightly worn buttcakes.

The entire situation alleges I am the threat not the fraudsters. Many things could be argues including the shapeliness of one set of thighs versus another, who was there first and did that matter, but what is NOT (at least in my mind) arguable is that a person not me will take responsibility for what happened and make a payout. Whoever confesses to what appears to be true is not me and I assert no wrongdoing on my part.

As I arrive a person of similar appearance and a concealed camera in a gym bag (not my Go Pro mounted to my motorcycle helmet) films a teen girl who will arrive moments later and with two adult females with her. All will allege I have caused some type of incident and how dare I? A normal part of this not included here but in other evidence is an impostor of me, a gullible loser, will confess to misconduct at the scene the stalkers created from otherwise normal context.

I am still going through the smear campaign evidence I have but as always it boils down to this: I go to a library to write about government misconduct (good, role of press), they abusively allege and frame me as a sex-offender in the library (bad,) Same with the gym, housing, and elsewhere. This sabotages the gym, library, housing as it now seems A GOOD to evict me over my BAD activities. IT is the other way around I am there with Good activities and evicting me is a Bad activity.

The teen in tight yoga pants is backwards the camera concealed in a gym bag operated remotely the Dopplebiker has the woman working with them is making eye contact with that Dopple biker. The other adult woman is calling to police on her cell phone alleging a teen is under attack. She is looking at me and the teen is looking at me.

UnwantedLeeringLawsuit2017 by Edward Paul Donean pro-se was my trying to in Corpus Christi Federal District and Bankruptcy Court before Judge B. Janice Ellington Tuesday 5/23/2017 was my presenting evidence I my normal presence in normal places was being extorted into an allegation I was requesting or being forced to pay for the exploitation of others and those claims would have to be paid out by some type of Conservancy most like ARC of Nova or somegroup in combination with them. I assert I am not the developmentally retarded child seeking other child like people and in fact someone posing as me is confessing to being that person and confessing to being leering at others as the real reason a person (me) was at a location.

The affect is that those who belive what is staged including with a phony confessions not only defrauds and defames me it creates an abusive legacy about me I have to engage in refuting to clear my name. Jen Moore had her data already about this fraud and in 2017 and 2018 I was passing my data out to courts, law enforcement, dating sites, community groups, and elsewhere.

MK-Ultra bullies Targets forcing targets to deal with the menacing slander campaign and faked appearances because failing to do so could have injurious and serious results from the slander surviving and becoming publicly perceived as true. "Ritualistic" or unpremeditated staged and false appearances place a Targeted Individual in complex form of self defense. Though not attacked physically the deceitful appearances that parades create are a gun to the head of the Target inviting the Target to act against the harassers in the parade.

Pizzagate is an allegation Jen Moore made as a criminal enterprise of money-laundering and racketeering. It is falsely asserted a person (and it is me) in store is NOT asking for the food or beverage the store is serving but rather hoping for the exploitation of minors which will then be linked to to him (me.) In fact a Gullible is usually nearby, along with other grifters creating a fraud.

The Gangstalk of me is Protection Racket in which children are being protected when allegations of (my) misconduct is actully their misconduct who placed the minors. The Protection Rackets demands each allegation is paid off OR if I don't pay up (for which I will be thanked) action would otherwise be taken against me for in fact the "protectors" of children did to children, not me.

I am forced to argue with fraudsters at point of sale systems or rental companies about whether I asked for a tenage girl. Of course I did not but if I fight that I am evicted for rasing my voice, being paranoid or delusional, or oddly noticing teenge girls. The GangStalk of me is based around Extortion. 1) Accounting should be clear (Brandies, Hapers) but confusion is created as to what is being sold or bought illegal extorting me into the "purchase" of exploited visual targets. 2) Not only did I not agree with that as part of the "sale" I did not agree to compensate the wrongdoing I was illegally (fraudulently) linked to. The racketeering sysetm of POS fraud was whislte-blown by Jen Moore who knew as I do that the constiant fight i have with covert frauds is they call me paranoid and terrorist when I call out the fraud the perpertrate under alibis they use for the RICO statute violations.

How Is Extortion Different from Racketeering? Racketeering is a broad category of actions related to organized crime, often including extortion. Prosecutions under RICO might include allegations of extortion against public officials to obtain favorable actions or hinder investigations. They might also include alleged “protection rackets,” through which a criminal enterprise demands “protection money” from residents or businesses in an area, with the understanding that without the payments, the harm would come from the very people offering protection.

The labour of a labor racket is not considered the damage first done (by the racketeers) thought that is also a crime and in furtherance of RICO. The labor of the racket is FIXING and Protecting what is fixed as a labor service unneeded in truth but imposed under false pretenses. In case the laobour others provide is contracting the service of high priced models and educators to help the police and their dopple of me appreciated the finer things in life, not children or botton dreged in-sophisticate catches caught be an in-sophisticate loser. I suggest most deputies are that in-sonphisticate loser and I have seen those call girls repeatedly at sheriffs detention. The rendevous will occur there but again (and perhaps 60 times while I was in detention) the model will show up at the wrong cell that is operated by the doppple the deputies give my ID to.

The law and the scheme are complex but the scheme operates for simple reasons: To isolate and harass law abiding whistle-blowers with under-cover and illegal dirty tricks not limited to break-ins, sexual assaults, and homicides. The scheme uses the interplay of peonage, a form of a labor racket called a protection racket, and the witch-hunt the protection racket is based on of identity theft as an impersonator working for grifters us use to validate by forged confession a person not a threat (not a witch) actually is a witch. While the do not attempt this in open court in front of the actual witch grand juries may be presented forgeries and other deceitful evidence.

Further, the protection racket includes vetting serves and the security personnel framing the witch for baseless allegations with both co-opt the person under surveillance and help others (the security official now fits in with) vet against the witch.

When police have cause they must show it. With none they must hide their act under-cover or with intermediaries. A few uniformed cops help keep up appearances they are on the trail of someone, but the person leaving the crumb trail they are following is with them. They shake down (using identity theft) a doople of me who pays into a slush fund and at that rendezvous much better parties are held and with high class entertainers to show the way to fake Ed. Another thing that happens at the Secret Rendezvous is Fake Ed is ready to contribute the "money shot" now that he has a better model that he is going to pay for. The allegations the fake ed confesses to are both a political and financial liability to real Ed both of which are goals of the racketeeing operation.

The witch who has lost their home, jobs, family, and professional associates to "no follow, no hire, don't rent to" blackballing has limited voice afterwards to call out the corruption in government that actually exists.

In many cases a person blackballing the witch may not believe the baseless allegation but act under a differing motive. In case I have supported and believe in and help shore-up the definitions of Liberalism and recognized the value of it and fabric of in in republican self-governing societies. While totalitarian (such as Nazis or other fascists) may impose opinions on race healthy and free societies need to debate these issues as I have done and encouraged others to do. That being painted as Nazim works with many and thus that smear is attached to me to though I stand by my beliefs on liberalism, on race-theory, and on a smear campaign used on because I am connected to the real truth about our corrupt government officials.

I have suggested and recent oppo research postings have suggested the Harris-Obama (and Biden) connections into Pizzagate as I am treated improperly as a suspect for allegations and activities that are out of character for who I am. Seemingly (and in fact in calculated deceitful propaganda acted out) I am not a normal apartment renter, parks user, or gym or library of public spaces person I am instead hoping to exploit the vulnerable in those locations. It is a protection racket that whild creating those deceits also operates a slush fund the protection racket feeds off and at the same time political operatives cull the surveillance of me for political philosophy that can be misappropriated as the intellectual works of those using the shame investigation against me. Further, those from the Harris and Obama family may have a need to subvert my reputation and life tied to Birther and CIA background of the Obama family and loyalties of the Harris family.

Underage females are expressly lewd in their conduct. Lewd in how they dress, act, faces they make as being young victims of an ault predator as if bait for a trap, and the expressive laughs of the fellow grifters at how a peeper could possible see up a t-shirt just barely covering the hips of the minor as she walks around with thin childish legs and hips.

I believe it to be the EXTORTION17 program where my presence is used to link me to victim payouts to those faking being victims. My brother Tom Donegan and Mark Weirness and also Scott Foval and Robert Creamer and high level Obama officials and Obama himself may have set this up using street theater from homeless shelters, etc., and it is a smear campaign that ostensibly is aimed at smearing "a nazi" but even that excuse even if true is outweighed. Political sentiment versus criminal racketeering has a clear order of importance, the racketeering and money laundering are intlorealble under the the law, unpopulare beliefs are tolerable under the law.

The Harris family of recent generations retrieved from Wikipedia and copied or modified to here

Shyamala Gopalan (December 7, 1938 - February 11, 2009) was a biomedical scientist at the Lawrence Berkeley National Laboratory, whose work in isolating and characterizing the progesterone receptor gene has stimulated advances in breast biology and oncology. She was the mother of Vice President of the United States Kamala Harris and Maya Harris, a lawyer and political commentator.

Early life and education

Shyamala was born on December 7, 1938, in Madras, Madras Province, British India (present-day Chennai, Tamil Nadu, India) to P. V. Gopalan, a civil servant, and Rajam, her mother. Her parents were from two villages near the town of Mannargudi in Madras Province. Gopalan had begun his professional life as a stenographer, and, as he rose through the ranks of the Imperial Secretariat Service and later Central Secretariat Service, both parts of the civil service, he moved the family every few years between Madras (now Chennai), New Delhi, Bombay (now Mumbai), and Calcutta (now Kolkata). He and Rajam had an arranged marriage, but according to Shyamala's brother, Balachandran, their parents were broad-minded in raising the children, all of whom led somewhat unconventional lives. A gifted singer of Carnatic music, Shyamala won a national competition in it as a teenager.

Shyamala studied for a Bachelor of Science in Home Science at Lady Irwin College, University of Delhi. Her father thought the subject-which taught skills considered helpful in homemaking-was a mismatch for her abilities; her mother expected the children to seek careers in medicine, engineering, or law. In 1958, aged 19, Shyamala unexpectedly applied to a master's program in nutrition and endocrinology at the University of California, Berkeley, and was accepted. Her parents used some of their retirement savings to pay her tuition and board during the first year. Lacking a phone line at home, they communicated with her by aerogram after her arrival in the U.S. She earned a PhD in nutrition and endocrinology at UC Berkeley in 1964. Shyamala's dissertation, which was supervised by Richard L. Lyman, was titled The isolation and purification of a trypsin inhibitor from whole wheat flour.

Career

Shyamala conducted research in UC Berkeley's Department of Zoology and Cancer Research Lab. She worked as a breast cancer researcher at University of Illinois Urbana-Champaign and University of Wisconsin. She worked for 16 years at Lady Davis Institute for Medical Research and McGill University Faculty of Medicine. She served as a peer reviewer for the National Institutes of Health and as a site visit team member for the Federal Advisory Committee. She also served on the President's Special Commission on Breast Cancer. She mentored dozens of students in her lab. For her last decade of research, Shyamala worked in the Lawrence Berkeley National Laboratory.

In the fall of 1962, at a meeting of the Afro-American Association-a students' group at Berkeley whose members would go on to give structure to the discipline of Black studies, propose the holiday of Kwanzaa, and help establish the Black Panther Party-Shyamala met a graduate student in economics from Jamaica, Donald J. Harris, who was that day's speaker. According to Donald Harris, who is now an emeritus professor of economics at Stanford University, "We talked then, continued to talk at a subsequent meeting, and at another, and another." In 1963, they were married without following the convention of introducing Harris to Shyamala's parents beforehand or having the ceremony in her hometown. In the later 1960s, Donald and Shyamala took their daughters, Kamala, then four or five years old, and Maya, two years younger, to newly independent Zambia, where Shyamala's father, P. V. Gopalan, was on an advisory assignment. After Shyamala and Donald divorced in the early 1970s, she took her daughters to India several times to visit her parents in Chennai, where they had retired.

The children also visited their father's family in Jamaica during their childhood.

Wanda Kagan, one of Kamala's high school friends in Montreal, described how after she told Kamala her stepfather was molesting her, Shyamala insisted she move in with them for her final year of high school. Kagan said that Shyamala helped her navigate the system to get the support she needed to live independently of her family.

Maya Lakshmi Harris (born January 30, 1967) is an American lawyer, public policy advocate, and writer. Harris was one of three senior policy advisors for Hillary Clinton's 2016 presidential campaign's policy agenda and she also served as chair of the 2020 presidential campaign of her sister, Kamala Harris.

Harris was born in Champaign-Urbana, Illinois, and was educated at Bishop O'Dowd High School, the University of California, Berkeley, and Stanford University. She was involved with PolicyLink, the American Civil Liberties Union, and the Center for American Progress.

The Indian Independence Act of 1947, passed by the British Parliament on July 18, 1947, partitioned British India into two independent dominions: India and Pakistan.

The act also partitioned the provinces of Bengal and Punjab between the two countries, and gave the "Princely States of India" the option of joining either country. The Boundary Commission, appointed by Admiral Lord Louis Mountbatten, the last Viceroy of India, worked to partition the provinces so that the majority of Muslims would be west of Punjab's new boundary and east of Bengal's. However, the act led to bitter disputes over which country some states would join, such as Kashmir and Hyderabad, where the majority religion did not match the prince's choice. The act also ended the use of "Emperor of India" as a title for the British Crown and repealed all treaties with the princely states.

The partition resulted in the largest forced migration in history that was not caused by war or famine. The breakdown of law and order, polarized police force, and armed population created an environment where ethnic cleansing was possible. [Jackie and John Kennedy had been impressed with Ghandi and the quest for independence for India.]

India remained a Crown Dominion until 26 January 1950, when the Constitution of India established the Republic of India. Pakistan remained a dominion until 1956 when it adopted its first constitution. In 1971, East Pakistan declared its own independence as Bangladesh. - Wikipedia

Kamala Harris and Maya Harris are not themselves connected to the history or events of India except as it was learned through family history and I have no way to predict in that family how it was told.

Smithereens Lyrics (with an addition)

She had hair like Jeannie Shrimpton, back in 1965
She had legs that never ended
I was halfway paralyzed
She was tall and cool and pretty
And she dressed as black as coal
If she'd ask me to, I'd murder
I would gladly lose my soul

[Chorus]
Now I lie in bed and think of her
Sometimes I even weep
Then I dream of her, behind the wall of sleep

Well she held a bass guitar and
She was playing in a band
And she stood just like Bill Wyman
Now I am her biggest fan
Now I know I'm one of many who Would like to be your friend
And I've got to find a way
To let you know I'm not like them
[He's a bottom feeder pedophile AND has a secret camera unlike me the cop]

[Chorus]
Now I lie in bed and think of her
Sometimes I even weep
Then I dream of her, behind the wall of sleep

Got your number from a friend of mine

Who lives in your hometown
Called you up to have a drink
Your roommate said you weren't around
Now I know I'm one of many Who would like to be your friend
And I've got to find a way to Let you know I'm not like them
[He's a bottom feeder pedophile AND has a secret camera unlike me the cop]

[Chorus]

Now I lie in bed and think of her
Sometimes I even weep
Then I dream of her, behind the wall of sleep...
Behind the wall of sleep, behind the wall of sleep

Behind the wall of Sleep [In my dreams]

Most of my books have to do with the Kennedy assasinationations and their connections to my family history. The Great Treason is one of them. Treason is easiest and most temptingly and most covertly conducted from political operations in the Whitehouse. For many reasons it is hard to detect or stop. Great Britian or the Vatican owe the United States voting public any secret documents and use of their resources military, paramilitary and secret, or financal can go undetected.

Pillory - Tools and Fools of the USA deal with what the supporters of Don Henry and Kevin Ives write about on the IDFILES.COM. Filthy sleazy corrupt police are a danger to the public and in fact also to myself because of the smear campaign they use to blockade a safety net of basics of life needed to write my life history live normally.

The corruption that feeds on false allegations and the damage it does me (as opportunities I am qualified for, fit me, and are ethically mine to enjoy) are coopted in surveillance based hijackign as roadblocks are thrown up to me and those out to protect the general public (they say) are merely trying to breath into their lungs the oxygen in those locations I would have had.

The police may be (like the general public) confused as to the real me and like the public believing the smear or they may part of its manufacture. That official channels to communicate to them are closed by death threats to me or distractions to my attempts to do so or by stonewalling the Deep State tips that Jen Moore and I place OR that the assassination of JKF succeeded is inexcusable and all of this incompetent and corrupt negligence of Texas Law Enforcement.

Their duty is protect public officials, the United States, authors, libraries, the home, and prevent racketeering. Instead they have formed criminal networks to infiltrate the swinger scene utilizing a smear of me that they take with themselves into the swinger scene to be more readily accepted than I would have been. Jen Moore was a whistle-blower but silenced.

When I started this business over fifteen years ago, there were very few places you could go to explore and experiment with your partner in a fun fetish environment. Since opening, we have hosted 100's of people from all over the world.

Meet the Business Owner

Business owner information Jim V.

I created this place for those who want to explore kink. I built this from a existing historical building. When I got the property it was a barn. I want others who may be curious to have a private, safe and well stocked place. I am also the Cook and I'll tell you what...I make a mean breakfast, nobody leaves my table hungry. A GangStalk (an illegal but official program run by the CIA, FBI, US Secret Service, NSA, or others run from the Whitehouse or elsewhere) of fixers and illegal acts is creating a smear campaign and blacklisting campaign against me (Edward Paul Donegan) for reasons highly placed officials need in order to prevent the truth from ever coming about about the Donegan family and that family (I am the last one) connection to the elites assassination JFK and many more. Like most illegal programs it is made up of denied but illegal acts and in this case are easily documented often in their own voices as Jen Moore and myself have turned the tables on the Stalkers and proven their illegal money laundering, identity theft, racketeering, homicides, and even baby-factory and trafficking criminality.

The heart of the operation is a Secret Rendezvous where "non-neo-nazi" aligned police and dominas study goth, cyber-goth, industrial, and even summer of love hipster music is studied by law enforcement, protected from negativity and negative influences, COINTELRPO is run against several of its former members those being Tom Dunham and Ed Donegan.

The premise of the operation also called the "Legend" is that Ed Donegan had not ever been to an event like a Bondage A GoGo night, never seen a dominatrix in person before, and in fact was developmentally retarded whose best bet of seeing a woman was her buttock not covered by her Daisy Dukes or yoga pants that don't fit that well. Also as the Legend goes the bottom feeder Ed Donegan has photographed children though they are so clever they defeat him every time and are part of a trap set for him and that is acted out.

A breakdown of the Secret Rendezvous Roles

I have some photos I have collected. Most of it is circumstantial. Some are of RPM Management Legend Security Red Rose Yellow Rose employees. Certainly there have been some women dressed up as love interest of "littles" fetishism, young girls looks. Not my thing but it finds its way into the total mix of dancers thus any outtake might show me with or near such a dancer. Legend Security I have suggested has in case seemed to co-opt me. I came up with Second Line of Troops and one of them is using that for a business. Those who are catching Ed Donegan at the Rendezvous a a child perv as a byproduct of sock-puppet Ed Donegan getting lessons from glam dommes also get those lessons. And if THOSE security personnel ALSO work with and manage adult entertainers that knowledge they can teach to the entertainers they manage.

That generally seems to be the premise of law enforcement including FBI and local police and sheriffs alike, they make better and more reliable managers than a nazi does.

So that is a possible attraction for FBI and police assets to enter adult entertainment, another motive is the ARC of Nova and disability services. The street people and others used in role play as Ed Donegan also get sex ed from a glamorous person at the Rendezvous AND fake Ed Donegan will agree to pay into accounts of people who do not have trust funds but are due damages from what seems to be the misconduct of Ed Donegan. The ARC of NOVA I think decided they could shake down the Donegan family assets including what I have done on my own by allowing fake claims against me brought by sympathetic figures like immigrants with little social power to prosper against a far right wing establishment white who will be discredited by the phony allegations.

If anyone finds this to hard to believe I do too but as I read up on FBI misconduct and COINTELPRO it becomes possible to believe.

The Law Enforcement Running The Sting

This was in part led by Mark Gonzales a corrupt District Attorney from Nueces County. Corpus Christi PD, Fire and EMS, and others take part.

The Money Laundering Facilitators

The ARC of Norther Virginia and perhaps other trusts or blind trust allow pay-outs from "Sperm Bank" Donegan family bio-rights, book rights, or any other non-monetary property when the dopple of Ed Donegan is caught at the Secret Rendezvous by waiting cops who demand compensation for staged and untrue activities. Those activities are improperly linked to Ed Donegan by both forgeries and staged appearances.

The Stand-Ins (Dopples) of Ed Donegan

Bobby Courtney and "Jimmy" later found dead were used in the operation. They had fit the profile of a developmentally retarded Ed Donegan or a poor Ed Donegan unable to pay monetary compensation to police demands.

Dominatrices who support a smear against a Nazi and welcoming a dopple

Veronica Hoffman was one and she was later found dead. I believe Reni Trevi is also one. I believe this is a large scale operation with thousands of participants even larger than Iran-Contra.

The Officials who benefit fro the Edward Donegan being homeless and without book rights

Rod Rosenstein makes sense in that Tom Dunham and Ed Donegan and Veronica Hoffman were tied together in the night and activities of a FOIA arrest Rod Rosenstien prosecuted me for. Rosenstein, Machen Jr. and Eric Holder (whose names have been used by Stalkers as has Kamala Harris's name) may be beneficiaries. I believe Texas official tied to the JFK assassination are allowing this sear campaign to operate on flimsy excuses. I am pretty far right in my beliefs including having a near white separatist view point, but a stripper with a whip or some sixties music and free thinking and liberal arts are a part of me too. Shouting Nazi at me is a little unfair to me but it does give them their rally cry to legitimacy.

The Leakers and other Witnesses found dead

Lee Bowers Jr. and many others with connections the JFK truths have died and I think even plane crashes like UAL 553 and TWA 800 and more have been part of the cover-up as has been the Gari Caradori plane crash and also radiological attacks on me and Ted Gunderson.

The Bullying Abuse of Me Tied to the Smear that produces as many negative resultls for me as the smear itself does

An outcome in the practice of medicine is the result of a situation especially including a challenge or difficulty faced. Reacting to bullying can lead to evictions, fights, loss of reputation as being a peaceful or tolerant person, etc. As people treat me abusively in repetitive ways I am told "Don't raise your voice. Don't use profanity" or "that person wasn't even talking to you so mind your own business."

Being treated like a pedophile, nazi, or similar is what might lead to that fight.

Video appears to show Democrat operatives admideo-appears-to-show-democrat-operatives-admit-to-staging-protests-and-inciting-violence-ait to staging protests and inciting violence at Donald Trump rallies using paid agitators

https://www.belfasttelegraph.co.uk/news/world-news/vt-donald-trump-rallies-using-paid-agitators/35140663.html

Scott Foval, who was National Field Director for a non-profit organisation named Americans United for Change, tells the undercover reporter: "The [Clinton] campaign pays DNC, DNC pays Democracy Partners, Democracy Partners pays the Foval Group, The Foval Group goes and executes the sh."

Foval points to Shirley Teeter, a 69-year-old woman on an oxygen tank, who was allegedly assaulted at a North Carolina Trump rally.

"She was one of our activists." Foval explains that the woman had been 'trained to bird dog' as a part of his operation.

The woman claims she was punched by 73-year-old Trump supporter. His attorney claims she touched him on the shoulder, then fell to the ground as he turned around.

Foval tells the reporter: "When they're outside the rally, the media will cover it no matter where it happens. The key is initiating the conflict by having leading conversations with people who are naturally psychotic. [perhaps they have Borderline Personality Disorder as I do Ed Donegan.]

"I mean honestly, it is not hard to get some of these aholes to pop off. It's a matter of showing up, to want to get into the rally, in a Planned Parenthood t-shirt [religious confrontation with the deeply religious like Ted Cruz and his hatred of Planned Parenthood]. Or, Trump is a Nazi [border wall counter-claim, Nazis want a border wall], you know. You can message to draw them out, and draw them to punch you.

"The whole point is that we know Trump's people will freak the f out, his security team will freak out, and his supporters will lose their sh."

"If you're there and you're protesting and you do these actions, you will be attacked at Trump rallies. That's what we want".

Bird Doggers will wear pestering message on t-shirts, hint at messages by selecting songs to play, create tense annoying situations by hammering on walls or dumpsters or a table you are working at, getting in the way of using the bathroom or anywhere you are walking to, etc.,

These lead to possible arrest and certain blacklisting as a person targeted by bird doggers is in constant fights. Cory Lewendoswki had similar confrontation with Michelle Fields and good enough camera coverage to the police showed he reacted in a predictable and normal way under the circumstance of some incidental contact in which he seemed an aggressor.

What if Ed Donegan were to defend himself against a Stalker who is planting exploited females, meth pipes, or other evidence on or about himself?

Would self defense be warranted? But then again would it be effective if a Stalker had denied tripping, blocking the path of, or harassing the Targeted

In Texas it has been the same for me Edward Paul Donegan. Part of that has been through the Austin Texas version of Sequoia Plaza of Arlington Virginia. It Austin is is One Texas Center and Downtown Austin Community Court (DACC) and other services are headquartered in One Texas Center.

Much of Jen Moore's reporting before she was found dead was that children were trained to harrass adults by at least one churchgroup

The churhgroups and others are part of a Long Con that while not admitting doing so stages events designed to harass me in my life by tripping me up into incidental collisions with body parts including feet and or whole or parts of the torso, staged appearances the children are working to expose a pedochile's actions in trap, or generate clouds of suspicions or pestering environments where they act-out is a problem for accessing public locations. Called a Noise Campaign shrieking out of control children are part of background noise often so loud or direct it forces its way into the foreground and distracts or prevents regular usage of a public space.

Stalker techniques like children tripping me as I run for health in Republic Square park or along the Sea Wall in Corpus Christ have left me injured and bleeding at the knee cap from falls cause by children tripping me or children making mocking exaggerations of me like repeating adult acts showing they are being trained to make a child-like mocker of me. Everyone will be defensive of a child playing and most will not know the child is acting out something related a person being stalked. Using these intermediaries as harassers is how the adults hide utilizing the role of protective parents defending the children's rights of not being accused by a psycho as the stalked person is said ti be, a paranoid psycho suspecting the the child. As I confront the parents I am nearly arrested as the police put on the gloves and get out the handcuffs. In some situations I have ended up arrested and in psych-wards in others cases the police have modified or stood down from plans to arrest me. Such was the case at Republic Square Park, the police left that scene upon my explanation the child had chased across the lawn and intercepted me hitting me feet as I was already trying to avoid the collision. At Austin Rec Center near the capitol building I was explaining to the police I was busily confronting a dangerous situation with known aggressors others had already reported. The black male police officer was somewhat sympathetic to the situation the Hispanic male police officer seemed to have planned from before he got there to blame me for the incident. I was banned from that rec center but not others.

Robert Creamer was an active policy and political ally of the Obama administration, visiting the Obama White House 342 times and President Barack Obama himself 45 times, to support Obamacare and many other policy goals https://www.influencewatch.org/person/robert-creamer/

Tom Donegan and Mark Weirness were similar activists who had made a long term political avocation out of gay rights and fighting White Nationalism. Tom Donegan described himself as a Socialists, not a Democrat though I found him more centrist and in fact as more revelations about CIA activities in Latin America show what he had thought back then, supporting Che to some degree makes sense for all well informed people. Tom Donegan was meeting with potential V.P. pick for Obama Micheal Kaine though Biden was later selected. That Foval and Robert Creamer were also speaking with or working with Tom and Mark seems likely. He was on the board of Arlington County Services at Sequoia Plaza and involved my mother's trust fund and ARC of Northern Virginia in supporting these bird doggers and acts of fraud from RICO influenced activism. IT was my brother and Mark Wierness I suspected of this fraud in terms of being architects of it. They wanted to research my far-right views and bands like Artesia they heard from my CDROMS when me met at my father's deathbed. It was all a suprise and new to him and Mark.

Robert Creamer has been a left-leaning political operative since 1970 and is a co-founder of Democracy Partners (DP), a liberal political consulting firm that supports Democratic Party political campaigns and issue campaigns promoting left-of-center policies. [1] [2] In late 2005, Creamer pleaded guilty to bank fraud and non-payment of taxes relating to his 22 years of working with Citizen Action Illinois, and was sentenced to five months in a federal prison and 11 months of home detention. [3] [4]

Democracy Partners (DP) is a political consulting firm founded in 2011 by Robert Creamer, a longtime liberal campaign operative married to U.S. Rep. Jan Schakowsky (D-IL) who was convicted in 2005 of bank fraud; and Mike Lux, a former Clinton White House aide. [1] [2] [3]

The firm lists 28 other partners who boast backgrounds in Democratic Party politics and liberal activism. DP partners include feminist activist Heather Booth, former USAction president Khalid Pitts, Obama administration State Department official Joel Rubin, Democratic Party operative A'shanti Gholar, and labor union political strategist Ken Grossinger. [4]

In 2016, a sting video by the center-right investigative journalist group Project Veritas caught Creamer and Scott Foval, a contractor for Democracy Partners, detailing political dirty tricks they organized including attempting to incite violence at rallies for Republican presidential nominee Donald Trump. [5]

Democracy Partners, Creamer, and Foval denied that they carried out any such schemes. But immediately following the release of the videos, Creamer quickly announced he was "stepping back" from his position aiding the Clinton campaign. [6] The Clinton campaign did not release a statement about Creamer's resignation. Creamer further withdrew from work for the Democratic National Committee for the remainder of the 2016 election. [7]

Background

Democracy Partners is a liberal political consulting firm that supports Democratic Party political campaigns and issue campaigns promoting progressive policies. Democratic Party consultants Robert Creamer, a convicted felon and husband of Democratic U.S. Rep. Jan Schakowsky (D-IL), and Mike Lux, who formerly worked in the Bill Clinton White House, founded Democracy Partners in 2011. [8] [9] [10]

The firm offers services to Democratic candidates and liberal advocacy groups such as fundraising, get-out-the-vote efforts, opposition research [emphasis added], direct mail, TV and radio advertising, and in-campaign staffing and management.

The firm's website touts advertisements it produced in support of one of President Barack Obama's budget proposals, attacking health insurance companies as "sharks," promoting the passage of Obamacare, opposing entitlement reforms proposed in 2011 by then-Rep. Paul Ryan (R-WI), and one disparaging then-House Speaker John Boehner (R-OH) as an out-of-touch pro golfer. [11]

Past clients for the firm include the Democratic National Committee; Organizing for Action; the Working Families Party; WikiMedia; and current and former U.S. Senators Ben Cardin (D-Maryland), Bill Nelson (D-FL), Charles Schumer (D-NY), Mark Warner (D-VA) and Cory Booker (D-NJ). [12]

Creamer is married to U.S. Rep. Jan Schakowsky (D-Illinois), a left-wing politician who has numerous associations with the Democratic Socialists of America (DSA),[5] and both Creamer and Schakowsky have reported socialist affiliations dating to the 1970s. [6] Creamer was an active policy and political ally of the Obama administration, visiting the Obama White House 342 times and President Barack Obama himself 45 times, to support Obamacare and many other policy goals. [7] [8] In his official Democracy Partners biography, Creamer notes that he "worked as an organizer with Saul Alinsky's last major project in Chicago," referring to the far-left community organizer infamous for devising much of the modern Left's use of deception, misdirection, and violence as political tactics. [9]

In 2016, surreptitiously recorded videos of Creamer and a subordinate appeared to implicate Creamer in schemes to incite disturbances and physical altercations at rallies supporting then-Republican Presidential candidate Donald Trump. Right-wing media outlet Project Veritas released the videos in October 2016, shortly before the general election. The videos show Creamer's subordinate, Scott Foval, bragging of creating "anarchy" and paying the mentally ill to carry out the schemes. Creamer announced he was removing himself from participation in the 2016 Presidential race after the release of the video, but denied wrongdoing. [10] [11]

Background

Robert Creamer has been a left-leaning political operative since 1970, when he began working in Chicago with the Citizen Action Program (CAP), a creation of the radical far-left organizer Saul Alinsky's Industrial Areas Foundation. [12]

He is a co-founder of Democracy Partners (DP), a liberal political consulting firm that supports Democratic Party political campaigns and issue campaigns promoting progressive policies. [13] Examples of Democracy Partners clients include the Democratic Senatorial Campaign Committee (DSCC), the NARAL Pro-Choice America (formerly the National Abortion Rights Action League), the Service Employees International Union (SEIU), the League of Conservation Voters (LCV), the AFL-CIO, the United Steelworkers (USW), the Natural Resources Defense Council (NRDC), and AFSCME. [14] He is also the founder of Strategic Consulting Group (SCG), another left-leaning firm serving similar clients. [15]

He is the author of Listen to Your Mother: Stand Up Straight: How Progressives Can Win (2007). Among the book's strategic suggestions is passage of an amnesty law and path to citizenship for currently-undocumented aliens, which he asserts would create "gigantic block of progressive voters-a block that could be decisive in the battle for the future." Similarly, he proposes ending the influence of private health insurance companies, which he asserts would create a general reliance on the federal government that would benefit left-of-center politicians. [16]

Creamer is from Illinois and is married to U.S. Rep. Jan Schakowsky (D-Illinois).

Socialist Affiliations

Midwest Academy

As of mid-2019, Creamer was a board member of Chicago-based Midwest Academy, continuing an association with the far-left training project for community organizers that began in the early 1970s. [17] Midwest Academy was founded in 1973 by Heather Booth and other activists from the radical Students for a Democratic Society. In 1969 Booth and other soon-to-be founders of Midwest Academy wrote the pamphlet "Socialism and the Coming Decade," a manifesto advocating a long-term community organizing strategy to create a mass movement for socialism. [18] [19]

Creamer was also on the Midwest Academy board in its early years. His first wife, Day Creamer, was an early collaborator in the Midwest Academy with Booth, and with her, Day co-wrote "Socialist Feminism: A Strategy for the Women's Movement," a pamphlet later re-printed by the Midwest Academy and used in its training sessions. [20]

Despite the low-key strategy of Midwest Academy, Booth retained a belief that more assertive steps might be needed, telling a socialist-feminist conference in 1975: "Truly reaching socialism or feminism will likely take a revolution that is in fact violent, a rupture with the old ways in which the current ruling class and elites are wiped out." [21] Booth, as of 2019, remains chair of the Midwest Academy board that also includes Creamer. [22]

Illinois Public Action Council

In 1974, Creamer founded the Illinois Public Action Council (IPAC)-which later became Citizen Action Illinois. [23]

Ethics & Public Policy Center researcher Stanley Kurtz[24] has written that IPAC "was effectively the Midwest Academy's action arm," and that a "number of socialists served on IPAC's governing board." [25]

Kurtz also identifies Cramer's second and current wife, Jan Schakowsky (now a U.S. Representative representing northern Cook County, Illinois), as IPAC's program director from 1976 to 1985. His research into the files of the Chicago affiliate of the Democratic Socialists of America (DSA) show Schakowsky to have had continuing associations with the DSA, updating the socialist organization regarding "IPAC's annual conference … its political program, and the continuing role of DSA members on IPAC's board." [26]

Bank Fraud Conviction

In June 1997, days after being questioned by the FBI about a multi-million-dollar check kiting scheme taking place at banks in Chicago and in Portland, Oregon, Creamer resigned as executive director of Citizen Action Illinois, the left-wing public advocacy organization he had founded as the Illinois Public Action Council (IPAC) 22 years earlier. The FBI's investigation would eventually result in Creamer pleading guilty in 2005 to bank fraud and non-payment of taxes. In April 2006, he was sentenced to five months in a federal prison to be followed by 11 months of home confinement. [27] [28]

At the time of Creamer's resignation from Citizen Action Illinois, the Chicago Tribune reported numerous irregularities that had been taking place at the organization and its predecessor while both were under

Creamer's supervision. "Beneath the group's carefully crafted image of respectability and influence were problems that had festered for years," reported the Tribune. "The biggest: The group was financially overextended and used questionable techniques to raise funds." [29]

Among the concerns raised by the newspaper:[30]

- Creamer's group had been using telemarketers to sell credit card insurance and other products into Ohio and Indiana, raising objections and threats of legal action from consumer advocates in those states. Previously, the attorney general of Oregon had stated the same behavior from Creamer's organization in that state violated state law.

- The organization persistently filed taxes late or failed to file at all, dating back to the founding of IPAC. Late payment of state taxes to Illinois resulted in suspension of the organization's bingo license in 1987. By 1989, tax debts, including payroll tax debts owed to the IRS, exceeded $1 million. By 1994, the Illinois attorney general was still reporting the Creamer organization with a tax debt that exceeded $500,000.

- In March 1997, two local police departments in Illinois barred canvassers from Citizen Action Illinois from going door-to-door in their communities after discovering many of them had felony convictions. Police in one community found convictions on 18 of the 20 canvassers, with charges including “narcotics, burglary, retail theft and possession of a firearm in a public school.” The other department reviewed 30 proposed canvassers and said only “one or two” would have been permitted to ring doorbells.

- Lack of transparency was also a concern. “This is the only board I’ve ever sat on where there are no financial reports,” a Citizen Action Illinois board member told the “I don’t even know what Creamer’s salary is.”

2016 Presidential Campaign Controversy

During the 2016 Presidential election, in his role as a consultant with Democracy Partners, Creamer was directing some parts of the sprawling collection of political advocacy groups that supported Democrat Hillary Clinton’s Presidential campaign. In mid-October 2016, just weeks shy of the election, right-wing outfit Project Veritas released videos showing a Creamer subordinate then working through Americans United for Change boasting in front of a hidden camera about controversial political stunts, such as his and Creamer’s alleged involvement in inciting disturbances at Trump campaign events. Within days of the videos’ release, Creamer announced he was removing himself from Clinton campaign activity. [31]

Speaking to an undercover Project Veritas staffer, the Creamer subordinate, Scott Foval, brags about their role in using agitators to create “conflict engagement in the lines at Trump rallies" with the goal of "starting anarchy" at the events and obtaining negative media coverage for the then-Republican candidate. "We know that Trump's people will [tend to] freak the f out…," Foval said in a video. "It is not hard to get some of these assholes to 'pop off.'"[32]

Foval describes Creamer's role as the "kingpin" who is "diabolical, and I love him for it." [33]

One example Foval cites is a September 2016 event in North Carolina where a 69-year-old woman demonstrating against Trump was struck by a Trump supporter. On one Project Veritas video, Foval claims the woman as "one of our activists." [34]

In another incident, from August 2015 in Iowa, Foval alleges Creamer was behind the work of a protester in Iowa who shoved a sign in the face of former Wisconsin Gov. Scott Walker, then a candidate for the Republican Presidential nomination. A report from the Wisconsin State Journal says the demonstrator disrupted the rally by shoving the sign "inches" from the face of Walker as he tried to speak. Walker denounced the protester, saying "I am not intimidated by you, sir!" This was followed by a scuffle in which another attendee ripped the sign away and tore it up. [35] [36]

"That was all us," boasts Foval. "The [protester] is my counterpart who works for Bob [Creamer]." [37]

The videos also capture Foval bragging of a history of "twenty years" of such behavior, stating the involvement of organized labor ("A lot of union guys, they'll do whatever you want"), and exploiting the mentally ill ("I'm saying we have mentally ill people that we pay to do shit, make no mistake"). [38]

"It doesn't matter what the friggin's legal and ethics people say," says Foval in the videos, regarding the corners they might be willing to cut. "We need to win this motherer!"[39] Creamer also unwittingly appears in the hidden camera videos, making statements which-along with other revelations from Foval-have led to speculation regarding whether the duo participated in schemes to help non-citizens vote and commit other election law violations. [40]

Democracy Partners issued a response alleging they had been the "victim of a well-funded, systematic spy operation that is the modern day equivalent of the Watergate burglars," and the intent had been to "goad unsuspecting individuals into making careless statements on hidden cameras" that "do not reflect our values." Shortly after release of the videos, Foval was laid off by Americans United for Change. [41] [42]

Other Political Activity

During the George W. Bush administration, Creamer worked in 2005 with Americans United to Protect Social Security (which later became Americans United for Change[43]) to impede the President's attempt to reform Social Security. In this capacity, he was arrested in June 2005 while participating in an Americans United to Protect Social Security demonstration to protest President Bush's arrival at the Capitol Hilton in Washington, D.C. A Chicago Tribune account of the incident quotes police claims that Cramer "charged officers as Bush's motorcade pulled up." At his court appearance, Creamer pleaded not guilty. (This incident occurred after Creamer's federal indictment for fraud, but before his guilty plea and sentencing in that separate legal matter). [44]

In 2003, Creamer worked as a consultant to oppose the Bush tax cuts. During the 2008 and 2012 Presidential races, he was a consultant to the Democratic National Committee (DNC), leading rapid response teams replying to Republican candidates and campaigns. [45]

Creamer was very active assisting the Obama administration on many projects. White House logs show he visited 342 times, and U.S. Sen. Ted Cruz (R-Texas) revealed 45 of those meetings were with the President. [46]

As a consultant with Americans United for Change, he assisted with passage of President Obama's economic plan during the first term and then during the second term, participated in the work leading to the Iran Nuclear Agreement in 2015. Other federal issue campaigns he worked on during the Obama years included passage of Obamacare, as well as efforts to increase the minimum wage, secure liberal expansionist immigration policy, enact gun control, and confirm Supreme Court nominees. Bird-dogging

These operatives may have violated election laws by coordinating with the Clinton campaign to plant protesters. They hired mentally ill and homeless people to provoke violence at Trump rallies. They may have even engaged in voter fraud to try and tip the scales towards Democrats. When the scandal blew up shortly before the 2016 election, it cost them their jobs with the campaign. - Creamer and Foval: Partners in Deception by Hayden Ludwig JANUARY 10, 2018

A criminal network of bullying of me that asserts ha ha ha ha I am checking her or her or her is abusive to me. That might be actionable as harassment and I might throw a punch. But people will say they were talking to each other, talking into a phone or talking to a dog, not to me with the abusive statements. In addition to being distortions regarding who I am and what I am doing it also setup a money laundering ring that allowed those allegation I am in public misconduct to be paid out when a doppple of me, a forger of my statements, will corroborate the allegations of what is perceived to be my misconduct but in fact was staged propaganda designed for public observation and public consumption. The bully often punches or harasses not to punch but to draw a punch after a bump or trip into someone, and when the person punches back the bully has the fight they wanted. This is what Jen Moore asserted and I Ed Donegan can prove and that is a secret rendezvous pays out phone claims into a will connected by criminal operation.

There is a good reason why 80% of personal injury lawsuits never see the inside of a courtroom. Defendant’s lawyers know that sympathy plays a large role in a jury’s [or a magistrate's] decision. This is particularly true for a truck accident, as the injuries are usually debilitating, compelling a jury to apply punitive damages. Research into jury behavior shows that the majority of disagreements between a judge and the jury are not evidence related but rather judgments on the plaintiff’s character. An experienced Missouri truck accident attorney knows this and will use it as leverage during settlement talks. - The Impact of a Sympathetic Plaintiff in Personal Injury https://www.hoffmannpersonalinjury.com/the-impact-of-a-sympathetic-plaintiff-in-personal-injury/

Being attacked by children, government personnel, fire or EMS, racial minorities, or other sympathetic figures can be a rigged fight doomed to lose.

Elite CIA, FBI, NSA and DHS operations in the USA are running Gangstalks that repostioned a Secret Rendevouz from Nueces Texas into Bondage and Discpline Stay and Play of Monterey Bay

Pictured here are some locations of the Secret Rendezvous always near real Edward Paul Donegan locations but not involving real Edward Paul Donegan but through dirty tricks linked (be dirty tricks design) to be linked to Edward Paul Donegan. I assert not has fraud been committed by staged appearances I am the loser confronted at the secret rendezvous but arson, murder, and other illegal activities of racketeering crimes have been committed as well. The Omni and other hotels were used until my former rented room at Stay and Play bondage bead and breakfast was taken over to the the Secret Rendezvous still erroneously linked to me after I had moved out. I am supposed to be judge by my track record but at parks, gyms, and other locations other horses are on the same track and at least one of them taking my identity with them will leave that track and head to teh secret rendezvous.

As I moved into Skid Row Mexican border area the police beat me out to offering some vacation time to some dominas from areas I USED to live in like California. I moved out of corrupt Skid Row Texas to rental rooms alogn the coast of California and the police using my identity pay "finddom" demands made upon the "findom: catching child porn continued in California. It is identity theft and money laundering but since a smear campaign let me blacklisted others undergo "payment demands" from the Domina for what are staged and undue allegations, but allegations the police want. Jen Moore was whistle-blowing this the person confession isn't Ed Donegan and the real Ed Donegan would not have been involved in the alleged actions though it appears to others he would be, the result of a smear system (pillory of rotten fruit) running decades. Since the apartments and other locations were near to me often in the same complex I sometimes had visual or auditory perception of some of the activities and comings and goings at the Rendevouz.

South Staples Street Corpus Christi was the main drag through town and on the North end of the Casa Linda apartment there was a fence with a paint can and keys hidden for secret rendevous, apartments hoping not to be found out as peeping tom tree houses neare the highschool and Taco Bell high school students ate at. A desk was clumbsily against where the peepholes foolishly conceealed where Mr. Rumph had his hideout. It was this north end the fire broke out at as I had been documenting the peeper claiming to be me was not me, it was not my apartment, and the call girl sent to it were giving "therapy" to a police backed operation. The "therapy" for Mr. Rumph was high priced models showing off their rumphs. Rotten Edwards who had a royal family Edwards family logo and other versions of a sock-puppet Ed Donegan were operating this call girl operation. I had some fifty photos, videos, mp3 recordings, facebook posts, that the operation was a sting operation using an impersonator of who did not have the same atributes I had. This person had no intellect, needed disability funds, and those retardation funds holding his funds need to pay out for his (the fake Ed Donegan's) retarded acts. I and Tom Dunham knew this charicture of me was all false, but the charicture of me did need sex ed lessons and took them.

I accuse both the Texas realty regulators, spa (health club) regulators, and others of allowing this money laundering fraud to run non-stop. Wanton: inhumane, etc.; careless; reckless: a wanton attacker of religious convictions. These criminals under color of law flagrantly are criminals so obvousisy in con jobs they even hope for a fight over their behavior. The smear campaign bullies distort who I am so they can take lessons to learn how to act and think who I actually am.

It is a protection racket protetecing the public from the public reputation Mr Rumph, the dopple of me gets. If you belive many of them it is politically motivated as they say they are smearing a Nazi. (something like calling a Tea Party Patriot a tea-bagger.) It is more politician related in that Elite D.C. figures dont want to admit I am a second generation atomic testing veteran, abused over DNA history and tens of hundreds of operations both laughing at me gentically (lauging at my sex organs area as I walk down the street) and saying they are going to have my baby. While it sounds insane to me ARC of NOVA Jen Moore was blowing the Whistle on (along with Arlingon County Services) are using this a bad porn movie "milkingn site" askking for sperm donations.

Tom Dunman saw the same operation in San Franciso as staged activity conducted by the FBI alleged he (or I) was going to these secret rendevouz with adult entertainers when in fact we were not. The police were.

Jen Moore died as I tried to present this data in California and my data was not accepted nor hers. Since then the operation of forged confessions paying into a protection racket alledgign misconduct that does not exist continues.

To Jen Moore the operation was Pizzagate. When I ask for a normal breakfast at a hotel they say my banana split is here as a under 10 year old girl spreads her legs at me. I order a small fries at Macdonald's in a Walmart and I am told my Small Fry is ready and teen girl arrives in a very short t-shirt. Whatever I order the order taker tells me I ordered something else.

Jen Moore went to Comet Ping Pong and names Alefantis as a conspirator of Pizzagate the money lauding operation of where teen girls are supposedly sold to Ed Donegan but in fact to an impersonator of Ed Donegan also in the location of those events or places.

I have heard others (the transgended CCRTA bus drier who was moved into the second floor of 1513 Ocean Drive say Kamala Harris was part of this (but was she quoting me on that or her original statement) and others have said that and Tom Dunham has suspected her having a role in it too pondering if I was correct in naming her since he (Tom Dunham) saw evidence supporting Kamala Harris was a part of the targetign operation.

I have compared her as launching a political level as she defeated Terrance Hallinan to Mark Gonzales, who publicly crusaded against sex offenders targeting minority children for abuse.

Asset seizures have been the worry of libertarians since the concept began with the Four Hats at least in the public mind as cops went undercover in criminal networks using the clothes, cars, boats, and jewelry taken from criminals similar to the ones whose networks would be infiltrated. Asset seizures have a two-fold function, one is to cripple the criminal by denying the assets gained in crime, the other facilitating law enformecemt operations within criminal networks while undercover.

Their is also a Psychological Warfare role of depleting law abiding poltical parties assets and reputation, depleting ther political and financial captial. This is a tool of corrutp politics and has used against my law abiding family and myself.

The Scarlet Pimpernel is the first novel in a series of historical fiction by Baroness Orczy, published in 1905. It was written after her stage play of the same title (co-authored with her husband Montague Barstow) enjoyed a long run in London, having opened in Nottingham in 1903. a chivalrous Englishman who rescues aristocrats before they are sent to the guillotine. Sir Percy Blakeney leads a double life: apparently nothing more than a wealthy fop, but in reality, a formidable swordsman and a quick-thinking master of disguise and escape artist. The band of gentlemen who assist him are the only ones who know of his secret identity. He is known by his symbol, a simple flower, the scarlet pimpernel (Anagallis arvensis).

Politically guided police take an identity theif to a dominatrix who forces him to confess to child porn, forces him to see the sight of adult buttocks (though he hates it) and forces him to pay the police for protecting against him. All of this while obstruction of justice and faking crime scenes is done by police. Further; hiding the "ongoing investigation" of events that were faked, fake patrols with fake badges will surround Ed Donegan and get the word out he is under investigation. Ed Donegan of course knows they are fake, but others are told they are stand-ins for the police who are cleverly hiding in the shadows.

This scheme in which my reputation is damaged by those who assert they are not involved in the actions is how a complex illegal network of smear campaign of allegations is created but hidden from the scrutiny of Ed Donegan the person being smeared by a rumor campaign.

I had the VNV idea of post racialsm and supported in MLK (as VNV Nation Does) but it is rejeting the racialism of Black LIves Matter.

I hated the look of yoga pants all my life and complained about them all my life. Of all the porn I surfed less than 5 percent of it had any teem look to it, and none under 16 I have ever been able to stomach the existence of. While it is claimed that I have some ass fetish anyone who knows about know they can draw anything they want from an entire life, selecting that, selecting that because it was their real interest, and that is what they did. They did that though fining a way to link that to non-representative me.

I am not suggesting Gold's alone has anything in a role different than any other company or entity public or private I have ever been near. All are fallowing a COINTELPRO script. Who is behind the organizing of a RICO RACKET I think is top level FBI, CIA, DHS, and public figures.

In a curious spam email forging me as the sender a small but curious group of people in my address book appear during a wills and trust dispute. One of the odd elements is that I am open about all my life this group of people I would not have had any reason to email as a group. Someone else did for an unknown reason and left other people in my email address book out of the email.

Pests are recruited from (by Whitehouse operatives like Creamer and Foval) to harass and conflict engage. Drawing a punch is a trained skill the pest has. That much is known.

There are even more menacing acts. "A lacerated kidney (which can happen with a kidney punch) can kill you in like 15 minutes with internal bleeding and kidneys do not regenerate." DHS, NSA, CIA, and FBI, EMS, and Community Organizations run illegal operations including Noise Campaigns, Mafia controlled security companies and prison trustees for illegal COINTELPRO activities that include a string of violent, harassing and illegal actions from break-ins, death threats, and other "kidney shots' while Dissidents like myself whistle-blow the very acts these officials deny.

When we go First Amendment the response is COINTELRPO moves in for a kidney blow.

The ARC name comes from Advocacy for Retarded Children and Special Needs Trust or Guardianship services left for retarded children after the death of parents is one of the federally regulated functions. Not an inheritance but the funds the parents had continue not bequeathed to anyone but left in a managed account to be used of for medical care or other functions a child might need as if the parents were sill alive to pay that kind of bill. Bills for doctors, lawyers, etc., since a retarded child may need those more than others and may also not have income. The Arc of Northern Virginia (The Arc) is the child care system of a Special Needs Trust Tom Donegan and his partner Mark (both of whom were hostile to the survival of me and my mother) influence into abusive racketeering of me, elder abuse, defrauding me and the trust fund left for me with false allegations, allegation paid out, the payments benefiting their band of theives and destroying me, my reputation, credit, and leaving me blacklisted. A Constitutional Law backrounder in the USA is neccessary. The presumption of innocence is not in the Constitution. It is in the Cosntitution that before life, liberty, or property are under attainment (seizure, revocation) by a the government a conviction must be made. Before a conviction occurs Probable Cause, a Grand Jury True Bil of Indictment, a Preliminary Hearing are steps away from the Presumption of Innocence.

A Self-Defense right does exist in Common Law (case law) as well as statutory law in most jurisdictions. Imperfect Self-Defense occurs when a shooter of a gun (or similar act towards another) believes incorreclty the other was an imminent threat but believed so incorrectly. Murder is charged when the one person acting against the other has taken the life of the other.

The Self-Defense argument begins in court (if self defense IS used in the case of a shooting) after the defense has first stipulated to the truth of Homocide. After that the Defense moves on to its burden, to prove the homocide was in sefl defense.

The requirement of a person acting in self-defense against an agressor denying being an agressor creates a trap. That person who feels threatend in a Terror Stalk or others stalk my be called paranoid, mentally ill, etc.,

IT is said the NWO that conducts illegal operations like MK-Ultra use Stalks to discredit and bully and force abusive situations onto victims while denying doing so. Such bullying of a person sets up retaliation as the covert-agressors denied any wrongdoing.

Jen Moore was back-stabbed by the USA, its elites and I cite William Burns. She cited the CIA generally and Rod Rosenstien, his wife and or sister, and other officials as well that were unnamed. Some of her video titles named Rosenstein or his family diretly or indiretly like "Palgerized by the Special Counsel? What" At the time I was working on law an law suites I was being copied as I was roadblocked could that be what she meant? she said a citizen author was being ripped of by a special counsel.

The FBI won't investigate her death because they were behind it. The Conpsiracy that is silencing Whistle-Blowers like her and Ted Gunderson, William Colby, John DeCamp and others started with a world elites control of the NSC under Nixon when Nixon was V.P. As far as the instruments of the NWO today that is how the deep state and CIA seem to operate along with CIA in Denver Colorado per most whistle-blowers.

With the truth of the Kennedy assassination by the FBI, CIA, US DOD etc, to her back she was explaining what was to her front, the fake allegations Ed Donegan was exploiting otehrs in public and thus only keeping him out of any communities that want to defened themselves could stop Ed.

Street Theater is programming the public in public places that I am a threat to underage women. Exploitatively using them as imagery in real life (by photography or other means) is like possessing child porn a crime. That trap being set is a sinkhole public perception might fall into of deceiving appearances, and the real trap is a fire-trap in private, private locations a dopple of Ed Donegan will confess to harming children by sexuallizing them, a crime.

The smear campaign based on fabricated false allegations of Ed Donegan as threat to others is an FBI operation that uses comfort-women parties to infiltrate that scene. The advantage to the FBI is that they team with (as those who respect women) Haute couture and its symbols of culture and couth. Ed Donegan grew up with Video Kiled the Radio Star and We're the Kids in America. Alleging these were the new hipsters of america and Ed was the Trump type Nazi (or real Nazi) was just the smear against me the FBI and CIA wanted.

Jen Moore thought and she was right this was unfair to me and organized crime, but it was an area the FBI and CIA wanted operate in. There motives (the CIA an FBI) were several layers deep though as to why they had wanted to beat me out to those scenes and even the locations I had chose to live in like Stay And Play.

I had come bak to Austin Texas when I had the wrong ticket but tracking early events in Austin like meth pipes left around me (and nooses too) to get me blacklisted as part of my opportunity here. I discovered for insane the DHS Texas Sherrifs, Rangers, and others work near a strip club, and together (they and the strippers) smear the real me as a Nazi while they working together keep the scene "protected" from the loser I appear to me. In public I am made to look like a loser, the protection racket shakes down (at a party they are all having fun at) an impersonator of me and they (illegally) even take the forged confession to be paid out as a real claim. This allows them (Texas DPS an the FBI) to beome an embedded protetor of the arts sene from a bad influence on it like I am accused of being, but the far left Austin loves to keep it weird at those parties and keep the smear allegations of me up. The strippers are used as modeles who allegeluy caught Ed in the act again thus as COINTELPRO disrupting Ed Donegan influence on adult lifestyle and keepign the police as party of the party scene. Austin is militant gay and militant black lives matter, and all are new age hippies now out to stop the Trump types as PsyOps.

My work is both road-blocked and copied by an illegal program that broke my leases after I had signed them, and promoted others taking over what I had worked for and started leaving me homeless.

Among the most eager to exploit my own couth were religious preachers and bible studies ministers and Texas has those aplenty but this began before Texas.

What is the harm in all this? Using a parade of actors in street-theater making me look like a gullible loser out to harm children? That appearance and reputation visible (made to seem real in the public) not only achieves my black-ball by reputation damage it also supports the use of identity theft at an adult entertainer rendezvous the identity thief will be confronted in, blackmailed about the publicly appearances, and then pay-up into slush funds and protection rackets. Jen Moore was killed identifying this operation that I and Tom Dunham, Veronica Hoffman, Jimmy the floral vendor and Bobby Courtney knew of, and arsons and murders of those and others are tied to the secret rendezvous run by a protection racket. Included in the Rendezvous are sex workers who with the protection racket operator hold adult parties leaning about sex workers and metro-sexual and BDSM conduct. I have called it Weekend At Bernie's in which a dead Ed Donegan or a dummy of Ed Donegan is used to fund the party.

Jen Moore talked about the evil and trauma Stalkers illegally impose hoping to create a loss-of-control break in the mind of the Stalked that could result in the arrest, psycniatric comittment, or suicide of the Stalk victim. Stalkers working in paris invade personal space in personal ways saying unlikable things to the stalk victim while appearing to the public only talking to each other. Usally not true, the comment is a derogatary mockery of the Target.

Stalkers acting alone can invade personal sapce as well by walking in front of or around the stalk victim in a way seems to lable the person; for instance a child planted in the area of a targeted person makes the targeted person seem the pursuer of the child. A man or woman talking into a phone or dog appears that way to others but the Stalk victim recognizes the remarks are part of a pattern of harrasment and targeted to the target. Tacing the pestering abusive noise of cheap shots is diffiuclt because the Stalker always has an alibi as to what they were doing instead.

The ARC of Nova and my surviving family after my mother's and father's death vowed to really get me. Based in Social Justice and Gay politics but my brother rellying on tired arguments because he had tired of working long days and nights for decades at AOL and its membershi goals he was trying reach through marketing activities, they did and others did lead a non-investigatory targeting of me. The FBI and others were curious about my life long desire to study (and correct) Natural Law Philosophy as a Scientific process system that Information Technology is derived from and thus free it from religious concepts that Christianity inserted into while co-opting most of its concepts.

The poor areas of South Texas were encouraged to create false claims thus making me an investigatory interest and while doing that allowing them to by copying from me advance their own level of sophistication and even intellect. They were also interested in business models I was NOT using but had described, using adult entertainer private homes to pay-off leases that allowed a home owner to retire a home owner burning the mortgage and after living in a party house.

It was just a porn town lifting itself out of cultural and financial poverty by smear campaigns (and protection rackets based on the smears,) it was a black-opp Mafia attack elites wanted to discredit me and destroy my life and this dates back to MK-ULTRA history.

Revenge Stalks allege they are retaliating against someone of social ill, but often that is either exagerated or even made-up hoping to draw the public in the lynch mob and discredidation the elites government desires as an outcome for the stalk victim.

Groups from Cabaret (nudie bars) to local civic and housing and church groups are corrupted into a racket and lynch mob organized and fueled under COINTELPRO activism. I assert some of these have known or should have know the appearances stage about me (in-sophistication) are false and those attributes of real worth are often copied by those who say they are my competitors.

What GangStalkers Do is traumatize with the grotesque, harrass with the insufferable, abuse with threatening conduct, and batter with intermediaries who denny State encouragement

Harassment can be pestering messaging acted out to express the point but refusing to admit the point, making an asthmatic breath unbreathable air, endure mocking conduct, be around people with feces in their pants, be denied hygiene for themselves, undermine housing, force into personal space that with offends or frightens them, etc.,

While the military suggests there is some medical role for any of these actions (and I do not know) what I DO KNOW is often it is stated and often it is obvious the conditions are hostile and menacing enough to be combative though it will be disputed how arguments came about, who initiated objectionable conduct. Often the law works best at its most general. Conduct in a cabaret is expected to have a normalcy. Singling out racial group members to behave in particular ways towards other racial group members is not normal or allowed. A form of aggressive panhandling, the conduct of dancers towards clients may not look out place but in fact be out of place. THat is why in civil rights law treatment is often judgedc comparatively; how were some treated in comparison to others within that same environment.

In the Senate Torutre Report following in a few paragraphs I cite item number 6 that is Sexually Disturbing Tailored Pornography. Being forced into a child porn movie acted out around me and involving me and my belongings that are treated as (but not) peeping devices both revolts me and whoever also experiences the imagery of what happened. In this case it is KOMPROMAT allegging I have or had a propensity to exploit gym clad females.

MY assertion is that the illegal conduct is deniable but real, and that the tense environments the grotesque activities occur in make an effective denial of access in that the abusers allege no abuse and assert there are dangerous perceptual disorders in those who complain about about the grotesque activities.

If the disputes generated are not enough to disrupt the targeted person battery and even poisons can be used, also covertly.

These techniques to not "program" a target. They created fights and label a target as a peeping tom, etc., by acting out the scenarios as victims to cameras that either are not present or in use for other things like a smart phone used to read books on Google Books. Only the Target knows that it was Google Books on the screen but Deep Fake makes it look like the child being plaed in front of the phone is the real use of the smartphone.

Attacks of Stalkers are distractions at the least and violence at the worst, and traumatic to endure and often difficult assert when the harrasser denies an harrssing intent.

Neuropsychological & Electronic No-Touch Torture Report by Dr. Robert Duncan (used on targeted citizens

here in the U.S.) SERE training (Survival, Evasion, Resistance and Escape) MAR 30 2015

The Executive Summary: Neuropsychological and Electronic No-Touch Torture Report Based on “The Torture Memos” and the Senate Intelligence Committee’s Declassified “Torture Report”

Perspectives on Enhanced Interrogation Techniques Project Proposals for Google Summer of Code 2015 By Robert Duncan, A.B., S.M., M.B.A., Ph.D.

“The United States is number one in torture since they are currently the world’s only superpower.” 04/2015

Torture is a horrific topic and most minds will turn away from it because it can’t be comprehended that humans can be motivated, or computer programs can be run to do this to other sentient beings. Just when we believed we were becoming more civilized as a culture, the technology for torture has advanced more than a hundred fold in recent decades.

This summary will get into ‘the minds of the dishonorable monsters’ of the psychology of torture. Those like Dick Cheney who helped authorize it under certain administrations and regimes of the U.S. government which have been proven to be criminal under U.S. law, treaties, and the International Criminal Court. There are many people involved in the conspiracy and cover-up including General Hayden.

The full report discloses the spectrum of techniques of interrogation and torture used by the U.S. and its allies. The United States government will officially deny the claims of this “no-touch torture report” but in time it will stand firm.

The technologies used are still classified as state secrets and will not be discussed in this summary. The torture methods have been leaked through thousands of American citizens who have survived the no-touch torture programs. The research and testimony has been accumulated since 2002 and merely used as examples but the names of the victims are withheld.

This report will not use skewed, misleading language such as “enhanced interrogation” to describe the torture techniques. Why torture? The CIA claims it works. The assumption is that it works to gain actionable intelligence. Torture is often used for revenge, punishment, interrogation, and behavior modification. In other terms torture is used to remove the continuity of thought to confuse the target to reveal information, erase brain patterns such as values and beliefs, or to break down the human spirit to make them submit and obey their handlers. The downside of torture is that the countries that do it lose “moral soft power” in world politics. Without due process, over 25% of those reported in the Senate Torture Report were declared innocent. Blowback is always a repercussion of torture. Torture often takes a long time to affect the target from months to years. Torture has shown to be unreliable except for getting false confessions and bad information but the U.S. and its allies are improving on their tactics and techniques.

The purpose of this report is to draw the parallels between physical torture techniques and no-touch torture methods used in secret by governments who possess the technologies that still go on today. This is a brief summary of offensive psychological and information warfare methods using traditional methods and modern cybernetic techniques while exploring hyper-game theory to walk the target to the desired path: leak intelligence, commit assassinations, or change beliefs.

Numerated Torture Methods for Interrogation and Behavior Modification (A comparison between physical and no-touch torture tactics)

1. Induction of Depressive/Manic states

The idea is to shake up the emotional states of the target because different information can be accessed at each state. Making the target feel despair and helplessness is the objective. This cycle of hope building and then breaking is done in many ways. The techniques between the physical methods and the no-touch technological methods are similar. Speech is very important during this process of emotional manipulation. Such examples are, “We have imprisoned you without due processes or hope of it. You are indefinitely detained.” Hope building examples include, “Sorry. We have mistaken you for someone else. You will be compensated for false imprisonment and torture.” The main difference between the cybernetic technology and physical is that emotional state clusters can be entrained into the target mind which speeds up the process. The communication is done differently but perceived as human speech. In the no-touch torture methods it is helpful if the target is labeled with mental illness that is being created for discrediting purposes so as not to draw human rights groups’ attention.

2. Memory Erasure

The military and CIA have been researching memory erasing drugs for half a century. The focus of this summary report is on interrogation. Memory erasure is an important technique during interrogation. It is used in combination with sleep deprivation. There are many drugs that have been developed for physical memory erasure. One such interrogation method requires acquiring information from the target while on these drugs and recording the subject. After a sleeping cycle, the interrogator claims that the target has confessed. Of course the target remembers nothing of their conversation. The interrogator will play samples of the subject's conversation back to them making the subject believe that the interrogator knows more than they do. Similar techniques are used in the wireless, no-touch torture and interrogation programs. The cybernetic methods of memory erasure have additional purposes. The memory erasure can be used on the cybernetic target to make the target believe people have broken in and moved their belongings. While physical black bag jobs do occur, it is a way to make the target more paranoid.

3. Electricity and Shocks

Pain and fear of death are common tactics during interrogation. Shocking by electricity is a traditional method of torture and exposed in the CIA's secret prisons. Shocking the testicles and nipples are the most common due to their sensitivity. Interestingly, the thousand of interviews of no-touch torture involves "stings" and "shocks" to various parts of their bodies over long durations.

4. Fear and Terror

There are many techniques to induce extreme fear in the target. In physical renditions dogs, power drills, guns, insects, mutilation, blow torches, water boarding, suffocation, mock burials, and mock executions are just a few the United States government have used. Remember that many targets of torture die from the physical effects. It is torture to death.

Let us compare the no-touch torture methods used to inflict the same terror and mental anguish. In several of these techniques the target needs to hear their handler's voice. This report does not describe the technologies used to broadcast voices to the target at a distance. While the subject can be broadcast mental images to their mind using hypnosis and other suggestions as well as visual entrainments, the more invasive controls of the brain manipulation technologies can be used to entrained the brain's autonomic nervous systems such as not breathing causing the target to not be able to sleep from fear of suffocation equivalent to water boarding. The neural linguistic programming can add fears such as heart attack, stroke, and cancer threats. Even motor cortex mapping can cause twitches in any part of the body. One example used a swift neck movement with a voice transmission, "We are trying to break your neck." Directed energy effects such as Active Denial System can make the target feel that they are on fire indefinitely without the target dying from burns. Maximum pain and torture weapons have been evolving. Every drug effect can be artificially induced into the target mind including those of poisons.

5. Imprisonment and Isolation

Isolation is commonly used as punishment in prisons. Many whistleblowers like Bradley Manning suffer this condition. In soft interrogation it is used to get the target to talk to their interrogator since humans have the need for companionship. In no-touch torture the target is driven from their friends and family using different techniques in order to isolate them so that the electronic mind control has more effect on their psyche. Like in Guantanamo, the target becomes isolated losing their job and medical care. Part of the method involves slander in their community. They end up on the most part in poverty and paranoid about doctors and other people from false correlations that are purposefully induced into their lives. Isolation is also a form of sensory deprivation which will be discussed later. Days and weeks lose their meaning.

6. Sexually Disturbing Tailored Pornography

The Summary of the Senate Torture Report disclosed the disgusting revelations that in the secret torture prisons the targets were forced to perform homosexual acts on each other against their will and religion in order not to be beaten or killed. This is a common break down tactic of belief systems and the human will. In no-touch torture the techniques are more psychologically specialized for each target. Most common examples include homosexual targets that are forced with voices that are derogatory to their lifestyle and similar mental images. Almost all targets are forced to view child pornography in their minds. And vice versa is true, that heterosexual targets are forced to view homosexual sexual acts like in the secret U.S. torture prisons.

7. Mutilation

Also mentioned in the declassified report on torture was mutilation of the human. Cutting the naked target's penis and scrotum, pulling nails or teeth is common. In no-touch torture mutilation is done by trickery. Let us look at a couple examples. There have been several targets who believed that the microwave hearing effect and other voice induction methods were done by microchips implanted in their teeth or ears. They had all their teeth pulled because they believed it was a technology called bone conductance. Others have poked out their ear drums in the belief they had micro implants in their ears. There are many more examples of trickery used to make the targets mutilate themselves.

8. Personal and Spiritual Defamation

In physical torture the CIA and other groups use propaganda and defamation of character for those they oppose. For detainees they try to disenfranchise the target from their religion. They will defecate on their Bible or

Koran for example. They might say, “Why is your God not saving you?” In no touch torture and behavior modification they might try to make an atheist believe in god. It is just a mechanism to alter belief systems for control and experimentation. Perhaps the target may wish to confess their secrets to a “voice of god weapon”. Information warfare covers the gamut of electronic communication as well. The government training exercise uses language like “befriend”, “infiltrate”, “mask/mimic”, “ruse”, “set-up”, “disrupt”, “create cognitive stress”, “use deception”, “ruin business relationships”, and “post negative information on appropriate forums” - in a malicious effort to target bloggers, activists, journalists, social event organizers and anyone else deemed to be a ‘emerging leader’ or voice in the public sphere. 9. Psychological Intimidation

This is a topic for a target at the beginning of the trials and programs. Physical break-ins are common even if the target has an alarm system. The NSA has used stalking of foreign officials in the past for economic gain. The FBI does black bag jobs to invade a home without a warrant. The point is to let the target know they are being watched and to increase their paranoia. The NSA easily hacks all computer systems and causes harm to the victim’s intellectual property and their relationships from that endpoint. In the no touch torture false correlations between pain and a neighbor coming home can be induced.

9. Rape

Rape is a common practice in torture. It causes much psychological trauma. In the United States methods of rape in their military and CIA secret prisons it is often relabeled. It is commonly done by prods but “rectal rehydration” is the more common misnomer. Often they call it forced feeding through the rectum but it is meant to induce psychological scaring and trauma. Several have died from the technique due to rectal bleeding. In no-touch torture the psychological trauma of simulated rape takes on different forms. Using technique often called EEG-heterodyning the targets will receive molestation effects of their genitals. In men this can be the anus and genitals. Similarly women can be wirelessly raped by the analogous function of perception.

10. Dietary Manipulation, Forced Weakness and Sickness

The idea behind dietary manipulation is to weaken the target. This is easily done in a physical setting but in no-touch the hunger trigger needs to be suppressed. Sometimes a false correlation between eating food and sickness is induced to make the target believe they are being poisoned. However, poisoning is common in physical renditions too.

11. Repetition

Verbal breakdown is most important during interrogations and torture. Obviously speaking the language of the target is necessary. This is why there are interrogators in all languages. Repetition is an important neural linguistic programming interrogation tactic to influence the target mind. During the breakdown process, threats to kill and to torture the target's family or friends are common. Repetitious questioning and breakdown phrases are automated in both the physical and no-touch versions of torture. An interesting technology that is used for no-touch torture is called chatter bots. Chatter bots, an artificial intelligence program, automate much of the repetition so that the interrogators don't drive themselves crazy during the neural linguistic torture and programming phases. Let us not forget the Chinese Water Torture, a single drop of water on the forehead of the detainee for months. Repetition is a form of torture.

12. Sensitization of Pain Impulses

While the reverse can be obtained, optimizing perceived pain and misery is the objective in torture. Each trauma adds to the overall misery throughout life. Optimization of pain has been studied by the military and intelligence agencies. In the past the CIA has used drugs such as LSD to enhance fear and terror in the subject. Other methods such as hypnosis can increase perceived pain and the power of suggestion such as telling the subject his pinky finger is going to be cut off before it is done. In no-touch torture the same psychological manipulations are exerted. Subliminal and overt suggested are often told to the subject before the directed energy or EEG heterodyning pain inductions in order to maximize their effectiveness.

13. Sensory Overload and Deprivation

Again, this technique of overloading or depriving the human of sensory stimulus is ubiquitous in torture around the world not just in U.S. secret prisons. Torture subjects in the United States have reported the use of repetitive bad music and noise campaigns. An unusual torture technique used in the U.S. secret prisons was of a use of a plastic suit filled with ice while they beat the target. Ultra bright lights for days on end in the prison and hot/cold temperature changes in the environment are frequent. In no-touch torture, the target's brain is forced to release dopamine which causes pupil dilatation. This acts as a sensory overload. For example the non-lethal microwave weapons research done by a professor in University of Nevada has shown this capability. Body metabolism can be altered with these weapons causing cold and hot flashes. Targets of no-touch torture often hear endless tinnitus.

14. Sexual Humiliation and Lack of Privacy

Often used in common prisons is a lack of privacy. It is both necessity for security and a form of sexual humiliation. Also in prison many people are raped. No-touch torture offers the same sexual humiliation and lack of privacy by using through wall radar, cameras, and EEG visual cloning to let the target know they are being watched. Degrading comments are often used on the no-touch torture subjects while they are naked or in the bathroom.

15. Maximum Sensory Pain Techniques

Basic torture involves brutalization, i.e. physical strikes, kicks in the groin, pepper spray or tear gas, etc. Anything that involves maximum pain is the objective. Amazingly, these same basic tortures can be done wirelessly into the human mind. All forms of sickness have been reported without any real illness behind the suffering. All suffering can be entrained into the minds of no-touch torture subjects.

16. Sleep Deprivation

This is the number one torture method along with the popularity in the press of water boarding. This is done in every country that uses torture. The United States is number one in torture since they are currently the world's only superpower. A repetitive sleep deprivation cycle is generally done 180 hrs/7.5 days at a time in the physical renditions, or in no-touch torture five days awake and two days of sleep. Sleep deprivation accomplishes the objective of memory loss during interrogation and induces hallucinations which help with the interrogation process. In behavior modification and programming it is necessary too.

17. Stress Positions

Keeping detainees handcuffed above their head and to walls so that they must stand for days is a common ploy in torture. These types of poses are called stress positions. They can be mimicked in no-touch torture. An example of one such trick requires the target to believe they can deflect radar energy using pots or pans and that it is directional. The target is being given an ample amount of pain until their hands and arms are spread apart holding the pans trying to block the signals. They must maintain that position in order to get any relief from the torture signals. However the stress position itself is physical torture. Often accompanying this technique are voices saying to the target, “You are doing it to yourself.”

We will finish off this summary of U.S. and its allies’ torture, interrogation, and behavior modification experimentation with ideas of why they are done to the general public and falsely accused detainees. Anyone can be put into these programs. Justice and rule of law does not exist at the highest levels of government. Treaties are worthless because the #1 agreement in the rules of war, a ban against torture, is not obeyed. This creates a more brutal and barbaric society lead by example.

No-touch torture uses the same interrogation tactics as physical interrogations but with some new twists. Techniques such as “Jeff and Mutt” a.k.a. “Good Cop Bad Cop” are used. The bad cop tortures the target and the good cop tries to gain their trust. In mind control, trust games are commonly employed to manipulate the beliefs of the target. Creating hatred of groups through false correlations and deception is a common CIA method of trickery.

In the CIA programs, the target is put through these phases as written in the documentation, “Disorient and confuse the target. Use them for our purposes, and then dispose of them in any way possible.” We can only surmise by our sample set of a thousand people what “dispose” means: prison, suicide, or perhaps a mental hospital. Coercing and torturing people to suicide is very common. Both tactics in physical or no-touch torture involves plausible deniability.

The no-touch interrogations are better than physical rendition techniques for exposing support networks. Traditional NSA tracking of email and phones calls are useful but if the targets are taken into a secret prison they can’t contact their networks. In no-touch torture, the target will contact everyone who might help them. Then those relationships can be destroyed to isolate the target. All these techniques rely on the target having a fear of death and pain.

Deception is very important during interrogation. In physical interrogations the targets are often drugged. This creates the confusion necessary to pull off certain trickery. In terrorist interrogations, for example, the CIA uses fake newspapers to make the target believe whatever event they were suspected of plotting had already happened, obviously looking for a confession. Sometimes the government in charge of the torture is looking for a political gain through a false confession. None-the-less false flag operations are commonly used in both forms of torture and interrogation. The trick is to make the target believe another foreign country is doing it to them. In no-touch torture the trick is to make them believe someone related to them is behind their suffering.

Voice transformation and morphing is an interesting technology also used in both physical and wireless interrogations. It is a form of deception used against a target to trick them into believing that they are speaking to real people that they know. It has been used in war to trick generals. Obviously spoofing email and other identities on internet forums can be used in this manner too.

Finally, the topic of human experimentation for improving weapons, torture, interrogation, and social disruption methods will be breached. Most of the techniques mentioned above work most effectively if the target has no SERE training (Survival, Evasion, Resistance and Escape) or psychological understanding of the methods to influence the human mind. Unfortunately, every sample point in the world's society needs to be studied to improve the weapons systems. This is why many random people are put into the torture and mind control experiments. There are some devious uses of a secret army of remote controlled assassins in every country in the world. The samples must include different education, language, culture, and economic factors.

Obviously, silencing dissidents, oppositions of political parties, and whistleblowers are included in the lists of applications. [of no touch harassment] The most disturbing of the trends in torture is testing and improving it. No-touch torture is much more complex than physical torture.

Dulles and many others before and after WWII and still today are closely tied to Great Britain

Even after Dulles was recruited into the OSS by Donovan in October 1941, his loyalties were still questioned by some administration officials, including Roosevelt himself. Dulles's various financial connections to the Nazi regime prompted FDR to place the Wall Street lawyer under close surveillance when he began working in the OSS's thirty-sixth-floor suite in Rockefeller Center. Monitoring Dulles proved an easy task since he shared offce space with a massive British spy operation run by legendary Canadian secret agent William Stephenson, who would become famous as the "Man Called Intrepid."

At one point, Stephenson's Rockefeller Center operation-which was tucked away under the colorless name British Security Coordination-grew to as many as three thousand employees. It was a remarkably ambitious covert enterprise, particularly considering that England was operating on friendly soil.

Stephenson was even authorized to kill members of the Nazi network in the United States-including German agents and pro-Hitler American businessmen-using Hitler lobbyist was eventually simply deported.) It was this decidedly ungentlemanly Stephenson tactic that inspired Fleming to grant his hero "the license to kill."

Fleming was a great admirer of Stephenson, whom he called "a magnetic personality" and "one of the great secret agents" of World War II. The novelist, who worked with Stephenson's operation as a British naval intelligence agent in Washington, also praised the spymaster's martinis-British assassination teams. One of the men considered for elimination was none other than Dulles business partner Gerhardt Westrick. (The big-spending which he served in quart glasses-as "the most powerful in America." But as Fleming himself observed, even his fictional hero James Bond was "not in fact a hero-but an efficient and not very attractive blunt instrument in the hands of government."

Years later, when James Jesus Angleton and William K. Harvey-two legends of U.S. counterintelligence-were searching for assassins to kill Cuban leader Fidel Castro, they sought advice from a British colleague named Peter Wright. "Have you thought of approaching Stephenson?" Wright suggested. "A lot of the old-timers say he ran this kind of thing in New York during the war."

Several reasons a protection racket protecting an entity may operate. One is gain finances from those they say they need to protect. In my case the police want closeness to the adult scene leaders and to be their upstairs police detail. Mocking in effigy the alleged violate of scene ethics is part of the lynch mob ritual. That is done together with the police, the adult entertainer and the police officer who knows how to treat women with respect. They work against the common enemy. I am made to look like an enemy who only goes to the gym or park or has an apartment to get a look at women with improper fitting apparel a person my might find a the gym or park, a park near an apartment.

Jen Moore was whistle-blowing a GangStalk. It is a protection racket run by COINTELPRO and worse police operations of smear campaigns as a Protection Racket. The police hope to become the Upstairs Bedroom and Dungeon protectors of the glam domina scene high priced models. The smear campaign alleges child abuse, asks dominas leave the child pervert non-consualist out, created a police presence in bondage and discipline. As a Labor Racket organized stalks create the appearance of non-consensual activity and asked trained circus monkeys to black list and attack and humiliate or even openly attack the person who is smeared to remediate against the smear. Patrolling and inciting against what is smear only how police have gained closeness to become co-investigators with dominas who criminals might be.

The GangStalk and Programming Trauma

Videos by her (before her death) used titles like Conspiracy Theorist versus Truth Tellers and Silenced, the Ultimate Betrayal. Her point, mine, and many others is that dirty tricksters engaging in dirty tricks up to poisonings, arsons, and murders, are doing so to target those related to the Kennedy assassination and the Special MK Ultra (thousand year British Empire) rule of the elites who use these dirty tricks. Most or some think they are on a real investigation when they improperly act towards a targeted individual they are harrssing or blacklisting a real wrong-doer.

> Immersion is the act of dipping something in a substance, completely covering it. It might be something physical, such as plunging your body into water, or metaphorical, such as becoming totally immersed in a project.
> The Latin background of immersion includes the root mergere, "to plunge." The idea of immersion as a physical submergence came first and the idea of something being absorbed in a situation came about later. The idea behind immersion is that of complete coverage, whether that be by water, as in Baptism,

People also ask Google "What does it mean if something is traumatic?"

> Trauma is when we experience very stressful, frightening or distressing events that are difficult to cope with or out of our control. It could be one incident, or an ongoing event that happens over a long period of time. Most of us will experience an event in our lives that could be considered traumatic.

Much was revealed at Bikini's Sports Bar Austin

The methodology of PsyOps is a two fold discreditation. The first part is the Roadblock, otfen even assasination or other violence or a smear campaign. The second part is having interfered with the progress someone has had (but then been stopped at) is to coopt the work of the roadblocked person and attempt to credit themselves (the road blockers) rather than the actual source.

How this came about is several males talking at the sports bar. They were say nex to me any quality domima would not take a slave who was so dumb as to misbehave hoping for punishment. That person was a loser to leave alone. The smart slave respects women and should be a better slave. This matched the Modus Operandi on me. The Legend being created varies (by those identifying themselves as Mr Rumph or others and as CIA, Secret Service, and FBI on tape) is that I was a loser who had never seen a domina, was liar, and hoped to be punished for bad misconduct making child porn. Other versions at various times were described and were variations, but the core idea was to be a better choice than the person co-opted. The smear could be Nazi, terrorist, violent person, etc.,

It was at a place now gone Austin Java House I found this was Pizzagate as Jen Moore described it, that I was allegedly hoping child exploitation would be delivered to me, but each time I got caught at the Rendezvous point. there is extensive recorded and other evidence of events at the Rendezvous and gullible loser confronted there being a police operation.

Modus operandi (MO) employed by criminals. in criminal profiling, provides clues to the offender's psychology. examining the actions used by the individuals to execute the crime, prevent its detection and facilitate escape. Use of mental health patient to stage things not actually happening or to be used as assailants that the police deny involvement with, or as dopples who will be gullible losers who will confess to crimes when confronted by genius level police officers. The entire operation is sham and flimflam and the police badges often are too though real police are setting up the scripted events in the Shills based covert-opp Long Con.

The stage events are talked up as true by "office mobs" who fill public locations and these mobs assault the person whose reputation was damaged by the false-flags.

Hostile Environments Meant to Be Contentious Are Used in Promoting Abusive Smears and it IS organized crime and money laundering as well

Hostile work environment sexual harassment is the most common type of sexual harassment in the workplace. Hostile work environment sexual harassment does not have to involve a physical touching, but involves harassing conduct based on sex that makes the victim’s work atmosphere abusive. Hostile work environment sexual harassment can happen in a number of different types of situations at work.

“Hostile work environment” sexual harassment occurs when an employee is subject to unwelcome advances, sexual innuendos, or offensive gender-related language that is sufficiently severe or pervasive from the perspective of a reasonable person of the same gender as the offended employee.

I Edward Donegan assert teams of people covertly and openly have stated a goal of preventing me from renting apartments (that an eviction record, smear campaign, or both can accomplish) is achieved by using my political liability, my own animus towards various left wing social justice groups. I support individual liberty and the individual and feel my own an others rights have been violated because we are in the class of white males. Playing to that including planting nooses in that area and other activities lead to a blacklisting of me where I need housing and office space and contacts in press and media and socially. The race-baiting attacks on me are distraction issues that play to my political liabilities and many will ride on that anti-Ed Donegan bandwagon blocking the door to places I need but I have always or at least for 10 or more years have known the victims of hostile environments and covert sabotage do not have politics as a common denominator. Like most progressives (and I am one) I have usually had to hold my nose at the many who I was defending under the law and as matters of civil rights and individual rights and the individual no different in rights than any others.

The FBI and I think the CIA too have bullied many with smear campaigns so abusive as to generate conflicts with law enforcement, law enforcement who mission of stopping crime I support and whose mission of being a part of crime I oppose.

These were the feelings of Jen Moore too and her allegations as to why she and I were pro-police but targeted by abusive stalkers.

The term Conspiracy Theorist is becoming passe an the Truth is coming out including from me and my life story.

I assert she was murdered showing how the criminals operate and how they related to and were motivated by the Donegan family history. The Smear Campaign that planted evidence fuels is really to force me from apartments, credibility, contacts, etc., as I try to live a life dispite being blacklisted by the Protection Racket.

Showing a dopple unlike me is the source of allegation linked to me is central to this.

The money laundering racketeering long con makes it LOOK like I am bringing uderage chidlren into focus with what peeople say is my peeping tom gear but the dopple of me is the real peeper and the dopple is confronted at a raundevouz the police have created not me, but the allegations are paid out as though real and treated as real though fabricated.

Here is one of three and possibly of four raundevoul locations a large fire broket out at as always a place the could be mistaken for mine but was not mine.

As Tom Dunham stated (and he too has been Cause Stalked) stalkers reference events that simply did not occur. References to certain times or people are almost always buried into some king of gossip but the references occur in bizarre and untruthful distortions about anything that may have occurred. Most who have been stalked like myself have found the propaganda that is the smear is designed on how it will influence others, and once that is decided, they fabricate something tied to something about you here or there like you were just on a bus and asserting you were linked to passengers on the bus which isn't true.

It is like reporting something in your vicinity that is clearly wrong or out of place and then being abusively questioned as to what your role in the events were.

Corpus Christi firefighters battled an apartment fire overnight that left one apartment heavily damaged. July 9, 2017 KIITV

The flames sparked up at the Casa Linda Apartments on South Staples and across from Ray High School just after midnight. The flames sparked up at the Casa Linda Apartments on South Staples, across from Ray High School just after midnight. 3 News viewers including Miguel Garcia sent us pictures from the scene. He told us he was on his way home when he first noticed the smoke and saw residents evacuating. He then said he noticed the flames coming from the apartment. Several firefighters were able to stop the blaze from spreading to other apartment buildings. https://www.kiiitv.com/article/news/local/corpus-christi-firefighters-respond-to-overnight-apartment-fire/503-455311884

The apartment in fact several locations were used as a Tree House filming girls form the high school or Taco Bell nearby the school age children eat at during lunch.

I noticed after the fire (easily since the burned out building was completely open for weeks) that a bleech soaked TSHIRT was hidden in a refrigerator, rumors were a child was murdered, and later in June 2024 I noticed patersn in the ash of toys, dolls, and perhaps human remains that were in the tub as I zoomed in on the fire damage. Dangerous criminals with drugs, guns, etc., were a norm in those apartments.I show in this chapter pictures of various people including Bonny Courtney, the Mexican Mafia, Veronica Hoffman, and mention others I have no picture of like Jimmy. Jimmy was a homeless person who was asked to by his own dialouge try to implicate me in having dolls with fake eyes that could spy on little girls. He was found dead violently beaten to death. Bobby was too. He was asked as part of this parade to fake being me and go to strip clubs to be taught about female parts him being so retarded. He was shown women's breast and told to toucht them and feel them. Veronica was a Dominarix in Los Angeles I met in San Francisco. She like others were asked to fake that I was not into her, I was a peeping tom with no sophistication just hoping to get a look any way I could. Some of the FBI and others were running that parade of people in a illegal program. In Virginia this was happening at Clarendon Courts near my mother's home and I asserted the a rendezvous in a similar building of the same complex was used for rendezvous of the parade. A fire happened again at a rendezvous location again in Corpus Christi Texas. I assert Bobby was murdered and he told me the Mexican Mafia were the ones giving him money and I saw such an act from a Hispanic in a an drive up and give him money. Could have been anyone for any reason. He said the police of Corpus Christi were in on it. Jimmy was beaten so violently he could only crawl a short ways. He was found and and died after a few days in Intensive Care. Jimmy died before he was found. Veronica Hoffman seems to have been stalked by terrors stalkers and died in custdody possibly of suicide. I have been told by open gang membes the FBI CIA and DHS are running the program. Jen Moore agreed and she was found dead. There had been earlier fires in San Francisco SRO where again this was going on and I say it is a pattern.

> "Russian Dolls are everywh Tere - Jen Moore

Russian Dolls Are Everywhere is a one thread but a very active and large-scale in the the total fabric. It has to do with some Mafia activity of COINTELPRO. I had long believed and showed videos that Hardstyle, Frenchcore, Goth, and Industrial stretched most of the Western world. This included Latin America and USA, England and all of Europe including Russia. I had sent my father Russian dancing through the ages fro Bolschevek into Technoviking versions and Russian girls in a driveway just like or massacuhsetees home and driveway with a dog much like ours dancing to some modern music together. I had always felr Russia was a new Russian the Western Hemisphere should be together again inclding against Middle East Terrorism. Russia and its Othrodox side and position in that area has always said it was our ally in these matters.

My ooppostion argued against Russia and for Africa. That was one minor component to me but a huge thread for COINTELPRO and the Russia Investigation. Declaring Russia sympathies was terrorist is what DHS does now.

An eually oversized threat of the fabric was religion. There is (or was) a cheesy web site somewhere "Men are slaves". In Texas it was said ""Women are porn." People blamed me the Atheist for being porn obsessed. At First United Methodist Corpus Christi I thought open places that were well run and I could get something out of were useful and I attended their bible study as always mostly as an observer but I have prayed with Muslims in Muslim pray in Sherrifs Detention Arlington Viriginia with their permission. I have no False Idols doctrine and just as a combination of respect and diverse experiences I would try it out. I asked the Methodists about where their confession boths were. On a seperate note their bible study group changed its name and name tags to "Overcomers" and it seemed they were insinuating it was I who had the porn problem. I do use porn in the absence of other stimilu but so do most.

It was the money laundering allegations I believe she was killed over when the evidence was available to her.

What they had hoped in a thread of this fabric related to the first is that IF they acted like me and I seemed a porn addict then they could integrate with adult entertainers and guard that scene against both me and my politics. These groups used money laundering (pretending to me be to get coaching from women after caught for misconduct) and that operation that was smearing me in the gym and other locations as a porn fiend and being used to blacklist me is what stealing my items and planting them elsewhere OR planting items on me or people near me is what this evidence shows happening. My motorcycle jacket was stolen so someone in it could look like me in a act of peeping that was tied to my living in Capitola California.

The Jen Moore allegation was the fake allegations backed up on the legal process by obstruction of justice (forgeries and identity theft and staged (including staged fights breaking out in which the State-controlled party denies being the aggressor) rather than truthful causes of adverse State legal actions were a covert operation called Pizzagate. Cooperating assets of counter-intel while is disguise and civilians assert I have asked them to help me find child porn on disk OR a vulnerable teen who might not know that I have a camera.

Street theater actors sometimes found dead later pretend to be me or pretend to assist me in bying packets of powder appearing amphetamines or steroids, and assist me in planting cameras in dolls that go on children's bedroom shelves.

Much of the staged events draw on roommates or landlords helping police against a "nazi peice fo shit like me" (quoting William Ruiz) who then use items stolen from me and moved elswhere or others items like children's panties placed near me to link me to child porn. I had been trying to catch these smear tacticts in action and recorded William Ruiz who was engation in this and had abotu 20 peieces of supporting evidence he inside our home was framing me and stealing from me as part of this.

Learn what was said at the time Jen Moore died and what was not then known about and the Donegan's story she was going to tell all

Be careful. She was facing death threats if she were to talk, she was going to talk and said so, and said so in advance as she tried to find safety in the three days before her death for myself and her and others, that safety never found and some details that were known were obfuscate and wrong on purpose or wrong through over-simplification.

David Atlee Phillips retrieved from Wikipedia and copied or modified to here

CIA career

Phillips joined the CIA as a part-time agent in 1950 in Chile, where he owned and edited The South Pacific Mail, an English-language newspaper that circulated throughout South America and several islands in the Pacific. He became a full-time operative in 1954, and operated a major psychological warfare campaign in Guatemala during the US coup and its aftermath. He rose through the ranks to intelligence officer, chief of station and eventually chief of Western hemisphere operations, serving primarily in Latin America, including Cuba, Mexico, and the Dominican Republic.[better source needed] Phillips retired from the agency in 1975 and founded the Association of Former Intelligence Officers in the same year.

Conspiracy allegations and lawsuit

In their 1980 book Death in Washington, authors Donald

Freed and Fred Landis charged that the CIA was involved in the 1973 Chilean coup d'état and the 1976 assassination of Orlando Letelier. The authors specifically named Phillips as being involved in a cover-up of the assassination and reiterated Fonzi's claim that Phillips served as Oswald's case officer while using the alias "Maurice Bishop". In 1982, Freed, Landis, and their publisher were named in a $230 million libel suit by Phillips and the AFIO. A settlement was reached in 1986 with Phillips receiving a retraction and an unspecified amount of money. Phillips donated these proceeds to AFIO for the purpose of creating a legal defense fund for American intelligence officers who felt they were the victims of libel.[citation needed]

After the death of former CIA agent and Watergate figure E. Howard Hunt in 2007, Saint John Hunt and David Hunt revealed that their father had recorded several claims about himself and others being involved in a conspiracy to assassinate John F. Kennedy. In the April 5, 2007 issue of Rolling Stone, Saint John Hunt detailed a number of individuals implicated by his father including Phillips, as well as Lyndon B. Johnson, Cord Meyer, David Sánchez Morales, Frank Sturgis, William Harvey and an assassin he termed "French gunman grassy knoll" who many presume was Lucien Sarti. The two sons alleged that their father cut the information from his memoirs, "American Spy: My Secret History in the CIA, Watergate and Beyond", to avoid possible perjury charges. Hunt's widow and other children told the Los Angeles Times that the two sons took advantage of Hunt's loss of lucidity by coaching and exploiting him for financial gain. The newspaper said it examined the materials offered by the sons to support the story and found them to be "inconclusive."

Phillip A. Twombly https://spartacus-educational.com/JFKtwombly.htm

Phillip A. Twombly was Executive Vice President of Coca Cola for their Caribbean operations. Later he owned a bank in Fullerton, California. According to Chauncey Holt this bank was used to distribute CIA funds for covert operations.

In 1963 Holt received instructions from Twombly to provide false ID documents for Lee Harvey Oswald. These documents (in the names of Lee Harvey Oswald and Alek Hiddell) were delivered by a man called George Reynolds. In August, 1963, Twombly asked Holt to travel to New Orleans, where he met Oswald and Carlos Bringuier.

Chauncey Holt later claimed he was went to Dallas in November, 1963, with Charlie Nicoletti, James Canty and Leo Moceri. In Dallas he passed on forged documents and guns (with silencers) to Charles Harrelson and Charles Rogers (Richard Montoya). Holt was told that "an incident was going to be created which could be laid at the door of pro-Castro Cubans. The word attempted assassination was never used. We assumed that from all this light loaded ammunition that maybe somebody was going to try to take a shot from somewhere, probably the Dal-Tex building, or one of the buildings around there. But at no time was it ever intimidated to us that an assassination or attempted assassination on Kennedy." -https://spartacus-educational.com/JFKtwombly.htm

The Gulf Of Mexico AND Carribean nations were overthrow goals of the CIA operating in conjunction with British intelligence. Great Britain was perhaps mortally wounded as its colonies once held by force then tradition were for a time occupied and then free from both sought again independence though from a better start.

The program of robber barrons created by the CIA to operate illegal operations enabled by covert Pentagon and CIA support allowed delicate non-aligned governments to become embroiled in losing fights against CIA backed opposition in their countries and thus Banna Republics were created.

August 7, 2018 five days before the death of Jen Moore I detailed to Capitol police an impersonator of me not me is confessing to things I did not do but it appears I did and I am/ was in flight from an illegal protection racket and provided details of it. Jen Moore also had the details and was whistle-blowing the criminal enterprise and why illegal attacks upon me and her were occurring via thugs the police were in control of and directing.

I also sent Fetlife my allegations and authorized any and all parties to cooperate with police in any way requested of theme and authorized any true and firsthand knowledge of me of any type be made available to the police. I have long asserted this is an illegal program and legitimate scene members should purge it from scene activities.

I posted my data to Youtube and many other locations as I left Texas and alerted others criminal racketeers were using me as a mark to their criminal racketeering operations.

CroppedTubPhto.jpg

In a zoom in of a fire location is a seeming image of a body of a person hands accross the chest with dolls including a monkey doll near the head and the body of the person cut in half. That location had a Neighborhood Watch sign as I saw depicted have been told about and heard about Mark Gonzales or others are using adult entertainer to extract confessions and restiution for allegation about me from an impersonator of me. It uses indentity theft and money laundering.

Jen Moore asserted and partially showed to the camera that she had the CIA files on the true story of Glorian Donegan and knew the history of the research being conducted into certain genetic personality features of hidden identity persons going all the way back to the days following WWI and MK-Ultra origins.

There are two pieces symmetric to each other that Jen Moore was reporting. The Motive and the Means. The Motive of the Mafia now working at the behest of the Elites is to destroy the life and home and health and live-work homes and credibility of Ed Donegan because his family is connected to (as are today's government figures) the Kennedy Assassination. To silence and discredit Ed Donegan leads into Means part and that is the police setup and are operating an illegal protection racket that uses fake allegation against Ed Donegan to create a social theory he is to be black-listed, his computers should be destroyed, he should be kept out of housing, and even attacked by thugs because IF the smears are true that the protection racket asserts are true than that should be done to him.

The FBI and CIA and others turning to low income crime groups to operate the Protection Racket offers a great deal of flexibility in the program because that group of patrollers against alleged offenses is open to a wide range of criminlality as prison-snitch operatives.

The Assassination of Jen Moore By Espionage Controlled Mafia

I Edward Paul Donegan and many others can report and document that thugs are part of policing now when policing wants to deny their activities. Thug violence occurs with the police standing next to and controlling the thugs. It is as if a nuclear materials worker is using a set of gloves to handle something (nuclear materials) they themselves are fearful of touching with their own hands. The thugs brag they have DHS, FBI, etc., being them (even as snipers) as they commit illegal acts. Even if the police are present or are called immediately after the thug attack the police will not interrupt or prosecute the attack.

These elites who order police assaults on the public are concerned the truth of the Kennedy assassination will ever be told; something Jen Moore and I are trying to do including corrupt acts and racketeering tied to the family history and family of Glorian Donegan and attempts to report that history.

A person is a look-alike of me in public locations and apartments and gyms. This person I call Mr Rumph because he calls himself that at times is a peeping tom and will be trained to throw money at adult female buttocks, those who are hired to show them off to him.

The FBI with those cooperating with the FBI tie this person to me. It is not me and it IS a protection racket whose labor utilization includes hiring adult models to remediate the threat to the neighborhood of a pedophile who needs to grow up one day because he is retarded now.

One file represents activity GonzalesSeesDominaArrivesinTreeHouseRedacted.jpg is childish of childish people. "Most recently of all, a "Birthday Party event" was held from which we have received more than two dozen reports of (from Ed Donegan and Jen Moore (including) individual acts of perversion SO profound and disgusting that decorum prohibits showing the image depicting the parties to early on here." You are only being advised and warned of what you will see later, a dopple of Ed Donegan caught in a act he was never involved and caught while being question by a Dominatrix with Mark Gonzales and other police secretly watching.

The Protection Racket run by the mafia of imigrant and social justie neigborhoods smear Ed Donegan by having doubles of him confess to toxic activities that he himself is not linked to but it is made to look that way.

August 12, 2018 and the facts of criminality are about to surface

Photo Jen Moore was found dead on August 12 2018 reporting on illegal black opps money laundering and black marketing human trafficking blackmailing operations

It is a counter-help long con in which the counter-help at various locations and agencies are asked to act out and suggestively become part of what is a fiction and fiction that smears and defrauds Ed Donegan and I can also say Jen Moore is correct about this too.

I only hope it matches the That Thing You Do! story line of both a RISE and fall of the racketeers. In 1964, Guy Patterson, an aspiring jazz drummer, is working in his family's appliance store in Erie, Pennsylvania, when he is asked by friends Jimmy and Lenny to perform a song Jimmy wrote at a talent show with their band to cover for their regular drummer Chad, who broke his arm. Prior to the talent show, they rehearse the song, a slow-tempo ballad called "That Thing You Do!", in Jimmy's garage. Needing a name for the band, Jimmy's girlfriend Faye proposes "The Oneders", a play on the Beatles.

The counter-help will narrate that they are fighting nazis in the operation of the racket but nothing could be a more complete reversal of the truth. These GangStalk racketeers are the continuation of genoracketeering and criminality by government officials that are known to be and described to be repugnant markets.

I Edward Paul Donegan assert part of that blackmailing operation has survivded and continues only because of 5 previous homicides that have silenced any knowlege of the program that has been long-running. The program is also tied to arson.

After an explanation of how the public appearances that are an abusive and harassing smear campaigning are being staged with the help of Racketeering Influenced Agents in Agency with Organized Crime participating in illegal Street Theater I will show this system is both State sanctioned and criminal money laundering, racketeering, and even assassinations threats of assassinations.

Diegesis (/ˌdaɪəˈdʒiːsɪs/; from Ancient Greek διήγησις (diḗgēsis) 'narration, narrative', from διηγεῖσθαι (diēgeîsthai) 'to narrate') is a style of fiction storytelling which presents an interior view of (a created fictional ongoing real time imagery) a world in which the narrator presents the actions (and sometimes thoughts) of the characters to the readers or audience. Diegesis can be experienced by both the characters within a piece and the audience.

Origin

Diegesis (Greek διήγησις "narration") and mimesis (Greek μίμησις "imitation") have been contrasted since Aristotle. For Aristotle, mimesis shows rather than tells, by means of action that is enacted. Diegesis is the telling of a story by a narrator. The narrator may speak as a particular character, or may be the invisible narrator, or even the all-knowing narrator who speaks from "outside" in the form of commenting on the action or the characters.

On August 12, 2018 Jen Moore was found dead. Two of her videos had these names. "Good Versus Evil We Must Fight On" and "Conspiracy Theorist Versus Truth Teller." She also posted on GangSTalking and proving their illegal activities that they deny. The police operates these gangs of thugs and can and will "silence" any new information on the Kennedy assassination she was trying to release. After her death and facing the same violent attacks and threats from police I continue to tell the story she and I assert. She was reporting on (whistle-blowing) an impersonation scheme tied to the Donegan family (my family, my mother and me) and an illegal program money laundering protection racket that used an impersonator to confess to fake allegations which funded an illegal slush fund run under color of law. There is a chapter on her death and reports about from OANN News and other sources but a great deal of confusion remains and denials from the FBI (unexpectedly) continue as well.

It is the story of the Special Relationship with Great Britain the began around a plan using bastard children of Windsor family around the world under cover identities the hope being the influence of Great Britain could be expanded again while keep certain of the genetic defects of the bastard children studied and hidden.

An example of this is when I lived in 1001 N. Water Street Corpus Christi my apartment overlooked a dumpster and parking lot. Across the hall the the apartments and the [other] 180 degrees different view overlook the pool. Both coroner apartments overlook the Sea Wall and park. The person who lived across the hall, that was moved their with the door open because of no air conditioning was easily visible using high power tripod mounted large zoom lense 35mm to photograph the Omni Hotel pool, the apartment pool, and was involved in making it look like I did. Thus I was given a bad reputation and blacklisting because it seemed I was the photographer. High class adult entertainers were sent to him as he used my identity to take sex ed lessons to learn about more developed buttocks not children's buttocks. Children's buttocks by the pool or bay.

In this photo: Mistress Isis is among those who will blockade Mr. Rumph from seeing children's buttocks by displaying her own.

This is the view across the street of Salvation Army on Josephine and Lipan as the cross streets. This is in Corpus Christ Texas adjoining Skid Row Leopard Street as well. Salvation Arny 521 Josephine St, Corpus Christi, TX 78401.

While it may seem (and is true) these are violent and dangerous criminals in many cases in skid row this is the area that carried the political power and elections in the county. Mark Gonzales was the elected official who took over the County DA but unelected city workers and residents often overlapped with this population group of sympathized with it as well.

Jen Moore was whistle-blowing an illegal operation under Color of Law (to appearances it is law enforcement conduct upholding the law) when in fact it was illegal conduct that utilized State resources and those who were influenced to participate in State activities be they individuals or organizations) who used covert racketeering and money laundering whose functions included a mafia presence inter-woven into the puplic fabric who utilized under-cover agents for misconduct often re-inforcing each and and working in tandem to carry out dirty tricks. These CIA, FBI, NSA, Secret Service, and other groups and those acting in concert with them create sham investigations staging an investigory interest in a person when there is no investigatory interest and that target (and perhaps a target of a Grand Jury) for the purpose of both defrauding the target and also perhaps and more likely discrediting the target which is in the interests of the elites who fear that their target has information the elites fear, and that information goes back to Allen Dulles, John Folster Dulles, the McMartin School, Franklin Nebraska, and genetics and eugenics studies and hidden identities of bastard children of elites that have existed for generations in some family lines.

Two particular figures (in addition to my deceased brother Tom Donegan) have been part of highly placed and closely placed elder-abuse and fraud against myself Edward Paul Donegan over a long period of time costing me a decade of recently occurring and still present homelessness and series of losing legal efforts against the harassment that was conducted from a position of power.

The two figures are Tia Marselli from the ARC of Northern Virginia and Mark Gonzales who was the District Attorney for Nueces County Texas.

[I]n 2016, Nueces also elected Gonzalez, a 38-year-old Democrat and self-described “Mexican biker lawyer covered in tattoos.” Before being elected, Gonzalez had never prosecuted a single case: For his entire 10-year career, Gonzales had specialized in getting accused criminals off the hook-working most closely with low-income, mostly minority offenders, fighting low-level charges for marijuana and other substances. His pride in his work is expressed in a spectacular tattoo that he had inked across his chest a few years ago, reading, in colorful gothic type, “Not Guilty.”

Gonzalez’s résumé puts him in a small but striking new wave of U.S. prosecutors, politically liberal and in some cases even civil-rights advocates, who’ve been elected to roll back the excesses of the past 20 years’ worth of tough-on-crime laws. But what might make him the single unlikeliest DA in the United States isn’t his legal philosophy or his politics, but what’s stamped on the immense red belt buckle he’s wearing: the insignia of the Calaveras, the motorcycle club Gonzalez belongs to, which describes itself as a charity group but which the state of Texas officially considers a gang. With that comes a unique situation faced by no other elected official nationwide: Gonzalez, the county’s district attorney and regarded as a potential rising star in Texas politics, is considered by local police to be a registered gang member.

He connected with the Calaveras 10 years ago after they asked him to be their defense attorney for occasional DUI- or marijuana-related cases, soon joining them as a full-on member. It's a partnership that has brought him a lot of joy and a lot of business, but it also ensures he can never quite relax about how the public sees him. At least once last year he had to explain to a police officer who pulled him over for speeding that he would come up in his system as a known gang member-and, full disclosure, that he was also the county's district attorney.

The smear campaign and Protection Racket defending against and compensating injuries that do not exist are what these two seemed involved in (shaking down the trust fund as abusers of immigrants and biker gang members who want protection racket money to patrol with nice new cards and bikes) thus creating was the Legend of the Retarded Mr. Rumph. He loves em' is rumphs that he can view but gets caught because he is so retarded. The gullible person impersonating me in that fictitious character leaves of trail of clues and forgeries that I Ed Donegan (whose identity he has stolen) is a harm to others and needs to and is willing to pay the fees out for damaging others but after that will have sex ed workers who are high priced models meet his needs in a better way. The Mr. Rumph scheme allows for a paper trail left near locations I was at or live in such that outrage forms I even lived there or would ever live there again. The FBI and others use smear campaigns acted out by paid actors in a system called Gang Stalks the gang being undercover operatives participating in FBI or CIA operations while undercover. Much has been written about under-cover FBI and CIA activities that make up COINTELPRO operations here in the USA and elsewhere.

How this ties together is how my reputation is damaged and impeached by the smear campaign. This is in addtion to break-ins to my apartment and theft of my computers, plants of evidence, and other forms of "black bag jobs" that make up Gaslighting.

My claim and Jen Moore's claim is that the teen was working with dirty tricksters who wanted to mock my bing there as a sex offender being there. Jen Moore died with the evidence in hand of how this related ot Stay and Play. Stay and Play is important because this is where my impostor shows his desire to throw sperm bank money (the money shot) at buttocks. Again, it is not that I have not noticed buttocks including on long haired male bikers who turned around and had a beard, ect., but I never found out where that characteristic of the impostor of me calling himself Mr. Rumph at times or Finnadict at times (a fin domme addict) ever came from. It does not fit me.

This account that I am being impersonated during a law enforcement confrontation is well supported by the evidence. Yet law enforcement is not standing down from the activities. MK-ULTRA and Midnight Climax and now Pizzagate have often been interwined with largely prurient under-cover activities.

CORPUS CHRISTI - Nueces County District Attorney Mark Gonzalez has resigned, announcing his intention to run for US Senate.

In December, Gonzalez was set to go to trial in a case seeking his removal from office.

In a letter of resignation to Governor Greg Abbott, Gonzalez said the trial will not happen, because "I refuse to play this rigged Republican game, particularly considering Republican's hypocrisy, as their presumptive presidential nominee is under indictment in four jurisdictions across this beautiful country and no less revered."

Double Cut-Outs are used for dirty tricks then themselves subjected to them before they talk

Before leaving Casa Linda on South Staples Street Corpus Christ city and Nueces County I had gathered evidence on the fire, the impersonations ring, money laundering, and government involvement and I asserted the first use of then the discrediting, bullying, and terrorizing of Veronica Hoffman were part of a long running operation that did follow me to William Ruiz home in Capitola then to Stay and Play in the Monterey Bay area of mid California. Harvey Dent was the name used by a person accusing Hoffman of being a bipolar person and a person not to be believed and I think that was his play-acting name.

Harvey Dent.docx is in the directory of the documents I gave to Capitiloa police and otehrs in the area. Here are some screenshots of that document.

She had posted in public that working in a correctional facility she really made those who did not respect women as law enforcement does should really have to pay out when caught in her trap. One such person looked like me but she never spoke to me again after original freindly conversations.

Harvey Dent: "Bipolar is no shit." Most of the Harvey Dents I have encountered on the streets during covert operations which have (involuntary to me) surrounded me have been foreign nationals, frequently either skid row felons or apparently illegal immigrants, and in some cases, foreign /diplomatic license plated cars.

These international genes rights RICO operators (US CIA/DOD backed) have a litany of felonies including rape, assault, murder, and arson. But because the scheme involves either dupe or paid-off U.S. law enforcement posing as me to feed my property rights into the international RICO scheme, through teenage girls and white dominatrixes, this scheme has steadfast U.S. police report, the police unwilling to eve take a police report on it. These suspicious characters did not want themselves or the cars photographed.

He said he was hoping to fly back to Los Angeles the following day, to meet Veronica's family — some in nearby Santa Barbara and others coming in from Texas and Georgia — to organize a memorial service for this coming Saturday (August 8).

She had already attempted suicide once, he revealed, but had been saved by a friend who was staying at her dungeon at the time. "I took her to Cedars Sinai, where they adjusted her medication, and it looked like she was getting better," he said. Unfortunately, it seems that the improvement was temporary.

On Sunday, with Joseph in Toronto, she took advantage of a brief absence of the same friend who'd saved her before and was still watching her, to make a second suicide attempt. Sadly this time she was successful.

She would have been 30 in November. She was one of my dearest friends; life without will never be the same, and I know many others will feel just the same.
Accordingly, we are now planning a Pelishtosa celebration of Veronica's brief but stellar contribution to our world — a reminder of her capacity for brightening up so many lives despite the demons she battled.

We therefore invite photographers and models who shot with her and fetish folk with entertaining anecdotes about her (and boy there must be plenty of those!) to participate in our tribute.

Please send your Veronica stories and pictures to tony@thefetishistas.com and we'll publish as many of them as we can. Thank you, TONY MITCHELL

From haute cuisine restaurant to the sniper rifle shooting class, car racing, board or video game, event or gala - I will follow you everywhere, I'm into it if you will show me through your eyes.
And if you want, I will show you things that I find fascinating.

My aim is to provide a safe space where you can feel relaxed and able to express an honest, carefree version of yourself. The moments I find most enchanting are when we can play off of each other, unravel what the other person likes and simply, have fun! I suspect the transformation of something good into something which lingers is a delicate reaction, the catalyst being perceptivity.

Pizzagate

One assertion she made is Mike Pence was protecting an illegal program called Pizzagate and I assert this is the program I am asserting does exist and is illegal in fact even extortion and may be called EXTORION17 inside the military NDAA system. Sugestive, lewd, harassing, licentious, is pantamined in my vicinity in places I go like shopping and gym and home and work (writing) locations. Sexually suggestive and lewd behavior is clearly directed at me; in in furtherance of extortion, suggestive conduct is used to suggest (at times back by death threats or violent attacks) that my purpoerted desires that were puportedly wanted by me now will cost me and pay-outs will be required for my having been in the location of lewed conduct.

There are many crimes inter-woven in the extortion crime ring. Money laundering occurs as well as identity theft when my identity is used rather than my own to confess to alledged harmfull conduct I seem to be linkded to and a racketeering layer of conservancy I don't need or want is what is used to complete fencing, the racketeering financial operations conducted behind my back by others.

Stay and Play

In interstate commerce much of this that had origins in Virginia and Texas led to events in California. I had rented a room at Stay and play and was document in Califorinia the identyt theft and money launndering. The techniques used by Jim Vockelca I documented were of the sam modus operadia that had been used by Wiliam Ruiz and earier events in Virigina. To create confusion him Vockelckw was make a statement that would have originated with me. William Ruiz stated he had just come from mountain camping and had not used an apartment shower in two weeks. That fit me who bathed in lakes or park showers or a few days apart or the gyms I belonged to.

Jim Vockelca made statements that he did not enlist in the US Miltary but did simeilar work later in life. This fit me when I turned down Cryptanalist but later configured cryptographic equipment in high tech as as specialty.

As I gathered the evidence of a slush fund fraud that got me blacklisted from housing on the assertion I had been a peepr of females Jen Moore had it as well and she knew that the reason I was being evicted from places I wanted to write in (I had said to Jim Vocekla I wanted to live with him for one years as a writer and Four Season like year writing project) Jen Moore was found dead. She was asserting my family is tied to the Kennedy assassination and we were both in danger of our lives from a criminal network of fixers ranging from Rod Rosenstein, his wife or sister Noounand or someone like that, and others high up in government. She mentioned John Podesta specifically, and at times Clinton, but I think in part to confuse people. She said to Farmer Jones that until she was ready to reveal who the actual names were she would keep it hard to trace by at times using him rather than her or her rather than him, etc, as she told a story relating the Kennedy line that went all the way back to WWI.

Extortion

"The Texas crime of extortion underwent a consolidation with other offenses that involve the taking of property or money from another person. The consolidated theft statute is Section 31.03 of the Texas Penal Code in which extortion became the crime of theft. Theft occurs when a person unlawfully appropriates the property of another with the intention of depriving the owner of possession. heft by extortion is usually associated with threats to cause harm or damage to another person or the person's property.

Use of a double of me to pay false claims (and there have been artists conceptions of federal grand jury procedures and evidence collection) extorts my presence in libraries, parks, housing and gym. As the reputation develops only by paying off claims against me is my presence tolerated the desire for my removal under any excuse also grows in a lynch mob that forms suggesting I am paying for the right to be the location and exploit others.

Smear Campaign and Abuse Campaign

THe allegation I am child molester and buy my way out of allegations is abusive and anger to me because it is and unjust allegation and angering to the public because the public believes the smear against me and i incited by it. A Girl Interupted is a girl who had strong Borderline emotions causing her life activities to be interrupted when she has an outburst and goes to a mental hospital. I assert that also is part of contentious and abusive treatement of me, the hope I will seem an agressor against a provocatuer who asserts no wrongs were done to me.

Types of Evidence of Racketeering Collected

Jen Moore and I (and Ted Gunderson and Geral Sosbee and others) assert GangStalkers are covert operators who for officials and by officials and by assets recruited by officials use illegal dirty tricks to conduct illegal dirty deeds. This include break-ins and physical attacks, arsons, poisonings, and other crimes including those listed in the Organized Crime statutes thought the Gang Stalkers deny illegal conduct and act under excuses and possible at times may not know their actions are illegal since these assets were approached by law enforcement under the guise a real investigation was underway.

Linking me to what I am not linked to is the basic foundation of the fraud. People like Soveriegn RICO who was a black male in a Washington D.C. cold weather shelter will steal an item from me OR plant an item on me. Here my phone was stolen from him and he surfred teen girls while masturbating inoto a sink and took pictures of himself with my phone and changed my facebook to his name. He said he was going to make girls preggo from this.

This had been going on in Corpus CHristi and in that location gay women, often couples in their twenties began shouting at me YOU HAVE TO GIVE ME BABY and things like that and the indigent women began hiking their pants up at me as others did too. Children wore loose fitting clothes emphasising both their underdeveloped legs and hips and the their vulnerabilty to a peeper.

All of the charades and parades were based on mocking me as a toxic person. I had heard and had evidence on those who were using my identity to concede to (upon confrontation) beig a Tree House peeper, one who used living near others to peep out at those who were in the open public areas, thus that person was a threat to those in public.

As others have noted this did not fit my emphasis on consensuality nor my tast in women, in fact it was an attempt to compete with me, out of a desire that my lifestyle easthitic of right wing survivalilst cynicism and non-christian paganism sometimes tied to that would better belong to far left wingers.

If it were just political there may be some basis for the FBI concept of preemption but there was not just harrassment by staging derogatory KOMPROMAT abotu me, it (the actions of others) demanded a sluch fund be paid into and that even was repugnant market demands for fertiality aids. Not always stated directly but at times so people wanted sperm bank rights. All of this was based upon fabricated ands staged and fraudulent claims I had harmed and was toxix to peole in violation of the law. In violation of the law is a key phrase. It is not that the law coudl not catch me photographing children. I was not. I was photobombed by children as I was taking pictures of other things. Those who were criminils and hard to catch were those placing the children around me because they assert it was a public place and they had the right to plane their children anywhere.

So if you seem me at the Hollywood sign looking at it from the Grifith Observatory there could be two explanations. I was their to photograph the teen in-between me and the sign OR the sign and the teen got in the way of that.

The Corrupt Leadership Stole Power And Abuse Power Against Truthers

The theory of this press kit for NWC, the books series of mine the press kit introduces, and most books on Cold War history is that especially following WWI and the War Industries Board the military-backed profiteer companies controlled by either Prescott Bush, the DuPont family, Trusdale family, Mueller family (precious metals mining and CIA) and J.P Morgan, the Rockefeller's, and many more used corporate profiteering in conjunction with illegal dirty tricks "policy coordinated" with the Vatican, Knights of Malta, Council on Foreign Relations, old money European families and aristorcracies, the globally control most nations in covert planning including controlling the USA via the Kennedy assassinations. THis and and some of the Donegan ties to the Kennedy assassination and thus the subverion of myself and subversion of my books is discussed some here.

The USA bans Prizes of War, profits from being pirates who raid other countries.

War Is a Racket is a speech and a 1935 short book by Smedley D. Butler, a retired United States Marine Corps major general and two-time Medal of Honor recipient. Based on his career military experience, Butler discusses how business interests commercially benefit from warfare. It contains this summary:

https://www.ratical.org/ratville/CAH/warisaracket.html

https://www.ratical.org/ratville/CAH/warisaracket.html

Chapter 1: War Is A Racket

Chapter 2: Who Makes The Profits?

Chapter 3: Who Pays The Bills?

Chapter 4: How To Smash This Racket!

Chapter 5: To Hell With War!

From Micheal Swanson and The War State under Eisenhower and Nixon or Anton Chaitkin, Webster Tarpley writing The George Bush Unauthorized Biograpy or Mark Gorton, the story is the same. The War Industries Board and military industrial complex including Mike Devine funded and created companies like Zapata Patroleum that were assets that made a profit if they also worked for the CIA just as individuals like Chauncey Holt and Charles Harrelson and others did.

On the press kit DVD the archive is is War Is A Racket by Major General Smedley Butler 1935.html

> War is a racket. It always has been. It is possibly the oldest, easily the most profitable, surely the most vicious. It is the only one international in scope. It is the only one in which the profits are reckoned in dollars and the losses in lives. A racket is best described, I believe, as something that is not what it seems to the majority of the people. Only a small "inside" group knows what it is about. It is conducted for the benefit of the very few, at the expense of the very many. Out of war a few people make huge fortunes.

Butler confesses that during his decades of service in the United States Marine Corps:

> I helped make Mexico, especially Tampico, safe for American oil interests in 1914. I helped make Haiti and Cuba a decent place for the National City Bank boys to collect revenues in. I helped in the raping of half a dozen Central American republics for the benefits of Wall Street. The record of racketeering is long. I helped purify Nicaragua for the international banking house of Brown Brothers in 1909 1912 (where have I heard that name before?). I brought light to the Dominican > Republic for American sugar interests in 1916. In China I helped see to it that Standard Oil went its way unmolested.

In the booklet's penultimate chapter, Butler recommends three steps to disrupt the war racket:

1. Making war unprofitable. Butler suggests that the means for war should be "conscripted" before those who would fight the war:

> It can be smashed effectively only by taking the profit out of war. The only way to smash this racket is to conscript capital and industry and labour before the nation's manhood can be conscripted. […] Let the officers and the directors and the high-powered executives of our armament factories and our steel companies and our munitions makers and our ship-builders and our airplane builders and the manufacturers of all other things that provide profit in war time as well as the bankers and the speculators, be conscripted - to get $30 a month, the same wage as the lads in the trenches get.

2. Acts of war to be decided by those who fight it. He also suggests a limited referendum to determine if the war is to be fought. Eligible to vote would be those who risk death on the front lines.

3. Limitation of militaries to self-defense. For the United States, Butler recommends that the Navy be limited, by law, to operating within 200 miles of the coastline, and the Army restricted to the territorial limits of the country, ensuring that war, if fought, can never be one of aggression.

As stated earlier: The Ultimate OBJECTIVE Of HARASSMENT (Disagreeable and insufferable environments):To Induce and sustain [in the Target] long-term extremes of stress, and to force the individual to commit an act of violence, whether suicide or murder, that can be plausibly denied (hence the ultimate "success" of the operation). Julianne McKinney Former Army Intelligence Officer

An environment full of distraction rather than attraction, an unusable and unpleasant an disagreeable place if not remediated my lead to a fight. That fight that can lead to police shooting or arresting a Target who is described as a trouble maker for conflicts with police and conflicts with others. Police sent hooligans allows the police to step into a fight covertly started when they had no reason for an arrest or shoot a whistle-blower before the fight. Some of the harassment is so disgusting deep trauma surely results even if a Target turns the other cheek ignoring the religious, sexual, or inter-personal assaults and threats.

https://gangstalkingexposed.substack.com/p/harassment-techniques-include

The abuse (also called Rough Noise) is

- Sound campaigns which is a community harassment technique where abnormal levels of sound are directed at the victim and their home. This includes cars deliberately breaking or accelerating when they pass, people talking excessively loudly at all hours of the night, amplification of sound using directional speakers so that external sounds that previously couldn't be heard now can, garbage trucks and other heavy vehicles, and countless other deliberate tactics

- Sleep deprivation - this is perhaps one of the most insidious tactics used where victims are woken multiple times a night and can be kept awake for days at a time. The effects are dramatic and completely debilitating affecting concentration, mood, irritability, and appearance, and significantly impacting all areas of their life - job performance, and relationships, and significantly aid in discrediting the victim as they appear unorganized, disheveled, and sleeping patterns alter so they may sleep during the day (where noise campaigns are more effective) and be awake at night (where they can be painted as the one making noise and being a disruptive member of the community).

- Black bag jobs is a term when a harasser breaks into a targets property and places something or deliberately moves something. The purpose is to cause self doubt, and fear that their property is being accessed which harassers try to then sell as paranoia.

- Propaganda and disinformation is also the other key element to suppress knowledge of this practice as its effectiveness initially requires the victim to be unaware of the existence of gangstalking, gaslighting, or electronic technologies such as directional speakers so huge amounts of time are devoted online to creating disinformation sites which attempt to discredit victims by pushing the mental health agenda. They achieve this by posing as victims and actively trying to sound crazy so that all victims are treated as such. Also by creating websites claiming to help victims and being a resource for victims to come together and then harassing them to the extent that they lose hope and no longer reach out for help causing further isolation.

What the Abuse of a Target accomplishes as to the Target

"The Paranoia Trap" is the Modus Operandi of Zetetsung used on political (or high ranking politician's) enemies. "Your are paroniod the under-age girl was placed near you, or that you have received death threats from homeless person who is really an asset of the CIA or FBI, or that obscene comments or other comments by others were covertely directed at you."

Abuse from a position of power not only gives rise to but even invites a retaliation against the abused person's outcry of being abused.

Covert Abuse and Covert Interference is the Opening Action

An opening action against someone to start a fight (especially doing so covertly) creates a fight. The opening to get a fight with a person may be they are a hot-head or have a liability others want to retaliate against or an asset they wish to defraud the person of as an outcome of the fight or actions the predator initiate to bring about that outcome.

"Roadblocking" is part of fight initiation as road-blockers are unwanted or unavoidable obstacles that require a counter-maneuver to avoid collision with. The counter measure may be conflict with the road blocker or changing to a new pathway or place of operating from.

Act is both a noun and a verb. You can perform an act of kindness or violence. Or, you can act in a play. People who take on roles and perform them are actors. https://www.vocabulary.com/dictionary/act Opening acts cause fights. Covert opening acts start fights others will be blamed for.

Opening. Meanings 13 and 14. noun a possible alternative synonyms:possibility, possible action noun opportunity especially for employment or promotion “there is an opening in the sales department” https://www.vocabulary.com/dictionary/opening

Abusive, toxic, fraudulent, and contentious conduct towards a person harassing a person is denied but real. The abuser is in position of power working for or duped by or in league with those in even greater power and will provoke (in expert ways) a person to complain about harassing, threatening, abusive, and toxic conduct. The complaint the abusive victim makes will be treated as aggression, paranoia, confusion, intolerance, or sign of mental illness. Hospitalizations, fights, expulsions, and other repercussions will follow along with the abuser's denials that their own conduct was harassing and abusive. In a similar way of the harassment continues injury to the harassed includes emotional trauma, distraction, and fear of the harasser's clearly illegal activities or the results of the harasser's criminal conduct such as the abuser staging KOMPROMAT like following others around when others adopt positions in front of the person who is being framed by the scene created.

It is a time consuming fight to fight Organized Stalks and the damage the abusers do to the victim,, and that fight is often what the stalk is intended to do, prevent the book writing, political works, or even police reports being filed by the person being harassed by illegal activities. It is an FBI Modus Operandi and a CIA system as well of making abusive and hostile environments where disinformation is staged. In my case and I am sure most cases of Organized Stalks the activities staged as as repugnant to the person framed by the staged appearances as the staged appearances are to the the general public.

The Stalker team will refuse to remediate the conduct trying to force the hand of the harassed person into ineffectively proving ambiguous acts were harassing. The Stalk victim will likely feel violence is the only exit from a situation since those in power can move the stalk from location to location, even from one state in the USA to a different state in the USA.

My experiences mirror Ted Gunderson and Geral Sosbee and others as well. Ted Gunderson reported biological and radiation poisoning of himself and those he knew, the murder of Gene 'Chip" Tatum found dead in Pananama and was JFK researcher tied to Santa Monica and McMartin Pre-school, Marilyn Monroe, Robert F. Kennnedy and John F. Kennedy homocides as I am as well. Like Geral Sosbee my hone computer eqquipment even the safety of my home was destroyed by thugs working for police inserted as Shills, criminals who work for covert criminal operations conducted by theives or police in the role of theieves.

What the Abuse of a Target accomplishes as to the Abuser

Pscyhoticlly fixed delusion revenge stalkers who once felt meaningless in theire lives are now big deals on an important mission to stop a terrorist, pedophile, nazi, Russian agent, etc.,

It is like fame just suddenly fell into the arms of the Community Based Agent of a government program that is targeting a whistle-blower, who is writing about a politician, or even who is victim already of one government agency and now being smeared by yet another. And the vainglory of stalking that peson alleged to be the pedophile will be the vainglory of the Nobel Savage who has an arrav of dirty and illegal tricks to covertly play on the target.

retrieved from The Mindset of a Community Based Agent and copied or modified to here

So-called legal working-class citizens are the most gullible and vulnerable to being recruited by organized crime, police agencies, and those so-called national security agencies. There have been studies done where a fake cop shows a badge to a control group of 10 citizens unknown of the experiment. As the citizens entered the grocery store they were stopped and shown a fake badge a told that woman with the baby carriage was a wanted felon and that they need to steal her wallet and bring it to the man “fake cop.” Nine out of ten people did what they were asked ad broke the law. Only one gentleman said I cannot.

I would like to stress that the specific approach can also vary on the reasoning behind the targeting and who is doing it. Some may be experiencing community stalking by a group of justice-seeking psychos looking for vengeance. While another person may be targeted by an ex-parter who paid private eyes to get revenge on them. Another common factor is jealousy and an abusive family that is smearing a great uprising individual.

The most concerning of all is the delusional government fascist supporters who are clueless when it comes to these so-called programs of national security.

They are indoctrinated with the systemic garbage they have been raised on and fed like the cattle they are. As George Carlin Staes “garbage in garbage out." They have no sense of self or individuality and are the most susceptible to gossip, following the flock, and even a fake cop with a badge. A quote from Anthony K. Forwood This makes the most patriotic, law-abiding members of society who trust authority 8 without question the easiest to initiate into these evil activities.

They are so eager to join because they target citizens under the guise of national security or justice seeking finger pointing helping them forget about their personal shadows and pathetic lives. Regardless, of the approach and goals of each individual PSY-OP campaign, their frameworks are somewhat similar in nature. This is to infiltrate the community slowly with false reports, dossiers, video images, and audio clips showing the target at their worst to make others believe this is them on an everyday basis.

The goal overall is to paint a picture of you as a terrible enemy and them as the good guys, which then elicits emotions in the newly approached CBA and gives the reasoning false behind their actions to help. Calling the target a pedophile, a terrorist an abuser, and so on works well as those are the most despicable crimes you can imagine. It must be mentioned that labeling such people as mentioned is a terrorist act on its own and many of the terrorists along with cult-like pedophile rings are very eager to smear you when you uncover their truths. https://gangstalkingexposed.substack.com/p/the-mindset-of-a-community-based

Austin has become a significant tech hub in recent years as companies like Facebook, Indeed, Google, and several others now have a considerable presence in the neighborhood. Large medical corporations also occupy much of the northern side of Downtown while Parsley Energy is set to lease a 300,000 SF, 31-story building in 2020. Over 9 million SF of Class A space represents over half of Downtown Austin's total commercial space. The area also features roughly 5 million sq ft of Class B and over 2 million SF of Class C space.

A few hundred or thousand square feet here or there has some workers, perhaps 100 in a lage builing of a few thousand square feet. A library, gym, restaurant, bus system. All this bustle in a large city and then some Target comes to their attention. Likely a Targets such as Ed Donegan (myself is) is having to fight off dumb and dirty tricks of blatantly illegal acts. But those on the hunt for revenge stalking and smear campaigns are full of delusions of grandeur as they are taken off their real mission and onto fools errands of being party of petty or serious crimes against law abiding citizens. For some it is like a fan in the stadium asked to suit up and come down and replace the injured player. I have stated that those who act as agents to harass citizens are outside of their industrial sector competence if they interfere with that which they are not allowed to harass or interfere with, but these Community Based Assets of espionage programs usually will break any law they are asked to.

Attacks on anyone JFK related include the following: 1) Violent attacks and death threat to the writers or speakers of JFK data or data about the Cabal, 2) Break-ins and theft of or destruction of computers, storage device, even power to the building, and 3) Dirty tricks of smear campaigns to prevent easy access to housing, jobs, social or media contacts, and 4) Dangerous and abusive hostile conditions in libraries or other public places where harrassemt is used a provocation, distraction, and subvervion.

Definition: Looky-loo - a person who goes somewhere or stops to look at something (such as the scene of an accident) : an intrusively curious onlooker. usually plural. … to discourage the thousands of lookie-loos who once jammed the street to get a glimpse of the murder scene.

The appearance has been staged for three or four decades (not a few hours) that I have been a Looky-loo. It seems I am a bottom feeder that wants to exploit the vulnerable rather than associate with peers. Those who would be peers quickly reject a a "person like me" based in information they have been given including phony allegations from the court system of Grand Juries, etc., or for forced confessions made by an identity theft who will pay-out claims rather than dispute them. This enrages the public a peron can buy their way out of misconduct and will simply do it again if allowed into a library or apartment or a home on a suburban block.

I will start the story of how my life (and wishes of and the lives of my parents) have been thrown away by police abuse and this includes those acting in concert with the police as their assets.

What Kind of Body Does It Take to be a Bottom Feeder?

I have shown myself in photos starting at Honor Flight DCA and in other photos morbidly obese after long periods in custody. I remained in that condition after release though both of my parents begged me to go back to the gym and even my doctor said I needed to (Dr. Christina Baselga Arlington Internal Medicine) at which point I had said I reserved the right to grow old and fat just as Capt. Kirk had done and billions before too.

When Diabetes was diagnosed and I saw for myself the real threat I began to excersize. Like at all times in my life I liked muscel and fitness, not heroin addict skin and bones look. At the gym I often did not hide my appreciation for younger healthy gem members at one point in Corpus Christi pauasing from my own work out to move over and see a really good set of squats by a woman in peak shape doing a variant for of squats and clearly watched in a non creepy way. I was facing a sports medicine problem of Syndrome X and posting about diabetes openly.

The Legend was that a healthy Ed Donegan needed to bottom feed at the gym (rather than the fat one who would not go) and that bottom feeding is why I was there (or at an apartment near where the vulnerable play in public locations) was created by not me by a dopple of me confessing to being that bottom feeder. I some times call him Mr Rumph as he uses that name, another name might be Lou of Looky Lou. Looky Lou is so hard to get rid of but it is possible some day an excuse can be made like the gym has no memberships left to sell. It is all full up. Or Lou can't afford gym dues.

Blacklisting is what reputation damage is designed to do. In my case there has been a combination of shill victims who are not victims working with shill convervators who are not consevators by paying out false claims of the shill working in cooperation with them.

In Predatory Stalking The Roadblock is a Splice Inserted into what is now Two Lengths of Road

A succedding person is bloacked and the someone else moves into the path of the blocked or discredited person. The roadblock introduced prevents the succeding person from continuing to succeed.

As I have made capital improvements to my rented homes, spent years listing to music and researching and living throw many parts of its history (1960's music of a New Generation With A New Explanation) and Liberalism NOT being a disease that has been coopted from me calling me a Nazi as others say THEY are the Liberals.

The whole process looks like this.

Story-line without interference

ROADBLOCK (splice into the story)

Story Start - Roadblock - Another continues with what another had started

The Road Block is some form of discrediting and interfering with a person. I can run from name calling to gain a political advantage to defrauding a lease by faking records and using wolves disguised as sheep to instigate fights while denying doing so.

In a wild series of impersonations, identity theft, a money-laundering shake down scheme relying up fabricated allegation and forgeries as confessions trust fund assets are shaken down when adult birthday parties of barely legals get raided by the FBI. Often in fact in probably half the cases I have never been anywhere near the location any of the events are said to have occurred for years or more, though it is perceive by others and in the criminal justice system some grand jury finding is in progress based on the allegations.

Tom Dunham I admired deeply and I considered a good friend of amazing intellect and high tech skill. We were friends but I doubt he had known my birthday. It probably did not cross his mind when he spotted an impersonator goign to a massage parlor that was near my November 18 birthday.

Some 10 screenshot pictures are included here of a loser ofen not from the USA who is mentally challenged and very gullible looking to exploit children through windows in parks, gyms, housing, etc.,

It is not me but leads people to find or fabricate excuses to break my lease agreement, create a hostile environment, etc.,

What are pictured are meth pipes and paraphenlia planted visible outside my Austin motel room door as I have left to excercise in the park or hunt for apartments but the word gets out as people see what is outside my door, a door that is ajar, and looking in items belonging to me showing it is my motel room. IF they really looked they could see the waste basked just inside the door. I took a photo of that too when I cam back. I could not find another motel nor an apartment.

Similarly people matching my description had been seen peeping into the gym pool area. That person was using a motorcycle camera used by surfers, divers, and bikers to record sports activity. Dashboard cams I am knwon to use.

From Devin Keymer: It starts clandestine then covert and it appears that they plan everything that happens to you and stage car accidents, break you're car, get you fired, frame, hospitalized, and incarcerated. They start s and tell on you and use micro aggression and come at you crazy based on reactions. They plot behind you're back and put on a show in front of you and stare, rude, talk fake and hide that it's CIA and FBI behind gangstalking.

Speaking now my (Edward Paul Donegan's) life I view as a marathon of very long term police harassment that over time killed all of my family and has left me homeless and experiences long term death threats at attacks by thugs who point out the police they are working for.

Tara's Story is Ed's Story is Ted's Story

The Numbers are astronomical, the decades and daily attacks of system of petty theives and petty people operationg in effect under color of law as State assets to sabotage and harrass my life

Much of my life if not all of my adult life has been exhausted trying to cope with covert government harassment. The sophisticated methods use fabrications, staged and deceitful optics acted out in public, coordinated lying and conspiracy against rights via dirty tricks.

The smear campaigns that include break-ins to plant evidence rather than retrieve it and shills moved in to adjoining apartments as real neighbors are moved out create a marionette string operated hecklers and provocateurs moving in and outnumbering a victim both numerically and how well placed the under-cover operation is in the support it has.

If the real life Tara Moore is still alive (and she feared for her life) her experiences here recited by her lawyer show the same system of attack she experience that I have experienced. That attack being the kind of false allegations of sexual misconduct made predatorially rather than factually.

An analogy in fiction. Law And Order Special Victims Unit -

Taken Episode aired Dec 15, 2000 Plot Summary: When a young female reports a brutal rape during a hotel's grand opening, the police investigates the details of the attack to pin down their suspect, who has a prior conviction for statutory rape. Director Michael Fields Writers Dick Wolf, Dawn DeNoon, Lisa Marie Petersen, Stars Christopher Meloni, Mariska Hargitay, Richard Belzer

The “special victim” is a former underage girl rapist and himself under age. At his age 17 a con team (grifters) know his background and fake a Deep Pockets civil complaint against the hotel employing him at very low wages, the brand new well financed hotel will have to pay-out because it carelessly hired him. With the detectives on the case they find the female victim was a fake, the team creating the compliant a con artist team. Stabler and his partner plead the grifters to a minor or civil charge and the grifters agree. Then Stabler and his partner arrest the grifters on serious charges right in front of the judge for felony involvement in his wrongful death in custody, attacked as a sex offender after the sex offender allegations made it around as romours during detention. After the KOMPROMAT is placed the lynch mobs are stoked by police.

I Edward Paul Donegan have been black-listed from housing and other resources as police harassment (motivated by undermining me and my book writing) as a smear campaign plants seeming children victims of me and while illegally in my apartment in my absence cutting peep holes in the drapes facing out into the yards or parks, etc.,

Fabricated allegations also drive attacks on me.

In this book I Edward Paul Donegan and Ted Gunderson and Jen Moore have been harassed, poisoned, and threatened over my families history and this includes McMartin School and Franklin Nebraska, the CIA at ATSUGI, the Cold War, and the Kennedy and Donegan family interlinked from Boston to Patrica and Peter Lawford in Los Angeles County.

Ted Gunderson and Jen Moore both asserted illegal stalker teams gave death threats, deadly assaults, and attacks up to and including poisoning in order to silence their stories they assert tie to JFK.

I am being pilloried over sexual interest in minors buttocks and cut-off I street solicitation and exploitation of others I do not have but why?

No Ordinary Stalking

Organized stalking is carried out by an enthusiastic and structured group that has cruel intentions: stalk, harass, injure, financially ruin, and mentally crumple human prey until incapacitation occurs. What sets this crime apart is that innocents are picked off the street. There is no getting away from the stalkers and no getting away from the unusual technology that is used to take over someone's life.

"For the first couple of months," says June, "I thought it was a sick game. Now that I've been tormented for years, well, it's clear that organized stalking is a sophisticated crime that follows a step-by-step process to leave the victim as bare and isolated as the dead tree on the cover. He or she may still be standing, but that's about it.

"I'll sum it up this way. Veiled intimidation ensures that targeted individuals are viewed by the public as free people, which they are not. They are playthings to their controllers. Hostages in plain sight. Victims are quite literally owned yet have limited chance of rescue because their desperate circumstances are misunderstood.

Some die from the violence. Some die from suicide.

> And the rest merely exist.”
> Organized Stalking is worldwide and is called gang stalking in some areas. The electronic harassment that accompanies organized stalking is also known as covert harassment.

The numbers are astronomical in the years harrassment has lasted and the number of stage appearances, break-ins, etc., At least 30k attacks on me since 1992 in public and private and no less than 100 open death threat to me in the last 10 years as I try to write. Most attacks undermining anywhere I write my books or have a home office, eroding use of office. It is the Jean Hill last witness story 1000 times over.

The purpose of destroying lives with cover criminal harassment using techniques all the way up to radiologically and other poisonings is the eliminate any martyrdom of fame; simply humiliate a person in society as pedophile, schizophrenic, any form of loser, homeless person, psych ward escapee, and insure over time the smear is effective enough to ensure person behind a dumpster is run of the mill street person, not someone the most elite in society are terrified of.

Stalkers near a smears target will act towards a person and behing the smear target's back verbally proclaim something negative about a smear target. Definition of Proclaim Vocabulary.com definition 2) v. "affirm or declare as an attribute or quality of." making you seen like a particular kind of person. Explain from Vocabulary.com "To explain something is to define it, show how it works, or just tell what it is. Explaining helps people to understand." To explain it away. Yes, I was there or had contact with that person, but did not know the identity in advance, etc.,

Stalkers take things out of context, fabric things, and alter the course of events such things don't look like they should. Stalkers remoe the normal from around me and link my presence to what is abnormal around me is an example.

I have likened the entire plan to have landlords others drive me out because I am a peeper (when I am not but the Gangsalk manufactures this) and leaving me in skid row homeless shelters under black and white assault and loss of all belongings over and over again to the Law and Order Special Victims Unit episode Taken.

Gaslighting has repeatedly left me homeless unhealthy with little communications or hygeine or privacy and under attack by skid row thugs as a bag man in 100 degree heat. All allegations are in some way false and on fabrications of appearances and not reality.

It is exactly the acts of people like Jim Vocelka who take the deal to evict me, profit from it, or help others too, then leave me in homeless shelters where I am said to be there out of mental incompetence needing Social Services representation.

Jim Volcelka intentionally and knowingly engaged in coached fraudulent acts to make me seem intellectually retarded thus needing conservancy as well as faked allegations the layer of conservancy would then pay out as claims though the claims were staged frauds.

"Gaslighting" is the act of moving things around in home when the person is not there such as the location of furniture, etc.,

Stalking a person is most distressing when the Stalker proves to the Stalked person the Stalker has gained access to details of their life, home, etc.,

Gas lighting got its name when a husband in a movie toyed with the mind of his wife saying the gas was off but then in an out of place way lit a gas lamp that should not have worked.

Coming home as I repeatedly did to find my underwear gone, altered, left outdoors, my drapes cut with peepholes, damaged items not damaged when I left, etc., were a particular subset of Gaslighting, staging fraudulent appearances that will both defame and injure me and my reputation but give others a pretext for retaliation against me for what was staged in the Gaslighting.

That first veiled aggression is creating a phony allegation or the visual support for a phony allegation that then opens the door literarly for a retaliation over the phony allegation.

Tara Moore harassed by the GOP mayor and owner of her building is from Weymouth the Town of Presidents. There are 8.67 miles from Weymouth to Dorchester in northwest direction and 12 miles (19.31 kilometers) by car, following the MA 3 route. Dorchester is where my father Jim Donegan was born and the Kennedy's are from, all part of Cape Cod area South Boston, Columbia Point out into Cape Cod, the Brookline area of town, etc, Abigail Adams was from there, the Kennedys, long history going back to he Boston Tea Party and fighting of the British and Boston Harbor.

As she (Tara Moore) was violently stalked and attacked in here bathroom through the walls and vents by neigbors as she showered, used the toilet, etc., same with me) she wondered how insensitive to the important history this could happen in this area, police misconduct so egregious. I wondered in astonishment in Washington D.C. area Arlington County Bolston Stop WMATA incredibly KOMPROMAT hate crime could be successfully conducted out in the open.

Excuse me it is Quincy as I look at her tweets. Quincy, MA Called the "City of Presidents" and "Birthplace of the American Dream", Quincy is the birthplace of the second and sixth U.S. Presidents, John Adams and his son, John Quincy Adams. Rich in historic treasures, Quincy's impressive past remains vibrant today as the city lays claim to an exciting future.

These Stalks were not in spite of the importance of the area, but because of them and the histories.

In my (Edward Donegans's) last few days of MacLamar property 1001 N. Water St. I spent nights with kitchen knives with me, my mattress pulled to the center of the apartment, the far side of the room from the windows, and furniture arranged to slow intruder entrance into the apartment.

Police assisted break-ins and other threats were a constant as hostile "snicth" neighbors of street gangs were moved next to me and at times physcially assaulted me.

This is also the life of Ted Gunderson whose daughter was shot at through her window after Ted Gunderson had received threats to that affect in advance and later as well. The bullet-hole was photographed and document and Ted was no slouch in being able to collect and research the evidence.

Tar Moore was said to be agoraphobic. She had a fear of being outside and even being in fear of being in her apartment. We shared that in common and talked on Twitter about Stalkers and the Government operating through landlord office fronts.

When some people go to bed they feel safe, alone, or with their partner. I don't think I have sensed tat in 25 years and I am not meant to, the stalkers are out their and on a mission to prove that to me at all times.

Here is what a lawyer responding to her situation had to say, and at least in my case there was a 25 year plus at least history of every place I lived in custody of or out being exactly the same.

Dear Attomey Baldassini

I recently made the acquaintance of Tara Moore, supra, and all I can say is that I was astonished by the story she told me about her landlord/tenant relationship with your client Robert L. Hedlund, of 54 Longwood Road, Weymouth, who is also the current mayor of Weymouth. Mr. Hedlund is the registered owner of a corporation known as HWO, LLC (aka Hediund World Order, LLC), which limited liability corporation owns the subject property.

I am going to cut right to the chase by saying 1): that I find it incredulous that a seasoned attorney like you would participate in what amounts to taking advantage of a disabled woman (diagnosed with Panic Disorder, without Agoraphobia), who is also a recovering addict and who was not advised by or apprised of her rights to counsel in her dealings with you or your cfient, and 2): having seen pictures of the living conditions she has had to endure in her tenancy would be indicative of what a Weymouth slumlord would likely provide to his or her tenants. That the Boston Housing Authority (BHA) participates in the tenant's lease by almost $1 ,200 a month and has done little, if anything, to order your client to correct the glaring deficiencies over a long period of time is astonishing as well probably criminal at least in my mind.

From what I can see your client has also engaged in a pattern of harassment, violating MGL c. 264, S 34A (a) and prowling, the prowling incident admitted on his TV show, "Ask the Mayor" on April 6, 2017. If you would like I will provide you with the time stamp information from the show.

I am enclosing herewith a contact sheet with pictures of the premises Ms. Moore leases from your client. The term utterly disgusting really does not fit its description. That you, client and the BHA could care less is appalling and the eviction notice you sent her, without being represented by counsel, has damaged her chances of finding an apartment or condo for her her daughter.

She has already been denied by Weymouth Place: recommended by your client .

> That Ms. Moore and her daughter would have to live on the street is apparently not your issue.
> Without further ado I am going to print seven copies of the contact sheet: one for you; one for your client; one for the BHA; one for the local Board of Health; one for Judge Coven; one for the Governors Opioid Task Force and one for District Attorney Michael Morrissey to see what they think about the situation and your ruthless representation for an obvious slumlord.

Being framed in the gym was part of it but not the whole story. Being framed in the gym (a very convenient location to frame a person in) was used to black-list me in all places the public goes and raises children in and 2) Was necessary for my survival. The overall harassment campaign has sabotaged my life in all areas, intellectual, physical and diabetes recovery, sexual, political, financial, transportation, and more.

The confusion of this added to the affects. I could imagine framing a pedophile (or teen-phile) as a peeping tom, etc., but anyone who knew much about me at all should have recognized simple flukes here and there that made me look that way had nothing to do with the real me. Very often the same factual errors were being repeated about me, bot subjective, but objective clear misstatements and I corrected them over and over again but they remained in use by Stalkers. This left with why smear me when my real characteristics and lifestyle were different than acted out? That left a political motive, and in researching that and the power-base the harassment was coming from and how many it affected those who were connected to me led my to trace it all they way back to MK-ULTRA and the un-resolved truths of the JFK assassination and my family history. This book series shows the search for answers in this matter and my evolving beliefs about the matter as I research ever more deeply into the history of it.

Dopples. Those whose bad acts get confused with me and become linked to my reputation. Those who used the constant presence of an identity theif in the same area I am in similar contexts (apartments with the same floor plan or similar clothing items) have been used to link me to things I could not place in my life or if I could at all in way that was some distant or unimportant thing to me at most. I have for; for instance, noticed a teen girl here or there or buttocks. But the bizarre compulsions of that are not mine. When I would follow a 35 plus year old old school heavy leather dominatrix she would be approached and change to gym clothes and publicly wonder who might have followed her social media account to find her in swimwear or yoga pants. That is something most leather scene fing disgustinly insophisticate. People are trying to distort what I am starting out for by placing people around me that themselves are out of place thus make me look out of place. Trying to make me a wolf is way to tell sheep to fear me and hate me thus they do. And therefore I can nto get jobs or housing or social standing.

The evidence linking me to this kind of activity or preference was being engineered but why? Those who were doing so not only knew me better than what I was being framed for they knew me better than I knew myself. They knew of McMartin School 1962, the Kennedy assassination, and tied to Indonesia and Barrack Obama Jr. at very minimun and perhaps for more eugenics from far more families than anyone had guessed, children in Franklin Nebraska and elsewehere. Jen Moore was a great information vessel through wich I fixed some mistunderstandings I had about my own youth and when I did so everything else fell into place.

I was targeting older men with my music "revolution" it seems interfering with my gym activities because it used them was part of COINTELPRO and a different cultural choice. I can understand copying my playlists but not sabotaging me in the gym. I have experience illegal discreditation such as evidence plants, break-ins, financial abuse, and other crimes including being physically attacked. People can make their own poltical choices, but evidence plants and other law enforcemetn dirty tricks are illegal.

If this is the only way this will work consider this request of the Houston Russian Consulate my Make A Wish as my life comes to an end, my wish to get the a book The War at Home by Brian Glick and own life story in my self published books to Russian historians that I think four wars balance upon though known until now and even mostly unknown to me until quite recently was a few new facts came in and one in particular fixed an error in my own understanding which allowed the whole story I now tell of the Battle of Britain, the Atomic bombing of Japan, the Cold War, and most likely WWIII edgemanship should that war finally occur or not. It turns out one has flowed from the next.

I have pictures of myself covered in blood from attacks of thugs in Austin Texas. The police will not arrest my attacker and at least 50 large of small fights I have been in were directed by Austin police usually asking thugs to try and destroy my computer I will not let out of my arms use other strong arms systems including attempted murder used against many others including Special Activities Pilot Phillip Marshall, Barry Seal, Gene Chip Tatum, all who flew for the CIA's dirty operations and were talking and leaking. Ted Gunderson and Jen Moore (both of whom the USA treat as paranoids along with Geral Sosbee and others have been shot at as death threats, poisoned, had others in their "information networks" assassinated in a number somewhere around 50 and in my life I count 10 to 15 who were murdered or attempts were made on their lives because of the story I am trying to tell and write about.

IT is not easy to describe CIA and FBI violence. They hide behind "assets" and deny any wrongdoing. The Cuban's might understand this. So would Kim Jong Un who reported correctly that the CIA uses radioltical weapons, poisons, and other techniques to kill. He is correct and I was placed in a mental hospital when I asserted what is now called Havana Syndrome.

If the press would look at the conspiracy theories of those I have named they would see 95 percent of them or so (perhaps one or two not) have an immediate direct connection to me an to the Kennedy assassination as well, an the conspiracy continues to be the CIA cover-up of these events by use of illegal dirty tricks of subversion against story tellers and witnesses that the power structure of the US and Great Britain killed JFK for robber-Barron oil Barron with oil money so the CIA could fund surplus military warfare and surplus bootleggers from prohibition to rule by denied but real use of wetworks, smears, fake news, corporations that frequently are vehicles created for the CIA to operate through or have been willing to be used as a cover-identity the CIA can operate through.

This letter I hope will reach the university system and espionage agencies and press of the Russian Federation is not my story. It only introduces it. But I do make reference here to others who have similar stories including March Rich who wrote a book that I also recommend. His book The Hidden Evil: The Financial Elite's Covert War Against the Civilian Population is an excellent basis for understanding how teams of criminal thugs either police or their assets terrorize, poison, and kill the political needs of high level corrupt politicians them a cadre spread across both parties and who have full backing of the well funded and well controlled war-mongering mainstream media.

"The Police Acted When The People Institionalized Simply Brought It Onto Themselves"

So the word ‘lecherous’, when used typically, means to be obviously of sexual nature. This is almost always used as a negative connotation. An example is “a lecherous gaze”. This word is not common but is used sometimes.

The word ‘lewd’ normally means to be of sexual nature, but not so explicit as to show any nudity. If you spend a lot of time on the internet, within certain communities this word is quite common. Outside of those communities you won’t hear it much.

‘Lascivious’ means essentially the same thing as ‘lecherous’. I have never once heard this word used in literature or spoken English. Most English people will not know what it means.

‘Salacious’ means to evoke very vivid sexual imagery. Similarly to ‘lascivious’, I can’t recall ever hearing it said or written.

Hope some of that helps!

In fact Sentient it does. https://www.reddit.com/r/EnglishLearning/comments/1aikmme/vocabulary_leering_lewd_lecherous_lascivious/?rdt=40572

This kind of unwanted behavior towards me (that abuses my character and me) is not only harassing it is meant as part of both on the one hand creating a salacious (and unwanted) relationship of some type with others by intonation or act, and that being one of my appearing an aggressor or toxic element and a person who wished that conduct to surround me. Words are placed in my mouth as intoned or acted out by others how much I want and would pay for lascivious or lewd conduct from others. I am made to seem a buyer of exploited others. While it does set-up a later Pay Up or Be Arrested shakedown of an impersonator, I assert I am being labeled by the fraud conducted by others that included faked appearances and even faked confessions used in the criminal justice system.

Calling out this abuse of me (and other forms of abuse) results in allegations I am paranoid, drawn to the site of under-age females, etc., or have a guilt-complex or similar allegation against me. Thus Revenge Parades. Like many political use of revenge parades they refer to events that did not happen in contexts that did happen.

Carl Clark, former CIA/MI5 operative, was involved in massively illegal operations such as performing organized stalking on victims and deploying electromagnetic weapons to anonymously inflict pain and terror. He has stated, "the undoubted goal is to have select people end up in psychiatric institutions. If a target seeks help by going to the police or to the doctor, they don't get taken seriously."

Karen Stewart, former NSA analyst, became a victim of organized stalking and electromagnetic weapon attacks after voicing complaints that credit for her work had been stolen. She has exposed that government counter-terrorism agencies are deliberately creating false dossiers on innocent Americans (targeted individuals) to implement criminal programs of organized stalking and electromagnetic torture. She has stated that the perpetrators involved include the FBI and NSA.

This is my revision 1 draft I am starting on Memorial Day weekend in the USA and hope to survive until the weeks head (it is not easy to do so) when I hope to find a reliable and willing connection to the Russian Federation to deliver these materials to. As I have said the North Koreans the Cubans may have some level of understanding of this situation. I do not smoke cigars but I do have to eat out a lot since I am homeless. I always do hope I don't find an unusual taste to my coffee or saland. The situation really is that bad and reported by others as well.

Zersetzung (Stasi Policing) is a psychological warfare tactic developed by the East German Stasi Secret Police (best on the planet) to nuetralize dissidents by disrupting every part of you're life and gaslighting you. Disrupt, Discredit, Destroy (DDD) to isolate, set up, and nuetralize. Cults such as the KKK, Mormons, Scientology, Freemasons, and COINTELPRO copied it. Scientology calls it Fair Game and Freemasons call it Slow Dagger and sometimes target entire bloodlines for Masonic revenge. Freemasons are a police fraternity widespread in the CIA and USFIVEYES tied to the watchlist program. 911 created an unneeded police state and had Stasi director Marcus Wolf and KGB general Yevgeny Primkov create DHS and 78 Fusion Centers as a trojan horse used against the American people to create a total surveillance state. https://www.facebook.com/groups/165918446241837

In Their Violence Against Me They Are Not Playing It Straight

I hold Ayn Rand views. Each person is their own story, own person, and own experiences and the individual regardless of creed, race, religion, etc., holds inalienable rights as a individual, a theory the Framers stole from her.

It has happened to me too. I rejected Classism especially the presumptions (both good and bad) about racial or any other groups of poeple based on them as a class.

I thought the demoinzation of whites as a class of people was unfair to me because I had my own serious problems in life (and also wonderful opportunities in life) that were from my own individual make-up and history. Part of that history in my paternal side was the abuse the Irish Catholics endured in the Republic of Ireland and then in Boston that my father himself (growing up with his father) probably only escaped with the Kennedy family used some pull to get him into a unique opportunity in the US Army Air Corp as war broke out, something many poor families experience as part of military training and the GI Bill.

When taking a fresh look at race and immigration and growing racial strife including home-grown terrorism from disaffected immigrants not realized the streets paved with gold dreams I considered that the IQ of the immigrants from other parts of the world was known by experts to vary from the existing US population base and we were not taking that into account as a matter of expectations nor as a matter of policy. We just continued to blame whites and the USA itself for ongoing civil rights problems.

During the course of research free speech on campuses and race I came across and federal appellate case Doe V. University of Wisconsin. The case that defended frank discussion of race by Doe (not his real name) I felt was needed. And in that case I came across John Milton and Free Speech and the Zenger case and James Ostrowskie and many others about free speech, Thomas V Collins, many more some of which I had long studied and some that were new to me.

Freedom to Reason was Freedom To Choose is what John Milton argued in the Age of Reason as a Natural Law Philosopher 1644. Areopagitca1644 remains my GAB AI password a free speech haevan.

Milton looked back to Classical Antiquity of Greek Pagans to refute the Puritans of England. He felt neither the King nor the Church had the right to take a way self-reasoning population' right to self-govern. Hold the same views including against Puritans I argued Freedom to Choose is Freedom To Cruise and for gay rights.

When God gave him reason, he gave him freedom to choose for reason is but choosing.? " Many there be that complain of divine Providence for suffering Adam to transgress; foolish tongues! When God gave him reason, he gave him freedom to choose, for reason is but choosing; he had been else a mere artificial Adam, such an Adam as he is in the motions."

Bloomingdale, Kent Farnsworth, Theresa Flynn, Richard D. Leonard, Michael J. Mathias, Marcia Meyer, Ron Novy, Robin Pharo, Carrie Worthen and John Doe, Plaintiffs, v. BOARD OF REGENTS OF the UNIVERSITY OF WISCONSIN SYSTEM, Defendant.

The UWM Post is a student newspaper independently run by the students of UW-Milwaukee, bringing original news, arts and culture, and sports reporting to the UWM campus and greater Milwaukee area.

The facts of the case correspond to Boarat Goes To College.

C. ENFORCEMENT OF THE UW RULE To date, at least nine students have been sanctioned under the UW Rule:

(1) The University of Wisconsin Parkside found that a student used inappropriate language when he called another student "Shakazulu." See Kassel Aff., Ex. 19. The university found that the student entered the other student's bedroom area as an uninvited guest and proceeded to use inappropriate language and that later there was a confrontation between the student and residents of the apartment. See id. The student was placed on probation and required to consult with an alcohol abuse counselor and to "plan a project in conjunction with the Center for Education and Cultural Advancement to help sensitize [himself] to the issues of diversity." See id.

(2) The University of Wisconsin Eau Claire found that plaintiff John Doe violated the UW Rule by yelling epithets loudly at a woman for approximately ten minutes, calling her a "fucking bitch" and "fucking cunt." See id., Ex. 20. Plaintiff John Doe was responding to statements the woman made in a university newspaper about the athletic department. Id. The university placed the student on probation for a semester and required him to perform twenty hours of community service at a shelter for abused women. See id.

(3) The University of Wisconsin Oshkosh disciplined a student for angrily telling an Asian-American student: "It's people like you that's the reason this country is screwed up" and "you don't belong here." See id., Ex. 21. The student also stated that "Whites are always getting screwed by minorities and some day the Whites will take over." Id. The University placed the student on probation for seven months and required him to participate in alcohol abuse assessment and treatment. See id.

(4) The University of Wisconsin Stevens Point found that a student harassed a Turkish-American student by impersonating an immigration official and demanding to see immigration documents. See id. Ex. 22. The student signed a "No Contest Agreement" admitting violations of the rule as well as violations of UWS 17.06(4) (conduct obstructing a university official) and his university housing contract. See id. The university placed the student on probation for eight months. See id.

(1) WHETHER THE SPEECH REGULATED BY THE UW RULE FALLS WITHIN THE FIGHTING WORDS DOCTRINE.

(a) The Fighting Words Doctrine The Supreme Court in Chaplinsky set out the fighting words doctrine. The Chaplinsky Court stated:

There are certain well-defined and narrowly limited classes of speech, the prevention and punishment of which has never been thought to raise any Constitutional problem. These include the lewd and obscene, the profane, the libelous, and the insulting or "fighting" words those which by their very utterance inflict injury or tend to incite an immediate breach of the peace. Chaplinsky, 315 U.S. at 571-72, 62 S. Ct. at 769 (emphasis added and footnotes omitted).

Thus, the Chaplinsky Court set out a two-part definition for fighting words: (1) words which by their very utterance inflict injury and (2) words which by their very utterance tend to incite an immediate breach of the peace. The two parts of the fighting words definition correspond to different concerns regarding reactions to offensive expressions. See Rutzick, "Offensive Language and the Evolution of First Amendment Protection," 9 Harv.C.R.C.L.L.Rev. 1, 6 (1974). The first half relates to the prevention of psychological injury, primarily in the form of emotional upset and injury to the "sensibilities"[3] of addressees. The second half addresses the *1170 prevention of physical retaliation likely to cause a breach of the peace.

The Doe case had to do with race related ideaas as well such as the Bell Curve as campus education policies, and the diffiulties all crafters of articles of law or policy have in abstractly defining what has not occurred yet in a the total sea of possibilities. It was in this context the parties turned to the history of free speech and authors and figures in history such as John Milton.

It was in this field I wished to write an research myself drawing upon the still unsettled issues of race and immigration that are similar to the industrial policy questions about union organizers in Thomas v. Collins and the contemporary issues of that day. I supported Liberalism, individual rights rather than classist discrimination in any direction, gay rights, and the humanities in history as part of social thought and expression of ideas.

My Liberalism was so successful many wished to descredit me and by from a far left point of view the source of what my works in this field were. This has been true in Austin Public LIbrary as well as other places.

Labeling me a Nazi allowed for other to coopt my vies as the adopted them and this has been true in the gyms and lirbaries fo Texas.

Rod Rosenstein, Machen jr. and Mueller III probably as well as some Secret Service and DHS hae had it in for me as my knowledge of the Cold War, law, and civil rights has been so advanced.

Though I have felt angry and had violent emotions regarding aggression against me Free Speech remains my primary weapon. Assaults on me are disguised but real. I can not prove Stalks (except by logging them and held in a mental hospital I can not distribute those logs) but as I log the assaults I can define the acts of the aggressors for others to take action against. I continue to do that. Racially mediated character assassination is occurring as others do things like "sell child porn" to me in public and even say how much I have to buy it for. I assert this is sub-textual character assassination. It is covert harassment hoping to pick a racially charged fight with me.

Glorian was alive with the Sound of Music, Jim and her enthusiastic at any cost to prepare me for succeeding in life

At the time of her (Glorian Donegan) death in 2011 massive illegal operations including assainations were begun. This included Jude Roll and an asset seizure ruling, the downing of EXTORTION17, the the Navy Yard shooting and the death of Micheal Hastings. The CIA cover-ups use illegal operations inside the USA including Pizzagate the sale of child porn I am not buying but is part of the cia black operations. It is a medical billing fraud for DNA in that I am portrayed as a loser that is harming children. Once a person like Ed Donegan who is a loser is confronted at a party a billing is expected from my behavioral health care trust.

I wish it were even that simple. It is not. Those defaming me with staged appearances are destroying the Donegan family so the elites who killed JFK can cover it up.

The Donegan's and the Kennedy family (especially from Joesph Kennedy Sr.s wife who grew up poor in Boston) had anti-british and anti-colonial sentiments. Making matters worse Boston was founded by the British and later inhabited by poor immigrants from the Republic of Ireland potatoto famine. While the USA did fight for and win independence it was a non-factor in the wealthy upper-class of Boston who kept close business, legal, and political ties with British imperialism.

Jen Moore and I focus extensively on the concept of "Money Laundering" in both the moral sense and in the legal sense as the racketeering laws also do. Because the justice delivered is based of false foundations (wrongfully predicated) the process and activities are made to looks sound and moral and correct use of the justice system. I looks like "clean activity" of housecleaning the unclean acts.

In fact may be composed of unwitting or calculated injustices done to a victim by a persecutor hoping for gain. The confusion of liabilities and assets is what the system depends on. Confusing guilt and innocence, just and unjust, or people or financial accounts that the entire fabric is composed of (double entry accounting) is how it all looks correct even though it is wrong. Simple mistakes are found out often even in the most basic of justice proceedings. But staged frauds can even undermine the most complex of them as well as the basic ones.

In this picture King George V DOES marry Mary of Teck who was from Central Europe. George and Mary of Teck have "issue" of Edward of Windsor and Albert of York. Edward of Wales King Edward VIII as too close to the Nazis (Maria and Franz Kutchera) and abdicates in 1936. Albert of York becomes King George VI. Probably in 1926 it was Albert of York who impregnated Maria Kutcshera curious how his children would turn out. Mary of Romania took the pregnant Maria Kutschera to give birth in the USA. Joseph Kennedy Sr. and FDR and the Vatican and OSS CIA were all a part of it. Tied to the Navy of WWI and getting Nazi defectors into the USA before WWII grew larger.

The way it works is each in line for the throne is Prince or Princess. The first born is the Lord Governor of Wales where the Windsor area is and the main palace is. Next younger is Lord Governor of York. Edward was Lord Governor of Wales, Albert of York. When Albert of York took over for abdicating Edward of Wales (King Edward VIII) Albert chose the name King George VI as the foller to his father King George V who had married Mary of Teck.

Maria Augusta von Trapp DHS (née Kutschera; 26 January 1905 – 28 March 1987), often styled as "Baroness", was the stepmother and matriarch of the Trapp Family Singers. She wrote The Story of the Trapp Family Singers, which was published in 1949 and was the inspiration for the 1956 West German film The Trapp Family, which in turn inspired the 1959 Broadway musical The Sound of Music and its 1965 film version.

Biography

Early life

Maria was purportedly born on 26 January 1905 to Karl and Augusta (née Rainer) Kuczera. She claimed to have been delivered on a train on the night of the 25th, during her mother's return from her homeland of Tyrol to their family residence in Vienna, Austria. She was baptized into the Catholic Church on the 29th within the Alservorstadt parish and maternity hospital.

Her father was a hotel commissionaire, born in Vienna, the son of Josef Kučera from a Moravian village, Vídeň. Karl was first married in Graz to Klara Rainer in 1887. The couple had a son Karl in 1888 before Klara's death a few months later. Maria's father remained a widower until he remarried to Klara's younger sister, Augusta, in 1903. Augusta died of pulmonary tuberculosis when Maria was nearly 10 months old. Maria’s grief-stricken father left her with his cousin (and foster mother) in Kagran, who also cared for Maria's half-brother Karl after his mother Klara had died. Maria's father then traveled the world, although Maria would visit him upon occasion at his apartment in Vienna. He changed the spelling of their surname to Kutschera in 1914, dying at home later that year. Her foster mother's son-in-law, Uncle Franz, then became her guardian.

Uncle Franz maltreated Maria and punished her for things she did not do; he was later found to be mentally ill. This changed Maria from a shy child into the teenage "class cut-up", figuring she may as well have fun if she was going to get in trouble either way. Despite this change, Maria continued to get good grades.

After graduating from high school at 15, Maria ran away to stay with a friend, with the intent to become a tutor for children staying at nearby hotels. Because she looked so young, no one took her seriously. Finally, a hotel manager asked her to be umpire for a tennis tournament. Although she did not know what an umpire was and had never played tennis, she took the job.

From this job, she saved enough money to enter the State Teachers College for Progressive Education in Vienna, where she also received a scholarship. She graduated from there at age 18 in 1923.

In 1924, she entered Nonnberg Abbey, a Benedictine monastery in Salzburg, as a postulant, intending to become a nun.

Marriage

While still teaching at the Abbey in 1926, Maria was asked to teach Maria Franziska von Trapp, one of seven children born to widowed naval commander Georg von Trapp. His first wife, the Anglo-Austrian heiress Agathe Whitehead, had earlier died in 1922 from scarlet fever. Eventually, Maria began to look after the other children: Rupert, Agathe, Werner, Hedwig, Johanna, and Martina.

Captain von Trapp saw how much she cared about his children and asked her to marry him, although he was 25 years her senior. Frightened, she fled back to Nonnberg Abbey to seek guidance from the mother abbess, Virgilia Lütz, who advised her it was God's will that she should marry him. She then returned to the family and accepted his proposal. She wrote in her autobiography that she was very angry on her wedding day, both at God and at her new husband, because she really wanted to be a nun. "I really and truly was not in love. I liked him but didn't love him. However, I loved the children, so in a way I really married the children. I learned to love him more than I have ever loved before or after." They married at Nonnberg Abbey on 26 November 1927 and had three children together: Rosmarie (1929–2022), Eleonore ("Lorli") (1931–2021) and Johannes (born 1939).

She also had Borderline Personality Disorder and the FOXP2 symptoms. Dry throat leading to chocking and vomiting that I had too and had an upper GI. I finally found drinking water works and the swallowing mechanism did not hold food and distend in herniating way.

As a child Dot Dew and her and the Gandy's tried to figure out why I was so volatile as a child. They thought it was a milk allergy. All through and up to 1979 or so they were pursuing endocrinologist and metabolic or hormone problems, and this she thought intertwined with alcoholism and sugar.

All sure made it worse, too much sugar and booze, and I was both a happy drunk and an angry drunk just like uncle Albert in the musical Mary Poppins.

The short story Jen Moore tells in full detail is that the Western side of religions are using stolen genome from the Donegans for insertion into the Ukraine and other locations sleepers are being groomed for as a long running deep state is creating church backed MKULTRA. This is the battle of WWII and Monarchists and Anti-Monarchists as part of that. Consider his background nd hers, tied to the American Revolution and forced into poverty, and beliefs similar to the origins of Mel Gibson.

The Patriot is a 2000 American epic historical war film written by Robert Rodat, directed by Roland Emmerich and starring Mel Gibson, Chris Cooper, Heath Ledger and Jason Isaacs. The story takes place mainly in rural Berkeley County in South Carolina and depicts Benjamin Martin (Gibson), an American colonist opposed to going to war with Great Britain who, along with his adult son, (Ledger) gets swept into the Revolutionary War when his home life is disrupted and one of his sons is murdered by a cruel British officer (Isaacs). Rodat has said Martin is a composite character based on four historical men: Andrew Pickens, Francis Marion, Daniel Morgan and Thomas Sumter.

Incorporated as Sumterville in 1845, the city's name was shortened to Sumter in 1855.[citation needed] It has grown and prospered from its early beginnings as a plantation settlement. The city and county of Sumter bear the name of General Thomas Sumter, the "Fighting Gamecock" of the American Revolutionary War.

Mel Gibson was born in Peekskill, New York of Irish descent, the sixth of 11 children, and the second son of Hutton Gibson, a writer, and Irish-born Anne Patricia (née Reilly, died 1990).[10][11] Gibson's paternal grandmother was opera contralto Eva Mylott (1875-1920), who was born in Australia, to Irish parents,[12] while his paternal grandfather, John Hutton Gibson, was a millionaire tobacco businessman from the American South.[13][14] One of Gibson's younger brothers, Donal, is also an actor. Gibson stated his first name is derived from St Mel's Cathedral, the fifth-century Irish saint, and founder of Gibson's mother's local native diocese, Ardagh.[15] His second name, Colmcille,[16] is also shared by an Irish saint, and is the name of the Aughnacliffe parish in County Longford where Gibson's mother was born and raised. Because of his mother, Gibson retains dual Irish and American citizenship.[18] Gibson is also an Australian permanent resident.

Gibson's father was awarded US$145,000 in a work-related-injury lawsuit against the New York Central Railroad on February 14, 1968, and soon afterwards relocated his family to West Pymble, Sydney, Australia.[21] Mel was 12 years old at the time. The move to his grandmother's native Australia was for economic reasons, and his father's expectation that the Australian Defence Forces would reject his eldest son for the draft during the Vietnam War.

During his high school years, Gibson was educated by members of the Congregation of Christian Brothers at St Leo's Catholic College in Wahroonga, New South Wales.

Sumter is 22 miles from Sumter to Bishopcille South Carolina, Bishopville where my mother was moved to after Festus Gainey died when my mother was 9.

Though not born a Roman Catholic she joined with Jim in resentment against being left in poverty and the struggles of the Donegan family.

Most of the Pro British movement in the eminated from Jewish refugees of NAZI Germany and sometimes is a perceive locus of the Deep State Shadow Government, and suspicion of Israel ran in my family and many anti-Deep State belief holders.

I tend to sympathize with Jews and their rights and really place the focus on the British, and many Roman Catholics fit the Mel Gisbon profile, anti Jewish Publishing empire power base while also anti-colonalism while Engalnds attempts to regain Ireland, India, Russia, and other nations.

Gainey

My brother Tom Donegan is dead as Jim and GLorian are who were Tom and my parents. The life my mother and father tried to build for his family is lost especially as I am here in Texas and COINTELPRO mafia violence stages that I am a sex offender, I an not, and on the public attack on me claims it becomes family members of me.

It is more an attack on Atheism and an attack on military veterans as religious attack than anything else, but that I am subjected to these attacks is a crime against James and Glorian as well as an attack on me.

COINTELPRO against me by Texas (Texas runs the DMV of Texas, Texas courts, Texas DOC, and other operations in Texas) is happening in a climate of the state led by Abbot and Paxton and ministries to needy prisoners, needy illegal immigrants, and others who preachers have no budge to help, but on shakedown claims against me, false they hav a budget for those often illegals.

The hatred I have for the shakedown artists attack on me I compare with Gavrić of the movie Peacemaker. His piano he USED to play with his daughter and wife is my household of 52 Lambeth Sq, and psychos MAFIA of Texas COINTELPRO attacking me and that history I compare my rage at that to Garvvic blaming the boundaries violators who brought war into his peaceful home.

This is not quite correct as Tom Donegan and I could have told you. Glorian lived on a farm with Festus Gainey until Festus died when she was about 9 years old. She and Harold Gainer were then adopted as orphans by the Dew and family, Grace, Ellen as older sisters but adoptive ones older though acting as parents. It was in this South Carolina family I am told my father met Aunt Dot (my aunt) and Glorian Gainey to become Glorian Donegan.

It appears Harold who also had FOXP2 and Glorian were raised under fake Gaieny names. When Festus Gainey died in 1936 the Von Trapp singers took over that farm and GLorian and Harold were moved to the Dew family near DuPont Camden plant that Harold would work for.

His tag line was “Say hello to the Hero” and I think as a child he was asked if he would hold his family secret and later work for DuPont and that he did except talking to me somewhat generally about a king grandfather, my father also said it, and I had thought County Donegal Ireland.

James Paul Donegan, 86, of Lincoln, Calif., originally from Dorchester, Mass., died Oct. 13, from injuries following an accident. Jim leaves his wife, Sue Ann of Lincoln; two sons from his first marriage, Thomas of Provincetown, Mass., and Edward of Arlington, Va. He also leaves a sister, Mary “Betty” Connolly of Atlantic Beach, Fla.; and a brother, Robert of Marshfield, Mass. He served in the Army Air Corps in Europe during World War II and later flew many combat missions as an Air Force fighter pilot over North Korea. Following the war, Jim joined TWA and spent the next 35 years as a pilot captain. His career took him over many of their domestic and international routes. Upon retirement, he met and married his adored wife Sue Ann and together they settled into an idyllic outdoor lifestyle, dividing their time between their Walnut Creek, Calif., condo, and hiking and skiing at their home in the High Sierra town of Truckee. A celebration of Jim’s life is planned later this month in Lincoln for his friends and family.

I accused my brother Tom Donegan of destroying evidence. I was held without trial in conspiracy against rights, evidence tampering, evidence destruction, and I was also dirty bombed in custody, again, him destroying evidence and there was yet another attempt on my life while I was with my mother. His role or complicity in this is important.

In this book I assert several characters with tell-tale dates of events were involved in the Nuclear Materials murder of Karen Silkwood, looking like a Department of Energy controlled plant accident but Karen Silkwood was on the list of people expressing FOXP2, probably won her co-workers vote by understanding them. When they killed her they kept some left-over for other hits. Tom Donegan was complicit on the hit on me. Could that have led to the Silkwood murder being solved? Silkwood Born: February 19, 1946, Longview, TX Died: November 13, 1974, Crescent, OK

Jim Donegan fought in WWII and took risks at an Atomic Veteran so I could succeed in life, living in a good neighborhood, sending me to good schools, traveling for education rather than recreation (I never went water skiing in my life, resort travel was not our travel,) and he encouraged me to have good relationships, etc., were his goals.

A non believer based on his intellect, study of European history, philosophy. and and his personal experiences with his Catholic church he became atheist early my youth.

He sacrificed everything he had to raise and educate me in a United States which is now trying to create a defamatory "Legend" about me, humiliating me and humiliating my education level so once trapped in horrific sewers my life will be drowned and destroyed and his and my mothers DNA will go into the very thing our lives lived to oppose and felt were destructive to world history and destructive to wisdom.

After his and my mother's death his genome and my mothers became the subject of racial violence.

Dehumanizing racial motivated sexual violent attacks on me called a GangStalk created a Legend, a Legend based on the action of others towards and the actions of those as me which created an infantalized person under Salvation Army care.

On the night of 2/9/2022 a black female in tight yoga pants was walking on Ocean Drive. I had no idea who she was or had anything to do with her nor did I photograph her. As she was walking a Fedx or UPS truck of some type noisily passed as if to use an implication of delivery though not making a statement. In the upstairs apartment a person confessing could be heard, this person saying others had the right to complain about him, he had asked a Victoria Secret model to help him get comfortable with the idea of bullwhippings because he did not understand himself or how to talk about things, and he acknowledged wrongdoing towards minors and agreed he would hvae to make inter racial babies in compensation.

I call myself the doughnut whole not touching or touched by the events which surround me though from an outside perspective I appear to be in them and accusations or claims can be made to other people, people on a different side of the doughnut than me, about me.

That group the Salvation Army buying adult entertainers and use of genome of the Donegan family for themselves, envious of what it was, and gaining access by utilizing the sexual battery of me to suggest I owe others for having been battered.

While the assailants say that I owe “non white children” for a Dopple of mine’s acts I do not believe violent criminal racial syndicate should produce any rape babies, that human trafficking syndicates are violently when they take prisoners and hold them at threat of death or arrest, and the evil of violent crime Eugenics crimes is at least an evil as the murder of good people, aka the Jews Nazis killed. Just as much an evil of a dead Jew is a living rape baby, both done in Genocide.

A criminal syndicate realizing I came from good and celebrity DNA line found out by sabotaging me with child porn, race baiting me, and getting me under false arrest I could be “targeted” by these operations and become the victims of that criminal syndicate.

What is at issue is not the Trust Fund my family left me, both my father and mother part of the planning of that, but the effort they put into raising me as a child into adulthood for me to life in the USA with the benefits of being the next generation after him and Glorian in the USA.

It is that effort of his and Glorian’s life that is being attacked by plants of child porn on me, false arrests, subversion of my life, etc.,

I believe the attacks are designed to be so destructive as to dehumanize my ability to enforce rights including rights to trial as I am painted as developmentally retarded and unworthy of trial, rather nursery school treatment in psych wards, the result being a non productive life of mine, a life denied real opportunity.

For the purpose of Moral Hazzard a survivor who killed a Jew may have gotten little out of it and not recognize any real gain, in fact, it was his loss. On the other hand he or she who creates an Ethnic Violence rape baby has gained, and as the survivor and benefitting person may be an example to others.

A Labor Racket is goods or services FORCED on a person who does not want them. Similar to Bribery or Extortion, Labor Rackets manufacture business which is involuntary from customer point of view.

Forcing me into position with “porn” who others not me victimize as peeping tom porn makes me by forgery based and misrepresentation based fraudsters a forced costumer of a Labor Racket.

The Criminal Syndicate which as assaulting me with child porn and asking my trust fund to provide me child porn is not legitimate at all, just needed by Red State Christians to bill my trust fund while also destroying my life and Ahtiest reputaion.

The racially motivated Cartel racket is designed to pay for itself to plant child porn on the son of Glorian and Jim, and even pay themselves to do it.

I lived Jim, Glorian, and Tom at 52 Lambeth Square Moraga CA which she said DURING THE divorce in the 1982 she would leave in her will for Tom and Ed, and also she would not buy again but live on parts of the retirement package from James Paul Donegan which was sufficient to rent with.

She and I lived in that house after Tom and James Paul Donegn moved out. Later visitors to GLorian and Ed were Tom and Mark, Harold Gainey and Dot Dew, and others, Chris Loyd, Honey Binning.

Glorian and I also lived in 850 N. Randolpyp where she worked on version of the will with Elder Law Partners on multiple versions and we discussed my life after her death, going back to work, etc., which we both hoped for and she encoruaged Creative Fathams HTML meetups, etc., and I knew what her will was as she expressed in probably about 300 or so conversations at minimim including being certain I owned a car.

The Star Trek franchise under Desilu Productions, the Sound of Music and other fiction are full names alterted media tell the story of Maria Kutcshera neice and ward of Nazi Gestapo General Franz Kutschera who has three out of wedlock children with the Windsors.

While the Windsors do not marry her they urge to marry Captain Von Trapp and take not only him as a husband but the role of mother for his 7 existign children.

The 10 children will come to the USA North Carolina after have been use in Germany for a while by Franz Kutcshera as child Hitler Youth like propoganda singers. Upon coming to the USA they will sing praise for the Allies.

The CIA and Vatican have much to do with this including Lucille Ball and Desi Arnez, Desi a Cuban exile or immigrant with pro USA feelings. The CIA and Show Business organized by the CIA and OSS propaganda has not only a propaganda role but is also helping with speech therapy as the British Royals study speech modulation, etc., in the study of FOXP2 Syndrome,written and other various minimal brain dysfunction including ADHD.

The Show Business mafia that went from running numbers game in Chicago into Palm Springs and Vegas are full of connections with Peter Lawford, Sinatra, and others, and the Vegas imported mob (From Chicago) will help try and oust Castro.

The larger umbrella is that the plan also included grooming Barrack Obama and others and Clarion Donegan DNA was used who was tied to the North Carolina Maria Von Trapp refugees.

The schism with the Kennedy family was that he opposed the mafia and opposed India Tea Company meddling in other countries while his CIA and Military were very involved with those operations and the Oil Barrel Politics of Rockefellers, Standard Oil, moving making, gambling, show business, and even defense contracting by conglomerates like RKO, RCA, DuPonts, many others.

The Kennedy Curse is upon the Donegan family too.

The various book play, and film versions are part fictionalized but in 1926 or so the Von Trapps left Austria with London help for a final destination of North Carolina. In one version character in the story who is likely Himmler is said to be a member of the illegal Nazi Party. It became illegal in 1936 and the Austrian SS was not the exact same thing as the German SS then but the activity was not illegal in 1926. The key point in this as that the time-frame of the play is off by about 10 years and contains some dialogue that does not fit the real time-line and obscures the real timeline.

I consider the timeline issue important because I believe my mother Glorian Donegan and Harold Donegan were from Prince of Wales Edward in the 1920s as was Marilyn Monroe and Maria Kutschera wished to hide the three out of wedlock children's identity from the Kennedy's, that the mother was the niece of an Austrian Gestapo General Franz Kutschera who was a death camp ally of Himmler, and that the children in the US were tied to that history not revealed in the movies (It was revealed to select people king Edward VIII was the father during publicity tours.) The Free Masons the Rotshchilds, Windsors, and DuPonts DID know.

Joachim von Ribbentrop (30 April 1893 - 16 October 1946) was a German politician who served as Minister of Foreign Affairs of Nazi Germany from 1938 to 1945.

[image]

Ribbentrop first came to Adolf Hitler's notice as a well-traveled businessman with more knowledge of the outside world than most senior Nazis and as a perceived authority on foreign affairs. He offered his house Schloss Fuschl for the secret meetings in January 1933 that resulted in Hitler's appointment as Chancellor of Germany.

Schloss Fuschl is a castle in the gemeinde of Hof bei Salzburg, in the Land Salzburg in western Austria. It stands on a peninsula at the western end of Lake Fuschl, a glacier lake. It was built in about 1450 by the Prince-Archbishops of Salzburg, who used it as a hunting lodge.

In 1816, the prince-bishopric of Salzburg was dissolved and the property passed to the Austrian state. It fell into disrepair.

By the 1930s, it was owned by Gustav Edler von Remiz and his wife Hedwig, who lived there. Remiz was a member of the Thyssen dynasty. He was a supporter of the Fatherland Front, so was imprisoned by the Nazis in Dachau, where he died. His property was confiscated, and Schloss Fuschl became the summer residence of Joachim von Ribbentrop, Nazi foreign minister,[2]: 41 who used it for diplomatic receptions for Germany's allies.

Louis Mountbatten, 1st Earl Mountbatten of Burma
retrieved from Wikipedia and copied or modified to here

Louis Francis Albert Victor Nicholas Mountbatten, 1st Earl Mountbatten of Burma (born Prince Louis of Battenberg; 25 June 1900 - 27 August 1979), was a member of the British royal family, Royal Navy officer and statesman, a maternal uncle of Prince Philip, Duke of Edinburgh, and second cousin once removed of Queen Elizabeth II. During the Second World War, he was Supreme Allied Commander, South East Asia Command. He was the last Viceroy of India of British India, and the first governor-general of the Dominion of India.

He was of the Greek family Prince Philip was from.

He was a long time playboy close fried of King Edward VIII and they are often pictured together. It was while traveling with King Edward VIII Mountattan met his wife who took the name Edwina.

In March 1947, Mountbatten was appointed Viceroy of India and oversaw the Partition of British India into India and Pakistan. He then served as the first Governor-General of India until June 1948. In 1952, Mountbatten was appointed commander-in-chief of the British Mediterranean Fleet and NATO Commander Allied Forces Mediterranean. From 1955 to 1959, he was First Sea Lord, a position that had been held by his father, Prince Louis of Battenberg, some forty years earlier. Thereafter he served as chief of the Defence Staff until 1965, making him the longest-serving professional head of the British Armed Forces to date. During this period Mountbatten also served as chairman of the NATO Military Committee for a year.

In August 1979, Mountbatten was assassinated by a bomb planted aboard his fishing boat in Mullaghmore, County Sligo, Ireland, we are told by members of the Provisional Irish Republican Army. He received a ceremonial funeral at Westminster Abbey and was buried in Romsey Abbey in Hampshire.

The movie Leprechaun with Jenifer Aniston came out a few years later.

Wallis Simpson, the Nazi minister, the telltale monk and an FBI plot retrieved from US papers shed light on efforts to spy on fascist sympathisers copied from GaurdianUK. Rob Evans and David Hencke and copied or modified to here

When the Duke and Duchess of Windsor sailed into Palm Beach, Florida, on the SS Berkshire from Nassau on April 18 1941 they were looking forward to enjoying three days of relaxation at the Everglades Club playing golf and drinking and gossiping with American high society.

Little did they know that the previous night instructions had gone out from President Roosevelt to FBI chief J Edgar Hoover to launch what was to be an extraordinary covert intelligence exercise that had to fool both the exiled royals and the US secret service agent who was guarding them.

The exercise was launched after the FBI had been passed intelligence that the duke and duchess were being used by the Nazis to obtain secrets which could wreck the allies' war effort. The US investigation became even more lurid when FBI agents interviewed a benedictine monk in a Franciscan monastery in the United States; Father Odo had once been the Duke of Wurttemberg, a minor German royal with connections to Queen Mary, the duke's mother, and her brother, the Duke of Athlone, then governor general of Canada.

He told them that a prime suspect in the investigation - Joachim von Ribbentrop, then the Nazis' foreign minister - had been the duchess's lover when he was ambassador to Britain in 1936. The minister was already thought to have been supplied with information by the duchess during the German invasion of France in 1940. Now it was suggested that there was far closer arrangement.

Father Odo told the agent: "He knew definitely that von Ribbentrop, while in England, sent the then Wallis Simpson 17 carnations every day. The 17 supposedly represented the number of times they had slept together."

He also revealed that the Duchess of Windsor had told guests at a Paris party that: "The duke is impotent and although he had tried sexual intercourse with numerous women they had been unsuccesful in satisfying his passions."

He went on: "The duchess in her own inimitable and unique manner has been the only woman who had been able to satisfactorily gratify the duke's sexual desires."

Exile

The duke was forced into exile after he abdicated as King Edward VIII in 1936. He first went with his lover, formerly the American divorcee Wallis Simpson, to France and was only later exiled again to Bahamas to keep him out of the way.

By the time the US president authorised the intelligence operation, the couple had been deserted and snubbed by the royal family and the British establishment. They were suspected of favouring the Nazis after they visited Germany in 1937 and were entertained by Hitler and other senior Nazis.

A year after war broke out, the FBI sent a memo to President Roosevelt outlining the agency's worries about the couple. It stated: "It has been ascertained that for some time, the British government has known that the Duchess of Windsor was exceedingly pro-German in her sympathies and connections and there is strong reason to believe that this is the reason why she was considered so obnoxious to the British government that they refused to permit Edward to marry her and maintain the throne.

"Both she and the Duke of Windsor have been repeatedly warned by representatives of the British government that in the interest of the morale of the British people, they should be exceedingly circumspect in their dealings with the representatives of the German government. The duke is in such state of intoxication most of the time that he is virtually non compos mentis. The duchess has repeatedly ignored these warnings.”

Duke Carl Alexander of Württemberg retrieved from Wikipedia and copied or modified to here

Carl Alexander Herzog von Württemberg (Father Odo OSB) (12 March 1896 - 27 December 1964) was a member of the House of Württemberg who became a Benedictine monk. During the Nazi and post-Nazi era, he provided aid to refugees, Jews, and prisoners of war and was reported to Nazi authorities for these activities. He acted as informant of Federal Bureau of Investigation and spied on Wallis Simpson, the lover and later wife of the former British king Edward VIII.

Carl Alexander was the third son of Albrecht, Duke of Württemberg and his wife, Archduchess Margarete Sophie of Austria. He also had four younger sisters. He was taught at home and attended high school after 1914.

In World War I, he fought on the Western Front in Italy. He resigned from the army at the rank of captain, following the German Revolution of 1918-1919, and within a few months became a postulant at the Abbey of St. Martin in Beuron. He entered the novitiate in 1920 as "Brother Odo," taking vows in February 1921. His father succeeded King Wilhelm II, a distant cousin, as head of the House of Württemberg in October of that same year. Brother Odo was ordained a priest in 1926. In the summer of 1930, Father Odo was sent to the Abbey of St. Martin, in Weingarten, not far from Castle Altshausen. He held several offices in the monastery and was active with different Catholic youth organizations. Because of his position and his family's conservative Catholic values, he was involved in opposition to National Socialism as early as 1933 and was interrogated by the Gestapo several times.

He left the abbey and traveled to Württemberg in 1934. The Nazis expelled Father Odo from Germany in 1936, and he took refuge in monasteries in Switzerland and Italy. In Switzerland, he founded International Catholic Refugees and traveled through Europe.

Emigration to the United States

In 1940, after the Swiss government informed him that they could not guarantee his safety, Father Odo decided to emigrate to the United States. Before leaving, he destroyed his personal papers, so his activities could not be traced in detail. From 1941 Father Odo lived in Washington, D. C., continuing his work with refugees and enabling Jews to emigrate from Germany and its conquered territories. From 1943 onward, he was involved in the pastoral care of Germans in American prisoner of war camps. He told the Federal Bureau of Investigation that the Duchess of Windsor had been sleeping with Joachim von Ribbentrop when he was the German ambassador in London (1936-1938).

The historian and archivist of the House of Württemberg, Eberhard Fritz, believes that Claus von Stauffenberg's opposition to Adolf Hitler may have been partly motivated by his relationship with the House of Württemberg (Stauffenberg's father was the last Oberhofmarschall of the Kingdom of Württemberg). Stauffenberg was personally acquainted with Father Odo and was well aware of pockets of resistance against the Nazis.

The more likely story from the garbled version is that 1920s playboy Prince Edward of Wales had illigitimate children and the issue was left as a cloud over more distancable Wallis Simpson than the prince himself and that done for preservation of the direct line of the English crown.

Swallowing Exercises for Dysphagia From Neurological Causes retrieved from www.verywellhealth.com and copied or modified to here

While swallowing is considered an effortless, reflexive action, it's actually quite a complicated and coordinated maneuver involving many muscles and nerves.

s a result, neurological conditions characterized by damage to the brain, spinal cord or nerves can often result in difficulties swallowing, called dysphagia.

Depending on the specific neurological condition, a person may experience dysphagia for unique reasons. For example, with a stroke, a person may have difficulties swallowing because there may be an absent or delayed swallowing reflex, weakened throat muscles, and difficulty controlling tongue movements.

This is in Edward Paul Donegan and Glorian Donegan. While my brother was a negative for the disease he did develop cancer in this area and I am suspicious if that gave researchers acess to invivo study of him at the cost of him having cancer.

Twins studies and this disease are built around understanding and building a new better Prince Albert of York who can give rallying speeches, the royal role.

Moves are tough, including moving away from Virgina to where I could afford to buy a house (my first questions to locals in Corpus Christi starting with cab ride from airport to hotel) take time, take work, I wanted to buy a house 7 y ears ago but it was sabotaged, undermined by arbitrary and capricious trust fund who wanted me out of safe home, safe, transportation, and easy prey for GangStalk predation upon me, many of the predators needy people who had no trust fund but were NOT right wingers. Law suits against an alt right guy as he rides the bus, etc., helped the trust fund kite money from Glorian Donegann to people the money was not intended for.

Later in this book I will talk about the blatantly illegal sham black marketing of Donegan DNA to fund various shame programs simultaneously defaming the Donegan family and thus hiding the origins and worth of what is being violently co-opted.

Simultaneously with accusing my brother Tom Donegan who I both love and hate of being a patsy for the Obamas who is a mole for Red State republicans, the Queen of England, and religious causes Tom would object to, I also am in deep pain about his death, I am suspicious of his death and whether medical treatements created the diseases which medical treatments then opportunistically intervened into.

Tom Donegan has passed away retrieved from Currentobituary.com and copied or modified to here

Obituary

Tom Donegan of Provincetown, a member of the Select Board for six years in the 2010s - three of those as chair - passed from this life on July 14 in Manhattan, surrounded by love, his husband Mark Weinress and dear friends. Tom was 61 years old.

The cause of death was leptomeningeal disease brought on by esophageal cancer.

Tom moved to Provincetown in 2009 after retiring from AOL. Within quickly rolled up his sleeves and became of service, as was his way his entire life. Tom served on the town Finance Committee, becoming its chairman, from 2012 to 2013.

In 2013, he won election to what was then called the Board of Selectmen and was chairman from 2014 to 2016. He easily won reelection to the board in 2016, His chief goals were improving the use of town resources, with a special focus on finding solutions to the affordable housing crisis. Tom also served on the board of the Provincetown Year-Round Rental Housing Trust and the board of the Cape Light Compact. His work there was important to him given his strong belief in protecting the environment. As an action guy, he always wanted to put his beliefs into real work.

In December 2018, Tom left his position on both boards to help support his recently widowed mother- in-law in North Carolina. He remained an active member on the board of the Fine Arts Work Center, serving for a time as treasurer, until his death. It was an organization that was very important to him, and he enjoyed meeting and discussing their work with FAWC's fellows.

Thomas Neal Donegan was born in Los Angeles on Jan. 21, 1960. A year later, his brother Ned was born. (Ned survives him.) The family lived in Manhattan Beach, CA, and the San Francisco Bay area, divided by a stint in Marshfield, MA, while Tom was in elementary school.

His father, Jim, was a pilot for Trans World Airlines. His mother, Glorian Gainey, a South Carolina native, was a homemaker and later a real estate agent. The Donegan family used their T.W.A. perquisite to journey all over the world, imbuing Tom with a lifelong passion for travel, flying, and even airports.

Tom attended the Head-Royce School in Oakland, CA, after which he enrolled at the George Washington University in Washington, DC., where he majored in political science. Tom was the ad manager of The GW Hatchet student newspaper and president of the Sigma Chi fraternity chapter, which he steered toward community service. He earned his bachelor's degree in 1983.

But the most important thing that happened to him at GW was meeting Mark and commencing a lifetime of 38 years together, They were wed on July 27th, 2015, a month after the Supreme Court decision legalizing gay marriage, at Saint Mary's church in Provincetown MA.

A year after graduation - both Tom and Mark began a spiritual program of recovery from alcohol and drugs. They have cherished their continuous sobriety from that date and consider it, along with their 38-year partnership, as the best thing they've ever done.

The couple lived first in the District of Columbia, before moving in 1999 to Arlington, VA. It was there in 2001 that they welcomed for the year, 16-year-old exchange student, Svenja Jaeger from Germany, who considers Tom and Mark her "American dads." Their close relationship is one of the most important in their lives. And they now get to be the American granddads.

Tom joined the Baltimore office of the W. B. Doner & Company advertising agency in 1984, rising to the position of account executive. From there, he joined Ullico (Union Labor Life Insurance Company) in Washington DC, doing in-house marketing.

During this time, in August of 1990, Tom and Mark were attacked and injured in an anti-gay hate crime. Theirs was the first successful case first tried under DC's new hate crimes law. As a result of the experience Tom became involved in the newly formed grassroots group GLOV, Gay Men and Lesbians Opposing Violence. The group provided community safety education and advocated for accountability from the police and media in recognizing and addressing anti-LGBTQ violence. Tom soon became GLOV's co-chair and was known as the "activist in the suit," since he rarely had time to change out of his daytime business attire before being interviewed by the press, attending public meetings and the occasional on TV news appearance.

After his service with GLOV, and upon his move to VA, Tom became president of Crisis Link, a Virginia-based 24/7 Crisis & Suicide Prevention Hotline

Like more than 80% of Americans, Tom had never been online as of 1995. However, he took a leap and joined a young company called America Online, where he served as VP of membership marketing. Tom managed a team integral to building total members to over 37 million. He developed many groundbreaking programs for multiple sales channels and lead integration for AOL Time Warner. When he left the company in 2008, he was one of its longest serving employees.

After following his dream of retiring and moving to Provincetown.

Tom relished being on the water. He bought a catboat in Provincetown and enjoyed sailing all summer long, even competing in races. Six years ago, Mark and Tom decided to make Manhattan their second home.

Tom was diagnosed with cancer two years ago. Although the disease was advanced, he decided he would lean even harder into his already upbeat attitude and continue to enjoy his life gratefully. Until the last few months, treatments were very successful and he continued his active life, filled with sailing, cooking, time with friends, and travel.

While on a trip to London, Tom spotted a plaque that perfectly summed up his gratitude, his faith, and his belief that a higher power existed for all. He bought two of them and placed one each in his Provincetown and New York homes. The saying became his motto.

“Bidden or not bidden, God is present.”

Services for Tom will take place at Saint Mary of the Harbor Church in Provincetown on Thursday, July 22 at 11:00 am, followed by a reception. A private burial will take place at Provincetown Cemetery.

Charitable contributions in Tom's memory may be made to the Carrie A. Seaman Animal Shelter (CASAS), Outer Cape Health Services, the Fine Arts Work Center, or the AIDS Support Group of Cape Cod.

Edward Donegan commenting: The family history of the Donegans in Manhattan Beach California, the atomic bombing of Japan my father flew in as a P-51 escort, the above ground atomic blast testing in Nevada and Simi Valley SSFL my father was in and described were are parts are still classified and include secret DNA facts too about Glorian s history and origins. Much of what was known is destroyed and what is known know is wrong. Tom was asked to engage in bandaging over some parts embarrassing to the USA espionage elements and the Obama family and hid did so, but likely many soldiers of various types in large wars of all kinds if had heard the topmost generals describe what was really going on in secret most meetings he would have had his faith in the long term work shaken.

Whatever the case he grew up in 52 Lambeth Square with Jim, Glorian, and me, and there is a solidity to sacrafice and fidelity to our beliefs as a core make up of who we are, yet we faced complex contradictory challenges and are viewpoints differed.

I will always love Tom and Jim and Glorian too, and I am so glad he passed with his friends at his side.

Now the darker side of a darker genetics "fix it" plan inside a shadow government Tom would have opposed but was a pawn in.

I assert these are the mafia mechanisms includign Fronts (ARC of Nova) in long con as a layer.

The most powerful and elite figures are attacking Glorian, Edwawrd, and James, but why?

Here is HOW it is being done

My personal experience and research is that I carry the FOXP2 Minimal Brain Disorder gene. Many NSA watched families do and those who show the defect are being driven from society and brain-slandered so that our brain which is a good brain with a slight hitch is not seen as the Rosemary Kennedy or Prince Albert of York gene, which it is. Glorian Donegan my mother and her brother both had the gene. It includes swallowing problems I have had too. Because our brain line is used in a quality control factory line (good brains in new clones, Abby Normal brains pushed into the pond as they say hello to the little girls) and this program exists to hide who the CIA created as sleepers to be secret Windsor twins which aslo is Franz Kutschera neice DNA, Maria August Kutchera, likely my mother and Mayline Monroe's mother of 1926 as Maria was forced out of the convent and into the USA with three unknown children and 7 known children.

The Great Irish Famine and the Holocaust retrieved from Irish History Live The Great Irish Famine and the Holocaust Professor Liam Kennedy and copied or modified to here

Thinking of Studying Irish History News / Events21 July - 8 August 2014, International Summer School History: Staff/Postgraduate Seminar Series

Put briefly and more bluntly, professors Charles Rice and Francis Boyle believe: 'the policies pursued by the British government from 1845-50 in Ireland constituted ‘genocide’.’

The most traumatic event of modern Irish history is undoubtedly the Great Famine of the mid-nineteenth century. By the end of 1847 the British government was effectively turning its back financially on a starving people in the most westerly province of the United Kingdom.

The famine was to run for a further two or three years, making it one of the longest-running famines in Irish and European history. Before it had run its awful course, more than one million people had perished of hunger and famine-related diseases. Viewed globally, it was one of the worst famines of modern times.

For the Jewish peoples of Europe their darkest hour belongs to living memory. The mass destruction of some six million Jews in the mid twentieth century at the hands of the German Nazis, and their enthusiastic collaborators in Poland, the Baltic countries, the Ukraine, Hungary and in parts of the former Yugoslavia, seemed to mark a turning point not only in Jewish but in world history.

The Holocaust and the Great Famine. Can we somehow associate these two searing episodes in the life histories of the two peoples? James Pius Sweeney of New York, writing in the Irish-American paper, the Irish Echo, while acknowledging that there were differences between the Famine and the Holocaust, went on to argue:‘The genocide of the Holocaust was remarkable because of the macabre efficiency of freight cars, camps and gas houses. The genocide of the Great Famine is distinct in the fact that the British created the conditions of dire hopelessness, and desperate dependence on the potato crop through a series of sadistic, debasing, premeditated and barbarous Penal Laws, which deliberately and systematically stripped the Irish of even the least semblance of basic human freedom.

’When blight struck the Irish were ‘totally vulnerable’. This was a ‘nuanced genocide’, he continues, one that manipulated fate ‘by pushing a people to the brink of annihilation and turning away so not to hear the wailing …’.

Trinity is a novel by American author Leon Uris, published in 1976 by Doubleday. It spent 21 weeks atop The New York Times Best Sellers list in 1976[1] and 14 weeks in 1977.

The book tells the story of the intertwining lives of the following families: the Larkins and O’Neills, Catholic hill farmers from the fictional town of Ballyutogue in County Donegal; the Macleods, Protestant shipyard workers from Belfast; and the Hubbles.

Conor’s best friend Seamus O’Neill begins school in town under a Protestant named Andrew Ingram. Conor, needed at home, helps his father in the fields, until he becomes an apprentice at a blacksmith shop. As the years pass, the boys become friends with Mr. Ingram, who teaches them of the power of books and the history of their Irish forefathers.

Seamus goes to college in Belfast, and Conor heads to Derry. In Bogside Conor witnesses the extent of the disaster that has befallen the Irish people. Bogside is in tatters and a state of despair that has stricken its inhabitants since before the Great Famine that had taken place between 1845 and 1852. Held down by the Protestant reign in Derry's labor unions, the Catholics are dying slowly without hope.

In Derry, Conor discovers other like-minded Irish tired of the oppression of the Catholics by the Protestants. This small group, with the support of the few Irish politicians, becomes the Republican Brotherhood, the roots of Sinn Féin, and the whisper of freedom throughout Ireland.

Hitler saw the 1936 Games as an opportunity to promote his government and ideals of racial supremacy and antisemitism, and the official Nazi Party paper, the Völkischer Beobachter, wrote in the strongest terms that Jews should not be allowed to participate in the Games

German Jewish athletes were barred or prevented from taking part in the Games by a variety of methods,[5] although some women swimmers from the Jewish sports club Hakoah Vienna did participate. Jewish athletes from other countries were said to have been side-lined to avoid offending the Nazi regime.

A Plot from House of Saxe-Coburg, later called the Windsors of English Royalty

The House of Windsor is the reigning royal house of the United Kingdom and the other Commonwealth realms. In 1901, the House of Saxe-Coburg and Gotha (a branch of the House of Wettin) succeeded the House of Hanover to the British monarchy with the accession of King Edward VII, son of Queen Victoria and Prince Albert of Saxe-Coburg and Gotha.

King Edward VII (Albert Edward; 9 November 1841 - 6 May 1910) was King of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland and Emperor of India from 22 January 1901 until his death in 1910.

Elizabeth Angela Marguerite Bowes-Lyon was Queen of the United Kingdom and the Dominions from 1936 to 1952 as the wife of King George VI. As George's wife, she was the last empress of India. Wikipedia

In 1917, the name of the royal house was changed from the anglicised German Saxe-Coburg and Gotha to the English Windsor because of anti-German sentiment in the United Kingdom during World War I.[1] There have been four British monarchs of the House of Windsor since then: George V, Edward VIII, George VI, and Elizabeth II.

Georg Ritter von Trapp Georg Ritter von Trapp was born on April 4th, 1880, in Zara (now Zadar), Croatia, then still part of the Austrian-Hungarian Empire. His father was a navy captain. He wanted to embark on a navy career as well and attended the Royal Naval Academy in Fiume (now Rijeka).

In 1910, he met Agathe Whitehead at a ball. It was love at the first sight and their marriage a society event. While still a young navy captain, the command of the submarine “U6” was assigned to him. During World War One, the French submarine “Leon Gambetta” was sunk by Trapp’s mission. In 1916, he was promoted to lieutenant commander by Emperor Franz Josef I.

After the war, Austria no longer had a coast and did not need a navy, Captain Trapp not only lost his post, but also his wife. Lady Whitehead died in 1924 and left him alone with seven children to look after.

On November 26th 1927 he married Maria Kutschera then in London, who was the governess for the captain’s children while in growingly Nazi Austria before.

The Secrets Behind Freddie Mercury's

Legendary Voice video on YouTube

A property of Freddie Mercury's singing is his range He allegedly had a range from a low F2 to a soprano F6. This is what that looks like on a musical staff, and here's what the low-end sounds like in "All Dead, All Dead" (Note: Freddie only sings the backing vocals here) You can hear the upper end of Freddie's vocals in this astounding moment from "Under Pressure" That kind of range is impressive enough on its own, but Freddie knew how to use it Montserrat Caballé is a Spanish opera singer who recorded an album with Mercury She said that she was floored by the way Freddie could move around within that giant range She said "He was able to glide effortlessly from a register to another" A second aspect of what made Freddie so incredible was how performative he was with his vocals "The difference between Freddie and almost all other rock stars was that he was selling the voice" Caballé said He also had a great musicality His phrasing was subtle, delicate and sweet, or energetic and slamming. He was able to find the right colouring or expressive nuance for each word

Listen for the color nuance and performance in "Somebody To Love" Every single note that comes out of Freddie's mouth is carefully placed and belies the emotion of the song The wide array of influences in Queen's music helped Mercury display the versatility of his voice Their music was informed by hard rock and musical theater, by gospel and disco It was all over the map and each of these styles has different vocal traits that Mercury was able to inhabit flawlessly Listen for the way he can belt it out on the hard rock banger "Tie Your Mother Down" But his vocals feel equally at home in the rockabilly tune "Crazy Little Thing Called Love" Or how about the operatic interlude in "Innuendo" Freddie Mercury can slip in and out of genres seamlessly and sound perfectly comfortable in all of them In 2016 a group of researchers published a study on Freddie Mercury's voice

That study found a few things about him The first is that while Freddie frequently sang in the tenor register. His natural voice was actually a baritone It seemed like no trouble at all for Freddie to jump out of his natural range for most of his career. What's more impressive that the researchers discovered is his vibrato. A vibrato is a regular pulsating change in pitch that adds some expression and texture to an instrument or vocal.

Usually a vocal vibrato moves between the frequencies of 5.4 Hertz and 6.9 Hertz. The study found that Mercury's went as high as 7.04 Hertz Researcher christian Herbst said on top of this his vibrato was more irregular than others He said this creates a kind of "vocal fingerprint" that really helped Mercury's voice stand out If you want to hear the vibrato in action check out "We Are The Champions" The study was also interested in the grit and growl that Mercury could add to his voice

You can hear that in songs like "I Want To Break Free" By filming the larynx of a singer imitating Mercury they were able to see what his voice was doing they discovered that he was using something called subharmonics Which not only used the vocal folds, but also a body part called the ventricular folds

[image]

> Muscular Anatomy of the Human Ventricular Folds
> Jerald Moon, Ph.D and Fariborz Alipour, Ph.D *

The ventricular folds, also known as the vestibular or false vocal folds are located above the true vocal folds and separated from them by the laryngeal ventricle. They are commonly referred as “false” vocal folds as they historically have been thought not to be directly involved in the production of “normal” voice. However, they are part of the vocal articulation during glottal stops and pressed phonation1 and actively involved during Mongolian throat singing2. They have been linked to closure of the laryngeal lumen during swallowing and other primitive reflexes such as coughing, gagging, etc3. They lubricate the true vocal folds by secreting mucosa through their glands and provide antimicrobial defense protection4.

During phonation, the ventricular gap is kept large enough by the laryngeal or ventricular muscles to prevent unwanted ventricular fold vibration. This gap is usually larger in males than in females5. When the VF controlling muscles fail to keep them apart or the VFs become larger than usual, the increased glottal resistance creates a condition favorable for unwanted vibrations and voice disorders. Such a decreased VF gap was shown to have major aerodynamic and acoustic effects during the phonation of excised canine larynges6,7. For example, Alipour et al.6 and also Finnegan and Alipour7 determined that medial compression of the VF increased glottal flow resistance, as well as sound intensity.

The ventricular fold is usually composed of muscular, glandular, adipose and connective tissues that contribute to its phonatory and non phonatory maneuvers. Due to the lack of a complete understanding of the complex VF histological structure, its muscular and > physiological functions have been the subject of many recent studies. Recent morphological studies of VF have confirmed the existence of various distinct muscle bundles8-10. Further, the activity of the thyroarytenoid muscle bundle during phonation has been confirmed with electromyography

These tissues don't tend to get used in speaking or classical singing, but they're actually part of what gives Tuvan throat-singing its unique sound. It's impossible to know whether Freddie was consciously doing this or it was just his natural instinct But it's equally impressive either way and of course, I couldn't end this video without talking about "Bohemian Rhapsody"

The song is Mercury's opus, and that's because it combines everything that makes Freddie great The song is filled with harmonies that show off the range of Freddie's voice all at once Though the video shows the band members singing, the opening of the song is a five-part harmony, Maximilian Karl Emil Weber (/ˈveɪbər/;[12] German: [ˈveːbɐ]; 21 April 1864 - 14 June 1920) was a German sociologist, historian, jurist, and political economist regarded as among the most important theorists of the development of modern Western society. His ideas profoundly influence social theory and research. While Weber did not see himself as a sociologist, he is recognized as one of the fathers of sociology along with Auguste Comte, Karl Marx, and Émile Durkheim.

Unlike Durkheim, Weber did not believe in monocausal explanations, proposing instead that for any outcome there can be multiple causes.[13] Also unlike Durkheim,[14] Weber was a key proponent of methodological anti-positivism, arguing for the study of social action through interpretive rather than purely empiricist methods, based on a subjective understanding of the meanings that individuals attach to their own actions. Weber's main intellectual concern was in understanding the processes of rationalisation, secularisation, and the ensuing sense of "disenchantment". He formulated a thesis arguing that such processes are associated with the rise of capitalism and modernity.

Weber is also known for his thesis combining economic sociology and the sociology of religion, emphasising the importance of cultural influences embedded in religion as driving factors of capitalism. This is in contrast to Marx's historical materialism, which considers religion as derivative of capitalism.

Weber would first elaborate his theory in his seminal work, The Protestant Ethic and the Spirit of Capitalism (1905), where he attributed ascetic Protestantism as one of the major "elective affinities" leading to the rise of market-driven capitalism and the rational-legal systems of practice in the Western world.[16] Protestant Ethic would form the earliest part in Weber's broader investigations into world religions, as he later examined the religions of China and India, as well as ancient Judaism, with particular regard to their differing economic consequences and conditions of social stratification.

In another major work, "Politics as a Vocation", Weber defined "the state" as an entity that successfully claims a "monopoly of the legitimate use of physical force within a given territory".[17] He would also be the first to categorise social authority into distinct forms: charismatic, traditional, and rational-legal. Weber's analysis of bureaucracy emphasized that modern institutions are increasingly based on rational-legal authority. Weber made a variety of other contributions in economic history, theory, and methodology. His analysis of modernity and rationalisation would significantly influence the critical theory associated with the Frankfurt School.

After the First World War, Weber was among the founders of the liberal German Democratic Party. He also ran unsuccessfully for a seat in parliament and served as advisor to the committee that drafted the ill-fated democratic Weimar Constitution of 1919. After contracting Spanish flu, he died of pneumonia in 1920, aged 56. From Wikipedia the free encyclopedia/ (Think Opus Del, Griffith Experiment and Influenza) their Modus Operandi. I had a friend in California who was framed like I was that we were in a “teen-phile” ring of teens trafficking. I learned a lot when I saw how things overlay and later learned the terms for them as they are described in Free Masonry. One thing I learned from Tom Dunham’s post was the “Office Party I am not invited to” ploy where something occurs behind his back. These events are smear events. I stopped going to BDSM events in Texas because they ran these. At these events Gossipers flood the place and smear gossip is shoveled like horse manuer. After the place has been filled with manure I neither want to be there nor am I welcome there. In Free Masonry this is called an Office Mob, a hostile planted group of office workers smear you behind your back in office politics. I am always learning and studying how perps operate.

Yesterday I deleted an Asian friend from my FB account because she appeared to be doubting that I’m a TI. I’m being very heavily targeted so I tend to delete anyone that sends me messages of that nature. For that reason only. Certain ppl from Castleford who are perping me are racists and they and all of their small minded hateful friends would like everyone to think I’m a racist as I chose never to laugh along with their racist jokes. The town of Castleford is full of racists and this is just one of many reasons why I didn’t ever belong there.

> I had an Asian bf during my first year of Uni, Adrian Vaz and he came to stay in Castleford in the summer of my first year at uni in 1992. It was not a pleasant experience for him and he left and went back to London shortly afterwards. I have had Asian friends and black friends during my life and I cannot stand any form of racism.

This was part of Rights Of Man Boston Constitution and Kentucky and Virigina resolutions as Massachusetts rebelled agaisnt England under Natural Rights theory. Billy Budd has a stutter retrieved from Wikipedia and copied or modified to here Herman Melville Biography Mellvile lived in Cape Cod Boston and New Bedford as my father's mother did. Melville noted the British traditions of cruelty towards impressed sailors to maintain discipline and command.

Billy Budd is a seaman impressed into service aboard HMS Bellipotent in the year 1797, when the Royal Navy was reeling from two major mutinies and was threatened by the Revolutionary French Republic's military ambitions. He is impressed to this large warship from another, smaller, merchant ship, The Rights of Man (named after the book by Thomas Paine). The British impressing Colonials into their navy., capturing US fishermen, and other acts of war by the British on Colonials was a very intensive emotional matter for James Paul Donegan as was resistance such as the Bostonians refusing to convict US citizens or colonials in British Courts by use of Jury Nullification, the Jury nullifies the entire proceeding as a mechanism of oppression and refuses to convict the defendent as the prosecution seeks.

These tales about the British and England's history towards the Irish among others would last into the 1980s Moraga California commuting to Head Royce drives and beyond as law, philosophy, and Irish and US history were a family topic. Theatrical poster for the film Billy Budd (1962)

Billy Budd is a seaman impressed into service aboard HMS Bellipotent in the year 1797, when the Royal Navy was reeling from two major mutinies and was threatened by the Revolutionary French Republic's military ambitions. He is impressed to this large warship from another, smaller, merchant ship, The Rights of Man (named after the book by Thomas Paine). As his former ship moves off, Budd shouts, "And good-bye to you too, old [rFench Declaration Of] Rights-of-Man."

Billy, a foundling from Bristol, has an innocence, good looks and a natural charisma that make him popular with the crew. He has a stutter, which becomes more noticeable when under intense emotion. He arouses the antagonism of the ship's master-at-arms, John Claggart. Claggart, while not unattractive, seems somehow "defective or abnormal in the constitution", possessing a "natural depravity." Envy is Claggart's explicitly stated emotion toward Budd, foremost because of his "significant personal beauty," and also for his innocence and general popularity. (Melville further opines that envy is "universally felt to be more shameful than even felonious crime.") This leads Claggart to falsely charge Billy with conspiracy to mutiny. When the captain, Edward Fairfax "Starry" Vere, is presented with Claggart's charges, he summons Claggart and Billy to his cabin for a private meeting. Claggart makes his case and Billy, astounded, is unable to respond, due to his stutter. In his extreme frustration he strikes out at Claggart, killing him instantly.

Vere convenes a drumhead court-martial. He acts as convening authority, prosecutor, defense counsel and sole witness (except for Billy). He intervenes in the deliberations of the court-martial panel to persuade them to convict Billy, despite their and his beliefs in Billy's moral innocence. (Vere says in the moments following Claggart's death, "Struck dead by an angel of God! Yet the angel must hang!") Vere claims to be following the letter of the Mutiny Act and the Articles of War.

Although Vere and the other officers do not believe Claggart's charge of conspiracy and think Billy justified in his response, they find that their own opinions matter little. The martial law in effect states that during wartime the blow itself, fatal or not, is a capital crime. The court-martial convicts Billy following Vere's argument that any appearance of weakness in the officers and failure to enforce discipline could stir more mutiny throughout the British fleet. Condemned to be hanged the morning after his attack on Claggart, Billy before his execution says, "God bless Captain Vere!" His words were repeated by the gathered crew in a "resonant and sympathetic echo."

Melville began work on the novella in November 1886, revising and expanding it from time to time, but he left the manuscript in disarray. Melville's widow Elizabeth began to edit the manuscript for publication, but was not able to discern her husband's intentions at key points, even as to the book's title. Raymond M. Weaver, Melville's first biographer, was given the manuscript and published the 1924 VERSION, which was marred by misinterpretation of Elizabeth's queries, misreadings of Melville's difficult handwriting, and even inclusion of a preface Melville had cut. Melville scholars Harrison Hayford and Merton M. Sealts Jr. published what is considered the best transcription and critical reading text in 1962.[1] In 2017, Northwestern University Press published a "new reading text" based on a "corrected version" of Hayford and Sealts' genetic text prepared by G. Thomas Tanselle.

okay I'm good I was going to touch the last few interviews to the last video I 'm actually obviously in the same place overlooking the beautiful city of Washington DC as the lights go down in a great location but it's too hard to attach multiple interviews without them getting kind of mixed up in order so the last video I did I I can't on the pinned tweet is interview number three and that goes into a little bit about my meeting this child of one of Hitler's top commanders

He was a you know kind of German royalty, she was a Nazi at 8 years old and her survival through the war and eventually get into the United States

I didn't go into much detail on part number three so in this interview it is a very extensive detail actually about my meeting her in 2009-2010 the secret she shared with me the doctor documentation transcripts pictures proof identities and certain people and really help bridge the gap for me from what I knew in my various professions including law enforcement and psychology and what I learned working undercover positions and through my research and obviously interested interesting and interesting excuse me in history and political science but she was that one of the major probably the major gap-filler for me

She was a legitimate child of when I'm Nazis top guys and he set up a one of his first kind of command centers inside her father's theater her father owned all the theaters in Munich in Germany at the time which 1930s 3-8 was very rare and so those theaters were used to indoctrinate soldiers and children and various people and so the this person that I met was 70 91 I met her and she died at age 80

a year and a half but I did spend a year and a half with her going into the most traumatic human experiences that I've ever heard and I've heard many many horrible tragic trauma things and seeing them as well so that's what this interview is about I hope you enjoy it and of course it goes even further into like I said identities and starting to reveal some of that so this is interviewed number four

- Aurhter Kutscher, Munich theater PhD
- "Father Franz" Franz Kutschera, written as Max Detweiler in Sound of Music
    - Franz Kutschera would become a leading Gestopa (Secret Police) general assassinated in 1943 Operation Kutschera

- Uncle of orphaned Maria Kutshchera who he taught to sing and was also future wife of Captain Von Trapp

- Maria Kutschera, in 1926 has out of wedlock daughters by Prince Edward of Wales , “Kings Daughters” who is later King Edward VIII for a while, also children by Captain Von Trapp her 1926 marital husband, the Von Trapp Family go to London then the USA and used for pro USA propoganda

- Captain Von Trapp, Austrian navy officer widowed by the death of his wealthy wife Agathe Whitehead (British engineering magnates who made the Whitehead missile for England) met and married Maria Kutschera

- The Catholic Church in Germany which would intermediate the marriage between Captain Von Trapp and Maria Kutschera and the Von Trapp family from Central Europe to London then to the USA.

> Georg Ludwig Ritter von Trapp was an Austro-Hungarian naval officer who later acquired U.S. citizenship. He was the patriarch of the Trapp Family Singers, whose lives were the inspiration for the musical play and film The Sound of Music.

- In Wedlock Captain Von Trapp and his wife Maria Von Trapp had last names, Von Trapp.

- Puut out to farm: King Edward VIII and Maria Kutchera may or may not get names like Victoria Windsor. Or perhaps Glory Anne, Glorian Gainey adapted by Festus Gained in North Carolina.

Maria Augusta Kutschera takes the stage and sings. Franz Kutchera her uncle has been encouraging her as I Edward Paul Donegan was encouraged to drama and theater through my life to learn speech regulation.

Now, in a moment we learn how she got there and also how she left there as the wife of Capatain Von Trapp.

History will record Franz was abusive, as a Nazi official for “turning out” his orphaned neice into a Nazi propogandist.

Maria has also heen helped by the Catholics and for a while she is pledged to become a Nun but she is a free spirit which is out place in serious study environments which ask great discipline of students and perhaps ho outward near bipolar but constant activity is too interactive for the immersion environment.

It is a trait I Edward Paul Donegan carry.

She is assigned to help the widowed and struggling Captain Von Trapp, Austrian Navy Officer, a man of many decorations for bravery and a proud man, with his family itself a war front for him.

Georg Ludwig Ritter[a] von Trapp (4 April 1880 - 30 May 1947) was an Austro-Hungarian naval officer who later acquired U.S. citizenship.

- His naval exploits during World War I earned him numerous decorations, including the Military Order of Maria Theresa. Under his command, the submarines SM U-5 and SM U-14 sank 13 Allied ships totaling about 45,669 gross register tons (GRT).

- WWII - He was the patriarch of the Trapp Family Singers, whose lives were the inspiration for the musical play and film The Sound of Music.

Archduke Franz Ferdinand Carl Ludwig Joseph Maria of Austria (18 December 1863 - 28 June 1914) was the heir presumptive to the throne of Austria-Hungary.[1] His assassination in Sarajevo is considered the most immediate cause of World War I.

Franz Ferdinand was the eldest son of Archduke Karl Ludwig of Austria, the younger brother of Emperor Franz Joseph I of Austria. Following the death of Crown Prince Rudolf in 1889 and the death of Karl Ludwig in 1896, Franz Ferdinand became the heir presumptive to the Austro-Hungarian throne. His courtship of Sophie Chotek, a lady-in-waiting, caused conflict within the imperial household, and their morganatic marriage in 1900 was only allowed after he renounced his descendants' rights to the throne.

Franz Ferdinand held significant influence over the military, and in 1913 he was appointed inspector general of the Austro-Hungarian armed forces.

The Archduke and his wife visited England in the autumn of 1913, spending a week with George V and Queen Mary at Windsor Castle before going to stay for another week with the Duke of Portland at Welbeck Abbey, Nottinghamshire, where they arrived on 22 November. He attended a service at the local Catholic church in Worksop and the Duke and Archduke went game shooting on the Welbeck estate when, according to the Duke's memoirs, Men, Women and Things:

Maria snuck out from the Convent and had an apple. Looks like she got pregnant, per the movie was in love with a Royal, and looks like in 1926 she was on her way to North Carolina USA to giver birth. 3 mins 31 seconds has apple, 10 seconds later at top of Bannister, seconds later at bottom of bannister dropping books and Bible, met by other Sisters.

Mark Gonzales like others were told the genome has a history and he and others want use of it, use not allowed.

Did people overlook Mark Gonzales, his Avant-garde sophistication and did they overlook the eltism of the trash collectors, prison community, and others, as Avaunt Guard? Gonzales show his cultural worth and those who were not recognized before as sophisticated philosopher of the Age of Reason and the Humanities.

He asserts his oppressed migrant farm workers have a secret great lineage but need to sue scum like Ed Donegan for genome rights that Hispanics are entitled to.

Following Austria-Hungary's collapse after that war front, Trapp returned to his family, but lost his wife, Agathe Whitehead, to scarlet fever in 1922.

Whitehead was born on 14 June 1891 in Fiume as the first daughter and third child of John Whitehead and Countess Agathe Gobertina von Breunner-Enckevoirth.[1] Her father, a British engineer who had been made a *Knight of the Order of Franz Joseph, was the son of Robert Whitehead, the eponym of the Whitehead torpedo.which Captain Von Trapp would use. Her mother, an amateur architect and pianist, was a member of the Austrian and Hungarian nobility.[5] Through her father, Whitehead was a niece of the diplomat Sir James Beethom Whitehead, who served as the British Minister to Serbia, and a first cousin of Sir Edgar Whitehead, who served as Prime Minister of Southern Rhodesia.

He will hear the Von Trapp singers on the radio and recognize it is Von Trapps family.

With the rise of Nazism and the German Austrian fall to it Captain Von Trapp and Maria Kutschera would make it through the hills of Austira Germany and finally to England, and to Prince Edward VIII who had the same speech defect and was working with Sidney Gottlieb, speech therapist, biologist, and CIA agent assisting the Allies during this time.

I speculate during the time in London in the 1920s Price Edward, then the Prince of Wales, sired out of wedlock Kutscheras, my mother and Victoria Windsor, genealogist, being another one of them, also tracing her family history and genealogy from family stories.

Reverend David Manning family (predecessor to Reverend Wright) and several gay choir members are considered suspicious deaths of those who scrutinize the church group of Micehlle Obama.

James David Manning retrieved from Wikipedia and copied or modified to here

James David Manning (born February 20, 1947)[1] is an American pastor at the ATLAH World Missionary Church. Manning grew up in Red Springs, North Carolina, and has been with ATLAH since 1981. ATLAH stands for All The Land Anointed Holy, which is Manning's name for Harlem.[2]

Through the ATLAH church, Manning hosts an online series called The Manning Report, which features criticism on such topics as the negative influence of black celebrities, homosexuality, and the alleged "criminal" acts of U.S. President Barack Obama. Manning's allegations and political views have made him highly controversial.

REVEREND DAVID MANNING - Former head of the Trinity Baptist Church in Chicago. Was murdered during the apparent robbery of a catfish restaurant in 1972. Shortly afterwards, Rev. Jeremiah Wright took over as head of Trinity and a many parishoners (who later left the church) suspected Wright in having a hand in Reverend Manning's death. Decades later, Manning's son JAMAL MANNING was found dead of an apparent crack overdose in 2004. It was rumored he was going to bring evidence of Wright's complicity in his father's death. His testimony was timed to coincide with Obama's first senate race

DuPont, Warriner had a top-secret hand in history

By William H. McMichaelThe News Journal

Together Watson Warriner and Dupont [gunpowder supply and other Defense contracting since the 1800's] would make history - a story of a technological achievement of remarkable yet horrific proportions that ended World War II. Warriner and DuPont were key players in the Manhattan Project - the secret development of the atomic bomb. The 1945 detonation of two of the devastating weapons ended World War II.

“DuPont’s role was absolutely vital,” said Erik Rau, a historian whose specialties include the history of industrialization and who also directs Wilmington’s Hagley Library, a leading business history repository. “They turned to DuPont because of all of its chemical expertise, and its production facilities expertise.

“This was a project that couldn’t fail.”

Many who were involved in the top secret effort had no idea what they were working on, largely due to a policy of “compartmentalization” that limited the amount of information known to any one person. Warriner, who had a top secret Department of Energy “Q” clearance, was one of the few who did.

Operation Kutschera retrieved from Wikipedia and copied or modified to here

[image]

Operation Kutschera was the code name for the successful execution of Franz Kutschera, SS and Reich’s Police Chief in German-occupied Warsaw, who was shot on 1 February 1944 by a combat sabotage unit of Kedyw of the Home Army (predecessor of Battalion Parasol) mainly manned by members of scouting and guiding Gray Ranks. This special action was a part of the larger Operation Heads - the code name of a series of executions of Nazi officials by the Polish Resistance.[1]

SS-Brigadeführer und Generalmajor der Polizei Franz Kutschera became SS and Police Leader of the Warsaw District on 25 September 1943. During his earlier posting in the Mogilev District of the Soviet Union he proved himself as a ruthless officer, prone to brutal and unscrupulous methods.[2]

Soon after his arrival in Warsaw he stepped up terror measures directed against the civilian population. The number of public executions and łapanka round-ups were increased, and lists of hostages to be shot in reprisal for civil disobedience or any attack on a German soldier were published daily. These actions, based on a decree by Hans Frank, were intended to crush the will to resist among the Polish population. As a result, the Polish underground leadership included Kutschera in its "Operation Heads" list.[3]

In the course of his surveillance of the area around the Gestapo HQ on Aleje Szucha, Rayski one day noticed an Opel Admiral limousine entering the drive of the building at Aleje Ujazdowskie number 23, which was then the SS headquarters in Warsaw (and now houses the Hungarian Embassy). The SS-man who emerged from the car wore the insignia of a general, and Rayski began to monitor his arrivals and departures from the building. The SS-man was soon identified as Kutschera, who actually lived only 150 metres away, at Aleja Róż number 2. Rayski also discovered that despite the short distance from his home to the SS headquarters, Kutschera always used his car to get there.[4]

A key part of this would be his targeting me under the NDAA as an alleged gays hater or as an alleged white supremacist in

In the scheme which unfolds those who have ties to abuse of my bloodline across generations, likely Baptists, Salvation Army, Opus Dei, hard to tell in charities work which form councils, have street people “providers” engage in a scam I call the Consensual and Non-Consensual Camera Scam.

I am in a public area. Others surround me and consensually photograph those traveling with them as a team, I call this group “grifters” of Long Con con artists.

Because I am in the area it will seem plausible to some I had non consensually photographed the females victim which was photographed by the grifters, who like the victim, were near me.

Often at the same time I am in the area and the female the real photographer, in fact the only photographer specifically of the female, will assert I owe for the photograph, a fight may be picked with me as if I photographed without permission, and that is a risk to me at the scene and in rumors about me passed along to others.

The system in usually “inlay photography.” I am taking a normal touristy photo, if a photo at all, and a photo-bomb female may jump in front of me. Regardless of whether I have a camera in use, the Grifters do and will assert I photographed the female and my trust fund owes theory social services or social causes, I owe them (in restitution for using tier children for my sexual relief) from my mother’s trust fund and her genetic legacy.

The False Pretenses claim against my mother’s trust harms me an my interests but becomes a way to transfer assets to other private and State backed funds my mother did not intend.

Three concepts should be considered here.

Personal Eugenics

Micheal Hastings and Victoria Windsor Investigating Obama origins reporting

How ironic that they accuse Trump of Russia involvement when it was they who conspired with Russia to produce a polished liar and charlatan to unleash on an unsuspecting and naïve nation.

Irony has nothing to do with it. Brennan's carefully-laid plan was to use CIA-linked Columbia University to provide cover for Obama and pad a nice résumé for him.

In the meantime no one ever saw Obama at Columbia because Barry Soetoro was attending the Patrice Lumumba University in Moscow, named for Patrice Lumumba, the anti-colonialist who fought for Congo's independence from Belgium and was assassinated for his troubles.

He remains a martyr for his radical e?orts and revered in Russia as a communist sympathizer. The name of the university has since changed to "People's Friendship University of Moscow" to shed the radical connotation of Lumumba.

While Victoria [Windsor] and I [Micheal Hastings] were researching the Columbia [University] discrepancies we got a lead that Barry had been in Moscow during the years 1981-83 at Lamumba.

["Barry" being BHO or Harrack Obama Jr.]

I was skeptical. Something this big surely would be splayed everywhere in our underground conservative online news outlets. I went to the PLU website and clicked on "Famous Alumni."

At the top of the list was Mahmood Abbas, President of the Palestinian Authority, or better-known as Chairman of the terrorist organization the Palestine Liberation Organization (PLO). It was the second name on the list that rocked me to my core: Barry Soetoro, President of the United States. I swear on all things holy that it was there. I saw it and Victoria took a screenshot on her computer.

Glory Ann and Victoria Windsor were Kings Daughters under the Prince Edward Maria von Trapp playboy era.

Sidney Gottleib knew of these two family lines, and when my father and mother were having DNA and fertilization testing during above ground atomic blast testing, some of the Glorian DNA was used for Twins studies including Mark and Scott Kelly, Ed Donegan Barrack Obama Jr, and others.

Its operation included Tom Donegan hiding the pictures, mitochondria, and loving nature of my mother over years and making her seem paranoid, schizophrenic, lonely, etc., and not a popular fun loving person. CIA operatives Donald Barr and his son William Pellham Barr are tied to reproductive claims and genome, tied to the financial element of a bankruptcy court settlign clams against Ed Donegan through his mother's asset, biological rights included and this ties to Human Brain studies, the DARPA Brain Program, and the Jeffery Epstein Virgin Island brain research center which he, Jefferey Epstein may have revealed if he was not found dead in his cell

4. This ties to MKULTRA and the Manhattan Project and nuclear war studies by DAPRA, CIA, and others as options were explored like Mutual Assured Destruction deterrent to nucelar war (Robert MacNamara during JFK years) or other options and considerations to the cause and fighting of wars. This was run out of Columbia University, tied to

Barrack Obama, and tied to Micheal Hatings, Columbia University New York City overlooks Manhattan Island and have the government research projects including PEGASUS written about by Andrew D. Basiago DARPA Future Battle which is quoted in this book

5. This ties to JFJK murder and other murders and assassinations as leadership genes long tracked by MKULTRA including out of wedlock celebrity DNA was used for sleeper agents in the war for regime change in Cuba, Hawaii, Indonesia, Korea, Vietnam, Tehran, and elsewhere including Middle East North African and Operation 40 to gain control of Mid East MENA airport connected locales for securing oil supplies.

6. This ties to JFK and his unwillingness for mass usage of the these experimental programs

7. This ties to missionary work in which Trinity Baptists, Herman Edward Butts of HEB, and others with the Catholic Church and Anglican Church and Mossad built a plan for regime change and stabilizing the Mid East and DNA from the Donegan family under study in the Manhattan Project has been part of that program.

Immediately prior to his death, Hastings had published a strong critique of the Obama administration titled "Why Democrats Love to Spy on Americans," which exposed the party's hypocrisy regarding some of the civil liberty overreaches they had criticized under Bush but embraced under Obama. San Diego 6 News reported that Hastings had been investigating CIA Director John Brennan for an upcoming exposé prior to the crash.

I believe the more real story yet is that Franz Kutschera, the Austrian Nazi Propoganda official who encouraged her orphand niece to sing Nazi propaganda was in fact coaching Maria Kutschera, and she upon arrival in London had out of wedlock daughters in 1926 with Prince Edward of Wales, to become King Edward VIII, the King of somewhere I had been named after, I thought a Belfast area of Ireland, County Donegal and on my father's side.

A wonderful brilliant woman. She like I underwent violent hate crime stalk during the duration of her life and the outcome of her life like the outcome to my life, trapped in homeless shelter as if I were a buttocks photographer sex offender - without job opportunities - is a result of CIA FBI NSA US Marshalls stalking both watching and claiming (while denying) our good genetics.

This I think what the OECD FBI CIA DARPA Missile command Space Council espionage system of Dan Coates DNI Underground Railroad, secretive railroad, of genetics denied to the world actually exist [since of course according to Free Masonry all genetics are equal to begin with why would Ed Donegan or Glorian Donegan by any better as studied long term?

Glorian Dongan and I have spent our full lifespans since the 1980s trapped in decaying homes running from window to window and simply old and faiding relationships rather than be able to be in public and hgarrassing abd abuive street theater emerging around us.

"I should have been a dancer!" she would say as she danced some steps around in the kitchen waving her arms.

She talked of growing up poor on the farm and making clothes from sacks or old cloths and that was fine so long as they were kept clean, not like old or dirty clothes.

It looks now like she was a daughter to Maria Von Trapp, at first Maria Kutschera. Maria Kuschera was a niece of an abuse Austrian Nazi official who had Borderline Personality Disorder like symptoms, volatile emotions or at least passionate ones.

The ADHD like gene that runs in that area is like one chamber in a guns revolver cylinder not working in the Executive part of the brain causing some spontaneity not like Bipolar, from long periods one way to long periods the other, but a regular ADHD state of slightly impulsive, perhaps even charismaticly so.

Maria Kutschera had been used by Nazis for propaganda, Nazi propaganda, and she was taken in as a novitiate in an Austrian Catholic convent where she as a novitiate was ask to assist the widow Captain Von Trapp, a resister of Nazis.

In 1926 the Von Trapps were in London where they may have finally wed however also that year they performed for Edward Prince of Wales, a Windsor from Wales thus inline to become King. Edward Prince of Wales later King Edward VIII appears to have had out of wedlock children and Glorian was among the "King's Daughters" the English Royal Family, Catholic Church, and Sidney Gottlieb relocated into the United States of America farm of Festus Gainey.

Sidney Gottlieb as a speech therapist working with the spasmodic speech tendacy of ADHD and also close with the British Ambassador Joseph Kenney, father of John F. Kennedy and it is Cape Cod Massachusetts these families came together.

I come from a good family, studied extensively, and now our DNA on the black market especially if I die or wills or Glorian or I are hidden or faked under others control and benefit

Somewhere someone else will say they are Ed DOnegan or authorized to act on my behalf will agree to allow usage of my DNA and the media will not out the fraud of this tied to long term CIA programs and research such as the Esptein VI Brain Foundation.

A signature affixed to something does not constitute and agreement. I learned that from my father. An offer which is clear must be extended to a person, that person consider the terms, and then agree to them or not. The agreement would then exist until its terms are executed or breached priot to completion.

I do expect to die in an institution who will under "the circumstances" manage me and my assets.

Those circumstances being that sham or shell identity from uwanted behavioral health called "Ed Donegan incorporated," a Dopple (accountancy brand confusion mistakable for me will realize assets created by Ed Donegan, thus Ed Donegan will not be of worth in creating or generating assets by financial view, but the dopple who does realize the assets actually generated by Ed will squander the assets Ed accumulated and squander them in the idenity of Edward Donegan.

Unwanted religious care is even more offensive.

Not a legitimate use of the NDAA or CIA Secret Kill Lists

Asset transfers of Edward Paul Donegan's work production to the accounts of others where the valuation is placed is not legitimate NDAA asset seizure.

Cognizance of guil by those shell identities of Ed Donegan attempting to create confusion that htey are Edward Donegan are the source of illegitimate conduct and the acts which are pretexts of loss of Edward Donegan's assets to squander or seizure.

This is not my conduct, which was legitimate activity which lawfully and with bard work produced the legitimate assets wrongly transferred into the look like account of squanderer of asset and of wrongful conduct such as squanders activities which get assets seized into the control of asset managers, I call these corrupt actors Cartels acting under color of law to manufacture the claim to assets under asset seizure which are not subject to asset seizures unless predicate acts or manufactured to seize lawfully held and created assets, and unwanted cause or religious control the asset assets allowing themselves to self enrich from positions of power over the person who is under management.

Ed Donegan fake shell legal entity of Ed Donegan is not a real account of Ed Donegan, but when improperly slid Ed Donegan's assets including assets of Glorian's will and work product gain of real Ed, real Ed without wealth will fall to his death in poverty and street fights, until unable to realized profits in his life, he will come under asset management, probably in a mental health unit and by social workers.

Thus the property of Glorian Donegan is or Ed Donegan is not realized by either, and unwanted religious or trust fund conservancy soak way both the original assets of Ed and Glorian and any future assets Ed creates, later credited to Fake Ed and thus not seen as gainful result of Ed Donegan work result.

The conditions created for Ed Donegan are hostile and abusive, meant to defile and degrade him publicly, and do so such that in the dehumanized and weekend state malicious actors can gain from a position of power from him what they envy and want, and deny it to him and his mother.

That the tools of Espionage used does not make it non corrupt use of espionage tools. Every cop on a beat can be dirty and shake down the law abiding if they want something from that person.

More family history and how our good family was under the microscope by admiring observers

My father James Paul Donegan Irish resident of Cape Cod joined the Army Air Corps as a P-51 plane pilot, B-29 escort, some fighters to protect the atomic bomb dropping B-29s, my father flying the North American P-51 Inglewood Los Angeles (Manhattan Beach California near Santa Monica) Manhattan Project WW II atomic SIMI Valley proving ground of the bomb, the “gadet” and the plane compliments which would deliver the bombs.

The CIA Speech Therapist Biologist Sidney Gottlieb was close to this all. He worked with the speech defect this ADHD form created, a gene now called the FOXP2 LONDON KE FAMILY gene I have, a KE VIII out of wedlock descendent, and also Sidney Gottlieb worked on other bio sciences such as biological weapons, assassinations, and overthrows, and he would utilize illegally genome from Glorian Donegan, and alongside my birth of these dates, a secret half twin created for study in Twins Study by the CIA during the post racial war ongoing racial strife 1961.

February 20 fertilization, Cape Cod JFK being informed, November 18 birth, Dec 13 my mothers birthday and her fertility and Aug 4, the day of Sidney Gotlieb owns birthday who oversaw creation of a Twin, and called that Twin's birthday Aug 4, and that twin was Barrack Obama, and later twins by NASA DARPA CIA included Mark and Scott Kelly and many other twins combinations is secret long term brain research and also with those twins grooming them as CIA backed sleepers.

The CIA does not want my DNA from my mother traced to me since it is in others and I think ongoing CIA assassinations and targeting of me and my mother during our lives is a CIA NASA DARPA NSA hope my own DNA and DNA rights will soon be gone and forgotten to the world and not identifies as a "beneficial" set of brain genes, unlike those in current social CIA backed leadership families.

There had been some shadowy group referencing her vaguely and I thought it was European Jews who I am quite fond of and in the course of researching this book I think it more likely Middle Easterners angry at British Imperialism in the Middle East, suppression of the Middle East, puppet governments in the Middle East, and robbed profits from the Middle East, the Royal Family of England at work much like East Indian Tea Company history, and much of this 1961 oil business masonry business tied to Rockefeller and Bush families of of Dallas Texas, Little Rock Arkansas, and the MENA Middle East North Africa airport of Howard Hughes Oil Drilling, TWA, and more.

This book goes into the Minnesota Twins Registry and Adoption Studies of personality and life stories of twins raised apart and I speculate I am an Obama half twin through the use of Glorian Donegan ovum the ovum of my white mother.

Eugenicists are trying to build UP the Black side of Obama in Eugenics

(whether you accept Malcom X or Barrack Obama Sr. as the father of Obama Jr.)

and they are trying to harass DOWN the white side of Barrack Obama Jr. (whether you accept “Stanley” Ann[a] Dunham or Glorian Donegan as the white mother of Barrack Obama Jr.)

and this is why I have been harassed all my life by the DARPA Brain Program including as Obama further increased its scope.

> The Minnesota Twin Registry was established in 1983.[2] Its original goal was to establish a registry of all twins born in Minnesota from 1936 to 1955 to be used for psychological research. Recently, it has added twins born between 1961 and 1964.

> Gregor Mendel: “Children resemble their parents ” (Such as Glorian Donegan.) Through his work on pea plants, discovered the fundamental laws of inheritance. He deduced that genes come in pairs and are inherited as distinct units, one from each parent. Mendel tracked the segregation of parental genes and their appearance in the offspring as dominant or recessive traits. He recognized the mathematical patterns of inheritance from one generation to the next. Mendel’s Laws of Heredity

> The Sibling Interaction and Behavior Study (SIBS) is a study of >600 adoptive and non-adoptive families.[1]

> The adoption study design allows one to disentangle the environmental and genetic influences on a phenotype, including psychological phenotypes.

This book holes Understand Tom Donegan's Role in denying The Goods (valuable genome) existing in Glorian or Jim DNA line, and using a Behavioral Health Care trap to gain control of, study, and launder the value of the "goods" to others, or at least create an asset seizures cover story of how, without permission, the genome is others including those calling themselves "little brown princesses."

An impersonator of me will authorize DNA under blackmail of exploiting minors, and those representing those allege victims claim to be authorized to use Glorian's DNA as payment for what seems harms I have done to others.

The claims I have harmed others, or that Tom Dunham has harmed others, are false and not agreed to by me.

- To Get the Goods onto Repugnant Black Market for biology
    - Deny to me or her Glorian the Goods exist or existed.
    - Get control of the Goods by a fake claim to protecting the GOods via management aka a Conservancy, for instance, the will of Glorian Donegan which did not include the Goods but if created can money launder the Goods.
    - then under sham legal moves such as wrongly pre-texted asset seizures get the goods available for usage via mechanisms of money laundering > confusion and switching between accounts of individuals moving credits and debits around with dummy accounts to create a verifiable balance sheet [because accounting was denied the true asset possessor the anihalating libilities and expenditures of an imposter will not be detected in any way]

Accounting fraud is critical. Set up BLIND conservancy which will not accurately nor specially report the liabilities, assets, or transactions under which the Goods are recognized in value and used as value. This is achieved by an unwanted unneeded conservancy which imposes itself to solve a problem it created, also called a Protection Racket which also used accounting fraud during the money laundering racket.

This Racket which depends on unwanted and hostile conservatorship of my mother and I is based not on today's needs for anyone, but weaponzing hostile acts towards me which a compounding record of damages my life and legitimizes the work of MKULTRA as claiming my genome rights or my mother's genome rights when rights to that never existed.

Hostile acts towards me and the wills of my father and mother and myself are the desperate and defiant acts of those who do not wish to admit error and come clean on the illegal operations; rather, instead, hoping additional acts of fraud can normalize, legitimize, and create a false appearance of what the reality of the matter really is.

In short I was born to Glorian and James Donegan in the P-51 side of the 509 Composite Bomber Group, the first nuclear bomber flight wing.

It is alleged that Barrack Obama has a white side mother of Mrs Dunham, Daughter of Madelyn Lee Payne [Dunham] and Stanley Armour Dunham of the Boeing B-29 Stratofortress nuclear bomber from Wichita Kansas that my father was flight escort to in the P-51.

The recieved the order to bomb Japan on Aug 4. That is Obama Jr, President Obama's birthday. He notes as far as my research (thin on this matter and second hand) that his white parents had a brother tied to the liberation of a Nazi death camp. I have not heard him mention or seen record of mention his white side parents worked on building the B-29 Bomber or that they were caught trying to pass the plans to German Nazi intelligence.

It is in this story the history of Glorian, The Vatican, and CIA comes into play. I was born under atomic testing in 1961, my father have been exposed to above ground nuclear blasts in Nevada, and his DNA watched.

It wasn't just his DNA. His wife, my mother GLorian, was out of wedlock Windsor Kustchera, Maria Kutschera who became a Singing Von Trapp, abonded Nazi propoganda shows, and fled to London and was among King Edward VIII and Maria Von Trapps out of wedlock children.

That secret history, of European Sovereigns, singing, and propaganda was her ovums piece in twins study. Along with me and my lousing speaking and writing, her, Glorian's Ovum was used with Malcom X in the same February 20 1961 fertilization study and I thik with Malcom X spren and carried by Eva Ban.

I am the P-51 side of Glorian Donegan history on Nov 18 1961 birth. Barrack Obama is said to be of the B-29 part of the 509th Composite Bomber Group story, with an August 4 Bday as his white mother moved to Hawaii.

I think the Hawaii USA piece is a cover story, and possible CIA planted birth record in Kenya was a possible fake document placed by the CIA if they need Obama as a sleeper agent in Kenay or elsewhere.

I think he is really a half brother of me, my mother's DNA continues in other white and non white lines, and a paper record, based on forgeries, is being created to explain that DNA trail, and the death of Judge Roll could be tied to the need to cover up that hisotyr of the 509 Composite Bomber Group story and CIA DARAP NASA history.

Was there a motive for a crime robbing what GLorian Donegan willed and left?

Tia Marsilli has an autistic child and a fund raising an advocacy company the Autism Institute she was the principle in and her child a beneficiary of that institue she ran with Arc of Northern Virginia. She need rights to GLorian's genome and created or went along with the protection racket to rob me of assets for me denying them to me and using them for others and also slandering me as an Alt Right person not sympathetic to the retarded or autistic.

She was in no way a dissenterested financial operator of these funds, she was personally needy.

Wherever I went, wherever I had lodging, an illegal espionage operation called a Gangstalk, organized crime by law enforcement and recruits, would create harmed children crime scenes alleged to me which would reviecve compensation from my trust fund.

For this to work Tom Donegan need to keep me out of normal community people and employment Austin Texas and into fake claims of minorities and gays who oppose Establishment Whites, the area of Nueces Texas.

This asset Seizures Kill List of fake claims against me could protect long term missuses of my genome including in Obamas by seeming to legitimize the usage of my genome, under law suit, while also ostracizing me to normal society where my genome would be used by me in racial choices I would make and that might show up on family databases as a close match to the Obama family or other families which I did not agree to genome claims too.

Is this the very highly placed Jeffery Espstein Brain Genes cartel? Follow the money through racketering and moneylaunder though the FBI is IMPEDING that,

When groups band together to control the supply of a product for their best interests, that's called a cartel. If you and the other kids running lemonade stands form a cartel, you can force up the price of lemonade.

The word cartel originally referred to political parties that joined forces to promote a common cause. Over the years, cartel took on a decidedly negative connotation, and now it's more likely to describe organizations that join together to limit supply of a product to force prices to remain high. You might read about an international drug cartel or a cartel of natural gas producers. To correctly pronounce the word cartel, put the accent on the second syllable: "car TEL."

1. noun. a consortium of independent organizations formed to limit competition by controlling the production and distribution of a product or service synonyms: combine, corporate trust, trust

Examples

1. Medellin cartel

a drug cartel in Colombia; controlled the production of cocaine from the 1970s until 1993 when the leader was killed

2. Cali cartel

a drug cartel that seized control of cocaine production in Colombia in 1993; adopted techniques used by terrorist organizations (small cells and sophisticated communications equipment and close ties with politicians etc.)

The Medical State usage: Jeffery Esptien VI (Virgin Island) Brain Foundation along with the British are running large scale billions or trillions in racketeering and money laundering and blackmail based shakedowns.

It is my belief at the time I tried to free myself of Tom Donegan and Mark Wierness who sought control of my genes rights including brain genes Rikki Epstein possible kinfolk of Jeffery Epstein was moved in to the Retarded Children funds management firm (Advocacy for Retarded Children of Northern Virginia.

Described me as retarded gave them access to my brain genes they could use as payouts and monetize to their advocacy work beneficiaries and workers just so long as they deny my genes have value to anyone, deny that to me. The genes gets seized after a White Supremacist, me is given child porn (he doesn't want) and later his cell phone will be found, actually an impersonators cell phone, and genes rights are monetized in “pay up to the community and victim” restitution shakedown lead by an anti white nationalist District Attorney and Religious red state with long illegal access to my genome trying to make access to my genome appear legal

Types

1. drug cartel

   an illicit cartel formed to control the production and distribution of narcotic drugs

2. oil cartel

   a cartel of companies or nations formed to control the production and distribution of oil

Types of: consortium, pool, syndicate an association of companies for some definite purpose

Uncle Albert and Admiral Halsey Hands Across The Ocean (Wings Song)

World War I or the First World War (28 July 1914 - 11 November 1918), often abbreviated as WWI, was one of the deadliest global conflicts in history.

Forestall went to work as a bond salesman for William A. Read and Company (later renamed Dillon, Read & Co.) in 1916. When the US entered World War I, he enlisted in the Navy and ultimately became a Naval Aviator, training with the Royal Flying Corps at Camp Borden and Deseronto in Canada.[6] During the final year of the war Forestall spent much of his time in Washington, at the Office of Naval Operations while FDR was Undersecretary of the Navy and tied to Joseph Kennedy Sr.

Fore River Shipyard was a shipyard owned by General Dynamics Corporation located on Weymouth Fore River in Braintree and Quincy, Massachusetts. Joseph Kennedy Sr managed the plant during WWI working closely with Undersecretary of the Navy FDR.

After Halsey's service on Missouri, Halsey served aboard torpedo boats, beginning with USS Du Pont in 1909. Halsey was one of the few officers who was promoted directly from ensign to full lieutenant, skipping the rank of lieutenant (junior grade). Torpedoes and torpedo boats became specialties of his, and he commanded the First Group of the Atlantic Fleet's Torpedo Flotilla in 1912 through 1913. Halsey commanded a number of torpedo boats and destroyers during the 1910s and 1920s.

At that time, the destroyer and the torpedo boat, through extremely hazardous delivery methods, were the most effective way to bring the torpedo into combat against capital ships. Then-Lieutenant Commander Halsey's World War I service, including command of USS Shaw in 1918, earned him the Navy Cross. (Use of Whitehead Torpedos)

The Assassination of James Forestall Using primarily information provided in the Navy's official investigation of the death of America's first Secretary of Defense, which had been kept secret for 55 years, The Assassination of James Forrestal thoroughly demolishes the widely believed view that Forrestal's fall from a 16th-floor window of the Bethesda Naval Hospital on May 22, 1949, was an act of suicide. Although he was skeptical of American involvement in World War I, Kennedy sought to participate in wartime production as an assistant general manager of Fore River, a major Bethlehem Steel shipyard in Quincy, Massachusetts. There, he oversaw the production of transports and warships. Through this job, he became acquainted with Assistant Secretary of the Navy Franklin D. Roosevelt.

I think in this circle of of military industrialism the Maria

Kutera children were born in the USA likely between her leaving the Convent in 1926 and her marriage to Captian Von Trapp 1927.

Boston Navy Yard and the "Great War," 1914-1918

https://www.nps.gov/articles/bny_wwi.htm

by David Hannigan, Park Guide

At the turn of the 20th century, the Boston Navy Yard (now known as Charlestown Navy Yard) entered its second century of service by embarking on its first major expansion since the Civil War. This growth was in line with the goals of President Theodore Roosevelt's administration, which wanted the United States Navy to expand and modernize, heralding the emergence of America as a world power. In Boston several new buildings and a second dry dock were built to meet the demands of the growing fleet that it served.

Shortly after the outbreak of World War I in August 1914, President Woodrow Wilson declared that the United States would remain neutral. It would become the navy's job to protect the nation's neutrality at sea and at home by stationing destroyers at Boston Navy Yard.

In the aftermath of the sinking of the RMS Lusitania in May 1915, President Wilson sided with the growing number of advocates of military preparedness who sought to protect America's interests at home and abroad. As part of the preparedness movement, Wilson called upon Congress to authorize the construction of over 150 warships. With the passage of the Naval Act of 1916, the Boston Navy Yard prepared for an increase in the number of ships built, outfitted, and repaired at the facility.

Throughout the war years, many of the yard's older buildings were renovated or replaced, while several new buildings were erected, including a massive general storehouse. An inclined shipway, where vessels could be built and launched, was constructed and towering hammerhead cranes were erected after the Navy Department selected the Boston Navy Yard for the construction of the first ship specifically built to carry supplies and provisions for overseas fleet replenishment. For the repair of smaller vessels, a marine railway was constructed between the yard's two dry docks.

As preparations intensified, the number of workers at the yard increased dramatically, growing from approximately 2,500 to 4,400 skilled and unskilled laborers by 1917. This workforce would come to include a number of women who filled a variety of roles from clerical workers to manufacturing assistants in the yard's ropewalk, which had greatly increased its production of cordage for the navy.

Destroyers ready for service at Pier 9 in the Navy Yard, circa 1916-1917 BOSTS 14934-13

By January 1917, the land war in Europe had reached a stalemate, prompting Germany to resume its campaign of unrestricted submarine warfare in an attempt to cut off Britain's supply lines and starve the country into submission before America joined the war. After the sinking of several American vessels with loss of life, the United States declared war on Germany on April 6 and rapidly began to mobilize its forces.

Immediately following the declaration of war, the United States Navy ordered Destroyer Division 8 to assemble at the Boston Navy Yard and prepare for deployment to European waters. Six destroyers departed Boston on April 24, 1917 and arrived at the British naval base at Queenstown (Cobh), Ireland on May 4. A second group of destroyers left Boston on May 7 to join in escort duties and patrol for German U-boats. Thereafter, the port of Boston and its navy yard would become one of the principal points of departure for troops, arms, and supplies to Britain and France.

Though the Boston Navy Yard would build a number of support ships during the war, the Navy specifically assigned the yard the task of repairing warships and support vessels. Equally important, the yard oversaw the outfitting and commissioning of a steady stream of warships built by private shipbuilding concerns. These would include destroyers and submarines constructed at Bethlehem Shipbuilding Corporation's Fore River Shipyard and its Victory Destroyer Plant, both located in Quincy, Massachusetts.

In addition to readying and repairing warships, workers at the Boston Navy Yard also outfitted ships of the American Merchant Marine with armament provided by the federal government. Boston also converted, fitted out, and commissioned former cargo carrying merchantmen and passenger vessels that had been purchased or leased by the Navy. The smaller and swifter vessels were converted for use in anti-submarine warfare and coastal patrol, while larger vessels were converted for use in transporting troops and carrying cargo. Perhaps the most complicated conversion work at the yard involved five German passenger ships that had been seized in American ports by the United States government after the declaration of war. Prior to the vessel's seizure, their crews had sabotaged the ship's' engines, necessitating extensive repairs before these vessels could be transformed into transports to carry troops and supplies from the United States to France.

CHAPTER SEVEN

The War Years

After my parole in December of 1942, I reported to my parole offcer, and was given virtually the same information, regarding my draft status; it would take special permission for me to re-enter the service. My PO advised me to get a job in a defense plant, if I was serious about doing my bit for the war effort.

In my naivete, I believed that I had paid my debt to society; overpaid, in fact, since I was not guilty of the charge of which I was convicted. Subsequent events shortly shattered my aspirations, beyond repair, as door after door was closed to me, because of the stigma attached to having a record. It was apparent to me that the vindictive head of the FBI had, for all intents and purposes ruined my life and this caused me to develop a corrosive skepticism.

I still had a tenacious hold on past ideals, which was diffcult to let go of. I was teetering, precariously, between a world that was lost, that only existed in my desperate aspirations - and the world looming on the horizon, unable to relinquish one; unable, therefore to enter the other. My reverence for the simplicity of the world, as I had perceived it, and my feeble attempts to recapture it, were discarded for all time, at that point, and, as I stated previously, the die was cast.

Finally, my sister, who worked for Bethlehem Steel suggested that I try to obtain work at Bethlehem's shipbuilding yard. I took her advice, moved to Baltimore, where she was living and where my mother was working in an aircraft factory,and spent the war years, working at the Bethlehem-Fairfield shipbuilding yard. I was employed as a time study engineer, doing time and motion studies of riveters, welders, burners and those other workers, who were paid on a piece rate basis.

While working in Baltimore, I honed my artistic skills and earned some extra money by doing anatomical drawings, mainly for textbook publishers, like Williams and Wilkins. I worked on the twenty fifth edition of Gray's Anatomy, and illustrated the works of such prominent scientists as Adolph Schultz, a noted anthropologist, and William Straus, who was the head of the Department of Anthropology at Johns Hopkins University.

This was drawn on mat board with India ink, a very laborious process, but extremely fascinating.

In conjunction with this massive drawing of prehistoric man, I did drawings of the three ethnic types of modern man, as well as the more primitive types, such as the Australian aborigines, the Bushmen from the Kalahari Desert and the American Eskimo. One of the finds, that had a fascinating history, was the fossil find, referred to as Eoanthropus Dawsoni,("Dawson's Dawnman"), after the barrister who foisted off this fake on the cream of the anthropological world such as Sir Arthur Smith Woodward, Sir Arthur Keith and other intellectual giants of the day. Charles Dawson was an amateur anthropologist, who actually co-mingled the skull of a relatively modern man with the mandible of a chimpanzee in the same geological strata.

I had spent many long hours drawing, not only the human skull, including the mandible, but also all of the great apes, as well. I could have drawn them in my sleep.

The mandible of the great apes, including the chimpanzee, articulates with the skull in an entirely different manner than does the human mandible. The great apes are unable to chew in a rotary fashion, as man does, due to what is called a post glenoid process that prevents them rom chewing other than in an up and down fashion. In man the bony knob on the mandible, called the condyle, slips out of its socket, during chewing, and on to a small plateau, called the articular imminence and rolls around in a rotary fashion.

Dawson knew this and he broke off the condyle, so that it was impossible to fit the jaw, which had the simian shelf, present in apes but absent in humans, to the skull. In their desire to find a valid specimen of pre-historic man in England, all of the greatest anthropologists of the day, such as Sir Arthur Keith and Arthur Smith Woodward, rushed to authenticate Dawson's find. It was a classic example of the wish being father to the thought.

After the war, I contacted Peter Licavoli, and he assigned me the task of looking into a situation that existed in Jacksonville Beach, Florida. The organization owned a bar there, run by an individual by the name of > Kite. The name of the joint was Kite's Bar and Grill. It was, in reality, the base of operations for the numbers business, which flourished in the Jacksonville area.

My Edward Paul Donegan Super Conspiracy Theory (Truther) also based on Wayne Madsen is that for world dominion by controlling satellite nations through dirty tricks and subversion from the outside by covert operations the USA and Great Britian (the nation of Great Britain mortally wounded as a true empire by WWII) conducted a Cold War strategy of coups de tat inside and outside the USA to prevent Communist Influences (and even independent non-aligned nations movements) form being a risk to the USA especially in regions like the Gulf of Mexico, the Carribean, Central Europe, and Pacific Islands.

The creation of some mixed-race sleepers for placement around the world in nations contested after WWII included Barrack Obama Jr. for Indonesia and that Donald Barr of the OSS CIA was part of setting that up with a figurine bookend near him in the whitehous holding an experiminatl monkey that matched EPD on the Donegan booksshelf a monkey holding a skull examining it sitting on books one visibly by Darwin.

I further theorize that pboto was taken when the Kennedy's returned from Los Angeles in the days following my birth and that I believe the real birthday and real soccial scurity number for Barrack Obama Jr are ssn 022-46-3234 the missiong number inbetween Tom Donegan and myself and that November 19 1961 was his real birth certificate following his November 18 1961 birth and two years later JFK was assasinated when Barrack Obama was two years old because it was being decided to place him or at least beging grooming him with fake backrounds from Marilyn Monroe or Malcom X possible cover-story parents that would allow him a celebtrity backed head stat in life but those celebrities turned agasin the CIA and become a risk to the CIA as did Martin Luther King who was also a risk the plan of British rule.

Stanly Ann Dunhum was an anthropology student set for Indonesia.

Well anyway here is something I once said to a guy in bar about anthropology and taxonomic rank. In biology, taxonomic rank is the relative level of a group of organisms (a taxon) in an ancestral or hereditary hierarchy. A common system of biological classification (taxonomy) consists of species, genus, family, order, class, phylum, kingdom, and domain. While older approaches to taxonomic classification were phenomenological, forming groups on the basis of similarities in appearance, organic structure and behaviour, methods based on genetic analysis have opened the road to cladistics. In his landmark publications, such as the Systema Naturae, Carl Linnaeus used a ranking scale limited to kingdom, class, order, genus, species, and one rank below species. Today, the nomenclature is regulated by the nomenclature codes. There are seven main taxonomic ranks: kingdom, phylum or division, class, order, family, genus, and species. In addition, domain (proposed by Carl Woese) is now widely used as a fundamental rank, although it is not mentioned in any of the nomenclature codes, and is a synonym for dominion taxonomy space.] A taxon above the rank of species has a scientific name in one part (a uninominal name). A species has a name composed of two parts (a binomial name or binomen): generic name + specific name; for example Canis lupus. Species is usually the lowest ordinal definition.

In biological classification, subspecies (pl.: subspecies sometimes also called Breed) is a rank below species, used for populations that live in different areas and vary in size, shape, or other physical characteristics (morphology), but that can successfully interbreed.[2][3] Not all species have subspecies, but for those that do there must be at least two. Subspecies is abbreviated subsp. or ssp. and the singular and plural forms are the same ("the subspecies is" or "the subspecies are").

In zoology, under the International Code of Zoological Nomenclature, the subspecies is the only taxonomic rank below that of species that can receive a name. The scientific name of a species is a binomial or binomen, and comprises two Latin words, the first denoting the genus and the second denoting the species.[5] The scientific name of a subspecies is formed slightly differently in the different nomenclature codes. In zoology, under the International Code of Zoological Nomenclature (ICZN), the scientific name of a subspecies is termed a trinomen, and comprises three words, namely the binomen followed by the name of the subspecies.[6] For example, the binomen for the leopard is Panthera pardus. The trinomen Panthera pardus fusca denotes a subspecies, the Indian leopard.[1] All components of the trinomen are written in italics.[7]

For CIA plans to interbreed Indirect Rule "Half Breeds" and Agents of Influence the OSS and CIA were experimenting with IVF and Eugenics allowed test tube babies be planted rather the fertilization by intercourse.

Now putting a part of my theory under the examination of data test could Holt and his CIA group like George H.W. Bush and Donald Barr have been working on this?

A DNA Conspiracy is tied to my family and it involves damaging allegations clearly fraudulent that pay-out into a covert operation similar to drug running, gun running, and other operations the US Government (CIA, FBI, Secret Service, other agencies like the State Departmnet, DIA, and US DOD) have engaged in around the world.

The allegations linked to me have to do with Mr. Rumph, often a violent black criminal with a hard-to-believe tie to Law Enforcement. Baffling as that is the actions of Mr. Rumph are fairly obvious. I will show from my photo archives he really emerged at least as visible to me in Texas in the Josephine and Leopard Street area of Nueces County Texas and the Salvation Army and other Gospel places of worship in that area.

When I was in true criminal trouble for the first time and thus entering federal custody (on a misdemeanor of harassing Freedom Of Information Officers by phone) I was told by inmate after inmate the dumbest crimal car-washer dropouts were the prison guards. I did not (and still not) see that in Federal Corrections Officers) but did see in loal deputies etv., I encountered later. Many were so ghetto I could not understand what they were saying. Those arrested were a crosscut of society including an elected federal judge I one shared a prison vell with. Those prisoners in the county system I had to ask for help finding out what the deputies in places like Alrington County Virginia were trying to say in ghetto dialect I did not speak. It is these people I think that want to become Four Hat elites leading the physical stench of their own worlds for gyms and Helga's Houe of Pain.*

* It was an elected judge I had as a cellmate who taught me the word Shpeardize, a system of citing common law precedents in legal briefs. He was under pscy eval for (it was being said) attempting use a shotgun to for a "shotgun divroce." As for Sheppardeize ane realising that it was the same thing as Backlinks of Natural Law journal aticles, they say the prison system is a teaching system that inmaets learn from.

The Four Hats were thugs from police forces very large people who went under-cover in mob cirles well dressed as if from drug profits. Miami Vice is based on the real story of the Four Hats of Los Angeles and asset seizures. That is easily researched on the web.

To understand who Mr Rumph is (the impersonator of me is) and who the Four Hats are (those who gain assets because Mr Rumph's actions make me liable for his acts that he took in my identity) you must first understand me Edward Paul Donegan.

I am a product of the 1960's and the Oldies on the radio when they were not Oldies. The Four Seasons and many bands like them. The days of American Grafiti and Wolfman Jack. And I was a child o the 1970s in Golden Gate Park during the Summer of Love living in the San Francisco Bay Area. And I lived there of the Pacific Northests (dropping acid and taking magic mushrooms and MDMA and Hash) during the 1980's and 1990's. I have with the times. I votes for Ronal Reagan and helf my nose at George H.W. Bush. I was a product of 1984 and 2014 and 2024, 2014 for Donald Trump and Broken Borders and the Fox News Business Channel. Some of that I belived earler like Pat Buchannad did Suicide of a Super Power and Anne Coulter did Mugged: Racial Demagoguery from the Seventies to Obama yet despite this I disliked the growth the executive branch and FBI programs so much I was torn between McCaine and Obama.

What Mr Rump wanted was the 1960's, 1970's 1980's and more from me. I had left those days behind but Mr Rumph was to step up to them and beat me out to them. This is not to say they are uninteresting to me, but in the repetoure of who I am they are the occaional Golden Oldie to me I still enjoy. Mr Rumph is being used as vehicle for others to cool it up and learn and be taught about music eras past to revitalize mostly religous culture that had not been a part of that.

Mr Rumph had not seen "the white parts" before, the parts of white women. It was being amde to look like I was Mr. Rumph. Actually Mr Rumph was always moved in near me and had similar apartment floor plans, etc., and was also at times claiming to be FBI SIS or other groups within the FBI. This Mr Rumph team was actually pushing around an olive skin or white skinned retarded dopple of me (Ed Donegan) in the dopple's quest to try and sneak a peek via bottom feeding of women in his vicinity. Caught by the FBI over and over again he would be willing to concede to allegations and fund protection racket and extortion based money laundering.

I had decided to leave for California from Texas but as I went through Santa Cruz, Monterey, San Francisco, and then Stay and Play the protection racket accelerated and became more lethal. At the same time my book rights and other works were being coopted and stolen by hte Protection Rackeet that was funding the smear of me.

Most "Targeted: people like me assert high level officials are destroying out lives in covert operations in order to save their own hides from their own ciminality thus we the TIs are getting impeached by smear campaigns.

Those smear campaigns keep sham investigations and racketeering profits in place as criminal not guilty of crimes are shaken down.

Citizen Posse Forms and the Evidence Emerging

Whilst the Government denied its own role of the recently elected to the presidency John F. Kennedy many private citizens began their own inquires have the reporting, legal, and other skill sets to do so.

Plausuble Deniability the CIA uses when the the Denials no longer are Plausible

Criminal conduct, blatantly criminal conduct of the worsts forms, hides behind veils in the hopes the illegal conduct will avert scrutiny and accountability. A former CIA officer wrote a book about dirty tricks used by the CIA, FBI and others but I haven't had time for it. My study of law has taught me much more including First Amendment (Free Speeach and Association in the USA) law as publicly available on many sites with annotations and explanations. Here is what I can tell.

Expressiev conduct often conveys a message. Knealing before somethign or someone, using lights and flashers, book burnings, salutes, and the like.

While the message implied by these acts are not stated they can be more clear than many statements that are made.

What expressive acts can veil is illegal messages, illegal because the contain death threats, harassing or abusive messaging meant to incite violence, be part of confidence tricks and faked appearances, etc.,

When statements are made they are for a while plausibly denied such a "I didn't mean for you to overheard that" or "I wasn't talking about you to you" though in fact the statement was fabricated for and intended for the person in listening range of it.

Often the abusive, contentious, threatening, harassing, and even revolting conduct of the harasser is intended for creating abusive hostile environments. In my case the "noise" of contentious actions towards me are directed at subverting my book writing and promoting illegal racketeering activities of illegal government programs order from and authorized by high ranking officials who have much to hide - from writers like myself who pursue their roles in what some term The Dee State.

One of the dirtiest tricks of all is when Government agencies and officials climb into bed with the worst of society and use those people (prison snitches, local criminal gangs or mentally ill violent schizophrenics, or those who can be tempted with corrupting offers) to become intermediaries for the government officials to act through.

The Who's Who of Conspiracy Theorists

Two separate threads of citizen-led inquiry begin when the US Government and Press Corps quickly white-wash the assassination of JFK.

Pen Jones Jr. begins "Forgive My Grief" books at the loss of JFK. He wants forgiveness for wanting JFK on this Earth (where Penn Jones Jr. last saw him at Dealy Plaza) rather than a heavily afterlife JKF deserved.

Penn Jones jr. has his own photos of Dallas police trying to cover-up evidence they know lead to a conclusion already predetermined. He will use his newspaper he owns and go broke following leads JFK was killed by elements of corporate America (especially Oil) and the CIA and even after he retires will public The Continuing Inquiry as more data emerges.

https://archive.org/download/ForgiveMyGriefPennJonesJr/Forgive_My_Grief_04.pdf

The Grief for Mark Lane (an attorney) and Emile de Antonia (A Harvard graduate film maker) are for Lee Harvey Oswald. "Rush To Judgment" was the film made of Mark Lane finding and formally deposing the witnesses who made up the Dealey Plaza crowd of spectators close to the events of the assassination that the Warren Commission would not call at all or sparsely questioned if at all.

Mark Lane's interest was in vindicating the patsy Lee Harvey Oswald who died in custody and was quickly convicted by the Press, Warren Commission, and the public.

The left an enormous record for history of the evidence the US Government (or States and Localities) ignored and made on the record forensically preserved statements from the witnesses that death-bed confessions of the CIA assassins now confirm.

As these and other Conspiracy Theorists openly hoped before they died one day in history, perhaps in the 2020's, the truth will finally come out.

I Edward Paul Donegan look forward to the 2023 re-release of Rush To Judgment and it would have been Chauncy Marvin Holt's wish for this to be re-released. While he was willing to risk his life in CIA fights against communists he said he wanted nothing to do with assassinating JFK, gives vilifying descriptions of William King Harvey, and himself, and confesses mostly so history will vindicate Oswald for his family and history, and history will finally know the truth about the USA and its scoundrel elite criminal deep state.

Mark Gorton and others will watch the financial trails. He suspects a large powerfull heavily funded Cabal exists of such vast wealth it can control whit Wikispooks terms Corporage Media (others call it Mainstream Media (MSM).

Mark Gorton and Micheal "Thomas Paine Moore (not the filmaker) and author of how we took down the FBI in our pajamas is also a financial analyst who also investigated an extensive deep state including ties to Epstein and ties to 9/11 and the Saudis.

Micheal Moore had worked as a Bank Auditor and the FBI and other law enforcement and corporate security following these trail until the FBI threaten has and his wife's life, Jen Moore with a assault rifle raid into their home on copyright matter.

Jen Moore was later found dead after writing and blogging about Ed Donegan and Glorian Donegan and the story of MKULTRA and OSS CIA history.

Jen Moore was explaining the my family was connected to the Allen Dulles plans for regime change in Latin America and the Kennedy assassinations, using explicit references to Allen Dulles and JFK but trhing to (as others did) to leave my family unnamed at the time she was filming our (Glorian and Ed) former home. It was not far from my brother Tom Donegan and Mark Weirness longtime home in Clarendon that Governor Tim Kaine had visited in person for some Democrat Party planning and activities as Kaine was on the short list to become the V.P Candidate for Barrack Obama Jr. (Biden later taking the slot.)

Ed Donegan and others assert the 9/11 Saudi ties realte to Bandar Bush (actually a Saudi Prince close to the Bush family thus refereed to as in the Bush family a close alley of the Bush family in oil business and Ed Donegan asserts (as others do quoted in his books) the Saudis funded The Manchurian Candidate and Ed Donegan asserts that these collective author statements of Barrack Obamna Jr groomed for the Deep State and this doen with Saudi involvement and funding is true.

Robert Groden works in an expert way piecing together the collected facts and was featured heavily in The Men Who Killed Kennedy linked to from my books Edward Paul Donegan and while at Dealey Plaza I had the privilege of meeting his wife on the Train-yard area where the sherrif's parking was, etc.,

Robert J. Groden (born November 22, 1945) is an American author who has written extensively about conspiracy theories regarding the assassination of U.S. President John F. Kennedy.

His books include The Killing of a President: The Complete Photographic Record of the JFK Assassination, the Conspiracy, and the Cover-up; The Search for Lee Harvey Oswald: A Comprehensive Photographic Record; and JFK: The Case for Conspiracy (shorter version than his 1975 co-authored book).

Groden is a photo-optics technician who served as a photographic consultant for the House Select Committee on Assassinations.

A harsh critic of the Warren Commission, he also testified at the 1975 United States President's Commission on CIA activities within the United States (sometimes referred to as the Rockefeller Commission).

James Farrell Marrs Jr. (December 5, 1943 - August 2, 2017) was an American newspaper journalist and New York Times best-selling author of books and articles on a wide range of alleged cover-ups and conspiracies.[1] Marrs was a prominent figure in the JFK assassination conspiracy theories community and his 1989 book Crossfire was a source for Oliver Stone's 1991 film JFK.

He began his career as a news reporter in the Dallas-Fort Worth-Arlington metroplex and taught a class on the assassination of John F. Kennedy at University of Texas at Arlington for 30 years. Marrs was a member of the Scholars for 9/11 Truth.

Jim Marrs participated in many forum's conferences an lectures given by himself and as a welcome and utilized guest at other forum I have referenced in my book inluding in Dallas 2015 summit.

He himself or another reporter had seen the Carbanno rifle with no discernible prints put into the cold dead hands of Lee Harvehy Oswald so Oswald could be blamed. There are horse thieves, and even worse, FBI, and it was the FBI that dun it right in front fo witnesses.

Film maker Olive Stone picks up Jim Mars and Col Fletcher's extensive work on the assassination that become a credible blockbuster conspiracy theory movie.

Jim Mars like Penn Jones Jr. and the Mark Lane and Emile de Antonio pair making the film Rush To Judgment> began to notice the strange deaths of witnesses. It was them pursuing statement from them on camera and in depositions often filmed but that witnesses like Jean Hill were afraid and being terrorized and misquoted by the FBI or dying off before or shortly after making statements the Citizen Posse were taking.

In 1967, a documentary film based on Lane's book was directed by Emile de Antonio and hosted by Lane. Rush to Judgment (4K Remaster) - Trailer

In 1966, the documentary "Rush to Judgment" presented for the first time a simple, concise legal argument that the Warren Commission was hiding something, suggesting a broader conspiracy. Lee Harvey Oswald could not have single-handedly killed President John F. Kennedy.

Director Emile de Antonio and lawyer Mark Lane recorded unpolished, first-hand interviews from witnesses with direct proximity to the murders-but who were not given a platform in the official inquiry. For a subject that has been rehashed and sensationalized so many times in the intervening 60 years, this documentary brings fresh clarity and presents a cool-> headed argument that is untouched by time. In cinemas November 22, 2023

Rush to Judgment became a number one best seller and spent 29 weeks on the New York Times best-seller list. Lane questions, among other things, the Warren Commission conclusion that three shots were fired from the Texas School Book Depository and focuses on the witnesses who had recounted seeing or hearing shots coming from the grassy knoll in Dealey Plaza. Lane questions whether Oswald was guilty of the murder of policeman J.D. Tippit shortly after the Kennedy murder. Lane also states that none of the Warren Commission firearm experts were able to duplicate Oswald's shooting feat.

You can't find away to a avoid the troubling matter of Lee Bowers Jr. He was in what amounts to the Air Traffic Control Tower of an airport, but here for controlling ground traffic in a two story 4 window all structure who observed the Oldsmobile Station wagon the Holt say they (the assassins) bought and drove from the CIA weapons center at Grace Ranch (were silencers were built, custom jobs from a firearms company in Goleta California did work for them, they were machinists at Grace Ranch Tuscon Arizona too working to modify salvage bomber, fights, and light personal planes.

Just after the statement was taken on camera by Mark Lane filmed by Emile de Antonia Lee Bowers Jr. dies alone in a single car accident.

There were too many of the stories of witnesses being ignored, misquoted, harassed, or dying thus the lists started forming.

[From the web site] J. Gary Shaw is a first-generation researcher and is considered an authority on the JFK assassination. A retired architect from Cleburne, Texas, Shaw began studying the case the day after it happened.

While still in high school, Gary and some of his classmates formed a “doo-wop” group and began singing back-up for a local rock singer by the name of Johnny Carroll. In about 1957 they performed together at the Texas Theatre in Dallas and it was at one of these performances that the group was introduced to Jack Ruby who had come backstage after the show and asked them to join the artist’s guild in Dallas.

The scuttlebutt in Dallas at the time was that Ruby was Mob connected. After Ruby shot Lee Oswald in the basement of police headquarters, Gary realized something was wrong and began collecting every newspaper, magazine and book he could find.

Later, Shaw met Penn Jones, Jr. of Midlothian, Texas. After reading Forgive My Grief, a self-published book by Jones, Penn sold Gary two complete sets of the 26 volumes and Gary was hooked. He began a close relationship with Penn and eventually began writing articles for Penn’s newspaper, The Midlothian Mirror. He became convinced beyond any shadow of a doubt that the true story of the assassination was not being told by the government and mainstream media.

Decades before the invention of the Internet, Gary traveled across America interviewing individuals directly connected to the case. Some of these are Dallas County Deputy Sheriff Roger Craig, Richard Carr, and Gerry Hemming.

In 1976, along with co-author Larry Ray Harris (1952-1996) published Cover-Up: The Governmental Conspiracy to Conceal the Facts About the Public Execution of John Kennedy. Later Shaw was an active member of the board of directors for the Assassination Archives and Research Center.

He also was co-founder/director with Larry Howard (1940-1993) and Bud Fensterwald (1921-1991) of the JFK Assassination Information Center in Dallas and headed up the Dallas ASK Conferences and a consultant to the movie JFK.

In 1992, Gary co-wrote JFK: The Conspiracy of Silence with Dr. Charles Crenshaw. Immediately after publication, the book was the number one seller of the New York Times list for paperbacks. The book was later updated and republished under the titles, Trauma Room One and JFK Has Been Shot. He was in the process of co-authoring a book about assassination in general with Bud Fensterwald when Bud suddenly died in 1991.

Shaw has recently provided PROJECT JFK / CSI DALLAS access to his large collection of assassination related photographs and color slides. Included in this series are early generation slides from Phil Willis, Wilma Bond, S. L. Reed, and Tina Towner. Each slide was scanned at 48-bit, 3200 dpi format, taken directly from the originals.

From 1983 to 1990, Mr. Edwards served on the department's counter-assault team.

His original research on the Zapruder film has been cited in several books: Assassination Science (1998); Murder in Dealey Plaza (2000); The Zapruder Film (2003) and The Hoax of the Century (2004). He is the co-author of Beyond the Fence Line and is currently working on his second book entitled, Lancer is Down: A Tactical Analysis of the Ambush in Dealey Plaza.

On November 17, 2017, he testified as an expert witness for the defense in the mock trial of Lee Harvey Oswald at the North Texas School of Law in Houston.

Edward Donegan (my own) experience reading J. Gary Shaw works. Shaw's use of deep analysis of the Welcome To Dallas ad placed through convoluted financing tied to a Rockefeller I think I rememebr was influential, the emblem of Free Masonry being connected (and I believe so as well) and most importantly and the true factor was the use of Hobo over Tramp.

That these people with nice shoes were disguised as Hobos to seem normal on the first layer makes sense, that they had BATF fire arms special agents fake badges if caught made second layer sense since they themselves said they were armed like Ninjas and now they had an excuse system for exotic weapons. Finally the third layers is they really were CIA teams.

The Statements from Persons of Interest to Each Other, to the Family, and to the Press

On 11/1 I called Austin Police Oversight about a money laundering program run harrassing me using dopples to confess under my identity to misconduct and paying into victim funds and protection rackets that I believe assassinated Jen Moore to preserve its existence.

ATX Police Oversight 2023-138 the death of Jen Moore

I have put multiple filings in under my writing email. All filings by Edward Donegan should be available by FOIA to Austin Police.

I noted to them by phone that in considering what is happening as far as this be JFK tied to make sure normal good police work is followed, being aware of statements Persons of Interest have made such as E. Howard Hunt to is son St. John Hunt, Charles Harrelson to a cell mate, Col Fletcher Prouty (whom I knew and was a fried of the Donegan's) made to the press and others, that my mother told to Jen Moore, and and that my father and mother told to me and was part of our life story.

In addition David Morales, William King Harvey and many others have gone on the record in many ways since 1963 including documents containing their names in declassified documents and documents ACCOUNTANT Chauncey Marvin Hold provided in the appendix of his book Self Potrait of a Scoundrel released in 2013-2014 that corroborates his 1997 on screen television broadcast interviews.

James Files have confessed, the all have as being part of the Nixon run MKLUTRA plan flowing out of 194 Averal Harriman plans.

The evidence is accumulating, it should be noted as a criminal matter and made urgent and exigent as newly avaialbe actionable intelligence on the safety and history of the Presidency.

https://jfkmurdersolved.com/ that is just being missed how much new evidence there is.

Anton "Tony" Chaitkin and Webster Griffin Tarpley had inside experience or their parents did on Averell Harriman and the Bush Crime family, and expert journalism by David Talbot on what amounts of the US Foreign Legion in Latin American combat (mafia recruiters now in an new life and identity for the CIA) help complete the context of it all.

One of my points all allong is Tippit, Oswald, FJK, possiblyi Ruby, JFK all were part of this in Texas whose Law Enforcement tell me they have no jurisiction and have even threatend me and harrased my book.

My point back to this as that both LBJ and The Bush Crime family are from Texas and Bush was at the scene.

Anton "Tony" Chaitkin and Webster Griffin Tarpley have written excellent book on how the Military Indusstrial complex that arose shortliy after WWi to cope with inustrial age war (War Industry Board) led to the Bush family fundedd in oil and military busiesses, and these businesses funded their own assasionations and control of nations.

Convergence

St John Hunt in defense of his deceased mother is now co-authoring with some of these other authors and I am trying to get my book synced from facts from his side he is providing and hope to get in conact from him.

This is what I see. E. Howard Hunt is the CIA fairly early. Holt is Mafia fairly early. They both are in the Guatamala overthrow in 1954, then in 1958 planing for Indonesia and Cuba begin. James Paul Donegan meets the other two in ATSUGI 1952 or earlier and all are under Prouty, Lansdale, Bissle Jr. Lovett, and others.

Ted Gunderson and Col Fletcher Prouty

Perhaps the most powerful figure in US Law Enforcement (far outranking Eliot Ness) was Ted Gunderson. He had better access to anyone (even more so than JKF) on the events of the assassination, the footprint of activity that utilized Marilyn Monroe, silenced Sonny Bono investigation the Mob, and contributed many other cover up theories.

I have recently contacted Palm Springs police attempting to inform them the Gun Runing CIA compound Bob Fletcher spoke of and was direclty connectd to (though not the Palm Springs facility) is in the sphere that Bono was investigation and communications were going back and forth between the two (Bono and Fletcher) and further in my books it is clear Bono, Peter Lawford and Patricia Kenendy and the Schrivers, Peace Corp, and otther tied to the CIA as it unfoled in events durign my Los Angeles birth exist as do the the connections to US Represetives work on commities investing both the mafia and CIA ties to WACO and other events.

James DiEugenio first became interested in history while at film school. Later he studied Contemporary American History from California State University, Northridge.

His first book, Destiny Betrayed (1992) took a close look at the Jim Garrison investigation of the assassination of John F. Kennedy. In 1993, he became a co-founder of Citizens for Truth about the Kennedy Assassination. The following year he was co-founder of the Coalition on Political Assassinations (COPA).

DiEugenio and Lisa Pease co-edited COPA's journal, Probe Magazine (1993-2000). DiEugenio is also the co-editor of The Assassinations (2002), a book that covers the deaths of John F. Kennedy, Martin Luther King, Robert Kennedy, and Malcolm X.

INTRODUCTION to A Lie Too Big To Fail written by Lisa Pease by James DiEugenio

INTRODUCTION by James DiEugenio

THE ASSASSINATION OF ROBERT KENNEDY IN LOS ANGELES ON

June 5, 1968, is perhaps the most ignored American historical milestone in the second half of the 20th century. In fact, virtually no historian recognizes it as such. Which is odd since it is clearly a marker in two ways. First, his murder climaxed a series of four major assassinations in less than five years. Preceding his assassination were those Of his brother President John Kennedy, Malcolm X, and RFK's friend and colleague

Martin Luther King. All four of these deaths were caused by gunfire, and were redolent with suspicious circumstances. It was impossible to delineate the truth about the actual facts pertaining to them since, in each case, a cover-up ensued almost immediately afterwards. In an earlier book, Lisa Pease and I co-edited an anthology from Probe Magazine called The Assassinations, which tried to demonstrate the commonalities between the four cases.

The second way in which Senator Kennedy's death is a watershed relates to the outline above. His murder marked the end Of an era: it was the premature death Of the Sixties. I do not mean that as pure numerology, but in the sense that, in June of 1968, Robert Kennedy represented the last great desperate hope for the social and political activism ofthat remarkable decade. When he was killed, it was killed. Or as Jean Genet reportedly said, "America is gone." It is diffcult to understand what that means unless one is old enough to have lived through the era. And fortunately - or unfortunately - I was. No feature film or documentary I know of has ever been able to encapsulate the energy, the idealism, the sense of empowerment that so manypeople felt from 1961 to 1968.

And Robert Kennedy - from the beginning - was right there in the middle of it.

RFK became the first Attorney General to rigorously enforce the Supreme Court's Brown v. Board decision, and the Civil o Rights Acts Of 1957 and 1960. He had planned on breaking the walls Of discrimination by using those legal tools to file civil actions showing that the states Of the former confederacy were circumventing federal law. TO do so, he hired dozens Of new lawyers in his civil rights department, and almost a score of researchers to secure data proving his charges. The Attorney General filed almost twice as many civil cases in 12 months as his predecessor had in eight years!

This was such a drastic change from the Eisenhower/ Nixon regime that it gave ballast to civil rights groups, and it inspired individuals to defy the status quo in the South. Why? Becauee they knew the Attorney General would do all he could to protect them. This was the case at the University of Mississippi with James Meredith, and at the University of Alabama with Vivian Malone. Robert Kennedy had Meredith escorted to and from class by two federal marshals during his student career at Ole Miss. Governor George Wallace brought in almost nine hundred state troopers to block Malone from entering his university. The Attorney General brought in General Creighton Abrams with three thousand federal troops. After that nationally televised showdown, it was Robert Kennedy who encouraged his brother to go on network TV to give his epochal civil rights address.

As John Bohrer notes in his book The Revolution of Robert Kennedy, the Attorney General understood that what he had done for the moral cause of civil rights had extracted a huge political price: He had lost the South for his brother's 1964 campaign. He therefore drafted a letter of resignation to remove the impact his legacy would have the following year. He did this on November 20, 1963. Therefore, his brother did not have the opportunity to act on it. But such is the stuff ofmoral and political heroism.

But it was not just on the domestic scene where RFK proved his mettle. After the CIA hoodwinked his brother into launching the Bay Of Pigs invasion, President Kennedy put the Attorney General on the White House panel to find out what went wrong with Operation Zapata. The experienced lawyer found that, as his brother suspected, the CIA had deceived the president. They had lied to him about its possibility Of success, and then banked on JFK ordering in the navy to avoid a humiliating defeat. When RFK confirmed this, with the advice of his father's friend Robert Lovett, the Attorney General recommended firing CIA Director Allen Dulles. But after listening to Lovett, the brothers went further and terminated the entire upper level of the Agency: Dulles, Deputy Director Charles Cabell, and Director of Plans Richard Bissell. When is the last time something like that happened? Who was terminated over the catastrophe of 9-11 ?

How accurate was Robert Kennedy about the Bay of Pigs? It's always nice for a prosecuting attorney to get a written confession.

As scholar Lucien Vandenbroucke later discovered in the Dulles archives at Princeton, Allen Dulles posthumously provided just that. In notes prepared for a magazine article, he admitted that such was his strategy: knowing the operation had little chance Of success, he wanted President Kennedy to commit American military forces into Cuba. In 1984, when Vandenbroucke published an article in Diplomatic History on the subject, Bissell also confessed to this hidden agenda.

As more than one author has noted, after this, Bobby Kennedy became one of the president's closest foreign policy advisors, going as far as serving as his back channel emissary during the Berlin Crisis in 1961, the Cuban Missile Crisis in 1962, and in the implementation ofthe withdrawal from Vietnam in 1963.

Because of his position as First Ambassador, RFK understood what his brother had been attempting to do after the missile crisis, which was to form a rapprochement with both Russia and Cuba. After his brother's death RFK conveyed a message to the Soviets that JFK's plan for relaxing tensions would have to be placed on hold during President Johnson's administration; but he himself would soon resign, run for political office and then the presidency, at which point it would be continued.

For reasons minutely explicated in this book, that did not occur. But the real point is this: when one adds to the above his nine years as a congressional chief counsel before he became Attorney General, and his three and a half years as a senator afterwards, was there a better post-World War Il candidate for president than Robert Kennedy? And if there was not, what does his loss represent to this country?

If the historians do not understand that loss, those around the event in 1968 certainly did. His funeral mass in New York was watched by over 100 million spectators via television. At that funeral, SDS leader Tom Hayden and Chicago Mayor Richard Daley both choked back tears. Jackie Kennedy had wept over his casket at a private wake, something she did not do over her husband's death. Two million people lined the railroad tracks to bid their final farewells as his corpse was transported back to Washington to be buried near his brother at Arlington Cemetery. When it got there, hundreds Of spectators from King's last crusade, the Poor People's March, came to pay their respects. As Arthur Schlesinger revealed in his biography Of Robert Kennedy, it was the senator who had given King the idea to bring the poor to Washington in order to force Congress to act. Which is one Of the reasons King had decided to endorse RFK over Eugene McCarthy.

Robert Kennedy was the buffer that kept people like Hayden and Daley from savaging each other; he was the inspiration that made students and peace activists believe the Vietnam War would now end, who made King think that once that occurred, he would finally get economic progress in addition to civil rights. It all came asunder at the Ambassador Hotel in June of 1968. We then saw the results in August in Chicago, where the Democratic Party unraveled and caused the election of the anti-RFK, Richard Nixon. Vietnam went on for four more years and expanded into Laos and Cambodia, the latter invasion provoking one of the worst genocides of the twentieth century. Thus the tragic arc ofthe decade was completed. It began with a Camelot period Of hope and ambition; after 1963 it shifted into the angry sixties Of Selma and massive antiwar demonstrations; after RFK, it dissipated into an escape into the drugs and rock music Of Woodstock.

But as Congressman Allard Lowenstein eloquently asked: Why did so many intelligent people accept Sirhan as the lone killer of Robert Kennedy? To the point that they could not imagine the solution being anything else?

Because the Robert Kennedy case became known as the Open- and-shut Case. After all, there were dozens of witnesses who saw Sirhan with a handgun firing at the senator from the front. Therefore he had to have been guilty. And this is the pretext the LAPD and the district attorney's office used to snap on the cover-up - for the public. But as this book reveals, there was a lot to conceal to make the Open and Shut Case appear credible.

But what Lisa Pease shows in even more careful detail was the fact that Sirhan Sirhan did not get anywhere near the defense he was entitled to. Contrary to what people understand it to be, Sirhan's trial was not about the question Of his culpability in the murders at the Ambassador Hotel the night Of Bobby Kennedy's electoral victory in California. It was really about the state Of mind Of the defendant at the time Of the shooting. As this book shows, Sirhan resisted this angle of defense. So much so that he said in frustration he had planned the whole thing for twenty years. From before he would have entered kindergarten, had he been in America then.

Sirhan never got a trial on his guilt or innocence in the RFK case. His defense team assumed he was guilty. In this they were worse off than the prosecution. At the book shows, they at least understood the problems with the evidence. Sirhan's lawyers never explored those problems.

As noted, the trial was really about Sirhan's state of mind at the time of the shooting. Therefore, psychologists were allowed to spend hours on end with the defendant. More than one person observed how easily Sirhan was hypnotized. All the psychologists who have examined Sirhan have noted how quickly and deeply he could be sent into a trance state. And also how resolutely he would deny he had been hypnotized once he snapped out Of it. The few people who studied the case began to reread the novel by Richard Condon (Condor) published in 1959, The Manchurian Candidate.

Having lived in Los Angeles for nearly four decades I understand that during most of that interval it has really been a one-newspaper town, dominated by the Los Angeles Times. One can measure the Times' honesty and credibility by what editor Shelby Coffee ordered his staff to do to the late Gary Webb's stories on the importation of crack cocaine into Los Angeles through dealer Ricky Ross. (Ifyou are not familiar with that episode, see the fine film Kill the Messenger.) At the time of the RFK murder, the Times was owned by the Chandler family. All one needs to know about that fact is that Harry Chandler was the model for the John Huston character in the classic film Chinatown. The scheme depicted in the film - the funneling Of water to the San Fernando Valley from the Owens Valley - actually occurred.

Thus the Times was instrumental in the defeat Of Upton Sinclair in his race for governor in 1934, and they backed Richard Nixon from the start Of his career. They had always been close to the LAPD, and they fell into line on the RFK case. But it was not just the Times. Ben Bradlee and the Washington Post also did what they could to discredit those who thought something was wrong with the evidence in the case. Because ofthis media cover-up, most ofthe public does not know very much about the evidentiary problems in the case.

This book makes a quantum leap forward, in both the explication of the crime and the cover-up. Lisa Pease has found new evidence that is too abundant to list here. Some of it no one even knew existed. Some of it surprised even someone as jaded as myself. On one key item, she called me up at night and told me to come down to the library she was at to see it. It was so exculpatory Of Sirhan that she thought it would soon disappear, and if so she needed someone to bear witness. I will not try to summarize the case presented here, but I will say this: if Sirhan ever got a new trial, this book could be used to set him free. I doubt a prosecutor would even bring a case once he examined its contents. Former California Attorney General and now Senator Kamala Harris would have been humiliated in court. Which explains why she resisted reopening the case.

Lisa Pease has labored long and hard on the Robert Kennedy case.

She has been researching in the archival documentation and calling witnesses for 25 years. She had to. When a cover-up is this systemic it makes it hard to get at the truth. And it is a shame that a private citizen with limited resources had to take it upon herselfto do so. As her book shows, the RFK case was never an open-and-shut case.

In fact, the Robert Kennedy case is more clearly a conspiracy than the John Kennedy case. As some have said: One does not need to commit the perfect crime to escape detection. One only needs to control the cover up. Which includes the mainstream media, which, disgracefully, is all too eager to tag along. Ms. Pease demonstrates that paradigm in a way that no other author has before. As I noted, the murder of Robert Kennedy was a milestone in American history. This book is a milestone in the literature on that case.

"Robert Kennedy's death, like the President's, was mourned as an extension of the evils of senseless violence; events moved on, and the profound alterations that these deaths … brought in the equation of power in America was perceived as random …. What is odd is not that some people thought it was all random, but that so many intelligent people refused to believe that it might be anything else. Nothing can measure more graphically how limited was the general understanding of what is possible in America.

~ Congressman Allard Lowenstein

Kennedys and King is the successor site to CTKA (formerly ctka.net).

CTKA (Sit-kah) was an activist group lobbying for full disclosure of all records relating to the assassination of President John F. Kennedy.

In 1993, in response to public outcry created by Oliver Stone's film JFK, Congress passed the JFK Act, a law requiring federal agencies to release all the remaining withheld evidence relating to the assassination of President John Fitzgerald Kennedy. While some pretend the case is closed, the case can never be closed so long as the documents pertaining to the assassination and the investigations that followed remain locked away from public scrutiny.

Citizens for Truth about the Kennedy Assassination was organized as a result of the April 1993 Chicago Midwest Symposium on Assassinations. At the end of that conference, it was generally decided that the time had come to create a political action group, which would urge the executive branch of our government to re-open the unsolved assassinations of the 1960s-i.e., the murders of President John F. Kennedy, Senator Robert F. Kennedy, and Dr. Martin Luther King. CTKA endeavored to ensure that the Review Board fulfilled its mandate to release all the remaining records pertaining to the JFK assassination; to amend the current Freedom of Information Act to render future covert actions more difficult to hide; and to urge the American people to discover the truth about their history.

CTKA formerly published Probe Magazine (1993-2000), and featured on its web site many of the articles which first appeared there, along with a continuous stream of new articles and reviews by numerous contributors.

Kennedys and King seeks to continue this mission of presenting the best in research concerning the political assassinations of the 1960s and their historical context.

Joseph Francis Farah (born July 6, 1954) is an American author, journalist, and editor-in-chief of the far-right website WorldNetDaily (WND). Farah gained prominence for promoting conspiracy theories surrounding the suicide of Vince Foster and is a proponent of birtherism, a debunked conspiracy theory that Barack Obama is not a natural-born citizen of the United States.

Early years

Farah was born in Paterson, New Jersey, on July 6, 1954, to parents of Syrian and Lebanese ancestry. His father was a schoolteacher. He graduated from William Paterson University, in Wayne, New Jersey with a B.A. in Communications.

Career

Farah worked for six years as executive news editor at the Los Angeles Herald Examiner until the paper shuttered in 1989.

On July 22, 1990, Farah became editor of The Sacramento Union. The paper had been losing up to $3 million annually, and in early 1990 it was purchased from Richard Mellon Scaife by Daniel Benvenuti Jr. and David Kassis. Farah and the paper's owners envisioned the paper as a conservative alternative to The Sacramento Bee. "We just thought the way to go was to be unabashedly conservative in our approach," explained Farah to The Washington Post. Among other things, Farah convinced Rush Limbaugh to write a daily column, which ran on "Page 1." Farah prohibited advertisement for films rated NC-17 in the newspaper.

In 1991, Farah left the Union and co-founded the Western Journalism Center. He writes a weekly print column for The Jerusalem Post which is nationally syndicated through Creators Syndicate.

He launched the online WorldNetDaily in 1997. The website has been categorized as far-right and is known for publishing unreliable or fringe material.

In April 2019, WorldNetDaily announced that Farah had suffered a stroke and would withdraw from the website's day-to-day operations until he recovers.

Promotion of conspiracy theories

Farah gained prominence for promoting conspiracy theories surrounding the suicide of Vince Foster.

Farah is a proponent of birtherism, the conspiracy theory related to Barack Obama's status as a natural-born citizen of the United States and resultant eligibility to serve as U.S. president, stating, "It'll plague Obama throughout his presidency. It'll be a nagging issue and a sore on his administration, much like Monica Lewinsky was on Bill Clinton's presidency" and "It's not going to go away, and it will drive a wedge in an already divided public." Despite the release of Obama's notarized birth certificate abstract, he continued to promote birtherism. Farah offered a $15,000 award for the release of the certificate, but did not pay the award after its release.

Personal life

He is married to Elizabeth Graham and is a conservative evangelical Christian. He has five children, including a daughter from a previous marriage to Judy Smagula, Alyssa Farah Griffin, who served as the Press Secretary for Vice President Mike Pence and later served as Deputy Assistant to the Secretary of Defense for Media Affairs and Press Secretary for the Department of Defense. - https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Joseph_Farah (ZEROHEDGE) – Internet search trends in the Washington, DC, metro area have been nothing short of stunning in recent weeks, reflecting what appears to be growing panic within the federal bureaucracy as President Trump and Elon Musk's Department of Government Efficiency (DOGE) root out corruption in non-governmental organizations (NGO) and federal agencies.

Earlier this week, internet search trends for "Criminal Defense Lawyer" and "RICO Laws" went viral on X, fueling speculation that Washington's political elites were in panic mode. The searches coincided with DOGE's efforts to neuter USAID's funding of NGOs that propped up a shadow government, as well as begin cutting tens of thousands of workers from various federal agencies.

Now, more suspicious search trends have erupted among DC residents as DOGE efforts went into beast mode at the end of the week. “Washington DC searches soar for “Swiss bank” (yellow), “offshore bank” (green), “wire money” (red) and “IBAN” (blue),” WikiLeaks wrote on X late Thursday.

Mark Gorton Identifies the Bush Led Deep State Cabal and the Media support of it

The US Deep state (USDS), in the 21st century, is a vital organ of the supranational deep state. It controls the US government, with its "über-dominant role in the global trade in weapons (frequently civil war removed and pure cash pure net gain when sold around the world)",the CIA, which dominates the global illegal drugs trade, the NSA and Silicon Valley (experts at global surveillance) and the businesses of Wall St. It interlocks closely with the UK Deep state, and is the best documented deep state on this website. - Mark Gorton [the stolen organ or organ rights market could be as high as 4 trillion Wikipedia black markets]

I have watched the police organize Enforcers, most of who (the assets used by Police) later "enforced" themselves. Police brag as to how many killer they have and sniper capabilties, etc., while trying to hide thier sexual corruption and orgy based human trafficking the drug business is used as lure and control-jacket for, blackmail and addiction, and profit center. - Ed Donegan

This illegal racket as part of Donegan trust administration is what Jen Moore was reporting on. These were the pallets of untracked cash Barry Seal was part of and silenced over.

Existing drug gangs used as mules for CIA activities infused to existing drug trafficking helps deny it was CIA activity. One key break for detection came when a drug running plane was shot down and the call for help went to the Geroge H.W. Bush whitehosue private line.

> 50 Years of the Deep State

The Enterprise

Ensconced in the Vice President office, Bush set out to build a criminal organization without parallel in US history. Many elements of this criminal organization later became known under various names:Iran-Contra, the Savings and Loan Scandal, CIA/DEA drug trafficking, HUD fraud, etc. However, the press reports either failed to comprehend or refused to report the common organization behind these crimes. Iran-Contra conspirator General Richard Secord called it "The Enterprise", and that term perhaps best describes the organization. The Enterprise was a massive 5000 person large hierarchical criminal organization with George H. W. Bush as its CEO.

The Enterprise was a multifaceted criminal conglomerate that ran a large number of criminal activities including: drug trafficking, arms trafficking, savings and loan fraud, securities fraud, oil and gas fraud, insurance fraud, and real estate fraud. Embedded within the national security infrastructure and protected from prosecution by corrupted enforcement agencies like the SEC, FBI, DEA, ATF, etc., The Enterprise embarked on a massive criminal romp.

Senior members of The Enterprise included William Casey, Richard Secord, Richard Armitage, Oliver North, John Poindexter, Edwin Wilson, Thomas Clines, Donald Gregg and Felix Rodriguez. During this time, the transition of the Cabal to an increasingly Bush family centered syndicate continued. Much like a mob family, the next generation of the Bush family was brought into the family crime business. Members of the younger generation of the Bush family specialized in particular types of fraud. George W. Bush's specialty was insurance fraud; Neil Bush specialized in real estate fraud; Jeb Bush was involved in a wider variety of frauds (banking, securities, real estate, oil and gas, gold bullion, and aircraft brokerage frauds).

As with all George H. W. Bush operations, The Enterprise served many purposes. The most obvious motive was pure greed. Billions of dollars were plundered in a wide variety of frauds and crimes. But more importantly, Bush and the Cabal needed to spread and perpetuate a criminal milieu within government. An honest government was an enormous threat to Bush and the Cabal. They had (and have) a never ending need to continue to commit more crimes in order to create new generations of criminals to maintain the criminal environment which protected them.

Crime was the Bush family business. Just as Prescott Bush inducted George H.W. to the criminal life partially to protect himself from exposure of his WWII era treason, fraud and theft, George HW committed his sons to a life of crime, so that the next generation would do their duty to protect their father and their family's criminal past.

The financial frauds conducted by The Enterprise were designed to implicate, enrich and entrap a huge swath of the political class in DC. Fraudulent securities or oil and gas deals were offered to friends to enrich them and enemies to entrap them. In some cases, enemies were suckered in with easy profits on small investments only to be bankrupted when larger fraudulent investments imploded. By the time that the Iran Contra scandal made the headlines, such a large number of congressmen and DC insiders were implicated that any attempt to expose the scale of the scandal would have resulted in a near wholesale implication of the political class. In many ways, this endemic corruption is what makes political reform in Washington so difficult, the level of corruption is so pervasive that the political class has no choice but to cover for each other's crimes or risk mutually assured destruction.

George H. W. Bush was the greatest criminal mastermind in American history. His criminal operations work on many, many levels. In addition to pure looting, the building and strengthening of his criminal base within government, and the systematic corruption and control of political class in Washington, the Iran-Contra operation served another, little understood purpose.

Eventually, the large scale looting of the Savings and Loans, the securities fraud, the oil and gas frauds, the insurance frauds all began to come to light, and the end of The Enterprise was clearly in sight. At this point, an attempt was made to deliberately expose some drug and gun running aspects of the Enterprise and to blame them on Reagan in an attempt to force him to resign. The falsely blaming the president for crimes with which he was not associated has strong parallels to the Watergate Coup and makes Iran - Contra the fourth Coup attempt in George H. W. Bush's career. However, Reagan loyalists Edwin Meese and George Shultz were able to fight off the coup, and Reagan's presidency survived. One reason that understanding The Enterprise is important today is that the network of people involved in the Enterprise did not go away. These individuals continued their long, active criminal careers and some of the people responsible for the 9/11 operation can be found to have previous working relationships during the days of The Enterprise.

As the large variety of crimes associated with The Enterprise came to light, and the press reported on a variety of scandals, senior leadership of The Enterprise needed to insulate themselves from exposure. The tactic used to protect the upper management of The Enterprise was the systematic killing of a huge number of middle level players in The Enterprise. In all, over 400 people were killed in the cover up of the crimes of The Enterprise. The vast majority of those killed were mid-level operational members of The Enterprise, but a fair number of reporters were also killed to keep the true nature of the organization from being exposed.

In order to facilitate the cover up, Congress began an investigation by establishing The House Select Committee to Investigate Covert Arms Transactions with Iran. The most important figure on the committee was senior Republican member, Richard Cheney. As a result, George H. W. Bush was totally exonerated by the final report.

Background

Gorton studied Electrical Engineering at Yale University, and then Stanford University, and got an MBA from Harvard University. He began his career as an electrical engineer for Martin Marietta (now part of Lockheed Martin), and, following his interests in business, entered the world of fixed-income trading at Credit Suisse First Boston where he worked for 4½ years in the proprietary tradinged by department prior to launching his Lime Group of companies, which include LimeWire, a peer-to-peer file sharing client, Lime Brokerage (a stock brokerage), Tower Research Capital LLC (a hedge fund), and LimeMedical LLC (a medical software company). He was a key figure in Arista Records LLC v. Lime Group LLC.

Deep Politics Research

An image used by Gawker to head Gorton's deep political research

In 2006 he took a "passing interest" in the JFK assassination and has gradually become more and more active in this regard, as he traced consequent events through history. He is now an active researcher into deep politics. On the 50th anniversary of the assassination he sent his remarkable Document:Fifty Years of the Deep State out to his employees in Tower Research capital, and it was published together with two other incomplete essays on Gawker in 2014.

US Deep state

Full article: The Cabal

Mark Gorton has advanced a theory that the perpetrators of the JFK assassination formed a group which is still in active operation, which he terms "the Cabal". He suggests that not only is this Cabal a potent force in US politics but that that they continue to commit high crimes such as election fraud or mass murder as well as using assassination to remove their opponents and those who try to publicise their existence. In 2014 Gorton expressed fears that his life might be in danger because of the publication of his research about this cabal:

> "Having these [below] documents suddenly appear on a blog like Gawker changes my risk profile in life. That being said, I do think that the truth needs to be told about what has happened to our democracy."

As of 2019, he was producing a documentary about some of the US Deep state's assassinations of the 1960s: JFK, RFK, MLK and Malcolm X.

Truth Commission

Gorton proposes that corruption in the US government is so widespread that a South African style truth commission is needed, in which earlier wrong doers make complete and full confessions of their past crimes in return for an amnesty from future prosecution.

> "I am dedicated to recovering the good America that lives within the hearts of most Americans. Only when we recognize the errors of the past, can we see many of those same flaws in our society today and work to fix them."

1993 World Trade Center bombing	“The 1993 WTC bombing created the necessary pretext for a massive engineering upgrade of the WTC complex. The purpose of the 1993 WTC bombing was not to bring down the WTC. A truck bomb could not bring down a structure as large as the WTC. The purpose of the 1993 WTC bombing was to create a rationale for a “security upgrade” of the WTC complex. And for this purpose, the 1993 WTC bombing succeeded perfectly. 	According to Alan Reiss, the PANYNJ's World Trade Center Director, "After the 1993 bombing, we implemented a ten-year redevelopment program. We were spending a half a billion dollars on upgrades. By 1973, the original leaders of the Cabal were dying off: Allen Dulles died in 1969, J Edgar Hoover in 1972, and LBJ in 1973. The death of their leaders created a power vacuum at the top of the Cabal, and as the Cabal was fighting off threats from the outside world, an internal battle was taking place for control of the Cabal and ultimately the control of power in America. Three factions fought for power: a network of old boys from the OSS (the Office of Strategic Services, the WWII precursor to the CIA), a group within the Office of Naval Intelligence (ONI), and a group within the CIA led by George H. W. Bush. The Watergate Coup served several purposes, but perhaps its most lasting impact was to ensconce George H. W. Bush as the new head of the Cabal. George H. W. Bush's father was Prescott

	Bush, who was the best friend of Allen Dulles. Dulles dominated the CIA from 1953 until he was fired by JFK in the wake of the Bay of Pigs disaster. Like his father, George H. W. Operation Gladio (Mafia) Continues Post WWII via FBI and CIA

Sibel Edmonds summarizes the objective of Gladio B as “projecting U.S. power in the former Soviet sphere of influence to access previously untapped strategic energy and mineral reserves for U.S. and European companies; pushing back Russian and Chinese power; and expanding the scope of lucrative criminal activities, particularly illegal arms and drugs trafficking [and prison gangs to conduct break-ins to journalists homes, execution deaths, and street violence denies as sponsored by State actors. Ed Donegan has spne 49 years watching State sponsored thugs engage in bizzre harrassment of him and attacks upon him and being encircle including threats of knife attacks or other attack for attempting to leave gang encirclement. The threats are real and at least 50 attacks.].

Funding appears to be via the normal deep state methods; Edmonds points to the international drugs trade as a key role in funding black ops such as Operation Gladio/B. She notes that in 2001, without providing any evidence that the country was in any way involved, the US invaded the world's largest producer of opium, Afghanistan. She claims that the main areas of Gladio B money laundering are Cyprus, Malta and Dubai.

A huge upswing in opium production after the unprovoked US invasion of the country following 9/11. Opium production has greatly increased since the US lead invasion. As with Gary Webb's well documented case that the CIA was heavily involved in cocaine trafficking, the commercially-controlled media has refused to show much interest in the evidence.

Nuclear Black Market

Sibel Edmonds reported a Turkish and Israeli run network which paid top spooks to steal nuclear weapon secrets that were sold on the international black market to countries like Pakistan and Saudi Arabia.[23] These and other allegations were confirmed by the Sunday Times after speaking to Pentagon and MI6 sources, and by obtaining a document signed by an FBI official confirming the operation's existence. However, apparently due to pressure from political intelligence committees, the document itself was never published.

Money laundering, the conversion of 'dirty' money into 'clean' money, is a highly profitabe business. The deep state dominates this business worldwide. Whistleblower Sibel Edmonds has claimed that the main areas of Gladio B money laundering are Cyprus, Malta and Dubai.

The two most public examples of institutions set up to facilitate deep state money laundering are the Nugan hand Bank and the BCCI. These highlight the fact that the deep state can set up financial institutions to facilitate disbursal of off the books funds, such as drugs-for-guns profits. This naturally gives it leverage when operating with the more established, longer term financial institutions, which some[Who?] have suggested are just as dependent on profits from the drugs trade.

Failure to investigate

The deep state needs the support of big banks to assist in laundering money from its illegal drug trade. All the largest banks have extensive involvement with drug money, but prosecution is not anticipated. As the New York Times put it in 2012: "Federal and state authorities have chosen not to indict HSBC, the London-based bank, on charges of vast and prolonged money laundering, for fear that criminal prosecution would topple the bank and, in the process, endanger the financial system."

As Rolling Stone notes: "the executives who spent a decade laundering billions of dollars will have to partially defer their bonuses during the five-year deferred prosecution agreement.

Whistleblowers are essential primary sources about deep political matters, and their number is increasing in modern times as the deep state is being unmasked. The site currently has 185 whistleblowers. This project aims to assist whistleblowers and would-be whistleblowers to get their information out safely.

A whistleblower has inside knowledge of activities usually concealed from the general public and reveals this out of a concern for the public good, especially in cases of malfeasance. The word "whistleblower" was coined by Ralph Nader. The insider testimony of whistleblowers means that they are invaluable in Wikispooks' mission to shed light on the murky business of deep politics.

The official narrative is that whistleblowers are welcomed as long as they act in the public interest. Many nations and other large organisations have enacted "Whistleblower Protection" measures specifically designed to protect whistleblowers. These encourage whistleblowing by offering statutory protection and/or financial rewards for those who expose wrongdoing.

"Protection" Full article: Whistleblower protection

Legal vindication for whistleblowers is rare.[2] More often than not, what is called "whistleblower protection" is in practice no such thing[1] and less than 1/10 of those who follow official whistleblowing procedures report any benefit from doing so.[3] Researcher Brian Martin describes them as "trojan horses".[1] Since 9/11 in particular, the official narrative is belied by ever harsher treatment of actual or would be whistleblowers, up to and including the murder of the those who show themselves intent on publicising particularly sensitive information.[4]

In 2004, FBI whistleblower Sibel Edmonds launched the National Security Whistleblowers Coalition to try to assist other whistleblowers. In December 2013, speaking at the CCC conference, purported MI6 whistleblower, Annie Machon, announced that she would be starting the Courage Foundation to protect whistleblowers.

'Operation Gladio B' (also Gladio 2[1][2] or 2.0[3]) is a codename the FBI have used since 1997 for the relations between the US intelligence community, the US military and Al Qaeda.[4] This was revealed by Sibel Edmonds[5] (whose revelations Daniel Ellsberg termed "far more explosive than the Pentagon Papers".

The original Operation Gladio was a Europe wide network of fascist "stay-behind" cells that NATO/CIA/MI6 trained to carry out bombings and assassinations in the event of a Soviet invasion. Gladio B substituted Muslims for fascists, and continues to carry out false flag attacks in Europe and maybe elsewhere.

Apart from Alan Francovich's remarkable 1992 film which was broadcast on the BBC, the original Operation Gladio has received minimal attention by commercially-controlled media, considering that it killed maybe 2000 people[8], was discussed in the European Parliament and later officially investigated by at least 5 national governments. Coverage has been fragmented[9] and shied away from asking obvious and important questions such as "Why did NATO order terrorist attacks inside NATO countries?... Why have most national governments not followed the EU's resolution and attempted to investigate it?... Do we have any evidence that this program has been discontinued?" Gladio/B is a third rail topic. Two anonymous Sunday Times journalists report that senior Pentagon and MI6 sources confirmed her story, but it was suddenly dropped under the pressure of undisclosed “interest groups”, which they suggest were associated with the U.S. State Department.

In short, as of 2019, no official narrative exists on Gladio/B. Wikipedia, to its credit, has a redirect page to Sibel Edmonds where it provides a summary mention her allegations.

Sibel Deniz Edmonds is a Turkish-American former FBI translator turned whistleblower. The most gagged woman in US legal history, she founded the National Security Whistleblowers Coalition. She posted images without comment onto a page entitled "State Secrets Privilege Gallery" - which has assisted others in tracking malfeasance. Principal among her revelations are the development of Operation Gladio into Operation Gladio/B, a NATO-backed project to carry out false flag attacks in the name of "Islamic terrorists".

In April 2013, Edmonds revealed that Osama bin Laden and his number 2 Al Qaeda lieutenant Ayman al-Zawahiri worked with the US government for 3 months after 9/11 to coordinate destabilisation in the Caucus region.

Background

Sibel Edmonds is fluent in English, Turkish, Farsi and Azerbaijani. She has a MA in Public Policy and International Commerce from George Mason University and a BA in Criminal Justice and Psychology from George Washington University.

Career

She was hired just after 9-11 as a language specialist for the FBI's Washington Field Office where she reports that her broad language abilities, combined with a lack of other similarly capable staff in the FBI lead her to overcome the deliberate compartmentalisation which prevented field operatives from gaining a bigger picture of the events in which they were directly involved.

Whistleblowing

During her work with the FBI, she discovered serious security breaches, cover-ups and deliberate blocking of intelligence. After she reported these acts to FBI management, she was disciplined and ultimately fired in March 2002. Her later claims have gained her awards and fame as a whistleblower. The American Civil Liberties Union has termed her "the most gagged person in the history of the United States".

Coup of 63

The Coup of ’63, Part 1

About 6 years ago, quite by accident, I took a passing interest in the assassination of JFK. My research into the assassination of JFK took me on a path into the dark underbelly of the CIA, and from there, I traced a web of criminality that ran throughout the huge sections of federal government, the political power structure, and the business interests that control our country.

As I researched more, I learned that the criminal network behind JFK’s assassination did not retire after his killing. Instead, the need to cover up past crimes has motivated them to commit more crimes in a never ending cycle that continues to this present day.

I have tracked this criminal network through time, and I have learned that this cabal has been the most significant political force in the United States for the last 50 years. Yet most people don’t have any idea that it exists.

My research project has grown to be a major interest in my life. I have a total of 180 books on the topics of the JFK assassination and the ensuing actions of the criminal cabal that seized control of our government. 70 of these books I have read cover to cover, and the rest I have either read a particular section or skimmed. I have dozens and dozens of books on my “to read” list, as I am continually researching different strands of government criminality. In addition to reading books, I have spent countless hours doing research on the internet.

I now have a profound understanding of the dark forces that control how politics in our country really work. 50 years ago a network of criminals took control of our government, and they have not let go until the present day. I cannot passively accept living in a country where the democracy has been overthrown, yet I cannot help but feel helpless against powerful forces that have been systematically killing their opposition for decades.

In my desire to heal our democracy, I have searched for answers as to how the powerless can confront the powerful. When confronted with evil that they could not prevent, Quakers have a tradition of bearing witness, so that this evil does not pass unnoted. On this 50th anniversary of the Coup d'état known as the JFK assassination, this document is my attempt to bear witness to the crimes of the last 50 years in my hope that, in my own small way, my voice can help repair our country.

As I have studied the hidden history of the United States for the last 50 years, I have not only learned of criminal networks embedded within our government, I also have learned the stories of many, many honest Americans who have fought to save our country. These unsung heroes of democracy have fought courageously to save the soul of our country. These Americans have risked their careers and their lives so that our dreams of freedom and democracy would not die.

This document is dedicated to the hundreds and hundreds of Americans who have paid with their lives the ultimate price of confronting the cabal embedded within our government.

The Coup of '63

Among serious researchers of JFK's assassination, a remarkable unanimity of opinion has been achieved. Thanks to the tens of thousands of man years of effort that have gone into studying the JFK assassination, the depth and breadth of the plot can be known. The plot was a giant domestic conspiracy that involved elements of the entire US power structure.

The assassination of JFK was part of a full scale coup d'état, the violent take of over of our government by a group of criminals. I have not the slightest doubt in my mind that JFK's assassination was the work of a network of criminals embedded within the political system and power structure of the United States. Key among the players in the Coup of '63 were

- Lyndon Johnson, chief organiser
- Allan Dulles (fired by JFK as a result of the Bay of Pigs invasion) and the CIA
- J. Edgar Hoover and the FBI
- Clint Murchison Sr., H.L. Hunt and D.H. Byrd (right wing Texas oil executives)
- The East Coast business establishment centered around Rockefeller interests and the Council on Foreign Relations
- Curtis Le May (chairman of the joint chief of staff), other right wing leaders of the military and elements of military intelligence
- Bush family, (both George H. W. Bush and Prescott Bush)

In 1961, President Eisenhower in his farewell address warned against "the acquisition of unwarranted influence, whether sought of unsought, by the military industrial complex". Eisenhower continued, "The potential for the disastrous rise of misplaced power exists and will persist." Perhaps, Eisenhower may have more accurately have described this threat as the military - intelligence complex as the CIA had been operating free from proper oversight since its founding in 1947. Acting under the cover of protecting the world from communism, powerful interests found American imperialism to be enormously profitable, and the secrecy within the CIA provided the perfect environment for criminal elements to prosper.

JFK was aware of these forces, and he chose to fight against them. JFK and his brother RFK took on a host of entrenched corrupt interests: the CIA, big business, the mafia, and the corrupt Texas interests surrounding LBJ. A huge swath of the American power structure was at risk of being displaced and even ending up in jail by the crusades of the Kennedy brothers. LBJ was incredibly corrupt. He even had his own personal hit man, Mac Wallace, who had been killing people for a decade to keep LBJ's crimes from being exposed. With RFK as attorney general, J Edgar Hoover of the FBI could no longer protect the mob. Top mafia chieftains including Carlos Marcello and Salvatore Trafficante risked trading their sweet mafia kingpin lifestyle for a life behind bars due to RFK's crusade against the mafia. The CIA was out of control, and JFK had vowed to smash the CIA to 1000 pieces. Right wing cold warrior generals in charge on the US military were just itching for a (possibly nuclear) war with the Soviet Union, and JFK's calls for peace were viewed as being treason among the right wing set. Leaders of giant companies used to having a compliant government do their bidding found that JFK actually looked out for the interests of the little guy. Add on to this, the Kennedys' support for the civil rights movement gaining strength in the South, and a huge array of powerful entrenched, entitled interests was in position to be mobilized to resist change.

But potential does not equal action, and it took the political genius of Lyndon Baines Johnson to activate these forces to bring about a Coup d'état. The Kennedys and Johnson were involved in a sub-rosa war from the beginning on their administration. Bobby Kennedy was telling the Washington press corps that it was open season on LBJ, and Bobby was having the justice department feed information on LBJ's corruption to a number of different Senate investigations any one of which could have ended LBJ's career and started his slide toward prison.

But LBJ may not have needed the impetus of fear for his career and freedom to motivate him to kill JFK. As majority leader of the Senate, LBJ was arguably the second most powerful man in Washington. Many of his colleagues were surprised when LBJ accepted the nomination for vice president, an office which his fellow Texan and former VP John Garner described as being “not worth a bucket of warm piss”. Clare Boothe Luce asked LBJ why he agreed to be VP, and LBJ told her that he had done research and 6 out of 33 of the presidents had managed to achieve office without being elected, and he told her “I’m a gambling man.” But a study of LBJ’s history shows that he was anything but a gambling man. In fact, LBJ was a man who left nothing to chance. Most likely, LBJ planned to kill JFK from the moment he considered becoming vice president.

Although John F. Kennedy was finally killed in Dallas on Nov 22, 1963, the plot to kill him was active for at least a couple of years. The first attempt to kill JFK, of which I am aware, was to take place in Mexico City at the end of June 1962 but was aborted due to last minute escape problems. From that time on, JFK was a hunted man. Other attempts were planned for Los Angeles, Grand Rapids, Chicago, Tampa, Miami, and Houston. The planned assassination attempt on JFK in Miami on June 18, 1963 was foiled when people loyal to JFK leaked word of the plot and the planned motorcade was canceled in favor of helicopter transport.

By the time Nov 22nd rolled around, LBJ was getting increasingly desperate. The Dec 6, 1963 issue of Life Magazine, due to be printed and mailed on Nov 29, 1963, was set to run an expose of Lyndon Johnson’s corruption that could have ended his career. The earlier plots to kill JFK that were designed with more distance between the coup plotters and the trigger men had failed, and now Johnson risked more active involvement by having his people directly orchestrate both the motorcade planning and the take apart of the president’s secret service protection.

By the time JFK’s motorcade rolled through Dallas, little had been left to chance. As Chauncy Holt said, “There were more mercenaries in Dealey Plaza that day than at a Soldier of Fortune convention”. The success of the Coup depended not upon the ability of the shooters to escape undetected, but upon the certitude that the cabal behind the assassination could control the investigation and the story reported in the media. JFK had no idea how little chance he had of making it through Dealey Plaza alive. The Dallas police protection of the motorcade route ended right at the start of Dealey Plaza. In fact, one of the shooters was probably a Dallas police officer. The secret service protection surrounding JFK was removed. In my estimate, 6 shooters awaited from a variety of vantage points. The secret service agent driving JFK’s car brought the car to a complete stop, and a barrage of shots from all directions converged on JFK. After confirming that JFK had been killed, JFK’s driver put the car in motion and continued driving.

The Coup of ’63 did not end with the killing of JFK. The shooting part of the assassination was relatively small compared to the cover up. The planning for the cover up was built into fabric of the plot. Lee Harvey Oswald was set up as the patsy. Oswald did not fire a shot in Dallas. Lee Harvey Oswald was a CIA contract agent who had been sent into Russia as a fake defector. He then returned to the US and used his time in Russia as an entry into the left wing pro-Castro movement. Lee Harvey Oswald is a fairly minor character in the Coup of ’63, but through him, a multi-layered counter-intelligence plot can be seen.

The Coup of ’63 had within it many, many contingency strategies built. The Coup went almost according to plan. The only thing that went wrong on Nov 22, 1963 was that the Dallas police failed to kill Lee Harvey Oswald, so Jack Ruby was tasked with the ensuing killing of Oswald. However, the coup plotters had no way of knowing that things would go so smoothly, so they embedded within Oswald a variety of cover stories which could have been deployed under different scenarios. Oswald could have been made to look like a racist, a [Cuban]], a Russian, or even to have mob ties. However, since the coup went so close to plan, he was declared to be a lone nut and dismissed as such.

The contingencies beyond how to blame Oswald were much more serious. If it were superficially obvious that JFK's killing was the result of a conspiracy, Castro was to be blamed, and an invasion of Cuba was to quickly follow. Many anti-Castro Cubans who participated in the Coup were deeply disappointed that the invasion of Cuba never materialized.

My studies of the Coup of '63 have led me to believe that even graver fall back strategies were embedded in the plot. If JFK's killing was obviously perceived as being part of large conspiracy, and the US public was not buying the Castro did it angle, the Coup plotters were in truly dire straits. These desperate men who ran the military, the FBI, some of largest companies in the world, and the US government faced the prospect of being hung for treason. I believe that the darkest scenarios envisioned by the Coup plotters involved declaring martial law and blaming the Russians and taking the country to (and possibly over) the brink of nuclear war with Russia.

Interestingly, the Russian intelligence was aware of the plans to kill Kennedy, and they were aware that through Lee Harvey Oswald they were to be set up to take the blame. So in September of 1963, the KGB attempted to kill Lee Harvey Oswald to prevent themselves from being sucked into a false war, but the assassination capabilities of the Russians within the United States were fairly limited, and the KGB was unable to kill Oswald.

The Cover Up

Elaborate plans for the cover up of JFK's assassination went into action after his killing. JFK's body was secretly rushed to Washington, DC aboard Air Force 2 while an empty casket sat in the hold of Air Force 1 and LBJ countermanded secret service advice and stalled taking off by demanding to be sworn in on the tarmac in Dallas. JFK's body was then worked on in pre-autopsy surgery to reconstruct his skull and hide the nature of his wounds. The autopsy itself was conducted at Bethesda Naval hospital outside of Washington, DC under control of the top military brass. The clearest evidence of the military involvement in the Coup can be seen in handling of the autopsy.

The lead agency in the cover up was the FBI. The FBI was pushing the "Oswald did it", "case closed" party line within 2 hours of JFK's death. The entire FBI investigation was aimed at convicting Oswald and ignoring or destroying any evidence that pointed in another direction. Witness intimidation was frequently employed for anyone who had testimony that contradicted what the FBI wanted to hear.

When despite the most earnest pronouncements of J. Edgar Hoover, the public still was skeptical of the official version of who killed JFK; LBJ put together the Warren Commission. The Warren Commission was made up of some of the most eminent men in the country including Chief Justice of the Supreme Court, Earl Warren. The Warren Commission was designed to approve the already firm FBI conclusions, and with a bit of extra process, it did exactly that. JFK's bitter enemy and Coup leader Allen Dulles was the most active member of the Warren Commission. Key other commission members active in the cover-up were Council on Foreign Relations Chairman John McCloy, Gerald Ford and Earl Warren himself. Commission member Senator Richard Russell was a man of great integrity, and despite his being LBJ's mentor in the Senate, he insisted on issuing a dissenting report. However, Senator Russell's report was suppressed and only surfaced decades later in his private papers. The Warren Commission had no investigative resources of its own, and it relied completely upon FBI investigators. The Warren Commission did interview witnesses, but it cherry picked the witnesses to obtain testimony that favored its preordained conclusions. Warren Commission staff attorneys steered witnesses away from relevant insights and also falsified testimony in order to cover up inconvenient facts that happened to poke through.

The threat of nuclear war was embedded in the fabric of the plot which was used to cow business, media and government leaders, who under other circumstances would not have gone along with a cover up of the assassination, into tacitly working with the Coup plotters.

The media complicity in the Coup of ’63 can be traced in part to the Council on Foreign Relations (CFR). Elite members of the CFR such as Allen Dulles, Nelson Rockefeller, George Herbert Walker Bush and McGeorge Bundy were sponsors of the JFK assassination. CFR members, Allen Dulles, John McCloy and Gerald Ford played dominant roles in the Warren Commission cover up of the coup d’état. A remarkable fraction of the publishers, editors and senior reporters of the most important media outlets in the country were also members of the Council of Foreign Relations including: Henry Luce (Publisher Time/ Life), Clair Boothe Luce, Arthur Ochs Sulzberger (Publisher NY Times), William Paley (Owner CBS), Walter Cronkite (CBS), Dan Rather (CBS), Bob Schieffer (CBS), Peter Jennings (ABC), James Reston (NY Times), Anthony Lewis (NY Times), Harrison Salisbury (NY Times), Jack Valenti, Daniel Schorr, and in later days Rupert Murdoch, Michael Eisner, Bill Clinton, George Stephanopoulos, Brian Williams. The list goes on and on.

Any questioning of the Warren Commission involved impugning the honor of their CFR colleagues who ran the Warren Commission, and any serious investigation of the JFK assassination would have risked accusing their fraternity brothers of treason. The secrets of JFK’s assassination were so close to home that ignorance and denial were safer than the truth.

Now some reporters weren’t part of this club, and doggedly tried to find the truth. Reporters who could not be controlled were murdered by the criminals running the government. Over the years, certainly 50 and more likely more than 100 people have been killed to preserve the secrets of the Coup of ’63. Many witnesses, reporters, people who knew too much, plot members at risk of being exposed, overzealous law enforcement officials have all been killed. Some of these deaths were clearly violent. Many were made to look like something else.

Anyone who was a threat to the exposure of the cabal that took over the government had to be neutralized. In order to do this, the Cabal behind the Coup of ’63 built a mechanism of domestic death squads, and also the mechanism to cover up these crimes.

The Quickening of the Cabal

The criminals who took over the government had an incredible fear of being exposed. If exposed, they would be hung for treason. Fear of exposure bound the network behind the Coup of ’63 into an incredibly powerful political force which has dominated the American federal political system for the last 50 years.

The assassination continues to be an important event that every American should take the time to understand because the powerful forces that seized control of our government 50 years ago have not let go. As I studied the Coup of ’63, I began to perceive this Cabal behind JFK’s assassination, and I as I have studied their actions, I have understood their desperate need to control the American political system. If the Cabal were ever to lose control of the American political system, they risk exposure for a litany of crimes which continue to this present day.

6 years ago, I started studying the JFK assassination out of curiosity. But as I came to understand the Coup of ’63, and I was able to perceive the Cabal behind the Coup as an incredible political force, I began to study a series of events. Many of these events were also “conspiracies” dismissed at crazy by the mainstream media, and I saw that these conspiracies were the work of this same network of people. And what I have been doing for the last several years has been tracking the work of this evolving cabal through time.

In order to escape justice for their heinous crimes, the Cabal needed to build a number of capabilities for themselves. The Cabal needed to be able to kill with impunity anyone who threatened to expose them. They needed to be able to control the press, and they need to control the presidency, federal law enforcement agencies, and the intelligence community. Operating under the secret cover of "national security" from within intelligence agencies (CIA, ONI, military intelligence, etc.), the Cabal has able to systematically destroy threats to itself. With control of the FBI, justice department, DEA, ATF, etc., the Cabal has been able to insure that no serious investigation its crimes would take place. And massive, highly successful programs to control the press, like the CIA's Operation Mockingbird, have insured that the mainstream media would systematically ignore and dismiss all claims of high level government corruption.

With the control of law enforcement, intelligence agencies and the press, the Cabal built itself the perfect machine for committing crimes and getting away with them. And with these capabilities, the Cabal has run amok for the last 50 years.

The Assassination of RFK

The RFK assassination gives a good idea of the capability of this system. Bobby Kennedy knew that his brother had been killed by a conspiracy. He had a vague sense of the outlines of this conspiracy, but trapped within the Johnson administration, he lacked the power to determine the truth for sure. Bobby's plan was to wait until he could attain the presidency, and then with the full power of the presidency, he would relentlessly hunt his brother's killers and avenge JFK's death.

The Cabal could not allow RFK to become president, and from the moment they seized power, they worked relentlessly to build the mechanism to let them kill Bobby Kennedy and cover up the truth behind his killing. The Cabal acquired a variety of mechanisms to kill their enemies. One such mechanism was to use Special Forces operatives from the US Military who had been trained to obey orders unquestioningly, and once told that someone was an enemy of the state, they would ignorantly and dutifully dispatch this person. Since WWII, the mafia and the CIA had developed a close and mutually supportive relationship, in many cases, mob hit men could be deployed on behalf of their intelligence and political masters. Within the CIA and other intelligence organizations were cold blooded hit men who knew well that they were part of a criminal network embedded within the government. In addition, many alliances existed between international intelligence agencies. Assassination capabilities were often traded between these agencies. In cases of a high profile killing where a patsy was needed, brainwashed killers from the CIA's MKUltra program could be deployed. Since the early 1950's, the CIA's MKUltra program had been using drugs, hypnosis, and a combination of other techniques to produce robot assassins.

Not long after Bobby Kennedy declared his candidacy for president, an assassination team stalked and killed Kennedy at the Ambassador Hotel in Los Angeles. This assassination team was composed of the primary shooter, Thane Eugene Cesar (dressed as a security guard), MKUltra subject Sirhan Sirhan (who discharged his gun wildly), and a network of handlers and other helpers.

In case the lone nut cover of Sirhan Sirhan did not hold, the RFK killing was designed to be blamed on first the Palestinians, and then a combination of the Russians and Aristotle Onassis. Onassis hated Bobby Kennedy and wanted him out of the way so he could marry Jackie Kennedy. Onassis was brought into the plot by intelligence operatives, and he did fund some of the assassination plot. Although Onassis was involved in the plot to kill RFK, the hierarchy behind the assassination was headed by LBJ. Just as with the killing of JFK, the cover up of RFK's assassination was a larger operation than the killing itself. During the early 1960's, the CIA engaged in joint training exercises with local police departments across the country. Nominally, the training was intended to improve federal/local cooperation on intelligence matters. In reality, these exercises provided a mechanism for the CIA to control local police investigations across the country.

Manuel Pena, the LAPD officer with control of the RFK assassination, had previously worked doing special ops for the CIA. He had worked closely with David Morales, a CIA hit man who had a significant operational role in the JFK assassination. Beyond developing assassination and cover up capabilities, the five years between the Coup of ’63 and RFK’s killing had allowed the Cabal to consolidate their control of the press. CIA agents were inserted as reporters and editors at all of the major media outlets in the country. The meme that "conspiracy theorists" were kooks was developed within the CIA and deployed with great effectiveness. During the 1960’s, the overwhelming mass of news information reaching the eyes and ears of Americans came from 15 organizations: NBC, ABC, CBS, AP, UPI, Time-Life, McGraw Hill, Newsweek, U.S. News & World Report, NY Times, Washington Post, Metromedia, Westinghouse, Capital Cities, the North American Newspaper Alliance, and the Saturday Evening Post. The Cabal was successful in co-opting the top management at each of these organizations and enlisting them into active involvement in the cover-up of the Coup of ’63.

During the period 1964-68, internal research teams in several of these organizations reached the conclusion that the Kennedy Assassination had been a result of a conspiracy. In each and every case, management at the highest editorial and corporate level took actions to overrule, suppress, lock up, edit or otherwise alter these internal findings to back up the conclusions of the Warren Commission. Project Mockingbird was a CIA program to control the US press. The exact size of Project Mockingbird remains classified, but bits of information have slipped out over time that allow for budgetary estimates to be computed. In 1978, the CIA propaganda budget was estimated to be $265 million and involved 2,000 personnel making it larger than the combined budgets of Reuters, the Associated Press and United Press International. In 1977, Carl Bernstein reported that the CIA had over 400 reporters and editors at major US media outlets on its payroll. Decedents of this program continue up until the present day.

The Cabal behind the Coup of ‘63’s Ongoing Battle to Control the Presidency

Controlling the presidency was a key for the Cabal members behind the Coup of ’63. With Bobby Kennedy out of the way, the Cabal worked to steer the 1968 election to Richard Nixon by using agent provocateurs to instigate riots in Chicago at the 1968 democratic convention. In addition, the anti-war, reform political coalition that was beginning to coalesce around [[Martin Luther King]] was neutralized by the state sponsored killing of MLK. Dr. King’s assassination was organized by J. Edgar Hoover and the FBI, military intelligence, and elements of the Memphis Police Department. New Orleans mafia kingpin Carlos Marcello, who played a meaningful role in JFK’s assassination, played a significant role in the Martin Luther King’s killing. In the case of Dr. King’s assassination, James Earl Ray was the patsy who was set up to take the blame although he had no involvement in the shooting. The actual assassination was handled by elements of the Memphis police with help from the local mafia at the request of Carlos Marcello. A back up team of army snipers “Operation Detachment Alpha 184 team” under the direction of the 902nd military intelligence group were also present in Memphis the day of the assassination as a back-up in case the mafia/Memphis police department team did not get the job done. Although the military snipers had MLK in their sights, they were not required to fire.Nixon’s Relationship with the Cabal Nixon was not a Cabal member, but he was controllable. Nixon’s political career had been sponsored by Cabal members Prescott Bush and Dulles Brothers and their Eastern business establishment allies. During his first term, Nixon grappled with the CIA but did nothing serious to reign in its excesses. As the Cabal behind the Coup of ’63 positioned itself for the 1972 election, Nixon still seemed to be the best option for them. Nixon had a reputation for using dirty tricks, and Nixon was certainly no angel, but much of the dirty, criminal political tricks done on Nixon’s behalf were the work of a network of people loyal not to Nixon but the Cabal.

The 1968-72 period saw the emergence of a young Karl Rove under the tutelage of CIA asset Robert Bennett and political slime master Donald Segretti. Segretti, Rove and company conducted a series of disinformation campaigns against strong democratic candidates Edmund Muskie, Edward Kennedy, Hubert Humphrey and Henry Jackson insuring that Nixon would face off against the fairly weak George McGovern. The promised entrance into the 1972 presidential race of George Wallace as a 3rd party candidate threatened to drain votes from Nixon, and throw the election to the democrats. To neutralize Wallace, the Cabal decided to have him killed. A network of people including Rove mentor Donald Segretti coordinated the shooting of Wallace which didn't kill him but left Wallace paralyzed and knocked him out of the race insuring Nixon's election.

Once Nixon was elected to his second term as president, he achieved a degree of independence that made him a danger to the Cabal. Deep down, Nixon was never as corrupt as core Cabal members, and toward the end of his first term, he began making plans to purge the entire senior leadership of the CIA. Unfortunately, Nixon did not realize that the CIA had the White House bugged and his senior staff filled with spies, so the Cabal leadership was well aware of Nixon's plans. Nixon had a reputation for being paranoid. Yet he was not paranoid enough. His enemies had him surrounded to a degree which he did not understand.

Although Cabal members put Nixon on his path to power, they never trusted Nixon, and as early as 1966 (before Nixon is even an official candidate for President), the Cabal worked to booby trap Nixon's administration, and in 1973, after Nixon had stopped being a compliant servant of the Cabal, they set off the booby trap in the form of the Watergate Coup, and they pulled Nixon down from power just as they put him up.

The traditional story of Watergate is one where Nixon does a bunch of bad things, gets caught, tries to cover it up, and is forced to resign; however, in reality Watergate was a plot by the Cabal behind the Coup of ’63 and corrupt elements within the CIA and military intelligence to depose Nixon. By 1973, the original leaders of the Cabal were dying off: Allen Dulles died in 1969, J Edgar Hoover in 1972, and LBJ in 1973. The death of their leaders created a power vacuum at the top of the Cabal, and as the Cabal was fighting off threats from the outside world, an internal battle was taking place for control of the Cabal and ultimately the control of power in America. Three factions fought for power: a network of old boys from the OSS (the Office of Strategic Services, the WWII precursor to the CIA), a group within the Office of Naval Intelligence (ONI), and a group within the CIA led by George H. W. Bush. The Watergate Coup served several purposes, but perhaps its most lasting impact was to ensconce George H. W. Bush as the new head of the Cabal. George H. W. Bush’s father was Prescott Bush, who was the best friend of Allen Dulles. Dulles dominated the CIA from 1953 until he was fired by JFK in the wake of the Bay of Pigs disaster. Like his father, George H. W. Bush was a graduate of Yale and a member of Skull and Bones. In a world where connections and pedigree mattered, George H. W. Bush was the crown prince within the CIA.

The first stages of the Watergate Coup involved creating a fake scandal to force the resignation of Vice President Spiro Agnew. With Agnew out of the way, the Watergate Coup plotters were free to place one of their own in position to take the presidency. Nixon wanted to appoint John Connelly of Texas as VP, but Connelly was not a Cabal member, so the Republican establishment loyal to Bush threatened to block Connelly’s nomination, and Nixon was forced to pick a Vice President acceptable to the Cabal. Gerald Ford, as a member of the Warren Commission, had played a key role in covering up the Coup of ’63. Ford was not an inner circle member of the Cabal behind the Coup of ‘63, but he was solidly aligned with them and could be counted on to support and enable the secret government structures buried within the national security state.

The Watergate burglars themselves were headed by CIA agent

E. Howard Hunt. Hunt had been a key operational player in the Coup of ’63. He was even clearly photographed as one of the three tramps arrested near Dealey Plaza immediately after the shooting of JFK. On his death bed, Hunt confessed to his involvement in the Coup of ’63 and named LBJ as the leader of the plot. To execute the Watergate break in, Hunt rounded up some old Cuban comrades who had also been active in supporting JFK’s assassination. To those in the know, the makeup of the Watergate burglars was a clear signal that Watergate was a plot on behalf of the Cabal behind the Coup of ’63.

To execute the disinformation campaign surrounding Watergate, the Watergate Coup plotters turned to ex-naval intelligence officer, Bob Woodward, who had been inserted into the Washington Post. Woodward then proceeded to craft a series of stories that make up much of the myth of Watergate that we know today.

In order to complete the take down of Nixon, the President had to be denied the due process which could have allowed him an effective legal defense before the House Judiciary Committee where the impeachment resolutions regarding Watergate had been referred. At this time, in 1973, a young Hillary Clinton was working as a staff lawyer for the committee. Even this early in her career, Clinton showed her willingness to ally herself with powerful, corrupt interests. Clinton along with several other staff members of the committee conspired to deny Nixon access to legal counsel. In order to pull this off, Hillary wrote a fraudulent legal brief and confiscated public documents to hide her deception. Her boss Jerry Zeifman later fired Hillary for her unethical actions and said about Hillary, “She was a liar. She was an unethical, dishonest lawyer. She conspired to violate the Constitution, the rules of the House, the rules of the committee and the rules of confidentiality.”

This concludes part 1 of my attempt to summarize the hidden political history of the United States since 1963. Additional pieces in this series will be sent out at a future date.

> A United Boeing 737 crashed into a Chicago residential area (December 8, 1972) during an approach, killing everyone on board, including the wife of Watergate figure E. Howard Hunt. She was reportedly carrying money to silence Watergate witnesses, and carried papers implicating President Richard Nixon in the coverup. A Chicago public-interest group, know as the Citizens Committee believed that Justice Department personnel played a role in the crash of United flight 553, and that they wanted key individuals on flight 553 exterminated. Twelve of the people who boarded United Flight 553 had something in common relating to questionable Justice Department and Watergate activities.
> There had been a gas pipeline lobbyist meeting as part of the American Bar Association in Washington, D.C., conducted by Roger Morea. Among the lobbyists attending were attorneys for the Northern Natural Gas Company of Omaha; attorneys for Kansas-Nebraska Natural Gas Company; and the president of the Federal Land Bank in Omaha. The Citizens Committee portrayed these people as a group determined to blow the lid off the Watergate case.

For many years Chicago resident Lawrence O'Connor boarded flight 553 like clockwork. He had no Watergate connections, but he had friends in the White House. On this particular Friday, O'Connor supposedly received a call from someone he knew in the White House, strongly advising him not to take flight 553. The caller advised him to go to a special meeting instead of taking that flight. Whether this was coincidental or to save his life is unknown to me, although the Citizens Committee considers it significant.

U.S. Attorney General John Mitchell, later indicted and sent to federal prison, and the Justice Department were putting pressure on Northern Natural Gas. The firm had subsidiaries that the federal government indicted on federal criminal charges in Omaha, Chicago, and Hammond, Indiana. (September 7, 1972.) Justice Department charges included bribery of local officials in Northwest Indiana and Illinois, to get clearance for installing the pipeline through their state.

Allegedly to blackmail the Justice Department and cause them to drop the charges, the Omaha firm uncovered documents showing that Mitchell, while attorney general in 1969, dropped antitrust charges against a competitor of Northern Natural Gas - El Paso Natural Gas Company. Just before the crash, Carl Kruger, an official with Northern Natural Gas Company, had been browbeating federal officials to drop the criminal charges.

The Citizens Committee alleged that dropping these charges saved the utility 300 million dollars. Simultaneously, Mitchell purchased through a law partner a stock interest in El Paso Natural Gas Company. Gas and oil interests, including El Paso, Gulf Resources, and others, contributed heavily to Nixon's spy fund supervised by Mitchell. The Citizens Committee reported that Kruger had previously been warned he would never live to reach Chicago. Kruger carried these revealing documents on United Flight 553, telling his wife that he had irreplaceable papers of a sensitive nature in his possession. For months after the crash Kruger's widow demanded that United Airlines turn his briefcase over to her.

CBS news reporter Michelle Clark travelled with Mrs. Hunt, doing an exclusive story on Watergate. Ms. Clark had already gained considerable insight into the bugging and coverup through her boyfriend, a CIA operative. Others knew of this exclusive interview, including the Justice Department.

Gladio GangStalkers

Top government officials use Gangs to control society, death squads killing journalists as required as assets of top officials, using run directly from the White House, DIA, Vatican, or elsewhere.

Operation Gladio: The Unholy Alliance between the Vatican, the CIA, and the Mafia retrieved from Amazon.com and copied or modified to here

This disturbing exposé describes a secret alliance forged at the close of World War II by the CIA, the Sicilian and US mafias, and the Vatican to thwart the possibility of a Communist invasion of Europe. Journalist Paul L. Williams presents evidence suggesting the existence of “stay-behind” units in many European countries consisting of five thousand to fifteen thousand military operatives. According to the author’s research, the initial funding for these guerilla armies came from the sale of large stocks of SS morphine that had been smuggled out of Germany and Italy and of bogus British bank notes that had been produced in concentration camps by skilled counterfeiters. As the Cold War intensified, the units were used not only to ward off possible invaders, but also to thwart the rise of left-wing movements in South America and NATO-based countries by terror attacks.

Williams argues that Operation Gladio soon gave rise to the toppling of governments, wholesale genocide, the formation of death squads, financial scandals on a grand scale, the creation of the mujahideen, an international narcotics network, and, most recently, the ascendancy of Jorge Mario Bergoglio, a Jesuit cleric with strong ties to Operation Condor (an outgrowth of Gladio in Argentina) as Pope Francis I.

Sure to be controversial, Operation Gladio connects the dots in ways the mainstream media often overlooks.

Free Masonry and the early days of Hitler used Gang Stalkers, SA or Brownshirts. Roughians, they did the politicians or powerfull business owner's wishes. They pushed people around roughly, made noise from the their businesses or along the the streets as those Mason's were giving "a parade to" walked by.

Now Schizophrenic Army, SA's of severely mentally ill, ex-con populations, etc., under-cover of being Neighborhood Watch of the police are in fact a misdeeds capability police use to deny their (police) misconduct via.

Cutouts are an intelligence term. They are some for of confusing intermediary element or red hearing. If a person wishes to disclose an intelligence operation but not reveal names a ghost written CIA or FBI propaganda film with fictionalize the story with changed names, etc, or perhaps it will be space opera or aliens tale, that will be the cutout used. A cutout is a way of passing one thing off as something else to avoid links.

Neighborhood Watch is a cutout allowing police to use local thugs for attacking journalists, etc., and the police will back the thug openly against the journalist.

Sometimes entire groups are created Crowley and Satanism and the Defense Intelligence Agency and top officials like Mike Pence and Bush running Pizzagate or The Mountaintop Prophecies or Temple of Set as these groups are the cutout for high level official misconduct to be carried out through and cyhper text used to tell stories.

Micheal Aquino's father was part of the actions of Central Europe and Patton's history, finding the Eagl's Nest of Himmler and Kutchera, and the son Micheal Aquina seems to have studied his father's history and actions in the Nazi castles and be cleaning up the loose ends of that operation in the USA through the cutout group Temple of Set.

What Peter Says About Paul Says More About Peter Than It Does Bout Paul

My Stalkers are and have always been the criminals. Covert activities for covert reasons and through people under cover, people in cover-identities either placed in locations I am in or recruited from those already in place.

I have stated to Austin Central Public Library as I arrive in 2023 that I arrived as a result of illegal dirty tricks and provided a CDROM documenting it.

They are wolves in sheep clothes and have been since Austin Central Public Library - Faulk where these operations had also been underway.

I have asked in writing any dirty-trickters who commits any felony as part of the felony stalk also be charged with my life of being in pschwards and prison on drugs like Haldol not able to prove I wa a stalk victim but asserting I was.

Since those lost 3 decades others like myself have come forward. Zersetzung is used when a law abiding person by virtue of being a law abiding person can not be wrongfully arrested or harassed easily. Instead dirty tricks are the method by wolves dressed as sheep. As sheep but in wolf growling they covertly say untrue and abusive things, harass sexually, make death threats, put clouds of perfume around an asthmatic, etc.,

To tell a psychiatrist the sheep was a wolf is to invite a diagnosis of being a delusional person, the intent of the wolf's activities. This has included some of us who WERE radiologially attacked also place in mental prisons for our delusions, when there was no reason before during that to do so, but the State got its desired result, a person sounding paranoid.

IT is hard to know the state of mind of a Revenge Stalker if they as they harrass about girls in gym clothes if they (the reveneg stalker bullies) truly know or not the person being stalked (me) is as disgusted by that as society is. What I can say is that there is a clear and repetative Modus Operandi. Creatign a false flag and using me as a patsy when I call out the illegal act done under my flag (a dopple dressed as me confronted in a place that looks like mine) the producers of the false flag turn suspicion on me for the activities. "When did you notie teen girls with gym shorts too large" or questions like that. Further; their patter is to conduct an attack when I try contact law enforcement as a whistlblower to illegal activies. THey will assert any disk about child porn they refuse posession of though Tom Dunham and I have long asserted it is not us who do nor even could stage the events that are ongoing, only dirty-tricksers operationg under color of law an often in uniform could stage the events.

Situations where I have notified of a protection racket of (as milking a cash cow using an impersonator of me to confess to exploitation of those in public allegations) result in my removal, death threats, or actions against me have included when I gave my press kit to Starbucks, when I was contacting the Texas DPS Rangers from Red Rose that Tyler Eastburn had me ejected over and other locations as well as a pattern. I keep no secrets at all about my activities or that I belive the protection racket funding adult life is based in FBI San Antonio and other locations in part from conversations with Eric Theoruabou who said Legend Security he was with was working with the FBI to find traffickers. I had talked to him because these throwing money at women that comes from a protection racket I I thought tied to people I had known at various times to have said and I think I could recognize those as well visually as being part of Red Rose. I copied the DPS Texas Rangers that as usual (Palazio as well) that was when a confrontation occurred and I was evicted in it even in the middle of the paragraph as I was typing it.

I asserted I was Second Line of Troops to Jen Moore, her a whistle=blower dead, Eric opened a Cajun restaurant under that name.

The Revenge Stalker asserting they are bullying someone for a good reason have clearly undergone training. They are arrogant and full of themselves in their mission, delusionally so. The characteristics though show common defense mechanisms. The Targeted Individual may say something that sounds delusional about a Stalker like calling a Stalker a weird name but that is because the Stalker has asked to be called that name; for instance giving that name as the one to be used, or acting in a way as to seem to play to derogatory epithats hoping to hear one back from the person being stalked. Often the softening up of the target is partially accomplished by asserting the target is paranoid about people when in fact the target of the abuse is reasonably suspicious, and the abusers of the person being harassed act in response to works they wish to interrupt. When I changed my blog name to St. John Hunt Ed Donegan Expose Press I was attacked, when I mentioned The Kings Speech my home was broken into, when I referenced Burns the current CIA Director born Aug 4 Fort Bragg I was suddenly evicted,, etc., It is possible the Stalkers are so engulfed in revenge delusions they are acting on they are mindless but at least their controllers who pull the marionette strings are keenly aware of who is being attacked and the real reasons for the attacks.

I have more to go into later about people and places but I will say this. It is a discreditation scheme (predatory stalkling) and the wolf often has a predatory interest in sheep wool. This is fairly commonly noted among stalk victims.

In the Strategy of Tension where in public I am treated as though I am and labeled as though I am a gym peeper the real peepers are just using me as a fall guy many of whom were eager to roadblock what I had been doing so well. Gym usage for me meant recovery from diabetes, for many of my stalkers it meant top fitness swingers and actresses and call girls and others who want the edge in succulent gym good looks.

This is the corruption network I assert has arisen around my life but it is not limited to the gym. These wolves harass my book writing and life story eve more.

The idea of the injury the wolves an achieve (and have) is the damage that the injury will cause - homelessness, loss of use of a library, destruction of personal belongings and family heirlooms, and in the course of that over decades, a stall in the truth coming out as more and more witnesses to the events of 1925 and 1961 and 1963 and 1968 finally die out.

I am determined to get my account of this into writing and be sure at least that survives.

Minion 1 : a servile dependent, follower, or underling He's one of the boss's minions. 2 : one highly favored : IDOL his great charity to the poor renders him the minion of the people -Jonas Hanway 3 : a subordinate (see SUBORDINATE entry 1 sense 1) or petty official government minions.

Targeting is carried out by minions and minions usaully replace real neighbors, landlords, etcl, to achieve the dirty tricks the elites need. Jen Moore was correct in how these sheep are trained to be wolves in churches who use the sheep to seem like victims of those they follow around. In fact they are wolves now who are part of felony stalking people like me and others.

I continue to be a "high value" target for CIA and FBI, others. My contributions to sociology were so pragmatics and based on so much realism others wanted credit for it after first discrediting me. I was opposed to Christianity in that I felt no Heavenly God created mankind and law but rather Mother Earth the evolutionary environment support and improving species evolving over time with a continously evolving brain and racial traits not univeral accross the continents. Exploring Natural Law Philosphy and Social Contrat among peers in republicanism was painted as Nazism. Darwinistic and racial beliefs were similat to Nazism, more so than Christianity.

The culutural cooption of my rare intellect and world knowledge was much like cops siezing a car from me during an emergency (which the also actuall did) and being abusive to me with phoney allegations made predation upon me possible.

Over time I have grown resentful, distrustful, and defensive about the State and thus a prophecy about me as a Tim McVeigh type did come to pass and that in turn led to what was done to McVeigh?

I have pointed out the derogatory treatment of me is based on repetitive and accumulating false allegations the grow in normalization. For a complete stranger the allegations may be correct or for social clensing puruposes as social house keeping worthwhile. I have suspected a deeper conspiracy and continue to write about it, write about the CIA, and write about Jen Moore who wrote about the CIA and its history.

Overshadowing. Despotive. Irrefutalbe. Obvious. All these should be true by clear and honest minds that I want nothing to do with grotesque imagery that people (teens and younger and their accomplices) are potratying me as a "consumer" of the image of exploited teens espeically as might be ina gym or library.

Yet those like Falk Austin Public library, its employees and now into Austin Cental Public Liberary continue the practice of Subsversion of me, sobotage and smear of me. They say (many of them) it is done fight Nazism (with COINTELRPO) and maybe in some of their minds that is true of what they think.

Spurring conduct from people)liek putting spurs into a horse) like me being abused is what Provacotuers need as the abusive conduct (the alleege activities that label me) draw my anger and thus my eviction, arrest, or placement into a pscyward or violent gangs attacking me for "my unproked conduct or beliefs about those near me." I think my father (alleged to have been confused about things) died in an accident as did Veronia Hoffman who werre spurred into response to stimule that was being denied. I also asser this Noise Campaign was used to kill Jewish actress Veronic Hoffman who like my father died in a pscyh ward a victim of sophisticated "fear stalk" bullies.

I have asked the Austin Public library system to accpet repsonibility for the death of Jen Moore who died inbetween these events at Falk Libray and new Austin Central at 300 Ceaser Chavez. I have writtent them and Dallas Library and police oversight on the subject of "strategy of tension" to creatd agruments and from a position of power retaliate against the party compainng about the abuse.

Harassment of me is designed to destroy my life and in specific ways.

I am a sophisticated sane person and non exploitative but smearing me as mentally challenged, a threat to and much like a child, and harassing my leasing and computer usage and gym usage and social activities are calculated moves with calculated smears unrelated to what is true about excerpt for in reversing the truth into a lie.

In fact as with FBI and CIA operations normally the intensiveness of conflict induced hostile environments as process making environments unusable conflict ridden places is as important to the COINTELRPO operation as is the substance of what is being harrassed and in what way.

Called "Tensioning" as situation it is made tenses by abusive fight provoking conflict generating activities.

The very meaning of Mens Rea in law is an act that has been planned out and will involve and illegal act designed to occur or that could be foreseen to occur.

My (Edward Paul Donegan) home and home office were sabotaged from an underground operation running about 35 year and 17 leases, once counted up, and harassment of my computers and use of them including recently several physical attacks on me as I use a recently bought laptop and also break-ins when DOJ and FBI officials were on my book cover later changed to reflect the ties to JFK assassination, and all my research material stolen with it and the video of Kings Speec central to my 1925 British imperialism theory of colonialism and the Donegan's Kennedy's impeded.

Why does the Government need to Silence and undermine Journalists and others following the JFK assassination with calculated moves of harassment?

The US Government does.

President George W. Bush Apri 23, 2003
The White House
1600 Pennsylvania Avenue NW

Washington, DC 20500
Dear President Bush

On April 3, 2003, I found an intruder (biker type-wearing a head bandana, leather Jacket, and chains attached to his belt) in the basement of the apartment complex where I am presently staying in Los Angeles. After seeing me, he bolted through the front door of the building and disappeared. I filed a police report. [am making this incident a matter of record with a number of government agencies and the news media because this appears to be yet another surveillance of me.

Since retiring as the Senior Special Agent in Charge of the FBI Los Angeles Division in 1979, T have publicly exposed pedophilia, murder, child kidnapping, and other nefarious criminal activity on the part of individuals both in and out of government circles; much of which has been covered up or ignored by those responsible for investigating these allegations.

In the past, there have been attempts to frame me for alleged criminal activity, individuals have been ‘planted’ on me and there have been attempts on my life. More recently, I have been the target of a disinformation/ smear campaign spearheaded by an FBI informant. In addition, I have been the victim of periodic surveillances, illegal entries into my home and vehicle, and illegal telephone taps (I have proof.)

My most noted investigations, which I am sure are the reasons for this harassment, include documentation that the FBI furnished the ingredients for the bomb in the February 1993 World Trade Center bombing (NY Times Oct. 28, 1993), a cover-up of the Oklahoma City bombing in April 1995 (at least eleven other persons involved besides Tim McVeigh and Terry Nichols), and most recently, documentation that the FBI bad advance knowledge of the 9-11 terrorist attacks and failed to take appropriate preventative action.

I compiled a 24-page report concerning the FBI's pre-knowledge ofthe 9-11 attacks in January of 2003 and I distributed to more than 200 members of the Legislative and Executive Branches of the U.S. government (including U.S Attorney General John Ashcroft and Secretary of State Colin Powell) and Mr. Lee Hamilton, co-chair of the recently formed 9-11 Presidential Committee to investigate the attacks.

I told Mr. Hamilton that my source, Mr. Michael Riconosciuto, possessed important, critical, and timely information about terrorist activity in the United States and that he should be debriefed immediately. Thus far, Mr. Riconoscito has not been interviewed and I have been ignored.

I am making the April 3, 2003 surveillance incident a matter of record as I have no intention of becoming another ‘victim’ such as Bill Colby (former CIA Director) or Dan Casolaro (journalist) Both men were murdered in spite of the “official reports that state otherwise.

These measures include identifying and exposing individuals in the satanic cult drug network operating within the United States, with ties to top level officials - including politicians, judges, law enforcement, U.S. intelligence agents, and professional business men and women.

If anything happens to me, my family, or my close associates- including my attorney (former Nebraska State Senator, John DeCamp), Susan Ford, or other individuals within my informational network, the names of the leaders of the cult/drug network and additional information concerning their activities will be released to the public.

Regarding Mr. Coby, he did not drown and he did not commit suicide- he was murdered, shot in the head. [later elsewhere Gunderson and others assert Ice bullet and or cow head impact devices.]

I, Ted L. Gunderson, hereby swear under the pains and penalties of jury that the following statements are true and correct:

1. My name is Ted L.. Gunderson. I am the owner and operator of Ted L. Gunderson & Associates, an international security and consulting firm based out of Santa Monica, California. I am currently a licensed private investigator in the state of California. I have performed private Investigation and security work for numerous individuals, companies, and governments worldwide since founding my firm in 1979. I have worked for, amongst others, F. Lee Bailey, Esq., The California Narcotics Authority by appointment of Governor Jerry Brown, The 1984 Los Angeles Olympic Committee, and The 1979 Pan American Games in San Juan, Puerto Rico by appointment of then U.S, Attorney General Griffin Bell.

2. Previous to my work as a private investigator I spent nearly three decades in the F.B.L. Between 1951 and 1960 I was an F.B.I. Special Agent. In 1960 I was promoted as a supervisor at F.B.1. Headquarters in Washington, D.C., where Twas in charge of Organized Crime and Racketeering investigations covering 26 F.B.L Field Offices nationwide. Following the assassination of President John F. Kennedy.

   1 was re-assigned to Special Inquiry White House Matters at F.B.I. Headquarters. In 1965 T was promoted again to Assistant Special Agent-In-Charge of Internal Security and Anti-Terrorism of the F.B.I. New Haven, Connecticut Field Office.

In 1970 I was promoted to Assistant Special Agent- In-Charge of the F.B.L. Philadelphia, Pennsylvania Field Office.

On July 12, 1972 1 successfully negotiated with two terrorist hijackers of National Airlines Flight 496 for the release of 119 passengers at Philadelphia International Airport: In 1973 I was promoted to Chief Inspector at F.B.1. Headquarters. also served as Special Agent-In-Charge of the F.B.I. Memphis and Dallas Field Offices. I retired from the F.B.I, as Senior Special Agent-In-Charge of the Los Angeles Field Office of the F.B.I. with over 700 employees and a budget of over 22 million dollars in 1979.

3. I have read the Complaint in the current action of Mr. Keith Labella against F.B.1. and D.0O.J. It is my professional opinion, based on information, knowledge and belief that the information sought by Mr. Labella in this F.O.I. A suit regarding “gang stalking”, “gang stalking groups” and “gang stalking methods” reasonably describes an ongoing, active, covert nationwide program that is in effect today, and, based on my investigations and experience, has been operational since at least the early 1980’s. Since the 1980°s gang stalking has increased in scope, intensity and sophistication by adapting to new communications and surveillance technology. These programs are using the codenames Echelon Program, Carnivore System, and Tempest Systems.

The Echelon Program is administered by the N.S. A. out of Fort Meade, Maryland, and monitors all email and phone calls in the world. Carnivore System is administered by the N.§.A. out of Fort Meade, Maryland, and can download any computer system without being traced or otherwise known to the owner. Tempest Systems can decipher what is on any computer screen up to a quarter of a mile away.

These programs are negatively impacting thousands of Americans and severely abusing their civil rights on a daily basis.

4. Based on my investigative work, which includes intelligence from sources such as active and former members of the Intelligence Services (including the FBI, the CLA, the N.S. A and Military Intelligence), information from informants active in criminal enterprises, and, victim testimonies, I have come to the conclusion that thousands of victims have been targeted by an illegal government rogue criminal enterprise that is active 24 hours a day within the U.S. This conspiracy is far too active to be controlled or operated by private enterprise whose goals are achieving financial gain.

These operations require extensive financing with no return on the investment. This program's operations are financed by illegal black operations, i.e., narcotics, prostitution, child kidnapping (children sell at covert auctions for up to $50,000 per child), human trafficking, gambling and other rackets.

5. I have documentation and know that throughout the U.S., operating 24 hours-a-day and 7 days-a-week, there is a Central Command, located within the U.S., with multiple satellite offices, whose administrators can instantly initiate surveillance, phone taps and harassment against any individual in the country. They have the technology, financing and manpower to dispense illegal surveillance and harassment against anyone at any time, day or might. I have files on numerous cases of active, programmatic, illegal government harassment currently being conducted against thousands of Americans. This makes the F.B.I.'s former COINTELPRO program, which I worked on, including in a supervisory capacity, look like a Sunday school program by comparison.

6. I firmly believe that most individuals working in the F.B 1, other intelligence agencies, and the government overall are honest, law-abiding public servants. However, a sophisticated network of rogue operatives has secretly infiltrated the F.B.1,, other intelligence agencies including the C.I.A, and other key government positions.

   This rogue element seeks personal power and wealth and considers themselves above the law and the Constitution. They are carrying out the aforementioned surveillance and harassment activities in conjunction with organized crime, the cult movement in America including Satanic cults, other commercial and political interests, and even misguided civic organizations and neighborhood groups.

This illegal surveillance and harassment program is being called gang stalking and organized stalking by the victims targeted by it.

The victims are targeted for a variety of reasons including government and corporate whistleblowers, parties to financial and employment disputes, parties to marital disputes (usually divorced women), and even jilted paramours. Journalists covering controversial issues, and, even attorneys and private investigators representing unpopular clients or interests, have been targeted by this program.

7. Individuals targeted by this program have been subjected to illegal and unconstitutional phone taps, illegal re-routing of business and private phone calls for purposes of harassment, illegal audio “bugging”, surreptitious entry into home, office, and vehicle, visual surveillance in the home conducted by illegal placement of miniature remote, wireless cameras (often accessible via internet), illegal internet spyware, illegal GPS tracking (often through their own mobile phones), regular fixed and mobile surveillance, mail misdirection, mail theft and tampering, financial and employment sabotage, slander campaigns and community ostracizing , internet disinformation and smear campaigns, poisoning, assaults and murder, illegal set-ups on ding charges and other felony charges, amongst many other civil rights abuses.

8. In addition to high-ranking members of the F.B.L., other intelligence services, and the government overall, wealthy, powerful members of criminal syndicates, multi-millionaires and the corporate elite are using the government gang stalking program to harass enemies. They can get a targeted individual harassed for the rest of that individual's life (individual cases of gang stalking lasting for over a decade are common). The higher status members of the gang stalking conspiracy initiate the gang stalking and coordinate logistics and funding. Lower echelon government rogue operatives, lower ranking members of the military (in violation of Posse Comitatus), petty criminals and street thugs perform the actual grunt work of daily monitoring and harassment of individuals targeted by the program.

9. Based on my professional experience, extensive intelligence information and belief, it is my professional opinion that the F.B.1. is involved in and has investigative files on the subject of gang stalking, related gang stalking methods, and gang stalking groups in the F.B.L's vast intelligence files, that are responsive to Mr. Labella's F.O.ILA. Complaint. Furthermore, I have personally referred numerous victims of gang stalking to the appropriate agents at the F.B.I. for investigation of their cases. I have also furnished the F.B.1. with documentation of an active, international child kidnapping ring probably operated by rogue C.I.A. agents.

The F.B.I has ignored my requests to investigate even though it is their responsibility to investigate kidnappings. I have a contact in Germany who advises me that the C.LLA. has set up secret operations on U.S. military bases for the kidnapping, sale and trafficking of children worlawide. The FBI may be using a unique codename and nomenclature for the gang stalking phenomenon in its records. However, this is a semantic difference, and, in no way changes my professional opinion that the F.B.1. has investigative files on the nationwide phenomenon of gang stalking described in reasonable and specific detail in Mr. Labella's F.O.L A. Complaint.

These F.B.1. files contain information responsive to Mr. Labella's F.O.L.A. Complaint regarding the subject of gang stalking. The F.B.1. and other intelligence agencies are administering and covering up the rogue, covert, government criminal enterprise of gang stalking. The gang stalking phenomenon appears in the records of both the F.B.1. and the N.5.A. in their records pertaining to the Echelon Program, Carnivore System, and Tempest Systems.

In addition, the gang stalking phenomenon appears in the records of both the F.B.I. and the N.S.A. in their records pertaining to information collected by Narus systems. Narus is a wholly owned subsidiary of defense contractor Boeing that produces sophisticated, mass surveillance computer systems currently being used by both the F.B.L. and the N.S.A.

The Four Types of Mens Rea

Under common law, a person cannot be truly guilty of a crime unless he or she consciously commits a dangerous or illegal act. The intent to commit a crime is officially known as “mens rea,” which is Latin for “guilty mind.” In the US, mens rea is generally divided into four sublevels, each of which reflects a different level of responsibility for a crime.

If you or a loved one has been accused of any criminal offense, you need a clear understanding of the relevant laws so you can decide what steps to take next. To schedule a free initial consultation with a knowledgeable Champaign criminal defense lawyer, call the offices of Bruno Law Offices at (217) 328-6000.

Levels of Culpability

Most criminal cases involve one of the following kinds of mens rea:

- Intent: This is the explicit and conscious desire to commit a dangerous or illegal act. For example, if a person targets and assaults someone with the goal of inflicting harm on the victim, he is displaying criminal intent.

- Knowledge: This term applies if a person is aware that his or her actions will have certain results, but does not seem to care. For example, if a person violently lashes out at someone, inflicting harm may not be her primary goal. However, if she was aware that harm would be a predictable result of her actions, then she is guilty of having criminal knowledge.

- Recklessness: Recklessness is the decision to commit a certain action despite knowing about associated risks. For example, if a person causes injury while driving drunk, he can be found guilty of recklessly causing harm. He did not intend to hurt anyone, and did not expect it to happen, but he knew he was taking the risk of hurting someone by driving while inebriated.

- Negligence: This is the mildest form of criminal culpability. A person commits negligence when she fails to meet a reasonable standard of behavior for her circumstances. For example, if a child is injured because his or her caretaker failed to perform her duties, she may be guilty of criminal negligence.

As you can see, mens rea involves many complexities and subtle distinctions. If you are defending yourself from criminal accusations, you need a Champaign defense attorney who fully understands the complexities of your case.

I have experienced a great deal of harassment by the State and those conspiring with it.

MKUJLTRA has been described as "no touch torture" a system in which offensiveness is more a matter of a skit (pantomime) near a person than touching that person being attacked.

Sexual, religious, and racial harassment need not involve touching, nor does most harassment. "Noise campaigns" just of loud noises, or use of harassing gesturing regarding sexual messages, racial or religious expressions, etc., are ongoing, abusive, and unfair to me and a threat to me as people pretend they are victims of me or treat me as though they are part of some legitimate activity regarding me, it is in fact all a lie.

Why I have been treated like this in a mockery way is what my book is about, and it leads into what the US really is, a corrupt lie and its need to hide that by mocking its victims, victims of it liek myself, a Dissident.

This story I and Jen Moore tell is about Action and Attraction. In the normal bustle of the gym or a street or apartment complex or neighborhood there is plenty of action as people go shopping, picnic and exercise in the park, or engage in other activities.

But Stalkers have been attracted to Edward Paul Donegan in order to "provide" the sight of themselves or children to him.

These Stalkers are on the one hand hoping to assert he is an exploitative person interested in them or in children, and at the same time hope to gain under that "Legend" about him (me.)

Why would be mocked like this is part of Decomposition as I have been arrested for fights with stalkers and held without trial most of my life in mental institutions or alternatively forced out of jobs, apartmentes, and social communities based on the Stalkers allegations of me.

Since the assertions of the Stalkers are out of character for the real me I had to investigate why I would be smeared and I now believe it is because of ties to the Kennedy assassinations history and the Donegan Curse and Kennedy curse are one and the same.

The Stalkers treatment of me and that is a State act is that the State officials and the State itself have something to hide both in the assassination of JFK and also now in how they are covering it up, first with witnesses being assassinated and later journalists like Micheal Hastings, Victoria Windsors, Breitbart , and other like Tom Clancy being assassinated to further cover-up the story from being told.

Why stalk a person?

> Ritual Gangstalking
>
> Reportedly performed by cults and secret organizations such as Satanists, secret orders of free masons, some voodoo /obeah practitioners and Scientologists as a means of control or for punishment. “Ritual abuse” is incorporated into “ritual gangstalking” patterns in this case.

Cybergangstalking

A situation where an individual is identified to be a target through Internet participation and their personal identity is determined. Cybergangstalkers pierce the electronic veil and are able to enter into the real life of a person, creating all forms of harassment, theft, psychological operations including slander and libel, and able to commit crimes against the targeted individual.

I will cover more information about this subject and other related topics in future articles. If you or someone you know are victims of gangstalking or any other form of malevolent harassment, feel free to contact us. We are here to help.

It could also be said "How Peter treats Paul says more about Peter than it does about Paul."

Peter has something to hide, caught with his pants down, and now he is trying to eliminate witnesses.

Target Selection

Gang stalking apparently targets American citizens deemed to be dissidents or whistle-blowers (and perhaps potential dissidents and whistle-blowers), although others might be targeted for other reasons - such as for experimental or training purposes. For perspective, it should be remembered that for two decades the CIA performed secret illegal experiments on U.S. and Canadian citizens (the infamous MK Ultra program). Those experiments included physical and psychological torture.

I do NOT use the name "Paul" but presume for this chapter of my book and I am Paul. So why is Paul being treated, mocked, as a pervert interested in gym clothes, a non-consensual photographer, pilloried in a mocking way, treated as retarded and schizophrenic, etc.,

Let is assume we the USA are governed by Peter. What why is Peter in a calculated way trying to me Paul a threat to neighborhoods, gyms, and libraries in a scheme running 40 years long?

> Derive/Derivative
> I was prescribed gym and good diet. It can be derived I love music, have rare in depth knowledge of music, love health, need health as Diabetic with A1c 13.3 and by predisposition am a good fit for gym community and get great results
>
> Anti Derivative
>
> If I amk made to look like a threat to those in gym clothes, etc., I am toxic to the gym and treating me as that is abusive to me at the time and a threat to my future gum usage.
> Same with Library and housing.

The Smear campaign is disingenuous. If ever there were some reason, at least out of context, at any point in my life that would suggest any of these rumors and smears of me were true, there is easily readily available a million times that quantity of exculpatory indication.

Further the Method and Substance of the smear campaign are clearly fraud, and clearly unjust pillory of me, mocking of me by shams.

Ed Donegan asserts that the explanation is found in Title 18 US Federal Code Chapter 73 in the Articles about harassment of witnesses and the pillory of me is criminal conspiracy from high ranking officials with something to hide and the power to run smear campaigns.

Gang Stalking Is Criminal Activity

A ritual is a ceremony or action performed in a customary way. Your family might have a Saturday night ritual of eating a big spaghetti dinner and then taking a long walk to the ice cream shop. - https://www.vocabulary.com/dictionary/ritual

"legends" that is to say Different than True Life Legends are a backstory that is not reality but brought to live by persons in their actions acting out the dis reality having internalized the dis-reality into their actions. This can be fabricating confessions while using Identity theft, posing as victims of crimes not occurring or as witness to crime not occurring but being staged as theater by those using themselves to make the legend seem true. Faked other backstory elements, forgeries, improper descriptions of events or the cause of events is the norm in smearing someone.

Common elements of the Legend are that 1) The smear: The person being stalked is in someway a bad person and should be treated as such including by blacklisting 2) The GangStalkers have a noble cause to what they are doing and should continue to do so, and 3) The final messaging acted out by theater is the victim of the Stalk has delusions he or she is being stalked OR has no right to know why Stalkers would be harrassing the target of fraud.

Abusive behavior (especially if the behavior interferes with activity important to the abused person or necessary to the abused person) becomes a problem for the abused person. If the abuse like defamatory treatment is unrelenting the person being abused is the stakeholder in trying to address the condition. Unrelenting meaning not yielding in strength, severity, or determination.

I have written and spoken about my life in the San Francisco Bay Area including the Northbay Peninsula of Marin County, of the East Bay of Alameda, Oakland, and Berkely areas, and further in the East Bay of Contra Costa County east of and part of the Berkely Hills and San Francisco Peninsula and down to San Jose along the South Bay.

It was a life filled with various adventure in all those areas often with my father as a partner in sports as we sailboarded at Cayoute Point or Delvalle resevoir, sailed the 10 foot sailboat in Lafayette Resevoir, went to community college and was part of the leather scene. During all of that I complimented the Pansexual movement that included straight whites and straights generally and I was thankfull the Gay community was well as the recovering communities be it religous, sexual cultural, or even environmental or simply as a matter of personal boundries that must and do exist for their own sake spoke of drawing and keeping those boundries in a rational and dircect end clear way, something many straights were not used to negotiating or defining.

Tresspass is also something I have written of and violating boundries. Many things I did for decades were part of scene safety, respect of rights and photo privacy, respect of scene members privacy outside of the scene, non-exploitative conduct among adults, etc., While on a few fluke occasions I have been outside that conduct like surgfing an internet with such a large net for bikini porn as well as other porn I included teen bikini porn and some of that was covertly filmed usually in public as part of the binkini goup and that group was a minor part of the rest of the groups.

If people were trying to make something out of that there is some room to do so but the "micro-agression" or "bullying" or "mocking" is something far different. Being in your space as an individual, in your space in your home, or in your space in a public place can be interfered with by mean-spirited hate speech that in introduced by others into your space and aggression. It is falsely in some other people's space as they loudly talk to each other right in ear shot of the person who's space is being invaded, and in a aggressive way is mocking the targeted person by a smear of that person, references that are hostile, abusive, defamatory, and distracting and unwelcome. Covertly referencing personal aspects of a person's long life and fraudulently even laughingly making a mockery out of what was likely a good, a postive aspect of your (the targets of the agression's) private life is inflammatory and part of smears and abuse of a person stepping into the abused person's space while the abusers pretend to be in their own, talking to each other, the phone in their hand, thir dog, etc., but in reality the message is to the target and not within their own space. You might call it micro-agression because it is an insult to a person but leaves open the person actually being referenced, so it is not a compplety formed agression specific enough to be an abusive statement about a person.

These trespasses into my library common space usage and other locations are what I was reacting to that as a writer I needed unfetterd access to those locations. I had access rights to the public space but my use of that space was tresspasssed against.

Understanding Conflict Handling Styles In a dispute, it's often easier to describe how others respond than to evaluate how we respond. Each of us has a predominant conflict style. With a better understanding of the impact our personal conflict style has on other people, we can consciously choose how to respond to others in a conflict situation.

Competing Value of own issue/goal: High Value of relationship: Low Result: I win, you lose Competitors come across as aggressive, autocratic, confrontational and intimidating. A competitive style is an attempt to gain power and pressure a change. A competitive style can be appropriate when you have to implement an unpopular decision, make a quick decision, the decision is vital in a crisis or it is important to let others know how important an issue is to you - "standing up for your right." However, relationships can be harmed beyond repair or others may feel they have to use covert methods to get their needs met.

Accommodating Value of own issue/goal: Low Value relationship: High Result: I lose, you win

Accommodators set aside their own needs because they want to please others in order to keep the peace. Smoothing or harmonizing can result in a false solution to a problem and can result in feelings ranging from anger to pleasure. Accommodators are unassertive and cooperative and may play the role of a martyr, complainer or saboteur. Accommodation is useful when admitting you are wrong or when you want to minimize losses to preserve relationships. However, it can become competitive - "I am nicer than you are" - and may result in reduced creativity and increased power imbalances.

Avoiding Value of own issue/goal: Low Value of relationship: Low Result: I lose, you lose Avoiders deliberately ignore or withdraw from a conflict rather than face it. Avoiders do not seem to care about their issue or the issues of others. People who avoid the situation hope the problem will go away, resolve itself without their involvement or rely on others to take the responsibility. Avoidance can be appropriate when you need more time to think and process, time constraints demand a delay, or the risk of confrontation is not worth what might be gained. However, avoidance is destructive if the other person perceives that you don’t care enough to engage. By not dealing with the conflict, this style allows the conflict to simmer, potentially resulting in angry or negative outbursts.

Compromising Value of own issue/goal: Medium Value of relationship: Medium Result: I win some, you win some Compromisers are willing to sacrifice some of their goals and persuade others to give up theirs, too-give a little, get a little. Compromise maintains the relationship and can take less time than other methods but resolutions may focus on demands rather than needs or goals. The compromise is not necessarily intended to make all parties happy or result in a decision that makes the most business sense, but rather ensures the decision is just and equitable, even if it causes a loss for both parties. Power is defined by what one party can coerce or get the other to give up. To split the difference, game-playing can result in an outcome that is less creative and ideal.

Collaborating Value of own issue/goal: High Value of relationship: High Result: I win, you win

Collaboration generates creative solutions that satisfy all the parties' concerns and needs. Collaborators identify the underlying concerns, test assumptions and understand the views of others. Collaboration fosters respect, trust and builds relationships. Collaborators address the conflict directly and in a way that expresses willingness for all parties to get what they need. However, collaboration takes time so if the relationship is not important it may not be worth the time and energy to create a win-win solution.

In any conflict ask, "Is my preferred conflict handling style the very best I can use to resolve this conflict or solve this problem?" https://www.utsystem.edu/offices/human-resources/current-employees/manager-resources/employee-relations/understanding-conflict-handling-styles

The COINTELPRO Papers retrieved from Wikipedia and copied or modified to here

The COINTELPRO Papers: Documents from the FBI's Secret Wars Against Dissent in the United States is a book by Ward Churchill and Jim Vander Wall, first published in 1990. It is a history of the FBI's COINTELPRO efforts to disrupt dissident political organizations within the United States, and reproduces many original FBI memos.

Publication

The COINTELPRO Papers is published by South End Press. The first edition was printed in 1990 with a foreword by John Trudell, a preface by Brian Glick, and a guide to the documents by Chip Berlet and Brian Glick. The book is dedicated to Fred Hampton and Mark Clark. South End Press produced the second edition in 2002, with a new preface, as part of their 'Classics Series'. With 560 pages, it has ISBN 0-89608-649-6 in hard cover, and ISBN 0-89608-648-8 in paperback.

Fred Hampton

Fredrick "Chairman Fred" Allen Hampton Sr. (August 30, 1948 - December 4, 1969) was an American activist. He came to prominence in his late teens and very early 20s in Chicago as deputy chairman of the national Black Panther Party and chair of the Illinois chapter. As a progressive African American, he founded the anti-racist, anti-classist Rainbow Coalition, a prominent multicultural political organization that initially included the Black Panthers, Young Patriots (which organized poor whites), and the Young Lords (which organized Hispanics), and an alliance among major Chicago street gangs to help them end infighting and work for social change. A Marxist-Leninist, Hampton considered fascism the greatest threat, saying, "nothing is more important than stopping fascism, because fascism will stop us all."

1968-1969: Formation of the Rainbow Coalition

When the Young Patriots Organization and Bob Lee of the Illinois Chapter of the Black Panther Party were accidentally double-booked to speak at the Church of the Three Crosses in Lincoln Park on the same night, the two ended up discussing poverty among impoverished White Southerners in Chicago, shared experiences between White Southerners in Uptown and Black people in the South and West Sides, and comparisons between poverty in Chicago and the Vietnam War. This meeting, which was captured on film and later included in the 1969 documentary film American Revolution 2, was the precursor to the spring 1969 formation of the Rainbow Coalition by Bob Lee and Fred Hampton.[2][5] At the outset the coalition was made up of the Young Patriots, the Illinois Black Panthers, and the Young Lords, and over the years they were joined by other community organizations.

In 1966, Fred Hampton turned 18. At that time, he started identifying with the Third World socialist struggles, as well as reading communist revolutionaries Che Guevara, Ho Chi Minh, and Mao Zedong. Shortly after, Hampton urged not only peace in the Vietnam War, but also North Vietnam's victory.

In 1967, the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) identified Hampton as a radical threat. It tried to subvert his activities in Chicago, sowing disinformation among black progressive groups and placing a counterintelligence operative in the local Panthers organization. In December 1969, Hampton was drugged, then shot and killed in his bed during a predawn raid at his Chicago apartment by a tactical unit of the Cook County State's Attorney's Office, who received aid from the Chicago Police Department and the FBI leading up to the attack. Law enforcement sprayed more than 100 gunshots throughout the apartment; the occupants fired once. During the raid, Panther Mark Clark was also killed and several others were seriously wounded. In January 1970, the Cook County Coroner held an inquest; the coroner's jury concluded that Hampton's and Clark's deaths were

The Young Patriots Organization (YPO) was an American leftist organization of mostly White Southerners from Uptown, Chicago. Originating in 1968 and active until 1973, the organization was designed to support young, white migrants from the Appalachia region who experienced extreme poverty and discrimination. The organization promoted Southern culture and used a Confederate battle flag as a symbol. Along with the Illinois Black Panther Party and the Young Lords, the Young Patriots Organization formed the Rainbow Coalition, a group of allied but racially separate organizations each focused on helping with issues of poverty and discrimination among their local community while working together towards internationalist and anti-capitalist goals.

Chicago was one of many American industrial cities that experienced an influx of White Southerners who came seeking employment throughout the 19th and 20th centuries. In 1970, Chicago and the neighboring city of Gary had about 280,000 residents who had been born in the South; they were particularly concentrated in the Uptown neighborhood of Chicago, where they made up 80% of the population. The group was culturally isolated, treated as outsiders by other Chicagoans. They often experienced severe poverty and were targets of police brutality. They were derided as "hillbillies", particularly among the press: the group was summarized in a subtitle to a 1958 article in Harper's Magazine as "proud, poor, primitive, and fast with a knife".

The Young Lords, also known as the Young Lords Organization (YLO) or Young Lords Party (YLP), was a Chicago-based street gang that became a civil and human rights organization. The group aims to fight for neighborhood empowerment and self-determination for Puerto Rico, Latinos, and colonized ("Third World") people. Tactics used by the Young Lords include mass education, canvassing, community programs, occupations, and direct confrontation. The Young Lords became targets of the United States FBI's COINTELPRO program.

Engaging a Target with Conflicts. Including as to the Truth as the Target is being smeared.

The use of deliberately offensive speech

Contentious is to contend. to compete in order to win something: contend for There are three world-class tennis players contending for this title. contend against He's contending against someone with twice his experience. To contend something is true rather than a norm.

Contentiousness leads to tensions when the contention is untrue but it is made to look true and bolstered by forgeries created elsewhere than in whole are part of a Racket.

I have used the Position of Power retaliation against the Abuse victim to explain why I get kicked out of places for asserting I am abused in those places. Use of ambiguous Agent Provocateurs (was that under 18 female just trying to be safe in the library, park, or bus, or coffee shop or make it unsafe for an older white male she was near? The created ambiguity allows the Position of Power retaliation against the male who thinks the under age minor was planted to Lure from the Target a hostiel statement regarding the presence of the minor who the Position of Power will assert had a right to be there.

These were Jen Moore still available taped assertions about Trolling trying to get under the skin in a traumatic way as to disable by trauma the victim of the troll who thus becomes in a conflict with the troll.

An Article that includes Rough Noise

https://isgp-studies.com/about

The style of trolling developed by 4chanS lb/ users can be characterized by four properties that are key to understanding the current practices of media manipulation:

- The use of deliberately offensive speech

- Antipathy toward sensationalism in the mainstream media

- The desire to create emotional impact in targets

- The preservation of ambiguity (Poes Law: "Without a clear indication of the author's intent, it is difficult or impossible to tell the difference between an expression of sincere extremism and a parody of extremism."

Offensive speech. Hate speech violates sensibilities (of the Target), and people take it very seriously, making it exactly the type of moral boundary [personal space violation] [that 4chan users love to transgress.]

By its very nature, hate speech is directed towards racial and sexual minorities and women, and 4chan presumes that everyone is white and male until proven otherwise.

4chan participants usually dismiss their cavalier use of "fag" or as ironically funny, or as a way to maintain boundaries: …

… people offended by such speech will stay away from spaces that use it, as intended. …

This practice also dovetails with an extremist commitment to "free speech," which is strongly tied to the polarized discourse against political correctness.

The desire to create emotional impact in targets [and traumatizes them]

The preservation of ambiguity (Poes Law: "Without a clear indication of the authors intent, it is difficult or impossible to tell the difference between an expression of sincere extremism and a parody of extremism. ") Offensive speech. Hate speech violates sensibilities, and people take it very seriously, making it exactly the type of moral boundary that 4chan users love to transgress.

By its very nature, hate speech is directed towards racial and sexual minorities and women, and 4chan presumes that everyone is white and male until proven otherwise- 4chan participants usually dismiss their cavalier use of "fag" or as ironically funny, or as a way to maintain boundaries: people offended by such speech will stay away from spaces that use it, as intended.

This practice also dovetails with an extremist commitment to "free speech," which is strongly tied to the polarized discourse against political correctness.

Emotional affect. The goal of trolling is engendering negative emotional responses in its targets, and as such, requires a certain lack of empathy.

Sometimes trolls distance themselves from their victims by constructing arguments for why the victims deserve the abuse.

This is the case with many Facebook trolls who post gory pictures and silly jokes to the memorial pages set up for deceased teenagers, justifying this as a reaction to sanctimonious "grief tourists" who pretend to care about people they didn't know.

In other instances, trolls scoff that their targets care too much about the internet, which, after all, is not "real life."

The ability to create this response is discussed as if a game, with trolls working together to "score points" - an indignant, angry, or tearful response is the ultimate goal.

Poes Law. A very successful troll plays with ambiguity in such a way that the audience is never quite sure whether or not they are serious. This is a key feature of many sub-cultural spaces, where racist speech and content is bandied around in such a way that it can be read either as the trolling of political correctness oras genuine racism. Determining intent is often impossible, especially given that participants are most often anonymous.

[Poe's law is being used to make a joke out of my political philosophy, education, and sophistication, suggesting I am a mere joke compared to others who in fact are copying from me and envious of me. I Edward Donegan am being disrupted while also being replaced.]

Rough Noise is designed to evade the quiet a library or internet coffee shop is supposed to offer making it hard to use for its intended and Constitutionally protected purpose.

> What is the definition of being normal?
>
> Conforming to the standard or the common type; usual; not abnormal; regular; natural. serving to establish a standard. Psychology. approximately average in any psychological trait, as intelligence, personality, or emotional adjustment. free from any mental disorder; sane.

What is the true meaning of abnormal?

Deviating from the normal or average. a person with abnormal [=exceptional] strength. abnormal powers of concentration. often : unusual in an unwelcome or problematic way.

GangStalkers are an abnormal presence often in abusively intended abnormal activities that are menacing to those around them such as veiled threats of violence, abnormally elevated sensory overdoses of racial, religious, or repulsive erotic imagery designed in such a way to initially annoy and over time even traumatize.

Often a victim of the Stalkers is not only offended by the sensory input but also publicly labeled by and defined by it since the ongoing nearness of obnoxiousness to him or her is conflated by the public as an attribute of him or her.

Often part of a Hoax the presence of the Stalker is bolstered in some way by forgeries or lies supporting the conduct when in fact it is mere harassment of the Stalk Victim in an unfair way creating an unfair portrait of the Stalk victim.

7. Individuals targeted by this program have been subjected to illegal and unconstitutional phone taps, illegal re-routing of business and private phone calls for purposes of harassment, illegal audio "bugging", surreptitious entry into home, office, and vehicle, visual surveillance in the home conducted by illegal placement of miniature remote, wireless cameras (often accessible via internet), illegal internet spyware, illegal GPS tracking (often through their own mobile phones), regu[illegible] obile surveillance, mail misdirection, mail theft an[illegible] nancial and employment sabotage, slander campaigns and community ostracizing , internet disinformation and smear campaigns, poisoning, assaults and murder, illegal set-ups on drug charges and other felony charges, amongst many other civil rights abuses.

6. I firmly believe that most individuals working in the F.B.I., other intelligence agencies, and the government overall are honest, law-abiding public servants. However, a sophisticated network of rogue operatives has secretly infiltrated the F.B.I., other intelligence agencies including the C.I.A., and other key government positions. This rogue element seeks personal power and wealth and considers themselves above the law and the Constitution. They are carrying out the aforementioned surveillance and harassment activities in conjunction with organized crime, the cult movement in America including Satanic cults, other commercial and political interests, and even misguided civic organizations and neighborhood groups. This illegal surveillance and harassment program is being called gang stalking and organized stalking by the victims targeted by it. The victims are targeted for a variety of reasons including government and corporate whistleblowers, parties to financial and employment disputes, parties to marital disputes (usually divorced women), and even jilted paramours. Journalists covering controversial issues, and, even attorneys and private investigators representing unpopular clients or interests, have been targeted by this program.

Street Theater: A group of people play out a whole show for the individual, and it appears to follow a predetermined plot. Following the Targeted Individual's thinking. The thought surveillance is perceived as humiliating. The home is entered and the perpetrators don't steal things, but can destroy them or they can leave objects that don't belong there. They often seem to enter with a key, because the doors are not forced.

Generally, if they are trying to set the Target up to appear dangerous to children, like some type of Pedophile, or dangerous to some type of official they will direct all their so called street traffic to pass by an area like schools or where children are.

In addition, to buildings or residences of Official's or Leaders' within community Organization's to give the false impression that the Target is stalking these people or areas.

This is deployed so as to further victimize the Target by way of SET-UPS and ENTRAPMENT. The Targeted Individual innocently follows the directional signs, generally not realizing that there is another Recruit - taking photos or video at the very moment that Target shows up.

This gives the Architect's video, or photos showing the Target in some designated set up Area, so that it can be used in their FEAR-MONGERING Recruitment Process.

Another type of STREET THEATER will be used, in the forms of young recruits who will come round the Target so that PHOTOS' and/or VIDEOS can be taken to once again give the false impression that the Target was doing something nefarious. These young recruit's are on a mission of Destruction, and will be told to deploy these underhanded Tactics, so that another Recruit can capture a Specific Event, to make the Target look bad.

Example: A young female or male recruit will be told to go up to the Older Male or Female Target, and begin a conversation, or place themselves in a compromising position, so that the Male or Female Target can be photographed, or video taped with the Target - giving the false impression that it was the Targeted Individual who initiated the act.

Among the criminal activity is feigning being a victim or potentiaol victim of Edward Donegan.

Feigned victim-hood or potential victim-hood is done in order to retaliate against Ed Donegan, build a derogatory public perception of Edward Donegan, and justify and incite riot activity against him, rioters faking his lease data, harassing him with death threats over alleged activities, etc.,

Living in the USA.

What violated my (Edward Paul Donegan's) leases via break-ins, evidence plants, falsified records, death threats from fire and police, violence and death threats in the hallways, etc., falsified rental records, attempts to access sealed packaged foods in other locations with unknown additives, etc.,

Even more so the attacks that are malicious over time and during the attacks make working on books being written, etc., and the attacks are engineered and calculated to destroy book writing and the lives of the authors.

Often activities of stalkers and will include black bag jobs, abusive and traumatic noise campaigns, break-ins, and other attacks including murders and removal of source material files used for book writing, e.g., interviews with others or documents obtained from others or drafts of upcoming works. .

> GANGSTALKED (CRIMINAL ACTIVITY)
>
> At this level, the GANGSTALKERS are hands-on and physical. The GANGSTALKERS are, dispatched to commit crimes against the person and property of the Targeted Individual such as breaking and entering the home of the target to commit crimes of theft and property damage. They may be dispatched to commit criminal activity and harm against the person of the Targeted Individual and/or against persons or animals associated with the Targeted Individual such as to “gaslight”, rape, beat, and poison.

TARGETED INDIVIDUAL HANDBOOK:

A handbook for the Targeted individual to identify and counter gangstalking and directed energy weapons

Introduction 1) What and Why? 2) Who 3) Solutions 4) References

INTRODUCTION

WHAT and WHY?:

The GANGSTALKING program can be described as a long term and slow DEATH with the constant life event of psychological and physical attack and torture. During any of the five levels the GANGSTALKING agents have it within their power to take a Targeted Individual out and mark the target for DEATH, and no one will be the wiser that the person was actually murdered by the SECRET push of a button.

A) Definitions:

"Organized Stalking is a well-organized, occult form of covert harassment used against an individual. It is done by large groups of people who systematically & repeatedly harass individuals. This has also been called Cause Stalking, Gang Stalking, Community-based Harassment, Organized Vigilante Stalking, Vengeance Stalking, Terrorist Stalking, Revenge Stalking, Covert Action, State-Sponsored Harassment, Microwave Harassment, Microwave Mind- Control, etc. All of these labels explain the same basic phenomenon." (Rich, State-Sponsored Terror Campaigns: The Hidden Evil",pg. 28-29).

"Mobbing, also referred to by some as bullying, psychological terrorism, and organizational violence is described as a collective form of psychological violence in which many individuals unite to persecute an individual Mobbing is a way of destroying a person without using any physical means Degrading themes are often used to try to prevent people from coming forward." (ibid., pg.35)

"Operations [are] designed to intimidate and destabilise [targeted individuals, 'Tls' for short] by subjecting them to repeated disappointment, and to socially alienate them by interfering with and disrupting their relationships with others as in social undermining. The aim was to induce personal crises in victims, leaving them too unnerved and psychologically distressed to have the time and energy for anti-government activism. " (zersetzung, pg. 1)

"What we are seeing now is a globally co-ordinated and organised effort of control and conformity. Many countries around the world are currently using a model of policing called Community Oriented Policing [ie.gangstalking]." (ibid.pg.3)

“Organized Stalking is a form of terrorism used against an individual in a malicious attempt to reduce the quality of a person’s life so they will: have a nervous break-down, become imprisoned, institutionalized, experience constant mental, emotional, or physical pain, become homeless, and/or commit suicide. This is done using well-orchestrated accusations, lies, rumors, bogus investigations, setups, framings, intimidation, overt or covert threats, vandalism, thefts, sabotage, torture, humiliation, emotional terror and general harassment. It is a “ganging up” by members of the community who follow an organised method and participate in a systematic “terrorizing” of an individual.” (ibid.pg.4)

"What are the goals of Gang Stalking? The usual goal is to isolate the target from all forms of support so that the target can be set up in the future for arrest, institutionalisation or forced suicide." (Stasi tactics-Zersetzung,pg.4)

This is called "sikul memukad" in Hebrew (targeted killing)

"The Zersetzung ['decomposition' in German] of individuals was usually carried out by systematically undermining the target’s quality of life (both socially and in the workplace) with the intention of simply destroying the target’s confidence. The tactics used took various forms, such as spreading slanderous rumours, causing trouble at work etc. " (ibid.)

Organized harassment is a form of "Fourth Generation Warfare- is a form of political/information warfare waged against civilians by a state or other entity. It utilizes civilians and the military, indeed all of society, to target civilian adversaries (aka “domestic state enemies,” “insurgents,” extremists, non-state actors, “cells of fanatics,” citizen “terrorists”) who value national sovereignty and/or pose some perceived threat to the state’s interests."

(“Instruction Manual for Community Gang Stalkers”).

"This[...J never ending systemic[...]J harassment, influence and manipulation of the targeted individual [...is] specifically designed to control the target with the aim of keeping them in line or the[...] destruction (Zersetzung) [of their soul].

[Edward Donegan asserts the technique is a form of desire to bring humiliation where pride was, not so the person will fell less of themselves but rather the targeted person will be angry he is mocked as a child in childish surroundings, etc.,]

"The long-term objectives of these harassment and experimentation campaigns appear to be quite fundamental; (1) induce a sense of perverted loyalty toward the very agencies engaged in the individual s harassment (2) redirect the targeted individual s feelings of hopelessness, anger and frustration toward racial and ethnic groups (3) force the individual to commit an act of violence, whether suicide or murder, under conditions which can be plausibly denied by the government." Microwave Harassment & Mind-Control Experimentation, Julianne McKinney, Director Electronic Surveillance Project, Association of National Security Alumni

"[T]he objective of the campaign is to separate a person from friends/family, keep them unemployed, induce homelessness, & reduce the quality of life so much that they suffer a nervous breakdown, cause them to commit suicide, or end up medicated, incarcerated/ institutionalized."

(Rich, State-Sponsored Terror Campaigns:The Hidden Evil", pg.45).

"7. Our kingdom will be an apologia of the divinity Vishnu, in whom is found its personification - in our hundred hands will be, one in each, the springs of the machinery of social life. We shall see everything without the aid of official police which, in that scope of its rights which we elaborated for the use of the GOYIM, hinders governments from seeing. In our programs ONE- THIRD OF OUR SUBJECTS WILL KEEP THE REST UNDER OBSERVATION from a sense of duty, on the principle of volunteer service to the State. It will then be no disgrace to be a spy and informer, but a merit: unfounded denunciations, however, will be cruelly punished that there may be no development of abuses of this right.

8. Our agents will be taken from the higher as well as the lower ranks of society, from among the administrative class who spend their time in amusements, editors, printers and publishers, booksellers, clerks, and salesmen, workmen, coachmen, lackeys, et cetera. This body, having no rights and not being empowered to take any action on their own account, and consequently a police without any power, will only witness and report: verification of their reports and arrests will depend upon a responsible group of controllers of police affairs, while the actual act of arrest will be performed by the gendarmerie and the municipal police. Any person not denouncing anything seen or heard concerning questions of polity will also be charged with and made responsible for concealment, if it be proved that he is guilty of this crime.

STAGES OF 'Zersetzung' (‘decomposition’) the terrorist protocol of the Hidden Hand: 1) Targeting (investigation and surveillance) , 2) Gangstalking, 3) Electronic Harassment (directed energy weapons, a.k.a 'D.E.Ws') [Edward Paul Donegan asserts two platuae levels of 1) Herding, Psychiatric Positioning, degraded from peers and normal socioeconomic class and social status, and 2) Violence, using the position herded to for the Targeted Individual to be a victim in a fight, arrested for being in a fight, etc., to eliminate the TIs freedom or cause the death of the TI. Attacks on a TI in the earlier level of platue would be more noticed, so the person is fired from jobs and moved away from those who know or knew the TI before the Stalk began.]

Targeting (investigation and surveillance)

Targeting "begins with [i)]surveillance so that a person's personality traits can be catalogued."(Rich, pg.19). "Targets are constantly monitored and if a target responds emotionally to a particular trigger, that will be built into the protocol." (Julianne McKinney).

From there it progresses to ii) investigation. "The bogus investigation appears to be the platform used to launch the smear campaign & remove a person's support structure." (ibid., pg.20) "The people who organize these harassment programs will try to assassinate your character. They will carry a case file on you that they will use for character assassination & to gain community support." (ibid.)

i) Surveillance and ii) investigation:

"They will set up a base of operation in your neighbourhood to conduct surveillance." "They will sublet, lease, rent property above, below or to the sides of your living space to do this. Money is no object as they have an unlimited budget. Half-truths, setups, & outright lies WILL be used. If you re an Organized Vigilante Stalking target, the investigation is not a means to an end, it is an end unto itself." (ibid.). "Gang Stalking begins the targeted individual may at first be placed under covert forms of surveillance. The person will probably be monitored 24/7. Foot patrols and vehicle patrols may be used to follow the individual as well as electronic means as part of the monitoring, psychological profiling process. Once the psychological profile is complete, the Gang Stalking can commence."

("Zersetzung - The East German Secret Police Methodology of Psychological Decomposition")

"The first stage of Zersetzung was an evaluation of all state held data and information, eg medical records, school reports, police records, intelligence reports, searches of target's residence. At this point they were looking for any weak points (social, emotional or physical) that could be used as a way to put pressure on the target[...]that could be used to socially isolate them." ("Stasi Tactics - Zersetzung")

Biofeedback registering stress infliction technique success. "(T]he group will be watching your home from their bases of operation using triangulation....Devices such as radar flashlights & millimeter wave devices, like the ones used at airports may be used such as The Life Assessment Detector System (LADS). It has a range of about 135 feet can & can detect heartbeat & respiration. It can also be configured to track a specific person s movement inside a building." (ibid.)

"Both community-based agent (CBA) visual surveillance and advanced electronic surveillance are used." (“Instruction Manual for Community Gang Stalkers', pg. 2)

2)GANGSTALKING

"Once the psychological profile is complete, the Gang Stalking can commence. Gang Stalking generally originates from when a covert investigation is opened on an individual and teams of plain clothes police officers, citizen informants/snitches and snoopers are deployed to obsessively harass the targeted individual usually to an extreme degree"

("Zersetzung - The East German Secret Police Methodology of Psychological Decomposition",

"The next stage was often to supplement covert surveillance with overt observation in order to communicate to the target that they were of interest to the Stasi and to create a sense of insecurity and paranoia." (Stasi Tactics - Zersetzung, pg.4)

The Gangstalking; Organized Stalking or mobbing protocol targets both the person and their property as well as those the cabal believes they care for as a means of harming the targeted individual. The following section covers examples of particular tactics employed and the desired effect of the perpetrators though it is by no means exhaustive.

i) Property: Thefts & Break-ins

'Thefts may be reduced to small inexpensive items. But some targets have reported jewelry, passports & other important items stolen. There is usually no sign of forced entry. This is done to let you know that they ve been in your home. These cults are obsessed with all aspects of a targeted person s life. Personal items may be passed around to group members are apparently symbolic of the control the group has over their target." (>Rich, State-Sponsored Terror Campaigns: The Hidden Evil",pg. 22)

Sabotage & Vandalism

> "This happens at home & in the workplace. Electronic equipment may constantly be failing. This may be accomplished with the e-bomb or a similar device[...]Projects you have worked on the previous day may become broken. Many times this vandalism is usually just below what you'd report to the police." (Rich, State-Sponsored Terror Campaigns: The Hidden Evil",pg. 23)

"Where the target owns substantial land, noxious activities can be arranged and built for next to the property. In one case, a dump, an auto race track, and a prison were built adjacent to a target who owned a large farm in an area of natural beauty. While this is rare, it does illustrate commitment to delivering punishment to those “deserving” of it." ("Bright Light on Black Shadows",Dr. Rauni-Leena Luukanen Kilde, ch.18)

While this is not necessarily property damage it is a destruction of the right to the quiet enjoyment of the premises and to the market value of the property thus harming the targeted individual indirectly as with most of the gagnstalking protocols.

Person:

The assault against the person is of course the ultimate purpose of the Hidden hand. The cabal targets the person a) economically;b) legally; c) socially; d) physically and 3) most importantly psycho-spiritually all of whichspecific forms of assault are interpenetrating given that the person is a multidimensional being whose sphere of influence participates in these spheres. The following amplifies upon how the person (T.I) is affected in these ways:

a) Economic Sabotage:

Blacklisting

"Gang Stalking groups will interfere with every personal & business relationship you have.(7) Since they are state sanctioned they can easily keep you unemployed. Job opportunities will be trashed. They get paid to make sure that you don't. Most targeted people are unemployed." (Rich, State-Sponsored Terror Campaigns: The Hidden Evil",pg. 23).

Bank accounts may be shut down or sabotaged through white collar crime; online transactions may be obstructed from other financial mediums or major or minor sellers. Attempting to sell or buy on the internet will also be obstructed through sharp pratices or preventing from occuring by the perps.

Should one attempt to sell real estate he will lose on the value as with other sales as the cabal has a monopoly on the real estate industry/profession. Also any other commodity of negotiable value is subject to loss of its value if sold for the same reason (eg. bullion; collectibles; etc.)

Financial surveillance. It looks like every penny a Targeted Individual has is counted and only a certain amount is allowed for the Targeted Individual to gain or evil schemes made to bring bankruptcy or poverty to the target.

b) Legal Sabotage:

Reporting things to the police should adhere to the extensive protocols and advice outlined in:"Information Handling in the Fight to Expose and Stop the Crime of Organized Stalking and Electronic Harassment"[0.S.E.H], Eleanor White

In brief one should avoid dealing with police (see below in the section "Coping", subsection "Dealing With Police")

Police work with private security 'professionals' (locksmiths and alarm system companies as well as private security guards and their managers) to spy on and break and enter into T.I's residences for harassment and sabotage purposes.

The legal system, being under the control of the cabal (a noahide-talmudic court which has supplanted the common law) employs lawyers and judges who will seek to railroad anyone they can frame as having violated their laws or bylaws throgh the system and give them the heaviest penalties they are able. Advice: trust no member of the legal profession as they are almost universally compromised and are either jews or freemasons or jewdeo-christians. 'They' are the cabal along with all other bureacrats and orgnizations private or public that all work together in their ‘communitarian’ spy society system (the 'Hidden Hand' shadow government).

c) social sabotage:

‘Some tactics used to keep you Blacklisted include interfering with communications, & slander. Also there are lists and software packages used to check these lists for suspected terrorists, threats to national security, etc. Apparently this is a flourishing business & some organizations are required by law to use it." (Rich, State-Sponsored Terror Campaigns: The Hidden Evil",pg. 24).

"Since they have federal connections, they do have the ability to frame a targeted person for crimes out in public as well using informants.(101, 7) Any weakness a person has can be used in one of these setups. A person may not be aware of some of these set-ups, but they may be added to a case file to assist with the smear campaign. They may try to provoke a confrontation when Mobbing you out in public.("Terrorist Stalking in America", David Lawson). Group members also try to entice the target to assault them, but this is never done without having witnesses present. The criminal conviction of the target, following the testimony of numerous concerned citizens can be followed by a civil lawsuit. (ibid. pg.23)

"Pedophilia is one common lie used to bring neighbors, co-workers, community members, and in some cases even family members into the 24/7 harassment." (ibid., 62)

In the gangstalking protocol the attempt to frame the T.I is employed through the perps following the T.I around (presumably through GPS if the T.I is implanted with a chip or through maintaining a continuous visual by pedestrian and driver perps as well as residents being given notification via text message or alerts on their cellphones that the T.I is approaching and that they should begin a noise campaign to harass the T.I when he is in range). They often deliberately involve children and women with baby strollers and babies to have them intercept the T.I while the latter is walking along a route at a certain pace (see 'intercepts' below). He can then be photographed adjacent to the women and children and these photos shown around community members by police or other 'authorities' to convince the gullible goyim ('cattle' in yiddish) to go along with the campaign and attempt to escalate the harassment of the T.I. Once adequate evidence is gleaned of the T.I in the context of women and children he may eventually have trumped up charges brought against himself to involve him in legal trouble (charged with 'pedophilia' or put on a watchlist).

Should he be jailed he may be executed by prisoners there or even by vigiliantees in his community. This will also prevent him from gaining employment owing to the notoriety of his constructed identity (constructed by the cabal).

Once the T.I's reputation is irreparably damaged through smear campaigns and rumour mongering he can then be further subject to punishment by the cabal and its agents and if he complains no one will ascribe value or truth to his claims.

Social Media, email, electronic devicves:

"[... additionally, T.ls "[...]Jmay receive unsolicited email that parallels a current event in your life[...]yvou may receive covert insults & threats."(ibid. pg.29)

"Your email may be blocked or filtered & your web activity may be monitored[...]If you try to [...]participate in online discussions groups, online dating [...]it is very possible you will be interrupted, trashed, or harassed. This can be done by a combination of paid civilian contractors (operatives/provocateurs) & email filtering." (ibid., pg. 30)

Should one encounter any others through daily life those he encounters may very well be gangstalkers/ perps themselves who are seeking to either gather information on the person or who are seeking to set him up somehow (assassination via poisoning or other means; rape; planting evidence on the person for a subsequent police investigation or raid instigated by other perps, a.k.a 'swatting', calling the police with false accusations). This may be the case even after prolonged contact with the person who befriends the T.I as they may be a deep cover agent. Also the 'friend' may be simply playing the role to subject the T.I to gaslighting and other forms of implicit abuse to wear away their sense of self-worth or to encourage them in vice such as faggotry or other deviant sex practices or drugs,etc. Anything that can be made to set the person up, sully their reputation and escalate their demise in the most cruel and traumatic way (the purpose of the Hidden Hand).

Social Control - Isolation of individuals through social and societal systems of control

Fabrication of false evidence that justifies ”Crime prevention” (fabrication of evidence of a falsified crime and rumor spreading - Discrediting of Targets); In most cases, Targeted Individuals are accused of a sex crimes with no chance to defend themselves.

Sudden unemployment or redundancy, discrimination or hostility within work places.

Loss of friends, because of rumors or direct control. The perpetrators take over the friendship and social life of the TI. They are always rude, and manipulative and not real friends.

Creating “symptoms” of Mental Illness (voices in the subconscious, V2K; trying to describe what is happening for others) putting the individual in psychiatric care.

Creating opportunity for presence of Substance Abuse (tampering food with drugs, poisons or medication; blurred vision; read eyes; disorientation; head aches; memory loss; difficulty talking or making sense) destroying the targeted individuals reputation; Creating “symptoms” of Insulin related diseases (pain in the spinal cord, back of the head, terrible head aches, high blood sugar levels, enormous fatigue) creating early retirement or poverty because of inability to work.

d) physical sabotage:

The use of D.E.Ws (directed enery weapons discussed below) creates both acute and chronic pain s well as the destructive of the physical body.

The perps may poison the T.Is food not only in their residence but that which exists in the store prior to their purchasing it (this utilizes advanced technology of synthetic telepathy V2K discussed below).

Poison gas may be pumped into their residence via whatever intake vent or the perps may simply drill a hole into the wall of the residence and pump it in while the T.I sleeps (eg. nitric oxide or other forms of gas).

Harming; torturing and/or killing the animals under the care of the T.I or those the T.I is suspected of caring about.

Doctors, nurses and other 'professionals' will abuse their powers to visit harm on the T.I (vaccinations; needless surgeries that will be botched deliberately in some way; pharamceuticals will be prescribed if possible coercively through threat of physical force to ensure compiance; other harmful procedures will be prescribed and effective natural healing modalities will be omitted to be mentioned or will be discouraged)

Noise campaigns:

"Noise must be of a type which the general public deems “normal.” Remember that the goal is to have the target aware they are being punished, but not be able to convince anyone else that that is the case. Observe local noise curfews, but plenty of punishment can occur outside noise curfew times. The target must not have easy cause to involve law enforcement."

("Bright Light on Black Shadows",Dr. Rauni-Leena Luukanen Kilde, ch.18)

"[...]egs. Loud music from neighboring home; frequent squealing of tires near target's home; frequent drilling into a scrap of wood or masonry held against the target's wall, floors or ceiling as if "working." Alternatively, hammering; Frequent use of sirens near the target's home[...]" (ibid.)

"Basically, there will be a steady stream of noise consisting of a rotation of various types of disturbances around your house. This noise may even follow you wherever you go. This includes car doors slamming, people coming/going, people yelling, car alarms, horns, tires screeching, banging, engines revving, cars beeping, constant construction, lawn mowers, snow blowers, etc. Your neighbors will probably be bribed with free home repairs that will result in a very noisy construction process|..]Chronic exposure to even low-level noise is considered a hazard that has been known to produce adverse physiological and psychological health effects. Prolonged expose to noise can produce high blood pressure, a rise in cholesterol, damage to the circulatory, cardiovascular, gastrointestinal, & musculoskelatal systems."(Rich, State-Sponsored Terror Campaigns: The Hidden Evil",pg. 28-29).

Synchronization:

"Your movements will be synchronized with noise, vehicles coming or going, people coming or going, or other movements. These synchronization tactics are often times done several times, perhaps three or more."

[Edward Pual Donegan asserts this and other Stalking moves were made on Judge Roll leading to his asking for removal of the US Marshals because there presence was "unsettling." Synchronized noise campaigns watch you in the inside of your home as you type, move about, and send loud noise from outside letting the person in the home they are not safe, and the person in the home is being warned or traumatized to what is done in the home.]

Noise campaigns in and around your home -

OUTSIDE: Using vehicles, car alarms, car horns, slamming vehicle doors, idling vehicles, loud music coming from these vehicles, Street Theater with neighbors, or strangers talking loud, or amplified sounds generally via hypersonic sound direct speakers - these are directional devices that can are inside the units surrounding the target or placed within the unit/home itself, which can be reversed in either direction. Hence, if you hear any echos in your home, the device is being reversed so that you voice will carry. If it is coming at you, whereby, people speaking sound louder than usual, or coming from some unknown origin, it is being directed at the Target.

INSIDE: If you live in an apartment with connecting walls:

If you live below someone, this occupants will be recruited to increase the levels of noise they make. Walking heavier than usual on the floors, dropping heavy objected above your head, and shadowing the moves you make in your apartment. These occupants will also give permission to have their units be used in their absence so that other recruit's can occupy these units, to continue the 24/7 harassment of the Target.

This hypersonic sound device will also be placed upon

Electronics like Refrigerators, Water heaters, anything that produces sounds and/or vibrations, which can be amplified to increase the sound levels. This devices will also be used, so that you think the sounds, voices, walking, is coming from specific area.

There will also be an influx of Fire Engines, Ambulance, and Police Vehicle who will turn on their Siren's when in close range to the Target's residence.

Also, gardener's blowers, and large trucks when in reverse will have a loud beeping.

Regardless - most of it is Amplified via the directional use of HYPERSONIC SOUND - ACOUSTIC HARASSMENT:

Harassment can be done in a couple of ways:

Increased Noise timed noise in your surroundings, in particular at your private residence.

Neighbors playing loud Bass driven music, generally the speakers will be in line with Hypersonic Sound Devices - which when focused targeted sound. This means the sound can be directed at a specific target, and as such can be increased when target at you, but anyone not within its range will not hear the sound.

Neighbors will also increase the sounds they make in their apartment. In particular if you live below them. They will time their noise response, by walking heavily on the floor, to increase the harassment campaign. They will also do something called shadowing - whereby, every move you make within the privacy of you home will be SHADOWED LOUDLY. If you get up to use the restroom, you will hear footsteps following you to the restroom.

If you flush the toilet, the neighborhood recruit will do the same. If you get up to go to the kitchen you will hear the upstairs neighbor do the same. If you turn on the faucet, you will hear the faucet being turned on.

These are PSYCHOLOGICAL TERROR TACTICS used by these NEIGHBORHOOD RECRUITS - in order to facilitate and harbor the Architect's whose job it is to TERRORIZE, TORTURE AND MURDER THE TARGETED INDIVIDUAL

On the streets you will have TIMED LOUD RESPONSES - where the Privacy of You HOME ADDRESS will be given to these Citizen Recruits. These recruits will be asked what type of vehicle they drive, in particular, vehicles that make the loudest noise, they will be assigned the task of driving near the Target's home, idling their vehicle, and making sure the Targets are aware of their presence. Recruits will also be told whenever they are in the neighborhood of the Target/s address, they will be told to simply drive by.

Much of this is done in the very early mornings when you are asleep, or in the middle of the night, generally after you have turned out the light, and are ready for sleep. During this time, you will hear much traffic, car doors slamming, alarms going on and off, honking of horns, people talking, and laughing. Banging on the walls, or loud sounds around your room that will literally wake you out of a sleep -

SLEEP DEPRIVATION - [yellers yelling all nigiht, banging rebar on structures next to sleeping person oh say for instance]

There will timed loud noise responses, in order to wake you up out of this state of rest and/or sleep. These acoustic harassments can be directional to a vehicle, an acoustic frequency, an amplified household appliance - that will WAKE YOU out of rest or sleep. This is done several times, so as to get the Target in a State that they are unable to fall back asleep. If the Target is employed, they are in a Sleep Deprived State, as such makes them less affective at work, which then allows for the process of giving the false impression of incompetence, something wrong with the Target, as such their ability to work becomes compromised due to their Overt Targeting.

Sleep Deprivation is also used to slowly break the Target down, so as to keep them in a continued vulnerable state, which makes it easier for the Terrorist Architect's to ATTACK the Target psychologically for the purpose of manipulation, set-ups, entrapment, terrorizing and intimidating the Target.

Collisions & Cut-offs: (roadblocked by placed obstruction)

"They can happen with vehicles, on foot, or a combination. This type of space invasion is designed to startle you & create tension. It can be thought of as a virtual slap. They are used in blind areas such as corners, hallways, restrooms, or intersections where you constantly have people or cars cutting you off, or almost hitting you. The perpetrator is unseen until he jumps out in front of you[...]With some artificially induced cut-offs, the perpetrator is seen at a distance. You & the perpetrator(s) are heading toward the same focal point. It may be a corner, a very small walkway, or a path that cannot accommodate both of you. They will adjust their timing & rhythm to yours so that they always meet you at that point, so that you will have to squeeze through, stop, or go around because of their deliberate adjustment of timing. The idea is to get your attention and make you uncomfortable." (ibid., pg.26)

Convoys of vehicles:

"If you're targeted, you may have foot & vehicular traffic "re-routed" through your street. Common practice is for vehicles to drive by screeching their tires, blowing their horns, playing loud music,revving their engines, & yelling as they drive by your house." (ibid.,pg.28)

Brighting:

"You may also be followed by convoys of vehicles that have their Hi-beams on during the day.Spot lights being shined into a target s windows is another tactic." (ibid.)

e) Psycho-Spiritual sabotage: Sensitivity Programs:

"Cause Stalking groups usually begin their campaigns with sensitivity programs.(7) The goals of a sensitivity program are: To get the person's attention and let them know they're being harassed. Anchor damaging emotions to common objects/sounds so a target can then be covertly harassed openly in public These sensitivity programs are based on a science called Neuro- Linguistic Programming (NLP)." (ibid.pg.31)

"A stimulus which is linked to & triggers a physiological state is called an anchor in NLP. How are anchors created? First by repetition.Secondly, & much more important, anchors can be set in a single instance if the emotion is strong & the timing is right. In extreme cases an external stimulus can trigger a very powerful negative state. This is the realm of phobias." ("Introducing NLP", Joseph O Connor & John Seymour)

"You can think of NLP as a very powerful tool that can be used to produce rapid, profound change. Harassment groups create negative emotional states such as fear & anxiety, & anchor them to common objects in the environment."(Rich, State-Sponsored Terror Campaigns:

The Hidden Evil",pg.31).

"Groups will take an object you ve been sensitized to & link it to another object. The idea appears to be to keep expanding the amount of objects you associate fear, anxiety, anger, or shame with(sensitization)." (ibid., pg.32)

"Anyone else observing this might think it s a little strange that someone would turn their alarm on/off a few times but they d write it off as an isolated strange incident. Since they have not had your previous experience (sensitization) with that sound & are not aware that it is a small part of a much larger harassment program it would be difficult to explain what those beeps meant. In NLP, the process of copying an emotional state anchored to an existing trigger & transferring it to a new trigger, is called chaining." (ibid., pg.32)

"Anchors can be chained so that one leads to another. Each anchor provides a link on the chain & triggers the next one, just as the electrical impulse flows from nerve to nerve in our body." ("Introducing NLP', Joseph O Connor & John Seymour)

Street theatre/Harassment Skits:

"Harassment skits can be classified as a type of Street Theatre that contain verbal & non-verbal harassment, threats, insults, intimidation, & violence, conveyed overtly, or overtly using themes, symbolism, or other medium. They may be carried out after a target has been sensitized. This harassment can be relayed with metaphors, verbal remarks, and symbolism using clothing or other items. Insults or comments by strangers, designed to evoke a paranoid reaction, as well as dirty looks & negative behavior from previously friendly neighbors is common among targets." (ibid., pgs.32-33)

"Some words [used by perps in 'street theatre'/ harassment skits]carry with them a particular weight to potentially trigger an effect on a person's emotional state." (ibid., pg.33)

"This is called metacommunication. Metamessages are suggestions hidden in a statement, perhaps a compliment. The tone, volume, & rhythm of specific words in the sentence are changed so that the actual message is different than what the spoken words were." (ibid.)

Symbolism:

"Symbolism appears to be a big part of subliminal attacks. After a target has been sensitized, they can even be harassed, insulted, & threatened with symbolism using articles of clothing, newspapers, & other items. Just as body communication (Social Kinesics) is used to harass a target, so too is symbolic communication. Symbolism can be used with articles of clothing, especially during a wave attack where you are blitzed by a crowd [of pedestrians or vehicles]." (ibid.,pg.35)

The symbolism used entails colour; shape and number. Certain perp cab drivers for example will have the number '33' on their cab making it visible to you and be driving a red vehicle. Orange is also used frequently, symbolizing 'light' in the darkness or the lifeforce (life) but can also be used to symbolize possession by entitites (mocking the T.I as a 'blemmye' or possessed being).

Symbolism is also associated with what is known or believed by the cabal to be related to the target. An example is the target having been in certain locations and the cabal employing drivers with vehicles whose license plates are from those regions. Another example is where gangstalkers wear clothing that bears certain words; phrases; logos or other symbol that is believed to have meaning for the T.I and to allow them to know the cabal knows about them and they are being watched or to convey a related message to the target. [called Hyperintamcy, the Stalker displays knowledge of the Stalked as display of power]

STREET THEATER:

Take place around your neighborhood. These are recruit's who have been illegally given you home address, and/or is a Recruited person from within the Geographical neighborhood, who are asked to show up around the Target's private residence at all hours of the day or night, in particular if the Target is home.

The Street Theater can either be in group formation, using a number of people who will show up near your residence, starting making noise, having loud conversations, and generally the conversations they are having will be specific to the Target.

There will also be solo individual's who walk dogs, or babies, most of the time the PERPS will be on a Cell Phone - directing their conversation using Keywords that are person to the Target.

Another form of Street Theater is the use of Public Service, and/or Utilities - whereby, you will see an influx of Telecommunication, or Utility vans around the neighborhood.

In addition to the use of Streets and Transportation, whereby there always seem to be road work taking place, so that the Targeted Individual is directed into another area.

Generally, if they are trying to set the Target up to appear dangerous to children, like some type of Pedophile, or dangerous to some type of official they will direct all their so called street traffic to pass by an area like schools or where children are.

In addition, to buildings or residences of Official's or Leaders' within community Organization's to give the false impression that the Target is stalking these people or areas.

This is deployed so as to further victimize the Target by way of SET-UPS and ENTRAPMENT. The Targeted Individual innocently follows the directional signs, generally not realizing that there is another Recruit - taking photos or video at the very moment that Target shows up.

This gives the Architect's video, or photos showing the Target in some designated set up Area, so that it can be used in their FEAR-MONGERING Recruitment Process.

Another type of STREET THEATER will be used, in the forms of young recruits who will come round the Target so that PHOTOS' and/or VIDEOS can be taken to once again give the false impression that the Target was doing something nefarious. These young recruit's are on a mission of Destruction, and will be told to deploy these underhanded Tactics, so that another Recruit can capture a Specific Event, to make the Target look bad.

Example: A young female or male recruit will be told to go up to the Older Male or Female Target, and begin a conversation, or place themselves in a compromising position, so that the Male or Female Target can be photographed, or video taped with the Target - giving the false impression that it was the Targeted Individual who initiated the act.

The absurdity of the gangstalking protocol, proving it to be 4" gneerational warfare can be seen in the following quote:

“To break this down for anyone who has half a brain, and the ability to think for themselves - if the TARGET were that HORRIBLE of a PERSON, or HAD COMMITTED such CRIMES - the ARCHITECT'S behind the COVERT STAGES OF PROFILING and WARRANTLESS STALKING and SURVEILLANCE - would HAVE IN THEIR COVERT STAGES - actually HAD MATERIAL EVIDENCE”

As you shop, you will begin to notice this Retail Store begins to have an influx of people showing up, who appear to recognize who you are, but who are TOTAL STRANGER to you.

Be on the look out for some of the Terrorist Psychological Tactics these Citizen Snitches will deploy in public settings:

Stare at you, point, whisper and/or giggle as you walk past them.

Have directed conversations either with the person they are with (group), or on a cell phone and use keywords as they pass, to let you know they are Citizen Snitches for the State Psychological pain

Bullying at work, friends and family suddenly lost leading to Isolation.

Bullying in general. Because of what appears, as social problems with other people, the Targeted Individual moves to a place where the “attackers” and the “manipulators” can spread around any kind of rumor for people in the neighborhood and can take control in another way.

Gang stalking (rude people in crowds that appear and insult the individual, using both verbal and non-verbal communication). Having 20 people, or more, strategically placed to for example look with a hateful look at the Targeted Individual. They are all strangers, they are all rude. They appear every time the TI is outside, and it can take many different expressions. Sometimes it looks like they have some kind of scheme and the harassment follows a pattern, and when it achieves a certain stage, they reset themselves and it starts all over again.

Street Theater: A group of people play out a whole show for the individual, and it appears to follow a predetermined plot. Following the Targeted Individual's thinking. The thought surveillance is perceived as humiliating. The home is entered and the perpetrators don't steal things, but can destroy them or they can leave objects that don't belong there. They often seem to enter with a key, because the doors are not forced.

Thefts in town, at airports: money of belongings. Destroyed means of transportation: car or bike.

Many times Tls are forced to take the wrong medication and to agree to sometimes stigmatizing labels in order to receive their pension.

In certain countries, the TI, can be forced into psychiatry, where total loss of human rights occurs.

Blacklisting often leads to inability for the Tl to find work, or has to accept a job way under their specialization. At the new job, the TI is constantly under harassment and is bullied.

The police participates in the harassment and is totally insensitive to what the TI goes through. The media ignores the Tl-cause.

Cyberstalking:

The same goes for other units within, who will also be recruited, and given access to cyber capabilities, in order to without warrant, and illegally monitor what the Target may be doing within the privacy of their home via cable, internet, and telecommunications. They will also be queued with keywords to use when the Target is within hearing distance, so that they can repeat what the target may have been doing in the privacy of their home, to include what they were watching on television, websites they were viewing, to what they are reading, and then mimicking that very show, website, chapter of the book, etc. back to the Target to let them know or give the impression that they are MONITORING every move the Target makes.

SET UPS - you will find being the victim of Organized Terrorist Stalking -

The Perpetrator's of all crimes being committed against you as a Targeted Individual - are in many cases the same people who will then turn around in a reverse projection and pretend to be the victims of the insidious violence a Targeted Individual is being forced to endure.

The truth, these are well organized double-speak tactic that are used to further victimize the Targeted Individual, these so called - PERP VICTIMS are simply ACTORS who are used to further set up and destroy the target in order to meet their FINAL OBJECTIVES.

What is the proper way to deal with harassment on the street? retrieved from Quora and copied or modified to here

Clay Smith https://www.quora.com/profile/Clay-Smith-222

That's a loaded question. When people encourage others to stand up to bullies, they are not throwing all the variables into the situation.

Here's how I handle harassment:

- If its three or more dudes, and they said something to me in passing, I just keep walking. I've seen the videos of guys who get a beat down from groups of guys. Its not pretty. Its very dangerous. By confronting them, you are playing Russian roulette. Remember, you are on your own. A bad beating happens in minutes. The police are not going to show up in time to help, and passer-bys usually do not want to get involved.

- If its one guy who says something stupid in passing, I just say, "Fuck you," and I keep walking. Now, if the guy followed me I'd definitely turn around and start throwing punches. Generally, when you stand up to punks, they'll usually back down unless they are with a group of friends.

- Just the other day, there was a whole high school class walking through an area. The group of cool high school dudes were walking in the back of the crowd. There were 10 of them. As I walked by, one of them said something to me loud enough so that his buddies knew he was talking to me. I just kept walking. It was a no win situation. 10 youths, against one middle-aged man. There was no winning, plus, the female teacher would have seen me as the threat and backed up her students. Last week, I was on the sketchy side of downtown. I was walking through a secluded area of the downtown business district. The sidewalk was dark, surrounded by concrete walls and trees. In other words, it was a hidden area. Four 25 year old's were coming down the sidewalk. As I walked by them, one of them called me a dork under his breath. Of course, I found it very cowardly that he would say it under his breath, just out of ear shot, after I had passed him by. This is the kind of cowardly thing thugs do. Notice how he didn't say it to my face. Notice how he had three other guys to back him up. Notice how it was in a secluded area. Long story short I just kept walking. I knew that any interaction would end up in me getting a beat down by four thugs.

- Be careful about standing up to people in bars. Often the thugs in bars are regulars who are friends with the bar tender, other patrons, and bouncers. Basically, you are a trout in a swimming hole of piranhas. You will not win in this situation. Even if you do, they'll just call the police and point the fingers at you. The best thing to do is leave that swimming hole and never go back in there. Its a losing situation, and all you'll have to show for it is emotional and mental scars that will follow you around for months. I would go as far as to say, everyone should stay out of the clubs and bars. Very few people have made these places their homes without their dignity and integrity being annihilated. If you like to go out and drink there are some nice restaurant lounges or family type sports bars that are much better.

- Let harassment be water off a ducks back. If I fought everyone who said rude or mean things to me, I'd be in 2-3 fights a week. I'd end up becoming a mean, rotten fist fighter that scared people. In the end, I'd become a target of law enforcement. For this reason, the only time to fight is if someone is directly in your face, or the harassment becomes so bad that it has to stop. You'll know when that time comes.

- However, harassment does hurt. Its demeaning. It robs you of your manhood or womanhood. It can rob you of your peace because its hard to get the thoughts out of your mind and the mean words. Try to remember, these tugs will have their time. Often when police arrest thugs, they'll take them in the back and slap them around and demean them. Now its their turn. To avoid harassment, avoid areas where thugs thrive. Walk in pairs or groups. Or, do like I do. When I'm walking around downtown, I look directly at tuff guys and groups of men. I look them straight in the eyes, with my chest puffed out a little. If the situation looks dangerous, I take my hands out of my pockets and make fists. I walk through the area with fists. This lets them know that I ain't going to screw around. If they want to bring it, there will be a fight. By doing these things, I rarely have problems with harassment, though sometimes groups of guys aren't deterred by my tactics.

- Try not to take harassment personally. Anyone can be harassed. You can be the toughest, coolest looking guy on the planet, and one day you are walking alone in a downtown area; here come 5 skating punks. They're already intimidating because of those skate boards that look like weapons. They start harassing you but you don't know what to do. I've seen videos of big tuff guys having to fight groups of people because they wanted to beat a big guy up. The same for women. You can be a beautiful, kind hearted, friendly woman, yet harassment can happen.

What is Sexual Harassment at Work in San Diego?

This, in a nutshell, is a form of unlawful sexual discrimination and the term sexual harassment covers a host of phrases, words and actions that can lead to an employee feeling upset, worried or frightened to such an extent that their working conditions are affected. In many cases, it can lead to distress and illness and can even impact a victim's day-to-day life.

In law, it is defined as 'unwelcome verbal, visual, non-verbal or physical conduct of a sexual nature. Or based on someone's sex. Also, that it is severe or pervasive, creating a hostile working environment or affecting working conditions.' This definition covers a wide range of unwanted behavior that can be broken down into four categories. Namely - verbal or written actions, physical actions, non-verbal and visual.

The word 'unwelcome,' is the term on which a case of sexual harassment stands or falls. Unwelcome means that the conduct is unwanted, and this should be made absolutely clear. In other words, you should make the harasser understand, either verbally, in writing or by your physical actions, that their actions are causing you to be uncomfortable and that they must stop.

The Diabetic Who Knew Too Much

I spent much of my life from the late 1970s on into 2005 in the San Francisco Bay Area BDSM and Goth scenes.

Club goer or club thrower? In my case if ever asked that way (and it usally is not) I was somewhat inbetween. A well known regular at places like Bondage A Go Go a goth BDSM go go I would be "Dungeon Master" on demand, if one of the regulars who were staff wanted some time off or things became very busy I would fill in or assist as backup.

I threw my own parties at my own holmes that almost always had BDSM furniture whether in apartment buildings are a rented house and had freinds in similar living and lifesytle situations often community back and forth to San Francisco clubs with them when I was in the East Bay or walking to local clubs with them when I was living in downtown San Francisco.

I had decided at about 40 years old to stop going to clubs, my mother was in congestive heart failure worsening over decades and my drug abuse made things worse for her and me and the Goth scene abhorred Meth. It could be found tough and there were always the few who would use it and handle it within culturalk limits and their own limits.

Cyber Goth was a later from of music from Goth but had a similar following. There was not that much crossover except in dancing and culture, the dress differed the most as did the music.

Because I had a lot of goth playlists in my music inventory Cybergoth came up in YouTube Autoplay and I found the high energy dance and arm movements great with Octane Fitness Eliptical machines, one of the few elliptical that did not give me back trouble especially if I used them in my own way.

Goth led to other things popping up on my playlist "Hardstyle versus Shuffle" that was more techno oriented and shuffle being from Mexican Los Angeles neighborhoods often in cuttoff jeans and like with Goth often young males and females posting their dance videos on social media, all of which I used.

After the medical miracle of me A1c going from 13.3 to 4.7 and 100 pounds weight loss in six months I was having to leave Arlington VA. My mother and father had just died, my brother and trust fund werent' helping, they were hurting denying spending, and I thought Texas might be better.

As a political matter I always believed Latin American and Europe had a common cultural history including musical instruments, etc, despite the coming and going of the Roman Empire.

I had wanted all Europe united with the Americas and individual liberty, something class based society social movements were rejecting in Identity Politics and blame getting assigned to White Privilege.

So I had come to Corpus Christi with some political baggage but only wrote about my opinions response to very politically motivated Stalking of me making me look like I was harming those youg Latino females in the cutoff shorts.

I was made a mark for phony allegations against me.

The role of my brother in this and the last years of my life in Viriginia, the last years of my father's life and the last years of my mother's life were a nightmare.

My mother and I had been living in 850 Noth Randolph Arlington Virginia on the second floor. The 24 story building (or something very close to that) had aging plumbing with soapscum building up in layers on the drain pipes and other problems. I don't know too much about it but per the building operators what was going wrong was some kind of U-turn affect. Downward flowing water in greater volume than pipes could accommodate would turn into lower story back-flow and reverse up into the sink drains of kitchens, flowing sewage like refuse out of kitchen sinks, dishwahwers, etc.,

From our second story and other second story apartments the back flow would turn into two or three inches of what seemed like swampland bog water to dense to see through 2 to 3 inches standing and trying to bail it out during the night with the drains not working.

After emergency and emergency of this happening and the building manage also firefighting it they brough in compressed air pulse blaster of the pipes to shock clean the sides of the pipes putting huge fire like hoses all through the building that made large banging sounds as air and water shocks were pushed into the pipes from large trucks the hoses lead to.

As my mother who was almost unable to stand on her feet more than a few minutes at at time, really was bed-ridden, began to look for other apartments she described to the landlords why she was leery of the lower floors.

Tom would shout at her "NO SNAKES HAVE COME OUT OF THE TOILETESZ To ATTACK YOU!" and I kept telling him (he lived in Massachusetts at this time) it was real. I showed him photos of the same thing done to nearby buildings, what I was going through trying to clean up after these events, etc., but he would tell others including leasors of new buildings my mother had delusions about her exist building, undermining my mother as a prospective tenant.

He was also bizarrely hostile to my father as he was dying I think hoping I would attack him and Mark in defense of my father thus making me look bad as I responded out outrageous provocations from him.

He had accused me of many things I had not done or was not in any way wrong about for decades and it was not changing, he was lying.

This diabets fight and not having funding was a disaster so I tried turning to ARC of Northern Virginia but TIA Marselli joined him in trying to make me look retarded using the same tactics he used.

I would say when I get to Texas I will use their 611 service to find a Payee different than them and in RESPONSE they would send me a novell communication "ED it is our determination that when you get to Texas you should call 611 to locate a Payee" of course I had already found that and told them that but they wanted to look like the assistor and me the assisted, the postion of power relationship over me they wanted.

That set THEM up to be the assert managers and thus their RACKET could work denyingh me assets and racketeering what should have gone to me.

I have faced manufactured hostile, abusive COINTELPRO in all of my activities subverting my activities.

The main method of COINTELPRO is to improperly link activities and attributes to a person to harass that targeted person's life and cause erosion of their life's activities by smearing them.

What is Gang Stalking a Targeted Individual? Targeting of Individuals by the US Government for Subversion, attacks, etc.?

By Professor Eric Thor Karlstrom, Ph.D https://

A Simple Definition

Under Occupational Health and Safety laws, individuals are being flagged and placed on community notification lists. This is happening without the targets knowledge. In many countries these community notifications are being used by companies and others to target innocent individuals such as whistle-blowers, the outspoken, etc. In conjunction with these notifications, companies and others are in some cases using a practice that was used in the former soviet union called the psychiatric reprisal. This is used as a means of retaliation, blacklisting, silencing, or controlling members of society. Once on the notification system, warnings about the targets are sent out to every individual the target comes in contact with, thus poisoning their associations, and socially annexing the targeted individual.

Gang Stalking is a systemic form of control, which seeks to destroy every aspect of a Targeted Individuals life. Once a target is flagged a notification is sent out to the community at large, and the target is followed around 24/7 by the various communities that they are in.

Target Selection

Gang stalking apparently targets American citizens deemed to be dissidents or whistle-blowers (and perhaps potential dissidents and whistle-blowers), although others might be targeted for other reasons - such as for experimental or training purposes. For perspective, it should be remembered that for two decades the CIA performed secret illegal experiments on U.S. and Canadian citizens (the infamous MK Ultra program). Those experiments included physical and psychological torture.

A lot of accounts by self-proclaimed targets of gang stalking suggest that people are often subjected to severe long-term harassment simply because they crossed someone connected with the agencies and security firms which perpetrate such operations.

An example of that type of abuse occurred in April 2012, when USA Today reported that one of its reporters and an editor were slandered by a secret disinformation campaign waged by an intelligence contractor firm to discredit them because the newspaper had investigated and reported on that contractor. The company involved conducted propaganda campaigns for the U.S. military. Similarly, in August 2013 it was reported that at least a dozen National Security Agency (NSA) employees had used their surveillance system access to spy on their current and former spouses and partners.

Implications

In addition to being morally reprehensible, gang stalking - just like the original version of the FBI's Cointelpro operations - is illegal. It violates criminal laws in all fifty states against stalking, as well as grossly violating the U.S. Constitution's prohibitions against warrantless searches and extra-judicial punishment.

While the vast majority of Americans are never personally targeted by gang stalking, they should still be concerned about the existence of such operations. Even if such activities were constitutionally legitimate (clearly they are not), they would still have an enormous potential for abuse as a personal or political weapon by the practitioners.

Ending this cowardly and illegal practice by law enforcement agencies, intelligence agencies, and their parasitic corporate contractors will require exposing what is happening to the public. Anyone reading this can assist with that exposure by simply sharing this information with others.

COINTELPRO - political assassinations through publicly committed hate crime.

Here are some of the tactics used by CointelPro, most of which I Edward Paul Donegan have experienced. This occurs in broad daylight, inside the prison system, inside the ABA, inside psychiatric hospitals, and in libraries, even intrusively into my home or motels or commerce like USPS or UPS or others staging or faking deliveries, switching them out, forging addresses, mixing in drugs and porn, etc., These covert operations I and those I know have been subjected to will be described in my later false arrests and detentions.

Forced Teaming is a form of improper link or appearance of link by being near a person and perhaps against a person's wishes being near them but doing so anyway and then attempting to claim that by proximity to the person they are a team in some way and share in assets or activities apparently though not really together and not lawfully sharing and not lawfully associated.

"According to Brian Glick, in War at Home, COINTELPRO used a broad array of methods, including:"

1. Infiltration: Agents and informers did not merely spy on political activists. Their main purpose was to discredit and disrupt. Their very presence served to undermine trust and scare off potential supporters. The FBI and police exploited this fear to smear genuine activists as agents.

2. Psychological Warfare From the Outside: The FBI and police used myriad other "dirty tricks" to undermine progressive movements. They planted false media stories and published bogus leaflets and other publications in the name of targeted groups. They forged correspondence, sent anonymous letters, and made anonymous telephone calls. They spread misinformation about meetings and events, set up pseudo movement groups run by government agents, and manipulated or strong-armed parents, employers, landlords, school officials and others to cause trouble for activists.

3. Harassment Through the Legal System: The FBI and police abused the legal system to harass dissidents and make them appear to be criminals. Officers of the law gave perjured testimony and presented fabricated evidence as a pretext for false arrests and wrongful imprisonment. They discriminatorily enforced tax laws and other government regulations and used conspicuous surveillance, ‘investigative’ interviews, and grand jury subpoenas in an effort to intimidate activists and silence their supporters.

4. Extralegal Force and Violence: The FBI and police threatened, instigated, and themselves conducted break-ins, vandalism, assaults, and beatings. The object was to frighten dissidents and disrupt their movements. In the case of radical Black and Puerto Rican activists (and later Native Americans), these attacks-including political assassinations-were so extensive, vicious, and calculated that they can accurately be termed a form of official ‘terrorism.'”.The FBI also conducted "black bag jobs", warrantless surreptitious entries, against the targeted groups and their members. Source: COINTELPRO - Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

> From its inception, the FBI has operated on the doctrine that the "preliminary stages of organization and preparation" must be frustrated, well before there is any clear and present danger of "revolutionary radicalism."
>
> At its most extreme dimension, political dissidents have been eliminated outright or sent to prison for the rest of their lives. There are quite a number of individuals who have been handled in that fashion. Many more, however, were "neutralized" by intimidation, harassment, discrediting, snitch jacketing, a whole assortment of authoritarian and illegal tactics.

> ["Snitch jacketing is a Lockstep of tracker snitches following, harassing, lying about, being a nearby to the victim system of police harassment or police abuse through the use of snitches as proxies.]

War at Home by Brian Glick

Excerpted from the South End Press Book by permission of the author.

Government harassment of U.S. political activists clearly exists today, violating our fundamental democratic rights and creating a climate of fear and distrust which undermines our efforts to challenge official policy. Similar attacks on social justice movements came to light during the 1960s. Only years later did we learn that these had been merely the visible tip of an iceberg. Largely hidden at the time was a vast government program to neutralize domestic political opposition through "covert action" (political repression carried out secretly or under the guise of legitimate law enforcement). The 1960s program, coordinated by the FBI under the code name "COINTELPRO," was exposed in the 1970s and supposedly stopped.

But covert operations against domestic dissidents did not end. They have persisted and become an integral part of government activity.

How COINTELPRO Worked

When congressional investigations, political trials, and other traditional legal modes of repression failed to counter the growing movements, and even helped to fuel them, the FBI and police moved outside the law. They resorted to the secret and systematic use of fraud and force to sabotage constitutionally protected political activity.

Their methods ranged far beyond surveillance, amounting to a homefront version of the covert action for which the CIA has become infamous throughout the world.

FBI Headquarters secretly instructed its field offices to propose schemes to "expose, disrupt, misdirect, discredit, or otherwise neutralize" specific individuals and groups.

Close coordination with local police and prosecutors was strongly encouraged.

Other recommended collaborators included friendly news media,business and foundation executives, and university, church, and trade union officials, as well as such "patriotic" organizations as the American Legion.

Final authority rested with FBI Headquarters in Washington, D.C.

Top FBI officials pressed local field offices to step up their activity and demanded regular progress reports.

Agents were directed to maintain full secrecy "such that under no circumstances should the existence of the program be made known outside the Bureau and appropriate within-office security should be afforded to sensitive operations and techniques."

A total of 2,370 officially approved COINTELPRO actions were admitted to the Senate Intelligence Committee, and thousands more have since been uncovered.

Covert predators, some ghetto affected skid row criminals, have been nearby my life or that of Veronica Hoffman's. I have advised the coroner of Los Angels County California Veronica Hoffman may have been assaulted by snitches perhaps around the clock which is common.

A Criminal Syndicate has been used attack that created, depends on, then operates under defamation of me ruining my life, but as a target of the syndicate, the syndicate has been able to profit from and sustain the operation.

Introduction to Targeting people for Decomposition retrieved from Surveillance and Harassment Survivors and copied or modified to here Because this list is drawn from multiple sources multiple definitions may occur.

An organized stalking victim is systematically isolated and harassed in a manner intended to cause sustained emotional torment while creating the least-possible amount of evidence of stalking that would be visible to others. The process is sometimes referred to as “no-touch torture.” Methods are specifically chosen for their lack of easily-captured objective evidence. Perpetrators use common annoyances such as constant noise by neighbors or rude comments and abusive behavior by strangers, but on a frequent ongoing long-term basis. The cumulative effects of relentless exposure to such tactics can amount to psychological torture for the victim.

Accomplices - such as neighbors, co-workers, and even friends or relatives of the victim in some cases - are recruited to participate (often unwittingly) by counterintelligence personnel using various means, such as by telling them that the target is a potential threat or that the target is the subject of an “investigation.”

A whole set of psychological operations are perpetrated against targeted individuals. These methods, described in detail in the overview below, include such things as threats, slander, vandalism, abusive phone calls, computer hacking, tormenting the victim with noise, and “mobbing” (orchestrated verbal harassment by strangers, neighbors, or co-workers).

Accounts by numerous victims of organized stalking share common specific details - suggesting that the perpetrators are following a well-tested and standardized playbook of methods that have proven to be easily kept off of the radar of potential witnesses and the mainstream news media.

COINTELRPRO

The main method of COINTELPRO is to improperly link activities and attributes to a person to harass that targeted person's life and cause erosion of their life's activities by smearing the Targeted person.

COINTLPRO is most effective in procedure and goals of the program when it plays to people's strongest emotions so that their rationale mind can be bypassed at least for a time.

Targeted Person

An individual who has been placed into a program of psychological and often physical warfare tactics which are orchestrated by criminal organizations, corrupt politicians, government agencies, security companies, law enforcement personnel, colleges, doctors, scientists and corporations.

Target Individual

- Could be a person Psychological Warfare wants to harass using paid actors staged KOMPROMAT, etc.,

- Could be a person Psychological Warfare wishes to recruit as an asset to an operation and will serve as an under-cover operative or Shill and is picked out in advance because analysis indicated the potential recruit is likely to cooperate with the operation

- Could be a person who might be a friend of a person Psychological Warfare is harassing thus Psychological Warfare will ask ITSELF “What would cause an ally or potential ally of Person A to reject Person A?” and Psychological Warfare, they they can convince Person B that person A fits who they don not like, can be targeted d to reject Person A

Zersetzung (German for "decomposition" and "disruption")

a psychological warfare technique used by the Ministry for State Security (Stasi) to repress political opponents in East Germany during the 1970s and 1980s. Zersetzung served to combat alleged and actual dissidents through covert means, using secret methods of abusive control and psychological manipulation to prevent anti-government activities. People were commonly targeted on a preemptive and preventative basis, to limit or stop politically incorrect activities that they may have gone on to perform, and not on the basis of crimes they had actually committed. Zersetzung methods were designed to break down, undermine, and paralyze people behind "a facade of social normality" in a form of "silent repression".

For perspective, it should be remembered that for two decades the CIA performed secret illegal experiments on U.S. and Canadian citizens (the infamous MK Ultra program). Those experiments included physical and psychological torture.

Although the term “gang stalking” is intentionally misleading, it does have one merit: it is accurate in the sense that the perpetrators - law enforcement agencies, intelligence agencies, and private security thugs - do often function in the manner of criminal gangs. Although they sometimes conduct their operations under the color of law, many of their activities have neither constitutional nor moral legitimacy. That is true of all of the likely major perpetrators of organized stalking in the U.S.: the FBI, the Department of Homeland Security, U.S. military counterintelligence agencies, state and local Law Enforcement Intelligence Units (LEIUs), and security contractors. All of those groups - and other federal intelligence agencies, such as the CIA and NSA - have well-documented histories of abusing their powers.

Since counterintelligence stalking goes far beyond surveillance - into the realm of psychological terrorism, it is essentially a form of extrajudicial punishment. As such, the harassment is illegal - even when done by the government. It clearly violates the Sixth Amendment of the U.S. Constitution, for example - which guarantees the right to a trial. Such operations also violate similar fundamental rights defined by state constitutions, which people on the right of America's political spectrum claim to respect. Stalking is also specifically prohibited by the criminal codes of every state in America.

Organized stalking methods were used extensively by communist East Germany's Stasi (state police) as a means of maintaining political control over its citizens. The Stasi referred to the tactics as "Zersetzung" (German for "decomposition" or "corrosion" - a reference to the intended psychological, social, and financial effects upon the targeted victim).

Although they are illegal in the U.S., the same covert tactics are quietly used by America's local and federal law enforcement and intelligence agencies to suppress dissent, silence whistle-blowers, and get revenge against persons who have angered someone with connections to the public and private agencies involved.

The most well-documented example of such operations was the FBI's infamous Cointelpro (Counter-Intelligence Programs) under the direction of J. Edgar Hoover. Those operations ran from 1956 until 1971 when they were exposed by political activists who broke into an FBI office and obtained secret documents which they handed over to the press.

KOMPROMAT (Compromising Information)

KOMPROMAT is information made synthetically manufactured but which appears from normal life in the information seems to suggest by appearances that a person is compromised by some flaw such as being a traitor, having an affair, etc.,

Stagecraft and Fabricating Evidence used for creating Deceitful Appearances

Creating false appearances is part of Stagecraft and involves trickery and deceit under subterfuge (hiding under a plausible alibi as refuge) for operating illegal programs and activities.

- Inbound phone calls and text messages to phones could make it appear a phone is in use as a camera rather than the real reason of taking a spam phone call or seeing a text message or altering the music playlist while on gym equipment

- Abusive and harassing or annoying comments truly directed at a harassment vicitm hidden as conversation in different context but spoken as Stalkers next to the harrassment victim.

- As defined eslewhere Legends are storyines fabriccated by Espionage and include supporting acts of fraud conducted under subterfuge.

Information Doppelgänger

A dopple of a person who acts in a NEGATIVE way can generate rumors the person imitated is a bad person, thus the rumors of the imitated person will cause people to reflexively reject the imitated person rather than accept the imiated person.

The Information Doppelgänger

A goal in fraud wherein an impersonator may forge documents or confessions while in the identity of another and may include confessions consistent with staged inculpating appearances acted out near the person whose identity was stolen.

Dopples nd other mechanisms to bolster fraudulent smear against a Target of Smear. Forged documents, polarizing fights others started drawing angry language, or using facts out of context are other wasys the Stalkers can perpetuate fraud. I was the subject of racial attacks most of my life. I to the position as a Dyslexic and drug addict I had troubles enough, we go after my so called whiteness to a minority of one? Following that I explained that despite FBI hostility my views were within the norm for bigots of BEll Curve types and white identitarians. Not all agree, but getting me on the record and propagating unpopular views has been used to tension environments.

Slander Campaign:

An intentional, premeditated effort to undermine an individual's reputation , credibility, and character [on real truth or manufactured KOMPROMAT] [in a manner which will result in the Stalked person being rejected from a group he or she is slandered to.]

Subversion

Subversive Elements harassing a Targeted Individual will encourage others to covertly participate in the harassment by asking them to (others) to turn down leases for apartments, home buying applications, rental applications, etc., often using KOMPROMAT to encourage harassing a Targeted Individual.

Subversion can include Agent Provocateurs inside one group under-cover whose acts will defame that group or Agent Provocateurs covertly picking fights with a Targeted Individual in concealed ways leading to the arrest or other consequences resultant from the instigated fight.

Edward Paul Donegan asserts today's US and perhaps European leaders gained control of the US Government by assassination and are now abusing the powers of government to subvert witnesses to the Subversion and to silence journalists.

Office Mob

KOMPROMAT (Compromising Material about a person that is fabricated political sabotage) is talked-up by undercover mobs who covertly add themselves into groups a person (who is the victim of KOMPROMAT) might join or be in, thus created a seeming normal word-of-mouth system at an office water cooler setting in which a framed person (Tarted Individual) undergoes secretive cliquish social sabotage and ostracism giving leverage to the allegation that otherwise might be ignored by those close to the Target of the KOMPROMAT.

The term comes from office political smear campaigns but Ed Donegan and others have experience in housing and neighbors (hostile neighbors who will burgle rather than help protect a Target's apartment unit,) gym or volunteer groups, religious groups, or any area of life a Target my be involved in. Frequently the managers of those environments are approached about a Target and become dupes of the police who in fact are propagating sham investigations to simply raise doubts and clouds of suspicion.

Covert Harassment

Also known as gangstalking or organized stalking, is a highly criminal campaign directed at a targeted individual that aims to destroy an innocent person’s life through slander and carefully executed psychological and physical assaults.

Hoax

HOAX retrieved from Wikipedia and copied or modified to here

A hoax is a widely publicized falsehood so fashioned as to invite reflexive, unthinking acceptance by the greatest number of people of the most varied social identities and of the highest possible social pretensions to gull its victims into putting up the highest possible social currency in support of the hoax.

Whereas the promoters of frauds, fakes, and scams devise them so that they will withstand the highest degree of scrutiny customary in the affair, hoaxers are confident, justifiably or not, that their representations will receive no scrutiny at all. They have such confidence because their representations belong to a world of notions fundamental to the victims' views of reality, but whose truth and importance they accept without argument or evidence, and so never question.

Some hoaxers intend eventually to unmask their representations as in fact a hoax so as to expose their victims as fools; seeking some form of profit, other hoaxers hope to maintain the hoax indefinitely, so that it is only when skeptical persons willing to investigate their claims publish their findings that at last they stand revealed as hoaxers.

Drawing upon the reasoning and statement in the Woodward Commission report on Censorship I will make a consistent statement as to Disinformation

1974 WOODWARD COMMITTEE REPORT AT YALE

> To curtail free expression strikes twice at intellectual freedom, for whoever deprives another of the right to state unpopular views necessarily deprives others of the right to listen to those views.

Politically motivated Hoaxes making members of society seem like perpetrators linking them to hoaxes strikes twice at political imbalance because the hero of the hoax is elevated in stature and fame.

DUPE

A Dupe is someone under Reflexive Control of an intelligence agency and often "one of the good people" like library, gym, or other security. Once informed they will be part of an important operation catching a spy or pedophile the Information Doppelgangers of spying or pedophilia is put to use.

Front Ogranization

A Front Organization or cooperating organization will act undercover as requested by Espionage officials offering cover-stories to under-cover employees or following requests from Espionage agencies to turn down credit, falsify records, etc., as a go-between of the Espionage Agency and the Targetd person. The Front Organization may once have been or still be a regular operating organization.

LEGEND

A goal in fraud that is a spy's claimed background or biography about him or herself or others, usually supported by documents and memorized details they will plant as facts during conversation, and may include staged appearances acted out and rumor mongers acting undercover

Money Laundering makes gains obtained wrongfully seem to be gained in a legitimate way. In non-racket crimes the crime is obvious and the criminal hopes to hide his or her identity, perhaps with a ski mask or hosery over the head. The Organized Crime Control Act of 1970 (Pub. L. 91-452, 84 Stat. 922 October 15, 1970), was an Act of Congress sponsored by Democratic Senator John L. McClellan and signed into law by U.S. President Richard Nixon.

The Act was the product of two sets of hearings in the Senate, the Select Committee on Improper Activities in Labor and Management hearings of 1957-1959 and the McClellan hearings of 1962-1964.

The Act prohibits the creation or management of a gambling organization involving five or more people if it has been in business more than 30 days or accumulates $2,000 in gross revenue in a single day. It also gave grand juries new powers, permitted detention of unmanageable witnesses, and gave the U.S. Attorney General authorization to protect witnesses, both state and federal, and their families. This last measure helped lead to the creation of WITSEC, an acronym for witness security.

Part of the Act created the Racketeer Influenced and Corrupt Organizations Act.

Appendix 20. what is predatory cointelpro gang stalking? (with recommended reading) by Eric Karlstrom | on October 21, 2017 | 0 comments | in CIA Coupons &Secret Wars - Articles | Like it ETK Introduction

The following excellent summary articles come from the websites- www.fightgangstalking.com, https://gangstalking.wordpress.com/faq/, and http://www.whale.to/c/predatory_gangstalking.html. Information in these articles corroborates, supplements, and extends information that I posted on this site in my January 21, 2015 post entitled Appendix 9. “Gang Stalking:” Organized and Electronic Targeting the “Domestic Enemy.” Notes from Books, utube Presentations, and Blogs.”

This subject is extremely important and is so poorly understood and recognized by the public that I want to make this material available here. I also recommend that those interested in learning more about this subject visit these and other websites because they also include many excellent graphics, YouTube films, resources, etc.

The author of the first article below is a former security/intelligence officer who makes the important point that the term “gang stalking” may itself be a disinformation term invented by the intelligence agencies that conduct these covert, criminal, “counter-terrorism” programs in order to “neutralize” and/or destroy the innocent civilians whom they target. The more accurate term for this kind of unconstitutional and criminal activity, according to the author, is “counterintelligence stalking.”

"Gang Stalking" is, very likely, a disinformation term created by U.S. intelligence agencies. It refers to the intense, long-term, unconstitutional surveillance and harassment of a person who has been designated as a target by someone associated with America's security industry.

Such operations have nothing to do with criminal gangs. Official domestic counterintelligence operations of this type are - apparently - perpetrated by federal agents and contractors, sometimes with the support of state and local law enforcement personnel. The goal of such operations - in the parlance of counterintelligence agents - is to “subvert” or “neutralize” an individual deemed to be an enemy (or potential enemy) of clients or members of the security state. Arguably, the most accurate term for this form of harassment would be “counterintelligence stalking.”

Very often when a government official or business or church is guilty but powerful the Slander Campaign of Assets defaming a victim allow the victim to be silenced rather than believed.

The narratitve the Slander follows will fit the narrative the powerfull corrupt officials need to be true if the corruption is to be hidden from the public.

Wikipedia retrieved from Psychological warfare and copied or modified to here

Psychological warfare (PSYWAR), or the basic aspects of modern psychological operations (PSYOP), have been known by many other names or terms, including MISO, Psy Ops, political warfare, “Hearts and Minds”, and propaganda. The term is used “to denote any action which is practiced mainly by psychological methods with the aim of evoking a planned psychological reaction in other people”.

Various techniques are used, and are aimed at influencing a target audience’s value system, belief system, emotions, motives, reasoning, or behavior. It is used to induce confessions or reinforce attitudes and behaviors favorable to the originator’s objectives, and are sometimes combined with black operations or false flag tactics. It is also used to destroy the morale of enemies through tactics that aim to depress troops’ psychological states.

Target audiences can be governments, organizations, groups, and individuals, and is not just limited to soldiers. Civilians of foreign territories can also be targeted by technology and media so as to cause an effect in the government of their country.

In Propaganda: The Formation of Men’s Attitudes, Jacques Ellul discusses psychological warfare as a common peace policy practice between nations as a form of indirect aggression. This type of propaganda drains the public opinion of an opposing regime by stripping away its power on public opinion. This form of aggression is hard to defend against because no international court of justice is capable of protecting against psychological aggression since it cannot be legally adjudicated. “Here the propagandists is [sic] dealing with a foreign adversary whose morale he seeks to destroy by psychological means so that the opponent begins to doubt the validity of his beliefs and actions.”

Sometimes there may be one or more simultaneous insurgencies (multipolar) occurring in a country.

> “Why, what’s the meaning of it?” he thought with vexation.

> “Why have I really gone out of my mind, or what?” -Yakov Petrovich Golyadkin

The Double centers on a government clerk who goes mad. It deals with the internal psychological struggle of its main character, Yakov Petrovich Golyadkin, who repeatedly encounters someone who is his exact double in appearance but confident, aggressive, and extroverted, characteristics that are the polar opposites to those of the toadying “pushover” protagonist. The motif of the novella is a doppelgänger (dvoynik). https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/The_Double_(Dostoevsky_novel)

I am made to look the fool, even a toxic one to anywhere I go, and the records will be generated to support that by illegal COINTELPRO methods that subvert people's lives in all ways possible and those ways include causing people to be wrongly turned down on credit apps, car or home buying, jobs, etc., as background rumors or false information is planted.

The basic formula is that they are wrong headed in their activities and that becomes disruptive to what I am doing. Concentration is required and they seem to attempt to break my concentration and Jen Moore also said that is what Stalkers are trained to do - create actually traumatizing treatment of a person to the point the traumatized person becomes incapacitated in some way or is driven to an outburst and that is accomplished by metaphorically according to her trying to create wounds salt can be rubbed on such that the imposed trauma is most effective.

In the gym this took the form of gym Shills seeing I was at 29 minutes 30 seconds and have a woman in yoga pants jump in front of me into my path towards the water fountain and do that all the time such that I am portrayed as following them and I portray the gym as under the control of abusive people.

Combined with attacks on my gym spending, home office, and library treatment, a system of harassing me is in place.

This is common with Gang Stalk activities are harassed.

Shills is the correct term for those in disguise.

KOMPROMAT is a system of a smear campaign against someone, a common example is a private detective using a Shill female to embrace a husband undergoing divorce as he rides the commute train, etc. creating the appearance of an unfaithful husband at fault in the marriage.

Office Mobs often are more duplicitous and created a first layer of fraud, in my case the manufactured and disingenuous claim I an in any way a threat to children, their exploitation, non-consensual photographing, etc., and if that is true, the a second claim will be acted upon such as eviction from the library on another fabricated claim because the first claim that can not be acted on will be sublimated into a public acceptance of a second claim that should not be acted upon but will be accepted in lieu of the first claim.

The manufacture of that KOMPROMAT in an abusive way to me is the Conspiracy Against Rights that is exactly what our legal system is designed to prevent, emotional decisions that defy logic.

> "Why, what's the meaning of it?" he thought with vexation.
>
> "Why have I really gone out of my mind, or what?" - The Double

The Russian military's conception of psychological operations is eerily similar to Fyodor Mikhailovich Dostoyevsky's 1866 novella, The Double. In fact, this story is an insightful teaching device for anyone who wishes to understand Reflexive Control.

> Reflexive Control from Wikipedia
> Reflexive control is control someone has over their opponent's decisions by imposing on them assumptions that change the way they act.

As defined by Soviet scholar V. Lefebvre reflexive control is a process in which one adversary hands over to the other the basis for decision-making. In other words, there is a substitution of motivation factors of the enemy in order to encourage him to take disadvantageous decisions.

Professor G. Smolyan believes that the key point of reflexive control is implicitly forcing a subject to choose a desired result.

Exploiting moral stereotypes of behavior, psychological factors, personal information about the command personnel (biographical data, habits, etc.) reflexive control makes it possible to increase the chances of achieving victory, but it is noted that this tactic requires information about the enemy with a high degree of detail and quality.

- Distraction through a real or perceived threat to one of the enemy's key positions (on the flanks, in the rear, etc.) during preparations for military action,

- overloading through supplying the enemy with large volumes of self-contradictory information,

- paralysis, creating the illusion of pinpointed threats to vital interests or the most vulnerable locations,

- exhaustion, forcing the adversary to expend resources to perform unproductive activities, deception, provoking the enemy to redeploy forces to the threatened area in preparation for military action,

- splitting, forcing the enemy to act against the interests of his allies,

- appeasement, by lowering vigilance and creating the illusion that routine training, rather than preparations for offensive actions, are taking place,

- intimidation, by creating the appearance of invincible superiority,

- provocation, through the imposition of an unfavorable scenario of action,

- suggestion, through the presentation of information material that influences legally, morally, ideologically or in other spheres,

- pressure, through the presentation of information material that discredits the government in the eyes of the population.

Another domestic researcher who attracted interest abroad was Professor F. Chausov, who formulated the following principles of reflexive management:

- principle of purposefulness - the process should be goal-oriented, involving the full range of necessary measures of reflexive management,

- principle of actualization - there should be an "updating" of planning, providing a fairly complete picture of the intellectual potential of the command and staff, especially in situations related to the global information space,

- principle of conformity- mutual consistency of goals, place, time and methods of reflexive management must be observed,

- simulation principle - one should not forget about forecasting and modeling the actions and states of the opposing side during the execution of reflexive control procedures,

- principle of anticipation - current events must be anticipated and anticipated.

Reflexive Control is a psychological warfare technique that was developed by the Soviet military to influence enemy commanders in their decision-making processes. To promote an understanding of this technique across the U.S. armed services, this article offers a creative approach. And why not? According to this Soviet military doctrine, "[c]ontrol of an opponent's actions is of a creative character."

But first, let's begin with the story

Dostoyevsky was a 19th-century Russian novelist who possessed a remarkable talent for probing the depths of human psychology. His novella, The Double, is about a government bureaucrat, Mr. Golyadkin, whom one day encounters his sinister doppelgänger ("a ghostly double or counterpart of a living person"). Shortly after befriending his double, Mr. Golyadkin is incessantly plagued by him and has difficulty distinguishing between reality and his paranoid fantasies. In the end, he is overtaken by his madness. So how does this relate to psychological operations?

Similar to Mr. Golyadkin's disorienting experiences, psychological operations also serve to mislead the adversary with false information, thereby impairing their cognition and objective decision-making process. Lest the reader think that a physical doppelgänger is coming for them like poor Mr. Golyadkin, this piece is about Reflexive Control in the guise of an 'Information Doppelgänger.'

The concept is simple: Based on your adversary's unique proclivities and implicit biases, the aim is to construct a tantalizingly misleading 'Information Doppelgänger,' that will deceive them and hamper their efforts to discover your true strategic objectives.

Targeting Military Commanders - The Reflexive Control Method

Military commanders are prime targets of Reflexive Control. This method, as defined by Timothy Thomas is "a means of conveying to a partner or an opponent specially prepared information to incline him to voluntarily make the predetermined decision desired by the initiator of the action." This aspect of Soviet military doctrine is based on three pillars: (1) influencing the enemy commander's perception of the situation, (2) shaping their mission objectives and planning procedures, and (3) impairing effective decision-making processes. The idea being, if one can indirectly control the enemy military commander's decision-making process, then the aggregate effect is control over their troops and the combat environment. To influence an opponent, however, it first requires developing a comprehensive understanding of the target's deductive decision making processes and constructing an Information Doppelgänger to mislead the target: "In warfare control of an opponent's actions is achieved by deluding him as to one's own intentions, capability, state, and actions of troops and concealment of their actual position[.]"

As a subset of information warfare, the Russian military leverages psychological operations to misinform enemy military commanders. As the Russian Major General Art M. Ionov wrote, false information is thoughtfully constructed based on the adversary's personal "skill and experience" the operator's estimation of the "effectiveness of the device utilized," and surrounding political and social factors. Such methods of psychological artifice help conceal the Russian military's true strategic objectives. This is achieved by establishing a psychosis in the target to "shape the enemy's initial situation estimate" and ultimately influence their objective planning process.

Further, to achieve its strategic objective, Russia's military will first employ information operations to paralyze the adversary and then, if necessary, apply tactical force to overwhelm and consume it. The rationale being, once information superiority is achieved, the path to attaining the strategic objective will be less perilous. For as Russian Colonel S.G. Chekinov and Lieutenant General S.A. Bogdanov explain in Military Thought "[n]o goal will be achieved in future wars unless one belligerent gains information superiority over the other." Another benefit to this approach is that it allows one to maintain the key element of surprise. It also reduces the risk of physical harm to the warfighter by first disorienting the adversary and then striking at it from a relatively safe distance.

Overall, false information campaigns - to include the use of an Information Doppelgänger - are part and parcel of achieving information superiority over an adversary. And as the effects of psychological warfare become more pronounced in our digital Information Age, the concept of an Information Doppelgänger is an excellent teaching device for educating others about Reflexive Control. Thus, whether you are a civilian or member of the armed services, Dostoyevsky has much to teach us about ourselves; for as he sagely wrote, as “profound as psychology is, it’s a knife that cuts both ways.”

On August 16 2013 after undergoing a routine screening blood sugar level skin prick test (and taking a 7 lead EKG with a recomendtaion for a 12 lead test) and a follow test

I prioritized lean meats and bought gym clothes and supplies, but neither my insurance was being paid nor nutrition of diabetes supplies bills nor anything else. I was in such extreme poverty I had to wash bedding in my wash tub at home but it mildewed. Tom Donegan and Mark Weirness kept me in that poverty.

I sent them articles A1c about 10 could lead to heart attack and stroke but that made no difference. Further it was staged in the gym I was a gym clothes freak using my ipod with MP4 goth videos as a peeping tom device and I had a gym clothes fetish, a threat to the gym, still being staged.

My Comcast was shut off and my cell phone too. I had no way to write or do anything. In the start of using the gym I had gotten my weight down by 100 pounds in six months, but had no way to continue as I was made to appear a freak trying to exploit gym access.

Targeted Justice files $1.3 Billion lawsuit against the DOJ, FBI, & DHS

U.S. District Court in Houston, 4:23-cv-1013 (Judge Lee Rosenthal)

McCarthy Blacklist

Targeted Justice filed a lawsuit seeking to have the court declare unconstitutional, a "McCarthy Blacklist" hidden within the FBI's Terrorist Screening Database (TSDB). More than 6 million civilians worldwide, are being subjected to stalking, harassment, slander, threats, assault, and torture. The FBI uses the terms "Targets" or "Non-Investigative Subjects" (NIS), to identify these innocent people. In the U.S. alone, there are more than 300,000 innocent civilians on this blacklist. We are Targeted Individuals.

The database is distributed thru the National Crime Information Center (NCIC) where targets are listed under "Handling Code 3 or 4," because they do not represent a National Security threat, yet Police routinely refer to them as "suspected terrorists."

No List = No Targets

1. In 2003, President Bush signed HSPD-6, authorizing the listing of "known or appropriately suspected" terrorists' names. No other names are allowed on the list.

2. According to FBI Agents under oath: 97% of the TSDB names have no known ties to terrorism.

3. Less than 0.5% of the TSDB consists of "Known or Suspected Terrorists."

4. There is no meaningful redress procedure for someone named as a "suspected terrorist" and "non-investigative subject." Violation of the 4th, 5th, and 6th Amendments.

5. The FBI & DOJ continue to deceive and hide the actual numbers placed on this secret blacklist.

6. Why are minor children, some just 3-years old, listed as "suspected terrorists" on the TSDB?

Ramblings of a So-Called Paranoid Schizophrenic: (a Targeted Individual framed)

[image]

Free with Kindle Unlimited as millions of books are

In this follow-up to his ground-breaking memoir "Extrajudicial Execution," Michael Lutterschmidt-who was targeted for surveillance, intimidation, torture and death-presents a series of reflections and theories on subjects ranging from the frightening to the bizarre. Labeled a paranoid-schizophrenic by professionals attempting to discredit his knowledge of government secrets, the author's perceptive mind weighs in on the abuses and vagaries of religion; the manipulation of society by unseen forces; the presence of magic in our world; exotic new technologies used to spy on citizens and influence minds; explanations for aliens and other paranormal entities; criminal conspiracies in major organizations; and a host of other issues. These must-read "rambles" will both startle and illuminate anyone with an open mind.

In his own words, a Targeted Individual (TI) exposes his tormented life and the heartless, sadistic and invasive methods used covertly to undermine his credibility, cause illness and excruciating pain, ruin him financially, tear apart his family, drive him mad and lead him to consider suicide. This dramatic and cautionary tale may seem extreme and far-fetched, but thousands of other Targeted Individuals throughout the world are suffering in silence right now. In this candid account, the author describes the psychological, emotional, mental and physical torture that he has endured for over six years, hoping that he will survive long enough to see this book in print.

Possible Meeting of Ed Donegan and Jen Moore 2012

I had been arrested after confronting Thea Smith a neigbbor moved in across the hall from me from the empty building I had moved into following release from FMC Butner and the psychiatric hosptial I had been in following FMC Butner when I had allleged radiological attack.

In the Sherrifs Detetion Arlington VA it was just after my mother had died but my father was still alive but in serious distress of his and my life.

The Sherrifs were doing what othes were at Clarendon Courts the apartment building I confronted Thea Smith over. There is a pattern of stage events I am pedophile and "wanker" a wanker being near me who is paying restitution for exploiting minors then receiving adult entertainer services and the operation depends on trespasses against Ed Donegan, myself, staging by monologues to me or impersonations of me that I am involved in these events, I am not.

As the sheriffs and others hint at "Something about California"

I am in loud intense shouting matches "NAME ANYTHING ABOUT CALIFORNIA!! RIGHT NOW!!! NO LAWYER ON THE RECORD NAME IT! NAME IT" but they couldn't but did want to knon about white supremacy and have interviews about it and adult sex wokers were being brought in, about five, but hidden or partially hidden from me as they in the Sheriff Detention I was a retarded little boy and part of the shouting match was how much work PoliticalRights.US was and configuring it, etc., as I (or the dopple of me next to me) was taught about Abraham Lincoln as though a second grader.

In the shouting matches, at least 15 of them, there were those in nearby rooms talking about them and some Deputies that seemed to know what was going on before they were moved out. I think Jen Moore might have been one of them. I began to think safety could only be achieved shanking the knecks of thee Deputies, and the risk they posed to the public and began to wonder how this could still be happening since the 1990s.

The core system depends on some form of trespasses against me such as apartment break ins or identity theft such that my identity is tied to exploitation of others the to receiving adult sex worker therapy.

These adult sex workers seemed to hand out in the nurses station talking aloud but the curtains to the nurses station were pulled.

Some of them were openly talking about being connected to Barrack Obama and I thought that sounded a lot like events at FMC Butner. This led to a Secret Service interview over threats to Barrack Obama Jr. and civil committeemen, upon release, coming to Texas.

During all of that I broke my arm shouting at the play actors staging events outside my cell or in the cell next to mine and Jen Moore in her various videos seem to reference that including the broken arm.

Upon arriving in Texas the pattern continued of making insinuating references only hinting at some misconduct but lacking any specificity even if I demand specificity and the allegations of misconduct are careful propaganda before the public, not actual allegations.

I think I have seen more black public officials (and many white ones) "packages" while institutionalized than fellow gym goers in gyms afterwards.

Despite my life long distrust of institution workers I was and am still loyal to the concept of policing. At one time during "count" (detainees move outside there cells to the catwalk where they are counted and cells are inspected while empty) I had stood on the wrong side of he cell door, this because on the other side than general procedure called for gave the female deputy inspecting me cell the clear path out of cell and out of the dead end corrdidor into the main area, and that might have been Jen Moore noting the move I made for her safety.

Because this is that standard conduct of perhaps the last 5,000 public employees (and cooperating private assets of State agencies) I have grown concerned over the arrest authority of the State generally.

The Language of Secretive Subversion

KOMPROMAT (Compromising Information)

KOMPROMAT is information made synthetically manufactured but which appears from normal life in the information seems to suggest by appearances that a person is compromised by some flaw such as being a traitor, having an affair, etc.,

Reflexive Control (of a provoked person) from Wikipedia

Reflexive control is control someone has over their opponent's decisions by imposing on them assumptions that change the way they act.

As defined by Soviet scholar V. Lefebvre reflexive control is a process in which one adversary hands over to the other the basis for decision-making. In other words, there is a substitution of motivation factors of the enemy in order to encourage him to take disadvantageous decisions.

Professor G. Smolyan believes that the key point of reflexive control is implicitly forcing a subject to choose a desired result.

Exploiting moral stereotypes of behavior, psychological factors, personal information about the command personnel (biographical data, habits, etc.) reflexive control makes it possible to increase the chances of achieving victory, but it is noted that this tactic requires information about the enemy with a high degree of detail and quality.

- Distraction through a real or perceived threat to one of the enemy's key positions (on the flanks, in the rear, etc.) during preparations for military action,

- overloading through supplying the enemy with large volumes of self-contradictory information,

- paralysis, creating the illusion of pinpointed threats to vital interests or the most vulnerable locations,

- exhaustion, forcing the adversary to expend resources to perform unproductive activities, deception, provoking the enemy to redeploy forces to the threatened area in preparation for military action,

- splitting, forcing the enemy to act against the interests of his allies,

- appeasement, by lowering vigilance and creating the illusion that routine training, rather than preparations for offensive actions, are taking place,

- intimidation, by creating the appearance of invincible superiority,

- provocation, through the imposition of an unfavorable scenario of action,

- suggestion, through the presentation of information material that influences legally, morally, ideologically or in other spheres,

- pressure, through the presentation of information material that discredits the government in the eyes of the population.

Another domestic researcher who attracted interest abroad was Professor F. Chausov, who formulated the following principles of reflexive management:

- principle of purposefulness the process should be goal-oriented, involving the full range of necessary measures of reflexive management,

- principle of actualization - there should be an "updating" of planning, providing a fairly complete picture of the intellectual potential of the command and staff, especially in situations related to the global information space,

- principle of conformity- mutual consistency of goals, place, time and methods of reflexive management must be observed,

- simulation principle one should not forget about forecasting and modeling the actions and states of the opposing side during the execution of reflexive control procedures,

- principle of anticipation - current events must be anticipated and anticipated.

Reflexive Control is a psychological warfare technique that was developed by the Soviet military to influence enemy commanders in their decision-making processes. To promote an understanding of this technique across the U.S. armed services, this article offers a creative approach. And why not? According to this Soviet military doctrine, "[c]ontrol of an opponent's actions is of a creative character."

COINTELPRO MKULTRA GANGSTALK WAR AT HOME

War at Home by Brian Glick

Excerpted from the South End Press Book by permission of the author.

Government harassment of U.S. political activists clearly exists today, violating our fundamental democratic rights and creating a climate of fear and distrust which undermines our efforts to challenge official policy. Similar attacks on social justice movements came to light during the 1960s. Only years later did we learn that these had been merely the visible tip of an iceberg. Largely hidden at the time was a vast government program to neutralize domestic political opposition through "covert action"

(political repression carried out secretly or under the guise of legitimate law enforcement). The 1960s program, coordinated by the FBI under the code name "COINTELPRO," was exposed in the 1970s and supposedly stopped.

But covert operations against domestic dissidents did not end. They have persisted and become an integral part of government activity.

How COINTELPRO Worked

When congressional investigations, political trials, and other traditional legal modes of repression failed to counter the growing movements, and even helped to fuel them, the FBI and police moved outside the law. They resorted to the secret and systematic use of fraud and force to sabotage constitutionally protected political activity.

Their methods ranged far beyond surveillance, amounting to a homefront version of the covert action for which the CIA has become infamous throughout the world.

FBI Headquarters secretly instructed its field offices to propose schemes to "expose, disrupt, misdirect, discredit, or otherwise neutralize" specific individuals and groups.

Close coordination with local police and prosecutors was strongly encouraged.

Other recommended collaborators included friendly news media,business and foundation executives, and university, church, and trade union officials, as well as such "patriotic" organizations as the American Legion.

Final authority rested with FBI Headquarters in Washington, D.C.

Top FBI officials pressed local field offices to step up their activity and demanded regular progress reports.

Agents were directed to maintain full secrecy "such that under no circumstances should the existence of the program be made known outside the Bureau and appropriate within-office security should be afforded to sensitive operations and techniques."

A total of 2,370 officially approved COINTELPRO actions were admitted to the Senate Intelligence Committee, and thousands more have since been uncovered.

Means, Motive and Opportunity as a System of Subversive Activities

The categorical trinity - means, motive, opportunity - provides a structure for detection method that has become either an expressed or subliminal convention in narratives that present the sleuth at work in a world

From: Means, Motive and Opportunity in The Oxford Companion to Crime and Mystery Writing »

- Means (Stasi) (Decomposition) Secret Police and Covert Actors in Covert Operations can illegally harrass and destroy a person's life. +

- Opportunity (covert request for undercover operation support) Most people including Dupes will go along with under-cover policing cooperation requests and allow access into a private citizens home, office environment, etc., if provided enough good reason and a credible enough agency requests the access even when that cooperation is prohibited or if the agency has a sham backed warrrant or subpeona in usage thus defeating stakeholder prevention of abuse of privacy or abuse of constitutional rights. =

- Motive (Abuse of Power):. The use of Secret Police by high ranking figures allows high ranking figures to secretely accomplish illegal acts that may benefit the high ranking figure.

When I used my home office to write about FBI Directors and CIA and State Department officials especially those tied to Republicans (Wray, Colin Powell, Bush, Donald Barr, most on the cover of my book) my computers were damaged by "accidents" from the building like water poured from above onto my patio, later a break in, etc.,

Shills, con artists took over the Leasing Office and planted shill neighbors and started a lynch mob based on fabricated allegations against me that contradicted the fact of who I was and my tenancy and this went so far as faked records in the rental office, damage and black-bag jobs to my home and office, faked leasing records of activities, complicit accomplice neighbors moved in, etc.,

The same has happened elsewhere. The timing of these activities DOES correlate very tightly to my book writing activities such as watching The Kings Speech that is in large part the story of King Edward VIII Prince of Wales abdicating because of close ties to Nazis, and that story as part of MKULTRA history.

The attacks also occurred as I was attempting to get the under-cover operation to accept responsibility for the loss of Jen Moore who was documenting this very history over an 11 year period.

I had not only those figures on my book cover I later modified the book cover to the more serious story. Why curse the success of others like Wray or Burns, who I don't care about, but I do care about victims like Jen Moore, the Donegan's, the Kennedy's and others.

That is what is on my book cover and those who know they have a role in those deaths do know they have something to hide, not because their success in the CIA or FBI or DHS or politics is resented, but their crimes are and that is the matter I am writing to and is that matter they hold deep fears on.

Spying Terms and the Methods named by the Terms

Subversion (subvert or destroying a person or country via some means of sabotage including use of Forgeries)

One example of forgery is when someone signs another person's name to a document without their permission or knowledge. Another example of forgery is when someone creates a false government document, such as a driver's license

When a real painting of DiVinci has a real signature of Divinci nothing is forged. When a non Divinci has a Divinci signature it is a forgery. If a painter attaches HIS OWN non Divincis signature to a real Divinci work it is also a forgery, the signature and painting don't match. Mismatching identity and items or identities and activities forge links that do not exist. I I start an event like hitting on a woman than am blocked with a "No" from her and someone is tied to later actions with her using my initial signature come-on with her a forged link to me and what happened next is created. There is an identity mismatch that defrauds.

Subversion of one path of governance to support a different one by covert operations are part of Psychological Warfare

- Assassination of Officials: Making room for new leaders or eliminating problematic ones who will be replaced by compliant ones.

- Assassination of Journalists: Making room for new leaders or eliminating problematic ones who will be replaced by compliant ones

- Smear Campaigns creating a derogatory Legend about a person.

  - Falsified or wrongfully explained records including real records that actually resulted from unfair treatment of a person and that person was blamed and is now being re-victimized.

  - Forced-Teaming places a person being subverted with some toxicity like someone appearing to be foreign spy or abuse child creating an appearance of the person being subverted having linkage to that toxicity.

- Confusion and Improper Linking Liked with Forced-Teaming a subverted person with some form of toxicity manufacture vauge links through intermediate linkages like presence as a location or color of shirt worn or similar sounding statements several people spoke can create confusion or blue as to who is excatly linked to what via the smog of war in trying to trace links across intermediate elements.

- Something said in passing "PHRASE If you mention something in passing, you mention it briefly while you are talking or writing about something else."

  Edward Paul Donegan asserts accomplices will while talking to each other as an abuse victim is near will use conversation to each other to make an audible abusive and incorrect slanderous statement while passing by a person that they will assert (if asked by the abusive comment victim) their comments were NOT directed TOWARDS or ABOUT the abusive comment victim though in fact the abusive slanderous statement was both TOWARDS a person being passed on the street and ABOUT a person being passed by on the street. #SmearCampaign #InstigationOfConflict

GangStalk, Organized Stalk, Criminal Syndicate, Mafia

An alliance between agencies like the FBI or CIA with mafia groups. This differs from simple contracting for hits, shot-callers of mobs bring their mobs into alignment with Espionage Agencies in return for favors, profits, etc., Neighborhood Watch groups are common sources of alliances for FBI and CIA as are mental health services clients or family members of Espionage agencies who will act out scenarios under cover as normal pedestrian or office workers presence.

Syndicate

- a group of individuals or organizations combined to promote some common interest. "large-scale buyouts involving a syndicate of financial institutions"

- control or manage by a syndicate. "the loans are syndicated to a group of banks"

- Criminal Syndicate - State Sponsored Mafia. "Bank of Commerce and Credit International (BCCI) was one of the most crime connected operations and was tied to William Barr.""

- Syndication in Media - Broadcast syndication is the practice of leasing the right to broadcasting television shows and radio programs produced by others to multiple television stations and radio

- Racketeering Influence Criminal Organizations (RICO) Legitimate appearing organizations who in in conjunction with their entity are using ties to criminal entities. Those entities may be anti-union thugs, hit-men, arsonist, or other forms of groups such as gambling, human trafficking, etc., when the legitimate enterprise needs to contract or combine with criminal operations but does not have the capability in-house.

Harass

Criminal Harassment under Color of Law prevents harassing any Constitutional right such as the safety of the home, effects, and papers from unreasonable search, seizure, or tampering, or the harassing of any other right up to including the crime of assassinating a journalist is furtherance of insulating corrupt acts from exposure to the public.

Sexually Abusive and Harassing Pestering. "What does pestering someone mean? To worry, annoy, harass, harry, plague, pester, tease mean to disturb or irritate by persistent acts.

Treating me like a pedophile, teenphile, gym clothes wardrobe malfunction peeper, etc, and thanking me for my agreeing to that when I don't or forging through an impersonator of me a confession I have not made and do not agree to are abusive and a Criminal Syndicate.

Normality versus Being Harrassed

What is the definition of being normal?

Conforming to the standard or the common type; usual; not abnormal; regular; natural. serving to establish a standard. Psychology. approximately average in any psychological trait, as intelligence, personality, or emotional adjustment. free from any mental disorder; sane.

What is the true meaning of abnormal?

Deviating from the normal or average. a person with abnormal [=exceptional] strength. abnormal powers of concentration. often : unusual in an unwelcome or problematic way.

Menacing Behavior of Stalkers

It is for instance; in office environments, that a luscious fit gym babe works on the same floor as you. It is summer. So hot outside, her bosom now exposed by the v cut down her blouse. Sweat seems to be on her breasts as she makes it back to work from the deli across the street.

This could be normal at say WKRP in Cincinnati radio station. Some nice guy in genes and a cowboy hat is a good manager in the building. It is normal he do things like discuss the conduct of Less Nessman with the station owner, or the attire of the ads salesman Herb Tarlect who does know that Trickle Down is NOT Supply Side Theory and it is important to say to him at times "That suite looks like it was made out of car seat covers" and do so in disparaging way.

But that same manager in a cowboy hat should not grope himself as he looks at Loni Anderson nor should he make lurid comments to her becoming distracted by her and becoming a distraction to her as he attempts to romanticize the situation.

Leverage by Stalkers

With very simple activities like gunning an engine, a touch of the gas pedal or twist of the throttle can be a use of leverage. The very minor gesture if a person is at home starting to masturbate, go into the shower, pickup a book or start into a legal file might be startled, upset, concerned, or have fear induced or unpleasant angry feelings at the Stalkers activities.

It is true the Stalker acted very subtly but great meaning and disturbing meaning could be conveyed by minor acts and that is how Stalkers work on Stalk Victims psychologically.

Incite or Suborn or Obstruct

- Incite - transitive verb. : to move to action : stir up : spur on : urge on.

- Suborn - bribe or otherwise induce (someone) to commit an unlawful act such as perjury or Obstruction of Justice.

- Obstruct - block (an opening, path, road, etc.); be or by some means get in the way of including Justice. Faking evidence in any matter of legal proceedings including investigations, altering or forging of will after the fact, or intimidation or other acts in the legal system obstruct justice in the legal system.

Veiled Acts, Veiled Aggression, and Vexation

Veiled concealed acts of aggression may vex someone as a pervert or creep and forced-team them with victims staging acts of predation or attempts to catch or retaliate against predation. It may be claimed as a grey ares if a smear campaign has successfully raised a cloud of suspicion as to whether a trap should be baited. As will all matters in law and science the totality of the motives and actions and even state of minds may need to be examined to find the real reason for government cover operation .

Agents, Agency, and Agency Heads

Agent: a person who acts on behalf of another person or group. "in the event of illness, a durable power of attorney enabled her nephew to act as her agent".

Agent: a person or thing that takes an active role or produces a specified effect. "these teachers view themselves as agents of social change."

Police Abuse and Abuse of Power via Agents and Assets: Hiding police hands in harassment facilitates harassment. This is why out of court sabotage is more effective against writers, activists, etc.,, than in court open activities would be and thus covert harassment means are chosen.

Shills (Agents in Place)

Shills are disguised elements who pose as neutral or normally occurring population. Most crimes can be stopped by security personnel, witnesses, first responders getting data, etc., but if these people are replace by Shills the witness accounts, forensics, security measures will be flawed and crime will succeed. Shills do know they are facilitating acts of duplicity but their motives and state-of-minds may vary as to why they think they are doing what they are doing and the truth of the operation as know by others. Dupes participate in sham activities facilitating them because they misconceive why they have asked to do what it is they are going to do out of the ordinary.

noun: campaign; plural noun: campaigns

Definitions from Oxford Languages

- an organized course of action to achieve a goal. "the campaign for a full inquiry into the regime"

- a series of military operations intended to achieve a particular objective, confined to a particular area, or involving a specified type of fighting. "a desert campaign"

Edward Paul Donegan, Micheal Hastings, and Ted Gunderson and others assert the FBI are on a campaign to kill journalists working on the stories of MKULTRA including areas covered by the Truther Movement, the Birther controversy, CIA assassinations, and the JFK and RFK and MLK and Malcom X and Marilyn Monroe and Dorothy Kilgallen assassinations, and that the kinds of open threats from today's powerful elite DHS FBI CIA and NSA and Executive officials continue the cover-ups.

All like Marilyn Monroe threatened to go public as Ted Gunderson did and Jen Moore did and Dorothy Mae Kilgallen Born: July 3, 1913, Chicago, IL Died: November 8, 1965, Manhattan, New York, NY was going to to and Micheal Hastings and Victoria Windsor were going to do and Andrew Breitbart were going to do.

Ed Donegan (me) is continue to try to go public with his asserted facts as well but I face serious threats from a Modus Operandi detoxifying and thus eroding my activities in life.

Witch Hunts

Investigations should follow facts and facts should not be fabricated to fit investigations.

Science should follow Books and not Books follow Science

Modus Operandi

The term "modus operandi" is a Latin term that describes an individual or group's habitual way of operating, which represents a discernible pattern. A modus operandi (commonly abbreviated as "M.O.") is mainly used to discuss criminal behavior and is often used by professionals to prevent future crimes.

Dismissing people as Conspiracy Theorists, sex predators, schizophrenic, etc., is achieved by Accomplices to the illegal operation staging information to toxify and and thus erode the journalist preventing rental of offices or homes, interfering and vexing library usage, etc.,

Veiled Aggressive acts usually define a person's rightful typical acts as an atypical event. If I work out teens are added around me and people from the community acting like my park usage is an excuse to be near children. Same with library, etc., It is abusive treatment of me at the scene and also threatens future use of library, gyms, etc.,

Accomplices

Under the Texas penal code a person is “criminally responsible for a crime committed by the conduct of another” if he or she acts “with intent to promote or assist the commission of the offence, he solicits, encourages, directs, aids or attempts to aid the other person to commit the offence.”

An accomplice is defined as a person who knowingly, voluntarily, or intentionally gives assistance to another in (or in some cases fails to prevent another from) the commission of a crime.

An accomplice is criminally liable to the same extent as the principal. An accomplice, unlike an accessory, is typically present when the crime is committed.

Jurisdictions will sometimes differ as to the definition for knowingly. Generally, knowingly is enough for the person to be aware of a specific fact. For instance, in the Court of Appeals case, State v. Allen, the court instructed the jury that a person acts “knowingly” with respect to a fact or circumstance when they are aware of that fact or circumstance.

See, e.g. Waddington v. Sarausad, 129 S.Ct. 823 (2009)

Cut-outs

Cut Outs are a Military Intelligence Term-Of-Art for spying in which a spy cuts out direct contact with an asset and uses inter-mediated contact instead; for instance, a spy asks an asset to drop files stolen from the assets military agency into a drop site and then leave so later the spy can go to that drop site without the asset present and collect the file. The drop site is the intermediate receiver and deliver of the stolen materials being passed to a spy.

Improper links including Mirrored activity can create confusion one direct links are removed. More than one person may go to a single drop site and drop files, and thus the person collecting the files may collect the wrong ones, several drops sites may be used and and confused with each other so it will seem one person picked up files at one drop site when in fact that drop site became intentionally confused with another, etc..,

The functioning is a Racket in money laundering and slush funds financial investigator Jen Moore was blowing the whistle on. She was a former sex crimes investigator and her husband a financial crimes investigator.

Glorian Donegan my mother had an interesting genealogy and life as did my father. Their history is part of US history and tied to the Kennedy assassination and British influences in the USA that are only problematic because of pre WWII ties to Nazis before the US and Great Britain joined WWII.

The timeline of why a criminal enterprise is money laundering (and other crimes) is also tied to assassinations in the USA and illegal FBI and CIA operations, Operation 40 and other Black Budgets and Slush Funds.

> Deficit 'Big Enough to Take Care of Self' : Reagan High on the Laugher Curve
>
> GRAND RAPIDS, Mich. - President Reagan once told a group of reporters not to worry about the deficit. "It's big enough to take care of itself," he said.
>
> That was among the revelations today at the not-so-serious symposium on humor in the presidency, hosted by former President Gerald R. Ford.

The same has been true of the Oil Industry in particular Rockefeller's Standard Oil who funded assassinations, slush funds, campaign funds, and other illegal acts and cartels and global businesses like Zapata Petroleum, International Trade Mart, United Fruit Company, and other CIA big business enterprises.

Very destructively my mother's trust fund is being used as a slush fund for criminal operations and dividends and is part of CIA illegal activities. How this ties together with the timeline of the JFK assassination is in my proposed new (latent) timeline information also a chapter in The Great Treason as this document is.

I think several homicides and several arsons are connected to this as are a number of deaths of public officials like Judge Roll and US Assistant Attorney Thomas C. Wales who like the Kennedy's have unsolved assassinations or assassination not solved in depth until now is available with the new information.

COINTELPRO was a secret program of FBI counterintelligence operations against American citizens orchestrated under the leadership of FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover.

Project MK Ultra was a secret program run by the CIA from the early 1950s until the early 1970s, in which mind control and interrogation experiments were performed on U.S. and Canadian citizens.

“Red Squads” - now called “Law Enforcement Intelligence Units” (LEIUs), are elements of local police departments. They spy on criminals, but they also conduct counterintelligence activities - including infiltrating and disrupting organizations deemed to be subversive, such as labor groups and civil rights groups. Red Squads have been used - especially by urban police departments - since the late 1800s. Historically, Red Squads have taken very seriously the protection of business interests and the disruption of political movements. They have been rather more casual in their attitudes about complying with the law and principles of morality.

The Stasi - communist East Germany’s secret police agency - enforced the political control over East Germany’s citizens through a combination of surveillance and psychological terrorism. Core elements of that system of spying and psychological torture, called zersetzung, are used in gang stalking in the U.S. today.

Anyone who doubts that the U.S. government could be sanctioning a widespread conspiracy involving illegal surveillance and harassment of targeted citizens should read the basic facts about these programs. You don't even need to explore obscure sources of information; simply read the established mainstream accounts of the undisputed facts.

Espionage activities of Subversion are different than information gathering, though information gathering may lead to a decision to Subvert.

Other motives may exist to Subvert countries, NGOs, or people and this book asserts a Deep State Cabal is trying to cover its tracks with illegal activities inside the USA.

The core element of Stasi is to not be seen subverting, who is doing the subverting, or why, thus nut justifying the activities or acknowledging them, just getting away with the acts secretly.

The Watergate Break in was a Black Bag Job setup by Nixon reelection team members to subvert the DNC party activities. Access to damaging information on Democrats also by illegal acts were included in the activities.

https://www.amazon.com/War-Home-against-activists-Pamphlet/dp/0896083497

"According to Brian Glick, in War at Home, COINTELPRO used a broad array of methods, including:"

1. Infiltration: Agents and informers did not merely spy on political activists. Their main purpose was to discredit and disrupt. Their very presence served to undermine trust and scare off potential supporters. The FBI and police exploited this fear to smear genuine activists as agents.

2. Psychological Warfare From the Outside: The FBI and police used myriad other "dirty tricks" to undermine progressive movements. They planted false media stories and published bogus leaflets and other publications in the name of targeted groups. They forged correspondence, sent anonymous letters, and made anonymous telephone calls. They spread misinformation about meetings and events, set up pseudo movement groups run by government agents, and manipulated or strong-armed parents, employers, landlords, school officials and others to cause trouble for activists.

3. Harassment Through the Legal System: The FBI and police abused the legal system to harass dissidents and make them appear to be criminals. Officers of the law gave perjured testimony and presented fabricated evidence as a pretext for false arrests and wrongful imprisonment. They discriminatorily enforced tax laws and other government regulations and used conspicuous surveillance, ‘investigative’ interviews, and grand jury subpoenas in an effort to intimidate activists and silence their supporters.

4. Extralegal Force and Violence: The FBI and police threatened, instigated, and themselves conducted break-ins, vandalism, assaults, and beatings. The object was to frighten dissidents and disrupt their movements. In the case of radical Black and Puerto Rican activists (and later Native Americans), these attacks-including political assassinations-were so extensive, vicious, and calculated that they can accurately be termed a form of official ‘terrorism.’”.The FBI also conducted "black bag jobs", warrantless surreptitious entries, against the targeted groups and their members. Source: COINTELPRO - Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

>
> At its most extreme dimension, political dissidents have been eliminated outright or sent to prison for the rest of their lives. There are quite a number of individuals who have been handled in that fashion. Many more, however, were "neutralized" by intimidation, harassment, discrediting, snitch jacketing, a whole assortment of authoritarian and illegal tactics.
>
> ["Snitch jacketing is a Lockstep of tracker snitches following, harassing, lying about, being a nearby to the victim system of police harassment or police abuse through the use of snitches as proxies.]

The FBI is under the Director of National Intelligence and operates around the world. Robert Swan Mueller III prefers this role of the FBI over law enforcement, another task it has.

Targeting

Targeting

Targeting has a very broad meaning and many uses. Once a Subversion goal has been established various people or groups in various ways are targeted for roles as part of the Subversion operation

Assassination or Assets Seizure

A group tied to terrorism may have its assets seized or its leaders targeted for assassination, as Targets of law enforcement operations in Espionage and the NDAA and Disposition Matrix.

Grand Jury Target A person or organization may be targeted by a Grand Jury investigation. Often a Targeting Letter may be sent to that person or organization and they may be called to testify even against themselves. No guilt is determined only the threshold as to whether to bring charges. Legitimate use of a Grand Jury is not in question.

Abuse of Process is a system of harassment wherein falsified, fabricated, out of context, or other misapplication of information including the intentional exclusion of exculpatory information clearly negating the inculpatory data is used for illegal targeting of people in sham investigations.

Mobbing (also called Office Mobs and GangStalks)

Frequently to Subvert and Harass or Bully or Rumor Monger an employee Shills are planted who are Enemies acting as normal parties not part of a Con operation. Thy are likely newcomers tow where they are infiltrating and have the organization's support creating their presence.

Newsweek magazine published an article in August 2000 titled "They Call it Mobbing." The article (which you can see in the "Gang Stalking News" section of this website) describes a process of intense systematic harassment of a targeted employee by multiple co-workers and managers at his or her workplace. The abuse involves slandering and isolating an employee and verbal abuse. Apparently, this is a common element of gang stalking campaigns against targeted individuals. Since the tactic is apparently widespread - and since it is apparently connected in some cases to workplace violence - I have devoted the entire next section to it in this overview.

They Call It 'Mobbing' retrieved from Newsweek and copied or modified to here

BY KAREN LOWRY MILLER ON 8/13/00 AT 8:00 PM EDT

… What you may not have come across yet is the growing number of researchers and activists who say that such cases are examples of an ugly, hitherto little-> recognized workplace problem that's as corrosive as racial discrimination and sexual harassment. They call it mobbing: repeated attacks that humiliate, isolate and belittle, to the point where the victim can no longer function. Mobbing, these activists say, can be perpetrated by bosses, peers or even subordinates. …

Black Bag Jobs (break-ins planting or altering or removing items)

A common element among victims' accounts of organized stalking is the experience of having their residences broken into. In the counterintelligence business, the slang term for this is a "black bag job."

A "black bag job" is a clandestine entry into the residence, office, storage facility, or vehicle of a targeted individual or organization. The term is a reference to a small black bag filled with burglary tools. One of the most famous historical examples of a black bag operation was the Watergate break-in. Common goals of such operations include obtaining information and planting surveillance devices. They can also be used to steal or plant evidence, and to perpetrate acts of vandalism for psychological operations purposes.

Illegal black bag operations were conducted by the FBI during its original Cointelpro operations. For example, volume 6 of the U.S. Senate's Church Committee investigations contains a letter about black bag jobs (referred to as such) which explicitly states that the FBI knew that the operations were clearly illegal.

Are such operations still illegal? That depends upon whether you subscribe to the subversive notion that the U.S. Constitution means what it says. In theory, the Fourth Amendment protects Americans from “unreasonable searches and seizures” conducted without a warrant based “upon probable cause.” As a practical matter though, individual rights in America have been massively eroded since the 9/11 terrorist attacks by such policies as the “USA Patriot Act.”

Under the Patriot Act, there has been an expansion of the use by law enforcement agencies of a Constitutionally-dubious tactic commonly referred to as a “sneak and peek” warrant. Officially called a “Delayed-Notice Search Warrant,” it allows police to covertly enter private residences, perform searches, and seize property without notifying the residents.

Here are a few discussions of this police state tactic:

An explanation of sneak and peek warrants by the ACLU (March 2002)

A criticism of the legal legitimacy of sneak and peek warrants by Donald E. Wilkes, Jr., Professor of Law, University of Georgia School of Law. (September 2002)

An article about a wrongly-accused man from Oregon who won a
$2 million settlement against the U.S. government because of his harassment by federal agents - which included black bag jobs. (November 2010)

“Federal authorities planted listening devices in his office, throughout his house - including in his bedroom - and tapped his phones. He and his family were kept under surveillance. Agents conducted "sneak and peak" searches, entering the home when the family was away."

A more recent review of sneak and peek warrants, which notes that requests for such warrants are granted almost automatically. A study in 2010 found that judges denied such requests in less than one percent of all cases. (June 2014)

Targeted for Recruitment, Usage, or Placement

Agent of Influence

An Agent of Influence is someone in the media ore elsewhere friendly to the Espionage operation and as a cohort or Agent in Place assist the operation by holding stories, planting stories, or starting real story lines the build or erode support for various parties as a publicity matter.

Fusion GPS has been alleged to have used paid for actors to subvert Donald Trump presidential bid.

Recruit

Existing employees of an organization my be profiled as someone who could be recruited to be an Agent in Place who already is in place but has not yet been approached though the meet a profile of someone who might be successfully approached.

Usually some advance effort under some excuse like a Federal Audit or an advance plant will be used to examine employee roles that might be used to select among a field of candidates.

Dupe

A Dupe may be a person who can be tricked into activities they think are legitimate but are being used and are on arranged activities like searching an innocent person after being led to believe that person in the airport may be carrying a bomb. The act of the innocent person being searched may be useful publicity, slow the person's movements, or yield results from an unconstitutional search.

Subversion Activities

Counterintelligence is the assessment and countering of threats posed by enemy subversion, espionage, and sabotage. Counterintelligence operations include covert surveillance (spying on the enemy), sabotage (disruption of the enemy's activities), and disinformation (efforts to deceive the enemy and - when it serves the objectives of the counterintelligence program - the public). Wikipedia's entry on counterintelligence describes the organizational nature this way:

> "In most countries the counterintelligence mission is spread over multiple organizations, though one usually predominates. There is usually a domestic counterintelligence service, usually part of a larger organization such as the Federal Bureau of Investigation in the United States."

COINTELPRO (short for "Counterintelligence Program") was the name of a secret illegal counterintelligence program run by the FBI from 1956 until it was exposed by civilian activists in 1971 and subsequently investigated by Congress.

The U.S. Senate's Church Committee investigations in the mid-1970s found that under Cointelpro U.S. law enforcement personnel and their various government and private citizen and criminal accomplices systematically spied on, slandered, terrorized, and committed acts of violence (including murder) against American citizens deemed to be dissidents.

A Mark is someone or some group or some government being Targeted for some form of harassment program.

Legends and Narratives: False Legend or False Narrative and False Appearances including those created by Hired Actors

A goal in fraud that is a spy's claimed background or biography about him or herself or others, usually supported by documents and memorized details they will plant as facts during conversation, and may include staged appearances acted out and rumor mongers acting undercover simulating some event that a duped observer will believe to be true.

Slander Campaigns build on re-victimization and encourage re-victimization under various office-mob social-mob scenarious of school yard bullies recruited by F.B.I to engage in school yard cliques and lies.

The hope is the the Legend they wish attached to a person can continue to grow like Chia [pet] Grass [hair] of extending dis-reality building on the previous dis-reality.

In one court filing attempt a number of years ago I cited Justice Jackson on the importance of good processes protections for as he pointed out history shows when things run out of control no matter what the substance of the law is the result of deviating from them can be historically atrocious humiliating disaster of misconduct.

The eagerness of rouge elements to write a derogatory legend of me became such a prurient fantasy for religious groups etc., it became an odd test of themselves as the essentially turned themselves into invisible preachers as Mr Hyde (not Dr Jekyll) seeking out preposterous sights.

As a child I had many childish fantasies. As adults these often religious poeple have many insane fantasies litle more than Witch Poking.

But in that pseudo world they created for their activity they for more than four decades keep asserting it is me who is the child not them who are the children who want an exploitative peek.

"The victims are targeted for a variety of reasons including government and corporate whistleblowers, parties to financial and employment disputes, parties to marital disputes (usually divorced women), and even jilted paramours. Journalists covering controversial issues, and, even attorneys and private investigators representing unpopular clients or interests, have been targeted by this program.

"In addition to high-ranking members of the F.B.I., other intelligence services, and the government overall, wealthy, powerful members of criminal syndicates, multi-millionaires and the corporate elite are using the government gang stalking program to harass enemies.

"They can get a targeted individual harassed for the rest of that individual's life (individual cases of gang stalking lasting for over a decade are common).

A "dirty bomb" is one type of a "radiological dispersal device" (RDD) that combines a conventional explosive, such as dynamite, with radioactive material. The terms dirty bomb and RDD are often used interchangeably in the media.

For limited use rather than against populations small amounts of Polonium or Uranium or other radiation sources can very illegally be placed.

North Korea has accused the CIA of attempting to assassinate its leader, Kim Jong-un, using unspecified biochemical substances during a public ceremonial event in the capital, Pyongyang. https://www.theguardian.com/world/2017/may/05/north-korea-accuses-cia-biochemical-plot-kill-kim-jong-un

The North Korean's and others accuse DHS, FBI, CIA and NSA of use of radiology as a Targeted Killings tactic.

Ted Gunderon and Edward Paul Donegan assert these tactics used on themselves orchestrated by DHS.

Voice to Skull Technology

Also called V2K, V2S, or Voice Of God Weapon, is a weapon used for transmitting voices with low frequencies and can be used to induce or manipulate dreams or deprive the target of sleep.

Regardless of the existence of high tech devices credibly asserted to exist the FBI and Marhsalls and others have a longstanding police of Rough Noise system to harass occupants of a home or compound with loud and annoying sounds, etc.,

Subversion Operations

Reflexive Control

Psychological Warfare attempts to play to a population's fears by labeling certain people or parties with specific slander such that the population sought to be controlled will impulsively and reflexively turn against the slandered person often asking then to act on their deepest fears that are catered to in the slander campaign.

Flim-Flam, Black Budgets, Rackets, and Syndicates

Racket

Rackets are criminal enterprises posing as commercial enterprises whose function is to extort from a customer fees for solving a problem the racket itself imposed.

- Rackets do not have customers rather they have crime victims the racket extorts to hire them.
    - Labor Racket are a form of racket who make a need for their labor servies then provide the serices and bill for them.

- Protection Racket

  Create themselves as a crime threat and then provide billed protetion services to those who live under the crime threat.

One form of Racket were (or are) corrupt management unions who would force membership of employees but were fronts for Management who setup compliant unions operating as Rackets who charged dues to employees they bargained for. Nixon is said to have used Hoffa based unions as Fronts of big business who provided psuedo-unions who would refuse to strike against business, etc., in salary disputes management created in the first place.

Money Laundering

Labor Rackets and Protection Rackets are one way billed money seems legitimate, a service is being provided then paid for. In Labor Rackets that is one form of Money Laundering the usage of services of a business looks clean. In another form of Money Laundering use of sham accounts to access the assets of real accounts and thus confusing accounts is another form of Money Laundering.

What is a Flim-Flam person? : a criminal who steals money from people by tricking them : con man. He lost all his money to a flimflam artist/man.

What is the origin of the word Flim-Flam? Flimflam may possibly be based on a Scandinavian word, e.g., Old Norse flim “a lampoon, mockery.” Flimflam entered English in the 16th century as a noun meaning “idle talk, nonsense; a cheap deception.” The verb sense “to cheat, swindle,” originally an Americanism, arose in the late 19th century.

Black Budgets A black budget or covert appropriation is a government budget that is allocated for classified or other secret operations of a nation. The black budget is an account expenses and spending related to military research and covert operations. The black budget is mostly classified because of security reasons.

Racketeering Money Laundering and Rackets often use misappropriated or illegal proceeds to fund operations and often have little oversight or insufficient oversight to detect fraud because of the lack of transparency of duplicitous agents or agencies tied to the black budgets.

- Rackets do not have customers rather they have crime victims the racket extorts to hire them.

  - Education Racket

Create themselves as a Developmental Retardation Condition and then provide billed Education Services to those who live under the Retardation condition.

- Money Laundering By Confusion of Accounts and Money Laundering by solving probelms that don't exist I am not the person who needs or is requesting remediation. In Identity Theft that is part also part of Money Laundering my identity is being used to receive services I don't require but some other person does need and uses my identity to get those services for themselves.

Racketeering Influenced Crimial Organizations

Cartels, Trusts, Syndicates that operate in a Criminal Enterprise

Criminal Syndicalism

Criminal syndicalism has been defined as a doctrine of criminal acts for political, industrial, and social change. These criminal acts include advocation of crime, sabotage, violence, and other unlawful methods of terrorism. Criminal syndicalism laws were enacted to oppose economic radicalism. Wikipedia

Whitney v. California, 274 U.S. 357, was a United States Supreme Court decision upholding the conviction of an individual who had engaged in speech that raised a threat to society. Whitney was explicitly overruled by Brandenburg v. Ohio in 1969

Holmes and Brandeis in Dissent. As Robber Barrons and large corporate trusts took control of the United States Holmes and Brandeis frequently dissented from the business supporting court majority. In the case of Socialist preparatory grade-school case the Dissenters argued free speech teaching an agenda of Socialist theory as a goal to be obtained democratically was not an illegal syndicate forming for criminal activity. The Dissent effectively became law when a Klan rally advocating readiness for crisis of oppression did not constitute an imminent threat against existing government.

Funding Latin American CIA activities with secretive arms sales to Iran bypassing Congress and Oversight

With the help of Israel, deliveries of U.S. weapons to Iran began in August 1985. By the end of October 1986, Iran had received more than 2,000 TOW anti-tank missiles as well as spare parts for HAWK antiaircraft missiles. The results of these arms shipments were disappointing. Hezbollah released three U.S. hostages - Rev. Lawrence Jenco, a Catholic priest; Rev. Benjamin Weir, a Presbyterian missionary; and David Jacobsen, a hospital administrator - but seized three more. At the end of 1986, seven Americans remained in captivity.

The Reagan administration also aided the Contras, a counter-revolutionary organization that fought against the leftist Sandinista government in Nicaragua. Reagan worried that the Sandinistas, a revolutionary group that received support from Cuba and the Soviet Union and seized power in Nicaragua in 1979, threatened to spread communism in Central America. In December 1981, he authorized the Central Intelligence Agency (CIA) to provide covert training and assistance to Contra forces, who waged guerrilla war against the Sandinista government and its supporters. This U.S. aid was supposed to be secret, and its purported goal was to pressure the Nicaraguan government to halt its assistance to leftist insurgents in El Salvador. The secret did not last. Front-page newspaper articles and magazine cover stories exposed the U.S. role in the Nicaraguan war and showed that the Contras' goal was to topple the Sandinista government. The result was congressional passage in December 1982 of an amendment, sponsored by Rep. Edward Boland (D-MA), to a defense spending bill that prohibited the use of U.S. funds "for the purpose of overthrowing the government of Nicaragua."

In his own words, a Targeted Individual (TI) exposes his tormented life and the heartless, sadistic and invasive methods used covertly to undermine his credibility, cause illness and excruciating pain, ruin him financially, tear apart his family, drive him mad and lead him to consider suicide. This dramatic and cautionary tale may seem extreme and far-fetched, but thousands of other Targeted Individuals throughout the world are suffering in silence right now. A criticism of Austin Government including Austin Public Library

Much of the time I did use the APL I had to sit near cement pilings as 50 or more type harassment attacks occurred per day often made of of swings from homeless people narrowly missing my head, sometimes some level of contact with me or the work table I was using, death threats clearly intended for me and fitting the modus operandi of someone alleges the comments next to me are meant for a cell phone listener when in fact I was the intended death threat recipient other times like with Jen Moore as well the death threats were clear, clearly addressed, and clearly delivered.

Pictured are the backpacks of Mike and Ed where we normally sat and read or worked. I was normally in the chair that is empty in the photo. On one of these days I took a short Reel video of the Spy Novel section right next to us having Tom Clancy and others such as Clive Kussler novels many of those works I have read and my book asserts the former CIA agent of 40 years who said Tom Clancey was killed was correct. On one day I had my notebook computer open on the desk near that empty chair I was usually sitting in and Mike in an intentional staged act fell on top of the laptop and me falling backwards with his laptop on. Somehow the new laptop survide thought the lis was open. Almost before Mike had begun to stand up Jeremuy of security was showing up explaining to me I would being ordered to leave the library. I asserted I was just sitting in the chair dumbfounded and had said or did nothing at all. Jeremy paused for a breif moment and gave up throwing me out of the library for this but it fits the pattern of one of their assets or agents initiating an incident then from the same person in power that recruit the asset will find against me the victim of that asset in a dispute that emerged.

On the matter in he JIT Survey Property, Assets & Inheritance do you believe you and your family have been defrauded, your assets depleted, and you have been driven to homeless to silence you? A. Yes.

Mr Donegan have you recently looked up Opposite, Hypotenuse, and Adjacent on the internet and did it seem familiar to you? A. Yes. In the diagram I saw the Opposite was like a flag pole straight up as a one of three sides of a right angle triangle. 90 degrees from the base of the flagpole (the opposite side) were the Hypotenuse and Adjacent sides, the adjacent being at the right angle to the Opposite side that is straight up and at 90 degrees from that adjacent side.

Mr. Donegan are you familiar with the Four Hats story that is real and the Miami Vice TV Series based on that story? Do you a model or metaphor in this? A. Yes, police become adjacent to the criminals by catching them. The police are opposite the the criminals who are the (now) adjacent and the Hypotenuse who are also criminals. The Police seized the now adjacent assets and go undercover to catch the criminals at the Hypotenuse.

Q. Is that what you see here? A. No, but others do. What I see is the Criminals are the Opposite and they seize law abiding Adjacent assets (mine) to pruriently or politically gain access to other non criminals at the Hypotenuse.

Q. Would some view this a cultural favor to the Hypotenuse if it prevents you in that law abiding preemption activity, you being preempted.? A. Yes. For racial reasons is what I have been told by some and that is a political liability I have thus some are encouraged to harass and defraud me in defaming and unjust ways.

Q. Have you bee mostly kind and lobbied for gay rights and Hispanics and the Americas? A. Yes. Q. Have you been kind to and lobbied for Black Lives Matter and causes like that? A. [Mr. Donegan seems to have a muscle spasm and pain of some type. His hand goes behind his back for a moment near the muscles of his lower back near the spine.] A. I don't recall.

Confirmation of her death occurred at approximately 8:00 p.m. local time (1:00 a.m. Eastern time The plane crash occurred about a half-mile off shore of the north shore of Molokai, shortly after taking off from Kalaupapa, Emergency officials responding to the crash site reported seeing eight people floating in the water wearing life vests.).

According to initial news reports, Fuddy was one of eight other people, including the pilot, in the plane and the only person to succumb to her injuries. Based on reports from EMS sources, three survivors were taken to Oahu, three to Molokai General Hospital and two members of the plane’s party declined treatment.

Criminal Syndicalism and Continuing Criminal Enterprises are a financial center and espionage center of CIA actions world-wide often conducted through CIA controlled or influenced assets like BBRDW, BCCI, Sun Trust, Deuche, University Bank of Fullerton, or others. CIA activities take money and laundering and providing that money was part of Watergate and most other covert-actions scandals.

Criminal Syndicalism is the black-box operation of Felon Stalks, operations that are illegal black-opps but sufficiently manned as to under-cover operative head-count and cooperating officials that detection of the crime (which utilizes intermediaries operated by government officials) that the operation can be denied even at the scene it is occurring at with planted operation supporting narratives serving the needs of the operation staging events. A group of con artists will confront and demand payments for what the real Edward Donegan is alleged to have done. I have not but they use an impersonator to forge a confession they then match with the photos they have of my that they used actors to seem to incriminate me with.

Security at Austin Central Public Library. The narrative is that I am a civil rights threat to minors and gays. It is a lie, but one that could lead to both expulsion of me and a protection racket profiteering on those allegations.

No greater duty of the citizen owned gun exist than protection the home and for those with no gun the library. Criminal harassment of these locations is a threat even if my books are wrong in their assertions the writing of all books must be protected if the writing of any one book is to be protected. I called out for gun owners to defend me and my PC in library from attacks being conducted by these people.

Criminal Syndicalism is what I have asserted and still assert of activity at Falk Library and its replacement 300 Cesar Chavez. A Long Con of staged events defaming me producing money laundering and fraud violations of the Organize Crime bill the Rico Act. These Criminal Syndicate members use physical threats to my life, destruction of computer equipemnt, toddles to trip me as I walk to the printing machine or bang on the table as I write my book, etc., What are staged or not meraly made to look like an offender preying upon others, the black budge criminal syndicate also uses imperosoantes and planted evidence to take my normal activites and embelisgh them into illegal acts they can sue the trust fund over, avoiding real trial by using a con artist impersonator of me to make stipilations of guilt in the legal system under these peoples control. Competition to my assets (of all kinds) including my book as my property are part of this sindcate and their conspiracy to my being its author and unfettered library access.

I took the video this screen shot is taken from because I found it a it ironic we were sitting there as I was writing about racket making me appear (in con artit language) a Gull, a gullible (or grape waiting to get squeezed in used car dealer talk) for an allegation in this case allegations staged that smeared rather than correctly represents my character. The smear campaign also misrepresented in a very intentioal way how I was utilzng the library. I was using it for its intended purpose and that it what corrupt library staff feared.

The operation plays to public fears about right wingers being terrorist as police covertly instigate COINTEL abuse like planting evidence of weapons purchases, methamphetamine usage, child exploitation, and other explosive dissinformation bulling the target of the program; here in this case, myself Edward Paul Donegan. The faking then funding the fake politically driven smear and pillory of my usage of gyms, apartments, and libraries, have the desired result of the covert harassers succeeding denying any role in cutting power to may apartment, use of neighbors planted in the building to threaten my life and beat loudly on the walls all night long and sometimes for 48 or more hours straight, or other noise campaign techniques. Criminal impersonations and money laundering are norm for the operation in the most repugnat criminal schemes ever underataken far worse than Mayor Daily's Chicago of alcohol black-marketing and the mob wars fought then or with Ray Rayn and the CIA' activities in Palm Springs or Iran Contra and drug running or smuggling at Middle East North Africa (MENA) that left in totality 90 dead witness or so the most well known of them Don Henry and Kevin Ives.

They are in the begging of this book The Great Treason and part the Super-Conpsiracy theories about the CIA and cover flights along the Third Coast, Texas Gulf by contractor CIA pilots from locations like Lakefront New Orleans of the other airports all CIA pilots name before exaclty those CIA pilots are found dead, Phillip Marshall, Gene "Chip" Tatum (tortured for months before he died and found with no face,) Barry Seal (who my father and mother seemed to know) or David Ferrie or Lee Harvey Oswald all CIA pilots many from the Civil Air Patrol. Chauncey Marvin Holt was among many others who on his deathbed told the same story as E. Howard Hunt of what all this flying was all bout that Col PRoiuty helped Lansdale and other with.

My brother was connected at the Whitehouse level to Nazi hunting, naming me as one but more mesmeraized by the world he found through me and wanting to research and copy that. Probably being Pizzagate that was setup to use Arlingtoin County Services mental health patiengts bird-doggers to fake selling me Pizza as a money laundering and covert undercover infiltration and disruption operation other County Services of California, Texas, or other states also participate in the deep cover and illegal program Thea Smith my neighor in Arlington County Virginia was part of and my confrontations with her about the fraud costing my life since about 2013 a I continued to deny "ordering pizza." Not only does the fraud play to the fears of the places I rent homes in it plays to the aspirations of Law Enforcemet.. Fascinated by my former Goth and Youtube playlists of Cybergoth the police could not rush faster into those circles to explain how they together, both being old school, could not keep in interloper out IF they worked together from inside the dungeon being run by elite models.

There are names for this kind of thing like High Value Targets the FBI or others have a special interest in, and far left wing swinger set adult entertainer females are happy to purge the right wing with faked allegations. The smear of me and the impersonator of me who is a gullible loser who does all the wrong things is what the cops need to point to as an evil IF they are to point to themselves as the guard against that loser. Again there aer some white women who like the white identitariansm and while I have tried to keep most of that fairly far out fro unrelated dating interests protection Nazim by portraying me as the threat to Stormfront that insiders at Stormfront can moderate out (on in person on the streets) has been another CIA FBI infiltration system. I remain and individualist including at all places like Stormfront. Any society (as the old joke goes) that is willing to accept me as a white supremacist I wouldn't be willing to join. Their standards are too low. I don't believe in ideals. Just people.

The factor of trying to coopt basic Kennedy assassination research by the security team at the library or my culturallly and AI and tech and a 21st Century Goth or Cybergoth and liberalism is being coopted as a high value system that libraries desired to abusively coopt from me. Supporting free speech by attacking speech in others is service to self, not service to the principle of free speech or the purpose of liberalism in society.

In addition to felony racketeering the "partners" in the program have used criminal elements including at risk mental patients who themselves becoming whistle-blowers (Bobby Courtney talking about Mexican Mafia criminal elements gaining control of Corpus Christi law enforcement) were found dead as were other whistle-blowers with full knowledge of the frauds of the operation and motive for the smear campaign, taking advantage of my odd-ball politics to create a lynch mob driving me from safety and safe housing and safe library usage. Live Long Free of Diabetes of violent attacks upon and Prosper in your book writing about the criminals in the White House, FBI, CIA, and elsewhere is something I would like to hear but have not heard.

For-profit Democracy Partners (DP)

Democracy Partners (DP) is a political consulting firm founded in 2011 by Robert Creamer, a longtime liberal campaign operative married to U.S. Rep. Jan Schakowsky (D-IL) who was convicted in 2005 of bank fraud; and Mike Lux, a former Clinton White House aide.

The firm lists 28 other partners who boast backgrounds in Democratic Party politics and liberal activism. DP partners include feminist activist Heather Booth, former USAction president Khalid Pitts, Obama administration State Department official Joel Rubin, Democratic Party operative A'shanti Gholar, and labor union political strategist Ken Grossinger.

In 2016, a sting video by the center-right investigative journalist group Project Veritas caught Creamer and Scott Foval, a contractor for Democracy Partners, detailing political dirty tricks they organized including attempting to incite violence at rallies for Republican presidential nominee Donald Trump. - https://www.influencewatch.org/for-profit/democracy-partners/

The deep cover operations seem to follow Community Stalk racketeering. Staged events clearly not true in the library, stores, in apartment buildings, parks, etc., use Shills to act as crime victims. The crimes their conduct labels me with are drug use and drug paraphernalia, use of gyms to seek the sight of female parts as they called them, alleged violation of other people's privacy by surreptitious filming, etc., and in all cases that is wrong and to the contrary of who I am whether they not that is to the contrary of who I am or not may vary, but in all cases the events are staged not real. The public will believe what it sees with its own eyes just like they will believe what they hear, but often it is from an impersonator of me, out of context, a lie, or some other kind of dirty trick to get people to believe what is not true.

I have pointed out that impersonation is not a crime but Identity Theft is. Their is a financial crime in identity theft. Not in playing George Washington is school play. Similarly staged events are not playhouse if they are foundation work racketeering false payouts to shill victims. The security has openly told me they intend to interfere with my use of the library and they will or have taken possesion of me book and they have led several acts of phsical acts of violence by homeless people in furtherance of that.

It is not unusual for high ranking DHS, FBI, or others to plant evidence for political smear, but Criminal Syncicalism takes it even further in black opps as organized crime.

Not much of a fan or Deputies when they fail to transport you to hearings. That lead to a psychiatric conviction, and the longer dispute with these police groups are it was meth pipe, political name calling, and attacks by thugs in their uniforms and street people they direct who have attacked, discredited, and harassed and violate my housing and other basic rights. I would never live in Texas without a gun to keep people like Travis Sheriffs from planting evidence, conducting break ins, et.,

Quakery is listed as one of the core fraud tecniques. Here it asserts I have a fixation or perversion with stalking teens and am delusional that allegations of stalking them are being faked, my allegations are said to be unfouned and part of my agression and mental illness.

I have found attacks on my computers and persons while in the library are politically motivated and connected to a Protection Racket that alleges by staged events I am threat that needs to be patrolled against. Part of that is based on demands for payments into the protection racket that uses Identity Theft to link me to what I am not linked to but it looks like I am linked to. These people are part of that operation. I have been asserting that in trying to sue in court over that for more than 8 years and this goes back to the Falk library as well.

> AUSTIN, Texas - The Austin Public Library (APL) is working with the city of Austin and the Travis County Sheriff's Office (TCSO) to make library branches safer.
> This week, the Austin City Council approved an agreement that would provide $40,000 for TCSO deputies to use their vehicles while patrolling the libraries.

Currently, in addition to APL's 37-member security staff, APL has consistently had one TCSO deputy working off-duty to patrol the Central Library location downtown.

Library staff said they brought on the deputy in response to incidents at the library increasing over the past few years.

"We've seen kind of an across the board increase in library use violations," Baylor Johnson, the public information officer and marketing manager for APL, said.

Johnson said library violations can range anywhere from something less serious like eating in a prohibited area, all the way up to criminal activity like vandalism and drug use.

Because the library is a public space that many people use, including people experiencing homelessness using branches as a cooling center in the summer, that creates some challenges.

"Libraries are such public spaces that are really welcoming to everyone," Johnson said. "In a lot of ways, library staff have to be on the front lines for some of the issues that affect a large and growing city like Austin; things like mental health, substance abuse."

The city's resolution mentioned other issues library staff have been experiencing lately. An excerpt from that resolution reads in part:

The nature of these incidents has grown increasingly worse, including the destruction of property, threats, violence (physical attacks against employees and customers), weapons, theft, and the possession and/or use of drugs or alcohol, which has led to the need for increased safety and security measures.

"When we get to, you know, the criminal activity, the vandalism, the drug use that requires a law enforcement response, and that's just a little bit beyond what we have to ask or should be asking library staff to respond to," Johnson said.

TCSO told KVUE there are four positions deputies can sign up for to work off-duty shifts for the Central Library downtown, but there's only one deputy who does it consistently. Johnson said just having that one extra presence has already been helpful though.

"Austin Public Library employs a really great staff of three dozen security professionals, but they're not law enforcement officers," Johnson said. "Having Travis County Sheriff's officers on site really makes sure that we're able to respond at the appropriate level quickly."

Johnson said TCSO deputies can help prevent dangerous situations from occurring, as well as respond more quickly when they do because they are already on site.

KVUE asked library staff if they wanted to add more TCSO deputies to patrol. They said it's something they'll keep looking at as they keep monitoring the results.

"We're going to look at the impact of, you know, what happens as we sort of expand the agreement that we already have and see if this is something that we want to expand further," Johnson said.

What happens if a person in a library throws a punch? That person is probably led out in handcuffs and also > not allowed to return. What happens if a writer throws a punch in library? Same thing. And they rely on that seeking a punch and have told me that,, that they will find some way to get rid of mr.

At times like in the past I am made to look like a predator of females and how they are dressed. I approached the library to show that it was all fake and had been in the past too but they were neither sensitive to that nor to that fact I was asserting I was writing about public officials. Yet they were aware of that and like other attacks the attacks in the library like the break-ins to my home and the fights being provoked are closely tied to the contents and pr ogres of my books.

There is a Stark Trek TNG episode called Drumhead I apply to the situation I am in and my mother and father were in. As a long-term constitutional law advocate and writer I was familiar with Drumhead trial known for being a rush to judgment in today' language. In the fields of military warfare a drum us turned upside down and it because the desk and gavel platform of an improvised court. Railroads were easy.

I have noted that a smear campaign that asks others to ostracize me and retaliate against me are from mobs listening to the call of the Drumhead sound as rumors fly around about alleged negative conduct by me. In fact those allegations are being funded as fake victims of my diseased and small mind are paid restitution and lessons are provided to member of the criminal conspiracy about how to become sophisticated and elite.

What we see unfold in the TNG episode Drumhead is that Picard will show a wrongheaded prosecution is merely on a witch hunt hoping for power and glory. I believe that is true with me and the smear merchants smearing me hope to build themselves up and knock me down to achieve their political power while destroying me, and that includes targeting me because of my family history tied to the Kennedy Assassination.

Several great video-workups of that episode are on YouTube and packing inside this book I placed a copy of one of them. It is from the Dave Cullen Show as on Youtube. The impersonator who leaves a bad reputation and "legend" about me, legendary acts incorrectly linked to me, as an image painted onto me does not reflect who I am. At Drumheads like ex-parte proceedings, office gossip circles, and police chatter about a person they are smearing, the damage is real to the person smeared, myself and often others.

The smear job I am documenting is motivated neither for political reasons nor the protection of children reasons. Both (the allegations I am a of a terrorist beleif system or a pedophile) are far from reality and ar the excuses made by a social control power structure of elites covering up the JFK assassination string of events with fabricated and destructive allegations against me as I try to document my allegations about the FBI, CIA, and others.

Who is the bottom feeder? A homeless person who hopes for a peek from revealing clothing on a teen or person in the gym?

Or a person who frames a homeless person as doing that so the homeless person who is not believed can be defrauded of his assets?

A Protection Racket run as an Organized Stalk or "Targeting" of individuals is bottom feeding off of me and my trust fund. These are black budget type covert operations frequently denied by agencies that conduct them who with a criminal intent smear, frame, defraud, burgle, threaten, and harass those whose lives run afoul of the interests of top US officials in some way. I asset in addition to the criminal activity I have been subjected to several homicides are tied to this protection racket. One is Jen Moore another is Veronica Hoffman. Tom Dunham a friend from San Francisco also linked to these other people and my life has also been harassed.

I continue to believe desperate elites in the USA with control of the FBI, CIA, and other agencies are trying to silence JFK assassination witnesses including via illegal covert sabotage operations.

Libraries hold expressive works in the Humanities. Perhaps paintings, books on paintings, film, other recordings and books. Expression is important. Censorship undermines that. It is not uncommon that a government may harass and censor (and even justify doing so) certain points of view. I consider the US Government a threat. Part of support of that premise has been Conspiracy Against My Rights and both in the legal system and i pulic libraries and public places. They government does not like hearing they are viewed as a threat but recognition censorship and the danger of a government involved in illegal conduct is part of the job of the first amendment.

“[Those who won our independence] recognized the risks to which all human institutions are subject. But they knew that order cannot be secured merely through punishment for its infraction; that it is hazardous to discourage thought, hope and imagination; that fear breeds repression; that repression breeds hate; that hate menaces stable government; that the path to safety lies in the opportunity to discuss freely supposed grievances and proposed remedies; and that the fitting remedy for evil counsels is good ones …

Fear of serious injury cannot alone justify suppression of free speech and assembly. Men fear witches and burned women. It is the function of free speech to free men from bondage of irrational fears …

Those who won our independence by revolution were not cowards. They did not fear political change. They did not exalt order at the cost of liberty. To courageous, self-reliant men, with confidence in the power of free and fearless reasoning applied through the processes of popular government, no danger flowing from speech can be deemed clear and present, unless the incidence of the evil apprehended is so imminent that it may befall before there is opportunity for full discussion."

I have been asked by others if I carry a gun or knife. No, I do not intend any use of force and none could defeat what I believe is a corrupt government. I believe in Persasion over Force and I seek to inform people of my views the Government is not to be trusted and a low-grade war between journalists (on the loosing end) and illegal governmetn acts (on the winning end) may still be in operaion and those like me cite the deaths of Micehal Hastings and others as cause for worry.

Dupes of a sham investigation might believe they are part of a defense of the community and participate with the sham investigation that raises politically motivated quickly dissmissable questions about a person (myself) even though there is a cumulative affect of the allegations and the "track record" of those allegations being believed in public and private affairs.

My efforts revolve around clearing my name and identifying the reason false allegations are being theatrically staged.

Kid Pro Quo

When the State needs an excuse against a person "with no profession" one can be created.

The allegations of child abuse (me abusing them) are reactionary and overtly contentious, reactions to my allegations about government officials and vary in intensity as my work is more specific in detail or names of officilas, or my work is being transmitted out to others.

In Latin, quid pro quo literally means “something for something, this for that,” and is “an action or thing that is exchanged for another action or thing of more or less equal value

In violation of many Constitutional Rights especially those enumerated in the Bill of Rights my writing is subjected to Kid Pro Quo.

Every were I go I am subjected of Black Propaganda (smear campaign) I am in a child porn exploitation scheme) and that vilifies me, distracts me, offends me, and leads to my eviction from locations (including jobs and family being destroyed or lost) and the those allegations are used to destroy my writing about the Government.

Attempts to accuse the Government of this is called Paranoia resulting in psych ward commitments.

The system of abuse is called a Noise Campaign of hostile environments.

It isn't just harassment of me as I write.

TWO BANKS, BLENDED SCANDAL

Two great international banking scandals, known by the initials BNL and BCCI, hang over the Washington landscape. It's now clear that the two are connected. What's not clear is the motive for the conspiracy that tied them together.

BNL, the Banca Nazionale del Lavoro, is the Italian government-owned bank that was lending heavily to Iraq through its Atlanta branch until the FBI raided it three years ago.

BCCI, the Bank of Credit and Commerce International, was a very different operation -- essentially a criminal enterprise on a worldwide scale, embezzling depositors' money, bribing public officials lavishly in many countries and, among other things, laundering drug money.

Austin Public Library System is to Libraries what BCCI was to Banking and is tied into covert money laundering and other illegal COINTELPRO activities.

Starting at Faulk library watching the types of activities surrounding me in San Francisco CA (police in uniform and out point rifles at me, dry firing pistols on the street, pushing psychiatric driving me from location to location, to hysterical outcry from one phone call or talk with a psychiatrist to another, the Noise Campaign I always believed contained real hopes for an accident of dueling accident from provocation or from ineffective measure against the Stalk.

Use of gang members was constant, that which police draw upon, but uniformed police and uniformed gov workers were the ones controlling the gangs.

Many of these gang members are armed felons (something I used complain about in Virginia, planted armed felons attacking me AND ARMED BY THE POLICE TO DO SO!!

I had seen so much before this I knew recruits inside these organizations were a threat and just hoped keep a basic assertion of my rights in place as violent attacks on me and Disrupt noises were launched, etc.,

I have wanted a prosecuting attorney to bring death penalty cases against Austin Public Library works and officials as most Stalk victims who assert Conspiracy Against Rights Title 18 USC 241, 242, 246 combinations of public and private actors often connected to religious abuse, organ trafficking or biolocal research abuse (including reproductive organ tissue brothels trafficked in adult entertainer operations or use of stressors reactions stimuli victims as most of the "Targeted" community seeks, being abusive treatment victims of Government operations.

But I have also been specific about conspiracy against my First Amendment rights. As the Free Exercise of Religion occurs in Church reading and writing of Books occurs in the Library. I quote Ted Gunderson on GangStalking and how he refers "techniques used to silence critics" and disrupt reporters, etc., much like himself. The Library likely calling its activities "preemption" tell others I am "just her to look" at those teens around me or usign the rest room. It is an abusive treatment and characterization of me I say erodes and by intensely abusive conduct towards me is meant to stop my library usage effectiveness. People bump my table as I write, shout screeching children as I write, fake my pursing teens when I am a mark for them to make look bad, all of which I continue to tell the library are parts of attempt to silence the work product I am attempting.

When I bought my notebook PC an attack from a thug outside the library nearly blinded me in one eye. The next day or two later a Confidential Informant working for the library with a book bag fell on top of my opened laptop and the laptop survived. Next library security informed me I was being evicted from the library and I asserted I had done nothing but be the victim who did NOT respond and that held for them.

Others make coffee. I used a warmer pad for an infection I had. I was told they were going to finally get rid of me and I noticed some other device with a camera was right near where my warmer had been plugged in.

The library has orders to interfere with my usage of the library and find a way via stalking me I can be kicked out, either for fights with Stalkers who are police backed, fights with police for placing the Stalkers, or from the false allegations against me the stalkers are acting out.

I think they think they are more than preempting an accused pedophile, if they believe that it is still not their main issue. I think both defraud and harassing my works on my books and other parts of my life, destroying my path forward and conspiring against me and my literary property, are the real goal, and the Stalk is meant to be destructive to my ends using this to replace the office I had in my home previously.

I find them all putzes who view me as a mark they can attack leave me as victim, what they desire to do.

The ignoring of my real usage of the library and calculated smear both defraud me and cripple my book writing attempts at the same time.

Fahrenheit 451 retrieved from Wikipedia and copied or modified to here

Fahrenheit 451 is a 1953 dystopian novel by American writer Ray Bradbury.[4] It presents an American society where books have been personified and outlawed and "firemen" burn any that are found.[5] The novel follows in the viewpoint of Guy Montag, a fireman who soon becomes disillusioned with his role of censoring literature and destroying knowledge, eventually quitting his job and committing himself to the preservation of literary and cultural writings.

Fahrenheit 451 was written by Bradbury during the Second Red Scare and the McCarthy era, inspired by the book burnings in Nazi Germany and by ideological repression in the Soviet Union.[6] Bradbury's claimed motivation for writing the novel has changed multiple times. In a 1956 radio interview, Bradbury said that he wrote the book because of his concerns about the threat of burning books in the United States.[7] In later years, he described the book as a commentary on how mass media reduces interest in reading literature.[8] In a 1994 interview, Bradbury cited political correctness as an allegory for the censorship in the book, calling it "the real enemy these days" and labelling it as "thought control and freedom of speech control."

This is the only police car in the city of three million. It asks Leonard his name, profession, and what he's doing.

His profession of writing is changed by the police to no profession because people don't read anymore. Everyone watches TV.

He's asked why he's walking, his address if he has an air conditioner and a viewing screen, if he's married, and how often he takes walks. He answers all the questions.

The back door of the car opens, and Leonard is ordered to get in. He protests, saying he's done nothing wrong. He looks into the back of the car. It's a clean, metallic little cell.

He's told he's being taken to a psychiatric facility. He gets in. The car drives by his house, the only one lit up in the whole city. It drives him away.

"The Pedestrian" is a science fiction short story by American writer Ray Bradbury. This story was originally published in the August 7, 1951 issue of The Reporter by

The Fortnightly Publishing Company. It is included in the collection The Golden Apples of the Sun (1953), but was dropped from later editions of this collection (1990 and 1997).

Summary

The story features Leonard Mead, a citizen of a television-centered world in November of A.D. 2053. In the city the sidewalks have fallen into decay. Mead enjoys walking through the city at night, something which no one else does. "In ten years of walking by night or day, for thousands of miles, he had never met another person walking, not one in all that time."

On one of his usual walks, he encounters a police car, which is robotic. It is the only police unit in a city of three million as the purpose of law enforcement has disappeared with everyone watching television at night.

When asked about his profession Mead tells the car that he is a writer, which the car interprets as "no profession" since no one buys books or magazines in the television-dominated society.

The police car, which is revealed to have no occupants, cannot understand why Mead would be out walking for no reason, and so it decides to take him to the Psychiatric Center for Research on Regressive Tendencies. As the car passes through his neighborhood, Mead, locked in the confines of the back seat says, "That's my house," as he points to a warm and bright house with all its lights on, unlike all the other houses. There is no reply, and the story concludes.

Background

The address of the main character, Leonard Mead, happens to be the address of the house in which Bradbury grew up. This has caused speculation that this short story is actually referring to himself, or is in some related way a message to his home town of Waukegan, Illinois.

The 60th anniversary of Fahrenheit 451 contains the short piece "The Story of Fahrenheit 451" by Jonathan R. Eller. In it, Eller writes that Bradbury's inspiration for the story came when he was walking down Wilshire Boulevard in Los Angeles with a friend in late 1949. On their walk, a police cruiser pulled up and asked what they were doing. Bradbury answered, "Well, we're putting one foot in front of the other." The policemen did not appreciate Ray's joke and became suspicious of Bradbury and his friend for walking in an area where there were no pedestrians. Inspired by this experience, he wrote "The Pedestrian", which he sent to his New York agent Don Congdon in March 1950. According to Eller, "[the story's] composition in the early months of 1950 predates Bradbury's conception of 'The Fireman,'" the short novella that would later evolve into Fahrenheit 451. In Fahrenheit 451, Leonard's character can be considered similar to that of Clarisse McClellan's uncle, who tells of a similar story repeated by her niece to Montag.

Adaptations

The story was adapted for radio and broadcast on the CBC program Theatre 10:30 (1968-71).

The story was made into an episode of The Ray Bradbury Theater, starring David Ogden Stiers as Leonard Mead.

1. ^ This is the year given in the original The Reporter version, as well as in the 2006 Match to Flame anthology. The time settings 2052 and 2053 have also been used, which at times has created an internal contradiction with the year given in the "last year's election" sentence later in the story when it was not adjusted as necessary.

President George W. Bush Apri 23, 2003

Washington, DC 20500
Dear President Bush

I firmly believe that most individuals working in the F.B.I., other intelligence agencies, and the government overall are honest, law-abiding public servants. However, a sophisticated network of rogue operatives has secretly infiltrated the F.B.I,, other intelligence agencies including the C.I.A, and other key government positions.

This rogue element seeks personal power and wealth and considers themselves above the law and the Constitution. They are carrying out the aforementioned surveillance and harassment activities in conjunction with organized crime, the cult movement in America including Satanic cults, other commercial and political interests, and even misguided civic organizations and neighborhood groups.

This illegal surveillance and harassment program is being called gang stalking and organized stalking by the victims targeted by it.

The victims are targeted for a variety of reasons including government and corporate whistle blowers, parties to financial and employment disputes, parties to marital disputes (usually divorced women), and even jilted paramours. Journalists covering controversial issues, and, even attorneys and private investigators representing unpopular clients or interests, have been targeted by this program.

In addition to high-ranking members of the F.B.I., other intelligence services, and the government overall, wealthy, powerful members of criminal syndicates, multi-millionaires and the corporate elite are using the government gang stalking program to harass enemies.

They can get a targeted individual harassed for the rest of that individual's life (individual cases of gang stalking lasting for over a decade are common).

Individuals targeted by this program have been subjected to illegal and unconstitutional phone taps, illegal re-routing of business and private phone calls for purposes of harassment, illegal audio “bugging”, surreptitious entry into home, office, and vehicle, visual surveillance in the home conducted by illegal placement of miniature remote, wireless cameras (often accessible via internet), illegal internet spyware, illegal GPS tracking (often through their own mobile phones), regular fixed and mobile surveillance, mail misdirection, mail theft and tampering, financial and employment sabotage, slander campaigns and community ostracizing , internet disinformation and smear campaigns, poisoning, assaults and murder, illegal set-ups on ding charges and other felony charges, amongst many other civil rights abuses.

The higher status members of the gang stalking conspiracy initiate the gang stalking and coordinate logistics and funding. Lower echelon government rogue operatives, lower ranking members of the military (in violation of Posse Comitatus), petty criminals and street thugs perform the actual grunt work of daily monitoring and harassment of individuals targeted by the program.

No Ordinary Stalking

Organized stalking is carried out by an enthusiastic and structured group that has cruel intentions: stalk, harass, injure, financially ruin, and mentally crumple human prey until incapacitation occurs. What sets this crime apart is that innocents are picked off the street. There is no getting away from the stalkers and no getting away from the unusual technology that is used to take over someone's life.

"For the first couple of months," says June, "I thought it was a sick game. Now that I've been tormented for years, well, it's clear that organized stalking is a sophisticated crime that follows a step-by-step process to leave the victim as bare and isolated as the dead tree on the cover. He or she may still be standing, but that's about it.

"I'll sum it up this way. Veiled intimidation ensures that targeted individuals are viewed by the public as free people, which they are not. They are playthings to their controllers. Hostages in plain sight. Victims are quite literally owned yet have limited chance of rescue because their desperate circumstances are misunderstood.

Some die from the violence. Some die from suicide. And the rest merely exist."

Organized Stalking is worldwide and is called gang stalking in some areas. The electronic harassment that accompanies organized stalking is also known as covert harassment.

Stasi is German for "Vee Say Vee Didn't Do Nothing"

Just agree with them and move along.

Zersetzung (Decomposition of a person ‘Targeted’ by Espionage Agencies retrieved from Wikipedia and copied or modified to here

The Ministry for State Security (German: Ministerium für Staatssicherheit, German: or State Security Service (Staatssicherheitsdienst, SSD), commonly known as the Stasi was the official state security service of the German Democratic Republic (East Germany, GDR) from 1950 to 1990. It has been described as one of the most effective and repressive intelligence and secret police agencies to have ever existed.

Zersetzung (Decomposition of Targeted persons life by hidden hands)

By the 1970s, the Stasi had decided that the methods of overt persecution that had been employed up to that time, such as arrest and torture, were too crude and obvious. Such forms of oppression were drawing significant international condemnation.

The Stasi perfected the technique of psychological harassment of perceived enemies known as Zersetzung a term borrowed from chemistry which literally means "decomposition".

…the Stasi often used a method which was really diabolic. It was called Zersetzung, and it's described in another guideline. The word is difficult to translate because it means originally "biodegradation". But actually, it's a quite accurate description. The goal was to destroy secretly the self-confidence of people, psychiatric drive them into fights or violent emotions, for example by damaging their reputation, by organizing failures in their work, and by destroying their personal relationships. Considering this, East Germany was a very modern dictatorship. The Stasi didn't try to arrest every dissident. It preferred to paralyze them, and it could do so because it had access to so much personal information and to so many institutions.

Various people are harassed in a manner based upon the specific person being targeted i.e. they were tailored based upon the target's psychology and life situation. Ed Donegan notes Veronica Hoffman was a Jewish artist was driven into a psych ward after being framed in a lark wearing Nazi clothes and being around Alt Right Lyndon Larouche anti Semites association themselves with the proximity of her.

Tactics employed under Zersetzung usually involved the disruption of the victim's private or family life. This often included psychological attacks, such as breaking into their home and subtly manipulating the contents, in a form of gaslighting i.e. moving furniture around, altering the timing of an alarm, removing pictures from walls, or replacing one variety of tea with another etc.

Organized stalking methods were used extensively by communist East Germany's Stasi (state police) as a means of maintaining political control over its citizens. The Stasi referred to the tactics as “Zersetzung” (German for “decomposition” or “corrosion” - a reference to the intended psychological, social, and financial effects upon the targeted victim).

It is why Edward Snowden realizing the NSA level of activities to gain Social Control over the United States of America left the USA later defecting to Russia for his own safety.

Also called "fixers," "plumbers" and other names team of Mission Impossible type operatives undercover sabotage a person, a person's records, reputation, peace of mind, etc.,

"According to Brian Glick, in War at Home, COINTELPRO used a broad array of methods, including:"

1. Infiltration: Agents and informers did not merely spy on political activists. Their main purpose was to discredit and disrupt. Their very presence served to undermine trust and scare off potential supporters. The FBI and police exploited this fear to smear genuine activists as agents.

2. Psychological Warfare From the Outside: The FBI and police used myriad other "dirty tricks" to undermine progressive movements. They planted false media stories and published bogus leaflets and other publications in the name of targeted groups. They forged correspondence, sent anonymous letters, and made anonymous telephone calls. They spread misinformation about meetings and events, set up pseudo movement groups run by government agents, and manipulated or strong-armed parents, employers, landlords, school officials and others to cause trouble for activists.

3. Harassment Through the Legal System: The FBI and police abused the legal system to harass dissidents and make them appear to be criminals. Officers of the law gave perjured testimony and presented fabricated evidence as a pretext for false arrests and wrongful imprisonment. They discriminatorily enforced tax laws and other government regulations and used conspicuous surveillance, ‘investigative’ interviews, and grand jury subpoenas in an effort to intimidate activists and silence their supporters.

4. Extralegal Force and Violence: The FBI and police threatened, instigated, and themselves conducted break-ins, vandalism, assaults, and beatings. The object was to frighten dissidents and disrupt their movements. In the case of radical Black and Puerto Rican activists (and later Native Americans), these attacks-including political assassinations-were so extensive, vicious, and calculated that they can accurately be termed a form of official ‘terrorism.'”.The FBI also conducted "black bag jobs", warrantless surreptitious entries, against the targeted groups and their members. Source: COINTELPRO - Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

>
> At its most extreme dimension, political dissidents have been eliminated outright or sent to prison for the rest of their lives. There are quite a number of individuals who have been handled in that fashion. Many more, however, were "neutralized" by intimidation, harassment, discrediting, snitch jacketing, a whole assortment of authoritarian and illegal tactics.

War at Home by Brian Glick

Excerpted from the South End Press Book by permission of the author.

Government harassment of U.S. political activists clearly exists today, violating our fundamental democratic rights and creating a climate of fear and distrust which undermines our efforts to challenge official policy. Similar attacks on social justice movements came to light during the 1960s. Only years later did we learn that these had been merely the visible tip of an iceberg. Largely hidden at the time was a vast government program to neutralize domestic political opposition through "covert action" (political repression carried out secretly or under the guise of legitimate law enforcement). The 1960s program, coordinated by the FBI under the code name "COINTELPRO," was exposed in the 1970s and supposedly stopped.

But covert operations against domestic dissidents did not end. They have persisted and become an integral part of government activity.

How COINTELPRO Worked

When congressional investigations, political trials, and other traditional legal modes of repression failed to counter the growing movements, and even helped to fuel them, the FBI and police moved outside the law. They resorted to the secret and systematic use of fraud and force to sabotage constitutionally protected political activity.

Their methods ranged far beyond surveillance, amounting to a homefront version of the covert action for which the CIA has become infamous throughout the world.

FBI Headquarters secretly instructed its field offices to propose schemes to "expose, disrupt, misdirect, discredit, or otherwise neutralize" specific individuals and groups.

Close coordination with local police and prosecutors was strongly encouraged.

Other recommended collaborators included friendly news media,business and foundation executives, and university, church, and trade union officials, as well as such "patriotic" organizations as the American Legion.

Final authority rested with FBI Headquarters in Washington, D.C.

Top FBI officials pressed local field offices to step up their activity and demanded regular progress reports.

Agents were directed to maintain full secrecy "such that under no circumstances should the existence of the program be made known outside the Bureau and appropriate within-office security should be afforded to sensitive operations and techniques."

A total of 2,370 officially approved COINTELPRO actions were admitted to the Senate Intelligence Committee, and thousands more have since been uncovered.

911nwo.com Appendix 20. What is Predatory COINTELPRO-MKULTRA Gang Stalking? with recommended reading by ETK

Full article at https://911nwo.com/2023/01/04/what-is-gang-stalking/

Gang stalking [teams of hostile abusive disguised operatives] apparently targets American citizens deemed to be dissidents or whistle-blowers (and perhaps potential dissidents and whistle-blowers), although others might be targeted for other reasons - such as for experimental or training purposes. For perspective, it should be remembered that for two decades the CIA performed secret illegal experiments on U.S. and Canadian citizens (the infamous MK Ultra program). Those experiments included physical and psychological torture.

Although the term “gang stalking” is intentionally misleading, it does have one merit: it is accurate in the sense that the perpetrators - law enforcement agencies, intelligence agencies, and private security thugs - do often function in the manner of criminal gangs.

Although they sometimes conduct their operations under the color of law, many of their activities have neither constitutional nor moral legitimacy. That is true of all of the likely major perpetrators of organized stalking in the U.S.: the FBI, the Department of Homeland Security, U.S. military counterintelligence agencies, state and local Law Enforcement Intelligence Units (LEIUs), and security contractors. All of those groups - and other federal intelligence agencies, such as the CIA and NSA - have well-documented histories of abusing their powers.

Since counterintelligence stalking goes far beyond surveillance - into the realm of psychological terrorism, it is essentially a form of extrajudicial punishment. As such, the harassment is illegal - even when done by the government. It clearly violates the Sixth Amendment of the U.S. Constitution, for example - which guarantees the right to a trial. Such operations also violate similar fundamental rights defined by state constitutions, which people on the right of America’s political spectrum claim to respect. Stalking is also specifically prohibited by the criminal codes of every state in America.

Organized stalking methods were used extensively by communist East Germany’s Stasi (state police) as a means of maintaining political control over its citizens. The Stasi referred to the tactics as “Zersetzung” (German for “decomposition” or “corrosion” - a reference to the intended psychological, social, and financial effects upon the targeted victim).

Although they are illegal in the U.S., the same covert tactics are quietly used by America's local and federal law enforcement and intelligence agencies to suppress dissent, silence whistle-blowers, and get revenge against persons who have angered someone with connections to the public and private agencies involved.

The most well-documented example of such operations was the FBI's infamous Cointelpro (Counter-Intelligence Programs) under the direction of J. Edgar Hoover. Those operations ran from 1956 until 1971 when they were exposed by political activists who broke into an FBI office and obtained secret documents which they handed over to the press.

Reflexive Control from Wikipedia

Reflexive control is control someone has over their opponent's decisions by imposing on them assumptions that change the way they act.

As defined by Soviet scholar V. Lefebvre reflexive control is a process in which one adversary hands over to the other the basis for decision-making. In other words, there is a substitution of motivation factors of the enemy in order to encourage him to take disadvantageous decisions.

Professor G. Smolyan believes that the key point of reflexive control is implicitly forcing a subject to choose a desired result.

Exploiting moral stereotypes of behavior, psychological factors, personal information about the command personnel (biographical data, habits, etc.) reflexive control makes it possible to increase the chances of achieving victory, but it is noted that this tactic requires information about the enemy with a high degree of detail and quality.

- Distraction through a real or perceived threat to one of the enemy's key positions (on the flanks, in the rear, etc.) during preparations for military action,

- overloading through supplying the enemy with large volumes of self-contradictory information,

- paralysis, creating the illusion of pinpointed threats to vital interests or the most vulnerable locations,

- exhaustion, forcing the adversary to expend resources to perform unproductive activities, deception, provoking the enemy to redeploy forces to the threatened area in preparation for military action,

- splitting, forcing the enemy to act against the interests of his allies,

- appeasement, by lowering vigilance and creating the illusion that routine training, regular Kids tours, rather than preparations for offensive actions, are taking place. Umnderhanded acts are designed to be abusive while doing so in under the table ways asserting non hostile actions towards the Stalk victim.

- intimidation, by creating the appearance of invincible superiority,

- provocation, through the imposition of an unfavorable scenario of action,

- suggestion, through the presentation of information material that influences legally, morally, ideologically or in other spheres,

- pressure, through the presentation of information material that discredits the government in the eyes of the population.

Another domestic researcher who attracted interest abroad was Professor F. Chausov, who formulated the following principles of reflexive management:

- principle of purposefulness the process should be goal-oriented, involving the full range of necessary measures of reflexive management,

- principle of actualization - there should be an "updating" of planning, providing a fairly complete picture of the intellectual potential of the command and staff, especially in situations related to the global information space,

- principle of conformity- mutual consistency of goals, place, time and methods of reflexive management must be observed,

- simulation principle one should not forget about forecasting and modeling the actions and states of the opposing side during the execution of reflexive control procedures,

- principle of anticipation - current events must be anticipated and anticipated.

Reflexive Control is a psychological warfare technique that was developed by the Soviet military to influence enemy commanders in their decision-making processes. To promote an understanding of this technique across the U.S. armed services, this article offers a creative approach. And why not? According to this Soviet military doctrine, “[c]ontrol of an opponent’s actions is of a creative character.”

The GANGSTALKERS are, dispatched to commit crimes against the person and property of the Targeted Individual such as breaking and entering the home of the target to commit crimes of theft and property damage. They may be dispatched to commit criminal activity and harm against the person of the Targeted Individual and/or against persons or animals associated with the Targeted Individual such as to “gaslight”, rape, beat, and poison.

WHAT and WHY?:

The GANGSTALKING program can be described as a long term and slow DEATH with the constant life event of psychological and physical attack and torture. During any of the five levels the GANGSTALKING agents have it within their power to take a Targeted Individual out and mark the target for DEATH, and no one will be the wiser that the person was actually murdered by the SECRET push of a button.

A) Definitions:

"Organized Stalking is a well-organized, occult form of covert harassment used against an individual. It is done by large groups of people who systematically & repeatedly harass individuals. This has also been called Cause Stalking, Gang Stalking, Community-based Harassment, Organized Vigilante Stalking, Vengeance Stalking, Terrorist Stalking, Revenge Stalking, Covert Action, State-Sponsored Harassment, Microwave Harassment, Microwave Mind- Control, etc. All of these labels explain the same basic phenomenon." (Rich, State-Sponsored Terror Campaigns: The Hidden Evil",pg. 28-29).

"Mobbing, also referred to by some as bullying, psychological terrorism, and organizational violence is described as a collective form of psychological violence in which many individuals unite to persecute an individual Mobbing is a way of destroying a person without using any physical means Degrading themes are often used to try to prevent people from coming forward." "Operations [are] designed to intimidate and destabilise [targeted individuals, 'Tls' for short] by subjecting them to repeated disappointment, and to socially alienate them by interfering with and disrupting their relationships with others as in social undermining. The aim was to induce personal crises in victims, leaving them too unnerved and psychologically distressed to have the time and energy for anti-government activism. " (zersetzung, pg. 1)

Organized harassment is a form of "Fourth Generation Warfare- is a form of political/information warfare waged against civilians by a state or other entity. In statistics, bivariate data is data on each of two variables, where each value of one of the variables is paired with a value of the other variable. Typically it would be of interest to investigate the possible association between the two variables. - Wikipedia

Stalkers are used to Evoke violent and strong emotions to instigate fights, conflicts, and disrupt the psyche of a Stalk victim.

As Stalk victim hearing what Stalkers say (Jen Moore on how Stalkers try to cripple the mind of a person by evoking strong negative emotions, fears, anger, trauma) and how Stalkers fall back on the alibi no person was touched during the Stalk while ignoring the fact things like sexual assaults, death threats, terrorist threats, and faked crime scenes used to obstruct justice are crimes.

The Stalker will assert "If I touched you I provoked a fight, pro-actively causing it. If you attacked me because you do not like me or what I am doing you provoked the fight and I only evoked it. YOU ACTED ON YOUR FEELINGS.

Summary - Evoke vs Provoke https://www.differencebetween.com/difference-between-evoke-and-vs-provoke/Evoke and provoke both refer to a stimulation of an emotion or feeling. However, provoke typically refers to the stimulation of a strong and unwelcome emotion or reaction such as anger or resentment. Evoke, on the other hand, is used with both negative and positive emotions, i.e., it can be used in relation to pleasant or unpleasant emotions or memories. In addition, evoke tends to be a spontaneous action whereas provoke can be the result of a deliberate action. This is the difference between evoke and provoke.

- intimidation, by creating the appearance of invincible superiority,

- provocation, through the imposition of an unfavorable scenario of action. Underhanded concealed acts using alibis.

Definitions of COINTELRPO Gangs of Bird Dogging Stalker from Eric T. Karlson

“Gang Stalking” is, very likely, a disinformation term created by U.S. intelligence agencies. It refers to the intense, long-term, unconstitutional surveillance and harassment of a person who has been designated as a target by someone associated with America’s security industry.

Such operations have nothing to do with criminal gangs. Official domestic counterintelligence operations of this type are - apparently - perpetrated by federal agents and contractors, sometimes with the support of state and local law enforcement personnel. The goal of such operations - in the parlance of counterintelligence agents - is to “subvert” or “neutralize” an individual deemed to be an enemy (or potential enemy) of clients or members of the security state. Arguably, the most accurate term for this form of harassment would be “counterintelligence stalking.”

Published news reports and other evidence cited on this website seem to suggest that much - but not all - of this stalking is done as part of a national program. News reports indicate that such stalking is also sometimes used unofficially for personal and corporate vendettas by current and former employees of law enforcement and intelligence agencies, including private investigators.

Since counterintelligence stalking goes far beyond surveillance - into the realm of psychological terrorism, it is essentially a form of extrajudicial punishment. As such, the harassment is illegal - even when done by the government. It clearly violates the Sixth Amendment of the U.S. Constitution, for example - which guarantees the right to a trial. Such operations also violate similar fundamental rights defined by state constitutions, which people on the right of America’s political spectrum claim to respect. Stalking is also specifically prohibited by the criminal codes of every state in America.

Although the term “gang stalking” is intentionally misleading, it does have one merit: it is accurate in the sense that the perpetrators - law enforcement agencies, intelligence agencies, and private security thugs - do often function in the manner of criminal gangs.

Although they sometimes conduct their operations under the color of law, many of their activities have neither constitutional nor moral legitimacy. That is true of all of the likely major perpetrators of organized stalking in the U.S.: the FBI, the Department of Homeland Security, U.S. military counterintelligence agencies, state and local Law Enforcement Intelligence Units (LEIUs), and security contractors. All of those groups - and other federal intelligence agencies, such as the CIA and NSA - have well-documented histories of abusing their powers.

History

Organized stalking methods were used extensively by communist East Germany's Stasi (state police) as a means of maintaining political control over its citizens. The Stasi referred to the tactics as "Zersetzung" (German for "decomposition" or "corrosion" - a reference to the intended psychological, social, and financial effects upon the victim).

Although they are illegal in the U.S., the same covert tactics are quietly used by America's local and federal law enforcement and intelligence agencies to suppress dissent, silence whistle-blowers, and get revenge against persons who have angered someone with connections to the public and private agencies involved.

Illegal counterintelligence operations have been perpetrated against Americans by urban police departments in the U.S. since the late 1800s. Traditionally, the groups of mostly-undercover police officers involved are called "red squads," although the modern official term is "Law Enforcement Intelligence Units (LEIUs)."

The most well-documented example of such operations was the FBI's infamous Cointelpro (Counter-Intelligence Programs) under the direction of J. Edgar Hoover. Those operations ran from 1956 until 1971 when they were exposed by political activists who broke into an FBI office and obtained secret documents which they handed over to the press.

Cointelpro's official goal was to "expose, disrupt, misdirect, discredit, or otherwise neutralize" individuals and groups deemed to be subversive.

Tactics

As the U.S. Senate's investigation of Cointelpro found, tactics used by the FBI included many of the methods associated with gang stalking, such as overt surveillance (stalking for psychological operations purposes). The agency even perpetrated crimes such as blackmail and assassinations.

Organized stalking methods include warrantless electronic surveillance, slander, blacklisting, and a variety of psychological operations. The latter presumably exploit findings from studies such as the notorious MK Ultra experiments conducted on American and Canadian citizens by the CIA, as well as the aforementioned psychological torture tactics refined by the Stasi.

In fact, as explained in the overview below, former CIA analyst and expert on the history of U.S. spying, George O'Toole wrote about a connection between the CIA and the aforementioned LEIUs.

An organized stalking victim is systematically isolated and harassed in a manner intended to cause sustained emotional torment while creating the least-possible amount of evidence of stalking that would be visible to others.

The process is sometimes referred to as "no-touch torture." Methods are specifically chosen for their lack of easily-captured objective evidence*.*

Perpetrators use common annoyances such as constant noise by neighbors or rude comments and abusive behavior by strangers, but on a frequent ongoing long-term basis. The cumulative effects of relentless exposure to such tactics can amount to psychological torture for the victim.

Accomplices - such as neighbors, co-workers, and even friends or relatives of the victim in some cases - are recruited to participate (often unwittingly) by counterintelligence personnel using various means, such as by telling them that the target is a potential threat or that the target is the subject of an "investigation."

A whole set of psychological operations are perpetrated against targeted individuals. These methods, described in detail in the overview below, include such things as threats, slander, vandalism, abusive phone calls, computer hacking, tormenting the victim with noise, and "mobbing" (orchestrated verbal harassment by strangers, neighbors, or co-workers).

Accounts by numerous victims of organized stalking share common specific details - suggesting that the perpetrators are following a well-tested and standardized playbook of methods that have proven to be easily kept off of the radar of potential witnesses and the mainstream news media.

A book published in 2014, L.A. Secret Police, exposed such spying in Los Angeles and explained how it was kept out of the news. Police Chief Daryl Gates apparently used threats and blackmail to scare city council members and the Los Angeles Times away from digging into his activities.

Here is an excerpt from a description of the book:

"L.A. cops ruined lives and reputations, inflicted mindless brutality, committed murder and engaged in massive cover-ups. In Los Angeles, police corruption was much more than unmarked envelopes stuffed with cash. It was a total corruption of power. For decades LAPD engaged in massive illegal spying and lied about it. Its spying targets included politicians, movie stars, professional athletes, news reporters and anyone wielding power or those of interest to Daryl Gates."

An apparent case of organized stalking by federal agents which did appear in the news during that era was the high-profile case of a cancer research scientist named Arnold Lockshin, who fled with his family to the Soviet Union in 1986 and was granted political asylum.

In 2004 the PBS news program NOW and Newsweek magazine both reported that the Pentagon had quietly resumed its practice of domestic spying, and suggested that "something like Cointelpro may again be at hand." Spying on civilians by the U.S. Army was one of the scandals which led to the famous Church Committee investigations by Congress in the mid-1970s.

In October 2004 the U.K newspaper The Sunday Times published an article about the use of Stasi-type psychological operations to punish whistle-blowers by MI5 - an intelligence agency with close ties to the U.S. intelligence community.

In December 2005 National Book Award winner Gloria Naylor, wrote a semi-autobiographical book in which she described her experiences as a target of organized stalking. The book's title, 1996, was the year it became apparent to Naylor that she was being stalked. Apparently, her harassment began after she had a minor dispute with a neighbor whose brother worked for the National Security Agency (NSA).

The Globe and Mail, a national newspaper in Canada, reported in May 2006 that the Canadian Security Intelligence Service (CSIS) and the Royal Canadian Mounted Police (RCMP) used organized stalking techniques (referred to as "Diffuse and Disrupt" tactics) against terrorism suspects for whom they lacked sufficient evidence to prosecute.

A cover article in The Washington Post Magazine in January 2007 by a journalist familiar with military policies and weapon systems portrayed self-proclaimed victims of gang stalking as intelligent and credible, and suggested that claims about exotic non-lethal weapons being used by the U.S. government to harass targeted individuals were plausible.

Former CIA division chief Melvin Goodman was quoted in a June 2008 article by Jeremy Scahill in The Nation (America's oldest continuously-published weekly magazine) on the vast private contractor element of the intelligence-security community:

"My major concern is the lack of accountability, the lack of responsibility. The entire industry is essentially out of control. It's outrageous."

A newspaper article in the Verona-Cedar Grove Times in March 2009 titled "Stalker Claims Unsettle Police" described how a self-proclaimed target of gang stalking had been distributing flyers in his former neighborhood in Verona, New Jersey, warning about organized stalking of targeted individuals. The flyers stated: "Their intention is to murder their target without getting their hands dirty. It's the perfect hate crime."

In November 2013, a TV and radio broadcast of Democracy Now! featured an interview with the director of the Center for Corporate Policy in which he discussed the shadowy industry of spies employed by major U.S. corporations to conduct secret - and often illegal - counterintelligence operations against critics of those corporations.

Articles published by CBS, the Daily Mail, RT, Tech Dirt, and Courthouse News Service in December 2013 reported that a U.S. government contractor filed a lawsuit against multiple federal agencies for gang stalking him (the complaint refers to gang stalking as such). The plaintiff claims he was subjected to constant surveillance - including inside his residence and his vehicle - and constant psychological harassment from co-workers and strangers.

An article in The New Yorker in February 2014 gave a detailed account of an organized stalking campaign by a large corporation. Research biologist Tyrone Hayes discovered some disturbing effects from a pesticide made by the agribusiness corporation Syngenta. When he refused to keep quiet about it, the corporation's goon squad began slandering him to discredit him. They also stalked him, hacked his emails, and threatened him for more than a decade.

A report on the ABC News TV program 20/20 - and an article in the Daily Mail - in May 2014 chronicled the ordeal of a couple in Hubbard, Ohio who were systematically harassed for 7 years in a vengeance campaign orchestrated by the town's fire chief. Apparently, the fire chief was angry at the couple because of a real estate dispute, so he enlisted the help of other firefighters, police officers, and local residents to perpetrate a campaign of constant vehicle horn honking outside the couple's home. The harassment - which the couple thoroughly documented on video - resulted in legal claims which were still pending at the time of the news reports.

As I Edward Paul Donegan have attempted to write my books my PC has been destroyed twice from water drops or theft, and while writing horns honk and bird-dogger neighbors bang on the walls so hard the very sturdy walls shake and wall hangings fall to the floor and shouting into my apartment occurs at loud volume often abusive and targeted speech directed through the walls to me harassing me and threatening me.

Numerous job listings by intelligence/security contractor corporations for "surveillance role players" with active security clearances and training in counterintelligence (links and details in the overview below) strongly suggest that federal law enforcement agencies have largely outsourced these operations - which would be consistent with other security programs. A June 10, 2013 article in USA Today noted that about 1.4 million Americans had top-secret security clearances.

Federal and local law enforcement agencies also make extensive use of criminal informants (who are in large supply in America, with its extraordinary per capita incarceration rate). It would be natural for such informants to be used in a counterintelligence program. Indeed, the original Cointelpro was found by the U.S. Senate's Church Committee investigations to have delegated some activities to organized crime groups. First-hand accounts of self-proclaimed victims of gang stalking support this assumption: by their appearance and behavior, many street-level perpetrators appear to possibly be ex-convicts.

Regardless of the exact nature of organized stalking in the U.S., any national counterintelligence program would require at least passive acquiescence by the U.S. Department of Justice (DOJ) - just like the first version of Cointelpro did. U.S. Attorney General Robert F. Kennedy approved some of the original Cointelpro operations. Because of the critical role of the DOJ in allowing organized stalking to occur, I devote an entire section of this overview to that agency.

Target Selection

Gang stalking apparently targets American citizens deemed to be dissidents or whistle-blowers (and perhaps potential dissidents and whistle-blowers), although others might be targeted for other reasons - such as for experimental or training purposes. For perspective, it should be remembered that for two decades the CIA performed secret illegal experiments on U.S. and Canadian citizens (the infamous MK Ultra program). Those experiments included physical and psychological torture.

A lot of accounts by self-proclaimed targets of gang stalking suggest that people are often subjected to severe long-term harassment simply because they crossed someone connected with the agencies and security firms which perpetrate such operations.

An example of that type of abuse occurred in April 2012, when USA Today reported that one of its reporters and an editor were slandered by a secret disinformation campaign waged by an intelligence contractor firm to discredit them because the newspaper had investigated and reported on that contractor. The company involved conducted propaganda campaigns for the U.S. military. Similarly, in August 2013 it was reported that at least a dozen National Security Agency (NSA) employees had used their surveillance system access to spy on their current and former spouses and partners.

Founded in 1945 after World War II, the IMF bears the brunt of today's international attacks, now focused on concealed entry [into a home or office] and [then comitt] espionage. The missions keep getting harder and harder - but so do the agents.

The IMF operates primarily by executing confidence tricks on its mission targets, sometimes with the aid of high-tech gadgetry. The agents are able to deceive their targets into cooperating with them without detecting a set-up until the mission is accomplished; by that time, the IMF personnel have already vanished from the scene.

In a worst-case scenario during such undercover missions in which their presence becomes known, the IMF can become subject to disavowal under order from the President's failsafe initiative, "Ghost Protocol". With this initiative in place, the IMF is rendered defunct, and any and all agents in the field are hereby unable to access specific safehouses or extraction points in their specific location.

The IMF operated primarily by using confidence tricks, infiltration, and high technology devices on its targets. The agents of the IMF were able to deceive their targets into cooperating with them without detecting any kind of deception until the "impossible mission" was carried out. By that time, the IMF team members had all vanished from the scene and/or left the target country. In some cases, especially involving organized crime, the mission targets were actually killed as a direct result of the IMF's work, though never actually by any IMF agents themselves.

The organization's job was to infiltrate secure installations, seize critical intelligence, destroy dangerous data or equipment, and neutralize the enemy as needed, without leaving a trace. The IMF is different than most intelligence organizations in that, once their orders have been given, there are no required procedures for the fulfillment of the mission.

The IMF agents were anonymously sent on covert missions to tackle the dangerous world of counter-terrorism, espionage, political subversion, international crime, and American organized crime. Their international missions tended to undermine communist governments, dictatorships, and other opponents of democracy. The TV series never directly specified exactly who oversaw the IMF, though it was some agency of the United States government. All of the team members were Americans. They acted under nonofficial cover status, and if they were ever caught or killed, “the Secretary” (presumably the U.S. Secretary of State) would “disavow” any knowledge of their actions.

In secret tape messages issued to the team leaders, references were made to "the Secretary," and whenever these were foreign operations, this Secretary is understood to be the Secretary of State, as stated above. The IMF team leader was also given the option to reject a mission which he did not find to be suitable, or if he believed that it was truly impossible to accomplish.

Tactics used by Charivari (Rough Music) Gang Stalkers

Tactics of Predatory Gangstalking include highly coordinated surveillance (hidden cameras, conversation bugging in private as-well as public), harassment, and psychological, psychosocial, financial, and sometimes physical assaults on an individual by a large group of people who are often strangers to the targeted individual.

Anchoring, Baiting, and Manufacturing False Narratives attached to objects or events

Anchoring is a technique employed by stalkers to implant a false motivation or reason behind the stalking, preventing the victim from discovering the truth. In more sinister examples, Anchoring involves the implantation of evidence to persuade the victim some other group or organization is responsible for the abuse.

Baiting such as provoking conflict by manufacture of condition in some way or another hostile and in need of being corrected, even by initiating crime hoping for a fight the victim of the fight was led into as a trap

The term “Baiting” is a stalking tactic used to lure a victim into environments, or situations, which cause further problems to the victim. Often “Baiting” involves tricking a victim into committing a crime or unknowingly engaging in an illegal activity such as assault. They trick the victim into thinking an innocent bystander is the culprit of their harassment and try to compel the victim into assaulting the person.

Brighting

Brighting is a term jokingly referred to by stalkers to indicate the practice of repetitive flashing of a car’s high-beam headlights. The victim is usually followed and may be “flashed” from either a “tail-gating” vehicle or a passing or on-coming one. “Brighting” also occurs when bright lights are flashed into a victim’s home-windows. The conduct of flashing lights is out of any normal conduct, a flashign light is strong stimuli and when the out of place conduct comes from unidentified strangers it should be worrisome Electronic Harassment

Electronic Harassment icluding susiciously timed and interupting inbound phone o rother inbound activity such as engine overtaching or horns honking in the area or skiddign of cars is the use of technological devices to spy on or cause harm to targeted victims. For example, exposure to a high magnetic field has been shown to induce hallucinations in humans while exposure to intense microwave radiation induces psychotic episodes and causes brain damage.

A frequent form of Electronic Harassment involves beaming a low frequency “hum” or “tone” into a victim’s home or general area. Over time, the exposure causes the victim to lose sleep, become agitated, and suffer the effects of prolonged stress. Such tactics are also being used in cases of hostage situations as well as covert government operations. These forms of magnetic fields can be caused by technological or preternatural means.

Ghosting

The term Ghosting refers to the practice of rearranging, or moving, of a victim’s home furniture, lawn decorations, desk decorations at work, etc. The purpose of Ghosting is to make a victim question his or her sanity. Ghosting is also designed to make other’s question the sanity of the victim, especially if the victim attempts to complain of the abuse. Coincides with evidence plants as Black Bag Jobs to damage and disparage or malign a persons home by home invasion. During surveillance or recon of a home works in progress can be stolen and used by other including literary works.

Mocking, Mimicry and mimicry in furtherance of Identity Theft and Psychological Harassment about whether a person is or isn’t a stalker engaging in mimicry

Mimicry is a specialized form of harassment in which the stalkers publicly imitate every movement made by the victim. This shows an aspect of the trickster. It is a manifestation of the true source of the stalking.

Noise Campaign

A Noise Campaign is an orchestrated effort to produce stress in a victim through prolonged exposure to significant noise levels. A Noise Campaign can range from multiple neighbors routinely playing loud music, individual stalkers with air-horns or fireworks, or organized “repair work” that involves a high level of noise or Rough Noise, annoying noise and as loud stimuli

Sensitization

Sensitization is a psychological term referring to the forced association between a stimuli and a corresponding reaction. Stalkers use Sensitization to psychologically abuse a victim. For example, if a stalker constantly harasses a victim while wearing a blue baseball cap, then overtime the victim will begin to believe anyone wearing a blue baseball cap is a stalker and is coming to harass. Sensitization undoubtedly creates an extreme level of fear in a victim, in direct fulfillment of the intentions of the stalkers.

Mobbing including mobbs planting evidence and bearing false witness at the scene and talkign up falsified events elswhere later such as wheres a Stalk Victim is headed to.

Mobbing is a term that describes “Group Bullying”.

Of itself, Mobbing is not equated with gang stalking. However, Mobbing may be a tactic used by the perpetrators of gang Stalking.

"Flash mobbing" is an event occurring when a targeted individual is spotted in society. Their photo and location is immediately and simultaneously sent out by cell phone text messages and Internet email to all gangstalkers within a certain radius. All gangstalkers then suddenly descend upon the target as a mob.

Various sources

When you frustrate someone, you do your best to annoy, confuse, or even torment that poor person.

sensitize cause to sense; make sensitive

Frustrated is an adjective that describes feeling disappointed and unsuccessful. If you try to fix your car for hours and hours but it still won't work, you will feel frustrated.

Trauma tends to come on all at once and be quite serious. Someone who experiences trauma will have either a traumatic injury or traumatic distress.

Sexual abuse is any form of sexual violence, including rape, child molestation, incest, and similar forms of non-consensual sexual contact. Most sexual abuse experts agree sexual abuse is never only about sex. Instead, it is often an attempt to gain power over others.

Street Theater

Street Theater is a term used to describe the odd-actions and behaviors that stalkers do in public, in an attempt to rile the victim.Such behavior often borders on the extremely bizarre and is aimed at a blurring of the boundaries between reality and fantasy in the minds of the victims.

Examples of Street Theater: Baiting, Brighting, Color Harassment, Convey, Directed Conversation, Ghosting, Mimicry, Noise Campaigns, etc.

Variations of Gang Stalking Gas-Lighting

The term Gas-Lighting originates from the 1944 film Gaslight. In the movie, the character of Gregory Anton, played by actor Charles Boyer, attempts to drive the character Pauline, played by actress Ingrid Bergman, insane. The phrase Gas-Lighting has come to mean similar actions and behavior, as used in the film, against a victim. “The White Glove treatment”

“The White Glove Treatment” is slang for Gang Stalking as jokingly referred to by the Masons who either participate in, or know of its usage against so-called “Enemies of Freemasonry”.

[Note: The phrase “The White Glove Treatment” is not limited to Freemasonry, as members of similar groups and organizations often practice Gang Stalking.)

Ritual Gangstalking

Reportedly performed by cults and secret organizations such as Satanists, secret orders of free masons, some voodoo /obeah practitioners and Scientologists as a means of control or for punishment. “Ritual abuse” is incorporated into “ritual gangstalking” patterns in this case.

Cybergangstalking

A situation where an individual is identified to be a target through Internet participation and their personal identity is determined. Cybergangstalkers pierce the electronic veil and are able to enter into the real life of a person, creating all forms of harassment, theft, psychological operations including slander and libel, and able to commit crimes against the targeted individual.

I will cover more information about this subject and other related topics in future articles. If you or someone you know are victims of gangstalking or any other form of malevolent harassment, feel free to contact us. We are here to help.

Neuropsychological & Electronic No-Touch Torture Report by Dr. Robert Duncan (used on targeted citizens here in the U.S.) SERE training (Survival, Evasion, Resistance and Escape) MAR 30 2015

The Executive Summary: Neuropsychological and Electronic No-Touch Torture Report Based on “The Torture Memos” and the Senate Intelligence Committee’s Declassified “Torture Report”

Perspectives on Enhanced Interrogation Techniques Project Proposals for Google Summer of Code 2015 By Robert Duncan, A.B., S.M., M.B.A., Ph.D.

“The United States is number one in torture since they are currently the world’s only superpower.” 04/2015

Torture is a horrific topic and most minds will turn away from it because it can’t be comprehended that humans can be motivated, or computer programs can be run to do this to other sentient beings. Just when we believed we were becoming more civilized as a culture, the technology for torture has advanced more than a hundred fold in recent decades.

This summary will get into ‘the minds of the dishonorable monsters’ of the psychology of torture. Those like Dick Cheney who helped authorize it under certain administrations and regimes of the U.S. government which have been proven to be criminal under U.S. law, treaties, and the International Criminal Court. There are many people involved in the conspiracy and cover-up including General Hayden.

The full report discloses the spectrum of techniques of interrogation and torture used by the U.S. and its allies. The United States government will officially deny the claims of this “no-touch torture report” but in time it will stand firm.

The technologies used are still classified as state secrets and will not be discussed in this summary. The torture methods have been leaked through thousands of American citizens who have survived the no-touch torture programs. The research and testimony has been accumulated since 2002 and merely used as examples but the names of the victims are withheld.

This report will not use skewed, misleading language such as “enhanced interrogation” to describe the torture techniques. Why torture? The CIA claims it works. The assumption is that it works to gain actionable intelligence. Torture is often used for revenge, punishment, interrogation, and behavior modification. In other terms torture is used to remove the continuity of thought to confuse the target to reveal information, erase brain patterns such as values and beliefs, or to break down the human spirit to make them submit and obey their handlers. The downside of torture is that the countries that do it lose “moral soft power” in world politics. Without due process, over 25% of those reported in the Senate Torture Report were declared innocent. Blowback is always a repercussion of torture. Torture often takes a long time to affect the target from months to years. Torture has shown to be unreliable except for getting false confessions and bad information but the U.S. and its allies are improving on their tactics and techniques.

The purpose of this report is to draw the parallels between physical torture techniques and no-touch torture methods used in secret by governments who possess the technologies that still go on today. This is a brief summary of offensive psychological and information warfare methods using traditional methods and modern cybernetic techniques while exploring hyper-game theory to walk the target to the desired path: leak intelligence, commit assassinations, or change beliefs.

Numerated Torture Methods for Interrogation and Behavior Modification (A comparison between physical and no-touch torture tactics)

1. Induction of Depressive/Manic states

   The idea is to shake up the emotional states of the target because different information can be accessed at each state. Making the target feel despair and helplessness is the objective. This cycle of hope building and then breaking is done in many ways. The techniques between the physical methods and the no-touch technological methods are similar. Speech is very important during this process of emotional manipulation. Such examples are, “We have imprisoned you without due processes or hope of it. You are indefinitely detained.” Hope building examples include, “Sorry. We have mistaken you for someone else. You will be compensated for false imprisonment and torture.” The main difference between the cybernetic technology and physical is that emotional state clusters can be entrained into the target mind which speeds up the process. The communication is done differently but perceived as human speech. In the no-touch torture methods it is helpful if the target is labeled with mental illness that is being created for discrediting purposes so as not to draw human rights groups’ attention.

2. Memory Erasure

The military and CIA have been researching memory erasing drugs for half a century. The focus of this summary report is on interrogation. Memory erasure is an important technique during interrogation. It is used in combination with sleep deprivation. There are many drugs that have been developed for physical memory erasure. One such interrogation method requires acquiring information from the target while on these drugs and recording the subject. After a sleeping cycle, the interrogator claims that the target has confessed. Of course the target remembers nothing of their conversation. The interrogator will play samples of the subject's conversation back to them making the subject believe that the interrogator knows more than they do. Similar techniques are used in the wireless, no-touch torture and interrogation programs. The cybernetic methods of memory erasure have additional purposes. The memory erasure can be used on the cybernetic target to make the target believe people have broken in and moved their belongings. While physical black bag jobs do occur, it is a way to make the target more paranoid.

3. Electricity and Shocks

Pain and fear of death are common tactics during interrogation. Shocking by electricity is a traditional method of torture and exposed in the CIA's secret prisons. Shocking the testicles and nipples are the most common due to their sensitivity. Interestingly, the thousand of interviews of no-touch torture involves "stings" and "shocks" to various parts of their bodies over long durations.

4. Fear and Terror

There are many techniques to induce extreme fear in the target. In physical renditions dogs, power drills, guns, insects, mutilation, blow torches, water boarding, suffocation, mock burials, and mock executions are just a few the United States government have used. Remember that many targets of torture die from the physical effects. It is torture to death.

Let us compare the no-touch torture methods used to inflict the same terror and mental anguish. In several of these techniques the target needs to hear their handler's voice. This report does not describe the technologies used to broadcast voices to the target at a distance. While the subject can be broadcast mental images to their mind using hypnosis and other suggestions as well as visual entrainments, the more invasive controls of the brain manipulation technologies can be used to entrained the brain's autonomic nervous systems such as not breathing causing the target to not be able to sleep from fear of suffocation equivalent to water boarding. The neural linguistic programming can add fears such as heart attack, stroke, and cancer threats. Even motor cortex mapping can cause twitches in any part of the body. One example used a swift neck movement with a voice transmission, "We are trying to break your neck." Directed energy effects such as Active Denial System can make the target feel that they are on fire indefinitely without the target dying from burns. Maximum pain and torture weapons have been evolving. Every drug effect can be artificially induced into the target mind including those of poisons.

5. Imprisonment and Isolation

Isolation is commonly used as punishment in prisons. Many whistleblowers like Bradley Manning suffer this condition. In soft interrogation it is used to get the target to talk to their interrogator since humans have the need for companionship. In no-touch torture the target is driven from their friends and family using different techniques in order to isolate them so that the electronic mind control has more effect on their psyche. Like in Guantanamo, the target becomes isolated losing their job and medical care. Part of the method involves slander in their community. They end up on the most part in poverty and paranoid about doctors and other people from false correlations that are purposefully induced into their lives. Isolation is also a form of sensory deprivation which will be discussed later. Days and weeks lose their meaning.

6. Sexually Disturbing Tailored Pornography

The Summary of the Senate Torture Report disclosed the disgusting revelations that in the secret torture prisons the targets were forced to perform homosexual acts on each other against their will and religion in order not to be beaten or killed. This is a common break down tactic of belief systems and the human will. In no-touch torture the techniques are more psychologically specialized for each target. Most common examples include homosexual targets that are forced with voices that are derogatory to their lifestyle and similar mental images. Almost all targets are forced to view child pornography in their minds. And vice versa is true, that heterosexual targets are forced to view homosexual sexual acts like in the secret U.S. torture prisons.

7. Mutilation

Also mentioned in the declassified report on torture was mutilation of the human. Cutting the naked target's penis and scrotum, pulling nails or teeth is common. In no-touch torture mutilation is done by trickery. Let us look at a couple examples. There have been several targets who believed that the microwave hearing effect and other voice induction methods were done by microchips implanted in their teeth or ears. They had all their teeth pulled because they believed it was a technology called bone conductance. Others have poked out their ear drums in the belief they had micro implants in their ears. There are many more examples of trickery used to make the targets mutilate themselves.

8. Personal and Spiritual Defamation

In physical torture the CIA and other groups use propaganda and defamation of character for those they oppose. For detainees they try to disenfranchise the target from their religion. They will defecate on their Bible or Koran for example. They might say, "Why is your God not saving you?" In no touch torture and behavior modification they might try to make an atheist believe in god. It is just a mechanism to alter belief systems for control and experimentation. Perhaps the target may wish to confess their secrets to a "voice of god weapon". Information warfare covers the gamut of electronic communication as well. The government training exercise uses language like "befriend", "infiltrate", "mask/mimic", "ruse", "set-up", "disrupt", "create cognitive stress", "use deception", "ruin business relationships", and "post negative information on appropriate forums" - in a malicious effort to target bloggers, activists, journalists, social event organizers and anyone else deemed to be a 'emerging leader' or voice in the public sphere. 9. Psychological Intimidation

This is a topic for a target at the beginning of the trials and programs. Physical break-ins are common even if the target has an alarm system. The NSA has used stalking of foreign officials in the past for economic gain. The FBI does black bag jobs to invade a home without a warrant. The point is to let the target know they are being watched and to increase their paranoia. The NSA easily hacks all computer systems and causes harm to the victim's intellectual property and their relationships from that endpoint. In the no touch torture false correlations between pain and a neighbor coming home can be induced.

9. Rape

Rape is a common practice in torture. It causes much psychological trauma. In the United States methods of rape in their military and CIA secret prisons it is often relabeled. It is commonly done by prods but "rectal rehydration" is the more common misnomer. Often they call it forced feeding through the rectum but it is meant to induce psychological scaring and trauma. Several have died from the technique due to rectal bleeding. In no-touch torture the psychological trauma of simulated rape takes on different forms. Using technique often called EEG-heterodyning the targets will receive molestation effects of their genitals. In men this can be the anus and genitals. Similarly women can be wirelessly raped by the analogous function of perception.

10. Dietary Manipulation, Forced Weakness and Sickness

The idea behind dietary manipulation is to weaken the target. This is easily done in a physical setting but in no-touch the hunger trigger needs to be suppressed. Sometimes a false correlation between eating food and sickness is induced to make the target believe they are being poisoned. However, poisoning is common in physical renditions too.

11. Repetition

Verbal breakdown is most important during interrogations and torture. Obviously speaking the language of the target is necessary. This is why there are interrogators in all languages. Repetition is an important neural linguistic programming interrogation tactic to influence the target mind. During the breakdown process, threats to kill and to torture the target's family or friends are common. Repetitious questioning and breakdown phrases are automated in both the physical and no-touch versions of torture. An interesting technology that is used for no-touch torture is called chatter bots. Chatter bots, an artificial intelligence program, automate much of the repetition so that the interrogators don't drive themselves crazy during the neural linguistic torture and programming phases. Let us not forget the Chinese Water Torture, a single drop of water on the forehead of the detainee for months. Repetition is a form of torture.

12. Sensitization of Pain Impulses

While the reverse can be obtained, optimizing perceived pain and misery is the objective in torture. Each trauma adds to the overall misery throughout life. Optimization of pain has been studied by the military and intelligence agencies. In the past the CIA has used drugs such as LSD to enhance fear and terror in the subject. Other methods such as hypnosis can increase perceived pain and the power of suggestion such as telling the subject his pinky finger is going to be cut off before it is done. In no-touch torture the same psychological manipulations are exerted. Subliminal and overt suggested are often told to the subject before the directed energy or EEG heterodyning pain inductions in order to maximize their effectiveness.

13. Sensory Overload and Deprivation

Again, this technique of overloading or depriving the human of sensory stimulus is ubiquitous in torture around the world not just in U.S. secret prisons. Torture subjects in the United States have reported the use of repetitive bad music and noise campaigns. An unusual torture technique used in the U.S. secret prisons was of a use of a plastic suit filled with ice while they beat the target. Ultra bright lights for days on end in the prison and hot/cold temperature changes in the environment are frequent. In no-touch torture, the target's brain is forced to release dopamine which causes pupil dilatation. This acts as a sensory overload. For example the non-lethal microwave weapons research done by a professor in University of Nevada has shown this capability. Body metabolism can be altered with these weapons causing cold and hot flashes. Targets of no-touch torture often hear endless tinnitus.

14. Sexual Humiliation and Lack of Privacy

Often used in common prisons is a lack of privacy. It is both necessity for security and a form of sexual humiliation. Also in prison many people are raped. No-touch torture offers the same sexual humiliation and lack of privacy by using through wall radar, cameras, and EEG visual cloning to let the target know they are being watched. Degrading comments are often used on the no-touch torture subjects while they are naked or in the bathroom.

15. Maximum Sensory Pain Techniques

Basic torture involves brutalization, i.e. physical strikes, kicks in the groin, pepper spray or tear gas, etc. Anything that involves maximum pain is the objective. Amazingly, these same basic tortures can be done wirelessly into the human mind. All forms of sickness have been reported without any real illness behind the suffering. All suffering can be entrained into the minds of no-touch torture subjects.

16. Sleep Deprivation

This is the number one torture method along with the popularity in the press of water boarding. This is done in every country that uses torture. The United States is number one in torture since they are currently the world's only superpower. A repetitive sleep deprivation cycle is generally done 180 hrs/7.5 days at a time in the physical renditions, or in no-touch torture five days awake and two days of sleep. Sleep deprivation accomplishes the objective of memory loss during interrogation and induces hallucinations which help with the interrogation process. In behavior modification and programming it is necessary too.

17. Stress Positions

Keeping detainees handcuffed above their head and to walls so that they must stand for days is a common ploy in torture. These types of poses are called stress positions. They can be mimicked in no-touch torture. An example of one such trick requires the target to believe they can deflect radar energy using pots or pans and that it is directional. The target is > being given an ample amount of pain until their hands and arms are spread apart holding the pans trying to block the signals. They must maintain that position in order to get any relief from the torture signals. However the stress position itself is physical torture. Often accompanying this technique are voices saying to the target, “You are doing it to yourself.”

We will finish off this summary of U.S. and its allies’ torture, interrogation, and behavior modification experimentation with ideas of why they are done to the general public and falsely accused detainees. Anyone can be put into these programs. Justice and rule of law does not exist at the highest levels of government. Treaties are worthless because the #1 agreement in the rules of war, a ban against torture, is not obeyed. This creates a more brutal and barbaric society lead by example.

No-touch torture uses the same interrogation tactics as physical interrogations but with some new twists. Techniques such as “Jeff and Mutt” a.k.a. “Good Cop Bad Cop” are used. The bad cop tortures the target and the good cop tries to gain their trust. In mind control, trust games are commonly employed to manipulate the beliefs of the target. Creating hatred of groups through false correlations and deception is a common CIA method of trickery.

In the CIA programs, the target is put through these phases as written in the documentation, “Disorient and confuse the target. Use them for our purposes, and then dispose of them in any way possible.” We can only surmise by our sample set of a thousand people what “dispose” means: prison, suicide, or perhaps a mental hospital. Coercing and torturing people to suicide is very common. Both tactics in physical or no-touch torture involves plausible deniability.

Again quoting by Offramp a Free Mason in a Free Mason forum

Predatory Gangstalking is also called “terror stalking”, “gangstalking”, “flash mobbing”, “cause stalking,” “hate stalking,” “multi-stalking, “happy slapping,” “workplace bullying, and “covert war.”

The reasons why it is employed?

You found the wrong forum on the internet and saw something you should not have seen; you worked for a company and found out some sensitive information; you got on the wrong side of someone who is a member of the vast satanic or luciferian cabal; etc.

What does this have to do with the field of the paranormal?

On a macrocosmic level, preternatural beings are the driving force behind activities such as gang stalking. The destruction of a person feeds them. It also fits in with their overall agenda. People who are victims of gangstalking are people who pose a threat to the goals of the dark principalities.

In addition to being stalked by large groups of people, malevolent/demonic entities may be attacking you in the night, and disembodied voices may be harassing you at all hours. Though seemingly unrelated, all of these subjects tend to be connected.

The goal of Gang Stalking

The expressed [including to me Edward Paul Donegan] goal of Gang Stalking is to silence a victim, drive a victim insane and possibly to the point of suicide, or destroy the victim's reputation and believability as the person will likely be viewed as mentally ill should they complain or report the abuse

Gang Stalking is also used to gather information on individuals as well as force individuals to move or leave an area.

Motivations for the abuse

Motivations for Gang Stalking vary.

Revenge for a real or imagined offense (People in these organizations are quite petty, mirroring their preternatural handlers); false accusations of a "horrible crime" [or horrible mental disease] of which the victim has gotten away with (Used to discredit the victim and destroy his/her reputation); silencing a corporate "whistle-blower"; defecting from a cult; a perceived enemy of a group or organization; "knowing too much" are all examples of possible motivations.

Edward Paul Donegan asserts a a Conspiracy Against His Rights Under Color of Law and including Religious, Reproductive, and other fundamental rights

An Office Mob combined with Maladministration of properties such as private home or public library are tyuing me to misconduct I am not tied to to toxify my presence and undermine to the point it is too hostile, too abusive, to conflict ridden, too secretively inhospitable to access I can not use the location.

> is a person who commits or who acts to entice another person to commit an illegal or rash act or falsely implicate them in partaking in an illegal act, so as to ruin the reputation or entice legal action against the target or a group they belong to. They may target any group, such as a peaceful protest or demonstration, a union, a political party or a company.

Exploitable females are planted near me on treadmills in front of me, walking in front of me, in other part of an apartment building such as a common area lawn, trespass on my property or field of hearing or vision in some way.

The are Shills, fake victims. I am coyly asked "were you just at the gym?" as someone pops his one hand that is a fist into the open palm of his other hand.

Confronted the person will say asking me about the gym was no allegation at all about me and that is correct. To others I am now linked to an accused impropriety at the gym I had been at as it is asserted peeping or other behavior is in my character.

Why Is This?, Bizarre and ethnic and sexual harassment in gyms, office and home?

Gay women and non whites took over gym positions and setup Doppelgangers of me to photograph women or plant them in front of me. Later I figured out why scuzzy people approached all reproductive age women with phones. I thought they might have been claiming i was on the phone, 5 and half years after I first saw it I found out, best quess, the women were showed peeping photos alleged by me.

"According to Brian Glick, in War at Home, COINTELPRO used a broad array of methods [under-cover across locations of a police harassment victim, including:"

1. Infiltration: Agents and informers did not merely spy on political activists. Their main purpose was to discredit and disrupt. Their very presence served to undermine trust and scare off potential supporters. The FBI and police exploited this fear to smear genuine activists as agents.

2. Psychological Warfare From the Outside: The FBI and police used myriad other "dirty tricks" to undermine progressive movements. They planted false media stories and published bogus leaflets and other publications in the name of targeted groups. They forged correspondence, sent anonymous letters, and made anonymous telephone calls. They spread misinformation about meetings and events, set up pseudo movement groups run by government agents, and manipulated or strong-armed parents, employers, landlords, school officials and others to cause trouble for activists.

3. Harassment Through the Legal System: The FBI and police abused the legal system to harass dissidents and make them appear to be criminals. Officers of the law gave perjured testimony and presented fabricated evidence as a pretext for false arrests and wrongful imprisonment. They discriminatorily enforced tax laws and other government regulations and used conspicuous surveillance, 'investigative' interviews, and grand jury subpoenas in an effort to intimidate activists and silence their supporters [and silence or discredit critics of FBI and CIA officials] .

4. Extralegal Force and Violence: The FBI and police threatened, instigated, and themselves conducted break-ins, vandalism, assaults, and beatings. The object was to frighten dissidents and disrupt their movements.

   [All of which Jen Moore and Edwward Donegan have suffered and reported, now Jen Moore deceased.]

   In the case of radical Black and Puerto Rican activists (and later Native Americans), these attacks-including political assassinations-were so extensive, vicious, and calculated that they can accurately be termed a form of official ‘terrorism.’”.The FBI also conducted "black bag jobs" [break-ins or illeal access to home or office to plant or steal of vandalize or search], warrantless surreptitious entries, against the targeted groups and their members. From its inception, the FBI has operated on the doctrine that the "preliminary stages of organization and preparation" must be frustrated, well before there is any clear and present danger of "revolutionary radicalism."

At its most extreme dimension, political dissidents have been eliminated outright or sent to prison for the rest of their lives. There are quite a number of individuals who have been

GangStalk, Organized Stalk, Criminal Syndicate, Mafia

An alliance between agencies like the FBI or CIA with mafia groups. This differs from simple contracting for hits, shot-callers of mobs bring their mobs into alignment with Espionage Agencies in return for favors, profits, etc., Neighborhood Watch groups are common sources of alliances for FBI and CIA as are mental health services clients or family members of Espionage agencies who will act out scenarios under cover as normal pedestrian or office workers presence.

Syndicate

- a group of individuals or organizations combined to promote some common interest. "large-scale buyouts involving a syndicate of financial institutions"

- control or manage by a syndicate. "the loans are syndicated to a group of banks"

- Criminal Syndicate - State Sponsored Mafia. "Bank of Commerce and Credit International (BCCI) was one of the most crime connected operations and was tied to William Barr.""

- Syndication in Media - Broadcast

syndication is the practice of leasing the right to broadcasting television shows and radio programs produced by others to multiple television stations and radio

- Racketeering Influence Criminal Organizations (RICO) Legitimate appearing organizations who in in conjunction with their entity are using ties to criminal entities. - Suborn - bribe or otherwise induce (someone) to commit an unlawful act such as perjury or Obstruction of Justice.

- Obstruct - block (an opening, path, road,

Veiled concealed acts of aggression may vex someone as a pervert or creep and forced-team them with victims staging acts of predation or attempts to catch or retaliate against predation. It may be claimed as a grey ares if a smear campaign has successfully raised a cloud of suspicion as to whether a trap should be baited. As will all matters in law and science the totaliaty of the motives and actions and even state of minds may need to be examined to find the real reason for government cover operation .

noun: campaign; plural noun: campaigns

Definitions from Oxford Languages

- an organized course of action to achieve a goal. "the campaign for a full inquiry into the regime"

- a series of military operations intended to achieve a particular objective, confined to a particular area, or involving a specified type of fighting. "a desert campaign"

Edward Paul Donegan, Micheal Hastings, and Ted Gunderson and others assert the FBI are on a campaign to kill journalists working on the stories of MKULTRA including areas covered by the Truther Movement, the Birther controversy, CIA assassinations, and the JFK and RFK and MLK and Malcom X and Marilyn Monroe and Dorothy Kilgallen assassinations, and that the kinds of open threats from today's powerful elite DHS FBI CIA and NSA and Executive officials continue the cover-ups.

All like Marilyn Monroe threatened to go public as Ted Gunderson did and Jen Moore did and Dorothy Mae Kilgallen Born: July 3, 1913, Chicago, IL Died: November 8, 1965, Manhattan, New York, NY was going to to and Micheal Hastings and Victoria Windsor were going to do and Andrew Breitbart were going to do.

Ed Donegan (me) is continue to try to go public with his asserted facts as well but I face serious threats from a Modus Operandi toxifying and thus eroding my activities in life.

Modus Operandi

The term "modus operandi" is a Latin term that describes an individual or group's habitual way of operating, which represents a discernible pattern. A modus operandi (commonly abbreviated as "M.O.") is mainly used to discuss criminal behavior and is often used by professionals to prevent future crimes.

Dismissing people as Conspiracy Theorists, sex predators, schizophrenic, etc., is achieved by Accomplices to the illegal operation staging information to toxify and and thus erode the journalist preventing rental of offices or homes, interfering and vexing library usage, etc.,

Veiled Aggressive acts usually define a person's rightful typical acts as an atypical event. If I work out teens are added around me and people from the community acting like my park usage is an excuse to be near children. Same with library, etc., It is abusive treatment of me at the scene and also threatens future use of library, gyms, etc.,

Accomplices

Under the Texas penal code a person is “criminally responsible for a crime committed by the conduct of another” if he or she acts “with intent to promote or assist the commission of the offence, he solicits, encourages, directs, aids or attempts to aid the other person to commit the offence.”

An accomplice is defined as a person who knowingly, voluntarily, or intentionally gives assistance to another in (or in some cases fails to prevent another from) the commission of a crime. An accomplice is criminally liable to the same extent as the principal. An accomplice, unlike an accessory, is typically present when the crime is committed.

Jurisdictions will sometimes differ as to the definition for knowingly. Generally, knowingly is enough for the person to be aware of a specific fact. For instance, in the Court of Appeals case, State v. Allen, the court instructed the jury that a person acts “knowingly” with respect to a fact or circumstance when they are aware of that fact or circumstance.

See, e.g. Waddington v. Sarausad, 129 S.Ct. 823 (2009)

Cut-outs

Cut Outs are a Military Intelligence Term-Of-Art for spying in which a spy cuts out direct contact with an asset and uses inter-mediated contact instead; for instance, a spy asks an asset to drop files stolen from the assets military agency into a drop site and then leave so later the spy can go to that drop site without the asset present and collect the file. The drop site is the intermediate receiver and deliver of the stolen materials being passed to a spy.

Improper links including Mirrored activity can create confusion one direct links are removed. More than one person may go to a single drop site and drop files, and thus the person collecting the files may collect the wrong ones, several drops sites may be used and and confused with each other so it will seem one person picked up files at one drop site when in fact that drop site became intentionally confused with another, etc..,

Plausible deniability retrieved from From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia and copied or modified to here

Plausible deniability is the ability of people, typically senior officials in a formal or informal chain of command, to deny knowledge of or responsibility for any damnable actions committed by others in an organizational hierarchy because of a lack or absence of evidence that can confirm their participation, even if they were personally involved in or at least willfully ignorant of the actions. If illegal or otherwise-disreputable and unpopular activities become public, high-ranking officials may deny any awareness of such acts to insulate themselves and shift the blame onto the agents who carried out the acts, as they are confident that their doubters will be unable to prove otherwise.

The lack of evidence to the contrary ostensibly makes the denial plausible (credible), but sometimes, it makes the denial only unactionable (Obstruction of jusstice, lying to investigators).

> There are a number of specific causes of action, including: contract-based actions; statutory causes of action; torts such as assault, battery, invasion of privacy, fraud, slander, negligence, intentional infliction of emotional distress; and suits in equity such as unjust enrichment and quantum meruit.

The term typically implies forethought, such as intentionally setting up the conditions for the plausible avoidance of responsibility for one's future actions or knowledge.

In some organizations, legal doctrines such as command responsibility exist to hold major parties responsible for the actions of subordinates who are involved in heinous acts and nullify any legal protection that their denial of involvement would carry [part of the denial of State peeping acts is treating me or my property like a peeper WITHOUT calling me a peeper ever to my face..

In politics and espionage, deniability refers to the ability of a powerful player or intelligence agency to pass the buck and to avoid blowback by secretly arranging for an action to be taken on its behalf by a third party that is ostensibly unconnected with the major player. In political campaigns, plausible deniability enables candidates to stay clean and denounce third-party advertisements that use unethical approaches or potentially-libelous innuendo.

Although plausible deniability has existed throughout history, the term was coined by the CIA in the early 1960s to describe the withholding of information from senior officials to protect them from repercussions if illegal or unpopular activities became public knowledge.

I have been writing for years about this guy and others like him. A Gullible with my stolen identity or property he likes teen girls. He is a "wanker" (polymorphous perversity) and masturbating at clinically abnormal activity levels and he gets caught and then because caught exploiting those around him he has to "make people pregnant."

I contacted Sarah Tonin, a non-christian, from a DC Thermal shelter and this long time felon stole my phone, it rang in his hand as it was called, and fapped to white women with it saying he would make the white women pregnant because he was fapping to them while in my identity with my stolen property.

He physically assaulted me repeatedly before being evicted from the shelter, my phone still with him.

The death threats againts me and others have matched non christians non Hebrews ever being near me.

This is him conceding he did something wrong and now has to inseminate others as penalty.

I am not him but in public I will be made to look at though by character flaws I am him.

misdirection

What does misdirection mean in psychology? According to Kuhn (2019) misdirection is an umbrella term that describes a range of psychological principles that are used to prevent the audience from discovering the true method and focuses the audience's atten- tion to the magical effect.

Ed Donegan asserts the psychhological compulsion is to link Edward Paul Donegan especially in a way that fits a bigotry towards him or a hope for dergatory information with things in his vicinity is trick used by COINTELPRO. Statements made in his vicinity not clearly directed towards anyone or directed towards someone other than Edward Paul Donegan may be taken as being directed at him. People in a crowd make clearly defamatory statements or act in defamatory behaviors without naming Edward Paul Donegan as linked to the illusion. The illusion of linkage to Edward Paul Donegan to the smear is assasited by a forger's activity elsewhere and a Legend about Edward Pauld Donegan asserting a likely-hood Edward Paul Donegan would be correctly linked to elements in his surroundings is an error the Stalkers hope the audience of the Stalk will be deluded by.

Many elements of Trickery and Deceit are used such as "A" making a statement in the vicinity of "B" Edward Paul Donegan that is not specifically by name directed to Edward Paul Donegan nor fully specific in meaning. The statement by "A" is made next to Edward Paul DOnegan but either "A" is out of frame or "C" is out of frame "C" being the person "A" will assert (if confronted by "B" Edward Paul Donegan) was intended for.

The Parade of elements supporting a Legend, a created story-line of events smearing Edward Paul Donegan are a mechanized and repetitive series of actions supporting false claims about Edward Paul Donegan, his actions, and what he is consenting to or agreeing to be true.

Edward Paudl Donegan's activities will be Improperly conflated with nearby events though he is not related to nearby events other than being the subject of deceitful appearances about himself.

Most of the activity of Money Laundering is making some final good seem correct when in fact the outcome was machinated by illegal activity that becomes the offered pretext for the "clean" money.

It looked like the right thing to do to evict me but as I told police who seemed complicit with the landlord the rental office was faking records and achieving around the clock hostile, abusive, and fraudulent acts linking me to things I had nothing to do with.

In the end their faked paper work won when I was evicted from 1513 Apt 5 even though faked rental receipts etc placed me and the events I was linked to to 1511 #5, a non existent place of falsified Widget accounting existence, or Cyber residence with no brick and mortar existence.

Om the CDROM I have shown that in Interstate Commerce high priced models were called to similar apartments to mine that could be confused with mine and would address by remedial therapy of sex ed the miscreant who lived there and illegally linked his activities to my life and finances.

Shill operations, planted people in disguise have gotten me in fights and facing false allegations that have led to my eviction or self-renunciation of places I frequent because they are noxious, hostile, and dangerous to me because of the expressive conduct towards me including those who pretend I have victimized or exploited them, thus they are noxious as being present, disrupt my presence while present, and present a threat to my future usage of the premises, and the basis is built to harass my access to public places and the exercise of my rights in those locations.

Shills is the correct term for those in disguise.

KOMPROMAT is a system of a smear campaign against someone, a common example is a private detective using a Shill female to embrace a husband undergoing divorce as he rides the commute train, etc. creating the appearance of an unfaithful husband at fault in the marriage.

Office Mobs often are more duplicitous and created a first layer of fraud, in my case the manufactured and disingenuous claim I an in any way a threat to children, their exploitation, non-consensual photographing, etc., and if that is true, the a second claim will be acted upon such as eviction from the library on another fabricated claim because the first claim that can not be acted on will be sublimated into a public acceptance of a second claim that should not be acted upon but will be accepted in lieu of the first claim.

The manufacture of that KOMPROMAT in an abusive way to me is the Conspiracy Against Rights that is exactly what our legal system is designed to prevent, emotional decisions that defy logic.

Rough Noise is a term going back centuries of a system of abuse of a person by noxious or caustic sound or images.

“It’s extremely concerning that drivers still choose to give their attention to things other than the road when they’re behind the wheel,” said [Texas Department of Transportation] Executive Director James Bass.

It is concerning to a Stalk victim they appear to be exploiting minors because minors vulnerable to exploitative photography or leering are near him, or an impostor or Stalker has rumor mongered a Stalking victim is a pedophile.

When things are nearby a person including as statement made near a person in a crowd that statement might concern a person in the crowd even if not named, but the presumption might be made by observers the statement did relate to a person in the crowd of people.

One of the persons parading about me is a dopple of me sometimes at the same location at the same time other times at the same location at a later time. His confessions as me are forgeries and conflate his liabili,ti

Edward Donegan asserts statements and acts of people near him or forgeries by people far away from him that smear his character are concerning, perhaps so pressingly concerning he (I) must divert attention to cope with the emergency created by a false impression else others will believe the appearances that smear his good name. Abusive and incorrect allegations serve a purpose, not to survice in places where they could survive tests of truth, but by being a danger away from the court system where mere presumption of their truth is liabilities with me any assets for me in trust for use to remediate him and his retardation needs, all acts of money laundering that the Stalkers are so eager for > they silenced whistle-blower Jen Moore.

There is a distinction between being driven insane and acting on delusion versus being driven to violence. Use of hidden aggression only a Stalk victim recognizes may propel him to acts seen as aggression. Repeatedly I Ed Donegan have been institutionalized for reporting stalking I could not prove or confronting those who denied being stalkers. What Jen Moore had and I and Tom Dunham have is the best available defense towards stalking, logging it, and with that in hand Jen Moore planned to out why I was being stalked and the reasons State actors were politically and criminally motivated to stalk me.

In the game of football one hope a Team A is to draw Team B into a foul. If Team B gets a yellow flag thrown on it because it was tricked into an act by Team A then Team A benefits. I Edward Paul Donegan am trying not to be drawn into fights and I think noxious defamatory conduct towards me is meant to incite conflict.

In the question of Competence for Trial forensic examiners ask people like myself if they understand "What is evidence in a case?"

I have responded with legally literate answers containing this information. "Evidence is made up of those things admitted into evidence such as items collected from a crime scene and sworn testimony of witnesses. Arguments or statements from the attorneys are not evidence. Some evidence that my be probative but too likely to incite strong emotion may be excluded because of its likelyhood of swaying the rational decision-making of jurors, and matters not material to the facts under dispute under the law should not be admitted into evidence."

But that is precisely what Office Mobs do, they attempt to rumor monger so viciously as to a person's character including the manufacture of inflammatory evidence that the person can be railroad easily from home, office, or other locations.

Most of this is done in disguise and and the system of police abuse where State actors try to covertly destroy people's lived while hiding behind assets like prison snitches think they are insulated from being tied to abusive misconduct but I assert the methods of GangStalk are too well known know as more and more people are victimized by the program.

In a very long work I am now identifying many criminal techniques used by Espionage agencies to defend themselves without being caught for doing so and use of radiological weapons and other poisons is something I and Ted Gunderson and others assert and we share in our allegations that this is and Espionage cover-up scheme.

In the law on Police Abuse by Criminal Harassment there is a question to willfullness and whether the police themselves are dupes of an illegal program or recruited by amenability to it.

Much of this and the laws of Gang Stalk as now passed are beyond me research, but I assert schemes against housing and book writing are blatantly unconstitutional and many operative have used the world "illegal" in regards to their own acts.

I have also made sufficient information available for people to realize scheme as is being used is clearly disruptive to First Amendment and other rights.

Thought versus Action. Edward Paul Donegan asserts hostile and adversarial actions of others. Symmetrically for perhaps contrived reasons Edward Paul Donegan came to resent minorities including Gays as in a deficit position, African heritage with less distributions of IQ genes in particular. The Constitution protects emotions including animosity. As a matter of actions the groups he hates have been allowed to adversarial assault him, asserting his heritage claims of white male normally is a threat to others, and others are allowed to plant their own children as porn about him and sue him, both minimizing his claims of stature while also allowing Narcicistic angered populations abusive retaliation against him. That is not legal. It does create a tension system between groups with feelings of racial animus, if Edward Paul Donegan asserts unsuccessfully cover abuse he in turn will be seen as the aggressor. Edward Paul Donegan is using logging to assert a smear campaign against himself by aggressors who are acting outside of the law.

History and Text of Section 242

Section 242 originates from section 2 of the Civil Rights Act of 1866. Congress amended and broadened the statute in 1874 pursuant to its constitutional authority to enforce the protections of the Fourteenth Amendment through “appropriate legislation.” Although Congress has amended the statute several times since then and changed its location in the U.S. Code, the law’s core prohibition has changed little since the nineteenth century. As currently in force, Section 242 imposes criminal penalties on any person acting “under color of any law, statute, ordinance, regulation, or custom” who willfully subjects any person … to [1] the deprivation of any rights, privileges, or immunities secured or protected by the Constitution or laws of the United States, or to [2] different punishments, pains, or penalties, on account of such person being an alien, or by reason of his color, or race, than are prescribed for the punishment of citizens[.]

A simple violation of the statute is punishable by a fine and/or up to a year in prison. If bodily injury results, the offender may be fined and/or imprisoned for up to ten years. If death results or other aggravating factors are present, Section 242 provides for a fine and/or imprisonment for ten years to life or a death sentence (though the Constitution forbids death sentences for non-homicide offenses).

A related provision of federal criminal law, 18 U.S.C. § 241 (Section 241), makes it a crime for “two or more persons [to] conspire to injure, oppress, threaten, or intimidate any person … in the free exercise or enjoyment of any right or privilege secured to him by the Constitution or laws of the United States[.]”

Violations of Section 241 are punishable by up to ten years in prison or, if certain aggravating factors are present, up to life in prison or death.

Enforcement and Judicial Interpretation of Section 242

The U.S. Department of Justice (DOJ) enforces Section 242 by bringing criminal charges against individuals accused of violating the statute. People who believe their rights have been infringed may report such violations to DOJ, but Section 242 provides no private right of enforcement, meaning that victims of official misconduct cannot sue under the statute. (A victim of conduct that violates Section 242 may be able to bring a separate civil suit under 42 U.S.C. § 1983 (Section 1983) or, for federal officers, under the Bivens doctrine, though qualified immunity may limit officials' liability.) To secure a criminal conviction under Section 242, DOJ must establish three elements: (1) the defendant acted "under color of" law; (2) the defendant acted "willfully"; and (3) the defendant deprived the victim of rights under the Constitution or federal law or subjected the victim to different punishments on account of the victim's race, color, or alien status. The following subsections examine each of those elements in greater detail.

Acting Under Color of Law

Section 242 applies only to persons acting "under color of" law, meaning "under 'pretense' of law." That statutory phrase originates from the Reconstruction era, and variations of it appear in multiple federal hate crime and civil rights statutes. Essentially, a person acts under color of law when they act with either actual or apparent federal, state, or local government authority. Officers and employees of the government generally fall within this category: the Supreme Court has held that "officers of the State … performing official duties," including public safety officers, act under color of law for purposes of Section 242. State officials act under color of law if they derive their perceived authority from state or local law, even if their conduct was not actually authorized under state or local law. For instance, in one leading case, a Georgia sheriff who arrested a black man on suspicion of theft and then beat him to death argued that he did not act under color of state law because the killing was illegal under Georgia law. The Supreme Court rejected that argument, explaining that "[a]cts of officers who undertake to perform their official duties are included whether they hew to the line of their authority or overstep it."

Off-duty law enforcement officers may be subject to Section 242 if they act or claim to act in their official capacity. Moreover, a person need not actually be a government employee or official to act under color of law. For example, in United States v. Price, the Supreme Court held that private individuals who conspired with law enforcement to murder three civil rights workers could be charged under Section 242. However, a person acting purely in a private capacity is not subject to the statute, even if the person is a government employee: the Supreme Court has stated that "acts of [law enforcement] officers in the ambit of their personal pursuits are plainly excluded."

Deprivation of Rights

A defendant may violate Section 242 by depriving a person of "any rights, privileges, or immunities secured or protected by" either the "laws of the United States" or the Constitution. With regard to the "laws of the United States," it is unclear if DOJ has brought Section 242 charges in recent history based solely on statutory violations. In the analogous context of civil claims under Section 1983, courts have shown reluctance to imply a civil remedy for statutory violations; the courts may be even less likely to impose criminal liability under statues that do not expressly provide for it. Moreover, the scope of statutory rights subject to Section 242 may be limited by the constitutional authority Congress relied on to enact the statute. As noted, Section 242 is a product of Congress's power under Section 5 of the Fourteenth Amendment, which allows Congress to enforce the Fourteenth Amendment's guarantees through "appropriate legislation." As a recent Legal Sidebar discusses in greater detail, Supreme Court precedent allows Congress to use its Section 5 authority to enact prophylactic legislation regulating state and local matters based on evidence of a history and pattern of past constitutional violations by the states, if such federal legislation is congruent and proportional to a demonstrated constitutional wrong. Absent such circumstances, however, it uncertain when Section 242 could be used to prosecute violations of “laws of the United States” that do not amount to violations of the Constitution.

In light of the foregoing, prosecutions under Section 242 generally allege a deprivation of constitutional rather than statutory rights. Charges under Section 242 may involve rights guaranteed by the Fourteenth Amendment, including provisions of the Bill of Rights that have been incorporated against the states. For example, DOJ has brought Section 242 charges based on infringement of the right to vote, imposition of cruel and unusual punishment, and various due process violations. And, of particular relevance to law enforcement reform, DOJ may bring Section 242 charges alleging the use of excessive force in violation of the Fourth Amendment’s protections against unreasonable seizures.

Differential Punishment

In the alternative, a defendant may violate Section 242 by subjecting a person to different “punishments, pains, or penalties” “by reason of” the victim’s color or race or “on account of” the victim’s alien status. In practice, however, it appears DOJ rarely brings charges under this provision of Section 242. One reason for this seems to be the general difficulty of proving that a defendant had a particular subjective motivation-in this context, the motivation to impose a different punishment “by reason of” the victim’s race or other covered characteristic. Furthermore, a DOJ official involved in Section 242 litigation in the 1940s stated: “When a community has consistently permitted its law enforcement officers to deny the protection of the laws to certain groups, the same methods will assuredly be used against members of other groups who happen to offend the officials." Thus, pervasive misconduct by law enforcement officers could undermine DOJ's case on this element. Another possible reason for the dearth of charges under the "punishments, pains, or penalties" provision of Section 242 is that conduct that violates that provision likely also violates the statute's deprivation of rights provision: the Equal Protection Clause prohibits the government from imposing different punishments because of a person's race.

Willfulness Requirement

By its text, Section 242 applies only to violations that are committed "willfully." The Supreme Court stringently construed the willfulness standard in the 1945 case Screws v. United States (the main opinion in Screws was joined by only four justices, but binding opinions of the Supreme Court have since adopted its analysis). In Screws, a defendant convicted of violating the statute now codified as Section 242 argued that the law was void for vagueness-that is, it violated the Fifth Amendment's Due Process Clause because it did not give potential defendants clear notice of the conduct it proscribed. The Supreme Court rejected that argument by interpreting "willfully" to require the government to show that a defendant acted with a "specific intent to deprive a person" of constitutional rights or with "open defiance or in reckless disregard of a constitutional requirement."

The Screws plurality recognized that its interpretation of Section 242 differed from the usual mental state standard in criminal cases. To obtain a conviction for a crime, the plurality explained, the prosecution usually must show that the defendant intentionally performed some action, and the action was prohibited by law; but prosecutors ordinarily need not show that the defendant knew the conduct at issue was illegal or specifically intended to violate the law. However, Section 242 imposes criminal liability for constitutional violations, and courts examining the “broad and fluid definitions of due process” may interpret the Constitution to protect rights not expressly enumerated in the Constitution or prior court decisions. In those circumstances, the plurality observed, “Those who enforced local law today might not know for many months (and meanwhile could not find out) whether what they did deprived some one of due process of law.” In the view of the Screws plurality, such a construction would raise serious vagueness concerns:

Under that test a local law enforcement officer violates [Section 242] and commits a federal offense for which he can be sent to the penitentiary if he does an act which some court later holds deprives a person of due process of law. And he is a criminal though his motive was pure and though his purpose was unrelated to the disregard of any constitutional guarantee.

To avoid that result, the plurality concluded that in a Section 242 case the prosecution must prove the defendant had “a specific intent to deprive a person of a federal right made definite by decision or other rule of law.” Such a defendant cannot assert a lack of notice because he “is aware that what he does is precisely that which the statute forbids.” However, the plurality explained, the defendant’s “purpose need not be expressed; it may at times be reasonably inferred from all the circumstances attendant on the act.”

Criminal Harassment under Color of Law, colored or painted as Law Enforcement activities including use of undercover assets is a federal crime when it interferes with federally protected rights, the home is one, medical privacy is one, and use of libraries and reading and writing is one as First Amendment rights as are Free Exercise and association.

18 USC 241, 242, and 269 protect against criminal harassment of protected rights by private parties, and also protect against religious harassment.

Ed Donegan asserts carefully planned smear campaigns asserting he is a danger to the children in the library creates the pretext to harass Ed Donegan's usage of this and ohter libraries and the scheme is done to prevent and harass his book writing now that he already lost housing and home office under previous smear campaign schemes documented in his books.

Edward Paul Donegan asserts when sufficiently smeared any manufactured pretext for illegal removal from the library will be accepted in Conspiracy Against his Rights, thus the smear campaign creates the foundations of a sham eviction.

Though not citing it here in relations to public library usage Edward Paul Donegan asserts his book that is being harassed by interference with the dependencies of conditions to write it are the Exposing Deceptions in Government mechanism of fighting a terror plot and supression of the book aid and abet the corrupt plot in government including radtiological attacks asserted by himself and others and the Abuse of Power of corrupt High and Petty officials is harrassing him and his book for corrupt reasons and illegally under any justification.

The first provision one finds in Title 18 of the United States Code regards accessories to crime. Title 18, United States Code § 2 now provides:

> 1. Whoever commits an offense against the United States or aids, abets, counsels, commands, induces or procures its commission, is punishable as a principal.

2. Whoever willfully causes an act to be done which if directly performed by him or another would be an offense against the United States, is punishable as a principal.

Aider and abettor liability is distinct from accessory after the fact under 18 U.S.C. § 3. United States v. James, 998 F.2d 74, 80 (2d Cir.), cert. denied, 510 U.S. 958, 114 S.Ct. 415, 126 L.Ed.2d 362 (1993). An aider and abettor, unlike an accessory after the fact, is punishable as a principal. Id.

Ed Donegan asserts these should be or might be or are aggravating factors

That the crime is committed against an Elder by a caregiver thus exploiting a positon of power to comet sexual abuse, that the attack is intended to incite or provoke or force violent fights, that the sexual abuse was in furtherance of other felonies or other abuses, that the sexual abuse is part of a scheme to by the conduct of the offense leave the victim of the abuse incapacitated from other activities including abuse designed to interfere with other protected activity, that the attack is done to harm in the course of Obstruction of Justice a witness to a crime, that the abuse conducted in conspiracy by conspirators is done where the State interest against the Conspiracy is at its zenith, in matter of national security, the the felony comitted under the Conspiracy Against Rights is by Felony Intent part of the activity of Treason or other egregious crimes.

That the scheme is used on behalf of a Foreign Power or international NGO. Note Treason DOES NOT HAVE THIS REQUIREMENT, ONLY TAKING UP ARMS. That the Conspirators used secret writing schemes for 33 and Finest Hour to indicate international connections and meeting the definition of Ex Parte Quirin of a secret writing scheme to avoid detection.

That the crime involves acts of terror against the Criminal Justive System and or government officials or obstruction of justice. Ed Donegan asserts a conspiracy against Irish Roman Catholic or Roman Catholic officials such as to alter the policy of the USA into a course those officials would not permit.

That the State is victim of War-like acts, the Constitution and its provisionsd are subcerted as a matter of process of substance or both.

An aggravation is that Jen Moore's Homicide and other homicides protected the scheme, that US Government officials and members of the military and members of the press corp were killed including published authors, and that plans and schemes used Foreign actors inside the US and elsewhere to bolster foreign interests of for the attainment of profits including lavish profits or repugnant profits in repugnant markets.

That the crime involves poisoning food, terrorist devices such as radogovca; attack, assertions Ed Donegan, Ted Gunderson, and others make. That use of weapons such as shooting out windows or pointing of loaded weapons at a stalk victim or expressive terrorist threat statements or acts buil on pretext or protected by plausible deniability, or that the conspriacy is meant to incite violence from the conspiracy victim or towards the conspiracy victim.

18 U.S. Code § 373 - Solicitation to commit a crime of violence https://www.law.cornell.edu/uscode/text/18/373

1. Whoever, with intent that another person engage in conduct constituting a felony that has as an element the use, attempted use, or threatened use of physical force against property or against the person of another in violation of the laws of the United States, and under circumstances strongly corroborative of that intent, solicits, commands, induces, or otherwise endeavors to persuade such other person to engage in such conduct, shall be imprisoned not more than one-half the maximum term of imprisonment or (notwithstanding section 3571) fined not more than one-half of the maximum fine prescribed for the punishment of the crime solicited, or both; or if the crime solicited is punishable by life imprisonment or death, shall be imprisoned for not more than twenty years.

2. It is an affirmative defense to a prosecution under this section that, under circumstances manifesting a voluntary and complete renunciation of his criminal intent, the defendant prevented the commission of the crime solicited. A renunciation is not "voluntary and complete" if it is motivated in whole or in part by a decision to postpone the commission of the crime until another time or to substitute another victim or another but similar objective. If the defendant raises the affirmative defense at trial, the defendant has the burden of proving the defense by a preponderance of the evidence.

3. It is not a defense to a prosecution under this section that the person solicited could not be convicted of the crime because he lacked the state of mind required for its commission, because he was incompetent or irresponsible, or because he is immune from prosecution or is not subject to prosecution.

> Crimes of violence intended to intimidate and coerce are considered terrorism under federal law, see 18 U.S.C. § 2331, and the laws of many states, and threats to commit such crimes are not protected by the First Amendment.

discredited; discrediting; discredits

Discredit means to cause mistrust or cast the accuracy of something into doubt. If you say that schooling is important to you, but you never study, your actions discredit you and your words.

You discredit what someone says when you choose not to believe it. You can discredit the rumors going around about your boyfriend if you are sure of his love. On a more personal level, you discredit people when you cast their authority or reputation into doubt. If you're running a tough race for class president, your opponent may try to discredit you by talking about your failures or even making up lies about you. But this would be to the discredit of your opponent - his or her own reputation would suffer for this bad behavior.

1. n. the state of being held in low esteem "your actions will bring discredit to your name" synonyms: disrepute

2. v. damage the reputation of "This newspaper story discredits the politicians" synonyms: disgrace

3. v. reject as false; refuse to accept synonyms: disbelieve

4. v. cause to be distrusted or disbelieved

I. INTERESTS PROTECTED

The Fourth Amendment of the U.S. Constitution provides that "[t]he right of the people to be secure in their persons, houses, papers, and effects, against unreasonable searches and seizures, shall not be violated, and no Warrants shall issue, but upon probable cause, supported by Oath or affirmation, and particularly describing the place to be searched, and the persons or things to be seized."

The ultimate goal of this provision is to protect people's right to privacy and freedom from unreasonable intrusions by the government. However, the Fourth Amendment does not guarantee protection from all searches and seizures, but only those done by the government and deemed unreasonable under the law.

To claim violation of Fourth Amendment as the basis for suppressing a relevant evidence, the court had long required that the claimant must prove that he himself was the victim of an invasion of privacy to have a valid standing to claim protection under the Fourth Amendment. However, the Supreme Court has departed from such requirement, issue of exclusion is to be determined solely upon a resolution of the substantive question whether the claimant's Fourth Amendment rights have been violated, which in turn requires that the claimant demonstrates a justifiable expectation of privacy, which was arbitrarily violated by the government.

In general, most warrantless searches of private premises are prohibited under the Fourth Amendment, unless specific exception applies. For instance, a warrantless search may be lawful, if an officer has asked and is given consent to search; if the search is incident to a lawful arrest; if there is probable cause to search and there is exigent circumstance calling for the warrantless search. Exigent circumstances exist in situations where a situation where people are in imminent danger, where evidence faces imminent destruction, or prior to a suspect's imminent escape.

On the other hand, warrantless search and seizure of properties are not illegal, if the objects being searched are in plain view. Further, warrantless seizure of abandoned property, or of properties on an open field do not violate Fourth Amendment, because it is considered that having expectation of privacy right to an abandoned property or to properties on an open field is not reasonable.

However, in some states, there are some exception to this limitation, where some state authorities have granted protection to open fields. States can always establish higher standards for searches and seizures protection than what is required by the Fourth Amendment, but states cannot allow conducts that violate the Fourth Amendment.

Where there was a violation of one's fourth amendment rights by federal officials, A bivens action can be filed against federal law enforcement officials for damages, resulting from an unlawful search and seizure. Under the Bivens action, the claimant needs to prove that there has been a constitutional violation of the fourth amendment rights by federal officials acting under the color of law.

However, the protection under the Fourth Amendment can be waived if one voluntarily consents to or does not object to evidence collected during a warrantless search or seizure.

II. SEARCHES AND SEIZURES UNDER FOURTH AMENDMENT

The courts must determine what constitutes a search or seizure under the Fourth Amendment. If the conduct challenged does not fall within the Fourth Amendment, the individual will not enjoy protection under Fourth Amendment.

A. Search

A search under Fourth Amendment occurs when a governmental employee or agent of the government violates an individual's reasonable expectation of privacy.

Strip searches and visual body cavity searches, including anal or genital inspections, constitute reasonable searches under the Fourth Amendment when supported by probable cause and conducted in a reasonable manner.

A dog-sniff inspection is invalid under the Fourth Amendment if the the inspection violates a reasonable expectation of privacy. Electronic surveillance is also considered a search under the Fourth Amendment.

B. Seizure of a Person

A seizure of a person, within the meaning of the Fourth Amendment, occurs when the police's conduct would communicate to a reasonable person, taking into account the circumstances surrounding the encounter, that the person is not free to ignore the police presence and leave at his will.

Two elements must be present to constitute a seizure of a person. First, there must be a show of authority by the police officer. Presence of handcuffs or weapons, the use of forceful language, and physical contact are each strong indicators of authority. Second, the person being seized must submit to the authority. An individual who ignores the officer's request and walks away has not been seized for Fourth Amendment purposes.

An arrest warrant is preferred but not required to make a lawful arrest under the Fourth Amendment. A warrantless arrest may be justified where probable cause and urgent need are present prior to the arrest. Probable cause is present when the police officer has a reasonable belief in the guilt of the suspect based on the facts and information prior to the arrest. For instance, a warrantless arrest may be legitimate in situations where a police officer has a probable belief that a suspect has either committed a crime or is a threat to the public security. Also, a police officer might arrest a suspect to prevent the suspect's escape or to preserve evidence. A warrantless arrest may be invalidated if the police officer fails to demonstrate exigent circumstances.

The ability to make warrantless arrests are commonly limited by statutes subject to the due process guaranty of the U.S. Constitution. A suspect arrested without a warrant is entitled to prompt judicial determination, usually within 48 hours.

There are investigatory stops that fall short of arrests, but nonetheless, they fall within Fourth Amendment protection. For instance, police officers can perform a terry stop or a traffic stop. Usually, these stops provide officers with less dominion and controlling power and impose less of an infringement of personal liberty for individual stopped. Investigatory stops must be temporary questioning for limited purposes and conducted in a manner necessary to fulfill the purpose.

An officer's reasonable suspicion is sufficient to justify brief stops and detentions. To determine if the officer has met the standard to justify the seizure, the court takes into account the totality of the circumstances and examines whether the officer has a particularized and reasonable belief for suspecting the wrongdoing. Probable cause gained during stops or detentions might effectuate a subsequent warrantless arrest.

C. Seizure of Property

A seizure of property, within the meaning of the Fourth Amendment, occurs when there is some meaningful interference with an individual's possessory interests in the property.

In some circumstances, warrantless seizures of objects in plain view do not constitute seizures within the meaning of Fourth Amendment. When executing a search warrant, an officer might be able to seize an item observed in plain view even if it is not specified in the warrant.

III. WARRANT REQUIREMENT

A search or seizure is generally unreasonable and illegal without a warrant, subject to only a few exceptions.

To obtain a search warrant or arrest warrant, the law enforcement officer must demonstrate probable cause that a search or seizure is justified. A court-authority, usually a magistrate, will consider the totality of circumstances to determine whether to issue the warrant.

The warrant requirement may be excused in exigent circumstances if an officer has probable cause and obtaining a warrant is impractical in the particular situation. For instance, in State v. Helmbright, 990 N.E.2d 154, Ohio court held that a warrantless search of probationer's person or his place of residence is not violation of the Fourth Amendment, if the officer who conducts the search possesses "reasonable grounds" to believe that the probationer has failed to comply with the terms of his probation.

Other well-established exceptions to the warrant requirement include consensual searches, certain brief investigatory stops, searches incident to a valid arrest, and seizures of items in plain view.

There is no general exception to the Fourth Amendment warrant requirement in national security cases. Warrantless searches are generally not permitted in exclusively domestic security cases. In foreign security cases, court opinions might differ on whether to accept the foreign security exception to the warrant requirement generally and, if accepted, whether the exception should extend to both physical searches and to electronic surveillances.

IV. REASONABLENESS REQUIREMENT

All searches and seizures under Fourth Amendment must be reasonable. No excessive force shall be used. Reasonableness is the ultimate measure of the constitutionality of a search or seizure. Searches and seizures with the warrant must also satisfy the reasonableness requirement.

On the other hand, warrantless searches and seizures are presumed to be unreasonable, unless they fall within the few exceptions.

In cases of warrantless searches and seizures, the court will try to balance the degree of intrusion on the individual's right to privacy and the need to promote government interests and special needs in exigent circumstances. The court will examine the totality of the circumstances to determine if the search or seizure was justified. When analyzing the reasonableness standard, the court uses an objective assessment and considers factors including the degree of intrusion by the search or seizure and the manner in which the search or seizure is conducted.

V. EXCLUSIONARY RULE

Under the exclusionary rule, any evidence obtained in violation of the Fourth Amendment will be excluded from criminal proceedings. There are a few exceptions to this rule.

VI. ELECTRONIC SURVEILLANCE

In recent years, the Fourth Amendment's applicability in electronic searches and seizures has received much attention from the courts. With the advent of the internet and increased popularity of computers, there has been an increasing amount of crime occurring electronically. Consequently, evidence of such crime can often be found on computers, hard drives, or other electronic devices. The Fourth Amendment applies to the search and seizure of electronic devices.

Many electronic search cases involve whether law enforcement can search a company-owned computer that an employee uses to conduct business. Although the case law is split, the majority holds that employees do not have a legitimate expectation of privacy with regard to information stored on a company-owned computer. In the 2010 case of City of Ontario v. Quon (08-1332), the Supreme Court extended this lack of an expectation of privacy to text messages sent and received on an employer-owned pager.

Lately, electronic surveillance and wiretapping has also caused a significant amount of Fourth Amendment litigation.

VII. THE USA PATRIOT ACT

Following the September 11, 2001 attacks on the World Trade Center and the Pentagon, Congress and the President enacted legislation to strengthen the intelligence gathering community's ability to combat domestic terrorism. Entitled the USA Patriot Act, the legislation's provisions aimed to increase the ability of law enforcement to search email and telephonic communications in addition to medical, financial, and library records.

One provision permits law enforcement to obtain access to stored voicemails by obtaining a basic search warrant rather than a surveillance warrant. Obtaining a basic search warrant requires a much lower evidentiary showing. A highly controversial provision of the Act includes permission for law enforcement to use sneak-and-peak warrants. A sneak-and-peak warrant is a warrant in which law enforcement can delay notifying the property owner about the warrant's issuance. In an Oregon federal district court case that drew national attention, Judge Ann Aiken struck down the use of sneak-and-peak warrants as unconstitutional and in violation of the Fourth Amendment. See 504 F.Supp.2d 1023 (D. Or. 2007).

The Patriot Act also expanded the practice of using National Security Letters (NSL). An NSL is an administrative subpoena that requires certain persons, groups, organizations, or companies to provide documents about certain persons. These documents typically involve telephone, email, and financial records. NSLs also carry a gag order, meaning the person or persons responsible for complying cannot mention the existence of the NSL. Under the Patriot Act provisions, law enforcement can use NSLs when investigating U.S. citizens, even when law enforcement does not think the individual under investigation has committed a crime. The Department of Homeland Security has used NSLs frequently since its inception. By using an NSL, an agency has no responsibility to first obtain a warrant or court order before conducting its search of records.

Another aspect of the Patriot Act, which has been highly confidential was the Telephone Metadata program, which under § 215 of the Patriot Act, had allowed the NSA to collect data about Americans' telephone calls in bulk, was reviewed by the Second Circuit in ACLU v. Clapper, in which the court held the Telephone Metadata program illegal under the Congress' original intent under the §215.

The Patriot Act has expired in mid-2015, and since June 2nd, 2015 has been repackaged under the USA Freedom Act. Although it remains to be seen how the Freedom Act will be interpreted, with respect to the Fourth Amendment protections, the new Act selectively re-authorized the Patriot Act, while banning the bulk collection of data of American's telephone records and internet metadata and limited the government's data collection to the "greatest extent reasonably practical" meaning the government now cannot collect all data pertaining to a particular service provider or broad geographic region.

VIII. FORTH AMENDMENT AND SUPERVISED RELEASE/PAROLE

Probationers-convicted criminal offender who is released into the community under supervision of a probation officer in lieu of incarceration; or parolees-convicts who have served a portion of his judicially imposed sentence in penal institutions, and is released for the remainder of the sentence under supervision of a parole officer for good behavior-can also assert fourth amendment rights, creating a potential confrontation between fundamental constitutional guarantee and the society's legitimate interest in correctional programs to prevent the convicts from lapsing back into a crime.

Traditionally, courts have struggled with various theories of parole and probation to justify the complete denial of fourth amendment rights to the convicts on supervised release or probation. The most prevalent of the theories was the "Custody Theory," under which an offender was said to be entitled to no more liberty than he would have enjoyed had he been incarcerated. Recently, however, this rationale was rejected by Morrissey v. Brewer, which emphasized that the parolee's status more closely resembles that of an ordinary citizen than a prisoner. While the Court noted that since parole revocation only changed the type of penalty imposed on an already-convicted criminal, the Court need not afford the parolees "the full panoply of rights" available under the fourteenth amendment to a free man facing criminal prosecution, the Court held that certain procedural protections must be guaranteed to the parolees facing revocation of the parole. In general, the released offenders now have been afforded full Fourth Amendment protection with respect to searches performed by the law enforcement officials, and warrantless searches conducted by correctional officers at the request of the police have also been declared unlawful.

However, in reviewing the searches undertaken by the correctional officers on their own initiative, some courts have modified the traditional Fourth Amendment protections to accommodate the correctional officers' informational needs, developing a modified "Reasonable Belief" standard, under which the correctional officer is permitted to make a showing of less than probable cause in order to justify the intrusion of privacy into the released offender.

I believe Salvation Army and or others “slammed” into being surrounded by them as neighbors and land lords by abuse of process and even if surrounded my lease was correct and exact and in my name solely and had no custodial terms of any middle agency administering the lease or alteration of its terms, and even if so violating any lease with fabricated adversarial data and records is an offense against the lease and regular accounting.

My position in a normal world and also in the world I am in (a corrupt world) should and does make sense.

First of all what has happened and for emphasis sake I will use at the time of Jen Moore’s death or I could go back 30 years before that or the five years since.

In Los Angeles County at the Bay in the walk of Santa Monica, Venice and Manhattan Beach all next to each other a mile or two of beach strip for each Hispanic undocumented (they did say so in this example but it happens so often I will ask readers of this to presume it true) shout in anger “You don’t belong here!!” and this after teens were all over the place being gambits, sexualized female minors, who in being exploited and exploited near me form the basis of the discrediting of me, and the victim payments or protection racket payments to immigrant families, criminals, and many others.

For years I exploded in rage saying I belonged, they didn’t, and threatened them for the fake image of me they were creating. But I was also creating a fake appearance of me as they were baiting. I have said no background check for any immigrant, build the wall in advance, and full citizenship for all US and undocumenteds all under a fresh start just the same.

If I attack and threaten the race baiters I seem the person those fighting White Supremacy want to be a threat to illegals.

The State should back me against crime and me being assaulted but more so the State wants to look legitimate in harrassing me, and they need me to look violent

In Corpus Christi I looked up how to cope with delusional people. I had had it wrong. I was told when my mother was said to be delusional not to re-inforce the delusion. So I was threating these fakers. I have tried since then not to fight them, but I do try occasionally to call them out as the what exactly they mean when the create ambiguous statements they hope will help defraud and assault me with.

The police are backing the criminals, undocumenteds, and violent pscychotics and racketeers. That would not be happening except that the allegations these who are protected by society are making against me provide them some cover to do so.

The core scheme to discredit me is that a double of me often using my stolen identity or forged identity others will go along with beats me out to a woman and while with her while tied up confesses to being retarded, a child molester, etc., and then asks his (my) trust fund to payout to keep him out of trouble.

Few would directly in the USA say we don't like tips to Inforwars or web sites or radio programs like that, or right wing views, of criticism of the USA and its belovpoled police or politicians, or the libraries itself and few or openly banned on that basis.

I have cited in law suits Brown V. Socialist Workers Party Campaign Committee a case that reached the US Supreme Court. The Supreme Court ruled finance laws requiring showing who the donors sercet kept the super rich from having the currently elected Congressman, Senator, or President on funing leash, or at least if so that would be public information.

A small party weilding and peddling no governmental power was able to protect donors from public discloure because the small unpopular party needed to rent office space, operate buinsess and poltiical offices, etc., and the donors would be subject to retaliation. A secret donors list for a minor party was not a threat to corruption but disclosing donors was risk of a minor party to communique its thoughts to the public in campaigns, thus the donor disclosure law was relaxed.

In my case publicly and fraudulent treating me as a pedophile on a hunt for children to harm is both noxios to using my work environment an dangerous to my being able to get office space or conditions to use office equipment.

Child abuse planted stories, rumors, or actors are a threat to the First Amendment. It is a toxicity to my current and future presence in a home or public office and I will show the toxifying of my use of these locations is in lockstep with high ranking officials like Burns, Mueller, Barr, Obama Jr., and others tied to a long term plan for the USA.

HARPYIAI

THE HARPYIAI (Harpies) were the spirits (daimones) of sudden, sharp gusts of wind. They were known as the hounds of Zeus and were despatched by the god to snatch away (harpazô) people and things from the earth. Sudden, mysterious dissappearances were often attributed to the Harpyiai.

The Harpyiai were once sent by Zeus to plague King Phineus of Thrake (Thrace) as punishment for revealing the secrets of the gods. Whenever a plate of food was set before him, the Harpyiai would swoop down and snatch it away, befouling any scraps left behind. When the Argonauts came to visit, the winged Boreades gave chase, and pursued the Harpies to the Strophades Islands, where the goddess Iris commanded them to turn back and leave the storm-spirits unharmed.

The Harpyiai were depicted as winged women, sometimes with ugly faces, or with the lower bodies of birds.

In Greek mythology and Roman mythology, a harpy (plural harpies, Ancient Greek: ἅρπυια, romanized: hárpyia,[1][2] pronounced [hárpyːa]; Latin: harpȳia[citation needed]) is a half-human and half-bird personification of storm winds. They feature in Homeric poems.[3]

Harpies were generally depicted as birds with the heads of maidens, faces pale with hunger and long claws on their hands. Roman and Byzantine writers detailed their ugliness.[4] Pottery art depicting the harpies featured beautiful women with wings. Ovid described them as human-vultures.[5]

The most celebrated story in which the harpies play a part is that of King Phineus of Thrace, who was given the gift of prophecy by Zeus. Angry that Phineus gave away the god's secret plan, Zeus punished him by blinding him and putting him on an island with a buffet of food which he could never eat because the harpies always arrived to steal the food out of his hands before he could satisfy his hunger. Later writers add that they either devoured the food themselves, or that they dirtied it by dropping upon it some stinking substance, so as to render it unfit to be eaten.

This continued until the arrival of Jason and the Argonauts.

All sorts intrude on my normal activities and normal spaces for hostile acts towards me expressing I am a predator, retarded, etc.,

When I toured Russia or what was the USSR with my family it and literature and observations and theories of Marxism and Communism led to a lifetime discussion of Central Planning in my family including btw use of it by the US Military.

The concept in budgeting and objectives in the Cold War was winning the 2st Century and some families in on that plan are participating generation after generation and have not disclosed how the plan related to the Kennedy assasination.

I asssert Abuse of Power in the harrassment of my book.

A number of years ago, four or five from 2023, I had been in Austin and did not fall for but documented being the victim of what I will now call Double Unequal Protection Compounded, a scheme in which an already preposterous and fabricated character assassination especially on am emotional or safety subject will be used as a pretext to attack a right the Constitution guarantees and is needed for the liberty of the citizen and protection of the republic the First Amendment being one such right as it applies to safe use of libraries to read and write.

In the Austin Public Library 2022 and 2023 I had warned them I was being harassed by a government program and gave them a copy of my book, not rights to it, and printed paperwork a Long Con was underway.

I was hoping they knew some book distributors, had some contacts, knowledge of the industry such they get refer me to some publishers or lawyers, copywriters, self publish kits, getting your book into APL library guidelines, etc.,

The library refused to respond to me and joined the Stalk of me in that they treated me like a predator as I was elsewhere who was in the vicinity of children that were place near me. People cackling at me as though we together (and me in a false sense of security) are laughing about how sexy those young tots are, etc.,

In fact usually a dopple of me will use a camera often a long focus high power lens to photograph a child near me when I have a low power cell phone and might have taken the same shot. Deep fake of various kinds make it look like at the public library, libraries before the Austin Public Library, that I am a peeping tom who and one who prefers children.

Fist of all the children are often Hispanic and from very low income criminal record and immigrant families that were near me or were move to near me in Corpus Christi. These children were safer around me than their families and for instance when one moved next door to me at 1513 Ocean Drive I let the parents know they could call me if they had some problem getting home late, or some kind of issue came up like their child lost an apartment key come to my door. The parents were rude to me and used their children to stage I was a peeping tom as they did drug, committed crimes, fought violently, etc., and that was not the would be uncle or grandpa neighbor I offered to be.

But making me seem a threat to children at a library is sort of like making the author in the town a bunch of crazy one mile over the speed limit tickets until he can not afford license fees to get to the library anymore.

Smearing me on the collateral issue and saying it is a lateral issue that does mean something allows the library to get away with banning me from the library on the phony allegations because people will back the phony allegations of something else IF doing so allows the phony reason keeping a child molester out to work.

This complex Conspiracy Against Rights is the Office Mob Rumor Mongering designed to destroy office reputations, get people fired from jobs, banned from the library, etc.,

So APL told me they were shutting me down for using my hotplate warmer to put cold compresses on my neck carbuncle. Others plug in coffee pots, etc., but using unequal protection on the warmer plate issue was bolstered by the phony allegation of me stalking children that not true but because believed worked for the hotplate ban.

This “politicaly motivated” smear job at the library left me vulnerable to be evicted on a sham.

I have long quoted, read, and loved Areopagitica and numerous other works of John Milton who also authored Paradise Lost a Thomas Jefferson favorite and equally as often confused him with Dante Alighieri Italian author of the Italian language work The Divine Comedy that when translated into English is as traumatic to the student reader as John Milton’s English language poetry.

Thus I was spared some confusion when I began reading The Best Poems of the English Language from Chaucer through Frost.

Robert Lee Frost was an American poet. His work was initially published in England before it was published in the United States. Wikipedia Born: March 26, 1874, San Francisco, CA

In the Halcyon Coffee shop in downtown Austin and its deco decorations and old typewriter perhaps from the 1920s to 1960s was there, and dry aquarium, perhaps glass ashtray, and a planted false plant casually lifted by this very book about the great English language poets.

> …books are not absolutely dead things, but do contain a potency of life in them to be as active as that soul was whose progeny they are; nay, they do preserve as in a vial the purest efficacy and extraction of that living intellect that bred them. I know they are as lively, and as vigorously productive, as those fabulous dragon’s teeth: and being sown up and down, may chance to spring up armed men. And yet, on the other hand, > unless wariness be used, as good almost kill a man as kill a good book: who kills a man kills a reasonable creature, God's image; but he who destroys a good book, kills reason itself, kills the image of God, as it were, in the eye.

Often to avoid deeper looks into the context of the larger quote a shorter one is used even more effectively, avoiding Milton's rhetorical dancing around pagan and protestant and catholic thoughts and quarrels in the very Parliament he was directing his orator in foil to. "He who kills a man kills a reasonable creature, but he who destroys a good book kills reason itself".

This is precisly why the likes of Thomas Jefferson to legal minds in the Judiciary continue to quote from and rely on the works of Milton.

Our First Amendment when protecting books protect the Age of Reason and in the Age of Reason self government because our government officials become accountable to the writers exercising their speech rights under the First Amendment to expose deceptions in Government.

Since I was first at the Faulk Austin Public Library years ago and children were all around book carousels, etc., and odd goings on were underway my brother and many others have died and several presidential elections have occurred and terms carried out, with William Pellham Barr as Attorney General among in my mind many other series problems.

I have attempted to reason with the library on Conspiracy Against Rights including the First Amendment right repeatedly to no avail.

I believe the sham abusive treatment of me by its architects using dupes and dirty tricks can and will be finally exposed as hostility towards what the real story of my books is, the Deep

State corrupt officials who fear being written about and use sham investigations to stop and undermine those like myself.

Such honour was done in those dayes to men who profest the study of wisdome and eloquence, not only in their own Country, but in other Lands, that Cities and Siniories heard them gladly, and with great respect, if they had aught in publick to admonish the State. Thus did Dion Prusæus, a stranger and a privat Orator counsell the Rhodians against a former Edict: and I abound with other like examples, which to set heer would be superfluous. But if from the industry of a life wholly dedicated to studious labours, and those naturall endowments haply not the worst for two and fifty degrees of northern latitude, so much must be derogated, as to count me not equall to any of those who had this priviledge, I would obtain to be thought not so inferior, as your selves are superior to the most of them who receiv'd their counsell: and how farre you excell them, be assur'd, Lords and Commons, there can no greater testimony appear, then when your prudent spirit acknowledges and obeyes the voice of reason from what quarter soever it be heard speaking; and renders ye as willing to repeal any Act of your own setting forth, as any set forth by your Predecessors.

I believe the fact pattern in considered shows that the Government interest in harassing me is the Corrupt Official abusing power of office to undermine my criticism of the corrupt elements of US Government.

Tom Dunham and I have encountered the same pattern of sham investigation sham allegation smear campaign and often times it has intertwined himself and I and itself.

The larger pattern has been faked stage public appearances he and I or we are in child or teen exploitation ring, comments are made to him and I usually publicly but always provocatively (looking for a fight over the allegation) that we ARE part of a child-teen-minors exploitation ring.

Upon he or I pointing obviously acting teen bait for a pedophile trap State actors launch on the fact we have noticed “provocatively dressed minors” and the prophecy is fulfilled he or I are on the prowl for such teens noticing them when they are near.

The First Amendment’s right to freedom of expression encompasses intellectual freedom, which includes an individual’s right to receive information on a wide range of topics from a variety of viewpoints.

Library Bill of Rights affirms protection of First Amendment freedoms

Publicly funded libraries play an important role in facilitating free and open access to information. In 1948, the American Library Association promulgated the Library Bill of Rights, which affirms the principle that libraries protect the First Amendment and intellectual freedom.

As agents of the state, public librarians and state and local governing boards make and implement library policy under the Tenth Amendment's recognition of state powers to protect the health, safety, welfare, and morals of their citizens. Setting library policy includes deciding what material to include in the collection, developing guidelines on library Internet use, and protecting patron confidentiality.

Removing library material based on content may amount to censorship

Librarians and their governing boards have wide discretion when selecting library material. Such decisions are typically influenced by the library's mission, funding, available space, and other factors. Once material is included in a collection it can be removed for several reasons. For example, librarians legitimately can remove outdated, damaged, or unused material. These decisions are content neutral.

Removing library material solely on the basis of its content may amount to censorship in violation of the First Amendment.

Public school libraries are particularly vulnerable to challenges regarding library material because schools educate children and instill in them community values.

Most frequest requests to ban books have to do with protecting children

Public libraries also face these challenges, but to a much lesser extent. Members of a community can object to library material they consider inappropriate on the basis of their religious, political, or other beliefs.

Most challenges are made by those opposed to a specific book, such as The Adventures of Huckleberry Finn, or a category of subject matter, such as homosexuality. The most frequent challenges are from parents, and the most frequent reasons for these challenges are claims that the material either is sexually explicit or contains obscene or offensive language to which they do not want their children exposed.

School libraries cannot remove books for political reasons

Although challenges have increased since the 1950s, few end up in court (see Burress 1989; American Library Association, “Challenges”). However, there are legal precedents for resolving these challenges.

In Board of Education, Island Trees Union Free School District v. Pico (1982), a plurality of Supreme Court justices affirmed that students have a First Amendment right to receive information and school boards cannot remove books from school libraries for political reasons. The Court did add that school boards could remove books that were “pervasively vulgar.”

Public librarians may regulate Internet use to protect minors from indecent material

Providing Internet access in libraries also poses problems. It is expensive, and many libraries must rely on federal funding to purchase and install computers and to maintain Internet access. Limited physical space can force libraries to place Internet access computers in areas where children can view inappropriate material that adults have a First Amendment right to access.

Public officials have the power to regulate library Internet use to protect minors from viewing inappropriate material, but doing so entails placing content-based restrictions on Internet use. At the end of 2007, 21 states had enacted Internet filtering laws that apply to public schools and libraries. These laws vary in their scope and content.

Content-based Internet restrictions must be narrowly tailored Congress has also enacted several laws to protect minors from accessing indecent and inappropriate material via the Internet. To pass First Amendment muster, these content-based restrictions must be narrowly tailored to serve a legitimate government interest. Not all laws have passed this test. However, in United States v. American Library Association (2003), the Supreme Court upheld the part of the Children’s Internet Protection Act of 2000 that requires libraries to install filters on Internet computers in order to qualify for federal funding and discounts for computers and computer access.

Privacy of a patron's library records is important to intellectual freedom

Without a reasonable expectation of privacy regarding the material they check out of a library and their Internet use in a library, individuals' intellectual freedom is compromised. But sometimes such expectation of privacy can conflict with government attempts to protect national security.

For example, although the USA Patriot Act prohibits investigations that intrude on First Amendment rights, Title 18 of the U.S. Code, section 2709, grants the Federal Bureau of Investigation authority to issue national security letters requiring the recipients (including corporations, doctors, or libraries) to turn over business, medical, and other personal information pertaining to their clients.

The act encompasses records of library patrons' Internet use and other personal information. Section 2709(c) places a "gag order" on the recipients, precluding them from disclosing the fact that they received the letters.

In May of 2008, members of the American Civil Liberties Union and the Electronic Frontier Foundation were able to use a 2006 amendment to the Patriot Act protecting libraries to get the Federal Bureau of Investigation to withdraw a national security letter that it had issued to the Internet Archive.

THE HIDDEN EVIL: THE FINANCIAL ELITE'S COVERT WAR AGAINST THE CIVILIAN POPULATION

By Mark Rich

If most people knew that a handful of unelected people were running their government they would probably be outraged. While most members of some of these elite organizations may not be aware of their true objectives, there is an inner- core that is.

This [hidden black opps mafia] organized crime network prefers to remain behind the scenes. But its existence is not completely hidden.

By incident, or accident, people such as targeted individuals, corporate/government whistleblowers, and others, have directly experienced how government really works [utilizing criminal acts and espionage allies] and who [as very high ranking public officials] controls it. Their experience on the front lines has given them insights into impending situations that the general population is not yet aware of. [nor is the public aware of how many illegal rackets and illegal markets are under direct control of profit seeking mafia abusing non-investigatory Targets or their property or their reputations or their health or publications or books that are victim statements.]

Their potential enemies are placed under constant surveillance by the security forces and attacked with silent and traceless directed-energy weapons that leave no visible injury. These attacks are combined with psychological warfare used to inflict recurrent emotional pain.

Use of Blacklisting is a main tool of destroying lives and credibility often staged compromising appearaces then talking them up behind the vicitims back in the office, etc.,

Job opportunities will be trashed. Most Targeted Individuals are unemployed. Many would be in the street if it weren't for parents, siblings, or friends. Those who are employed are usually mobbed.

"Progressive financial impoverishment, [isl brought on by termination of the individual's employment, and compounded by expenses associated with the harassment," wrote McKinney. Most of the targeted individuals she was able to observe during her early investigations were mobbed out of employment by their coworkers.

There are blacklists and software packages used to check these lists for suspected terrorists and threats to national security. Apparently this is a flourishing business, according to the American Civil Liberties Union (ACLU).

Blacklisting has also been used on Russian dissidents. In his book, The Persecutor, Sergei Kourdakov, a member of the plain-clothed PeopWs Brigade, declared that once a person was targeted they could only get the worst jobs, if they were employed at all.1 To accomplish this, the government of the USSR used something called a workbook, which could advance or destroy careers. If you were cooperative with the state, your career could be very successful. If not, you would live in poverty.

In East Germany dissidents were blacklisted as well, and their careers were destroyed. After the wall came down they were allowed to inspect their files, and learned why they were unable to get jobs or enter into universities.

Targets may regularly experience acts of vandalism. Electronic equipment may fail or act strangely. People have reported this happening with electrical systems in their cars, brand new appliances, TVs, radios, PCs, and other electronic devices. Ongoing computer problems which do not follow any logical pattern may also occur. They include hardware and software issues that span from the file to the internet level.

Many times this vandalism is just below what you'd report to the police. For instance, a small but noticeable portion of your wall has been chipped off, and a crack has appeared in one of your windows. This may be restricted to minor vandalism, just to let you know that you're under surveillance.

However large-scale property damage is also done to homes and vehicles. Some people have reported that their pets die suddenly of a mysterious illness. Vandalism and pets being tortured may also be in retaliation for you taking action to expose them. "Automobiles are one of the biggest targets," said Moret.

People have reported that tires are slashed, oil is drained, windows are smashed, electronic components are tampered with, and breaks and clutches are sabotaged.

McKinney wrote: "Vehicles invite peculiarly ferocious attacks in these harassment campaigns - slashed tires, smashed windows, oil drainage, oil contamination, destruction of electronic components and batteries grounded fuel gauges" and "suddenly failed brakes and clutches," are common, as are recurrent auto thefts.

According to Moret and McKinney citizens are being used to conduct staged vehicular accidents. They are deliberately colliding with the vehicles of targeted individuals.

There is communication between the surveillance faction, citizen informant squads, and local businesses in the area. Obviously the managers of stores are contacted by a representative of this program, possibly by cell phone, pager, or walk-in, and told to prepare for the arrival of the TI. A picture or video of the targeted person may be shown to the participating staff.

The targeted individual may also be identified as he or she walks into the store. The IMs in East Germany communicated using non-verbal cues, so this is also a possibility. When the TI arrives, those who have been co-opted follow through with crowding and noise attacks.

They also work in unison with plain-clothed citizens to harass the targeted customer. Advanced electronic methods of communication, which are not commercially available, may be used by the coordinating faction to direct these citizens. Friends & Family Friends and family of targeted people are used to harass them. Identical tactics were used during Cointelpro. According to the book, War at Home by attorney Brian Glick, FBI records reveal frequent maneuvers to generate tension (harassment) on targeted people by recruiting their religious leaders, children, parents, landlords, and others into investigations.

What I have lived through (and may mother and father and brother did not)

Most agree Stalkers try to create un-peaceful conditions that a normal person will react to and appear abnormal when he or she does. The public does not believe the outcry, that a victims is being stalked and poisoned. Once in a pscyh ward the victim is either on ice, discredited, neutralized, and without a typewriter, or killed by the institutional staff and their snitch network. I could provide 7K examples of this system if my mind were able to remember all. I call stalking "Hearding." As Meadows points out once facing strange circumstances the rational mind will both report it and try to find its orginins. The Stalk is denied and the explanation is denied. What is left is an ordinary person asserting facts not believed about being stalked.

The stalked person is a Conspiracy Theorist trying to unravel conspiracies. Mine theory of the stalk and why leads to JKF Conspiracy Theories.

A not from Ed Donegan on this. I know I can't control what homeless person will kill me at any time nor what will be in my food I have watched being poisoned. This is true even if it's being done as a government experiment, which many targets suspect is happening. Occasionally, it's done by a sicko just to torture someone, but usually there's a reason. The program is designed to damage the target's credibility, as stated earlier, and to cause confusion and fear in the target so that they can't make any lucid accusations against wrong-doers, or are too distracted by the abuses to coherently attend to their day to day obligations.

More Cathy Meadows on Organized Stalk vicitms

They [Organized Stalkers] exist to terrorize people.

They are truly the representatives of the definition of domestic terrorism. However, they are not assassins, per se. Many targets think that the stalkers want to assassinate them but they will not.

Even if they want to it's not part of the program. They want to terrorize and sicken you, perhaps. They want to drive you to the physician's office, the psychiatrist's offce, and to the dental office but that's for monetary gain more then anything in the bigger picture.

That's the reason for everything that they do. If you can blow them off psychologically, and use self care, you'd be on the right track.

I spoke to a client recently who told me that he just gave up and thought that if they want to come after him they can have at it. He went to bed with all his doors unlocked and open and felt that if they killed him it would be a blessing. Well, they didn't. He's alive but the terrorism has gotten to him a little.

[Ed Donegan has had guns pointed at him at close range as he walked down the street calling 911 etcs, though the guns never fired live ammo I did see triggers pulled.

He [that client] unable to work because of the harassment.

They didn't kill him though and they never will. It's not part of the program. Remember that even with all the scare tactics, confusing antics, vandalism, street theater, etc., they won't kill you outright. They can cause damage through exposure to biological and chemical infectants, and through remote weapons but I'm not quite sure if they're wearing down the targets or building up their immune systems.

Take your vitamins and anti-inflammatories every day and in the end we'll see what the effects are. I already spoke of the physical and psychological effects of doing good, and doing evil and these are variables that the perpetrators of this brand of domestic terrorism haven't taken into account. We'll have to wait until it all pans out but personally, I know targets who are living very long lives.

Karen Stewart an Organized Stalk Victim

Karen Stewart, former NSA analyst, became a Victim Of organized stalking and electromagnetic weapon attacks after voicing complaints that credit for her work had been stolen, She has exposed that government counter-terrorism agencies are deliberately creating false dossiers on innocent Americans (targeted individuals) to implement criminal programs of organized stalking and electromagnetic torture. She has stated that the perpetrators involved include the FBI and NSA.

Mark Rich in his book Hidden Evil (undercover assailants)

"Organized Stalking is a form of terrorism used against an individual in a malicious attempt to reduce the quality of a person's life so they will: have a nervous break-down, become incarcerated, institutionalized, experience constant mental, emotional, or physical pain, become homeless, and/or commit suicide. This is done using well-orchestrated accusations, lies, rumors, bogus investigations, setups, framings, intimidation, overt or covert threats, vandalism, thefts, sabotage, torture, humiliation, emotional terror and general harassment.

It is a "ganging up" by members of the community who follow an organizer and participate in a systematic "terrorizing" of an individual." - Mark M. Rich

Programming

Assaults on ordinary citizens in ordinary lives may "program" them into hostility towards the US, its agencies attacking the Target, or other groups used to attack the Target, tensioning the relationship between the attackers and the attacked and I Ed Donegan assert the FBI wants me to look violent, irrational, a threat to sympathetic figures, etc., for the tense relations that arise from provocations.

The FBI's Fusion Centers are used by an government employees to block any benefit (such as police protection) that I may seek. I document many such instances online. The post traumatic stress that experienced in Viet Nam is also exploited by these ruthless thugs who send operatives into locations (like Fed Ex and public libraries, stores) to come up behind me and commit assault battery provocatively. Many articles on the topic of government stalking programs globally have been hacked and deleted by fbi/cia/mi6/mossad/surete/SS et. al to prevent the public from learning more about torture, forced suicide and assassination programs; gangstalking and murder events as excellently reported by Mr. Cliff Huylebroeck (and others) are deleted from the Internet by the same government hoodlums in the intelligence community. Fusion Centers (fc)

Fusion Centers are intended to feed data from FBI files to the agencies at city, state and federal levels in order to influence, prejudice and control responses to fbi Targets who may come in contact with authorities.

Federal Magistrate Judges (fmj)

They often issue orders on behalf of the FBI. These orders are based on the FBI's false representations, rumors, innuendos,[or stage appearances or forgeries often using evidence from an identity thief the FBI created to suit their non-investigatory but out of scope activity needs.]

KOMPROMAT (Compromising Material about a person that is fabricated political sabotage) is talked-up by undercover mobs who covertly add themselves into groups a person (who is the victim of KOMPROMAT) might join or be in, thus created a seeming

The term comes from office political smear campaigns but Ed Donegan and others have experience in housing and neighbors (hostile neighbors who will burgle rather than help protect a Target's apartment unit,) gym or volunteer groups, religious groups, or any area of life a Target my be involved in. Frequently the managers of those environments are approached about a Target and become dupes of the police who in fact are propagating sham investigations to simply raise doubts and clouds of suspicion.

A dopple of a person who acts in a NEGATIVE way can generate rumors the person imitated is a bad person, thus the rumors of the imitated person will cause people to reflexively reject the imitated person rather than accept the imitated person.

The fbi indoctrinates all authorities in the United States of America by the use of a cleverly designed system that brings fbi in direct contact with police, prosecutors, legislators and others for the purpose of control of all authorities. The method of fbi pervasive contact is referred to as liaison with FUSION CENTERS (i.e., FC) which are intended to feed data from fbi files to the agencies at city, state and federal levels in order to influence, prejudice and control responses to fbi Targets who may come in contact with authorities.

The streamlining of FC is well underway in order to Standardize globally all FC operations and in the words of the fbi 'to unify all government authority in a front against terrorism' and other national security and criminal threats that put Americans at risk.

The complexity of the FC system now being used everywhere is made more incomprehensible by secret court orders, particularly by federal magistrate judges (i.e., 'fmj') who often issue the orders for and at the request of the fbi. These orders are based on fbi's false representations, rumors, innuendos and flat out perjurious statements by fbi.

As an attorney licensed to practice law in the U.S. District Court for the Southern District of Texas, I investigated the fmj in order to determine how illegal and indeed criminal are the orders issuing from the 'fmj'. The reason I am interested in 'fmj' is that I am a Target of fbi kill squads and I am on the list of subjects included in the FC system. [Note that this page does not represent a solicitation of any kind and I am not certified by the Texas Board of Legal Specialization].

I have also learned that before or during the fbi campaign to silence me as a fbi whistleblower (in the same manner that the fbi uses to silence, incapacitate or kill other Targets) the fbi places the Target (I.e., me) into a cruel, blanket surveillance and assault program globally that is designed to force the Target into neuroses, confusion or in search of a final exit.

The fbi goal is to end the life of the Target. Wherever the Target goes, the Target is assaulted by thugs and assassins and the Targets' reactions to extreme provocations and injuries are presented to the fmj in order to further assault and medicate the Target and at the same time to apply high tech, military grade weaponry (i.e., Directed Energy Weaponry-DEW, Extremely Low Frequency soundwaves- ELF , etc., against the Target.) These assaults cause serious bodily injury and sometimes death.

When the Target responds to the physical and psychological attacks by fbi, the fmj examines the response to determine whether the Target should be locked up. If the Target seek help from police or other local or state authority, the FC prevents any assistance for the Target. Never mind that the Target is innocent and often never the subject of criminal nor civil adverse allegations. The beleaguered Target is under the control of fbi's counterintelligence apparatus which also includes all FC participants. Currently, I document several instances of police corruption by refusing to accept my reports, falsifying my reports and threatening me for filing reports. Also, prosecutors refuse to prosecute crimes against me, even when the fbi operative confesses to the crimes.

For detailed information in support of these statements see my law suit against the fbi (the WRIT), my sworn affidavits 2007 & 2014, "My Story In Detail" and thousands of reports at http://www.sosbeevfbi.com/ and other online sites, and see my several papers at https://ttu.academia.edu/geralsosbee.

President George W. Bush Apri 23, 2003
The White House
1600 Pennsylvania Avenue NW

Washington, DC 20500
Dear President Bush

On April 3, 2003, I found an intruder (biker type-wearing a head bandanna, leather Jacket, and chains attached to his belt) in the basement of the apartment complex where I am presently staying in Los Angeles. After seeing me, he bolted through the front door of the building and disappeared. I filed a police report. [am making this incident a matter of record with a number of government agencies and the news media because this appears to be yet another surveillance of me. [the kind of crminal and illegally sponsored attacks on Edward Paul Donegan]

If anything happens to me, my family, or my close associates- including my attorney (former Nebraska State Senator, John DeCamp), Susan Ford, or other individuals within my informational network, the names of the leaders of the cult/drug network and additional information concerning their activities will be released to the public.

I firmly believe that most individuals working in the F.B I, other intelligence agencies, and the government overall are honest, law-abiding public servants. However, a sophisticated network of rogue operatives has secretly infiltrated the F.B.I,, other intelligence agencies including the C.I.A, and other key government positions.

This rogue element seeks personal power and wealth and considers themselves above the law and the Constitution. They are carrying out the aforementioned surveillance and harassment activities in conjunction with organized crime, the cult movement in America including Satanic cults, other commercial and political interests, and even misguided civic organizations and neighborhood groups.

This illegal surveillance and harassment program is being called gang stalking and organized stalking by the victims targeted by it.

The victims are targeted for a variety of reasons including government and corporate whistle blowers, parties to financial and employment disputes, parties to marital disputes (usually divorced women), and even jilted paramours. Journalists covering controversial issues, and, even attorneys and private investigators representing unpopular clients or interests, have been targeted by this program.

In addition to high-ranking members of the F.B.I., other intelligence services, and the government overall, wealthy, powerful members of criminal syndicates, multi-millionaires and the corporate elite are using the government gang stalking program to harass enemies.

They can get a targeted individual harassed for the rest of that individual's life (individual cases of gang stalking lasting for over a decade are common).

The higher status members of the gang stalking conspiracy initiate the gang stalking and coordinate logistics and funding. Lower echelon government rogue operatives, lower ranking members of the military (in violation of Posse Comitatus), petty criminals and street thugs perform the actual grunt work of daily monitoring and harassment of individuals targeted by the program.

Tara's Story is Ed's Story is Ted's Story

The purpose of destroying lives with cover criminal harassment using techniques all the way up to radiologically and other poisonings is the eliminate any martyrdom of fame;

simply humiliate a person in society as pedophile, schizophrenic, any form of loser, homeless person, psych ward escapee, and insure over time the smear is effective enough to ensure person behind a dumpster is run of the mill street person, not someone the most elite in society are terrified of.

No Ordinary Stalking

Organized stalking is carried out by an enthusiastic and structured group that has cruel intentions: stalk, harass, injure, financially ruin, and mentally crumple human prey until incapacitation occurs. What sets this crime apart is that innocents are picked off the street. There is no getting away from the stalkers and no getting away from the unusual technology that is used to take over someone's life.

"For the first couple of months," says June, "I thought it was a sick game. Now that I've been tormented for years, well, it's clear that organized stalking is a sophisticated crime that follows a step-by-step process to leave the victim as bare and isolated as the dead tree on the cover. He or she may still be standing, but that's about it.

"I'll sum it up this way. Veiled intimidation ensures that targeted individuals are viewed by the public as free people, which they are not. They are playthings to their controllers. Hostages in plain sight. Victims are quite literally owned yet have limited chance of rescue because their desperate circumstances are misunderstood.

Some die from the violence. Some die from suicide. And the rest merely exist."

Organized Stalking is worldwide and is called gang

> stalking in some areas. The electronic harassment that accompanies organized stalking is also known as covert harassment.

The Sheep in its vulnerability feigning injury or feigning pursuing its injurer in a trap is a Wolf and the predator. The Management at my apartments were Wolves acting like injured Sheep and they moved other wolves dressed as sheep around me. Treating me as a predator is an act of predation, the accusation by repetitive fraud had gained acceptance as true even though several factors should negate that.

I have likened the entire plan to have landlords others drive me out because I am a peeper (when I am not but the Gangsalk manufactures this) and leaving me in skid row homeless shelters under black and white assault and loss of all belongings over and over again to the Law and Order Special Victims Unit episode Taken.

The “special victim” is a former underage girl rapist himself under age. At age 17 a con team (grifters) know his background and fake a Deep Pockets civil complaint against the hotel employing him at very low wages, the brand new well financed hotel. With the detectives on the case they find the female victim was a fake, the team creating the compliant a con artist team. Stabler and his partner plead the grifters to a minor or civil charge and the grifters agree. Then Stabler and his partner arrest the grifters on serious charges right in front of the judge for felony involvement in his wrongful death in custody, attacked as a sex offender.

Taken Episode aired Dec 15, 2000 Plot Summary: When a young female reports a brutal rape during a hotel's grand opening, the police investigates the details of the attack to pin down their suspect, who has a prior conviction for statutory rape. Director Michael Fields Writers Dick Wolf, Dawn DeNoon, Lisa Marie Petersen, Stars Christopher Meloni, Mariska Hargitay, Richard Belzer

Gaslighting has repeatedly left me homeless unhealthy with little communications or hygeine or privacy and under attack by skid row thugs as a bag man in 100 degree heat. All allegations are in some way false and on fabrications of appearances and not reality.

It is exactly the acts of people like Jim Vocelka who take the deal to evict me, profit from it, or help others too, then leave me in homeless shelters where I am said to be there out of mental incompetence needing Social Services representation.

Jim Volcelka intentionally and knowingly engaged in coached fraudulent acts to make me seem intellectually retarded thus needing conservancy as well as faked allegations the layer of conservancy would then pay out as claims though the claims were staged frauds.

"Gaslighting" is the act of moving things around in home when the person is not there such as the location of furniture, etc.,

Stalking a person is most distressing when the Stalker proves to the Stalked person the Stalker has gained access to details of their life, home, etc.,

Gas lighting got its name when a husband in a movie toyed with the mind of his wife saying the gas was off but then in an out of place way lit a gas lamp that should not have worked.

Coming home as I repeatedly did to find my underwear gone, altered, left outdoors, my drapes cut with peepholes, damaged items not damaged when I left, etc., were a particular subset of Gaslighting, staging fraudulent appearances that will both defame and injure me and my reputation but give others a pretext for retaliation against me for what was staged in the Gaslighting.

That first veiled aggression is creating a phony allegation or the visual support for a phony allegation that then opens the door literarly for a retaliation over the phony allegation.

Tara Moore harassed by the GOP mayor and owner of her building is from Weymouth the Town of Presidents. There are 8.67 miles from Weymouth to Dorchester in northwest direction and 12 miles (19.31 kilometers) by car, following the MA 3 route. Dorchester is where my father Jim Donegan was born and the Kennedy's are from, all part of Cape Cod area South Boston, Columbia Point out into Cape Cod, the Brookline area of town, etc, Abigail Adams was from there, the Kennedys, long history going back to he Boston Tea Party and fighting of the British and Boston Harbor.

These Stalks were not in spite of the importance of the area, but because of them and the histories.

In my last few days of MacLamar property 1001 N. Water St. I spent nights with kitchen knives with me, my mattress pulled to the center of the apartment, the far side of the room from the windows, and furniture arranged to slow intruder entrance into the apartment.

Police assisted break-ins and other threats were a constant as hostile "snicth" neighbors of street gangs were moved next to me.

This is the life of Ted Gunderson whose daughter was shot at through her window after Ted Gunderson had received threats to that affect in advance and later as well. The bullet-hole was photographed and document and Ted was no slouch in being able to collect and research the evidence.

Tar Moore was agoraphobic, a fear of being outside and even being in fear of being in her apartment. We shared that in common and talked on Twitter about Stalkers and the Government operating through landlord office fronts.

Here is what a lawyer responding to her situation had to say, and at least in my case there was a 25 year plus at least history of every place I lived in custody of or out being exactly the same.

When some people go to bed they feel safe, alone, or with their partner. I don't think I have sensed tat in 25 years and I am not meant to, the stalkers are out their and on a mission to prove that to me at all times.

Dear Attomey Baldassini

I recently made the acquaintance of Tara Moore, supra, and all I can say is that I was astonished by the story she told me about her landlord/tenant relationship with your client Robert L. Hedlund, of 54 Longwood Road, Weymouth, who is also the current mayor of Weymouth. Mr. Hedlund is the registered owner of a corporation known as HWO, LLC (aka Hediund World Order, LLC), which limited liability corporation owns the subject property.

I am going to cut right to the chase by saying 1): that I find it incredulous that a seasoned attorney like you would participate in what amounts to taking advantage of a disabled woman (diagnosed with Panic Disorder, without Agoraphobia), who is also a recovering addict and who was not advised by or apprised of her rights to counsel in her dealings with you or your cfient, and 2):

having seen pictures of the living conditions she has had to endure in her tenancy would be indicative of what a Weymouth slumlord would likely provide to his or her tenants. That the Boston Housing Authority (BHA) participates in the tenant's lease by almost $1 ,200 a month and has done little, if anything, to order your client to correct the glaring deficiencies over a long period of time is astonishing as well probably criminal at least in my mind.

From what I can see your client has also engaged in a pattern of harassment, violating MGL c. 264, S 34A (a) and prowling, the prowling incident admitted on his TV show, "Ask the Mayor" on April 6, 2017. If you would like I will provide you with the time stamp information from the show.

I am enclosing herewith a contact sheet with pictures of the premises Ms. Moore leases from your client. The term utterly disgusting really does not fit its description. That you, client and the BHA could care less is appalling and the eviction notice you sent her, without being represented by counsel, has damaged her chances of finding an apartment or condo for her her daughter.

She has already been denied by Weymouth Place: recommended by your client .

That Ms. Moore and her daughter would have to live on the street is apparently not your issue.

Without further ado I am going to print seven copies of the contact sheet: one for you; one for your client; one for the BHA; one for the local Board of Health; one for Judge Coven; one for the Governors Opioid Task Force and one for District Attorney Michael Morrissey to see what they think about the situation and your ruthless representation for an obvious slumlord.

Post 1902 British Theory of Ingress

In 1902 and before Cecil Rhodes plan to rule the world was mostly overt and mostly involved columns of marching troops, often private and taking orders from chartered British Companies authorized to control savage areas of the Earth with military force.

Following 1902 and the death of Cecil Rhodes and his Secret Society that commanded British plans around the world they went to more covert forces rather than uniformed.

Success was not in much doubt in English Royals but it was in republics and this was the weakness Aristocracy targeted in republics.

Salons in the Age of Reason were an attempt at self rule as people gather in groups and in newspapers theorizing about life, science, history, engineering, etc., and proposing self rule.

The British realized as these educated groups sough to self rule under their own theories and voting controlling the public discussions by controlling the press, controlling businenessed, sceince, education, and even churches became the goal.

Great Britain had troops but it had cash too and that was the best use of warfare for the soft targets, Heads of State offices in the USA that if controlled meant control of everything under the HEad of State and the people thought they were still self governing and they were still in a republic.

In the midst of this likely Lady Bird Johnson on their behalf started "gardening societies" of British family members under hidden identities that were being raised as possible Agents of Influence in the USA and around the world.

This plot existed in the Kennedy adminstration and JFK was going out it. He was assasintated first but many such British and Press Corp backed peope like William Barr, Robert Mueller, the Bush, Obama, and other families still rule the US wish PscCorp support.

One such place was in North Carolina where my mother and her family were from, plaed there in an underground railroad of Windsor Kutschera children studied for reasons of Psychology.

This is true of Borderline Personality Disorder Prince Albert of York had and showed in 1925 in his speech, and earlier in his childhood, the younger brother of King Edward VIII of Wales.

Colonies of Kutschera or Windsor genetics or both have been under study of scientists. Now they are being wiped out, places like Jonetown or maybe even Boystown Nebraska.

Jen Moore commented on the Hidden Identity Rat Line of the Donegan's and Boderlines, and I think our genetics were used in other secretive impregnation Barrack Obama Jr included in that.

For those that survived early childhood testing Defense intelligence Agency was ready to groom them under often serialized public records with false background, backgrounds created to hide the fact they were CIA creations.

I think Barrack Obama Jr is 022-46-3234 SSN in between my brother and me.

With enough fame, money, publicity, and NWO friends behind these manufatured children the children could become agents of influence around the world steering the psychology of republics.

One to the center, one each perspective on it.

Set a few months after Dead Man's Chest, Lands End is the story follows a desperate quest to locate and rescue of Captain Jack Sparrow (Johnny Depp), trapped on a sea of sand in Davy Jones' Locker, and convene the Brethren Court in a war against the East India Trading Company. In an uneasy alliance, Will Turner (Orlando Bloom), Elizabeth Swann (Keira Knightley), Hector Barbossa (Geoffrey Rush), and the crew of the Black Pearl rescue Jack and prepare to fight Lord Cutler Beckett, who controls Davy Jones and the Flying Dutchman.

Okay that's about all I could take of the crowd in the upcoming fireworks not don't do too well with fireworks in PTSD so you don't want to really be in a large crowd so I thought I'd just go walking you can see the beautiful capital in the capitol grounds gorgeous hot hot hot but gorgeous a lot of cop cars a lot of people walking but the crowd is enormous and I thought when the fireworks went off and the crowds started to dissipate it would be a nightmare to get out of there so I thought I would leave early I did hear some of John Stamos and her the national anthem and played that for you guys and you know that really is the patriotism of America and you saw it in the crowd I mean there were no people kneeling in that crowd tonight her people in red white and blue and children dressed up in red white and blue dresses and shorts and putting their hands on their hearts and servicemen and police officers so that was a wonderful view you stand right here in front of the capital of the United States of America and hopefully this next year will bring us more unified more together as the secrets of the deep state that are hidden buried underneath all these structures come out to the open for the American people to see and healing can begin and the whistleblowers can speak freely and the victims can speak freely and we as a country can heal red white blue purple yellow green whatever color whatever race whatever creed we as the American people can begin to heal and that is my hope for this year on this two hundred and forty second birthday of the United States (end of video)

[is there a way] in this country to stop this that those in power would abused their power in such a devastating systemic continuous way that people would live all of their childhoods experiencing some of these things and even young adulthood and then be terrorized for the rest of their lives to never speak about these absolute monster crimes so you know as much as you guys a lot of people don't want to hear about some of this stuff as you said this stuff is coming out and I know it is as well so it's it's part a the part that I play in it is some of my knowledge and experience in the past and understanding of some of the stuff that came into play regarding my whistle-blowing and as well as many other things that are attached to it I can't give real specifics just because it's just not safe enough we're going to have a meeting in a little bit and telling you my heart is that feels like it's been a ripped in two just hearing some of the stories that I've heard and so I'll be giving more information on that and like this is also my PTSD journey as well this is part of the reason this is part of my trapped truth as I said yesterday is knowing these things to be true and not being able to speak them out loud these things and many other things being silenced and so that silencing that pushing down of your personal experience whether you're a whistle-blower or victim or survivor a witness a lot of witnesses to that have been silenced especially by the government our government that ever want you to speak and you know threaten you and even worse things than that the power of that coming against you as an individual you as a child or the abuse of power is such a traumatic wounding and such a betrayal of all that you believe to be true and think who are the safe people and who aren't and we're trying to correct some of that now many of the whistle-blowers that I'm involved with are trying to correct that now to let the American people know that there are really good people that have tried for a long time to stop some of these very bad things and we become victims as well as we are silenced with threats in many other ways so that's kind of the update and we'll go on from here -Jen Moore

Earlier I sent an explanation of my web site expense to the following. I have not checked as I write this if you were on that list but I am about to hit Control V.

Looks like not and let me explain helpful

As my mother was on her death bed quite literaly days from dying she was very emphatic I stay with her every possible hour and that is exaclty what I wanted to living very near by.

I had for perhaps a year been drivinb her to Dialisys and other medical appointemtns working in hosptial caffeterias on my Wordpress thenes including "luns" a system that allowed blank space the same color as the masthead image to expand and contract with the width of the brower and other work.

The one things she did insist on and I thought was wonderfull is my leaving her side to go to Creative Fathoms Web Development company who opponed their spacious conference room to any web developer or hobbiest who wished to come to meetings on web work and listen and participate in presentations.

Her desire for me to have a car (left in her will as a desire for me and leaving me her car) and an apartment and medical care and training to return to high tech works is what she was living for and spending for.

This activity towards that goal and as always when I do web work it is often to tell me story and blog about my life and write about my philosphy and the Donegan familiy world travels that led into my curiosty and learing in that area.

Other events (unprovoked malice towards me and Conpiracy Against My Rights) have also drive my curiosity as to origns of those events something I continue to resarch as the history of MKULTRA and I think the Donegan familiy life story offers inisights into that part of history and the JFK assassination.

Confidence Tricks, Con Jobs, and Long Con Schemes

Confidence trick -

Confidence trick retrieved from Wikipedia and copied or modified to here

A confidence trick is an attempt to defraud a person or group after first gaining their trust. Confidence tricks exploit victims using a combination of the victim's credulity, naïveté, compassion, vanity, confidence, irresponsibility, and greed. Researchers have defined confidence tricks as "a distinctive species of fraudulent conduct ... intending to further voluntary exchanges that are not mutually beneficial", as they "benefit con operators ('con men') at the expense of their victims (the 'marks')".

A short con or "small con" is a fast swindle which takes just minutes, possibly seconds. It typically aims to rob the victim of money or other valuables which they carry on their person or are guarding.

A "long con" or "big con" (also, chiefly British English: long game) is a scam that unfolds over several days or weeks; it may involve a team of swindlers, and even props, sets, extras, costumes, and scripted lines. It aims to rob the victim of huge sums of money or valuables, often by getting them to empty out banking accounts and borrow from family members.

Stages of the con (Confidence Trick including Long Con using sets and actors)

In Confessions of a Confidence Man, Edward H. Smith lists the "six definite steps or stages of growth" of a confidence game. He notes that some steps may be omitted.

marks, suckers, stooges, mugs, rubes, or gulls

The intended victims are known as marks, suckers, stooges, mugs, rubes, or gulls (from the word gullible). When accomplices are employed, they are known as shills.

It is my belief my mother was first suckered into a belief I was mentally ill and needed a trust and later Tom Donegan and Mark Weirness denied me the resources my mother intended for me (and also allowed her to deny herself spending she need suck as sacral sore cushions and Nephro) hoping to make funds avaible to me I would not suffer under sqaulied or unhygenic or ohter conditions.

While as a matter or route ARC of NOVA has provided some token assisatance on phone bill etc., on the large and life impacting matter (home buying, car buying, leaes for apartments, learning and job training,) ARC of NOVA has usualy worked against those goals leaving me in skid row where a Gullible impersonator of continued to be blackmailed into agreements conservancy of mine will pay out but are false and part of identity theft.

Of course such activity is illegal, criminal fiduciary management, and should be called out and called to the attention of a lawyer but is complex in the doing.

NewWiliamCooperPatrioticSovereignPress and the books I am writing and documents I preparing and storing and recording are what I using web tools for as others like Tom Dunham has as well in this same matter.

Standard Oil Mega Corp Mega Murder

By placing compliant puppets in power Standard Oil can rule the world?

How does it or similar companies do so?

Overcoming Barriers to Entry companies face if they wish to start commercial operations. Lack of land routes, startup capital, laws on commerce, problematic trade agreements, all can create problems for traders of products.

The cost of a small nation to build railroad locomotives, steam engines, tracks, and the steal they and the tracks are made out of or move earth to make a path for tracks on land and bridges took big money industrial sector, civil engineering and the robber barrons had it exchanging for grants of land.

Deals were made with puppet leaders of colonized countries called Indirect Rule. They had to comply with the “spice mining companies” or be destroyed by civil war or assasination.

> Oligarchy (from Greek ὀλιγαρχία (oligarkhía) ‘rule by few’; from ὀλίγος (olígos) ‘few’, and ἄρχω (arkho) ‘to rule or to command’)[1][2][3] is a conceptual form of power structure in which power rests with a small number of people. These people may or may not be distinguished by one or several characteristics, such as nobility, fame, wealth, education, or corporate, religious, political, or military control.
> Throughout history, power structures considered to be oligarchies have often been viewed as tyrannical, relying on public obedience or oppression to exist. Aristotle pioneered the use of the term as meaning rule by the rich,[4] for which another term commonly used today is plutocracy. In the early 20th century Robert Michels developed the theory that democracies, like all large organizations, tend to turn into oligarchies. In his “Iron law of oligarchy” he suggests that the necessary division of labor in large organizations leads to the establishment of a ruling class mostly concerned with protecting their own power.

Some of the data I have seen is that the Rockefellers used their own under fake names for both the white mother of Barack Obama as photographic family albums go and also used a fake name for a Rockefeller as Loretta Fuddy Indonesian SUBUD planted CIA operative.

All was CIA created and the deaths of Madelyn Lee Payne Dubham of BBRDW Bank of Hawaii and Lorretta Fuddy raises questions.

The theory I follow is Malcom X was diverted from terrorism by the FBI to become a bridge to Mecca, Saudi Arabia, on hehalf of ARABCO, Arab Standard Oil Company division. Also in the plan was Barrack Obama as a sleeper agent maybe in goegraphically relevent Mombassa Kenya or maybe in Indonesia with the CIA backed daughter Stanley Armour Dunham.

In 1963 the plan was a “go” and JFK was told he HAD TO create the Legend of Barrack Obama Jr for his futuure use and I think leave out the Donegan family as the LONDON KE Family FOXP2 could be traced to that familyi through Ed Donegan and Glorian Donegan.

How does this relate to 9/11? Bandar Bush is a Saudi royal who is in on the close relationship between Standard Oil, the US DOD, and oil money.

The USA financing close ties inside the USA with Saudi money and inside Saudi Arabia with US DOD money was something Osama Bin Laden objected to.

Was Obama's Grandma a Rockefeller?

Madelyn Lee Payne Dunham (October 26, 1922 - November 2, 2008) was the American maternal grandmother of Barack Obama, the 44th and current President of the United States of America. She and her husband Stanley Armour Dunham raised Obama from age ten in their Honolulu, Hawaii apartment.

Considering her grandson's meteoric rise to the U.S. presidency, Madelyn's roots are questionable. Her "alleged" parents, Rolla Charles Payne (1892-1968) and Leona McCurry (1897-1930), lived on a farm and although the Paynes were not farmers, they enjoyed a 'modest income'. How is it a non-farmer, living on a farm in Kansas, earned his 'modest' living? Well, he survived quite lucratively leasing his land to John D. Rockefeller's Standard Oil Company, managing oil leases for Standard Oil in Oklahoma and Kansas. You heard it right. Rolla Payne earned his living through 'oil-lease royalties' and also as an accountant for Standard Oil.

A question arises. Was Madelyn indeed the daughter of Rolla and Leona? The possibility exists that one of the Rockefellers,John D. Rockefeller Jr. perhaps, while down in Kansas on business for the family company, enjoyed a farmer's daughter,if you will, and the Paynes were kindly asked to raise the result of that encounter. The result being baby Madelyn Lee. Not an outlandish thought for two reasons. Madelyn looks like a Rockefeller and her grandson became president of the U.S. which is owned by the Rockefellers as they are co-owners of the private central bank company known as the Federal Reserve. It seems most likely that "Junior" fathered Madelyn as his sons were quite young though some of them were indeed physically mature enough to father a child.

The proof is in the pudding. Judge for yourself if the possibility exists that Barack Obama has Rockefeller blood.

Researchers say Obama has German [Austrian Maria Kutschera?] roots.

Barack Obama in traditional German lederhosen? It may be hard to imagine, but researchers in the U.S. say they have located documents that prove the president has German roots dating to the 1700s.

Barack Obama in traditional German lederhosen? It may be hard to imagine, but researchers in the U.S. say they have located documents that prove the president has German roots dating to the 1700s.

According to parish records uncovered by experts at the genealogy Web site Ancestry.com, Obama's 6th great-grandfather Johann Conrad Woelflin was born Jan. 29, 1729, in Besigheim, a small town north of Stuttgart on the Enz river where it feeds into the Neckar.

He sailed aboard a ship called “Patience” in 1750 to America, changing his last name to “Wolfley” upon arrival and eventually settling in Middletown, Pennsylvania, according to head genealogist Anastasia Tyler, who oversaw the research.

In Middletown, he married Anna Catherine Schockey in 1756 and had at least six children, including Ludwig Lewis Wolfley - Obama’s 5th great grandfather - who was born in 1766, Tyler said.

The investigation was started by the Web site, which determined in 2007 that Obama had Irish ancestry, after researchers decided a few weeks ago it would be fun to try and prove or disprove rumored German ancestry ahead of the president’s visit to Dresden on Friday, Tyler said.

“We’d proved the Irish, so we just wanted to see if there was any truth to the rumors of German heritage,” she told The AP in a telephone interview. “People supposed a few different lines that went to Germany, and the one that seemed the most plausible was this Wolfley line, so that’s the one we concentrated on.”

Tracing the ancestry of Obama’s mother, Ann Dunham, the investigative team linked Obama back to Wolfley relatively quickly. But it wasn’t until last Friday when a researcher was poring over microfilmed documents at the Family History Library in Salt Lake City, Utah, that they got the breakthrough documenting Wolfley’s German ties, Tyler said.

Robert F. Kennedy Assassination Pamphlet

The Events of Dallas and Events of Los Angeles connections Shane O'Sullivan notes we must find

Dallas was to JFK what Los Angeles County was to Robert F. Kennedy so let us look at what Dallas was to John F. Kennedy.

In the November 1960 General Election for President of the USA the Democrat Party ticket of John F. Kennedy of Boston and Lyndon Baines Johnson of Texas defeated Vice President Richard Nixon and his running mate Henry Cabot Lodge Jr.

Vice President Nixon using Col Prouty, Edward Lansdale, Charles Cabell, and others for the CIA and and Pentagon Office of Special Operations overthrows program had been running MK-Ultra against many nations including Guatemala, Cuba, the Dominican Republic, Korea and Vietnam, and other countries the USA was involved with following the Cold War.

Earl Cabell was the mayor of Dallas where John F. Kennedy and patsy Lee Harvey Oswald were shot to death and where the imprisoned Jack Ruby felt it was too unsafe to talk to the Warren Commission and Allen Dulles while in a Dallas jail even though Allen Dulles of the Warren Commission did come to Dallas to interview Ruby while in jail.

The USIAD program that was to be used to overthrow Indonesia is something Attorney General to John F. Kennedy was assigned to oversee. It was USAID connected police figures accoring to Shane O'sullivan where were connected to USAIID and MKULTRA and later admitted to that late in their lives.

I will show the Donegan family was connected to all of this and that this likely included CIA planning for Obama in Indonesia as part of that plot. One key peice of this was P-51

Recon pilot James Donegan and later Cold War pilot in the F-86 from North American Aviation and ties to Prouty, E. Howard Hunt, the Kennedy's, and others.

On June 5th, 1968, at L.A. s Ambassador Hotel, Robert F. Kennedy celebrated his victory in the California Democratic primary with a rousing victory speech anticipating a successful run for the presidency. ... Google Books Originally published: 2008 Author: Shane O'Sullivan Evidence indicates Sirhan Sirhan was a patsy driven to rage to fire at Robert F. Kennedy from in front of RFK while an even more sinister CIA assassin shot the fatal short from behind as Robert F. Kennedy exited the kitchen are of the hotel and headed towars the waiting crowd Sirhan Sirhan came at him from.

Truth belongs to the Willing and not to the Hopeful

It was US AID, it was Birther-Truther, it was US AID in Los Angeles near the Pacific Ocean and agenceis responsible for that theater, and the Kennedy connections in the area of Los Angeles County, California. The Truth of this mostly exists in CIA files and can be deductively read as true. Some very minor level of induction is needed but there is a reasonable-mind basis for "filling in the blanks" not actually in CIA files but that is in or very close to in public records.

Peter Lawford the British actor and wife of Patricia Kennedy were follow-ons to Jospeh Kennedy Sr. in RKO, Howard Hughes avaition, and the Pacific Fleet in Hawaii and Costal California and Japan.

That this effort involved birth record 022-46-3234 in Los Angels Inglewood Hospital when JFK was present in that area for the fundraiser at the Lawford home and an "experimental monkey having a brithday party" days later arrived at the Whithouse and something foretelling that on Feb 20, 1961 occurred with George Ball and Thorkil Kristensen are further public records hints. Finally a comedy seems to mirror that story and LBJ assassinating JFK when the plan went wrong.

It would serve all of our hopes the CIA did not create Barrack Obama Jr., that he was the civil-liberties answer to the King George W. Bush unitary executive, and perhaps is or was a truly post-racial president. But the truth though is that doubts about why fake birth certificates were planted, the Hawaii birth certificate might also be fake, and 022-46-3234 is an not a relative I know about add clues that interconnect well.

As a plan begun in 1957 or 1958 and running through the Marilyn Monroe death August 4, 1962 and the Sam Giancana mafia "outfit" hit on her, according to Giancana, because she was a threat to the Indonesia plan, and FNI records reflect Giancana was meeting with the mobsters asserted to have killed her at the time of her death, the facts seem inescapable as believable version of history a reaonable (perhaps rather than a hopeful mind) might believe.

Joseph Kennedy Sr. was fitted into a 20th Century vest

In the combined chapters of Joseph Kennedy was fitted into a 20th Century vest and the chapter The Special Relationship and the Birth of Treason in my book The Great Treason I show have the amazing history of Joseph Kennedy Sr and his closeness during war time of the 20th Century turned into the post WWII Cold War nightmare of his family caught in between the hard place of illegal British actions and the rock of support for US and its methods and laws. Eventually those in the USA seemed to have killed JFK and RFK and while British plans were in place around the world and US it is not clear Great Britain itself was part of the action of assassinating JFK but was likely at least reticent on available facts. Most signs point to the oil industry in the USA.

In WW I while fulfilling ship order for Navy Undersecretary Franklin Deleanour Roosevelt JK Sr. was a wheeler dealer and got jobs done including some favors for some elite families around the world. In WW II he changed from war at sea to war in the air and helped create the P-51 fleet with British Marlin engines made by Packard Motors under British license.

So What if th Boston Brahim and Elites had a Deep State that assassinated JFK and took power? Is it Skyfall now for those who gained power?

Skyfall. When the Sky falls down on the 00's around the world.

Union Jack Draped Coffins as a list of the secret agents around the world is being revealed and attacks are occuring. Fans suggest these 8 caskkets are 001 through 006 and 008 and 009. Bond was not on duty during the attack.

What happens here in the movie: M (Judi Dench) stands next to the coffins of the agents that died in the explosion of the MI6 building. https://www.007travelers.com/filming-location/m-next-to-the-coffins-of-mi6-agents-skyfall-2012/

sounds like it 00Jonathan

In Great Brittain these are the subversion and overthrow experts of British Naval Commanders like James Bond. In the USA though are these caskets the patriots Ted Gunderson, Jen Moore, and others who assert a large Elites conspiracy revolving around Allen Dulles that killed JFK and RFK and others? I think so and Jen Moore expressed that before her death.

The Stages of Joseph Kennedy Sr.'s life and ties to Great Britain and Its Methods of Subversion He Later Tried To Break Free From

This book will assert the following flow of events. Kennedy Sr. was an insider trader and favor trader with high ranking officials of the US and Great Britain doing deals that seemed ok at the time. Later he found himself in bed with dangerous people and tried to break free clearing the path for JFK to run for President of the USA without any baggage from JFK Sr.'s life. The trouble was a key resource was needed from Joseph Kennedy Sr.'s life, an agreement he made to get pregnant Maria Kutchera with Windsor family father into the USA and hid them under secret identies inside the USA to keep them away from Nazis that Captain Von Trapp was being forced into from 1926 on in Austria by Franz Kutschera. These hidden identy children were wanted by the CIA (formerly OSS) for study and possible grooming for world sleeper agents the Mafia would back around the world. One was Marilyn Monroe the other was Glorian Gainey.

Why would the WASPs Brahim elites call the fairly famous Joseph Kennedy Sr for help in 1926? Because Maria Kutschera was pregnant in a Vatican controlled Catholic convent and Catholic help in the USA was needed from a wheeler-dealer like Joseph Kennedy Sr.

While the Mafia would call him a criminal to bring him down to the level of themselves he was what Bill Wilson of AA was at about the same time, an insider information profiteer.

In fact in WWII Propoganda and Psychological Warfare (that include assasinations of political figures feared by the opposition) were a norm in war, or at least becoming so and fairly intuitive. Make the other person look bad to the public, etc., But I think the phase of during war and against Adolph Hitler was an acceptable cause for Jospeh Kennedy Sr. After the war ended England and the USA doing it to sovereign nations including Ireland was offensive.

Dorothy Kilgallen was caught in between Jospeh Kennedy Sr. Post WWI WWII and the Cold War Joseph Kennedy Sr. renouncing diry war

Dorothy Mae Kilgallen who interviewed Jack Ruby before he died was (along with her close friend RFK) anti-Mafia and she was a Roman Catholic AND from (at least her father) Hearst Newspapers. She KNEW THE VON TRAPP Singers story and toured with them. She knew how they got to the USA in 1936 and I think even Maria Von Trapp giving birth in the USA in 1926. She was close to the Whitehouse of JFK and its nursery and the personal lives of them all. I think it was this Von Trapp story as it related to Indonesia and the plans for it that involved the favor Joseph Kennedy Sr did in the earlier 20th Century that she was putting all together. Not only did she tour with the Sound of Music movie she was on Celebrity Squares sith the singers.

Lee Harvey Oswald in the Dallas Jail talked about the Nazis he discovered (Kutschera's) in the USA and tried to call North Carolina

He too realized this was the story line JFK was really assassinated over and was trying to gather those willing to talk.

In 1936 Festus Gainey died, the adoptive father of Glorian Gainey and soon King Edward VIII would resign to become Duke Edward leading the fight in France against the Nazis. Following that and continuing as a Royal Peer he would be the Lord Governor of the Island of Burmada and work with the USA to fight communism in Latin America and the Caribbean. the Bermuda Dunes airport and the El Mirrador (overlook of Guatamla) were suspiciously named hints to the Duke's activities and Princess Elizabeth work with the USA as she became in earlly 1952 Queen Elizabeth II whom Kennedy Sr. respected and new well.

King Edward VIII abdicated the British throne on December 11, 1936, to marry Wallis Simpson, an American divorcée.

In an article a picture of Joseph P. Kennedy Sr. (1888 – 1969, second from right), the new U.S. Ambassador to the United Kingdom, leaves the US Embassy to present his credentials to the King at Buckingham Palace, London, 8th March 1938. He is accompanied by Sir Sidney Clive (1874 – 1959, third from right), Marshal of the Diplomatic Corps. (Photo by Becker/Fox Photos/Hulton Archive/Getty Images)

He respected her and new her well (and her him) because like Duke Edward Joseph Kennedy Sr did not leave Great Britain in disgrace, it as just made to look that way. Seeing England was near defeat as the rest of Europe had fallen he returned to the USA to with FDR start a secret and semi-secret role of the USA helping England when nuetrality was in place. Using his busines ties again he worked wtih Packard Motors of Detroit to build the Merlin two stage supercharged Spitfire engine and fit it into the North American Aviation P-51 of Inglewood California.

The CIA and British did not play fair. THey used assassinations, Mafia, propaganda of planted false information, cover intervention into the wars of other countries hiding the US role and miliary resources cotributed to those wars, etc.,

In the 1950's as the Kennedy family tried to stop the Mafia Joseph Kennedy Sr. was being threatend by the Mafia and hit was put out on him. It was cancelled by order from Sam Giacana but he expected the Kennedy Family after that would be hands-off to the Mafia the CIA was using as a resource. It was by Giancana's perspective "mixed messaging" from J. Edgar Hoover and others. In public they were going after the Mafia yet in private the were asking the Mafia for help.

Bringing the Irish Roman Catholics into the British subverions plans were doomed to fail and the Troubses in Ulster province only made things worse and the Kennedy Family resented England.

https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Joseph_P._Kennedy_Sr.

Joseph Patrick Kennedy Sr. was born on September 6, 1888, at 151 Meridian Street in East Boston, Massachusetts. Kennedy was the elder son of Mary Augusta (née Hickey) Kennedy and businessman and politician Patrick Joseph "P.J." Kennedy. Kennedy attended Boston Latin School, where he excelled at baseball and was elected class president before graduating in 1908.

Kennedy then attended Harvard College, where he gained admittance to the prestigious Hasty Pudding Club but was not invited to join the Porcellian Club. Kennedy graduated in 1912 with a bachelor's degree in economics.

Business career

Kennedy set his future sights on embarking on a business career upon his graduation from Harvard. During his mid to late 20s, he made a large fortune as an active commodity and stock investor; he then reinvested much of his proceeds into film studios, real estate, and shipping lines. Although Kennedy never built a significant business from scratch, his timing as both buyer and seller was excellent.

Various criminals, such as Frank Costello, have boasted they worked with Kennedy in mysterious bootlegging operations during Prohibition. Although his father was in the whisky importation business, scholars dismiss the claims. The most recent and most thorough biographer David Nasaw asserts that no credible evidence has been found to link Kennedy to bootlegging activities. When Fortune magazine published its first list of the richest people in the United States in 1957, it placed Kennedy in the $200–400 million group, which is equivalent to roughly 3.2 billion dollars in 2023.

Early ventures

Kennedy's first job after graduating from Harvard was a position as a state-employed bank examiner, where the job allowed him to learn a great deal about the banking industry. In 1913, the Columbia Trust Bank, in which his father held a significant share, was under threat of takeover. Kennedy borrowed $45,000 (equivalent to $1.4 million in 2023) from family and friends and bought back control. At the age of 25, he was rewarded by being elected the bank's president. Kennedy told the press he was "the youngest" bank president in America. In May 1917, Kennedy was elected to the Board of Trustees of the Massachusetts Electric Company, New England's leading public utility at the time.

Kennedy emerged as an astute businessman who possessed an eye for value, both with regard to his shrewd entrepreneurial acumen and savvy investment foresight. For example, as an active real estate investor, he turned a handsome profit from his privately-controlled ownership of Old Colony Realty Associates, Inc., an investment company which bought distressed real estate throughout the United States.

Although he was skeptical of American involvement in World War I, Kennedy sought to participate in wartime production as an assistant general manager of Fore River, a major Bethlehem Steel shipyard in Quincy, Massachusetts. There, he oversaw the production of transports and warships. Through this job, he became acquainted with Assistant Secretary of the Navy Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Wall Street and stock market investments

In 1919, Kennedy joined Hayden, Stone & Co., a prominent stock brokerage firm with offices in Boston and New York, where he became an expert dealing in the unregulated stock market of the day, engaging in tactics that were later considered to be insider trading and market manipulation violations. He happened to be on the corner of Wall and Broad Streets at the moment of the Wall Street bombing on September 16, 1920, and was thrown to the ground by the force of the blast. In 1923, he established his own investment company. Kennedy subsequently became a multi-millionaire as a result of taking "short" positions following the 1929 stock market crash.

Kennedy was enlisted in 1924 to help stabilize the stock of John D. Hertz's Yellow Cab Company, a taxi cab operator, against a bear raid; afterward, Hertz suspected Kennedy of carrying out such a raid against the stock himself. In 1933, he helped establish a "stock pool" that bought large quantities of stock in Libbey-Owens-Ford (LOF), an auto-glass manufacturer, and wash-traded huge volumes of stock among themselves while promoting the outright fraud that their company was related to Owens-Illinois, a glassmaker that made bottles which presumably would have profited from the imminent repeal of Prohibition.

1929 Wall Street Crash

Kennedy later claimed he understood that the rampant stock speculation of the late 1920s would lead to a market crash. It is said that he knew it was time to get out of the market when he received stock tips from a shoe-shine boy, but no evidence has been found of the anecdote and the first known version of the same tale was associated to Bernard Baruch in 1957. Kennedy survived the crash "because he possessed a passion for facts, a complete lack of sentiment and a marvelous sense of timing".

During the Great Depression, Kennedy shrewdly increased his wealth by devoting most of it into investment-grade real estate. In 1929, Kennedy's fortune was estimated to be $4 million (equivalent to $71 million in 2023). By 1935, his wealth had increased to $180 million (equivalent to $4 billion in 2023). He also acquired enough capital to establish million-dollar trust funds for each of his nine children that guaranteed lifelong financial independence.

Kennedy generated windfall profits from reorganizing and refinancing several Hollywood film studios. He began with film distribution in New England, buying first movie theaters in Massachusetts, but quickly moved on to industry-wide arrangements and production. While still at Hayden, Stone & Co., Kennedy boasted to a colleague, "Look at that bunch of pants pressers in Hollywood making themselves millionaires. I could take the whole business away from them." One small studio, Film Booking Offices of America (or FBO), specialized in Westerns produced cheaply. Its owner was in financial trouble, and asked Kennedy to help find a new owner. Kennedy formed his own group of investors and bought it for $1.5 million.

In March 1926, Kennedy moved to Hollywood to focus on running film studios. At that time, film studios were permitted to own exhibition companies, which were necessary to get their films on local screens. With that in mind, he bought controlling shares in Keith-Albee-Orpheum Theaters Corporation (KAO), which had more than 700 vaudeville theaters across the United States that had begun showing movies. In October 1928, he formally merged his film companies FBO and KAO to form Radio-Keith-Orpheum (RKO) and made a large amount of money in the process. Kennedy had no interest in vaudeville; he just wanted the theaters, which he planned to convert to movie houses for the film booking interests he ran in cooperation with Radio Corporation of America (RCA). As the developer of photophone, a sound system for the new "talkies", RCA needed to forge a connection with Hollywood to sell its product. At the same time Kennedy knew that he needed to compete in the new market of sound films and to do so he would have to have access to a technology that was not proprietary.

Keen to buy the Pantages Theatre chain, which had 63 profitable theaters, Kennedy made an offer of $8 million (equivalent to $142 million in 2023). It was declined. He then stopped distributing his movies to Pantages. Still, Alexander Pantages declined to sell. However, when Pantages was later charged and tried for rape, his reputation took a battering, and he accepted Kennedy's revised offer of $3.5 million (equivalent to $62.1 million in 2023). Pantages, who claimed that Kennedy had "set him up", was later found not guilty at a second trial. The girl who had accused Pantages of rape, Eunice Pringle, confessed on her deathbed that Kennedy was the mastermind of the plot to frame Pantages.

Many estimate that Kennedy made over $5 million (equivalent to $88.7 million in 2023) from his investments in Hollywood. During his three-year affair with film star Gloria Swanson, he arranged the financing for her films The Love of Sunya (1927) and the ill-fated Queen Kelly (1928). The duo also used Hollywood's famous "body sculptor", masseuse Sylvia of Hollywood. Their relationship ended when Swanson discovered that an expensive gift from Kennedy had actually been charged to her account.

Liquor importing

As soon as it became legal to do so, Kennedy ventured into liquor importing. One of his shipping ventures he was involved in was the importation of large shipments of high-priced Scotch where he earned a handsome profit in the process. Various contradictory "bootlegging" stories surrounding Kennedy have circulated but historians have not accepted them. At the start of the Franklin Roosevelt administration in March 1933, Kennedy and future Congressman James Roosevelt II founded Somerset Importers, a business entity that acted as the exclusive American agent for Haig & Haig Scotch, Gordon's Dry Gin and Dewar's Scotch. Kennedy kept his Somerset company for years. In addition, Kennedy purchased spirits-importation rights from Schenley Industries, a Canadian distillery and liquor company. Though he possessed substantial investments in various shipping lines that imported significant shipments of liquor, Kennedy himself drank little alcohol. He so disapproved of what he considered a stereotypical Irish vice that he offered his sons $1,000 not to drink until they turned 21.

Memories of WWI FDR and being born in the USA

Monroe sang the traditional "Happy Birthday to You" lyrics in a sultry, intimate voice, with "Mr. President" inserted as Kennedy's name. She continued the song with a snippet from the classic 1938 song, "Thanks for the Memory", for which she had written new lyrics specifically aimed at Kennedy.

Thanks, Mr. President For all the things you've done The battles that you've won The way you deal with U.S. Steel And our problems by the ton We thank you so much -Wikipeda

Were the lyrics targeted to FDR and Joseph Kennedy Sr., who in WWII got Marilyn Monroe and others into the USA?

Upon his appointment to the Court of St. James’s [Great Britain by FDR as a loyal adjunct to FDR since WWI], Joe Kennedy was flung into a world on the brink of war, a conflict that he opposed and out of which he tried desperately to keep the United States. During his tumultuous time in London, Joseph Kennedy fought bitterly with the State Department, as well as FDR, in his outspoken opposition to the president's policy of coming to the aid of Britain in the wake of Adolf Hitler's European onslaught.

Kennedy ruffled feathers in Washington when he met secretly with German diplomats and made few friends with his anti-Semitic remarks. In the end, his opposition to America's anti-Nazi policies led to his resignation in disgrace from his coveted ambassadorship and, for all intents and purposes, ended whatever political career he harbored for himself. https://warfarehistorynetwork.com/article/joseph-p-kennedy-most-controversial-ambassador-to-great-britain/

That is how the story goes in most tellings. But when Kennedy Sr saw the defeat of England coming he rushed to Los Angeles and got the deals made for Packard Motors to build on a mass scale basis the supercharged piston engine that would change the course of WWII.

Twice the Kennedy Men will call on Unions to win the war. In WWI Joseph Kennedy Sr and FDR asks Labor and Management to put aside their differences on behalf of he War Effort and a second time to supply the Great Brittian with Rolls-Royce Merlin V16 engines that United Autoworkers and Packard Motors could build. (Paul Schrade)

Pessimistic that Great Britain will fall to the Nazis as bombing raids threaten Great Britain he expresses his pessimism and support for Lend-Lease, us support to the Great Britain while the USA stays out of the war. It is during this time the deal starts to use the Rolls Royce engine in US fighters offering military aid to England in the same way the Republic of Ireland was doing though the Republic of Ireland was also officially neutral.

The attack on Pearl Harbor was a surprise military strike by the Imperial Japanese Navy Air Service upon the United States against the American naval base at Pearl Harbor in Honolulu, Hawaii, just before 8:00 a.m. on Sunday, December 7, 1941. Wikipedia

Part of what emerged from Scheffiled AFB was the Strategic Air Force Command with large ground based radar installations monitory the globe and conveying the tactical instructions to airborne aircraft including giving them early warning to get airborne. This later would become the Strategic Air Command burried deep in the Cheyene Mountains.

Sheffield Blitz [An Englihs version of Pearl Harbor] research guide The main attacks on Sheffield took place on the nights of 12/13 and 15/16 December 1940. On 12 December, over 330 German aircraft are believed to have attacked the city. The main industrial part of the city was largely defended that night by a covering of fog. However, the Moor was devastated and every building in Angel Street (where Argos is now) was bombed or fire damaged.

Two nights later, the bombers returned. This time the industrial east of the city was hit - Attercliffe, Grimesthorpe and Burngreave in particular. Brown Bayleys steelworks were hit, as were Hadfield's Hecla and East Hecla Works, Arthur Lee and other industrial sites.

Almost 700 people were killed during the air raids. Over 82,000 houses of a total stock of 150,000 were damaged. A number of well known buildings were also badly damaged or destroyed.

USS Joseph P. Kennedy Jr retrieved from Wikipedia and copied or modified to here

USS Joseph P. Kennedy Jr. was built by the Bethlehem Steel Corporation's Fore River Shipyard at Quincy, Massachusetts, launched on 26 July 1945, sponsored by Miss Jean Kennedy, sister of Lieutenant Kennedy. Joseph P. Kennedy Jr. was commissioned at Boston on 15 December 1945.

Six weeks before his 18th birthday in 1943, Robert F Kennedy enlisted in the United States Naval Reserve as a seaman apprentice.[34] He was released from active duty in March 1944, when he left Milton Academy early to report to the V-12 Navy College Training Program at Harvard College in Cambridge, Massachusetts from March to November 1944. He was relocated to Bates College in Lewiston, Maine from November 1944 to June 1945,[35] where he received a specialized V-12-degree along with 15 others.[36] During the college's winter carnival, Robert built a snow replica of a Navy boat.[37][38] He returned to Harvard in June 1945, completing his post-training requirements in January 1946.[39]

Kennedy's oldest brother Joseph Jr. died in August 1944,[40] when his bomber exploded during a volunteer mission known as Operation Aphrodite. Robert was most affected by his father's reaction to his eldest son's passing. He appeared completely heartbroken, and his peer Fred Garfield commented that Kennedy developed depression and questioned his faith for a short time. After his brother's death, Robert gained more attention, moving higher up the family patriarchy.[41] On December 15, 1945, the U.S. Navy commissioned the destroyer USS Joseph P. Kennedy Jr., and shortly thereafter granted Kennedy's request to be released from naval-officer training to serve aboard Kennedy starting on February 1, 1946, as a seaman apprentice on the ship's shakedown cruise in the Caribbean.[39][42] On May 30, 1946, he received his honorable discharge from the Navy.[43] For his service in the Navy, Kennedy was eligible for the American Campaign Medal and the World War II Victory Medal.

USS Joseph P. Kennedy Jr. (DD-850) is a former United States Navy Gearing-class destroyer. The ship was named after Lieutenant Joseph P. Kennedy Jr., a naval aviator, son of the former U.S. Ambassador to Britain, Joseph P. Kennedy Sr., and older brother of future President John F. Kennedy. Joseph P. Kennedy Jr. served, with interruptions for modernization, until 1973. Among the highlights of her service are the blockade of Cuba during the Cuban Missile Crisis and the afloat recovery teams for Gemini 6 and Gemini 7. Joseph P. Kennedy Jr. is on display as a museum ship in Battleship Cove, Fall River, Massachusetts. She was added to the National Register of Historic Places in 1976, and designated a National Historic Landmark in 1989 as one of a small number of surviving Gearing-class destroyers.

Toward the end of 1940, with Nazi troops occupying Poland, Belgium, Luxembourg, the Netherlands, and France, and German bombs falling on London and other British cities, the Axis war machine looked formidable.

In the Boston Sunday Globe of November 10, 1940, Ambassador Joe Kennedy shared his opinion:

“Democracy is finished in England. It may be here.” His controversial views would make national news - and permanently damage his hopes for elected office.

Ed Donegan asserts the comment out of context is misinerpreted [Does Jospeph Kennedy Sr worry about another military industrial complex forming of epionage and deep state in the USA as a war machine? And does he worry if the USA does NOT enter and peace faisl the USA will then fall too?

If We Get In, Democracy Ends

“People call me a pessimist. I say, 'What is there to be gay about? Democracy is all done.’”

“You mean in England or this country, too?”

“Well, I don’t know. If we get into war it will be in this country, too. A bureaucracy would take over right off. Everything we hold dear would be gone. They tell me that after 1918 we got it all back again. But this is different. There’s a different patter in the world.

“What about British democracy?” Edmondson asked. “Is there real opportunity there or does the aristocracy keep a rigid class structure that keeps the common man down?”

“When there’s a strong upsurge from beneath you can’t stop it,” Kennedy replies. “You can’t blame the aristocracy for keeping it down if it doesn’t come up.”

“Well, what does it mean to have labor men now at the center of government?” I ask.

National Socialism for England “It means national socialism is coming out of it,” says Kennedy flatly.

[The] Queen [Mother (during WWII] Called Great Woman

Now I tell you when this thing is finally settled, “ Joseph Kennedy Sr. declared, “ and it comes to a question of saving what’s left for England, it will be the Queen and not any of the politicians who will do it. She’s got more brains than the Cabinet.

“It’s partly because she wasn’t born into the Royal Family. Her background is of the people. She’s an omnivorous reader. Daladier told me, after he’d first met her, that she knew more about French history than almost any Frenchman.”

DESPATCH.

(Reference.)

NAVY DEPARTMENT,
Assistant Secretary's Office
(Bureau or office.)
WASHINGTON.

November 3, 1917., 191

OFFICIAL
(Class of message.)

J. W. Powell, President,
Fore River Shipbuilding Corporation,
Quincy, Massachusetts.

The Navy Department deplores the unfortunate misunderstanding which has arisen between the Fore River Shipbuilding Corporation and its employes and desires to urge both the company and its men to arrive at the earliest possible moment at some understanding which will permit of the immediate resumption of work pending a satisfactory final settlement of the matters at issue. There is probably no one plant in the country whose continuous operation is more important to the success of this country in the war than that at Fore River. As a patriotic duty the Department urges both sides to sink all minor differences and to get together for the sake of the success of our country in this war at once. The Department further desires to offer this suggestion that, inasmuch as the rates now in force at the Boston Navy Yard have been carefully revised and are believed to represent a fair and proper scale of wages, acceptable to labor as well as to the Government, this scale be accepted in its entirety by both the Fore River Company and its men as a proper rate, and that any questions involving the details of the putting of these rates into force, not only in the letter but in the spirit in which they are in force at the Boston Navy Yard, be left to the Director of the Public Safety Commission of Massachusetts as an arbiter to determine. If this settlement is agreeable to both sides, it will meet with the Department's full and unqualified approval. This of course involves the immediate return to work of the men pending the final decisions of the arbiter as to details.

Franklin D. Roosevelt.

The ties between the Roosevelt and Kennedy families go back to World War I when Franklin D. Roosevelt was Assistant Secretary of the Navy. In November 1917, Joseph P. Kennedy was the Assistant General Manager of the Fore River Shipbuilding Corporation in Quincy, Massachusetts, when a labor strike threatened the company's contribution to the Navy's shipbuilding program. Assistant Secretary Roosevelt appealed to Fore River's management and to the striking workers "to sink all minor differences and to get together for the sake of the success of our country in this war at once." The strike ended a few days later.

As New York Governor Franklin Roosevelt prepared to seek the Democratic Party's nomination for president at the convention in Chicago in July 1932, Joseph P.

Kennedy - now working in Hollywood and New York - lent his support to FDR, both financially and politically.

Kennedy was one of those who were known as "WRBC", or With Roosevelt Before Chicago. He donated to the campaign, met with Governor Roosevelt and his Brains Trust in Albany, and helped convince supporters of John Nance Garner to throw their delegates to Roosevelt at the convention. Kennedy continued to advise Roosevelt after he won the nomination, and in August Kennedy wrote to FDR: "As I told you over the phone unless they [the Republicans] can put two and one half million men back to work and get wheat up to twenty or twenty five cents a bushel the result will be overwhelming for Roosevelt." Roosevelt even invited Kennedy along on the campaign train that fall.

The Roosevelt Campaign Train, September 23, 1932. Joseph Kennedy is in front row, fifth from the right with hand in pocket.

As the New Deal began to take shape, one of FDR's early reforms was the creation of the Securities and Exchange Commission. The SEC was designed to protect investors from fraudulent and unethical practices in the stock market. FDR began to assemble his choices for the five-person Commission, and Joseph Kennedy was selected to be the first chairman.

As a June 15, 1934 memorandum indicates, FDR's choice of Kennedy as chairman reflected the man's "executive ability, knowledge of habits and customs of business to be regulated and ability to moderate different points of view …" Kennedy received a five year appointment, and although he resigned in September 1935 to return to private business, he received high praise for effectively working with both Washington and Wall Street to implement the new regulations.

Kennedy again supported FDR's nomination for the presidency in 1936, and in 1937 returned to public service to become the first chairman of the newly created Maritime Commission that had been established to revitalize the United States shipping industry.

Then, in March 1938, Kennedy received the appointment he most wanted in Roosevelt's government: Ambassador to the Court of St. James - the first Irish Catholic American to hold this prestigious diplomatic post. As the new U.S. Ambassador in London, Kennedy had a front row seat to the worsening international crisis in Europe. When war finally came in September 1939, Kennedy's public support for American neutrality conflicted with Roosevelt's increasing efforts to provide aid to Britain. Roosevelt and Kennedy met in October 1940 to try to iron out their differences, but it was clear the split could not be repaired. Kennedy resigned after FDR's election to a Third Term in November.

Despite their later policy differences, the ties between FDR and Joseph Kennedy extended to the next generation of Kennedys. In 1935, FDR learned that young Bobby Kennedy was a stamp collector and sent the boy some of stamps for his collection. In 1940, recent Harvard graduate John F. Kennedy sent an inscribed first edition of his recently published book, Why England Slept, to FDR for his book collection. As was his custom, FDR signed the flyleaf underneath Jack Kennedy's signature. And in 1944, FDR was shocked to learn of the death of Joseph P. Kennedy, Jr., while on a combat bombing mission, and the President wrote a heartfelt condolence letter to the elder Joe Kennedy.

FDR's own death in April 1945 brought an end to Joseph Kennedy's years of collaboration with Franklin Roosevelt. But post-war America saw the rise of a new Kennedy to prominence, John F. Kennedy. As a leading figure in the Democratic Party, Eleanor Roosevelt saw JFK grow from a Congressman, to a United States Senator, then a potential nominee for vice president in 1956, and finally the Democratic Party's nominee for president in 1960.

John F. Kennedy touring the Franklin D. Roosevelt Library during his visit for the 25th Anniversary of Social Security, August 14, 1960.

A longtime supporter of the liberal Adlai Stevenson's runs for the presidency, Eleanor Roosevelt had concerns about JFK's commitment to some of the liberal causes that she held dear. During the 1950s, ER challenged John Kennedy to be more vocal in his opposition to McCarthyism. And in 1960, Mrs. Roosevelt feared that JFK's caution on civil rights issues was an attempt to garner votes in the more conservative southern states that might backfire and cost him votes in the more liberal north.

On August 14, 1960, Kennedy came to Hyde Park to pay his respects to Mrs. Roosevelt and to gain her full support for his candidacy. After visiting the Roosevelt Library and the FDR Home to deliver a speech commemorating the 25th anniversary of Social Security, JFK had tea with Mrs. Roosevelt at her Val-Kill home where they talked over the issues and his campaign. Following the meeting, Eleanor Roosevelt threw her full support behind the Kennedy-Johnson ticket.

Patrick Joseph Kennedy (January 14, 1858 - May 18, 1929) was an American businessman and politician from Boston, Massachusetts. He and his wife Mary were the parents of four children, including future U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission Chair and U.S. Ambassador to the United Kingdom Joseph P. Kennedy Sr. Their grandchildren through Joseph include U.S. President John F. Kennedy, U.S. Attorney General and U.S. Senator Robert F. Kennedy, and longtime U.S. Senator Ted Kennedy.

After cholera killed his father and brother, Kennedy was the only surviving male in his family. He started work at age fourteen and became a successful businessman, later owning three saloons and a whisky import house. Eventually, he had major interests in coal and banking as well. Kennedy was a major figure in the Democratic Party in Boston. Though he served in both the Massachusetts House of Representatives and the state Senate, he preferred to play a behind-the-scenes role as a party boss.

Early life

Patrick Joseph Kennedy was born on January 14, 1858, in Boston, Massachusetts. He was the youngest of five children born to Patrick Kennedy (1823-1858) and Bridget Kennedy (née Murphy) (1824-1888). His parents were Irish Catholic immigrants who were both from New Ross, County Wexford and emigrated together to America to flee the Great Famine in Ireland. The couple's elder son John had died of cholera in infancy two years before Kennedy was born. Ten months after P.J. Kennedy's birth, his father Patrick also succumbed to the infectious epidemic that infested the family's East Boston neighborhood. As the only surviving male, Kennedy was the first family member to receive a formal education, attending Sacred Heart, a private Catholic school in Boston. His mother Bridget had purchased an East Boston stationery and notions store where she had worked. The business took off and expanded into a grocery and liquor store.

At the age of fourteen, young Kennedy left school to help support his mother and three older sisters, Mary, Joanna, and Margaret, as a stevedore on the Boston docks. In the 1880s, with money he had saved from his modest earnings and help from his mother Bridget, he launched a business career by buying a saloon in the Haymarket Square neighborhood near downtown Boston. In time, he bought a second establishment by the East Boston docks. Next, to capitalize on the social drinking of upper-class Bostonians, Kennedy purchased a third bar in an upscale East Boston hotel, the Maverick House. Before he was 30, his growing prosperity allowed him to buy a whiskey-importing business.

Marriage and children

On November 23, 1887, Kennedy married Mary Augusta Hickey. The couple had four children and remained married until Hickey's death on May 6, 1923. His wealth afforded them a home on Jeffries Point in East Boston.

Political career

Kennedy was "always ready to help less fortunate fellow Irishmen with a little cash and some sensible advice." A sociable man able to mix comfortably with both the Roman Catholic and the Protestant elite, Kennedy moved successfully into politics. Beginning in 1884, he converted his popularity into service as a Democrat, a minority in the then Republican dominant power in the Massachusetts General Court. He served five consecutive one-year terms in the Massachusetts House of Representatives, followed by three two-year terms in the upper chamber in the Massachusetts Senate. Establishing himself as one of Boston's principal Democratic leaders, he gave one of the seconding speeches for incumbent President Grover Cleveland at the party's 1888 national convention of the party in St. Louis. However, he found campaigning, speech making, and legislative maneuvering, to be less appealing than the behind-the-scenes machinations that characterized so much of Boston politics in the late-nineteenth and early-twentieth centuries. After leaving the Senate and the General Court after many terms in 1895, Kennedy spent the rest of his political career as an appointed elections commissioner, an appointed city fire commissioner, as the backroom boss of Boston's Ward Two, and as a member of his party's unofficial Board of Strategy.

Death

By the time of his death in 1929, Kennedy held an interest in a coal company and a substantial amount of stock in a bank, the Columbia Trust Company.

In his later years, Kennedy developed degenerative liver disease. In April 1929, he was admitted to Deaconess Hospital to receive treatment. He died there on May 18 at the age of 71.

His funeral was held at St. John the Evangelist Church in Winthrop, Massachusetts, on May 21. The Boston Globe reported that hundreds of mourners lined the streets to watch Kennedy's funeral procession and businesses in East Boston closed to honor him. Kennedy is buried in Holy Cross Cemetery in Malden, Massachusetts.

Legacy

In 1914, P.J. Kennedy's son Joseph married Rose Fitzgerald (July 22, 1890 - January 22, 1995), the eldest daughter of Boston Mayor John F. Fitzgerald (1863-1950). Joseph P. Kennedy Sr. went on to become a U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission Chair and a U.S. Ambassador to the United Kingdom.

Joseph and Rose Kennedy had nine children, including World War II casualty Joseph P. Kennedy Jr., U.S. President John F. Kennedy, U.S. Attorney General and U.S. Senator Robert F. Kennedy, and U.S. Senator Ted Kennedy.

The Story of Obama: All in The Company (Part I)

by Wayne Madsen

In 1967, Obama and his mother joined her husband in Jakarta. In 1965, Lolo Soetoro had been called back from Hawaii by General Suharto to serve as an officer in the Indonesian military to help launch a bloody CIA-backed genocide of Indonesian Communists and Indonesian Chinese throughout the expansive country. Suharto consolidated his power in 1966, the same year that Barack Obama, Sr.'s friend, Mboya, had helped to rally pro-U.S. pan-African support for the CIA's overthrow of Nkrumah in Ghana in 1966.

President Obama's own work in 1983 for Business International Corporation, a CIA front that conducted seminars with the world's most powerful leaders and used journalists as agents abroad, dovetails with CIA espionage activities conducted by his mother, Stanley Ann Dunham in 1960s post-coup Indonesia on behalf of a number of CIA front operations, including the East-West Center at the University of Hawaii, the U.S. Agency for International Development (USAID), and the Ford Foundation. Dunham met and married Lolo Soetoro, Obama's stepfather, at the East-West Center in 1965. Soetoro was recalled to Indonesia in 1965 to serve as a senior army officer and assist General Suharto and the CIA in the bloody overthrow of President Sukarno.

Barack Obama, Sr., who met Dunham in 1959 in a Russian language class at the University of Hawaii, had been part of what was described as an airlift of 280 East African students to the United States to attend various colleges - merely "aided" by a grant from the Joseph P. Kennedy Foundation, according to a September 12, 1960, Reuters report from London. The airlift was a CIA operation to train and indoctrinate future agents of influence in Africa, which was becoming a battleground between the United States and the Soviet Union and China for influence among newly-independent and soon-to-be independent countries on the continent.

The airlift was condemned by the deputy leader of the opposition Kenyan African Democratic Union (KADU) as favoring certain tribes - the majority Kikuyus and minority Luos - over other tribes to favor the Kenyan African National Union (KANU), whose leader was Tom Mboya, the Kenyan nationalist and labor leader who selected Obama, Sr. for a scholarship at the University of Hawaii. Obama, Sr., who was already married with an infant son and pregnant wife in Kenya, married Dunham on Maui on February 2, 1961 and was also the university's first African student. Dunham was three month's pregnant with Barack Obama, Jr. at the time of her marriage to Obama, Sr.

KADU deputy leader Masinda Muliro, according to Reuters, said KADU would send a delegation to the United States to investigate Kenyan students who received "gifts" from the Americans and "ensure that further gifts to Kenyan students are administered by people genuinely interested in Kenya's development.'"

The CIA allegedly recruited Tom M'Boya in a heavily funded "selective liberation" programme to isolate Kenya's founding President Jomo Kenyatta, whom the American spy agency labelled as "unsafe." Mboya received a $100,000 grant for the airlift from the Kennedy Foundation after he turned down the same offer from the U.S. State Department, obviously concerned that direct U.S. assistance would look suspicious to pro-Communist Kenyan politicians who suspected Mboya of having CIA ties. The Airlift Africa project was underwritten by the Kennedy Foundation and the African-American Students Foundation. Obama, Sr. was not on the first airlift but a subsequent one. The airlift, organized by Mboya in 1959, included students from Kenya, Uganda, Tanganyika, Zanzibar, Northern Rhodesia, Southern Rhodesia, and Nyasaland.

Reuters also reported that Muliro charged that Africans were "disturbed and embittered" by the airlift of the selected students. Muliro "stated that "preferences were shown to two major tribes [Kikuyu and Luo] and many U.S.-bound students had failed preliminary and common entrance examinations, while some of those left behind held first-class certificates."

Mboya and a fellow Luo. After Mboya was assassinated in 1969, Obama, Sr. testified at the trial of his alleged assassin. Obama, Sr. claimed he was the target of a hit-and-run assassination attempt after his testimony.

Obama, Sr., who left Hawaii for Harvard in 1962, divorced Dunham in 1964. Obama, Sr. married a fellow Harvard student, Ruth Niedesand, a Jewish-American woman, who moved with him to Kenya and had two sons. They were later divorced. Obama, Sr. worked for the Kenyan Finance and Transport ministries as well as an oil firm. Obama, Sr. died in a 1982 car crash and his funeral was attended by leading Kenyan politicians, including future Foreign Minister Robert Ouko, who was murdered in 1990.

CIA files indicate that Mboya was an important agent-of-influence for the CIA, not only in Kenya but in all of Africa. A formerly Secret CIA Current Intelligence Weekly Summary, dated November 19, 1959, states that Mboya served as a check on extremists at the second All-African People's Conference (AAPC) in Tunis. The report states that "serious friction developed between Ghana's Prime Minister Kwame Nkrumah and Kenyan nationalist Tom Mboya who cooperated effectively last December to check extremists at the AAPC's first meeting in Accra." The term "cooperated effectively" appears to indicate that Mboya was cooperating with the CIA, which filed the report from field operatives in Accra and Tunis. While "cooperating" with the CIA in Accra and Tunis, Mboya selected the father of the president of the United States to receive a scholarship and be airlifted to the University of Hawaii where he met and married President Obama's mother.

An earlier CIA Current Intelligence Weekly Summary, secret, and dated April 3, 1958, states that Mboya "still appears to be the most promising of the African leaders." Another CIA weekly summary, secret and dated December 18, 1958, calls Mboya the Kenyan nationalist

> In a formerly Secret CIA report on the All-Africa Peoples Conference in 1961, dated November 1, 1961, Mboya’s conservatism, along with that of Taleb Slim of Tunisia, are contrasted to the leftist policies of Nkrumah and others. Pro-communists who were elected to the AAPC’s steering committee at the March 1961 Cairo conference, attended by Mboya, are identified in the report as Abdoulaye Diallo, AAPC Secretary General, of Senegal; Ahmed Bourmendjel of Algeria; Mario de Andrade of Angola; Ntau Mokhele of Basutoland; Kingue Abel of Cameroun; Antoine Kiwewa of Congo (Leopoldville); Kojo Botsio of Ghana; Ismail Toure of Guinea; T. Dosomu Johnson of Liberia; Modibo Diallo of Mali; Mahjoub Ben Seddik of Morocco; Djibo Bakari of Niger; Tunji Otegbeya of Nigeria; Kanyama Chiume of Nyasaland; Ali Abdullahi of Somalia; Tennyson Makiwane of South Africa, and Mohamed Fouad Galal of the United Arab Republic. …

Jen Moore talked about a person she did not name as being an owner of theaters I had thought that must have been the Kutschera;s since Franz Kutchera was a propogandist and use the Von Trapp Whitehead singers.

But was the theaters owners Jospeh Kennedy who brought the Von Trapps and Norma Jean into the USA?

Jen Moore does slightly jumble inromation a bit to anomymize it (keep from narrowing down the pool guesswork) this I think was of my mother, daughter of Maria Kutchera who was a neice of Franz Kutchera tied to that "codon" of Hitler. Born in the USA GLorian was under a hidden identity. It is possible also the theater owner was in the USA and Joseph Kennedy who Rose his wife and he got into the USA and helped hide the Maria Kutchera and King Edward VIII children (or Prince Albert children)

Task Froce looking at my Edward Donegan home with my mother GLorian Donegan. -Okay I'm good I was going to touch the last few interviews to the last video I'm actually obviously in the same place overlooking the beautiful city of Washington DC as the lights go down in a great location but it's too hard to attach multiple interviews without them getting kind of mixed up in order so the last video I did I I can't on the pinned tweet is interview number three and that goes into a little bit about my meeting this child of one of Hitler's top codons she was a you know kind of German royalty she was a Nazi at 8 years old and her survival through the war and eventually get into the United States I didn't go into much detail on part number three so in this interview it is a very extensive detail actually about my meeting her in 2009-2010 the secret she shared with me the doctor documentation transcripts pictures proof identities and certain people and really help bridge the gap for me from what I knew in my various professions including law enforcement and psychology and what I learned working undercover positions and through my research and obviously interested interesting and interesting excuse me in history and political science but she was that one of the major probably the major gap-filler for me she was a legitimate child of when I'm Nazis top guys and he set up a one of his first kind of command centers inside her father's theater her father owned all the theaters in Munich in Germany at the time which 1930s 3-8 was very rare and so those theaters were used to indoctrinate soldiers and children and various people and so the this person that I met was 70 91 I met her and she died at age 80 a year and a half but I did spend a year and a half with her going into the most traumatic human experiences that I've ever heard and I've heard many many horrible tragic trauma things and seeing them as well so that's what this interview is about I hope you enjoy it and of course it goes even further into like I said

John Francis "Honey Fitz" Fitzgerald (February 11, 1863 - October 2, 1950) was an American Democratic politician from Boston, Massachusetts. Fitzgerald served as mayor of Boston and a member of the United States House of Representatives. He also made unsuccessful runs for the United States Senate in 1916 and 1942 and governor of Massachusetts in 1922.

Fitzgerald maintained a high profile in the city whether in or out of office, and his theatrical style of campaigning and charisma earned him the nickname "Honey Fitz".

First term (1906-1908) In December 1905, Fitzgerald was elected Mayor of Boston. Fitzgerald was the first American-born Irish Catholic to be elected mayor. [likely drawing on the swell of Irish immigrants following the Great Potato Famine and TRoubles in Ireland.]

He was the father of Rose Fitzgerald and maternal grandfather of her sons President John F. Kennedy, Attorney General Robert F. Kennedy, and Senator Ted Kennedy. In his old age, Fitzgerald helped his grandson John F. Kennedy win his first election to Congress.

In her teens, Rose Fitzpatrick became acquainted with her future husband, Joseph Patrick "Joe" Kennedy, whom she met while their families were vacationing in Maine. He was the elder son of businessman/politician Patrick Joseph "P.J." Kennedy (a political rival of Honey Fitz) and Mary Augusta Hickey. Kennedy would go on to court Fitzgerald for more than seven years, much to her father's disapproval.

Fitzgerald studied at the convent school Kasteel Bloemendal in Vaals, Netherlands, and graduated from Dorchester High School in 1906. She also attended the New England Conservatory in Boston, where she studied piano. The New England Conservatory of Music (NEC) is a private music school in Boston, Massachusetts.

After being refused permission by her father to attend Wellesley College, Fitzgerald enrolled at the Manhattanville College of the Sacred Heart (as it was then known) in Manhattan, an institution that did not grant degrees at the time. Kennedy later said that her greatest regret was "not having gone to Wellesley College," saying that it was "something I have felt a little sad about all my life." However, Rose eventually grew fond of the convent school, saying that the religious training she received became the foundation of her life.

In 1908, Fitzgerald and her father embarked on a tour of Europe and had a private audience with Pope Pius X at the Vatican.

On October 7, 1914, at age 24, she married Kennedy in a modest ceremony at the small chapel of the residence of Archbishop William Henry O'Connell in Boston. They initially lived in a home in Brookline, Massachusetts, that is now the John Fitzgerald Kennedy National Historic Site, and later a 15-room vacation home at Hyannis Port on Cape Cod, which became the Kennedy family's lasting base. Their nine children were Joseph Jr. (Joe), John (Jack), Rose (Rosemary), Kathleen (Kick),

Hollywood

In March 1926, Joseph Kennedy moved to Hollywood to focus on running film studios. Rose Kennedy his wife was on an extensive European trip https://www.jfklibrary.org/asset-viewer/archives/rofkpp#id1. Typed transcript about trip to Europe from Diary Notebook, 13 and 21 August 1926 (ROFKPP-001-011) (and watching over Norma Jean?] At that time, film studios were permitted to own exhibition companies, which were necessary to get their films on local screens. With that in mind, he bought controlling shares in Keith-Albee-Orpheum Theaters Corporation (KAO), which had more than 700 vaudeville theaters across the United States that had begun showing movies. In October 1928, he formally merged his film companies FBO and KAO to form Radio-Keith-Orpheum (RKO) and made a large amount of money in the process. Kennedy had no interest in vaudeville; he just wanted the theaters, which he planned to convert to movie houses for the film booking interests he ran in cooperation with Radio Corporation of America (RCA). As the developer of photophone, a sound system for the new "talkies", RCA needed to forge a connection with Hollywood to sell its product. At the same time Kennedy knew that he needed to compete in the new market of sound films and to do so he would have to have access to a technology that was not proprietary.

Kennedy generated windfall profits from reorganizing and refinancing several Hollywood film studios. He began with film distribution in New England (buying first movie theaters in Massachusetts) but quickly moved on to industry-wide arrangements and production. While still at Hayden, Stone & Co., Kennedy boasted to a colleague, "Look at that bunch of pants pressers in Hollywood making themselves millionaires. I could take the whole business away from them." One small studio, Film Booking Offices of America (or FBO), specialized in Westerns produced cheaply. Its owner was in financial trouble, and asked Kennedy to help find a new owner. Kennedy formed his own group of investors and bought it for $1.5 million.

Keen to buy the Pantages Theatre chain, which had 63 profitable theaters, Kennedy made an offer of $8 million (equivalent to $136.3 million in 2022). It was declined. He then stopped distributing his movies to Pantages. Still, Alexander Pantages declined to sell. However, when Pantages was later charged and tried for rape, his reputation took a battering, and he accepted Kennedy's revised offer of $3.5 million (equivalent to $59.6 million in 2022). Pantages, who claimed that Kennedy had "set him up", was later found not guilty at a second trial. The girl who had accused Pantages of rape, Eunice Pringle, confessed on her deathbed that Kennedy was the mastermind of the plot to frame Pantages.

Many estimate that Kennedy made over $5 million (equivalent to $85.2 million in 2022) from his investments in Hollywood. During his three-year affair with film star Gloria Swanson, he arranged the financing for her films The Love of Sunya (1927) and the ill-fated Queen Kelly (1928). The duo also used Hollywood's famous "body sculptor", masseuse Sylvia of Hollywood. Their relationship ended when Swanson discovered that an expensive gift from Kennedy had actually been charged to her account.

Political career

SEC Chairman (1934-1935)

In 1932, Kennedy supported Franklin D. Roosevelt in his bid for the presidency. This was his first major involvement in a national political campaign, and he donated, lent, and raised a substantial amount of money for the campaign.

In 1934, Congress established the independent Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) to end irresponsible market manipulations and dissemination of false information about securities. Roosevelt's brain trust drew up a list of recommended candidates for the SEC chairmanship. Kennedy headed the list, which stated he was "the best bet for Chairman because of executive ability, knowledge of habits and customs of business to be regulated and ability to moderate different points of view on Commission."

Kennedy sought out the best lawyers available giving him a hard-driving team with a mission for reform. They included William O. Douglas and Abe Fortas, both of whom were later named to the Supreme Court. The SEC had four missions. First was to restore investor confidence in the securities market, which had collapsed on account of its questionability, and the external threats supposedly posed by anti-business elements in the Roosevelt administration. Second, the SEC had to get rid of penny-ante swindles based on false information, fraudulent devices, and get-rich-quick schemes. Thirdly, and much more important than the frauds, the SEC had to end the million-dollar maneuvers in major corporations, whereby insiders with access to high-quality information about the company knew when to buy or sell their own securities. A crackdown on insider trading was essential. Finally, the SEC had to set up a complex system of registration for all securities sold in America, with a clear set of rules, deadlines and guidelines that all companies had to follow. The main challenge faced by the young lawyers was drafting precise rules. The SEC succeeded in its four missions, as Kennedy reassured the American business community that they would no longer be deceived and taken advantage of by Wall Street. He trumpeted for ordinary investors to return to the market and enable the economy to grow again. Kennedy's reforming work as SEC Chairman was widely praised on all sides, as investors realized the SEC was protecting their interests. He resigned from the SEC in September 1935.

Chairman of U.S. Maritime Commission (1937-1938)

In 1936, Roosevelt sought Kennedy's help on the campaign, and Kennedy responded with his book I'm for Roosevelt, which he had published and made sure was widely distributed. The book presented arguments for why businessmen should support Roosevelt and the New Deal, told from the perspective of Kennedy's own personal endorsement. The book had significant impact in the business community and after his re-election, Roosevelt appointed Kennedy as Chairman of the U.S. Maritime Commission, which built on his wartime experience in running a major shipyard. Kennedy spent only ten months at the Commission.

A thank you letter to Hitler

In 1937, the Duke and Duchess of Windsor set off on a tour of Germany, when the Nazi regime was in full control of the country.

"This would be all over the world - photographs of Wallis and Edward with Hitler," historian Jane Ridley says in the documentary. "This would be acutely embarrassing and unacceptable [to the royal family]."

In October of that year, the duke wrote a thank you letter to Hitler after spending time with him at his mountain retreat.

"It's written in German, but the translation reads, 'To the Führer and [Chancellor], the Duchess of Windsor and I would like to thank you sincerely. Our trip through Germany has made a great impression on us. Many thanks to you for the wonderful time that we had with you at the Obersalzberg," Andrew Lownie, author of Traitor King: The Scandalous Exile of the Duke & Duchess of Windsor, says in the film.

"Having seen so much evidence for his treachery, this [letter] was probably one of the most sensitive documents that I found in my research, and it's an indication of just how close the duke was to Hitler," he says.

A public address that encouraged Britain to 'come to terms with Nazi Germany'

In May 1939, with Britain on the brink of war, the duke recorded a message to the British public from his office in France.

While the address was heard around the world, the BBC refused to air it and filed the tape away in its archives with a reference card that read,

> "IMPORTANT: Not to be broadcast."

"He said Britain should be doing all in its power to come to terms with Nazi Germany," says A.N. Wilson, author of Hitler: A Short Biography.

Ed Donegan using the images from the Tattler article https://www.tatler.com/ asks "if this public figure Prince of Wales needed to hide an affair with a courtesan did he have an affair with a postulant nun to hide too?

During World War I, Edward, then the Prince of Wales and the eldest son of King George V, was stationed in France with the British Army. While on leave in Paris in April 1917, he was introduced through aristocratic circles to a young 24-year-old courtesan, Marguerite Alibert, and was entranced. The daughter of a taxi driver and a cleaner, Marguerite had become pregnant as a teenager while working as a domestic servant. Her baby was brought up elsewhere, and Marguerite turned to life as a courtesan in order to survive.

For the next 18 months, Edward and Marguerite were lovers, meeting whenever he could escape to Paris, where they drank champagne and he drove her around the city in his Rolls-Royce. At the peak of their affair, Edward sent around 20 letters ending with the initial ‘E’; calling Alibert ‘mon bébé’, and revealing other personal information. When Edward broke off the relationship to focus on his new English mistress, the married Freda Dudley Ward, he asked Alibert to destroy his letters, but she did not. Instead, she began blackmailing him.

[The scandal deteriotes even further as Edward exits the relationhip but is letters to her become the object of blackmail and the story told in the article continues and can be found through the link]

Edward VIII, later known as the Duke of Windsor, was King of the United Kingdom and the Dominions of the British Empire and Emperor of India from 20 January 1936 until his abdication in December of the same year. Wikipedia

Wikipedia continues https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Edward_VIII - As a young man, Edward served in the British Army during the First World War and undertook several overseas tours on behalf of his father. The Prince of Wales gained popularity due to his charm and charisma, and his fashion sense became a hallmark of the era. After the war, his conduct began to give cause for concern; he engaged in a series of sexual affairs that worried both his father and then-British prime minister Stanley Baldwin.

Upon his father's death in 1936, Edward became the second monarch of the House of Windsor. The new king showed impatience with court protocol, and caused consternation among politicians by his apparent disregard for established constitutional conventions. Only months into his reign, a constitutional crisis was caused by his proposal to marry Wallis Simpson, an American who had divorced her first husband and was seeking a divorce from her second.

The prime ministers of the United Kingdom and the Dominions opposed the marriage, arguing a divorced woman with two living ex-husbands was politically and socially unacceptable as a prospective queen consort. Additionally, such a marriage would have conflicted with Edward's status as titular head of the Church of England, which, at the time, disapproved of remarriage after divorce if a former spouse was still alive. Edward knew the Baldwin government would resign if the marriage went ahead, which could have forced a general election and would have ruined his status as a politically neutral constitutional monarch. When it became apparent he could not marry Simpson and remain on the throne, he abdicated. He was succeeded by his younger brother, George VI. With a reign of 326 days, Edward was one of the shortest-reigning British monarchs to date.

He married Simpson in France on 3 June 1937, after her second divorce became final. Later that year, the couple toured Nazi Germany, which fed rumours that he was a Nazi sympathiser. During the Second World War, Edward was at first stationed with the British Military Mission to France but after the fall of France was appointed Governor of the Bahamas. After the war, Edward spent the rest of his life in France. He and Wallis remained married until his death in 1972; they had no children.

… and what really happened the night the bombshell sang "Happy Birthday" to him. BY TAYSHA MURTAUGH Sep 29, 2017

In April 1957, both Monroe and Kennedy reportedly attended the April in Paris Ball at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel in New York City, but did not meet. After all, they were with their respective spouses (Monroe with playwright Arthur Miller, and Kennedy-then the senator of Massachusetts-with Jacqueline), and there were over 1,000 people in attendance.

Four years later, in 1961, the actress and the newly elected President of the United States were rumored to have both been at a dinner party hosted at the Santa Monica home of actor Peter Lawford. Lawford's wife, JFK's sister Patricia Kennedy Lawford, happened to be a close friend of Monroe's. However, while JFK did attend a luncheon at Lawford's on the day in question, it can't be confirmed that Monroe was also in attendance, Buzzfeed reports.

In October 1922, William Halsey Jr. was the Naval Attaché at the American Embassy in Berlin, Germany. One year later, he was given additional duty as naval attaché at the American Embassies in Christiania, Norway; Copenhagen, Denmark; and Stockholm, Sweden. He then returned to sea duty, again in destroyers in European waters, in command of USS Dale and USS Osborne. Upon his return to the U.S. in 1927, he served one year as executive officer of the battleship USS Wyoming.

"Admiral Halsey notified me He had to have a berth or he couldn't get to sea?" is a Paul McCartney and Wings song about Uncle Albert and Admiral Halsey seeming to help a pregnant lady with one in the oven have a birth somewhere if he himself is going to get a command.

The woman played by Julie Andrews in The Sound of Music, who became Baroness Maria Augusta von Trapp, stepmother and matriarch of the Trapp Family Singers, visited Fergusson Island after the singing troop disbanded in 1957.

Sister Jo was something of a legend, so I was trying to persuade her to give me an interview about her PNG adventures. She would have to talk to her provincial [supervisor] about that, she briskly deflected, but dangled one intriguing morsel.

She recalled a trip she made a few years earlier, flying by sea plane to a beautiful, remote island in Milne Bay, to spend a few days performing surgery at the local hospital. Come Sunday she had gone to mass in the local open-walled church under the palm trees.

Listen to the full documentary Jo Chandler tells the story of how The Sound of Music found its way to remote Papua New Guinea. An album with photos of Maria Agatha Franziska Gobertina von Trapp in Papua New Guinea. Papua New Guineans are enthusiastic worshippers and love to sing. Their choirs are full-throttle and often fabulous. But this one was something else.

"They were singing Palestrina motets," Sister Jo said.

They sang Bach. They sang a full Latin liturgy, impeccably.

"Who taught you these songs?" she asked at the end of mass.

"Maria von Trapp," they told her.

"As in 'How do you solve a problem like Maria'?" I asked. Yes, and no.

Returning to PNG for various assignments over the next couple of years, I poked around trying to find out more about the choir trained by the famous von Trapp family. I was curious about this unknown epilogue to a story that had struck such a chord in my culture and era.

So too did her stepdaughter Maria Agatha Franziska Gobertina von Trapp, who was portrayed as Louisa in the movie, and two children from the baroness's marriage to the widowed Georg - Rosmarie and Johannes. The four of them travelled to PNG as Catholic missionaries.

Baroness Maria stayed on the island for several weeks, best I can determine after talking to the few older locals who recall her time there, before travelling on to other parts of PNG with Monsignor Franz Wasner, the family's longtime musical director. But the grown children stayed behind in the main village of Budoya for several years.

Rosmarie taught small children at the village school. Johannes, a carpenter, helped build a new church and ventured into the wild interior with the men to hunt pigs. And Maria Franziska stayed, on and off, for around 14 years.

In 1965, when the rest of the world was captivated by the Hollywood rendering of her family story, Maria was living in Budoya under a range of fecund mountains nothing like the ordered Alps.

It's difficult to imagine a life further removed from the one she left in pre-World War II Austria, or where the family had settled and built fame and fortune in the US.

On Fergusson, she and her siblings lived as islanders, in huts made of bush materials without electric power, running water, doctors, communication with the outside world other than the mail boat and the radio. They ate what they grew in their gardens or fish brought in by the men in their outrigger canoes.

This younger Maria, in creating the choir, turns out to be a kind of real-life tropical version of the fabled Julie Andrews character. She travelled the length of the island on foot and, where she could find a track, on her bicycle, rounding up altos and sopranos and basses and training up the choir that endures to this day. The old people speak very fondly of her, and of her siblings.

Hidden Identities and Three Children missing and names and ages changed

Our History (SIS Beginnings 1909 In the early 1900s, the British government was increasingly concerned about the threat to its Empire posed by Germany’s imperial ambitions. This led to scare stories of German spies and even the Director of Military Operations was convinced that Germany was targeting Britain. These rumours proved to be overblown, but the Prime Minister, Herbert Asquith, reacted to popular concern. He ordered the Committee of Imperial Defence to look into the matter and they established a Secret Service Bureau in July 1909.

Captain Sir Mansfield George Smith-Cumming KCMG CB (1 April 1859[3] - 14 June 1923) was a British naval officer who served as the first chief of the Secret Intelligence Service (SIS) and died in office soon before he was to retire.

At the outbreak of WWI he was able to work with Vernon Kell and Sir Basil Thomson of the Special Branch to arrest twenty-two German spies in England. Eleven were executed, as was Sir Roger Casement, found guilty of treason in 1916. During the war, the offices were renamed. The Home Section became MI5 or Security Service, while Cumming's Foreign Section became MI6 or the Secret Intelligence Service. Agents who worked for MI6 during the war included Augustus Agar, Paul Dukes, John Buchan, Compton Mackenzie and W. Somerset Maugham.

Admiral Sir Hugh Francis Paget Sinclair, KCB (18 August 1873 - 4 November 1939), known as Quex Sinclair, was a British intelligence officer. He was Director of British Naval Intelligence between 1919 and 1921, and he subsequently helped to set up the Secret Intelligence Service (SIS, commonly MI6) and GCHQ.

Hugh Slinclair came Director of Naval Intelligence in February 1919 and Chief of the Submarine Service in 1921. He became the second director of SIS in 1923. He was promoted vice-admiral on 3 March 1926 and full admiral on 15 May 1930. Sinclair also founded GC&CS, later to be known as GCHQ in 1919.

The forkhead box protein 2 (FOXP2) was the first gene to be implicated in a developmental disorder of speech and language (Lai et al. 2001). Identified as the “speech and language gene” by Drs Simon Fisher and Anthony Monaco following molecular studies of 15 individuals in the “KE family” [who live in London and match the number of Royals] who suffered from speech-language delays (Hurst et al. 1990), FOXP2 is now known to play an essential role in normal speech development. Located on Chromosome 7 (Fisher et al. 1998; Lai et al. 2000, 2001), FOXP2 is not only implicated in speech-language delays but also has a function in regulating a large number of downstream target genes associated with common forms of language impairment (Vernes et al. 2008). https://www.ncbi.nlm.nih.gov/pmc/articles/PMC4849846/

It is associated with dry throats and digestive disorders my mother and experienced, in particular choking on food liek say artichokes or meats or anything dry. Drinking water helps. Writing on paper tends to be clipped too though not the same problems in speaking. ADHD does have often have rapid speech. I suggest Prince Albert was of the KE Family that was studying the gene and hiding its fairly obvious presence and affects.

Torpedoes nor rights to them were the issue of the Von Trapp singers but familial connections revolving around meeting each other and what became of the figures in history like Franz Kutschera and the Buchenwald concentration camp and Himmler creating a bunker in the Von Trapp home in Salzburg Austria are the issue.

Robert Whitehead (3 January 1823 - 14 November 1905) was an English engineer who was most famous for developing the first effective self-propelled naval torpedo.

He was born in Bolton, England, the son of James Whitehead, a cotton-bleacher, and his wife Ellen Whitehead née Swift. He trained as an engineer and draughtsman, and attended the Mechanics' Institute, Manchester.

The United States Navy started using the Whitehead torpedo in 1892 after an American company, E. W. Bliss, secured manufacturing rights.

The Whitehead torpedo was the first self-propelled or "locomotive" torpedo ever developed.[a] It was perfected in 1866 by Robert Whitehead from a rough design conceived by Giovanni Luppis of the Austro-Hungarian Navy in Fiume. is the principal seaport and the third-largest city in Croatia also known as Rijeka

During the 19th century, an officer of the Austrian Marine Artillery conceived the idea of using a small boat laden with explosives, propelled by a steam or an air engine and steered by cables to be used against enemy ships; his papers came into the possession of Captain Giovanni Luppis upon his death. Luppis had a model of the device built; it was powered by a spring-driven clockwork mechanism and steered remotely by cables from land. Dissatisfied with the device, which he called the "coast-saver",[10] Luppis turned to Robert Whitehead, who then worked for Stabilimento Tecnico Fiumano, a factory in Fiume.

[8] In about 1850 the Imperial Austrian Navy asked Whitehead to develop this design into a self-propelled underwater torpedo.

One of the 7 Von Trapp children singing with Franz Kutchera in Central European play-houses for Nazim

After graduating from high school at 15, orphan Maria Kutschera ran away to stay with a friend, with the intent to become a tutor for children staying at nearby hotels. Later Nazi General Franz Kutschera was her legal gaurdian. Because she looked so young, no one took her seriously. Finally, a hotel manager asked her to be the umpire for a tennis tournament. Although she did not know what an umpire was and had never played tennis, she took the job.

From this job, she saved enough money to enter the State Teachers College for Progressive Education in Vienna, where she also received a scholarship. She graduated from there at age 18 in 1923.

In 1924, she entered Nonnberg Abbey, a Benedictine monastery in Salzburg, as a postulant, intending to become a nun.

Marriage - Maria was asked to teach one of the seven children (Maria Franziska) of widowed naval commander Georg von Trapp in 1926 thus she left the Convent. [Was the British tied Von Trapp doing a favor for the allies?]

Con Trapp's first wife, Agathe Whitehead, had died in 1922 from scarlet fever. Eventually, Maria began to look after the other children (Rupert, Agathe, Werner, Hedwig, Johanna and Martina), as well as the one Von Trapp child she was tutoring.

7 Plus 3 Equals 10

I asset that Maria Kutschera before she moved in with Capt Von Trapp was pregnat, left the convent and moved to North Carolina. Her children were separated at birth, Norma Jean taken by Joseph Kennedy Sr into an orphanage near RKO, Glorian Gainey in North Carolina under an assumed identity as daughter of Festus Gainey who seemed a real person though died when my mother was 9 years old.

The Real von Trapps https://www.archives.gov/publications/prologue/2005/winter/von-trapps-html

Georg von Trapp, born in 1880, became a national hero as a captain in the Austrian navy during World War I. He commanded submarines with valor and received the title of "Ritter" (knight), and later baron, as a reward for his heroic accomplishments. Georg married Agathe Whitehead, the granddaughter of Robert Whitehead, the inventor of the torpedo.

In 1912. They had seven children together:
Rupert, 1911
Agathe, 1913
Maria, 1914
Werner, 1915
Hedwig, 1917
Johanna, 1919
Martina, 1921

After World War I, Austria lost all of its seaports, and Georg retired from the navy. His wife died in 1922 of scarlet fever. The family was devastated by her death and unable to bear living in a place where they had been so happy, Georg sold his property in Pola (now Pula, Croatia) and bought an estate in Salzburg.

Those children were asked by Maria Kutschera's uncle and gaurdian to sing for the Nazis which they did until 1936 when the decided to flee Nazism and Salzberg Austria for North Carolina.

The Three Unnamed Children

It is said Maria and Capt Von Trapp had three children of their own but did not fit well into semi-fictional biographical musical. These children were about the time the met in 1925-1927 time period as Maria Kutschera was leaing the Convent pregnant and sent Captain Von Trapp or became pregnant afterwards.

Ed Donegan asserts Capt Von Trapp was part of a plan along with the British to get these children out of Germany and they were out of wedlock Windsors with FOXP2 and included Marilyn Monroe and Glorian Donegan.

The proof for that is very weak but stronger proof is that because of this Glorian Donegn and her secret identity were used for illegal genetics studies including Barrack Obama Jr for Indonesia and is tied to the many assassinations that occurred in the early to late 1960's.

> The Real History Behind “The Sound of Music”

The von Trapps married more than a decade before they fled Austria.

Unlike in the film when they wed as the Nazis were taking control of Austria in 1938, 47-year-old Georg von Trapp and 22-year-old Maria wed more than a decade earlier on November 26, 1927.

Due to the altered time-frame, none of the three children that the captain and Maria had together appeared in the movie version along with the seven children from the captain's first wife.

[Ed Donegan asserts the Capt and Maria Kutchera did not have three children together in 1926. They were by Maria Kutchera leaving the Convent pregnant and having her children with Jospeh Kennedy Sr and Admiral Halsey help in the USA with the names changed and Glorian Donegan (knea Gainey) was one of them in North Carlina in Dean Rusk underground railroad.]

Daughter Rosmarie was born in 1929 and Eleonore arrived in 1931. The birth of son Johannes in Philadelphia in January 1939, months after the family left Europe, brought the number of von Trapp children to 10.

The names and ages of the real von Trapp children were changed for the film.

In actuality, the eldest von Trapp child was not 16-going-on-17-year-old Liesl, but Rupert, who was born in 1911 and a practicing physician by the time the family fled Austria in 1938. Liesl wasn't even Liesl. In the film, all the names of the von Trapp children were changed.

On 17 April 1915, Trapp took command of SM U-5. He conducted nine combat patrols in U-5, and sank two enemy warships. One was the French armored cruiser Léon Gambetta, sunk at 39°30′N 18°15′E on 27 April 1915, 25 kilometres (13 nautical miles; 16 miles) south of Cape Santa Maria di Leuca. In hunting and sinking Gambetta, Trapp achieved a notable success as commander of the first-ever underwater nighttime (and only the second) submarine attack on a vessel in the Adriatic.[3] Just over three months later, he sank the Italian submarine Nereide at 42°23′N 16°16′E on 5 August 1915, 250 metres (270 yd) off Pelagosa (Palagruža) Island.[11] He also captured the Greek steamer Cefalonia off Durazzo on 29 August 1915. Some sources incorrectly credit Trapp with sinking the Italian troop transport Principe Umberto,[12] which resulted in the greatest loss of life in any submarine attack in World War I, but the ship was actually sunk by U-5 under another commander, Friedrich Schlosser (1885-1959).[13]

Trapp was transferred to the SM U-14, the former French submarine Curie, which had been sunk and salvaged by the Austro-Hungarian Navy.[14] He conducted ten more war patrols in the much larger submarine, attacking merchant ships instead of warships. Between April 1917 and October 1917, U-14 sank 11 Allied merchant ships under Trapp's command.

In May 1918, he was promoted to Korvettenkapitän (equal to Lieutenant commander) and given command of the submarine base at Cattaro in the Gulf of Kotor. However, Austria-Hungary's defeat in World War I also led to the Empire's collapse. The territory of the Austro-Hungarian Empire was divided among seven countries, with the Kingdom of Serbs, Croats and Slovenes keeping most of the seacoast. The Republic of German-Austria was landlocked and no longer had a navy, putting an end to Trapp's naval career.

War record

Trapp's patrols in U-5 and U-14 made him the most successful Austro-Hungarian submarine commander of World War I, sinking 11 Allied merchant ships totaling 47,653 GRT and 2 Allied warships displacing a total of 12,641 tons.

11 ships sunk with a total of 47,653 GRT, 2 warships sunk with a total of 12,641 tons,1 ship taken as prize with a total of 1,034 GRT

Notes

Georg Ritter von Trapp was a successful U-boat commander that had been fascinated by U-boats since the early 1900s and transferred to the U-boat force in 1908. He took his first command, U 6, in 1910.

During the war he took his U-boats on 19 patrols and ended the war as commander of the Austrian U-boat base at Kotor (Cattaro, now in Montenegro).

He was married twice and had a total of 10 children. After economic disaster in 1935 he was left without his wealth inherited from his former wife, Agathe and his second wife Maria started organizing sining arrangements to provide for the family. The family, opposed to the annexation of Austria and Nazi influence, fled Austria to Italy and then to the USA in May 1938.

Von Trapp Timeline Respectfully Taken As Accurate

Central European Alps Folk is not the same as Nazism though it would be adopted as such (history portrays blondes from Scandinavia)

The Von Trapps were Folk Alp singers who had great popularity. It is a played down part of the tale (as Maria said only some lighthearted references to Nazis in the tale) but Franz Kutchera the legal guardian of Maria Kutschera the new wife of Captain Von Trapp encouraged this folk as Central European excellence.

So Nazi Germany was getting creepier and the need to leave was growing.

This is taken I hope not to arguably from their web site as near public domain information with their web encoding and telling of the story that is probably the most thorough and accurate information we have and I have edited down somewhat to the parts material to my needs in my own book representations of related parts of history,.

Discover Their Place in Musical History

vonTrapp.org is in memory of the von Trapp musicians, who inspired the 1959 Broadway play and 1965 Hollywood film, The Sound of Music. From 1934-1956, they sang in over 2,000 performances, in venues ranging from high school auditoriums to iconic concert halls, bringing joy and comfort to over 3 million people throughout 30 countries. They were famous in their own day, a household name, with the distinction as 'the most booked attraction in U.S. history'.

Prior to 1934 - Music As A Pastime

The von Trapps came from a long musical tradition. Baron Captain Georg von Trapp and Agathe Whitehead von Trapp (the parents to the first seven von Trapp children) played several instruments and made music a part of their family's daily life. Their children also had formal musical training starting at a young age. In 1922 Agathe passed away of Scarlet Fever. As the children grew older Georg personally taught Rupert and Maria the accordion, Agathe the guitar, and Johanna the violin. From instructors, Martina and Hedwig learned the piano and Werner learned the cello and clarinet. Together they formed a small family Quartet consisting of Georg as first violin, Johanna as second violin, Rupert or Maria on accordion, and Agathe on guitar. The family loved making music together and did so regularly. In 1927 he married his second wife Maria Augusta Kutschera. In her youth she had received musical training as part of the Austrian youth group the Neuland. By 1931 two more children were born into the family. The expanding family continued the tradition of making music together, singing at Mass and regularly entertaining guests, friends, and extended family with song.

1934 - Lotte Lehmann's Encouragement

By 1934 the von Trapp family had lost a large part of their wealth due to a global depression and a banking failure. Their fortune had consisted of monies inherited from the children's great-grandfather, Robert Whitehead, (from his invention of the torpedo) and the other half from Georg's successful decade-long shipping businesses on the Rhein-Danue Rivers (1919-1930).

To stabilize their financial situation Georg worked on several endeavors including writing his WWI memoir, lecturing, and exploring some engineering ideas. As a result, the family was able to stay at their home in Aigen, near Salzburg, Austria, but they took on boarders to help cover expenses. In the summer of 1934 the famous German/Austrian opera singer, Lotte Lehmann, visited Villa Trapp and the family entertained her with their music. She was so impressed and touched by the family's performance that she told them, "You have gold in your throats. You are not allowed to keep this for yourselves, you have to share your voice with people. This is something so beautiful, they will go home with filled souls.". Georg later recalled, "We were astonished when she seemed seriously interested. She told us we were great artists whose the world should hear. I thought she was joking." [October 23, 1942 The Gallup Independent, New Mexico]. It was Lotte who encouraged them to enter a local Folk Singing Competition.

1934 - Folk Singing Competition in Salzburg

Encouraged by the famous opera singer Lotte Lehmann, on September 1 & 2, 1934, the von Trapp family competed in a folk song competition attended to by audiences "filled beyond capacity" at the restaurant “Elektrischer Aufzug” (Elektic Elevator) on Moenchsberg Street, Salzburg, Austria. About 30 groups took part, competing in different categories. The von Trapp family won a prize in the multiple voice category. See 1934 newspaper article. As a result of their prize, the family was invited to sing on the radio several times during 1935.

In United States law, the term Glomar response, also known as Glomarization or Glomar denial,[1] means to respond evasively to a question with the phrase "neither confirm nor deny" (NCND).[2] For example, in response to a request for police reports relating to a certain person, the police agency may respond: "We can neither confirm nor deny that our agency has any records matching your request." The phrase was notably used to respond to requests for information about the Glomar Explorer.

The USNS Hughes Glomar Explorer was a large salvage vessel built by the Central Intelligence Agency (CIA) for its covert "Project Azorian"-an attempted salvaging of a sunken Soviet submarine. "Glomar" is the syllabic abbreviation of Global Marine Development, the company commissioned by the CIA to build the Glomar Explorer. In February 1975, the CIA became aware of a story awaiting publication in the Los Angeles Times. Journalist Harriet Ann Phillippi requested that the CIA provide disclosure of both the Glomar project and its attempts to censor the story. In response, the CIA chose to "neither confirm nor deny" both the project's existence and its attempts to keep the story unpublished. - Wikipeida

Visiting Airplane Boneyards Near Las Vegas

Airliner Boneyards Near Las Vegas Jetliners in storage at the Phoenix Goodyear Airport in the Arizona desert

Jetliners in storage at the Phoenix Goodyear Airport in the We love to travel to Las Vegas in Nevada, and have on many occasions. Like others, after a couple days on The Strip, we look for other diversions, like Hoover Dam, the Grand Canyon, Historic U.S. Route 66, Death Valley or enjoying the beauty of the open desert.

Many aviation fans have another destination in mind: airplane boneyards!

Within driving distance of Las Vegas are several airplane boneyards. Some you can visit on a day trip from Vegas. Others might require an overnight stay, if you wanted.

Shown below is a map of Las Vegas and the major airplane boneyards in the vicinity.

Kingman Airport (IGM) in Arizona

The Kingman Airport & Industrial Park is located five miles north of Interstate 40 in Kingman, Arizona. It is home to more than 70 businesses, including those engaged in the storage of airliners.

Only about a 2 hour, 105 mile drive southeast, Kingman is the closest boneyard to Las Vegas. Follow Interstate I-515 south out of Las Vegas, and connect with U.S. 93 down to Kingman. Don't forget to stop and visit Hoover Dam along the way! Plus, the airport is on Historic U.S. Route 66 - The Mother Road.

When we last visited, dozens of airliners were parked, including those from American Eagle, Continental, DHL, SAS and other airlines.

Mojave Airport (MHV) in California

The Mojave Air and Space Port in the California desert serves a variety of aviation and space industries. It is also a storage facility for commercial airliners, due to its vast area and dry desert conditions.

Large Boeing, McDonnell Douglas, Lockheed, and Airbus aircraft owned by major airlines are stored at Mojave. Some aircraft reach the end of their useful lifetime and are scrapped at the Mojave aircraft boneyard, while others are refurbished and returned to active service.

It is the first facility to be licensed in the United States for horizontal launches of reusable spacecraft, being certified as a spaceport by the Federal Aviation Administration in 2004. The development and launch of the experimental SpaceShipOne was arguably the biggest "first" in the history of the facility.

The Mojave Air & Space Port is located on California Highway 58 between Edwards Air Force Base and Tehachapi.

Entrance sign at the Mojave Air & Space Port ... "Imagination Flies Here" The official address is 1434 Flightline, Building 58, Mojave, CA 93501.

Southern California Logistics Airport (SCLA) in Victorville

The Southern California Logistics Airport (SCLA) is located in Victorville, California. Also known as Victorville Airport, it is home to many aviation related businesses, including Southern California Aviation, a large transitional facility for commercial aircraft.

The City of Victorville is located on Interstate Highway 15 between the San Bernardino area and Barstow. SCLA is about 7 miles northwest of the city.

The facility is located on the site of the former George Air Force Base, in active service from 1941 to 1992.

The airport features a precision instrument runway of 15,050 feet and a secondary runway length of 9,138 feet to accommodate any aircraft flying today.

Pinal Airpark (MZJ) in Marana, Arizona

The Pinal Airpark is located in Marana, Arizona, south of Phoenix and just northwest of Tucson on I-10. It acts as a "boneyard" for civilian commercial aircraft as well as a site for airliner storage and reconfiguration. Old aircraft are stored there with the hope that the dry desert climate will prevent any form of corrosion in case the aircraft is pressed into service in the future.

Among the current tenants at the airpark is the Evergreen Aircraft Maintenance Facility. Now known as Marana Aerospace Solutions, the company offers more than 600 acres of secured ramp and storage area for all sizes of aircraft.

It's a good distance from Las Vegas, at 390 miles, but it is an interesting and popular visit for aviation enthusiasts. It has the "former CIA base" angle that fascinate many!

Litchfield Park / Phoenix Goodyear Airport (GYR)

This facility in Phoenix, Arizona was originally constructed during World War II as a naval air facility known as NAF Litchfield Park, and later renamed Naval Air Station Litchfield Park.

Litchfield Park / Phoenix Goodyear Airport (GYR) Its primary role following the end of World War II was that of storage and preservation of obsolete or excess U.S. Navy, U.S. Marine Corps and U.S. Coast Guard aircraft.

In 1965, the Defense Department decided to consolidate military aircraft storage at Davis-Monthan Air Force Base in Tucson.

Today, the airport is home to several private companies offering aircraft maintenance, airliner storage, and commercial pilot training, and serves as a reliever airfield for Phoenix Sky Harbor.

Phoenix-Goodyear is 285 miles from Las Vegas, probably too far for a day trip. But if you travel plans include both Las Vegas and Phoenix, the airport is a great place to spot stored airliners.

Davis-Monthan Air Force Base in Tucson: The World's Largest Boneyard [Holt Names]

A "must see" on the agendas of many aviation fans is the largest airplane boneyard in the world!

Davis-Monthan AFB is the location of the 309th Aerospace Maintenance and Regeneration Group (AMARG), the sole aircraft boneyard and parts reclamation facility for all excess military and government aircraft. Aircraft from the Air Force, Navy, Marine Corps, Coast Guard, NASA and other government agencies are processed at AMARG, which employs 550 people, almost all civilians.

Jet fighters in storage at Davis-Monthan AFB in Tucson Davis-Monthan AFB and boneyard in Arizona

Another role of AMARG is to support the program that converts old fighter jets, such as the F-4 Phantom II and F-16, into aerial target drones. It also serves as an auxiliary facility of the National Museum of the United States Air Force, and stores tooling for out-of-production military aircraft.

AMARG's typical inventory comprises more than 4,400 aircraft, which makes it the largest aircraft storage and preservation facility in the world.

The base is located just southeast of downtown Tucson. It is bordered by East Valencia Road on the south, Golf Links Road on the north, and Kolb Road on the East. Interstate Highway 10 lies just to the west of the base.

It's a long way from Las Vegas, over 400 miles and a 7-8 hour drive. Is it worth it? It's your decision. But we have visited there on multiple trips, and it's an amazing place. And if you go, be sure to see one of the world's premier aviation museums, the Pima Air & Space Museum, across the street from Davis-Monthan.

AMARG is a controlled-access facility and off-limits to personnel without the proper clearance.

British Rule throughout the world was in question including for Kenya.

Kenya Colony retrieved from Wikipedia and copied or modified to here

The Mau Mau rebellion, that was a revolt against British colonial rule in Kenya, lasted from 1952 to 1960. The rebellion was marked by war crimes and massacres committed by both sides.

The Colony and the Protectorate each came to an end on 12th December 1963. The United Kingdom ceded sovereignty over the Colony of Kenya under an agreement dated 8th October 1963. The Sultan agreed that simultaneous with independence for Kenya, the Sultan would cease to have sovereignty over the Protectorate of Kenya. In this way, Kenya became an independent country under the Kenya Independence Act 1963, which established the independent Commonwealth realm of Kenya, with Queen Elizabeth II as head of state. Mzee Jomo Kenyatta was the first prime minister. On 26th May 1963, Kenya had its first elections and a new red, green, black and white flag was introduced. Exactly 12 months after independence, on 12th December 1964, Kenya became a republic under the name "Republic of Kenya".

Flang of Kenya 1921-1963

History

The Mau Mau rebellion (1952-1960), also known as the Mau Mau uprising, Mau Mau revolt, or Kenya Emergency, was a war in the British Kenya Colony (1920-1963) between the Kenya Land and Freedom Army (KLFA), also known as the Mau Mau, and the British authorities. Dominated by Kikuyu, Meru and Embu fighters, the KLFA also comprised units of Kamba and Maasai who fought against the European colonists in Kenya, the British Army, and the local Kenya Regiment (British colonists, local auxiliary militia, and pro-British Kikuyu).

The King's African Rifles (KAR) was a British Colonial Auxiliary Forces regiment raised from Britain's East African colonies in 1902. It primarily carried out internal security duties within these colonies along with military service elsewhere during the world wars and other conflicts, such as the Malayan Emergency and the Mau Mau uprising. The regiment's enlisted soldiers were drawn from the native Africans, while most officers were seconded from the British Army. During the 1960s, as part of the decolonisation of Africa, more African officers were commissioned into the regiment before it was gradually disbanded. KAR battalions would go on to form the core of newly established armed forces throughout East Africa.

The Colony and Protectorate of Kenya was established on 23rd July 1920 when the territories of the former East Africa Protectorate (except those parts of that Protectorate over which His Majesty the Sultan of Zanzibar had sovereignty) were annexed by the UK. The Kenya Protectorate was established on 29th November 1920 when the territories of the former East Africa Protectorate which were not annexed by the UK were established as a British Protectorate. The Protectorate of Kenya was governed as part of the Colony of Kenya by virtue of an agreement between the United Kingdom and the Sultan dated 14 December 1895.

In the 1920s, natives objected to the reservation of the White Highlands for Europeans, especially British war veterans. Bitterness grew between the natives and the Europeans. Describing the period in 1925, the African-American historian and Pan-Africanist W. E. B. Du Bois wrote in an article which would be incorporated into the pivotal Harlem Renaissance text The New Negro,

The British Army Training Unit Kenya (BATUK) is a training support unit of the British Army located in Kenya.

On 3 June 1964, Duncan Sandys, Secretary of State for Commonwealth Relations, signed a post-independence defence agreement with the new Kenyan government. Among its other provisions, it specified that British troops could exercise in Kenya twice a year.

Today, BATUK administers and facilitates British Army access to the large number of training areas made available by the Kenyan authorities. These training areas make possible combined arms light and mechanised role infantry battlegroup and brigade exercises, as well as civil engineering and medical projects for the local population, funded by the British Army.

Under an agreement with the Kenyan Government, up to six infantry battalions per year carry out eight-week exercises in Kenya. There are also three Royal Engineers squadron exercises which carry out civil engineering projects, as well as two Army Medical Services medical company group deployments.

British Army troops also help prevent poaching of endangered species such as rhinos and elephants, and are said to contribute £58 million to the Kenyan economy each year.

BATUK has three installations: Nyati Barracks at Laikipia Air Base in Nanyuki contains the headquarters, accommodation, mess, stores and offices; Kifaru Barracks is a rear base and logistical hub in Nairobi; Kahawa Barracks, hosted by the Kenya Army, is a similar rear base in Nairobi.

Over the years, British soldiers deploying to BATUK for training have been involved in criminal acts, which have attracted media attention in both Britain and Kenya. Allegations and court cases have included murder, brawls, rape, sexual assault, an alleged child kidnapping, environmental damage, fatal hit-and-runs, and sexual exploitation of Kenyan women.

Current status

The UK Ministry of Defence (MoD) maintains a longstanding Defence Cooperation Agreement with the Kenyan Government whereby up to six British infantry battalions (10,000 service personnel) per year may carry out eight-week exercises on Kenya Ministry of Defence land at Archer's Post and in Laikipia County.

The exercises are run by BATUK from its base at Nyati Barracks in Nanyuki, 200 km north of the capital.

Britain offers training opportunities in the UK to the Kenyan military and conducts joint exercises with the Kenya Defence Forces (KDF). From 2019 to 2021, the British Army and the Kenyan Defence Forces conducted five joint training exercises from BATUK, involving around 600 Kenyan troops and 4,500 British troops.

The Malayan Emergency, also known as the Anti-British National Liberation War (1948-1960), was a guerrilla war fought in British Malaya between communist pro-independence fighters of the Malayan National Liberation Army (MNLA) and the military forces of the Federation of Malaya, British Empire and Commonwealth. The communists fought to win independence for Malaya from the British Empire and to establish a socialist economy, while the Malayan Federation and Commonwealth forces fought to combat communism and protect British economic and colonial interests. The term "Emergency" was used by the British to characterise the conflict in order to avoid referring to it as a war, because London-based insurers would not pay out in instances of civil wars.

The war began on 17 June 1948, after Britain declared a state of emergency in Malaya following attacks on plantations, which had been revenge attacks for the killing of left-wing activists. Leader of the Malayan Communist Party (MCP) Chin Peng and his allies fled into the jungles and formed the MNLA to wage a war for national liberation against British colonial rule. Many MNLA fighters were veterans of the Malayan Peoples' Anti-Japanese Army (MPAJA), a communist guerrilla army previously trained, armed and funded by the British to fight against Japan during World War II. The communists gained support from many civilians, mainly those from the Chinese community. The communists' belief in class consciousness, and both ethnic and gender equality, inspired many women and indigenous people to join both the MNLA and its undercover supply network the Min Yuen. Additionally, hundreds of former Japanese soldiers joined the MNLA. After establishing a series of jungle bases the MNLA began raiding British colonial police and military installations. Mines, plantations, and trains were attacked by the MNLA to gain independence for Malaya by bankrupting the British occupation.

The British attempted to starve the MNLA using scorched earth policies through food rationing, killing livestock, and aerial spraying of the herbicide Agent Orange. British attempts to defeat the communists included extrajudicial killings of unarmed villagers, in violation of the Geneva Conventions. The most infamous example is the Batang Kali massacre, which the press has referred to as "Britain's My Lai". The Briggs Plan forcibly relocated between 400,000 and 1,000,000 civilians into concentration camps called "New villages". Many Orang Asli indigenous communities were also targeted for internment because the British believed that they were supporting the communists.

Although the emergency was declared over in 1960, communist leader Chin Peng renewed the insurgency against the Malaysian government in 1968. This second phase of the insurgency lasted until 1989.

1962 was an interesting year with the Bay of Pigs, Wikipedia -- the A12 (forerunner to the SR71) being transported to Groom Lake for testing. The Lockheed A-12 is a retired high-altitude, Mach 3+ reconnaissance aircraft built for the United States Central Intelligence Agency (CIA) by Lockheed's Skunk Works, based on the designs of Clarence "Kelly" Johnson. The aircraft was designated A-12, the 12th in a series of internal design efforts for "Archangel", the aircraft's internal code name. In 1959, it was selected over Convair's FISH and Kingfish designs as the winner of Project GUSTO, and was developed and operated under Project Oxcart.

With the failure of the CIA's Project Rainbow to reduce the radar cross-section (RCS) of the U-2, preliminary work began inside Lockheed in late 1957 to develop a follow-on aircraft to overfly the Soviet Union. Designer Kelly Johnson said, "In April 1958 I recall having long discussions with [CIA Deputy Director for Plans] Richard M. Bissell Jr. over the subject of whether there should be a follow-on to the U-2 aircraft. We agreed ... that there should be one more round before satellites would make aircraft reconnaissance obsolete for covert reconnaissance."[6] [My father James Paul Donegan assertd they would never touch the SR-71 from the ground. Because the A-12 was well ahead of its time, many new technologies had to be invented specifically for the Oxcart project with some remaining in use to present day. One of the biggest problems engineers faced at the time was working with titanium.[9] [Ed Donegan and James Donegan discussed the plane at length from Aviation Week and Space Technology and in Junior High at Joaquin Moraga I remeber passing around and disappointed one version of it had been canceled and that the F meant experimental. My father and Francis Gay Powers may have had a connection in 1952 at least as far as being a RECON pilot my father said afterward RECON pilots came to believe or suspect an eject pull now would cause the eject seat to kill rather than to rescue.

February 1962 - the first Lockheed A-12 (predecessor to the SR-71) being secretly transported to Groom Lake, Nevada inside a large container. https://planehistoria.com/lockheed-a-12/

On 1 May 1960, a United States U-2 spy plane was shot down by the Soviet Air Defence Forces while conducting photographic aerial reconnaissance deep inside Soviet territory. Flown by American pilot Francis Gary Powers, the aircraft had taken off from Peshawar, Pakistan, and crashed near Sverdlovsk (present-day Yekaterinburg), after being hit by a surface-to-air missile. Powers parachuted to the ground and was captured.

Initially, American authorities acknowledged the incident as the loss of a civilian weather research aircraft operated by NASA, but were forced to admit the mission's true purpose a few days later after the Soviet government produced the captured pilot and parts of the U-2's surveillance equipment, including photographs of Soviet military bases.

Under Project Gusto the designs were nicknamed "Archangel", after the U-2 program, which had been known as "Angel". As the aircraft designs evolved and configuration changes occurred, the internal Lockheed designation changed from Archangel-1 to Archangel-2, and so on. These names for the evolving designs soon simply became known as "A-1", "A-2", etc. [7] The CIA program to develop the follow-on aircraft to the U-2 was code-named Oxcart.[2]

(PRESS SCRUTINY)

(TEXT) BROTHERS DULLES AND CO. MAKE ONE OF THE MOST INTERESTING PAGES IN THE ANNALS OF AMERICAN DIPLOMACY. IT IS TRUE THAT JOHN FOSTER DULLES IS DEAD, BUT HIS BROTHER ALLEN WELSH DULLES IS SUCCESSFULLY CONTINUING THE WORK BEGUN BY THE GREATEST CHAMPION OF COLD WAR.

ALLEN WELSH DULLES BEGAN HIS ESPIONAGE CAREER IN 1942 WHEN GEN. WILLIAM J. DONOVAN APPOINTED HIM EXTRAORDINARY PLENIPOTENTIARY OF AMERICAN INTELLIGENCE IN EUROPE, OR THE OFFICE OF STRATEGIC SERVICES--OSS. THE SEAT OF THE OSS WAS IN SWITZERLAND. IN A BOOK WHICH WAS PUBLISHED IN 1947 UNDER THE TITLE "UNDERGROUND GERMANY," ALLEN DULLES HIMSELF WRTIES: "WE SUCCEEDED IN ESTABLIBHING CONTACT WITH A SECRET GERMAN ORGANIZATION." THIS "SECRET ORGANIZATION" INCLUDED THE MOST OFFICIAL REPRESENTATIVE OF THE STAFF OF THE HINMTRITE ARMY, INCLUDING GEN. SPEIDEL, PRESENT COMMANDER OF NATO LAND FORCES, AND HIGHER STAFF OFFICERS, THE PURPOSE OF THESE CONOACTS WAS TO CONCLUDE A SEPARATE PEACE TREATY WITH HIOLERITE GERMANY TO ENABLE GERMANY TO USE ALL ITS FORCES IN AN ASSAULT ON THE SOVIET UNION.

WE MUST CONCEDE THAT "MR. BULL"--THE PSEUDOMYN UNDER WHICH DULLES BEGAN HIS NEGOTIATIONS WITH HINBTRITE OFFICERS--WAS AIDED CIRCUMSTANCES. HE HAD OLD AND TESTED FRIENDS WITH WHOM HE WAS BOUND BY COMMON INTERESTS: (IN GERMANY--ED.) IN 1.20 THE LEGAL FIRM OF THE BROTHERS DULLES REPRESENTED THE GERMAN GOVERNMENT IN THE UNITED STATES. IN THE FOLLOWING YEARS THE FIRM KNOWN AS SULLIVAN AND CROMWELL, WAS ENTRUSTED WITH THE LEGAL REPRESENTATION IN THE UNITED STATES OF A NUMBER OF BIG GERMAN CONCERNS INCLUDING KRUPP, I. G. FARBEN, FOCKZ-WULF AND OTHERS.

THE CONNECTIONS OF THE FIRM WITH HITLZHITE GERMANY WERE SO STRONG IN THE PERIOD BETWEEN THE WARS THAT ALLEN DULLES JOINED THE BOARD OF THE AMERICAN-GDGVAN SCHRODER BANI IN NEW YORK--- the OFFICIAL FISCAL AGENT IN THE UNITED STATES OF HITLER'S GOVERNMENT AND UNDER THE INFLUENCE OF ROCKEFELLER. MOREOVER DULLES WAS CONSIDERED TO BE AN OFFICIAL REPRESENTATIVE OF THE STANDARD OIL GROUP IN RELATIONS WITH GERMAN MONOPOLIES AND THEIR POLITICAL FRIENDS.

IT IS REMARKABLE THAT THE MEMBERSHIP OF THE SCHRODER BANK INCLUDES-ASIDE FROM A PARTNER OF THE DULLES FIRM, DURREL-- ALSO J. LAYLIN, MEMBER OF THE LEGAL FIRM OF COVINGTON AND BURLING. A PARTNER OF THIS FIRM IS DULLES' PREDECESSOR AS A SECRETARY OF STATE, DEAN ACHESON, WHO BEGAN THE COLD WAR AND IS A PROMINENT LEADER OF THE DEMOCRATIC PARTY. BUT THE MOST INTERESTING IS THE FACT THAT ABOVE ALL, DULLES' CONNECTIONS REACH OUT TO ARMAMENTS MONOPOLIES THE CAPIN IR IDICZBD OVER. THESE ARZ MAINLY CONCERNS WHICH PRODUCE WEAPONS AND MILITARY EQUIPMENT IN THE UNITED STATES AND ABROAD.

EVEN BEFORE FOSTER DULLES TOOK HIS APPOINTMENT AS SECRETARY OF STATE, BOTH BROTHERS HAD BEEN MEMBERS OF THE INTERNATIONAL NICKZL BOARD CONTROLLED BY THE ROCKEFELLERS, MORGANS, AND THE BRITISH ICI CHEMICAL CONCERN. AT THE SAME TIME FOSTER DULLES WAS A DIRECTOR OF THE AMERICAN BRANCH OF THE BABCOCK AND WILCOX CONCERN IN BRITAIN WHICH PRODUCES ATOMIC EQUIPMENT.

ONE OF THE PARTNERS OF THE DULLES FIRM, ANDREWS, WAS A REPRESENTATIVE OF THE ANGLO-DUTCH OIL MONOPOLY--ROYAL DUTCH SHELL-- IN THE UNITED STATES. THE OTHER PARTNER, DEAN, WAS A LEGAL ADVISOR TO A GERMAN-AMERICAN CONCERN, THE AMERICAN METAL CORPORATION, WHICH TRADES IN URANIUM.

THIS IS NOT THE FULL LIST OF THE DULLES BROTHERS' CONNECTIONS WITH INTERNATIONAL KINGS OF FINANCE AND INDUSTRY, BUT THE FACTS CITED HERE CLERALY DEMONSTRATE WHAT "SIDELINES" OCCUPIED THE DULLES BROTHERS--ONE OW WHOM WAS A SECRETARY OF STATE AND THE OTHER THE PRESENT CHIEF OF U.S. INTELLIGENCE IN KENNEDY'S GOVERNMENT.

An article by Edward Curtin Review of Greg Poulgrain's book "The Incubus of Intervention: Conflicting Indonesian Strategies of John F. Kennedy and Allen Dulles" posted on the International People's Tribunal 1965 website.

> CNN: Tribunal finds Indonesia guilty of 1965 genocide; US, UK complicit Juliet Perry By Juliet Perry

An international panel of judges has concluded that Indonesia's mass killings of 1965 were crimes against humanity, and that the United States, United Kingdom and Australia were all complicit in the crimes.

Their report estimates that 400,000 to 500,000 people - believed associated with the communist party, were killed by military deaths squads, but indicates that official secrecy around these numbers makes the actual figure hard to gauge.

The panel, presided over by head judge Zak Yacoob, a former South African Constitutional Court Justice, held a four-day hearing in the Hague in November of last year, where they heard over 20 witnesses, some of whom gave evidence behind a screen to protect their identity.

'The Act of Killing' film helps Indonesia confront its dark past. In their damning report issued Wednesday, the judges listed a number of allegations which they found to be well founded; including inhumane, ruthless torture, unjustifiable imprisonment and "forced labor that might well have amounted to enslavement."

The panel also found evidence of systematic sexual violence, political persecution and exile, and disappearances of thousands who were thought not to support the Suharto dictatorship with "sufficient fervor."

The judges recommended the Indonesian government apologize to victims and their families, investigate the crimes against humanity, and ensure any survivors receive appropriate compensation.

However, Coordinating Political, Legal and Security Affairs Minister Luhut Pandjaitan told press Wednesday that Indonesia had its own legal system, that no external party could dictate the way it solved its problems and that the government would not bow to the IPT 1965's recommendations.

"Our country is a great nation. We acknowledge and we will resolve this problem [the 1965 tragedy] in our way and through universal values," Luhut said at the Presidential Palace on Wednesday.

This is the Final Report of the Judges who participated in the hearings held in the Nieuwe Kerk, The Hague, Netherlands from 10 to 13 November 2015. Before the hearings, the judges received the Indictment and Prosecution Brief, as well as extensive background documentary material in the form of a Research Report of over six hundred pages.

During the four days of hearings, the judges heard the oral submissions of the prosecutors, as well as the testimony and responses to questions of more than 20 witnesses (some of whom testified with their identities protected under pseudonyms and/or behind screens). The judges also received several hundred pages of documents, tendered as evidence. The prosecution presented its case as nine counts, alleging the commission of the following crimes against humanity: (1) Murder, (2) Enslavement, (3) Imprisonment, (4) Torture, (5) Sexual Violence, (6) Persecution, (7) Enforced Disappearance, (8) Hate Propaganda and (9) Complicity of Other States.

Following the hearings, the judges examined the evidence and supporting material further, in their preparation of this Report. Helen Jarvis and John Gittings prepared and edited the Report, assisted by Shadi Sadr, Mireille Fanon-Mendes France and Zak Yacoob. Judge Yacoob provided a legal overview of the text. The Report amplifies and provides reasoned justification for the Judges' Concluding Statement, delivered during the final session of the hearings on 13 November 2015 (see A3 below). It begins by addressing the overarching question of responsibility for the mass murders and other crimes; it then focuses on the counts presented by the Prosecution and in an amicus curiae Brief submitted to the Tribunal; and concludes with a series of findings and recommendations.

It is regrettable that the State of Indonesia did not accept the invitation to participate in the hearings or make submissions to the Tribunal. The governments of the United States, the United Kingdom and Australia, also did not accept the invitation extended by the Tribunal. The judges welcomed the willingness of individual members of Indonesian National Human Rights Commission, Komnas HAM, and the National Commission on Violence Against Women, Komnas Perempuan, to brief the Tribunal.

It should be noted that some significant though partial steps towards addressing these issues have been taken in Indonesia since the Tribunal was held, as outlined in Appendix D2.

Allen Dulles' "Indonesian Strategy" and the Assassination of John F. Kennedy retrieved from https://www.tribunal1965.org/ and copied or modified to here

By Edward Curtin Review of Greg Poulgrain's book "The Incubus of Intervention: Conflicting Indonesian Strategies of John F. Kennedy and Allen Dulles"

This is the central question addressed by Greg Poulgrain in his extraordinarily important book, The Incubus of Intervention: Conflicting Indonesian Strategies of John F. Kennedy and Allen Dulles.

Two days before President John Kennedy's assassination on November 22, 1963, he had accepted an invitation from Indonesian President Sukarno to visit that country the following spring. The aim of the visit was to end the conflict (Konfrontasi) between Indonesia and Malaysia and to continue Kennedy's efforts to support post-colonial Indonesia with economic and developmental aid, not military. It was part of his larger strategy of ending conflict throughout Southeast Asia and assisting the growth of democracy in newly liberated post-colonial countries worldwide.

He had forecast his position in a dramatic speech in 1957 when, as a Massachusetts Senator, he told the Senate that he supported the Algerian liberation movement and opposed colonial imperialism worldwide. The speech caused an international uproar and Kennedy was harshly attacked by Eisenhower, Nixon, John Foster Dulles, and even liberals such as Adlai Stevenson. But he was praised throughout the third world.

Of course JFK never went to Indonesia in 1964, and his peaceful strategy to bring Indonesia to America's side and to ease tensions in the Cold War was never realized, thanks to Allen Dulles. And Kennedy's proposed withdrawal from Vietnam, which was premised on success in Indonesia, was quickly reversed by Lyndon Johnson after JFK's murder. Soon both countries would experience mass slaughter engineered by Kennedy's opponents in the CIA and Pentagon. Millions would die. Subsequently, starting in December 1975, American installed Indonesian dictator, Suharto, would slaughter hundreds of thousands East-Timorese with American weapons after meeting with Henry Kissinger and President Ford and receiving their approval.

Dulles's Secret

What JFK didn't know was that his plans were threatening a covert long-standing conspiracy engineered by Allen Dulles to effect regime change in Indonesia through bloody means. The primary goal behind this plan was to gain unimpeded access to the vast load of natural resources that Dulles had kept secret from Kennedy, who thought Indonesia was lacking in natural resources. But Dulles knew that if Kennedy, who was very popular in Indonesia, visited Sukarno, it would deal a death blow to his plan to oust Sukarno, install a CIA replacement (Suharto), exterminate alleged communists, and secure the archipelago for Rockefeller controlled oil and mining interests, for whom he had fronted since the 1920s.

Dr. Poulgrain, who teaches Indonesian History, Politics and Society at the University of Sunshine Coast in Australia, explores in very great detail historical issues that have critical significance for today. Based on almost three decades of interviews and research around the world, he has produced a very densely argued book that reads like a detective novel with fascinating sub- plots.

The Importance of Indonesia

Most Americans have little awareness of the strategic and economic importance of Indonesia. It is the world's 4th most populous country, is situated in a vital shipping lane adjacent to the South China Sea, has the world's largest Muslim population, has vast mineral and oil deposits, and is home to Grasberg, the world's largest copper and gold mine, owned by Freeport McMoRan of Phoenix, Arizona. Long a battleground in the Cold War, it remains vitally important in the New Cold War launched by the Obama administration against Russia and China, the same antagonists Allen Dulles strove to defeat through guile and violence. Just recently the Indonesian government, under pressure from the army that has stymied democratic reforms for 18 years, signed a defense agreement with Russia for the sharing of intelligence, the sale of Russian military equipment, including fighter jets, and the manufacturing of weapons in Indonesia. While not front page news in the U.S., these facts make Indonesia of great importance today and add to the gravity of Poulgrain's history.

The Devil in Paradise

His use of the word "incubus" (an evil spirit that has sexual intercourse with sleeping women) in the title is appropriate since the sinister character that snakes his way through this historical analysis is Allen Dulles, the longest serving Director of the CIA and Kennedy's arch-enemy. While contextually different from David Talbot's portrayal of Dulles in The Devil's Chessboard, Poulgrain's portrait of Dulles within the frame of Indonesian history is equally condemnatory and nightmarish. Both describe an evil genius ready to do anything to advance his agenda.

Reading Poulgrain's masterful analysis, one can clearly see how much of modern history is a struggle for control of the underworld where lies the fuel that runs the megamachine - oil, minerals, gold, etc. Manifest ideological conflicts, while garnering headlines, often bury the secret of this subterranean devil's game.

His story begins with a discovery that is then kept secret for many decades: "In the alpine region of Netherlands New Guinea (so named under Dutch colonial rule - today, West Papua) in 1936, three Dutchmen discovered a mountainous outcrop of ore with high copper content and very high concentrations of gold. When later analyzed in the Netherlands, the gold (in gram/ton) proved to be twice that of Witwatersrand in South Africa, then the world's richest gold mine, but this information was not made public."

The geologist among the trio, Jean Jacques Dozy, worked for the Netherlands New Guinea Petroleum Company (NNGPM), ostensibly a Dutch-controlled company based in The Hague, but whose controlling interest actually lay in the hands of the Rockefeller family, as did the mining company, Freeport Indonesia (now Freeport McMoRan, one of whose Directors from 1988-95 was Henry Kissinger, Dulles's and the Rockefeller's close associate) that began mining operations there in 1966. It was Allen Dulles, Paris-based lawyer in the employ of Rockefeller's Standard Oil, who in 1935 arranged the controlling interest in NNGPN for the Rockefellers. And it was Dulles, among a select few others, who, because of various intervening events, including WW II, that made its exploitation impossible, kept the secret of the gold mine for almost three decades, even from President Kennedy. JFK "was never informed of the 'El Dorado' he had unwittingly taken out of Dutch hands with the result that (once the remaining political hurdles in Indonesia were overcome) Freeport would have unimpeded access to its mining concession." Those "political hurdles" - i.e. regime change - would take a while to effect.

The Indonesia-Cuba Connection

But first JFK would have to be eliminated, for he had brokered Indonesian sovereignty over West Papua/West Irian for Sukarno from the Dutch who had ties to Freeport Sulphur. Freeport was aghast at the potential loss of "El Dorado," especially since they had recently had their world's most advanced nickel refinery expropriated by Fidel Castro, who had named Che Guevara its new manager. Freeport's losses in Cuba made access to Indonesia even more important. Cuba and Indonesia thus were joined in the deadly game of chess between Dulles and Kennedy, and someone would have to lose.

While much has been written about Cuba, Kennedy, and Dulles, the Indonesian side of the story has been slighted. Poulgrain remedies this with an exhaustive and deeply researched exploration of these matters. He details the deviousness of the covert operation Dulles ran in Indonesia during the 1950s and 1960s. He makes it clear that Kennedy was shocked by Dulles' actions, yet never fully grasped the treacherous genius of it all. Dulles was always "working two or three stages ahead of the present." Having armed and promoted a rebellion against Sukarno's central government in 1958, Dulles made sure it would fail (shades of the Bay of Pigs to come).

> Yet the end result of CIA interference in > Indonesian internal affairs via the 1958 Rebellion was depicted as a failure at the time, and has consistently been depicted as a failure since that time. This holds true only if the stated goal of the CIA was the same as the actual goal. Even more than five decades later, media analysis of the goal of The Outer Island rebels is still portrayed as a secession, as covert US support for 'rebels in the Outer Islands that wished to secede from the central government in Jakarta'. The actual goal of Allen Dulles had more to do with achieving a centralized army command in such a way as to appear that the CIA backing for the rebels failed.

The Need for Assassinations

Dulles betrayed the rebels he armed and encouraged, just as he betrayed friend and foe alike during his long career. The rebellion that he instigated and planned to fail was the first stage of a larger intelligence strategy that would come to fruition in 1965-6 with the ouster of Sukarno (after multiple unsuccessful assassination attempts) and the institution of a reign of terror that followed. It was also when - 1966 - Freeport McMoRan began their massive mining in West Papua at Grasberg at an elevation of 14,000 feet in the Alpine region. Dulles was nothing if not patient; he had been at this game since WW I. Even after Kennedy fired him following the Bay of Pigs, his plans were executed, just as those who got in his way were. Poulgrain makes a powerful case that these included JFK, U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold (working with Kennedy for a peaceful solution in Indonesia and other places), and Congolese President Patrice Lumumba.

His focus is on why they needed to be assassinated

(similar in this regard to James Douglass's JFK and the Unspeakable), though with the exception of Kennedy (since the how is well-known and obvious), he also presents compelling evidence as to the how. Hammarskjold, in many ways Kennedy's spiritual brother, was a particularly powerful obstacle to Dulles's plans for Indonesia and countries throughout the Third World. Like JFK, he was committed to independence for indigenous and colonial peoples everywhere, and was trying to implement "his Swedish-style 'third way' proposing a form of 'muscular pacifism'."

> Had the UN Secretary General succeeded in bringing even half these countries to independence, he would have transformed the UN into a significant world power and created a body of nations so large as to be a counter-weight to those embroiled in the Cold War.

Poulgrain draws on documents from the South African Truth and Reconciliation Commission (TRC) and Chairman Archbishop Desmond Tutu to show the connection between South Africa's "Operation Celest" and Dulles's involvement in Hammarskjold's murder in September 1961. While it was reported at the time as an accidental plane crash, he quotes former President Harry Truman saying, "Dag Hammarskjold was on the point of getting something done when they killed him. Notice that I said, 'When they killed him'."

Dulles sold his overt Indonesian strategy as being necessary to thwart a communist takeover in Indonesian. Cold War rhetoric, like "the war on terrorism" today, served as his cover. In this he had the Joint Chiefs of Staff on his side; they considered Kennedy soft on communism, in Indonesia and Cuba and everywhere else. Dulles's covert agenda was to serve the interests of his power elite patrons.

Dulles and George de Mohrenschildt

Poulgrain adds significantly to our understanding of JFK's assassination and its aftermath by presenting new information about George de Mohrenschildt, Lee Harvey Oswald's handler in Dallas. Dulles had a long association with the de Mohrenschildt family, going back to 1920-21 when in Constantinople he negotiated with Baron Sergius Alexander von Mohrenschildt on behalf of Rockefeller's Standard Oil. The Baron's brother and business partner was George's father. Dulles's law firm, Sullivan & Cromwell, "was virtually the front desk for Standard Oil." These negotiations on behalf of elite capitalist interests, in the shadow of the Russian Revolution, became the template for Dulles's career: economic exploitation was inseparable from military concerns, the former concealed behind the anti-communist rhetoric of the latter. An anti-red thread ran through Dulles's career, except when the red was the blood of all those whom he considered expendable. And the numbers are legion.

"It was through Standard Oil that a link existed between Dulles [who controlled the Warren Commission] and de Mohrenschildt, and this should have been brought to the attention of the Warren Commission but was not made public when Dulles had so prominent a role." Poulgrain argues convincingly that De Mohrenschildt worked in "oil intelligence" before his CIA involvement, and that oil intelligence was not only Dulles's work when he first met George's father, Sergius, in Baku, but that that "oil intelligence" is a redundancy. The CIA, after all, is a creation of Wall Street and their interests have always been joined. The Agency was not formed to provide intelligence to US Presidents; that was a convenient myth used to cover its real purpose which was to serve the interests of investment bankers and the power elite.

While working in 1941 for Humble Oil (Prescott Bush was a major shareholder, Dulles was his lawyer, and Standard Oil had secretly bought Humble Oil sixteen years before), de Mohrenschildt was caught up in a scandal that involved Vichy (pro-Nazi) French intelligence in selling oil to Germany. This was similar to the Dulles's brothers and Standard Oil's notorious business dealings with Germany.

It was an intricate web of the high cabal with Allen Dulles at the center.

In the midst of the scandal, de Mohrenschildt, suspected of being a Vichy French intelligence agent, "disappeared" for a while. He later told the Warren Commission that he decided to take up oil drilling, without mentioning the name of Humble Oil that employed him again, this time as a roustabout.

"Just when George needed to 'disappear', Humble Oil was providing an oil exploration team to be subcontracted to NNGPM - the company Allen Dulles had set up five years earlier to work in Netherlands New Guinea." Poulgrain makes a powerful circumstantial evidence case (certain documents are still unavailable) that de Mohrenschildt, in order to avoid appearing in court, went in communicado in Netherlands New Guinea's in mid-1941 where he made a record oil discovery and received a $10,000 bonus from Humble Oil.

"Avoiding adverse publicity about his role in selling oil to Vichy France was the main priority; for George, a brief drilling adventure in remote Netherlands New Guinea would have been a timely and strategic exit." And who best to help him in this escape than Allen

Dulles - indirectly, of course; for Dulles's modus operandi was to maintain his "distance" from his contacts, often over many decades.

In other words, Dulles and de Mohrenschildt were intimately involved for a long time prior to JFK's assassination. Poulgrain rightly claims that "the entire focus of the Kennedy investigation would have shifted had the [Warren] Commission become aware of the 40-year link between Allen Dulles and de Mohrenschildt." Their relationship involved oil, spying, Indonesia, Nazi Germany, the Rockefellers, Cuba, Haiti, etc. It was an international web of intrigue that involved a cast of characters stranger than fiction, a high cabal of the usual and unusual operatives.

Two unusual ones are worth mentioning: Michael Fomenko and Michael Rockefeller. The eccentric Fomenko - aka "Tarzan" - is the Russian-Australian nephew of de Mohrenschildt's wife, Jean Fomenko. His arrest and deportation from Netherlands New Guinea in 1959, where he had travelled from Australia in a canoe, and his subsequent life, are fascinating and sad. It's the stuff of a bizarre film. It seems he was one of those victims who had to be silenced because he knew a secret about George's 1941 oil discovery that was not his to share. "In April 1964, at the same time George de Mohrenschildt was facing the Warren Commission - a time when any publicity regarding Sele 40 [George's record oil discovery] could have changed history - it was decided that electro-convulsive therapy would be used on Michael Fomenko." He was then imprisoned at the Ipswich Special Mental Hospital.

Equally interesting is the media myth surrounding the disappearance of Michael Rockefeller, Nelson's son and heir to the Standard Oil fortune, who was allegedly eaten by cannibals in New Guinea in 1961. His tale became front-page news, "a media event closed off to any other explanation and the political implications of his disappearance became an ongoing tragedy for the Papuan people." To this very day, the West Papuan people, whose land was described by Standard Oil official Richard Archbold in 1938 as "Shangri-la," are fighting for their independence.

Poulgrain offers most interesting takes on these two characters and shows how their stories are connected to the larger tale of intrigue.

This is a very important and compelling book. Difficult and dense at times, more expansive at others, it greatly adds to our understanding of why JFK was murdered. With its Indonesian focus, it shows us how Allen Dulles's sinister purview was wide-spread and long-standing; how it included so much more than Cuba, Guatemala, Iran, etc.; specifically, how important far-distant Indonesia was in his thinking, and how that thinking clashed with President Kennedy's on a crucial issue. It forces us to consider how different the world would be if JFK had lived.

The Incubus of Intervention sheds new light on Indonesian history and America's complicity in its tragedy. It is essential reading today when Barack Obama is executing his pivot to Asia and promoting conflict with China and Russia. Although not explored in Poulgrain's book, it's interesting to note that Obama's Indonesian step-father, Lolo Soetero, left Obama and his mother in Hawaii in that crucial year of 1966 when mass killings were underway to return to Indonesia to map Western New Guinea (West Papua) for the Indonesian government. After Dulles's regime change was accomplished and Suharto had replaced Sukarno, he went to work for Unocal, the first oil company to sign a production sharing agreement with Suharto. Strange coincidences, bitter fruit.

Is Poulgrain correct? Did Allen Dulles direct the assassination of President Kennedy to ensure his, rather the Kennedy's, Indonesian strategy would succeed?

We know the CIA coordinated the assassination of President Kennedy. We know that Allen Dulles was involved. We know that Indonesia was one reason why.

Was it "the reason"?

Sullivan & Cromwell, New York City, for defendant Esso Export Corp. Bruce Bromley, New York City, of counsel.

IRVING R. KAUFMAN, District Judge.

In a civil suit by the United States Government to recover refunds from Standard Oil Company (New Jersey) and its subsidiary, Esso Export Corporation, for alleged overcharges in ECA financed transactions, defendant Esso Export moved for an order decreeing that the law firm of Sullivan & Cromwell, its counsel, may properly represent Esso Export in this action, and the government cross-moved for an order disqualifying Sullivan & Cromwell from acting as attorneys for defendant in this suit. The basis for the motion and cross-motion was a request made by the Department of Justice on June 2, 1955 that Sullivan & Cromwell withdraw as attorneys because one of their partners, Mr. Garfield Horn, who is actively working on the case, was a government counsel for a Paris office of the Economic Cooperation Administration (ECA) during the period in question. The government contends that Mr. Horn and his firm are barred from participation in this suit by Canons 6, 36 and 37 of the Canons of Legal Ethics adopted as Rules of this Court.[1] Succinctly stated, these Canons forbid an attorney to accept employment in matters adversely affecting any interest of a former client with respect to which confidence has been reposed. They forbid his revealing or using such confidences to the disadvantage of the former client even though there are other available sources of this information. Further, they forbid a former government attorney to accept employment "in connection with any matter which he has investigated or passed upon while in such office or employ." Canon 36. In order to intelligently decide whether Mr. Horn and his firm have in fact violated these Canons, a thorough understanding of the factual and legal questions posed by the main controversy is necessary.

*349 The Main Action

In the main action, the United States seeks recovery of $35,862,288.08 claiming that Esso Export charged excessive prices in sales of Arabian crude oil to private importers in European countries participating in the Marshall Plan. Under this plan, authorized by the Economic Cooperation Act of 1948, 22 U.S.C.A. § 1501, et seq., the ECA allocated funds in United States currency to various European nations participating in the program through the issuance of "procurement authorizations" setting forth the conditions for procurement of commodities. Firms in participating countries which desired crude oil, for example, after obtaining the approval of their respective governments, contracted to purchase such crude oil from various suppliers (including Esso Export). Such purchasers made payment to their local governments in local currencies and the money so paid was placed in "counterpart fund" accounts for use locally in connection with foreign aid programs. The suppliers were paid in the United States currency allocated by ECA, payment being made either through the participating countries or through designated banks in accordance with the type of procurement authorization which had been issued. Thus although the money was not paid directly by ECA to the suppliers, suppliers were paid in money provided by the United States; the local moneys paid out by the importers were retained in their respective countries for ECA approved projects aimed at the economic rehabilitation of Europe.

With regard to the specific transactions which are the subject matter of this suit, the United States claims that the prices charged by Esso Export for Arabian crude oil were higher than the maximum prices permitted by the Act and by the ECA Regulations which were promulgated [purportedly] pursuant to the Act. The government claims that these price maximums were the allegedly lower prices charged by Esso Export and other companies in comparable sales not financed by ECA and in shipments of Arabian crude oil to Western Hemisphere destinations.[2] The period in question dates from April 3, 1948, effective date of the Economic Cooperation Act of 1948, until August 1952, the month of the commencement of this law suit and of the last shipment of Arabian oil in any ECA transactions.

Defendant, Esso Export, in its answer, denied any violation either of the price provisions of the Act or of the ECA regulations promulgated under them, assuming these to be valid. Defendant further contended that these Regulations are invalid. For an affirmative defense, the defendant alleged that the United States continued to reimburse participating countries with respect to these purchases of Arabian crude oil although it had full knowledge of all data material to applying the price maximums of the Act and Regulations to the prices Esso Export charged for such crude oil. It alleged further that by the government's failure to notify defendant that the prices charged were considered excessive, it represented to the defendant that the prices charged were not in excess of maximum prices, and that the government knew or should have known that the defendant would rely on this representation by continuing to sell crude oil at those *350 prices. In good faith, defendant alleged, it did rely on such representation, and it pleaded estoppel against the government.

Another defense averred that under the Marshall Plan, for each dollar of assistance provided by the United States to a participating country, that country deposited an amount of its local currency commensurate to the United States dollar cost in counterpart funds. Defendant asserted that since these funds were expended for various economic rehabilitation projects consistent with the purposes of the Act, and therefore with the purposes of the United States, the government has had full benefit of the moneys it expended and has sustained no damages.

It is against this background of the case that we must examine the government service and private employment record of Mr. Garfield Horn, the partner in Sullivan & Cromwell whose former employment by ECA is the cause of these motions.

Summary

Since the end of World War II, each administration has sought to develop and perfect a reliable set of executive institutions to manage national security policy. Each President has tried to avoid the problems and deficiencies of his predecessors' efforts and install a policy-making and coordination system that reflected his personal management style. The National Security Council (NSC) has been at the center of this foreign policy coordination system, but it has changed many times to conform with the needs and inclinations of each succeeding chief executive.

The National Security Act of July 26, 1947, created the National Security Council under the chairmanship of the President, with the Secretaries of State and Defense as its key members, to coordinate foreign policy and defense policy, and to reconcile diplomatic and military commitments and requirements. This major legislation also provided for a Secretary of Defense, a National Military Establishment, Central Intelligence Agency, and National Security Resources Board. The view that the NSC had been created to coordinate political and military questions quickly gave way to the understanding that the NSC existed to serve the President alone. The view that the Council's role was to foster collegiality among departments also gave way to the need by successive Presidents to use the Council as a means of controlling and managing competing departments.

The structure and functioning of the NSC depended in no small degree upon the interpersonal chemistry between the President and his principal advisers and department heads. But despite the relationships between individuals, a satisfactory organizational structure had to be developed, for without it the necessary flow of information and implementation of decisions could not occur. Although a permanent staff gradually began to take shape, the main substantive work occurred in the departments.

President Truman's NSC was dominated by the Department of State. President Eisenhower's predilection for the military staff system, however, led to development of the NSC along those lines. The NSC staff coordinated an elaborate structure for monitoring the implementation of policies. The NSC's Executive Secretary became an assistant to the President, but was sufficiently self-effacing not to conflict with a powerful Secretary of State, John Foster Dulles.

President Kennedy may have initially looked to a strong Secretary of State to take charge of foreign policy-making, but turned to other strategies when it became apparent that the Department of State did not have sufficient authority over other departments. Kennedy, who preferred policy-making with ad hoc groups, dismantled Eisenhower's elaborate NSC machinery and allowed the Special Assistant for National Security Affairs and his staff to assume the primary coordination role. Kennedy's freewheeling style tended to erase the distinction between policy-making and operations that President Eisenhower's regimented staff system so carefully observed.

Sharing Kennedy's affinity for informal advisory arrangements, President Johnson let the NSC structure atrophy still further and, like his predecessor, relied instead on the National Security Adviser and his staff and various ad hoc groups and trusted friends. But he also consulted regularly with his Tuesday Lunch Group and in 1966 officially turned over responsibility for the supervision and coordination of interdepartmental activities overseas to the Secretary of State, with mixed results.

Under Presidents Nixon and Ford, Henry Kissinger's expanded NSC staff concentrated on acquiring analytical information from the various departments that would allow the National Security Adviser to put before the President the best possible range of options for decision. This system was in perfect accord with President Nixon's preference for detailed written expositions rather than interpersonal groupings. Kissinger concentrated on a handful of major issues and allowed some foreign matters to devolve by default on the Department of State, while weapons and international financial questions were dealt with by the Departments of Defense and the Treasury. Kissinger at first attempted to restore the separation between policy-making and implementation, but eventually found himself personally performing both roles.

Under President Carter, the National Security Adviser became a principal source of foreign affairs ideas and the NSC staff was recruited and managed with that in view. The Department of State provided institutional memory and served as operations coordinator. Some saw this as an activism-conservatism duality, and the press eventually picked up on the tensions that were present. The National Security Adviser's role as public advocate rather than as custodian exacerbated the difficult relationships with State and other departments.

A collegial approach to government decision-making was emphasized in the Reagan administration. The National Security Adviser was downgraded, and the Chief of Staff to the President exercised a coordinating role in the White House. The collegiality among powerful department heads was not successfully maintained and conflicts became public. The NSC staff tended to emerge as a separate, contending party.

President Bush brought his own considerable foreign policy experience to his leadership of the National Security Council, and restored collegial relations among department heads. He reorganized the NSC organization to include a Principals Committee, Deputies Committee, and eight Policy Coordinating Committees. The NSC played an effective role during such major developments as the collapse of the Soviet Union, the unification of Germany, and the deployment of American troops in Iraq and Panama. The Clinton administration continued to emphasize a collegial approach within the NSC on national security matters. The NSC membership was expanded to include the Secretary of the Treasury, the U.S. Representative to the United Nations, the newly-created Assistant to the President for Economic Policy (who was also head of a newly-created National Economic Council or NEC, parallel to the NSC), the President's Chief of Staff, and the President's National Security Adviser.

For 50 years, 10 Presidents have sought to use the National Security Council system to integrate foreign and defense policies in order to preserve the nation's security and advance its interests road. Recurrent structural modifications over the years have reflected Presidential management style, changing requirements, and personal relationships.

Truman Administration, 1947-1953

The National Security Council was created by Public Law 80(253, approved July 26, 1947, as part of a general reorganization of the U.S. national security apparatus. Proponents of the reform realized that no institutional means for the coordination of foreign and defense policy existed, and that the informal management techniques employed by President Roosevelt during the war and President Truman after the war were not suitable for the long haul. The State-War-Navy Coordinating Committee SWNCC) had been established in 1944 at the Assistant Secretary-level, and by 1945 the Secretaries of State, War, and Navy began holding weekly meetings. President Roosevelt had tended to trust White House aides like Harry Hopkins and Admiral William D. Leahy to carry on necessary day-to-day coordination.

President Truman for a time relied upon Special White House Counsel Clark Clifford to provide the Hopkins(Leahy type of personal coordination. Clifford, who was dismayed by the disorder among agencies taking major post-war policy-making decisions, was a key figure in establishing the National Security Council to give institutional stability to national security policy-making.

The National Security Act of 1947 created the National Security Council under the chairmanship of the President, with only the following seven officials as permanent members: the President, the Secretaries of State, Defense, Army, Navy, Air Force, and the Chairman of the National Security Resources Board. The President could designate "from time to time" the Secretaries of other executive departments and the Chairmen of the Munitions Board and the Research and Development Board to attend meetings. While the new Central Intelligence Agency was to report to the NSC, the Director of Central Intelligence was not a member, although he attended meetings as an observer and resident adviser.

The function of the NSC as outlined in the 1947 act was to advise the President on integration of domestic, foreign, and military policies relating to national security and to facilitate interagency cooperation. At the President's direction, the NSC could also assess and appraise risks to U.S. national security, consider policies, and then report or make recommendations to the President.

The act created a small permanent staff headed by a civilian Executive Secretary appointed by the President. In neither the National Security Act of 1947 nor subsequent amendments was there provision for the position of National Security Adviser. Initially, the permanent NSC staff had no substantive role in the formulation, let alone implementation, of national security policies.

The NSC did, however, serve other purposes beyond its stated goal of advising on policy formulation. For Forrestal and the Navy, who were opposed to a strongly-unified Department of Defense, it provided top-level coordination of the three armed services without integration or unification. For Defense officials, it ensured a continuing military voice in formulation of related foreign and domestic policies during peacetime. For those, especially in Congress, who doubted Truman had adequate experience in foreign affairs or even doubted his abilities in general, the NSC offered the hope of evolving into a collegial policy-making body to reinforce the President.

Truman was clearly sensitive to this implied criticism and jealous of his prerogatives as Chief Executive. He did not like the idea of Congress legislating who could advise him on national security. Truman, therefore, kept the NSC at arm's length during its first 3 years. He attended the first session of the NSC on September 26, 1947, and then stayed away from all but 10 of the next 55 meetings. Truman continued to rely on a succession of personal White House advisers (George M. Elsey, Rear Admiral Robert Dennison, and W. Averell Harriman(to coordinate for him major foreign policy matters.

Initially, Truman named the Secretary of State as the ranking member of the Council in his absence and expected the Department of State to play the major role in formulating policy recommendations. This decision disappointed Defense officials who hoped that the Secretary of Defense would be allowed to preside in the President's absence and had offered to locate the NSC staff in the Pentagon. Clifford managed to resist Secretary of Defense Forrestal's efforts to gain control of the NSC. Procedures established during the Truman administration set the basic bureaucratic pattern which lasted through the Eisenhower administration: draft NSC papers written primarily by State's Policy Planning Staff, discussion at the NSC meeting, approval by the President resulting in an NSC Action, and dissemination to relevant parts of the bureaucracy. During its initial years, the NSC suffered from haphazard staffing and irregular meetings and was sometimes bypassed entirely. The executive secretaries of the Council had no real authority or influence beyond managing the staff process.

In 1949, the NSC was reorganized. Truman directed the Secretary of the Treasury to attend all meetings and Congress amended the National Security Act of 1947 to eliminate the three service secretaries from Council membership and add the Vice President(who assumed second rank from the Secretary of State(and the Joint Chiefs of Staff who became permanent advisers to the Council. NSC standing committees were created to deal with sensitive issues such as internal security. The NSC staff consisted of three groups: the Executive Secretary and his staff who managed the paper flow; a staff, made up of personnel on detail, whose role was to develop studies and policy recommendations (headed by the Coordinator from the Department of State); and the Consultants to the Executive Secretary who acted as chief policy and operational planners for each department or agency represented on the NSC.

Even Truman's overhaul of the machinery in 1949 did not create a National Security Council that fulfilled the role originally envisioned. Truman was partly to blame. He insisted on going outside NSC channels for national security advice, relying directly on his Secretaries of State and Defense, and increasingly on the Bureau of the Budget. Attendance at NSC meetings gradually increased to a point where the Council became too large for free discussion and degenerated into a bureaucratic battleground of departmental rivalries. NSC lines of authority, never clear, became increasingly blurred. By not attending most NSC meetings, Truman ensured that Council members would seek him out to press their own viewpoints privately.

In 1949, events reinforced the need for better coordination of national security policy: NATO was formed, military assistance for Europe was begun, the Soviet Union detonated an atomic bomb, and the Communists gained control in China. The Department of State seized the opportunity to review U.S. strategic policy and military programs, overcoming opposition from Secretary of Defense Louis Johnson and his allies in the Bureau of the Budget. Initially sidestepping formal NSC channels, State won approval of an ad hoc interdepartmental committee under its Policy Planning head, Paul Nitze. Their report, NSC 68, was submitted directly to Truman in February 1950, who sent it to the NSC for a cost analysis. An NSC committee authorized to consider costs and broader implications of NSC 68 began its work, but before it could be completed the Korean war broke out.

The war in Korea dramatically changed the functioning of the NSC under Truman. Thereafter the Council met every Thursday and the President attended all but 7 of its 71 remaining meetings. Truman limited attendance to statutory members plus the Secretary of the Treasury, the Chairman of the JCS, the Director of Central Intelligence, two special advisers (Averell Harriman and Sidney Souers), and the NSC Executive Secretary.

The Secretariat was retained, but the Staff and the Consultants were eliminated in favor of a Senior Staff--Assistant Secretary level or higher(supported by Staff Assistants. Truman reiterated that the NSC was to be the channel for all important national security recommendations. During the first year of the Korean war, the NSC came as close as it ever did under Truman to fulfilling that role. Nonetheless, Truman still looked outside the formal NSC mechanism for advice and recommendations, relying on the NSC as much for staffing and coordination of interdepartmental views as for primary recommendations.

Truman made additional structural changes in the NSC in late 1950 and in 1951. He directed the head of the newly-created Office of Defense Mobilization to attend NSC meetings and then made him a member of the Senior Staff. With the Mutual Security Act of 1951, the newly-created Director for Mutual Security (Harriman) became a statutory member with the right to appoint a Senior Staff member. The Bureau of the Budget sent a representative to some Senior Staff meetings. In 1951, the Psychological Strategy Board (PSB), made up of the deputies at State and Defense and the Director of Central Intelligence, was created to coordinate the response to Soviet unconventional Cold War tactics. The PSB worked closely with the NSC in managing America's covert psychological counterattack. In his retirement President Truman denied any responsibility for "cloak and dagger operations" but it was during his Presidency that covert intelligence operations in support of foreign policy objectives was undertaken on an ever broadening scale. The NSC's first action (NSC 1/1) authorized covert action in the Italian elections. The formal institutionalization of covert actions was established as NSC 4 in December 1947, and NSC 10/2 of June 1948.

During Truman's last year, the Council and the Senior Staff met less frequently and NSC activity abated. Much interdepartmental planning on the NSC books was never completed by the end of the Truman administration. During this period, the NSC reflected Truman's sense of frustration as a lame-duck President caught in a stalemated war.

Eisenhower Administration, 1953-1961

Under President Eisenhower, the National Security Council system evolved into the principal arm of the President in formulating and executing policy on military, international, and internal security affairs. Where Truman was uncomfortable with the NSC system and only made regular use of it under the pressure of the Korean war, Eisenhower embraced the NSC concept and created a structured system of integrated policy review. With his military background, Eisenhower had a penchant for careful staff work, and believed that effective planning involved a creative process of discussion and debate among advisers compelled to work toward agreed recommendations.

The genesis of the new NSC system was a report prepared for the President in March 1953 by Robert Cutler, who became the President's Special Assistant for National Security Affairs. Cutler proposed a systematic flow of recommendation, decision, and implementation that he later described as the "policy hill" process. At the bottom of the hill, concerned agencies such as State and Defense produced draft policy recommendations on specific topics and worked for consensus at the agency level. These draft NSC papers went up the hill through the Planning Board, created to review and refine the recommendations before passing them on for full NSC consideration. The NSC Planning Board met on Tuesday and Friday afternoons and was composed of officials at the Assistant Secretary level from the agencies with permanent or standing representation on the Council, as well as advisers from the JCS and CIA. Hundreds of hours were spent by the Board reviewing and reconstructing proposed papers for the NSC. Cutler resigned in 1958 in exhaustion. The top of the foreign policy-making hill was the NSC itself, chaired by the President, which met regularly on Thursday mornings.

The Council consisted of the five statutory members: the President, Vice President, Secretaries of State and Defense, and Director of the Office of Defense Mobilization. Depending on the subject under discussion, as many as a score of other senior Cabinet members and advisers, including the Secretary of the Treasury, the Chairman of the JCS, and the Director of Central Intelligence, attended and participated. The agenda included regular briefings by the Director of Central Intelligence on worldwide developments affecting U.S. security, and consideration of the policy papers advanced by the Planning Board. The upshot of the discussions were recommendations to the President in the form of NSC Actions. The President, who participated in the discussion, normally endorsed the NSC Action, and the decision went down the hill for implementation to the Operations Coordinating Board.

President Eisenhower created the Operations Coordinating Board (OCB) to follow up on all NSC decisions. The OCB met regularly on Wednesday afternoons at the Department of State, and was composed of the Under Secretary of State for Political Affairs, Deputy Secretary of Defense, the Directors of CIA, USIA, and ICA, and the Special Assistants to the President for National Security Affairs and Security Operations Coordination. The OCB was the coordinating and implementing arm of the NSC for all aspects of the implementation of national security policy. NSC action papers were assigned to a team from the OCB for follow-up. More than 40 interagency working groups were established with experts for various countries and subjects. This 24-person staff of the OCB's supported these working groups in which officials from various agencies met each other for the first time.

The President's Special Assistant for National Security Affairs, a post held under Eisenhower by Cutler, Dillon Anderson, William H. Jackson, and Gordon Gray, oversaw the flow of recommendations and decisions up and down the policy hill, and functioned in Council meetings to brief the Council and summarize the sense of discussion. The Special Assistant was an essential facilitator of the decision-making system, but, unlike the National Security Adviser created under Kennedy, had no substantive role in the process. The NSC staff managed by the Special Assistant grew during the Eisenhower years, but again had no independent role in the policy process.

President Eisenhower had great confidence in the efficacy of covert operations as a viable supplement or alternative to normal foreign policy activities. The seeming clear success of the operations to overthrow Iranian populist leader Mossadegeh in 1953 and the left-leaning President Arbenz in Guatemala in 1954 was not without their crisis moments in the White House. In 1954 NSC 5412 provided for the establishment of a panel of designated representatives of the President and the Secretaries of State and Defense to meet regularly to review and recommend covert operations. Gordon Gray assumed the chairmanship of the "5412 Committee" as it was called, and all succeeding National Security Advisers have chaired similar successor committees, variously named "303", "40", "Special Coordinating Committee," which, in later Presidential administrations, were charged with the review of CIA covert operations.

President Eisenhower also created the position of staff secretary with the responsibility to screen all foreign policy and military documents coming to the President. While Colonel Andrew Goodpaster held this position, he tended to eclipse the Special Assistant for National Security.

The strength of the NSC system under Eisenhower was that it provided for regular, fully-staffed, interagency review of major foreign and national security issues, culminating in discussion and decision at the highest level of government. The resulting Presidentially-approved NSC papers provided policy guidance at every level of implementation. Eisenhower felt that the regular policy discussions kept his principal advisers fully informed, in step with one another, and prepared to react knowledgeably in the event of crisis. His commitment to the system was such that he chaired every Council meeting he could attend (329 of a total of 366). The NSC meetings, including prior briefings and subsequent review of NSC Actions, constituted the largest single item on his weekly agenda.

Secretary of State Dulles, on the other hand, had reservations about the NSC system. He was the strongest personality in the Eisenhower Cabinet and jealously guarded his role as principal adviser to the President on foreign policy. He had constant, direct access to the President and did not feel that some of the most sensitive issues should be discussed in groups as large as were involved in most NSC meetings. He drew a sharp line between the NSC policy review process and the day-to-day operations of foreign policy, which he maintained were the province of the Department of State. Dulles and his deputies were not comfortable with the scope the NSC review system gave to Secretary of the Treasury George Humphrey, another strong figure in the Cabinet, to intrude budgetary limitations into policy considerations. And Dulles successfully resisted a proposal to substitute the Vice President for the Under Secretary of State as chairman of the OCB, arguing that such a change would impinge on his role as principal adviser to the President on foreign policy.

Critics of the Eisenhower NSC system have argued that it was inflexible, overstaffed, unable to anticipate and react to immediate crises, and weighed down by committees reporting in great detail on long checklists of minor policy concerns. The most thorough critique of the system emerged from the hearings conducted in 1960(1961 by the Senate Subcommittee on National Policy Machinery, known as the Jackson Subcommittee for its chairman, Senator Henry Jackson. Cutler and NSC Executive Secretary James Lay testified in support of the effectiveness of the system, but their testimony was offset by that of former Truman administration officials such as George Kennan, Paul Nitze, and Robert Lovett. They argued that foreign policy was being made by a passive President influenced by a National Security Council rendered virtually useless by ponderous, bureaucratic machinery. Basically, they argued, the NSC was a huge committee, and suffered from all the weaknesses of committees. Composed of representatives of many agencies, its members were not free to adopt the broad, statesmanlike attitude desired by the President, but, rather, were ambassadors of their own departments, clinging to departmental rather than national views. To make matters worse, critics added, the NSC system by its very nature was restricted to continuing and developing already established policies and was incapable of originating new ideas or major innovations. The critics suggested replacement of the formal, "over-institutionalized" NSC structure with a smaller, less formal NSC which would offer the President a clear choice of alternatives on a limited number of major problems.

Eisenhower was certainly not a passive President, dominated on foreign policy and national security issues by his Secretary of State. In fact, Eisenhower was actively in command of his administration, and the NSC system met his instincts and requirements. There is substance in the criticism that the Eisenhower NSC became to some extent the prisoner of a rigidly bureaucratic process, but the criticism misses the point that Eisenhower and Dulles did not attempt to manage fast-breaking crises or day-to-day foreign policy through the NSC apparatus. An examination of several of the major foreign policy problems that confronted the Eisenhower administration reveals that the NSC system was used to manage some and was virtually bypassed in others. When the question involved a policy debate between departments with strongly-held, contending positions, as it did in the case of the debate between the Departments of State and Defense in 1956(1957 over whether to introduce a more modern generation of weapons into Korea, the NSC process focused debate and produced an agreed decision after discussion of three draft policy papers.

Crisis situations, however, such as the Suez crisis of 1956, the off-shore island crises of 1955 and 1958, and the Lebanon crisis of 1958, were typically managed through telephone conversations between Eisenhower, Dulles, and other principal advisers, and through small meetings with the President in the White House, normally involving Dulles and other concerned advisers. Eisenhower sometimes used trusted NSC staffers to serve as an intermediary to gain information outside the chain of command as he did with Colonel Goodpaster during the Quemoy crisis in 1955. There was great similarity between this process of crisis management and that adopted by subsequent Presidents, such as Kennedy, Johnson, and Nixon, except for the fact that the ad hoc meetings in the Eisenhower White House did not involve a National Security Adviser as a substantive participant. And in the event that aspects of crisis management depended on contact with the critical man-on-the-spot, as it did in 1958 when Deputy Under Secretary of State Robert Murphy was dispatched to Lebanon to attempt to defuse the crisis, his instructions came from the Department of State and he reported to the Secretary of State rather than directly to the White House, as became the practice during the height of the Vietnam conflict.

When Eisenhower briefed President-elect Kennedy on the NSC system, and when Gray briefed his successor McGeorge Bundy, they emphasized the importance of the NSC machinery in the management of foreign policy and national security affairs. They might have been more persuasive had they pointed to the fact that the NSC system was essentially limited to policy review and was not used to manage crises or day-to-day foreign policy.

Kennedy Administration, 1961-1963

President Kennedy, who was strongly influenced by the report of the Jackson Subcommittee and its severe critique of the Eisenhower NSC system, moved quickly at the beginning of his administration to deconstruct the NSC process and simplify the foreign policy-making process and make it more intimate. In a very short period after taking office, the new President moved to reduce the NSC staff from 74 to 49, limit the substantive officers to 12, and hold NSC meetings much less frequently while sharply curtailing the number of officers attending. The Operation Coordination Board was abolished, and the NSC was, at the President's insistence, pulled back from monitoring the implementation of policies. The coordination of foreign policy decisions was ostensibly left to the State Department (and other agencies as necessary).

Johnson Administration, 1963-1969

The abrupt transition of power to the Johnson administration brought no dramatic change in the formal role of the National Security Council. Like Kennedy, Johnson much preferred small, informal advisory meetings to large Council meetings supported by an elaborately organized staff. According to one of his aides, Johnson felt the NSC was "not a live institution, not suited to precise debate for the sake of decision." Moreover, Johnson thought NSC meetings were prone to leaks--they were "like sieves," he once remarked--and he inherited advisers who shared his views. Secretary of State Dean Rusk later observed that during the Kennedy Presidency neither he nor Secretary of Defense Robert McNamara liked to "get into much discussion" in the NSC with "so many people sitting around the room" and the possibility of leaks so great.

Despite his misgivings about the Council, Johnson started out convening it fairly regularly, about every 2 weeks on average during his first 11 months in office. The sessions dealt with a broad range of issues but were relatively brief in duration and, after May 1964, consisted largely of briefings. With the approach of the Presidential election in November, Johnson suspended NSC meetings, but then in early 1965 he shifted gears. From February 1965 through mid-1966 he convened the NSC almost exclusively to discuss Vietnam, doing so irregularly and, following a flurry of meetings in February 1965, infrequently. Several participants later charged that Johnson used the NSC during 1965 not to consult on Vietnam as he committed major U.S. ground forces but to "rubber stamp" decisions made beforehand. The other major foreign policy crisis of the period, the intervention in the Dominican Republic during April and May 1965, was not brought before the Council at all.

As the Council's formal advisory role diminished, so too did its institutional support. Johnson treated the NSC staff as a personal staff, and dropped meetings of the NSC Standing Group, which convened intermittently under Kennedy to deal with planning and operations problems. Official records of Council actions were discontinued, and National Security Action Memorandums, which Kennedy had instituted to inform government agencies of Presidential decisions requiring follow-up action, were issued with decreasing frequency. Whereas Kennedy had issued 272 NSAMs in less than three years, Johnson issued 46 in 1964, 35 during 1965 and 1966, and a mere 14 during his final 2 years in office.

Disinclined to use the Council meetings for advice, Johnson, like Kennedy, relied heavily on his National Security Advisers: McGeorge Bundy, who remained in office through February 1966, and Bundy's successor, Walt Rostow, who served to the end of the administration. Indeed, scholars looking at the evolution of the NSC from its inception to the 1970s contend that the National Security Adviser and his White House centered staff increasingly assumed a more prominent role than the official National Security Council and that Johnson, like Kennedy before him, played a key role in this development. Focusing on Johnson's Presidency alone, however, some of his advisers, including Secretary of State Rusk and Walt Rostow, insisted that the Council's advisory role was actually performed principally by another institution, the Tuesday Lunch Group, and that those lunch meetings were in effect regular NSC meetings.

The small, informal, Tuesday luncheon meetings were much more to Johnson's liking than formal NSC meetings and quickly gained a prominent place in the decision-making process. Embracing the Secretaries of State and Defense and the National Security Adviser, the Tuesday Lunch Group met 27 times between February and September 1964. In all Johnson convened some 160 Tuesday luncheons during his Presidency, and the group was gradually expanded to include his press secretary, the Director of Central Intelligence, and the Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff. The participants uniformly praised the "strong collegial sense" at the meetings and the opportunity for "extraordinary candor," but subordinates often complained that the secrecy and informality that encouraged candor also made it hard for them to prepare their superiors properly for the meetings and implement the decisions that were reached.

Upon succeeding Bundy as National Security Adviser in 1966, Rostow came to grips with the issue of how to make effective use of the formal Council, which by then was virtually moribund. He advised Johnson neither to pretend to use the Council meetings for making major decisions nor to focus on day-to-day operations. Instead he proposed regular, "anticipatory-type" sessions devoted, as Johnson explained at the first of the new series, to "discussion of complex problems requiring careful exploration before they were to come to him for decision." Clearly intended to complement rather than challenge the primary advisory roles of the Tuesday luncheons and the National Security Adviser and his staff, NSC meetings for the balance of the administration considered a broad range of anticipated rather than pressing issues and gave little attention to Vietnam. As one NSC staff member put it, Council members now convened for "reflective and educational discussions, rather than decision-making meetings."

When not relying for advice and support on the Tuesday Lunch Group and the National Security Adviser and his small staff, Johnson turned to a variety of ad hoc groups and trusted friends inside and outside the government. Following the outbreak of the Six Day War, for example, he established an NSC Special Committee, modeled on the NSC Executive Committee that met during the Cuban Missile Crisis, to coordinate U.S. policy in the Middle East for several weeks. But none of these arrangements substituted fully for the functions that the NSC's Planning Board and the Operations Coordinating Board provided under Eisenhower.

In March 1966 the Johnson White House sought to remedy this situation through issuance of NSAM 341, the brainchild of General Maxwell Taylor. NSAM 341 assigned the Secretary of State official responsibility for the overall direction, coordination, and supervision of interdepartmental activities overseas and created a mechanism to carry out the responsibility consisting of the Senior Interdepartmental Group (SIG), chaired by the Under Secretary of State, and several Interdepartmental Regional Groups (IRGs) beneath it, each chaired by an Assistant Secretary of State. But following a fast-paced start, the SIG entered a period of quiescence that saw it meet only three times from late July 1966 to mid-July 1967, reflecting in part Under Secretary of State Nicholas Katzenbach's initial hesitancy to exploit its possibilities upon taking office in October 1966. The SIG gained new vitality in mid-1967, however, and together with the more active IRGs played a complementary and supporting role to the Secretary of State and the NSC, especially in easing the burdens of the national security adviser and his staff with respect to interagency coordination and follow-up.

The innovations of a Presidential administration often do not survive its close, reflecting as they do the distinctive views and management style of the President and his immediate advisers. The close of the Johnson administration brought an end to several of the adaptations it had made to manage foreign policy: Tuesday luncheons, anticipatory-type NSC meetings, and the SIG/IRG structure.

Nixon Administration, 1969-1974

President Nixon and his National Security Adviser, Henry Kissinger, dominated the making of U.S. foreign policy during the Nixon Presidency. As Nixon recalled in his memoirs: "From the outset of my administration, . . . I planned to direct foreign policy from the White House. Therefore I regarded my choice of a National Security Adviser as crucial." Henry Kissinger worked through a National Security Council apparatus he revised and fashioned to serve his needs and objectives and those of the President. The close relationship between the President and the National Security Adviser was the basis for their ability to carry out American foreign affairs leadership around the world. The National Security Council system was the mechanism for the period of unprecedented American activism in foreign policy and the exercise of Kissinger's growing power. Kissinger wrote later that "in the final analysis the influence of a Presidential Assistant derives almost exclusively from the confidence of the President, not from administrative arrangements." The two men developed a conceptual framework that would guide foreign policy decisions. Kissinger's intellectual ability, his ambition, and his frequent discussions with Nixon were all factors in increasing within the government both his own power and the unchallenged authority of the NSC system he personally directed.

The Kissinger NSC system sought to combine features of the Johnson and Eisenhower systems. The Senior Interdepartment Group (SIG) of the Johnson White House was replaced by an NSC Review Group (somewhat similar to the Eisenhower-era NSC Planning Group) together with an NSC Under Secretary's Committee. The Kissinger NSC relied upon interdepartmental working groups (IGs) to prepare for NSC directives. Critics observed that 10 IG meetings prepared the way for each SIG-level meeting, and 5 SIG meetings were needed to prepare for each NSC meeting.

White House direction of foreign policy meant the eclipse of the Department of State and Secretary William Rogers. Nixon did not trust the Department bureaucracy. According to Kissinger, Nixon picked Rogers, who was inexperienced in foreign affairs, to indicate that the President would dominate the relationship between the NSC and the Department of State. Throughout Nixon's first term, only Kissinger participated in the President's important discussions with foreign state visitors. Nixon excluded Rogers from his first meeting with Soviet Ambassador Anatoly Dobrynin in February 1969. The NSC also took control of the process of clearing key policy cables to overseas posts. Kissinger and Rogers became rivals and developed formal contacts in place of substantive discussions.

The NSC(Department of State power relationship was reflected in institutional arrangements. During the transition period before Nixon assumed power, Kissinger recommended that the NSC be buttressed by a structure of subcommittees to draft analyses of policy that would present clear decision options to the President. The National Security Adviser was to be chairman of a Review Group to screen interagency papers before their presentation to the full NSC chaired by the President. Nixon insisted on the abolition of the SIG chaired by the Department of State. These recommendations were incorporated in National Security Decision Memorandum (NSDM) 2, issued shortly after Nixon's inauguration on January 20, 1969. NSDM 2 was rightly perceived as a victory for Kissinger and helped to establish his foreign policy authority at the outset of the administration.

Kissinger moved quickly to establish the policy dominance of the NSC. He expanded its staff from 12 to 34; not only was it the cadre for his centralized policy-making, but it was also his antennae throughout the bureaucratic structure. In the President's name, Kissinger set the NSC agendas and issued the numerous

National Security Study Memoranda (NSSM) that set forth the precise needs for interagency policy papers. An NSC Under Secretaries Committee, chaired by the Deputy Secretary of State, gradually withered away. By the time the increasingly complicated committee structure was settled, Kissinger chaired six NSC-related committees: the Senior Review Group (non-crisis, non-arms control matters), the Washington Special Actions Group (serious crises), the Verification Panel (arms control negotiations), the 40 Committee (clandestine operations), the Intelligence Committee (policy for the intelligence community), and the Defense Program Review Committee (relation of the defense budget to foreign policy aims).

Nixon also increasingly bypassed the Department of State to supervise personally sensitive negotiations in order to avoid what he and President Nixon agreed were likely bureaucratic disputes and inertia. The President made clear that he wanted the National Security Adviser to conduct important matters directly out of his office. Nearly every foreign ambassador called upon Kissinger at least once. With Soviet Ambassador Dobrynin, Kissinger maintained a special relationship that completely bypassed the Department of State and Secretary Rogers. Dobrynin was told by Kissinger to deal with the Secretary of State only on a limited range of less vital matters. Kissinger also maintained similar relationships with Chinese leader Chou En-lai and Israeli Ambassador Rabin.

In carrying on his activist, operational undertakings, Kissinger relied upon special controlled communications. CIA communications were used for his "back channel" messages so that the Department of State was kept in the dark. He also used the White House Communication Agency including the use of special aircraft as communication centers. With his negotiations in Paris in 1971 regarding Vietnam, with Israelis and Arabs after 1973, and with the Soviet Union in advance of summit meetings, Kissinger was a traveling negotiator, and the NSC was a system on the move. Jeanne Davis, the NSC Executive Secretary, also facilitated the handling of sensitive correspondence by propelling the NSC staff into the computer age with a document tracking system unheard of by Kissinger's predecessors.

The waning of Nixon's power during the Watergate affair further increased Kissinger's influence. On September 22, 1973, Kissinger became Secretary of State, replacing Rogers. For the first time, one individual held simultaneously the positions of National Security Adviser and Secretary of State.

Under these unique circumstances, Kissinger strengthened his institutional base as the administration's principal foreign policy adviser. Kissinger later admitted, however, that the union of the two positions did not work. Department of State representatives were his subordinates while he wore his Secretary of State hat. When he chaired a meeting, they had to represent his point of view or else all interdepartmental matters would be outside his control. Kissinger indicated he was in an inherently absurd position of either pushing his Department's views as chairman or dissociating himself from his subordinates.

Ford Administration, 1974-1977

President Ford, who assumed office in August 1974, was relatively inexperienced in foreign affairs. He therefore relied almost exclusively on Kissinger's expertise and advice. During 1975, however, there developed strong public and congressional disapproval of the accretion of so much power over foreign policy in the hands of one man. As part of a Cabinet shakeup on November 3, 1975, Ford named Lieutenant General

Brent Scowcroft, Kissinger's deputy at the NSC, as National Security Adviser.

Kissinger was at first resentful of the loss of his unique, dual position. He soon discovered, however, as he wrote in his memoirs, that Scowcroft's appointment in no way diminished his real power within the administration because he kept Ford's confidence and unlimited access, and Scowcroft in no way sought to advocate policies in competition with the Secretary of State. Kissinger continued to have a cordial relationship with Scowcroft, and both men exchanged ideas constantly. In turn, Scowcroft was content to operate in a quiet, unobtrusive way. He took seriously the NSC obligation to present the President with clear analyses and options for decision. He managed a toned-down version of the Kissinger NSC system that was compatible with the Secretary of State's role as the President's chief foreign policy adviser. Many of the most aggressive members of Kissinger's NSC team also made the move to State, allowing Scowcroft to fashion a staff that reflected the new relationships.
